THERE'S TALK OF FREE MAIL delivery for Stanton. The local Chamber of Commerce is considering to add this movement as one of its projects to work for. The writer is not acquainted with the steps the chamber should take that would ultimately lend the free mail service for our town.

The point is if Stanton lands free mail delivery it will be the first of its kind in the history of the town. By the time the dogs get acquainted with the postman and stop barking at him, maybe the town will have grown in population.

FOLLOWING THE ADMISSION OF Oklahoma to statehood the laws regulating the governing of business were made necessary. For instance, in dentistry, one did not have to submit an application or take an examination to start practicing that profession. One day, while operating a newspaper in the Sooner state, I had a young man call on me wanting to rent a vacant room attached to my printing office. He disclosed his business, that of a dentist. The

Chief Cautions People About Fire Hazards

Stanton Fire Chief Ed Hall has requested The Stanton Reporter to publish a caution warning against probably loss of life or damage as a result of winter fires.

Chief Hall stated that this is the season of the year when fires take the largest toll in human life and the loss of property. He stated that the best way he knew how to get a message of caution and safety over to the public was through the columns of the local newspaper.

Hall cited facts. He said: "With the winter season approaching, people should be careful with fires. Don't leave home with the fires burning high—keep the blaze turned down."

The chief continued: "Keep all safety guards up and let's not have a holiday fatality registered in Stanton due to carelessness."

County Residents Pause To Observe Thanksgiving Day

Stanton and Martin County residents are joining the Nation in the celebration of Thanksgiving Thursday.

Thursday has been designated as an official holiday and plans call for most all businesses to be closed in observance of Thanksgiving. In addition to the closing of business establishments, the post office, bank, and all county, city and national offices are to be closed.

The post office windows will be closed and there will be no rural mail delivery, but mail will be put up as usual in the boxes.

Martin County school children are receiving a two-day holiday in observance of Thanksgiving. Stanton Elementary School, Stanton High School, Courtney School and Grady School closed Wednesday afternoon for the holidays. Classes will be resumed at the regular time Monday.

Stanton churches held a community-wide Thanksgiving service Wednesday night at the First Methodist Church. Speaker was Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. John Wood of the First Methodist Church was in charge of special music. All churches who wished to take part in the services were invited to do so.

So local citizens are pausing for a day to give thanks for the many blessings they have received during the past year, and for the bountiful harvest.

Many Stanton and Martin County citizens will be gathering with their families and friends in local homes for the traditional Thanksgiving feast and family get-together, while others are traveling out-of-town and out-of-state to be with loved ones for the annual observance.

No. 1 Jim Tom Designated New Formation Discovery

By JAMES C. WATSON

Texas National Petroleum Company of Midland No. 1 Jim Tom is an indicated Martin County Strawn discovery, flowing 72 barrels of oil, plus 15 per cent salt water, through a 20/64-inch choke and perforations at 10,147-10,162 feet in 24 hours.

This gauge followed treatment with 500 gallons of mud acid. Testing continues.

It is 2 1/2 miles southeast of three-well Billington (Spraberry) pool. It originally was scheduled to drill to 8,200 feet to test the Spraberry. Later, contract depth was amended to 10,500 feet.

The wildcat is 1 1/4 miles southeast of Stanton and 600 feet from west and north lines of section 30, block 35, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Cities Service Oil Company has plugged and abandoned No. 1-D Lindsey, South Martin County prospector, 12 miles west and slightly north of Stanton and the same distance northeast of Midland.

It drilled to 4,370 feet in the San Andres section of the upper Permian. A drillstem test in that formation developed only salt water.

This failure was 600 feet from south and 1,900 from east lines of section 17, block 38, T-1-N, T&P survey.

John L. Cox of Midland has completed the No. 1 G. M. Peters as a one-mile east outpost to the recently opened (Spraberry) pool, one mile north of Stanton in Martin County.

It finalized for a daily potential of 232 barrels of oil pumped from perforations between 7,946-7,966 feet, which had been fractured with 30,000 gallons of oil and 60,000 pounds of sand. Gas-oil ratio was 8,585-1.

The 4 1/2-inch casing was cemented at 8,010 feet, the total depth.

It is 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 11, block 36, T-1-S, T&P survey.

G. M. McGarr and G. T. Trusler scheduled operations on a 1/2-mile northwest offset to production in the Billington (Spraberry) pool of Martin County. It is the No. 1 Yates.

Every day we can well give thanks for the many blessings we enjoy . . . yet, we set aside one special day for united prayer, good fellowship and feasting, that we may celebrate the bounty of God, together. This Thanksgiving Day, gather with your friends . . . in church . . . around the table!

County Philosopher Finds Nothing To The Report That A Dollar Is Now Worth Only 42c

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses money this week. It's sort of like a prize fighter discussing etiquette.

Dear editor:

I have run into a financial problem which I need help on. Well, actually it's not a problem, it's mostly a lot of people's economic ignorance. I read in a newspaper last night which the wind had blown against my front fence yesterday afternoon and I pulled it off in a hurry because that fence can stand just so much pressure, that the American dollar is now worth only 42 cents.

I can report that there's not a word of truth in this, as I went to eight different stores in town this morning and couldn't find anybody who'd sell me one at that price. People around here apparently don't read the financial section of newspapers and everybody still wanted 100 cents for theirs, and acted like there wouldn't be any profit in that sort of deal. A man can't get ahead against that kind of economic ignorance. Even when I showed them the article, they just laughed.

For a week now I have been concentrating on the money situation in the world and am as exhausted as the four candidates for President and Vice President and the only reason I don't fly somewhere for a rest in the sun like they did is that I don't have an airplane and anyway have found I can use the same sun they're using without getting off this Martin County grass farm.

As I understand it, the money situation is complicated by the fact too much gold is leaving the United States, plus the fact the Russians have voted that a ruble now has more gold content than it did last month, even if it's still printed on the same kind of paper.

One expert said the reason gold was leaving this country was because the U. S. was believed figuring on increasing the price of the stuff above $35 an ounce, which it's not, he says, because that would be devaluing the dollar. You may understand this but I don't. It frustrates my brain so much that the only way I've found to regain peace of mind is to get on the south side of the barn in the sunshine and re-read both party's platform promises.

People are always saying that a dollar won't go as far as it used to, but I don't understand this either. Actually, I've never known how far a dollar of mine went. As soon as it leaves my hands, I lose track of it. It's slammed into somebody's cash register and that's the last I hear of it.

I will appreciate it if you'll take time off from your other duties and explain the monetary system to me and the rest of your readers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Hunting Season In Full Swing Thruout State

The Texas hunting season now is in full swing with practically all species available to the gun, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Deer and turkey seasons opened in most areas November 16. Duck season previously had opened November 11. Goose season had opened October 26. Quail season also is in progress in all the Trans-Pecos counties, and in several others in the State. Quail season will open in the Possum Kingdom area November 24, and in the remainder of the State December 1.

Although the dove season in the North Zone ended October 30, it will remain open in the South Zone through December 3. Most of the South Zone area reports a bountiful supply, but with deer and turkey season open most of the shooters are turning to the larger game.

Although hunters report seeing many ducks and geese, warm weather has been a barrier to successful hunting in many areas. There hasn't been enough cold weather as yet to bring them down to decoys, and there is so much water on the ground both the ducks and geese are badly scattered.

A number of seasonal wardens have been added over the State, and every effort will be made to reduce illegal kills, according to Dodgen.

Bible Comment—

The Meaning Of Glorifying God Is Clear When We Learn To Honor And Accept Him

What does it mean to glorify God and live in His glory?

One dictionary says glory is "distinguished honor or ornamentation; exalted reputation; praise; splendor or state; the quality of being radiant; luster; the bliss of heaven; a halo." These dictionary definitions seem to be derived from the Bible. In the glorifying of God almost all the dictionary meanings are present, but chief among them is the quality of honor.

To glorify God is to honor Him. And what does honoring God mean? It is quite possible that honor means very much in relation to God what it means in the lesser thing of life. In ordinary matters we speak of "honoring" a check, or a note. This implies full responsibility for it as ours.

To honor God is to accept Him, to take His love and His will into our lives, to become responsible to Him for our character and works.

Honoring God is something more than reverence or obedience. It is a false notion that represents God as a great potentate, sitting on a throne in gorgeous garments.

It is false to represent God as being ready to wreak His vengeance and authority upon His subjects if they do not fall down and offer their abject devotion.

The likeness of God to earthly sovereigns has been overdone. It is a false and misleading conception.

To glorify God is to accept Him and what He offers, and to become like Him in creative life and acts of love and good will.

"Here is my Father glorified," said Jesus, "that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples."

Texas 1 Of 9 States To Add House Seat

Texas will gain a new seat in the House of Representatives as a result of a 25 per cent increase in population during the past decade, Secretary of Commerce Frederick Mueller said.

Mueller said Texas is one of nine states which will be permitted to add one or more congressmen as a result of the increases in population. This would give the state 23 House members.

Texas' population rose from 7,711,104 in 1950 to 9,579,677 the last April 1 when the 1960 census was taken.

It is now up to the Legislature to determine whether it will create a new congressional district in Texas or retain the existing 22 districts and let voters select a congressman at large.

If the Legislature does not redistrict the state by the time of the 1962 elections, Texas will again elect a congressman-at-large. It would continue to do so every two years until the legislature redistricts the state.

The new congressman would not take his seat until January, 1963, when the 88th Congress convenes.

Under the Constitution, the clerk of the House will officially notify Texas early next year that it is entitled to a new seat.

Population figures released earlier by the Census Bureau showed that Texas fifth congressional district—Dallas County—is by far the most populous in the state.

The figures gave Dallas County a population of 944,513—only about 375,000 less than Harris County, which now has two congressmen.

Texas census figures had shown that, all but five of the state's 22 congressional districts gained in population. Losses were registered in Rep. Wright Patman's first district, Rep. Lindley Beckworth's third district, Speaker Sam Rayburn's fourth district, Rep. Olin Teague's sixth district and Rep. John Dowdy's seventh district.

Postmaster Begins Mail Early Drive

Faced with the possibility that the 1960 Christmas season will set an all-time holiday mailing record, Mrs. Leta B. Eidson, postmaster, has announced she is beginning her annual "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign now.
 Mrs. Eidson has offered some mailing tips to insure delivery of Christmas cards and gifts on time. The list includes:
 ONE—Check your Christmas card list carefully, making sure each address is complete with the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.
 TWO—For Christmas gift packages, stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.
 THREE—Remember you can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package by adding the appropriate first class postage to the package itself.
 FOUR—Buy postage stamps now, and don't wait until the last minute when long lines form at the stamp windows.
 Mrs. Eidson said the Post Office will help Stanton residents plan their Christmas mailings and a copy of Pamphlet No. 2, which gives full information about proper packaging and wrapping of parcels, is available. The Post Office also will supply free labels which read, "All for Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that mailers may sort their Christmas cards into groups —with addresses all facing one way—to insure fast delivery.

 Mrs. Eidson also advised to use only first class postage on Christmas cards, since these and others sent by air mail may include personal handwritten messages.
 First class mail also receive full forwarding and return service.
 And Mrs. Eidson asks that Stantonites not fail to put return addresses on each Christmas card envelope.
 The postmaster requests that cards and gifts going to distant points be mailed well in advance of December 10.
 Those for nearby destinations should be mailed by December 15—or at least a week before Christmas.

Stanton Men To Make Tour Of Cornbelt
 Stanton farmers and ranchers will be among 15 area men who are scheduled to leave November 26 for Iowa and a tour of the cornbelt feeding center. They are among 66 West Texans who will make the trip.

 The tour is aimed at learning how Iowa farmers profitably feed livestock for market, and tour personnel hope that a marked encouragement in West Texas for finishing more cattle and hogs for market will result.
 The tour is sponsored by the agriculture and livestock committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.
 The group will visit six farms in Iowa, including the Roswell Garst farm near Coon Rapids. In addition to the farms, the tour will include feeding research facilities of Iowa State University. Livestock specialists from the university will accompany the tour.
 Before beginning the cornbelt feeding tour, the West Texas group will spend one day in Chicago at the International Livestock Exposition.
 Special railroad cars will carry the tour group, two leaving from Lubbock and one leaving from Fort Worth.

 deal to rent the place to the young man was made. The price was $1.50 a month. The new tenant moved in a second-hand barber chair, iron molds to make false teeth, some pans and waste baskets. He hung out his shingle: "Dr. King, Dentist."
 Dr. King allowed no grass to grow under his feet advertising his business. It was in the fall of the year—cotton picking time. He visited the cotton pickers in the patch. The next Saturday he had several patients. He had them with swelled jaws. As time rocked along, Dr. King worked up a lucrative business. There were times the three loggers in the back of the office could have wrung the doctor's neck waking them up at midnight with some yelling patient having a tooth pulled.
 Dr. King made all the friends there were in the new frontier town. He mentioned Fort Worth the town he was from. In the meantime Oklahoma was framing its new laws. The one passed covered dentistry. All at once Dr. King was missing. The barber chair and all equipment was left in place. The barber chair he borrowed from the local barber and the false teeth molds he didn't need any longer. Oklahoma had passed a rigid law governing dentistry.
 One day a young man from our town was in the union railway station in Fort Worth. He saw a fellow dressed in engineer's clothes approaching one of those giant locomotives resembling Dr. King and yelled at him. It was Dr. King all right, and it wasn't Dr. King.
 The true story our friend brought back, and by the way the friend was one who shared sleeping quarters with Dr. King while he was in our town. He was a fireman on the locomotive and his brother was an engineer. Dr. King was a good mechanic and he picked dentistry. There was some good money to be made, and no law governing the profession in Oklahoma. The thrill of the experience would be worth something.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Costy and Robbie of Jamaica arrived here Monday to visit her mother, Mrs. Alta Henson and others. They had been visiting in Riverside, Calif.

Several farmers plan to install underground pipe this fall. One is being installed this week on Cliff Hazlewood's farm. This pipe will enable the farmer to do a more efficient job of irrigation and do a better job of water conservation.

A. T. Tate of the Tarzan community has established 70 acres more of alfalfa this fall. Tate is taking out part of his old alfalfa and plans to follow it with cotton as part of his conservation crop rotation system.

"Since the first crude plow uprooted the first square foot of sod, and since man's axe first bit into virgin forest, erosion of the soil has been a problem. It is as old as history. Down through the ages it has influenced the lives of men and the destinies of nations and civilizations. In the United States today, no problem is more urgent." Dr. Hugh H. Bennett.

New Congressman Presents Problem

It took the legislature seven years to decide where to put Texas' new congressman earned under the 1960 census. It could take even longer to find a home base for No. 23 due under the 1960 census.

So many political angles are involved that the legislature might not ever be able to find one area suitable to a majority. In that case, the new member of the House of Representatives would be a "congressman-at-large" for the state as a whole.

Martin Dies of Lufkin won that statewide job when the 1960 census increased Texas' representation from 21 to 22.

There had been no successful effort to revise congressional district boundary lines since 1933 when the legislature finally agreed in May 1957 to locate the extra man in populous Harris County. It is now the only one in the state with two men in congress.

The 1957 bill shuffled the boundaries in eight other districts in a modest effort to keep representation somewhat abreast of population gains and shifts as reflected in the 1950 national nose count.

Redistricting will be a hard job from the standpoint of practical politics when the legislature meets again in January—so hard that many think the lawmakers will follow the congressman-at-large plan again.

Since Houston, the state's largest city, now has two congressmen, Dallas could assert a claim for two in view of its gains in the 1960 census. But the fact that the Dallas district is the only one in the state to have a Republican congressman—and very well could have two if it gets two seats—would make the going rough in the Democratic Texas Legislature.

Other big cities such as San Antonio, and fast-growing metropolitan complexes and industrial areas such as Beaumont-Port Arthur—Orange, Corpus Christi and El Paso might also be fighting for at least a share of additional representation. Far West Texas areas such as Midland—Odessa and Lubbock have grown at a terrific rate.

The general population trend in Texas in the last 20 years has generally been a shift west and south, and from rural to urban. Congressional redistricting lags far behind the trend.

Several Texas districts are far over the 350,000 considered an average, and many are far under.

The smallest in the state is the one least likely to be changed. The Northeast Texas district represented by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham. Efforts in the past to increase its size by bringing in additional counties have run into the toughest kind of opposition in the legislature—usually credited to Rayburn's friends there, and he usually has many.

Any major effort to change the geography of the congressional districts could set off a major conflict in the legislature, already faced with an overwhelming prospect of difficult problems such as state financing.

'Giant Eye' Symbolizing Research Hope Is Visited by Small Birth Defects Victim

The lights dim, and in the darkened high-ceilinged room a somber-faced little boy stares at the pilot light of a towering microscope.

This is the electron microscope at Ohio State University Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, a giant, inquiring eye nine feet tall, capable of magnifying the human cell 100,000 times.

The small boy with the rather sad little face is Kevin Sharp, 3½ years, of Grove City, Ohio, who tried to see a jumbo-sized version of the toy microscope given him on his last birthday by his doctor. Kevin has to see his doctor regularly because he is a victim of spina bifida, or open spine. He is paralyzed from the waist down and cannot play ball—or indeed play much at anything.

Such mobility as he has is made possible by his crutches and leg braces.

Kevin's is one of the significant birth defects the cause of which is being pursued today by The National Foundation with New March of Dimes contributions. Congenital malformations afflict 250,000 infants annually in the United States and are responsible for the deaths of 34,000 babies each year who are stillborn or die within four weeks of birth. The health organization's expanded program also includes arthritis and continued work in pediatrics.

In his excitement while reaching for the eyepiece of the vast instrument, Kevin probably didn't know that in the ultra-powerful lens of such electron microscopes, scientists hope some day to pinpoint the cause of the savage embryonic mishap that crippled him before he was born. By comparing normal and abnormal cells under tremendous magnification, researchers hope to discover, for example, why Kevin's spine never fused during his mother's pregnancy, or why some other little boy or girl is born with excess fluid on the brain—another baffling birth defect which The National Foundation is studying.

"At his birth, doctors gave Kevin only a few hours to live," says Mrs. Gerald Sharp, his mother. "In addition to his open spine, he had two clubfeet which are now much improved due to surgery and physical therapy. He is a brave and happy little fellow even if he smiles so rarely. My husband and I thank God that today wider research is being done into birth defects."

She adds somewhat wistfully: "My husband Gerald and I met in an orphanage in Xenia, Ohio. We became childhood sweethearts. Like other young people, we longed to raise a family, and a healthy one.

"Why should this unaccountable accident have happened to us? But we count our blessings. Perhaps fewer Kevins will be born to the next generation. We certainly pray so."

The lights return and, supported by his crutches and braces, solemn little Kevin struggles back from the microscope. But at that moment, looking up at his mother, there's the suggestion of a smile around the corners of his mouth.

Machinery Efficiency Can Increase Farm Profits

Machinery inefficiency can strike a devastating blow to farm profits. Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that every farm operator should know the cost of owning and operating machinery. It does not, he is in a poor position to determine how to increase his machinery efficiency, Parker continues.

Fixed costs, such as depreciation, interest on investment, insurance, taxes and housing may represent the largest expense associated with owning machinery. If the farm is large enough, however, these costs may be small on a per acre basis.

Repair and maintenance may also involve a large cash outlay. High cost here can be caused by poor quality machinery, abuse by the operator, operating over rough terrain or a combination of these, Parker explains.

The specialist says other factors which affect machinery efficiency are:

Substitution of machinery for labor. Whether or not substitution is wise depends on the relative effect on labor costs.

Return on investment. Capital invested in machinery and equipment may give a greater return if invested in some other phase of the farm business.

Availability. If machinery is not available when needed, lower yields and quality may result.

Farm size, type of work to be done and the possibility of hiring custom work.

In conclusion, Parker says that good farm machinery records are the only way to keep up with these costs and improve efficiency. He suggests consulting the local county agent on ways to increase farm profits by increasing machinery efficiency.

End Of Harvest Near In West Texas

Good weather in West Texas permitted farmers to step up the grain sorghum and cotton harvests in the past week. It was a different story in parts of South Central and the upper coastal counties where farmers have been trying to wind up their harvests, said Director John Hutchison, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In the less favored areas, rains had fields too wet for any kind of work.

Ranges, grain and legume pasture improved. Livestock conditions generally were good.

Moisture is adequate in the Panhandle. Open weather pushed the cotton and sorghum harvests into full swing. Grains made excellent growth.

Favorable weather following the hard freeze November 9 aided harvesting on the South Plains (Lubbock). With good weather the harvesting of cotton will be in full swing next week. The sorghum harvest is 90 per cent completed with excellent yields.

Last week's freeze speeded up the mechanical harvesting of cotton in the Rolling Plains area (Vernon). Moisture is adequate and grains are making excellent growth and furnishing good grazing.

The cotton harvest in far West Texas ranged from 50 to 75 per cent complete. Soil moisture is adequate except in far western counties. Range conditions were fair to good.

Ranges and livestock were in good shape in Central West Texas. Moisture was adequate and winter weeds made good growth. Early rains provided grazing. Screwworms were troublesome and ranchmen were busy caring for hunters.

North Texas field work was at the maximum. Grains made good growth. Favorable weather enabled farmers to destroy cotton stalks.

Rains left plenty of moisture in Northeast Texas and further boosted grains and legumes.

Moisture is adequate in the eastern counties of Central Texas but short to the west. The Central Texas cotton harvest is about over and the peanut and pecan harvests well under way. Oats made good progress and furnished some grazing.

Moisture is excellent, oats are growing fast and cattle are in excellent condition in deep East Texas.

Open weather is needed to finish plowing and the planting of flax, oats and legumes in South Central Texas.

Fields were flooded and all work was at standstill last week in the upper Gulf Coast District. Rains forced another extension of the cotton stalk destruction deadline. About 15 per cent of the cotton crop in the upper counties remains in the field. Clover and grain were growing but permanent pastures were on the downgrade.

More rain further delayed field work in some far South Texas counties.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

Added to the list of lively topics for the next Legislature is the carving out of a new Congressional district.

Final figures in the national census show Texas entitled to a 23rd congressman. State's population rose 24.4 per cent — to 9,579,677 — making it the sixth most populous state in the nation.

Even though population increase accounts for Texas' getting another representative to Congress, population will not be the sole consideration when lawmakers decide where to put the new district.

Population of Texas districts ranges widely, from about 227,000 to 614,000. It is highly unlikely that the legislature will undertake to rearrange the districts statewide so as to even out the differences. This would inconvenience too many incumbent congressmen, taking from their districts counties where they are popular and adding counties where they are unknown.

Nor is it expected that Dallas County, the state's most populous district, with 614,000, will get the extra congressman. Dallas now sends Texas' only Republican to Washington, and a Democratic legislature likely will not want to create an opportunity for another GOPer to be elected.

Texas' biggest congressional district — and the nation's biggest — area-wise, is the 18th, stretching all the way from Ozona to El Paso. But if El Paso, the only metropolitan area, were taken out, what was left would be short on population for a district.

After the 1950 census, the Legislature ducked for awhile the question of what to do with the extra congressman by having him serve "at large" (the whole state). Later Harris County (Houston) was given the extra congressman.

OIL FLOW UPPED — Texas Railroad Commission has set the December oil allowable as 2,819,379 barrels a day on a nine-day producing pattern.

For the past seven months the state has been limited to eight producing days.

Independent producers, most of whom have been strong for holding production to eight days in previous months, recommended nine for December.

Earlier, TIPRO (Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners) had asked the Commission to consider whether the sharp cut-back in Texas production during the past two years actually had improved the supply situation or enabled other producing areas to grab some of Texas' share of the market.

"CONTROVERSIAL" BOOKS ADOPTED — In the enormous and often touchy job of adopting textbooks for public schools, the State Board of Education rejected one and accepted two of three books against which protests had been raised.

Board asked the publishers of the history text, "Texas and our Spanish Southwest," to correct errors before it reconsiders the book in January. Two other books criticized by J. Evetts Haley and a committee known as Texans for America were accepted by the Board.

These are "Language for Daily Use" for grades 7 and 8 and "The Stockmen's Handbook." Haley's committee said the language book was based on too limited a vocabulary and the stockmen's book was too welfare state-ish in its discussion of farm issues.

Seven books opposed by Texans for America already had been eliminated by the teacher-composed advisory committee which screens textbook offerings before they are considered by the Board of Education.

LOCAL HELP TO AGED, ILL — A plan that would divide part of the responsibilities for care of the aged and mentally ill, between state and local government, may be proposed in the next Legislature.

It would take a constitutional amendment approved by the people to put the plan into effect.

Legislative Budget Board has tentatively approved a recommendation whereby the state would split with a city, county or district the cost of such programs as out-patient care for mental patients and nursing home care for elderly patients.

It is felt that this approach might be more economical and effective for some patients. Nearly-recovered mental patients, for example, could be released from bed space at expensive state institutions and get treatment as needed from a nearby clinic.

PERJURY RULING REAFFIRMED—Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its 2-to-1 decision that former Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders could not be convicted for perjury as a result of testimony before the legislative committee.

But it did not make the opinion final. Travis County District Attorney Les Procter is filing a second motion for re-hearing in hopes of keeping the issue alive until after the first of the year.

At that time one of the members holding in Saunders' favor, Judge Lloyd Davidson, goes out of office. If incoming Judge W. T. McDonald took the other side, the scales would be tilted and Saunders' conviction upheld.

OUT-OF-STATE TAX DENIED — Texas cannot collect a tax on the premiums of an insurance policy sold to a company in Texas by an out-of-state firm not licensed to do business in Texas.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that this would conflict with U. S. Supreme Court decisions now in effect. A Texas law requires purchasers of insurance from companies not licensed in Texas to pay a tax equal to 5 per cent of the premiums. This is higher than the tax on companies licensed in the state.

Appeals Court suggested hopefully that the Supreme Court might reconsider its position so that the Texas law would become valid.

SHORT SNORTS — Secretary of State Zollicoffer has issued a charter for Houston Baptist College to be built by Texas Baptists on a 200-acre site in Harris County. College is to open its doors by September, 1962. It already has a $3,000,000 endowment for buildings. . . . Department of Public Safety reports a 7 per cent decrease in Texas traffic accidents this year as compared with the same period last year. Number of death-causing accidents dropped 9 per cent. . . . Some parts of Texas had the wettest October on record, and all parts of the state except the southwest portion received above-average rainfall last month. State Board of Water Engineers reported that Corpus Christi and Victoria had the wettest October ever. Amarillo had rainfall 16.42 inches above normal by the first of October. . . . Unusually heavy moisture is blamed by Texas A&M experts for the state's generally poor pecan crop this year. Horticulture Professor Dr. Benton J. Store says why wet weather makes bad pecans is not fully understood. Most growers just call it "blight." . . . For ranchers however the rainy weather is mostly good news. U. S. Department of Agriculture says Texas ranges are going in to the winter in "above average" condition.

Do You Really Understand The Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it. Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means.

How would you interpret the following passages from the Bible: "I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (Matthew XVI, 18ff). "For, behold, henceforth all generations shall call me blessed." (Luke I, 48). "Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John XX, 23). "He who believes and is baptized shall be saved." (Mark XVI, 16).

Catholics recognize the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. If you wish to know the Catholic interpretation of the above mentioned Bible passages as well as other beliefs of Catholics, write for a free pamphlet explaining Catholic teachings. MAN, THESE DRYERS ARE THE GREATEST! BUT WHY ARE THEY ALWAYS GAS?

ANY FAMILY MAN CAN ANSWER THAT ONE! GAS IS FASTER, SAFER AND COSTS LESS. WHAT ELSE?

there are good reasons why 97% OF ALL COMMERCIAL LAUNDRIES USE GAS CLOTHES DRYERS

Gas goes to work instantly, with no warm-up wait. Gas is faster by far, reducing drying time to a minimum. Its low heat, high air-flow principle makes short work of even difficult-to-dry shag rugs and bedspreads, yet is ever-so-gentle on even the daintiest synthetics. And as for economy, a Gas Dryer operates for about 1/9th the cost of the other kind. When Gas drying rates first with those who know, wouldn't it be best for your family, too?

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

"O GIVE THANKS UNTO THE LORD; FOR HE IS GOOD; FOR HIS MERCY ENDURETH FOREVER."

—BIBLE.

Let us give thanks to God upon Thanksgiving Day. Nature is beautiful and fellowmen are dear, and duty is close beside us, and The Master is over us and in us. We want to trust Him with a fuller trust, and so at last to come to that high life where we shall "be careful for nothing, but in everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let our request be made known to God"; for that, and that alone, is peace.

The writer wishes to use a paragraph to point out the necessity of traveling safely on the highways during the festive holiday period. It has been said that some folks "drove like thunder to get to the next county but wound up in the next world." Remember, be careful if you plan a trip during the next three or four days. The highways are going to be crowded.

Our deepest sympathy passes this week to the family of the late MILLARD (JIGGS) HALL. The untimely going of this fine young man, good husband and father, was indeed a shock to the community of his nativity. Hundreds of friends attended the final sad rites conducted in Stanton last week.

ERNEST JOINER, former editor of the RALLS BANNER, is recognized as one very forceful newsman. Recently four women died in a certain West Texas community, but none were buried locally. "This proves" wrote JOINER "that even in death some women are hell-bent on taking their business out of town."

The writer was favored with a short visit from an old East Texas friend the past week. He was passing through Stanton with an El Paso destination. Our friend asked: "When do you consider yourself in West Texas after you leave deep East Texas?" We told him that West Texas began at the first barn that had no sign on it advertising, "SSS, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC, or BLACK DRAUGHT."

We leave this week with this thought. It's amazing how many millions spend money on pills to sleep, and other millions spend money on coffee to keep awake.
