ONE DAY FAD—These eight high schoolers launched a fad of their own creation here last week but it died after one day. Ping pong paddles and bop hats were in vogue for 24 hours. Left-to-right in the top row are Steve Springer, Tommy Davis, Sammy Webb and Robert Turner. On the bottom row, Jimmy Sale, Mike Black, Herb Sorley and David Pruitt are pictured. Fads in collegiate circles are sweeping the state. Recently, students from Denton College pushed a bed to the SMU campus in Dallas. The Mustangs shoved the bed, mounted on wheels, to Waco and there a group of students from Baylor University moved the rolling bed to Austin and Texas U. Texas U. students were planning a jaunt with the rolling bed to Houston and Rice Institute campus this week. Maybe the ping pong paddles and bop hats will return for a longer stay in these parts with the publication of this picture.

"Maybe It's Time We Thought About Planning"

Bible Comment—

Positive Thinking Helps Make 'Good Life'

What is the conception of the good life, the best life of all, as we see it set forth and exemplified in the teachings and example of Jesus?

Though there are profound and striking exceptions, there have been many followers of Jesus who, inspired by Him, have lived lives of conspicuous devotion and service. In our time there have been men like Father Damien of Molokai, and Sir Wilfred Grenfell of Labrador; women like Jane Addams of Chicago.

And their name, in spite of all the shortcomings of professed Christians, has been legion; for many unknown to fame have never been unknown to God for their sincerity and goodness.

But in general the emphasis in historic Christianity and the church has been negative, rather than positive. It has been upon sins, rather than upon the great, positive expressions and acts of righteousness and truth.

Philosopher Says Nobody Will Ever Accuse Farmers With The Crime Of Price-Fixing

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses the advantages of farming this week, at least we think that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while somebody asks me why I keep on farming if it's as hard as I let on and the chances of breaking even are as slim as I claim, but that's because they don't understand all of the advantages.

It's true farming out in the open under the uncertainties of the weather is a hazardous undertaking, about like trying to run a drygoods store without a roof or a bank and it's true that insects are as smart as men and while man is staying up all night in a laboratory developing an insecticide that's bound to work, it turns out the insects stayed up the night before developing an immunity to it. As I've found out long ago, every time a man comes out with a new insecticide, the insects come out with a new insect.

Moreover, a lot of people distrust a farmer. If he gets ahead, he's responsible for the high cost of living; if he fails, he's incompetent.

I could go on, but by this time you're probably wondering, what are the advantages of farming?

Well, I won't have room this week to list all the advantages, not to mention time to think them up, or the imagination to manufacture them, but there is one advantage that occurred to me the other day and I've been basking in it ever since.

It's this: the farmers will never make wide observation of life to see how many lives of "good" men and women, well-intentioned and free from evil, are none the less inconspicuous for evidence of the "Fruit of the Spirit."

The thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, next to the Sermon on the Mount, the greatest sermon ever written, in its simplicity, conciseness and brevity, makes plain the nature of the good life as the Apostle Paul learned it from His master.

In the positive emphasis upon the good life, such as Jesus made there is no danger that there will be less inhibition against sin and sins.

The positive attuning of the heart to the good and righteousness is, in fact, the surest guarantee that one's life will be inwardly and outwardly correct. A world concentrating more upon righteousness and the spirit and acts of love will be, correspondingly, a world freer from sin and evil.

BY VERN SANFORD
 Capitol hands are engaged in a legal and dead-serious type of "numbers game."
 Object is to figure out how much money certain tax bills will bring in. Also what the legislature needs to round up in order to meet the state's obligations. Then, find out how much additional cash is necessary to foot all bills. Any number of persons can play this game — and a good many are. Looks like all Texans will be affected.

Gov. Price Daniel, who takes a dim view of the House-passed 2 per cent sales tax, said it still would leave the state $50,000,000 short of needed revenue. Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity, sponsor of the sales tax, offered it as a means of raising $127,000,000 a year.
 Texas Research League, which has made a continuing study of state finances, estimated Wilson's bill would raise $265,000,000 in the next two years, with $22,000,000 more coming in late because of a two-months collection lag. This would take care of the general appropriations bill as passed by the Senate, says the League, leaving some $106,000,000 to pay for teacher raises and medical care for persons on state welfare rolls.

Wilson has also put forward another tax bill that would repeal the corporation franchise tax and substitute a 4 1/2 per cent corporation income tax for a net gain of $50,000,000 a year in state revenue.

Governor Daniel has proposed a new eight-point compromise plan designed to add $73,316,000 to the general revenue fund over a two-year period.
 His plan calls for (1) passage of the twice-defeated escheat bill, (2) doubling tuition at state colleges, (3) shifting the $15,000,000 farm-to-market road spending from the general fund, (4) requiring county school superintendent expenses to be paid from local funds, (5) collecting $3,000,000 from families able to pay for care of relatives in state hospitals and schools, (6) diverting one per cent ($12,000,000) a year from the permanent school fund for current expenses and (7) revising or shifting several other school fund allocations.

HOUSE PASSES BUDGET BILL—House passed a general appropriations bill calling for the spending of $2,520,000,000 during the next two years.

House bill is about $200,000,000 higher than the appropriations bill passed by the Senate in late March. It is about $130,000,000 more than is provided for present two-year period.
 One of the biggest increases would be for education, which would be boosted by $36,000,000 a year under the House bill.

Other provisions by the House would allow: $15 per month raises for state employees making less than $200 a month; 40-hour work weeks for employees of state hospitals and special schools; raises for State Liquor Control Board inspectors.

"UNIVERSITY" BATTLES — "University" has become a "fighting word" in the Senate, one that held up regular business for almost two weeks.
 A determined group of Senators has opposed creating any more state-supported universities on grounds it will put Texas in the position of the "old woman who lived in the shoe."

Nevertheless, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells obtained final passage of a bill that would change the name of North Texas State College to North Texas State University. Opponents scoffed at the prospect of having two universities in Denton (pop. 27,000). Other is Texas Woman's University (formerly Texas State College of Women).

Sen. Robert Baker of Houston had more difficulty with his bill that would admit the University of Houston to the state college system. Senators Hubert Hudson, Wardlow Lane, Charles Herring and W. T. Moore teamed up to "talk the bill to death."

CAR TAX END SOUGHT — City and County property taxes on automobiles and trucks would be abolished under a proposed constitutional amendment passed 102-to-35 by House.

School district property taxes on vehicles would be retained.
 Auto property taxes have been a source of considerable dissatisfaction since some cities and counties collect them and others don't bother. Rep. Murry Watson of Mart.

Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheel

sponsor of the plan, said he would urge that the Legislature also adopt a law requiring car owners to show a receipt for payment of school taxes as a requirement for getting license plates. Watson's proposed amendment also would authorize the Legislature to increase vehicle registration fees by one-third to create a fund for improving county roads and city streets.

If passed by both houses of the Legislature, the amendment would be voted on by the people.

GARNISHMENT APPROVED — Another proposed constitutional amendment approved by the House would allow courts to garnish (take over) 50 per cent of a father's salary for child support payments.

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, sponsor, said the measure would result in a lightened load for the State Welfare Department. Frequently, said supporters, fathers ignore court orders to pay child support, causing the children to become a public welfare problem.

Opponents called the measure too severe.

ELECTION CODE IS TARGET — Changes in future balloting and candidate filing procedures continue to be a prime legislative topic.

A bill introduced by Senators George Parkhouse of Dallas and Robert Baker of Houston would raise substantially the filing fees for legislative candidates in Dallas and Harris counties. A senatorial candidate would have to pay $1,000 and a House candidate, $500, compared to the present $100 for each.

Another bill by Senator Parkhouse would limit each political party to one poll watcher per precinct and require that the watcher be a resident of the precinct in which he keeps his vigil.
 A bill that would allow voters to check the candidate they favored rather than scratching all others has been approved by House committee and sent to the floor. Committee also approved a bill that would require that the boxes containing ballot stubs be turned in after the election with unbroken seals.

High Winds Cut Surface Moisture

High winds have depleted surface soil moisture in every section of the state, and coupled with the cool nights has slowed plant growth, dropped soil temperatures and caused replanting of crops in many areas, said director John Hutchinson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Several districts east and northeast, reported adequate moisture at midweek, but both said high winds were getting the top soil moisture fast. Ranges and small grains need rain.

Livestock and range conditions ranged from fair to good. Continuing high winds in South Texas have snapped moisture and damaged the foliage of vegetables, melons and field crops, said Joe Rothe from Weslaco. Crop growth has been slowed by the cool nights.

Rain is badly needed in South Central Texas, reported Joe Glover from Gonzales. The frost damage to corn, grain sorghums, watermelons and tomatoes was considerable and replanting is under way.

A general rain is needed in the upper Gulf coastal area, said Silver Whitsett from Richmond. Watermelons and tomatoes have been damaged by cold nights.

Top soil is wet in parts of East Texas but planting is in full swing, reported Walter Scott from Nacogdoches. Livestock are in good condition.

Surface moisture has been depleted but subsoil moisture remains adequate in Central Texas, advised R. G. Burwell from Stephenville. Rain would help mature the oat crop and improve planting conditions and pastures.

In Central West Texas, Roy Huckabee at San Angelo said rain is needed to mature small grains, for planting row crops and for range growth. Small grains are heading but will not mature without rain. Some fields are being cut for hay and others being grazed. The cold damaged fruits and pecans in some areas. Livestock are in fair to good condition.

Rain is needed in every county in far West Texas, reported Roy Siegmund from Fort Stockton. Livestock are in fair condition and a very good lamb crop is on the ground but grasses and weeds are burning from the high winds and lack of moisture.

Moisture is adequate in Northeast Texas but the high winds have dried up the surface moisture, reported John Surovik from Mt. Pleasant. Oats and rye are heading; 50-75 per cent of the corn is now planted but growth is slow and some cotton and grain sorghums have been planted.

Surface moisture is needed in the rolling plains to push small grains along and for planting, advised James Simmons from Vernon. Cotton is being planted in 10 counties and grain sorghum planting varies from 1 to 30 per cent. The first cutting of alfalfa was made.

Soil moisture is running low in the South Plains where high winds have depleted the surface moisture and increased need for replanting irrigation, advised W. H.

Playing in a golf tournament at Lamesa during the April 22 weekend where Paul Briggs, Oscar Fanning and Eldon Hopkins. Hopkins won consolation in the fifth flight.

er has introduced a new bill to exempt farm trailers from licensing requirements. It is a substitute for a similar bill vetoed by Governor Daniel. New bill includes a number of safety, weight and speed limitations.

Members of the sixth grade class of Grady School are to make a weekend trip to Austin and San Antonio. The class will leave Friday and will be gone Saturday and Sunday. At Austin, the group is to visit the capitol and other interesting and educational spots. They are to visit the Alamo and historic missions at San Antonio.

Permits Granted Shell Dredgers Under New Rules

Permits for shell dredging in 44 blocks in Galveston Bay have been granted to the W. D. Haden Company by the Game and Fish Commission, it has been announced by Howard Dodgen, executive secretary. These are the first permits granted under new regulations adopted by the Commission at its meeting in Austin on April 7.

The Haden application, which was heard in Austin on April 18, originally requested a permit on 300 blocks on Galveston and a Trinity bay. The petition was amended, reducing the number to 47. However, there were only 44 granted.

Many of those granted covered the same area previously operated, except that blocks on the east side of the ship channel were substituted for blocks on the west side, because of their proximity to land.

Another application, filed by the Bauer Dredging Company of Port Lavaca, was heard in Austin May 2.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Cliff Fisher, Manager

TELEPHONES OF THE FUTURE

The other day I was having lunch with some friends and we got to talking about how much the telephone has changed in the last few years. We talked about the development of color phones, wall phones and the latest one—the Princess, the first compact phone.

This conversation reminded me of some of the ideas for new kinds of telephones and communications services we're working on now. Some of these ideas will never leave the drawing board. Others will fall by the wayside during the test stage. And some, of course, will be successful — and will eventually be available for your use.

For instance, there's the "dial-in-hand" phone. It has the dial in the receiver. You lift the receiver, hold it in your hand, and dial. The dial lights up when you lift the receiver, too.

Or, how about a picturephone? This telephone of the future will transmit pictures as well as sound, so people will be able to see each other as they talk on the phone. The picturephone has been successfully tested, but it will be quite a while before it is available for widespread public use.

But here's a new phone you may have in the not-too-distant future. It's a small new wall phone called the Slimphone. The Slimphone is trim, not much wider than a Princess phone. It should come in handy for the kitchen and other rooms because it doesn't take up much space.

These are just a few — a sampling — of new kinds of telephones and telephone services we're working on for the future. But even today we enjoy telephone services most of us never dreamed possible just 10 years ago.

CAN YOU GUESS WHAT IT IS?

Like to work riddles? Here's one that ought to be easy. What is it that's found in almost every home, store, business office, church, school and public buildings? It helps you find things, people and services. It's ready to help you any time—night or day—every day of the week.

I'd be mighty surprised if you didn't know it was the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory. Studies show that nine out of ten people reach for the Yellow Page directory when they're ready to buy. How about you?

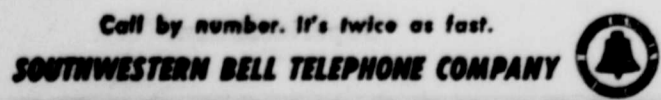

SQUIRRELS LOSE, CUSTOMERS WIN

For some unknown reason, squirrels like to gnaw on telephone cables. Their chewing puts holes in the cable's outer covering and lets moisture get inside. This, in turn, interferes with your telephone service.

To protect phone cables, we cover them with metal shields or wrap them with steel tape. We are also experimenting with a fiberglass coating which is painted on the cables.

The squirrels don't like this, but it keeps our cables from being damaged and helps keep your telephone service dependable.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

H. Kaderli Promoted, Transferred To Tulsa

H. Hilton Kaderli, manager of the land and lease department of Skelly Oil Company's West Texas-Southeast New Mexico District, has been promoted to an executive assignment in the concern's general office at Tulsa.

James R. Maedgen, a former Midland resident, and manager of the same department in Skelly's Central Texas District at Abilene for more than 15 years, has been transferred to Midland to succeed Kaderli.

Maedgen will continue to direct the land department of the Abilene office from his new base in Midland.

At Tulsa Kaderli will be head of the land section of the company's Southern Division which has district offices at Houston and Corpus Christi; Shreveport and Lafayette, Louisiana, and Jackson, Miss.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kaderli of Stanton, and a native of this city.

Kaderli lived in Midland 27 years and had been employed in Skelly's land department since February 1937.

Starting as a clerk-typist and draftsman, he advanced to scout in 1939, landman in 1940, and was made district land department manager in early 1943.

Kaderli has been active in civic and professional organizations in Midland. He was president of the Rotary Club for the 1949-50 year; is a charter member of the Permian Basin Landman's Association, and was a director of the Midland YMCA until recently when he resigned on account of the Tulsa transfer.

Maedgen lived in Midland for six years prior to going to Abilene in 1945 as Skelly's district landman. During his first three years in Midland he was employed by the pipe line department of Gulf Refining Company. He spent the next three years in the Skelly land department.

The Kaderli and Maedgen families will move to their new homes after the close of the present term of the public schools.

Anglers Given Reminder About Fishing Permits

This is the time of the year when many fishermen get caught without licenses, according to Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

In the arrest report for the month of March, there were 111 persons who were arrested for fishing without first buying the regular $2.15 license required. This license is required for all persons between the ages of 17 and 65, who fish outside their home county, or who fish with any type of winding device, such as rod and reel, regardless of where they fish. The $2.15 license applies to residents and non-residents alike. It can be bought in practically all sporting goods stores and many other places throughout the State.

Game wardens also arrested 27 night hunters during the same period of time. Although several were arrested for netting violations, no arrests were made during the month for "telephoning" fish. In all, there were 245 arrests which netted fines and court costs of $5,929.40.

The law enforcement director warned that with the approaching Summer months, all fishermen should be careful to have their required licenses. While persons over 65 years of age are not required to have a license, there is an exemption certificate available for the asking, and it is good to have one of these in possession because it properly establishes the age when the fisherman is checked by a game warden.

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

Coastal Bermuda

Farmers who participate in the feed grain program and are having trouble deciding on how to handle the conservation acres might find it very profitable to establish a good field of Coastal Bermuda. George McBee, extension pasture specialist, says this hybrid grass continues to make new friends because of its adaptability and high yielding characteristics. Spring, he adds, is the best time for planting Coastal in most sections of Texas.

Under the feed grain program, the farmer may receive up to half of the expected payment at the time he signs up to divert corn or grain sorghum land to soil conserving uses. This money can be used to establish the new field of high yielding, quality forage that Coastal can provide, says McBee.

He points out that Texas farmers have always been able to buy satisfactory feed grain, but many are often disappointed with the quality and price of available forage. Plantings made now will give the grass time to become established before the beginning of the Summer season. McBee recommends that only fresh sprigs of good quality be planted. The seedbed should be moist, well prepared and clean. Where moisture is a limiting factor, it may be difficult to obtain a stand unless irrigation is available, he adds.

Feed Grain

Texas corn and grain sorghum producers will soon have an opportunity to signify their intentions on whether or not to participate in the 1961 feed grain program. Base acreages and productivity indexes have been released on both corn and grain sorghum for the counties and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation personnel are busy breaking these county figures down into bases and indexes for individual farms.

Individual producers will soon be receiving the figures for their farms and then the decision of whether to participate or not must be made. No closing date has yet been set for the signing of contracts but it is expected shortly.

Cotton Root Rot

Cotton losses due to root rot can be reduced. But, points out Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, plans must be made and carried out over a period of years to be most effective.

A combination of practices carried on for a number of years is necessary for best results. These include the growing of resistant crops in rotation; turning under a large tonnage of organic matter prior to the growing of a cotton crop and deep plowing during June, July and August of infected land.

Meat Imports

During 1960, U. S. livestock and meat imports were equal to 6.5 percent of the total domestic production compared with 8.6 percent for both 1958 and 1959, reports Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist. Beef and veal imports declined 23 percent during 1960. Import of live animals during 1960 declined five percent to a total of 664 thousand head. Due to lower cattle prices, the reduction in import value was considerably greater than the reduction in import numbers. The value of cattle

Committee Named

A three-man committee has been named to select the state's three outstanding soil conservation districts in the annual award program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

President W. S. Gibbs, Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts, of Huntsville, has named A. T. Vandiver, of Burleson, chairman of the Dalworth Soil Conservation District; T. E. Winn of Tyler, secretary of the Neches-Sabine District and Ralph R. Swinford, Wichita Falls, director for Area V of Association of Texas Districts as the judging committee. Vandiver will serve as committee chairman.

Spring Vegetables In Plentiful Supply At Your Grocer's

Texas food markets are loaded with fresh Spring vegetables. Abundant at attractive prices are cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, lettuce, onions, radishes, squash and turnips.

Winter supplies of potatoes and tomatoes remain strong, says the Agricultural Marketing Service. Apples are ample. Prices have remained modest and fairly steady all winter. Banana imports have been heavy.

Orange and grapefruit seasons have passed their peaks, but Texas shipments continue in volume and prices still are of best-buy variety. Lemons also are in good supply.

Carrots, lettuce and celery are priced higher this week than last. Avocados and peppers advanced in price this week. Idaho russet potatoes average higher.

Dry onions, asparagus and yellow squash prices lowered. Tomatoes are slightly lower. Cantaloupes and cucumbers, while still fairly high, also dropped. Fresh spinach from Arkansas and Texas is available readily in many markets.

Strawberry prices are pretty much unchanged, as Texas supplies continue good.

Among processed fruits, watch for plentiful supplies of cranberries, freestone peaches and ripe olives. All are plentiful.

Spring lamb and other red meats are available in abundance. Turkeys continue plentiful. The Spring surge in milk production is on. Dry beans and peanut products will be plentiful all month.

Humans Warned Young Wildlife Better In Woods

Don't pick up young of the wild. This is the warning of Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

This is the time of the year when babes of the woods stroll out in the open. They are tame and curious, and there is a tendency on the part of most people to take them home.

In the first place, according to Capt. Sprott, this is illegal. Just as important is the fact that the wild can take care of itself much better in the wild than might be done by individuals. There are a few cases, he points out, where lives of animals have been saved and landowners take care of them after something has happened to the mother. However, when an individual picks up a fawn or any other animal and takes it home, the animal actually has much less chance of surviving.

Very frequently these babes are

Reservists To Get Two Weeks Summer Training

Some 55,000 Army reservists in Texas and New Mexico will undergo two weeks of Summer field training this year, Colonel Merle L. Fisher, VIII U. S. Army Corps commander, announced.

"Employers of reservists can make an important contribution in this area of national defense by arranging vacation schedules and establishing personnel policies that will encourage the individual reservist to attend camp," Col. Fisher said.

"This is not a vacation for these men. They are on duty 24 hours a day and follow a rigorous training schedule. At camp they put into practice the lessons learned the previous year during the weekly hometown training periods."

The largest groups, Texas' own 90th Infantry Division, will train at Ft. Hood, Texas, from June 3 to 17. It has headquarters in Austin, Texas, and units throughout the state. The 75th Maneuver Area Command with headquarters in Houston, Texas, trained at Ft. Hood from March 5 to 19.

Training at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, from June 18 to July 2 will be the 80th Hospital Center headquartered at Galveston, Texas. The 420th Engineer Brigade of Bryan, Texas, will train at Ft. Polk, La., from August 12 to 27 and the 312th Logistical Command will undergo training at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, from July 30 to August 13.

Better Bowling

Togetherness is key. Approach to the foul line has one goal—the left foot and right arm must get there together. If the foot arrives there ahead of the ball or vice versa, you're off balance and you sacrifice the smoothness of delivery necessary to good scores.

If you're fouled up at the foul line, check the movements you have made before this point; pushaway, backswing, etc.

Break this law of foot and arm together at foul line and you pay the penalty.

Mrs. M. Hamm Observes 90th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Young visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hamm, who resides near Anderson.

Mrs. Hamm, who recently celebrated her 90th birthday, is also the mother of Delma Hamm of Lenora. She still is active and raises her own garden and milks her cow every day.

On her 90th birthday an article appeared in a nearby newspaper, The Navasota Examiner-Review. Information in the article is printed below.

Both Mrs. Hamm and her late husband, George Washington Hamm, were born and raised at Willard, Kentucky. Their five children also were born in Kentucky.

The Hamm's raised tobacco and worked in coal mines during the early years of their marriage, but Mrs. Hamm felt the work in coal mines too dangerous and finally persuaded her husband to move to Oklahoma and seek a new occupation.

Raising peaches and cotton, the Hamm's prospered in Oklahoma. "I still remember the celebration of ringing bells, blowing horns, and guns firing when Oklahoma became a state," Mrs. Hamm said.

Restless once again, the Hamm family packed up their belongings in 1913 and journeyed overland via covered wagon from their home in Oklahoma to Grimes County.

Pointing out the advantages of modern transportation, Mrs. Hamm said, "Traveling in a covered wagon was very slow. We could only travel 30 miles a day. The land on which Mrs. Hamm lives is the same land the Hamm's purchased for $30 an acre 47 years ago.

In years past, the Hamm's owned a store and sawmill at Northwood, which was located in the southern part of Grimes County, three miles south of Richards. Mr. Hamm died in 1938.

In the article were many interesting stories Mrs. Hamm related concerning her life in early days.

LIQUID FERTILIZER

DIVISION OF GOODPASTURE GRAIN & MILLING CO., INC.

MARVIN GREEN... Hockley county farmer... had this to say about Solutions: "I really gave Liquid Fertilizers a test last year. After all the heavy rains we had, I went back and side-dressed my cotton with Liquid. I saw a big increase in production in comparison to what some of the other county farmers gathered who didn't use another application of fertilizer."

This is Green's second year to use Solutions. He uses the tool-bar mounted applicator-cultivator with front-mounted saddle-type barrels. With this type rig—Green added: "I was able to apply 50 acres or more per day of fertilizer. And another thing, I have never been able to get the results from other types of fertilizers that I have received from Liquid... with the saving in labor expense, plus the low initial cost of SOLUTIONS, I don't know why everyone doesn't use Liquid Fertilizers."

Looking for a SOLUTION to your fertilizer problem? Then see your local Liquid Fertilizer Dealer...

ONE NICE THING ABOUT A SAP IS THAT HE CAN BE TAPPED BY SOME AMBITIOUS WOMAN JUST AS OFTEN AS AN OLD MAPLE, COME SPRINGTIME.

It is hoped by the author of this column that every paragraph be so clear as not to cause any reader to feel like a particular paragraph is personally directed. What we say here is supposed to stimulate people to better work and not to make them mad. Sometimes we feel like an evangelist who moves from town to town. Everywhere he preaches, and we plead guilty to preaching some in this column, the evangelist makes forceful points and backs his pulp argument with The Word from the big book—THE BIBLE. On occasions, people caught in the congregation, got a guilty feeling and their conscious creeps up and slaps them down before they can get out of the church house and they seldom go back to "hear the preacher." So, sometimes it goes with column writing.

It has been said that we are making progress in the CONGO. Forty-nine witch doctors were reported to have just joined the Blue Cross.

A delinquent taxpayer sent a letter to the Internal Revenue Department saying he had cheated on his income tax ten years ago and had not been able to sleep good at night since. He enclosed $25 and added: "If I still can't sleep, I will send the balance."

THINGS have been worked out down here in the printing office where the editor can get out and meet more of the people in the rural areas. We are going to start talking directly with our people. We want to know their problems, if any. We want to hear their stories on how the newspaper can better serve the county. We plan a complete house-to-house get-acquainted tour. It will take time but we have it and we intend to utilize it. AND MAYBE THERE ARE SOME THINGS GOING ON IN STANTON THAT THE PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO FIND OUT ABOUT OUT THERE IN THE COUNTRY.

WE are happy to reveal that our subscription list is steadily growing. This week, we received subscription 850 since the first of the year. That possibly sets a record. We still have seven months to go and subscriptions will be expiring all along in those months. This is our personal way of saying Thank You. And we are looking forward to the continuing goodwill being manifest by the people living in Martin County and those cherished out-of-town subscribers who show faith in the editorial, news and advertising leadership being given weekly by the OLE RELIABLE. Thanks again to all you ranchers, farmers, businessmen, housewives, professional, skilled laborers, working men and women, and those who have retired, for your fine support.

MARTIN County people get around. Wednesday morning we picked up a copy of THE ANDREWS COUNTY NEWS and there smack on the front page was SHERIFF DAN SAUNDER'S picture. DAN attended a South Plains and Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers convention. In the photo with the Martin County sheriff were MAJ. SPIER of the DPS, J. P. ROACH, New Mexico state police captain and Andrews Police Chief CLINTON DAME.

FROM the very day that young DR. DOUGLAS AGEE walked into the newspaper office and introduced himself, we have appreciated him. A few days later, we met his wife, ROSEMARY. On Wednesday, ROSEMARY and DOUG left Stanton for a new home and a new medical practice in California. The AGEES left behind a legacy for us. In saying goodbye, ROSEMARY supplied an address up in Lee's Summit, Missouri for us to write to for a booklet. We will today! And may the very best of the nicer things of life always belong to ROSEMARY and DOUG AGEE.

THE paper received a whole batch of renewal checks this week. We can't list all of them in this column in one issue but we do want to say that the mail brought a check from SPENCER BLOCKER. We see SPENCER in Midland and in his hometown, Stanton, occasionally. He is a former city councilman here and now engaged in the insurance business in the Headquarters City of the Permian Basin Empire—our neighbor to the west—Midland.

IF you have not made a contribution to the CANCER CRUSADE you can still do so. Send your check or money to MESSDAMES LELAND NELSON or BOB JOHNSON. You can also hand your money to MRS. LEO TURNER or anyone in the MU LAMBDA chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi. They will see that either JENDO, NORMA, or GLORIA get your contribution. These women have done a good job at a pretty hard time. With several other drives in progress and with previous campaigns for other worthy causes completed before the Crusade started, the results are exceedingly gratifying.

NEXT time you have need for legal counsel be sure and observe closely how much a lawyer's voice sounds like that of an undertaker on the telephone.
