County Schools To Open Monday

Had a subscription renewal from Virgil Foreman, Richmond, California; one from R. M. Henderson, Madisonville, Texas, and across a renewal slip he wrote: "We enjoy reading the paper each week." The Henderson family formerly resided in Stanton where Mr. Henderson was associated with the First National Bank. Our esteemed county treasurer, Elmo Reed was by the office to renew and pass along a good word for the publication; the Jimmy Bickleys will receive the paper in Alpine this year. They formerly lived here and have many friends in the area.

Mrs. John Roueche has a sister who has been working as a legal secretary for the law firm, Vincent, Elkins, Weems and Searis, Houston, for a number of years. That's the law firm our nephew recently got a job with. Mrs. Roueche told us that the last count she had the firm had 64 lawyers. Well, Little Carl must be at the bottom of the legal ladder but he is young and life is long and if he works as hard as he did for us one Summer in Longview, maybe someday ten or fifteen years from now he'll be able to get his name printed on the door.

Congratulations to L. D. Ringener for bringing in the first bale of cotton. Ringener's bale weighed 500 pounds. He resides on an irrigated farm in Tarzan but he had the first bale picked from dry land acreage he farms seven miles North of Leno-rath.

Congratulations to Mayor Stanley Wheeler too. Stanley has been appointed an Associate Director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association. A story of his appointment appears elsewhere in the newspaper.

Mrs. Flora Morris suffered a broken wrist in a home accident in Midland Saturday. Mrs. Morris was visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Moore at the time of the mishap. She received medical attention immediately and doctors say it will require about six weeks for the broken member to mend. The many friends of this fine local lady will regret to learn of her misfortune.

Thanks a lot Raymond Louder for remembering us. You, and all the members of your family are counted among our best friends. We will do anything for any Louder at anytime. The produce was delicious.

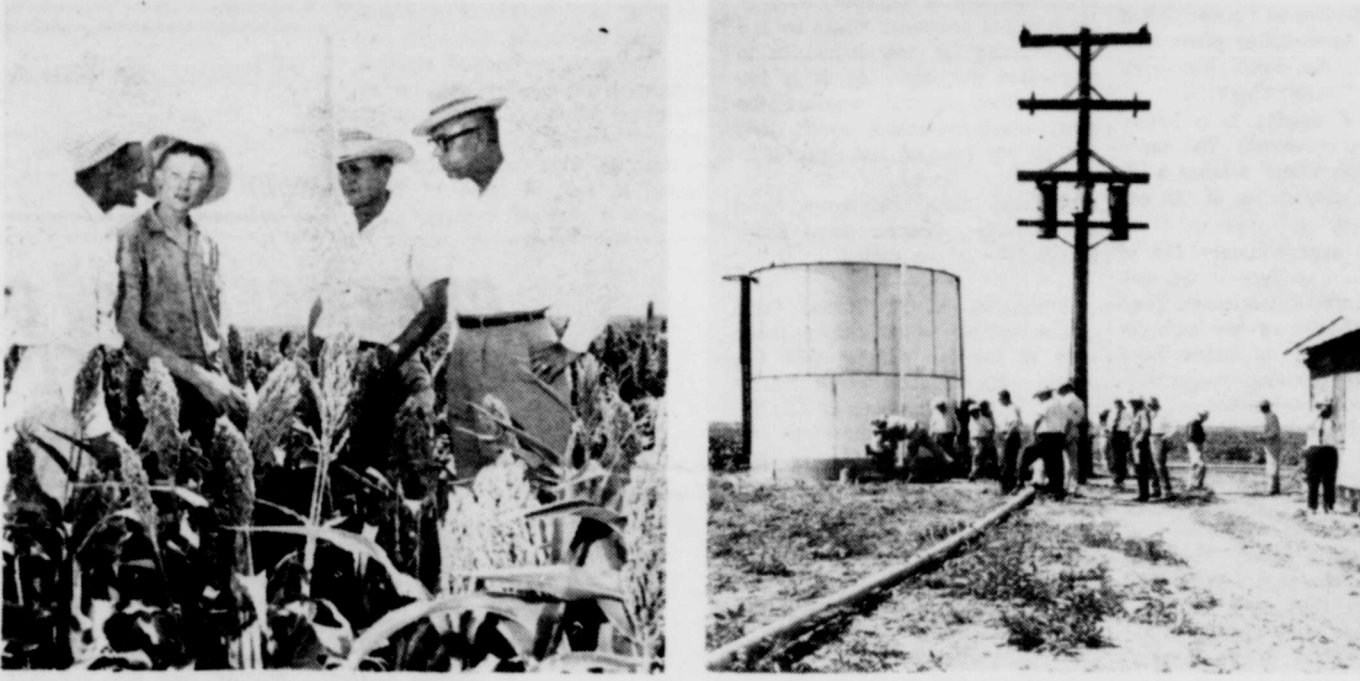

Kathryn Bristow, Mary Prudie Brown, and R. K. Rogers all have the same birthday. Kathryn, Doc's wife, and Mary, Glenn's wife, were also born the same year. Both the girls were 29 last Saturday. As everybody knows, they are both brunettes, active in civic, church and club work and just swell individuals. R. K. Rogers is residing in Andrews. He lived in Stanton for years and is tops in both personality, character, and in his profession.

Sheriff Dan Saunders expressed appreciation for the way the press covered the bank robbery story last week. He said it was a jam-up, highly efficient job well done. We also appreciate your fine cooperation and we take the liberty of speaking for all the newsmen in the area.

Jack Ireton, the man who faced the real crisis — looking into the bandit's gun while sacking the money with both hands, was also pleased with the accuracy of the coverage and had a nice word to say for the local newspaper's handling of the big story.

Terri and Craig Graves, children of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves, and Mrs. Walter Graves were office visitors Tuesday. While Pauline talked with Eugenia, we took the children into the back shop to watch the operation of the Linotype machine and they appeared to enjoy the sight. Their dad used to be the pressman on the paper when he was a high school student in Stanton. The Granville Graves and their lovely children are now living in Coahoma.

Mrs. W. C. Landreth, Odessa, will receive this week's paper. Mrs. C. A. Webb presented her with a subscription. Mrs. Webb is one of our correspondents. The M. A. Petree family signed up for another year's subscription. They are now residing on a farm near Midland.

Tarzan Man Gets First Cotton Bale

L. D. Ringener, Tarzan farmer, captured the first bale of cotton honors Wednesday, August 23 when he brought in his bale to the Wolcott Gin. The bale will be sold at Chinese auction Monday, August 28 in front of the First National Bank. The sale will be held at 3 p.m. with Jack Arrington serving as auctioneer. Ringener brought the bale in at 1:05 p.m. It was ginned at the Wolcott gin and came off the gin press at 2:30 p.m. The bale ginned out at 500 pounds. Ringener resides on an irrigated farm, West of Tarzan. The cotton was grown on a dryland farm he farms seven miles North of Leno-rath. The first bale of cotton produced in 1960 was grown by W. L. Lindsay, who grew the cotton on land one mile North of Stanton. It ginned out at 500 pounds. It was brought in on Monday, August 22. Lindsay's cotton brought $1,060 by Chinese auction. He left $100 of the amount in a special fund to go to the owner of the first 1961 bale. In 1959 the first bale of cotton was grown by Floyd Martin in the Grady community. His bale also was brought in on August 22 and it ginned out at 560 pounds of lint cotton. His cotton brought $976 at Chinese auction. The 1961 first bale of cotton is now on display on the corner in front of the First National Bank, where the auction will be held.

The Association's audit report which will be presented at the meeting shows the gin made net savings of $41,750.00 for the some 250 farmers who own it. This figures a net saving per bale of $5.00. Smith, Owen Kelly and Glenn (Pete) Morrison.

Martin County Philosopher Adds His Two-Bits Worth To Berlin Crisis, But It's Inflationary

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Martin County grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses the Berlin situation this week.

For example, while one of the problems in Berlin is the question of whether you can cross from the East to the West, my problem here is that a cow can cross from either direction and leave the place altogether from all sides if she takes the notion. You might say that on this farm, a cow recognizes no borders and while I could shut the gate, it seems like a waste of time when the fences beyond the gate won't hold cows anyway.

Dear editor:
Right when people ought to be enjoying the closing days of Summer, all you can hear from them is: 'What's going to happen over West Berlin and East Berlin?'

Why, the newspapers are so full of the Berlin crisis even old-fashioned ax murders have been crowded to an inside page, and any robber who holds up a bank for a few thousand dollars can't even get in the paper at all.

But I've been viewing the Berlin situation this way: with so many brains at work on it in every corner of the world, I figure I can be excused from devoting my full time to it, although I'll admit that West Berlin's demand that the United States stop talking and start fighting over its plight has me puzzled. It hasn't been very many years since the same place was hollering that we ought to stop fighting and start talking.

Now I'm not saying the situation could be any different. It's mighty easy to look back fifteen years and say what we should have done, but I can look over this Martin County grass farm and list a dozen things it looks like I would have had sense enough to have done fifteen years ago, but there they are, still undone. This goes for both the East side of this place as well as the West side.

One advantage my cows have over people is that they don't recognize any political philosophies. I've tried dictating to them, but it won't work. Some day Mr. Khrushchev may find out the same thing about people. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Warden Title Fades Away In Reorganization

An old title in conservation and law enforcement in Texas will fade into history after September 1, with the reorganization of the Game and Fish Commission. In the future, wardens will be known as "conservation officers." In some states where this title is used, the name has been shortened to "conservators."

The title of warden is a handy name, easy to remember. The name of conservation officer denotes a little more the real duties of the enforcement men.

There are approximately 200 of these uniformed officers in the employ of the Game Commission. They started out strictly as law enforcement officers, but as times have changed and thinking progressed, they have become more.

They spend much more time on prevention of violations than in actually making arrests, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary.

"Their work is broad," he said. "They help landowners develop wildlife programs, they work constantly with biologists and appear before service clubs and other organized groups. The change in title, therefore, won't be a change in their work program." "As wardens they have done a great job. As conservation officers their work will continue for the benefit of all renewable resources."

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Souval Britton have been Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dooley and Mary Gail of El Paso.

Bible Comment—

Resurrection Was Start Of Jesus' Mission

If one thinks of the earthly life of Jesus as lived in its Palestine homeland, the Resurrection was its triumphant climax.

It was not only the victory over death, it was also the victory over those who sought to destroy him. But for the world at large, into which Jesus had come, it was not a climax, but a beginning.

It was now that He told His disciples to go forth and preach the gospel. In obedience to that great commission, 20 centuries have seen the growth of Christianity.

But even greater than the outward power of churches and organizations is the mystic fellowship of all believers, who have taken to themselves the Christian name and who have sought to live according to the teaching and example of the Master.

The evil that Jesus fought and that crucified Him is still abroad in the world, seeking to destroy His teaching, setting up other standards of selfishness, violence, worldly power, and caring nothing for justice, mercy and right.

So great is this evil, so apparently overwhelming and successful, that it is easy to underestimate the power of good, the forces of righteousness and the strength of Christian progress toward what may still be a far off goal.

But the power and impulse of Christianity are not in the past. Jesus still lives and leads in every devout soul whose daily life no matter how lowly or great its place and environment, is attuned to love.

He lives and leads in every service for one's fellowmen, in the schools and colleges and in the missionaries.

We sing in our prayer "Jesus Still Leads On" and that prayer has its answer before it is spoken, for the surest, truest, most hopeful thing in the world that Jesus is still leading on.

Grassroots Opinion

Tenno, Washington, Independent: "If you want your father to take care of you, that's Paternalism."

"If you want your mother to take care of you, that's Maternalism."

"If you want Uncle Sam to take care of you, that's Socialism."

"If you want your comrades to take care of you, that's Communism."

"BUT — if you want to take care of yourself, that's Americanism."

West Concord, Minn., Enterprise: "Any government with the power to give you anything that you want, is strong enough to take everything you have."

Newberry, S. C., Observer: "Small businesses are a vital segment of our national economy. While we are campaigning for new industries to strengthen our economy, it is important that we not overlook the many small businesses which daily add to our present economic stability."

"Without them, Newberry could not survive. Neither could South Carolina — or the nation. . . ."

Huntington, N. Y., Times: "One of the best bits of advertising these days is the one dealing with the gasoline tax situation which, briefly stated, is that 10 gallons of this vital commodity yields the state and federal governments $1, or five times as much as the import on diamonds. No wonder diamonds are the girls' best friend, and that mink coats are a close second. Isn't it a queer formula that assesses a necessity so much higher than a luxury?"

Brookville, Pa., Jeffersonian Democrat: "The attitude of all the spenders in Washington is aptly expressed in the following statement by one faction seeking funds for a pet project: 'The relatively small sum required for . . . certainly is within the means of the most wealthy nation on earth. . . .' The 'relatively small sum' involved is probably several millions of dollars, which to the spenders is 'mere peanuts.' They never stop to think in terms of practical economics . . . that their spending has already run the country into debt to the tune of more than half a trillion dollars and cut the purchasing power of the dollar to less than half its former value."

Norwalk, Conn., Hour: "A new law makes it legal for Washington to accept contributions to help pay off the national debt. This gives congressmen who ran it up an opportunity they never expected would come their way."

Coaches At Sands Experience Woes

The starting players on the Sands High School football team this Fall may, by necessity rather than choice become "iron men."

The latter part of the past week, Coach Joe Youngblood had only 13 players suited out. With the opening of the campaign less than two weeks away, Youngblood is wondering whether he'll have enough able-bodied boys to field a team.

He can't risk a scrimmage. At the same time, however, the boys are mixing it up in practice and have shown a fine appetite for the game. Youngblood is expecting several more boys to report when school takes up next week but most of those will be freshmen.

The outlook is better down in junior high, however, where Youngblood expects to book a ten-game schedule for the club, and better still in the fifth and sixth grades, where about 40 boys are due to check out equipment.

Of the 13 boys who were working out the latter part of the week, eight are seniors.

Only juniors on the first 11 right now are Max Harding, Bill Smith and Bobby Gaston. Harding and Smith are linemen while Gaston is a halfback.

Billy Raspberry and Larry Hall are alternating at the quarterback spot of the Mustangs and there's very little to choose between them at the present time. Coach Youngblood feels fairly secure when he thinks about that position.

Right now, if the Ponies were to play a game today, chances are they'd go with a lineup something like this:

At 180 pounds, Coleman is the biggest back. Newson, at 185, is the biggest lineman.

The Sands backfield will probably average around 140 pounds, the line about ten pounds more.

Eddie Herm and Ray Long are two boys coming into high school who could see lots of action for the Mustangs.

Youngblood, a former Abilene High School grid great and later a star at the University of Texas, will be assisted by Vern Law, who comes here from Union High; and Arlen White, former HCJC cage star whose home was in Forsan.

Law will also coach basketball here. White will serve as the junior high coach mentor.

The Coyuses open their 1961 season against Ropes in Ropes.

J. Williamson Participating In Army Maneuver

Army PFC James E. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Williamson, Stanton, is participating with other personnel from the 101st Airborne Division in Exercise Swift Strike, a massive Army-Air Force maneuver being conducted in North and South Carolina. The two-week exercise is scheduled to end August 20.

Swift Strike, one of the largest peacetime military exercises ever conducted in the U. S., involves nearly 40,000 troops in simulated combat in a maneuver area 100 miles long and 50 miles wide in the Carolinas. The major objective of the exercise is to provide realistic peacetime training for troop carrier elements of the U. S. Air Force reserve, tactical fighter and tactical reconnaissance units of the Air National Guard and active Army airborne units of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC).

Regularly assigned to Battery D of the division's 319th Artillery at Fort Campbell, Ky., Williamson entered the Army in March 1960 and was last stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Stanton High School and was employed by the Texas and Pacific Railway in Midland before entering the Army.

His wife, Carolyn, lives in Clarksville, Tenn.

Draft Head Passes Collegians Good Word

Texas' Selective Service director told college students last week to stay with their educational plans and not let increased draft calls interfere.

He predicted no change in the present policy of drafting anyone under age 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Angel and daughters visited Sunday in Tarzan with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce and children.

Wonderful World by WALDMAN

If it hadn't been for a druggist named Charles Hires, and a farmer's wife, we might never have tasted root beer! Idea for the now popular American refresher was born in 1859 when the farmer's wife served Hires a tea brewed of such roots and herbs as sweetfern and teaberries.

Hires, who'd been experimenting with roots, barks and herbs—looking for a new beverage, returned to his laboratory and produced root beer. In 1876, the drink became a nation-wide favorite when it was served at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition.

Today, this favorite drink of Americans has become an international favorite. Derived from healthful, natural ingredients, druggist Hires' root beer now sparkles around the world.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

Rev. J. R. Murdock Officiates At Granddaughter's Wedding

Bobbie Jean Henderson of Rocky Ford, Colorado, and Gary Dean Killinger of Limon, Colorado, were married at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, August 6 in the First Baptist Church, Rocky Ford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Vergil Henderson of Rocky Ford and is the granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Murdock of Stanton. She is a 1961 graduate of Rocky Ford High School.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr.
and Mrs. Aubrey Killinger of Rocky Ford. He was graduated from Rocky Ford High School in 1959.

Rev. Murdock officiated for the single ring ceremony for his granddaughter.

Two large floral arrangements of mums, yellow and white daisies, and gladioli formed a background for the rites.

Mrs. Roland Teubner of Rocky Ford was soloist. Mrs. John Law of Rocky Ford accompanied her at the organ, and also played traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of net and lace over taffeta made by her mother. The bodice was fashioned with long sleeves, which came to points over the wrists, and a scalloped neckline. Seed pearls trimmed the neckline and pointed sleeves.
Her elbow length veil was a complete circle and fell from a tiara of lace, pearls and sequins. A white orchid and forget-me-nots formed the bouquet, which she carried on a white Bible.

The bride also wore a single cultured pearl on a chain around her neck, a gift of the bridegroom. For something old she wore her maternal great-grandmother's wedding ring. Her hoop skirt was something borrowed, and she wore a blue garter and had sixpence in her shoe.

Charlette Henderson of Del Rio, was maid of honor and Melanie Swihart of Rocky Ford, was bridesmaid.
They were identically styled street length dresses of yellow taffeta with white accessories. Yellow carnations and gladioli were used in their bouquets, tied with yellow ribbon streamers.

William Reynolds of Pueblo, Colo., cousin of the bridegroom was best man and John Stienmetz of La Junta, Colorado, was groomsman. Ushers were Don Henderson of Rocky Ford, brother of the bride and Jim Phythian of Rocky Ford.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

A hand embroidered cut work cloth from Japan covered the table.
The three tiered white cake was decorated in yellow and was encircled by white roses blending into yellow and baby breath. The cloth belongs to Mrs. J. R. Murdock of Stanton.

Mrs. Murdock cut the cake. Punch also was served.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a gray dress with white accessories.

The couple will make a home in Limon, Colo., where he is employed as a butcher.

Visitors recently with Mrs. J. D.
McCreeless were Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt
Jones, Roger and Gaily Lynn of Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Clark visited

As far as we know, every item pertaining to Boy Scout work in the area has been printed. It is always a pleasure to work with a group of the BSA calibre.

We had a nice letter from the Joy Morgans, now living in Seattle, Washington. Joy wrote that he hoped your writer and the town were still doing fine. He mailed a clipping from the Seattle newspaper describing the reaction of a man who had his first taste of a yellow-meat watermelon. The melon buyer had never tasted this variety of watermelon and was surprised to find that the interior was yellow instead of red. Joy and his family got a kick out of the man's reaction to a type of melon that has long since become common in Texas. Here's the story from the Seattle paper: "Can you imagine cracking open a ripe watermelon and being faced with a luscious Yellow interior, speckled with black seeds. That's what happened and the resident says that it tasted 'cool and good' like any other, and is just as bright green on the outside."

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

During the months of May and June, Texas farmers submitted 1,149 soil samples to the Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratories, reports William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. The largest number of samples was submitted to the laboratory at College Station, the second highest to the High Plains Laboratory, and the least to the Baylor County lab.

Bennett points out that the Extension Service maintains these laboratories for Texas farmers to use in determining their fertilizer and limestone needs. Even though soil tests have some limitations in determining fertilizer needs, Bennett says the $2.00 spent on a soil test is the most important money spent in a fertilizer program.

The chemist closes by saying that farmers who are planning Fall crops should submit their soil samples now. This will insure receiving the analysis in time to apply the needed fertilizer.

Galvanized roofing on all farm buildings should be checked each year for signs of rust, warns W. S. Allen, Extension Agricultural Engineer.

A delay in painting rusty roofs adds to the cost when the job is finally done. More paint is needed for a given area of rusty roof than on a roof with little or no rust.

Extra labor is also required to brush off loose rust particles prior to repainting. Rusty roofs will probably need repairs also.

Select a primer paint which will adhere to the zinc surface. Paints with 80 percent metallic zinc dust and 20 percent zinc oxide in an oil vehicle, have a long history of good performance both as a prime coat and as a finish coat, says Allen.

Serviceable primers for galvanized steel are also available. Among these are formulas with other pigments in addition to zinc dust and zinc oxide. It is always important to check the paint manufacturer's recommendations to make certain the primer selected is intended for use over galvanized steel, points out Allen.

If a color different from the prime coat is used, be sure the finish coat is compatible with the primer coat, he warns.

To prepare new galvanized roofing, gutters, and downspouts for painting, wash thoroughly with a detergent and then with clear water. Then apply the primer coat. The use of vinegar is no longer recommended for removing the inhibitor usually found on new galvanized roofing.

The use of aluminum, asphalt aluminum, and ordinary red, green, or gray house paint for rusty roofs is not recommended. They will not stop the rust and will peel after several years.

Allen says the use of the proper paint for the particular job is your best assurance of an attractive, economical and long-lasting paint job.

Wheat producers who have planted in at least one of the years 1959, 1960, or 1961 are eligible to vote in the August 24 referendum, except those who have a feed wheat exemption for the 1961 crop. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has called for the widest possible participation in the referendum and has emphasized the importance of the determination growers will make—whether or not marketing quotas will be effective on the 1962 wheat crop.

Farm accidents usually are in proportion to farm and ranch activities. The harvest season is on and the tempo of farm activities is on the increase. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges rural residents to be doubly careful as they work with harvesting machinery and drive on the highways delivering their produce.

The Agricultural Act of 1961 is now on the books and the rush is on to explain its provisions to farmers and others, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

One of its major provisions, reducing the wheat surplus, will be voted on August 24. Wheat producers will vote yes or no on marketing quotas for the 1962 crop. If they vote yes, a new wheat stabilization program will become effective, including higher support price, a mandatory reduction of 10 percent in farm wheat allotments with acreage cuts up to 40 percent possible and a saving of $250 million for the nation's taxpayers.

The legislation extends the feed grain program which is now in effect and for the first time includes barley along with corn and grain sorghums. Current estimates indicate that feed grain production will be about 15 percent less than last year, says Bates.

Marketing order programs—self-help in a true sense—are authorized on more commodities.

The Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act (includes food for peace) has been extended and strengthened; expansion and improvement of supervised credit services for farmers who lack sufficient private credit and an extension of the Wool Act; the Great Plains Conservation Program and School Milk Program should have a strengthening effect on agriculture, says the specialist.

The Act also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to consult with the formulation of legislative proposals.

A compact, long-keeping emergency ration made from whole wheat has been developed and tested by U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists. It was developed for stockpiling in fallout shelters.

The product, in the form of wafers, have an estimated shelf life of five years or longer. They are made from whole grain wheat that has been parboiled, dried, puffed, then crumbled and made into a cookie-sized wafer. Research was done at USDA's Agricultural Research Service laboratory at Albany, California, under contract from the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization.

The wafers pack a lot of food value into a small space; are quick and easy to serve and the plentiful supplies of wheat make it practical for stockpiling. In a series of three tests, each involving 100 volunteers living in the fallout shelter for varying lengths of time, meals based on the wafer brought few complaints and worked best in maintaining volunteer's weights.

The wafers can be eaten plain and with other foods such as milk, peanut butter, bouillon and spaghetti. The last two items and other seasoned toppings can be stored in dried form and mixed with water for heating and serving.

Each wafer furnishes 84 calories. In the shelter test diet, 12 wafers a day supplied a little more than half the day's 2,000 calories and about a third of the protein. Milk and peanut butter supplied the rest of the protein. This fare does not measure up to all recommendations for a balanced diet, but during an estimated shelter stay of two weeks, human survival and health would not be affected.

Scientists said large scale production of the wafers depends on additional research on production and packaging methods. Also needed, they said, are additional ways to add variety to the wheat wafer diet, and more exact knowledge of nutritional needs in fallout shelters.

Game License For New Year Put In Mails

Mail sacks containing approximately one and a half million hunting and fishing licenses reached license dealers of Texas on Monday, August 21. These are the new hunting and fishing licenses for the 1961-62 season, which will become effective September 1.

September 1 is the date also for the opening of the dove season and the rail season in Texas.

The hunting license will sell for $3.15, and the fishing license for $2.15. A non-resident hunting license will cost $25, that entitles a person to hunt any of the wild game animals and wild game birds during open season. A non-resident may hunt migratory birds for five consecutive days with a $5 license. The $2.15 fishing license applies to both resident and non-resident.

A hunting license is not required of anyone under 17 or over 65 years of age outside the county of their residence. A license is required of anyone hunting deer or turkey. An exempt license may be obtained by persons under 17 or over 65, or by a person hunting on property on which he resides. A fishing license is required for all persons 17 years of age to 65 who fish outside their home county or who use a rod and reel.

In addition to the license fee sportsmen, some 30 other licenses are offered to cover trapping, netting, and commercial fishing. Licenses may be purchased at practically all sporting goods stores, from the county clerk, game warden and many other locations where license dealers are available.

Boating

In spite of the efficiency of modern trailers, a boat during a long trip may move fore or aft after it has been securely tied in place. If you will place a small mark on the bottom of the boat at the point where it joins the bunks, you can readily detect when a check stop.

The dime store and hardware store hold a raft of inexpensive items for the small-boat owner. For instance, ordinary wooden clothespins tacked along the inside rail of your boat make first-rate holders for sunglasses, lures, bait cans and a dozen other such items. And if you fasten the type of holder that's used for holding drinking glasses in the bathroom on the inside rail, you'll never be faced with the problem of spilled drinks.

DOGS

An old foam rubber automobile seat, cut down to size, makes perfect bedding for a doghouse. Ticks and other insects that may infest ordinary bedding will find themselves locked out by the foam rubber. Fido never had it so good!

OUTDOOR TIPS

From The Ancient Age Sportsman's Exchange

FISHING

Some fishing days nothing seems to go right. The fish aren't biting, and to make matters worse, your line gets hopelessly twisted when you're trolling. Here's a tip that will straighten things out and put you in shape when the big ones start hitting: Remove the lure from your line, put the line back into the water, and as your boat moves along the twists will disappear like magic. Sounds simple? It is.

A beautiful day's fishing can be just about ruined when it comes time for the fisherman's major headache: cleaning fish. One way to simplify this problem and keep the fish in hand is to attach a brand-new mouse trap to the end of a two-foot board. When the fish's tail is firmly clamped under the spring, sealing the fish becomes a lot easier.

Fishhook, fishhook, where did I put that fishhook? That's many an angler's lament who carefully laid out his hooks on rocks or grass but when he went to hook up discovered that the hooks had "disappeared." A small piece of bright-color yarn tied to the shank of the fishhook will enable an angler to spot his hooks immediately and get down to business.

BOATING

In spite of the efficiency of modern trailers, a boat during a long trip may move fore or aft after it has been securely tied in place. If you will place a small mark on the bottom of the boat at the point where it joins the bunks, you can readily detect when a check stop.

Following the ceremony, a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents; the couple, their parents and the feminine attendants greeted guests. Silk organza over satin covered the bride's table, which held a miniature bridal couple in the midst of the attendants' nosegays, flanked by white tapers in crystal holders. Bells decorated the three-tiered cake topped with three white satin bells and based in a white net ruffle. At the register was Neva Jackson; assisting with the houseparty duties were Mrs. Dub Grigg, Kay Dyer, Mrs. Elmer Dyer, Mrs. Covie Williams, Sondy Nelson of Waco, Mrs. Eugene Clanton, Mrs. Bob Roberts and Jeannine Cauble. For a wedding trip to Red River, N. M., the bride chose a suit of white silk linen with blue accessories. Dallas will be the home of the couple where the new Mrs. Talkington will continue her studies at Southern Methodist University. She is a graduate of Sands High School and has attended Texas Tech, where she was a member of the Freshman council and Phi Beta Phi Sorority. The bridegroom is a Tech graduate and was a member of the Double T Association, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, and Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-med honor fraternity; he will continue his education at Southwestern Medical School. Guests who attended from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stine of Tyler, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Ray Pace of Waco; Betty McFarren of Cleburne; Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Isom, both of Lubbock.

ONLY FREE PEOPLE CAN HOLD THEIR PURPOSE AND THEIR HONOR STEADY TO A COMMON END, AND PREFER THE INTEREST OF MANKIND TO ANY NARROW INTEREST OF THEIR OWN. —Woodrow Wilson

DOUG MEADOR, writing in his MATADOR TRIBUNE had an interesting comment on ostrich hide boots this week. It seems that the newest fad in circles of well-heeled cattlemen is to buy a pair of the big bird hide boots. They cost about as much as a year's pay earned by pioneer riders of the vast ranges. What's more, the problem presently is finding a pair due to the shortage of the rare leather, DOUG says. Seems strange—a cattlemen going for bird hide.

DOUG also wrote these lines in his column: "It is almost impossible to accurately weigh a mistake until you scrape away the tinsel that made it attractive to the impulses of decision."

THE appointment of LT. GOV. BEN RAMSEY to the seat formerly held by the late OLIN CULBERSON on the Texas Railroad Commission has been hailed as a good one in many circles. The term "conservative Democrat" never fitted anybody more closely than BEN RAMSEY, of San Augustine. His conservatism in politics, in legislation and in personal habits is deep-rooted and unwavering. As lieutenant governor, BEN RAMSEY presided over the Texas Senate with a soft voice and a firm hand. RAMSEY'S wit is keen and his mind razorsharp. He is the prototype of the shrewd, perceptive country lawyer. While practicing law in the country East Texas town of San Augustine before he won a state office, RAMSEY gained the experience that has guided his career. We first met BEN RAMSEY in his hometown many years ago and he is first rate all the way.

CLIPPED this information from a Houston paper. Children learn a foreign language best when they are five or six. At that age they learn phonetics and syntax easily. They can learn a new language and remember it longer than children of 11 and 12.

DID you know that steamboats used to go up and down the RIO GRANDE river? Yep, and an old advertisement reads: "Steamboat Bessie is now making round trips to Rio Grande City from Brownsville every ten days." The ad appeared in 1893. When the railroads came, the steamboats went out of business. If any of our readers ever happen to visit Starr County be sure and drop in at the Ringgold Hotel and see a fine picture of the BESSIE pulling into Rio Grande City hanging in the lobby.

WRITING in the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM recently, ED JOHNSON penned this lead sentence about the fall of TV comedians: "Certain pagan tribes put a bone through the nose of a man idolized him as a hero, then put him on the chopping block at the end of a year." Hum, we know people about the same thing has happened to.

SCHOOL starts Monday, August 28. Let's be careful while driving through the zones around both school plants. Remember, the responsibility for the lives of our children rest in the hands of the adults. Please hold your speed down low while driving anywhere near intersections where children might be coming or going from school.

THE nights have been pleasantly cool lately. There seems to be a touch of autumn in the air and now might be a good time to start bringing the light blankets and spreads out of the storage places. The temperature has not reached 100-degrees yet this Summer and we are betting that the needle won't break the century mark—but in years past, some of our hottest weather developed in mid-Septembers.

LEATHER is popping on the football practice field as the coaches put their charges through the paces. The first game will be played on September 1 and the opponent will be MERKEL. We have been advised that the BISONS have a prospect for a good club. Training sessions are filled with the proper pigskin spirit and when the season play starts the fans will be on hand to back the boys up all the way.

EVANGELIST BILLY GRAHAM has suggested to PRESIDENT KENNEDY a three-point program for Berlin which he says would wake up the American people, frighten their enemies and encourage those living under communism. GRAHAM said the President should: "First, call for a United Nations General Assembly meeting to find out why the refugees are fleeing East Germany. Secondly, the President should spell out in a speech in no uncertain terms that we will not retreat, compromise or appease anywhere in the world—that from now on we are starting a peaceful counter-offensive to roll communism back in Eastern Europe. Third, the President should call a day of prayer as a time of petition to God to intervene in the world situation, that we might have courage to do his will for a just peace."
