Philosopher Takes A Look At Weather Forecasting, Still Relies On His Own Feeling

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw takes a look at weather forecasting this week. We're not sure with how much success.

Dear editor:

As everybody knows, we've had a lot of weather this Winter, not only here but all over the country, and I have been thinking lately how lucky weather forecasters are that they aren't elected to office. Be the biggest turn-over in the history of politics.

The trouble with predicting the weather is that the job too frequently is hopeless, like predicting women or a mis-fired satellite in orbit. Weather men, like economists, are a lot better at telling you what happened than what's going to. Yesterday's weather is a lot easier to report than tomorrow's.

Don't misunderstand me. I listen to the weather forecast nearly every day, read it whenever I get my hands on a newspaper, and I'll admit these fellows are pretty good at predicting when a cold front is going to hit my Martin County grass farm if somebody way up the country has stuck his head out the window and discovered it and found out how fast it's moving in my direction and wired the news ahead to the nearest weather bureau, and it's good information to have, I depend on it.

But the weather doesn't always move in a straight line. Sometimes it seems to come from all directions at once, and this is when it rains on a predicted fair day and the sun shines when the forecast called for rain. It accounts for a two-foot snow when a light frost was predicted.

It's at times like this that weather predicting takes on the same impossible job of a public opinion poll. Sometimes a poll is right, sometimes wrong, and a citizen is left with the job of predicting for himself which poll and which forecast is right. The weather, like people, doesn't always follow a predictable pattern, which is the reason no candidate knows what the voters thought until all the votes are counted and I don't always know what the weather will be tomorrow until I get up the next day and look at my thermometer. And sometimes then it seems like it's colder than the thing shows. Weather forecasting has a long way to go before it can tell me today how much clothes I need to wear tomorrow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE McCAMEY NEWS: "A total of nine candidates have filed for the coming city election to be held on April 4, it was announced by Tom Nevinger, city secretary. Besides electing three councilmen this year, the voters will elect a mayor."

MATADOR TRIBUNE: "A snow-storm swept across the lower Panhandle Monday and Monday night to establish what may be an all-time record. It is believed that between 12 and 16 inches of snow fell here, but because of the temperature which hovered at the freezing point, it was impossible to know exactly the depth of the fall. Snow was melting most of the time it was falling. It melted out to 1.66 inches of moisture."

THE MERKEL MAIL: "Some 300 persons attended the annual Merkel Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday at the school cafeteria. Principal speaker was Rev. Mape Avery, pastor of the University Baptist Church, Abilene. Guests of honor were teachers of the Merkel public schools."

THE POST DISPATCH: "While his horror-stricken mother looked on from a window of their home, 11-year-old Bobby Jack Smith was struck and killed by an automobile Monday after pulling his younger sister to safety. The children had just left a school bus on the Ralls farm-to-market road in front of their home three miles north of Post. An older brother was getting off the bus when the accident occurred. The youngster's death is believed to be the first school bus fatality in the county's history."

THE ALPINE AVALANCHE: "Jack A. Frost, principal and curriculum director of Falfurrias High School in South Texas, will become superintendent of Alpine Public Schools on July 1, succeeding Peyton Cain, who is retiring. Frost holds a bachelor of science degree from Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, and a master of education degree in public school administration from Texas Christian University."

THE BIG LAKE WILDCAT: "A slip, a scoop and 10 seconds combined to write a finale to the 1960-61 basketball season here for the Reagan County Owls before a near capacity crowd of screaming fans. Senior Bobby Hubbard slipped and lost control of the basketball with about six seconds left. Duane Cash scooped it up at midcourt and raced to the basket for an easy Iran two-pointer to tie the game at 48-48 and send the bi-district affair into overtime. In the overtime the Iran group won by 50-48."

THE MITCHELL COUNTY NEWS: "John Ben Clifton has been selected as one of the top applicants to appear before the Scholarship Committee for a personal interview for the Marshall Foundation Scholarship. The Marshall Foundation Scholarship, with a value of $6,000, covers five years of college, leading to bachelor's and master's degrees in the agricultural field."

ANDREWS COUNTY NEWS: "Spring-like weather ended abruptly this weekend and was replaced with freezing temperatures, rain and snow. The surprise snowstorm which covered a wide area of West Texas with as much as 19 inches failed to reach Andrews in great proportions. Inside the city approximately 2½ inches of snow fell following a half-inch rain."

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER: "Fort Stockton's district 4-AA basketball champions took the first successful step on what could eventually lead to a state crown. Although erratic and outshot from the floor at times, they outlasted game Denver City in a 65-56 bi-district battle in Odessa."

Freedoms Roll-Call

Our nation's heritage of freedom—too often taken for granted by Americans—is the subject of an intensive national program by Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

The Foundation's "Freedoms Roll-Call" is aimed at focusing national attention on the values and responsibilities of freedom under our Constitution and Bill of Rights, and calls for a personal rededication by all Americans to the principles of freedom.

It is a strange paradox that American citizens, beneficiaries of the abundance that springs from the efforts of free men in a free land, need to be stimulated to thoughtful consideration, understanding and appreciation of the free system which made this good life possible.

Time was when faith in America and its free market economy was as implicit as the knowledge that robins will appear in the Spring. We were a young country then, opening new horizons, striving for national greatness, and boldly proud of our unique American system of free men.

Unfortunately, with many, success has produced indifference and complacency. The privileges and safeguards which are ours by constitutional guarantee no longer seem to require vigorous defense.

It is unfortunate—and dangerous—that many of us fail to realize that these guarantees can easily be whisked away, by default, unless we jealously guard them.

Freedoms Foundation, in a far-sighted program, is offering all of us an opportunity to provide proof that Americans intend to remain free to speak their minds, to raise their children as they see fit, to risk their judgment and their dollars in business of their own choosing and to worship where and how they please, free from the dictates of an omnipotent, autocratic system of government.

We hope that every American will show his devotion to our American spirit by taking an active part in his own community in this re-pledge of our hearts and minds to our country.

Freedoms Foundation is worthy of your tax-exempt contributions.

Bible Comment—

Jesus' Prayers Gave Simon Peter Added Strength

There are some men so settled in their ways that they seldom change under any circumstances. Their attitudes and reactions are so predictable that we could easily foretell their course of action in many situations.

They are very necessary in our society but also they are usually very dull, unimaginative people who are not interesting to talk to. Not much ever happens to those people.

And then there is the other type, the unpredictable person. He usually is a man of superior intelligence and ability with many interests and a vast store of energy.

Such a man was the apostle Simon Peter. Extremely impulsive, very intense, he was always ready to risk everything on the outcome of a great adventure. When his plans seemed to fail, Peter was also very gloomy and disappointed.

Although his name was Simon, Jesus called him Peter "The Rock." This nickname was a symbol of the thing Peter became as he grew older and more active in the new church.

Peter did not realize some of the weakness inherent in his impulsive personality. But Jesus did. He saw through the tendencies to boast and Peter's burning desire to be first.

So Jesus prayed for Peter and these prayers became the source of Peter's strength and his salvation.

Peter bragged that he would not deny Jesus. He vowed he would not, even though everyone else might do so. But it was a penitent Peter who humbled himself by weeping later when he broke his vow, not once, but three times.

We must always remember that the Christ who prayed for Peter prayed for all of us. He, too, can be our salvation and strength.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Bryan were in Meridian over the weekend to attend the celebration of the 60th wedding anniversary of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lomax. The celebration was held Sunday.

Since 1951...

For the first time since 1951 it has been necessary for Texas Electric Service Company to have an adjustment in rates for electric service. In the meantime prices of almost everything else you buy have gone up.

We are proud of our record of holding the price line in the face of nine years of continued inflation, during which the costs of nearly everything we use in our business, as well as wages, have increased. Since most folks are using more electricity today, many of them don't realize that the average price paid for a kilowatt-hour of electric service by our residential customers is lower now than it was in 1950.

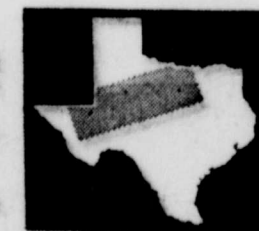

Skilled employees and bigger, more efficient power generating units and application of new processes—along with increased sales of electricity—have helped us keep the price of electric service low.

But these efficiencies and savings are not offsetting today's higher costs of doing business, and Texas Electric has had to ask for a nominal adjustment in rates for electric service.

The new residential rate schedule, which does not include the old demand feature, provides a special low rate for electric hot water heating. Another attractive feature is a low rate for electric household heating in the winter months.

Electric service will continue to be the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Terrace construction has been completed on Leo Batson and Don Fleming's farms. Construction is nearing completion of seventeen miles of terraces on Earl Greene's farm near Ackerly.

The question is asked, "why so much interest in chisel plowing?" The general physical condition of much of our soil has necessitated changes in plowing. Some fields are tight, gluey and almost void of humus and about six or eight inches from the top have a hardpan, which prevents water penetration. Chisel plows, when properly used with a legume rotation, break the pan and leave a straw or trashy cover, preventing surface soil sealing when it starts raining. Wind erosion is held to the minimum where the cover is kept on top.

Mr. Neal Estes
Stanton Reporter
Stanton, Texas

Dear Editor:

May I, for myself and the Board of Directors of Freedoms Foundation, thank you for your cooperation in our "For Americanism" Roll-Call program and commend you on your continuing efforts to awaken the American people to the realities and seriousness of the Communist threat.

Today the public looks, perhaps more than ever before, to the editorial and news pages of the country's newspapers for guidance and information on national and international problems.

We are greatly encouraged, therefore, that in your community you are using the pages of your newspaper to bring the Freedoms Roll-Call message to your people.

May I just make the point again that only if those in a position to influence public opinion, and the American people themselves, devote more of their time, energy and resources in behalf of the American Way of Life, will freedom survive in our nation.

Sincerely,
ARTHUR W. RADFORD,
Chairman
