December 4 Dollar Day In Stanton

Martin County's annual Christmas shopping season will get underway Monday with Dollar Day values in evidence all over town.

Several of Stanton's progressive merchants are using the columns of the newspaper as a show window for some of their better bargains.

The management of the local newspaper requests that the many readers carefully scan the listed values, and the wonderful pre-holiday prices appearing in the ads in this issue.

These progressive merchants deserve the patronage of every citizen in this area.

Please spend your money in a town, with merchants, who care for you.

Westbrook Pegler, noted newspaper columnist and a resident of Tucson, Arizona and Miss Maud Tower of Cannes, France, were married last week in a simple ceremony in Midland. The wedding was at St. Ann's Catholic Church with the Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy officiating. One of Pegler's long-time friends in West Texas is Robert Stripling, Midland. Stripling was the principal speaker at one of the recent C. C. banquets in Stanton. He is a former chief investigator for the Dies Un-American Activities Committee. Robert Stripling is engaged in the oil business. He is the son of a former San Augustine, Texas druggist.

More than 61,000 newspaper readers from coast to coast have picked an old favorite as the nation's favorite hymn. Bill McVey, noted gospel singer, conducted an extensive survey which determined that "The Old Rugged Cross," is still atop the list after many, many decades of choral renditions in almost every church across the nation. "How Great Thou Art," was second and "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," was in third place.

Jerry Henson and Herb Armstrong turned big snake hunters Saturday. The boys bagged or brought in, three of the largest rattlers we have seen this year. Two of the diamond-backs had ten buttons and one eleven. The snakes were killed on property belonging to Glen Petree.

One of Texas' finest, and most popular press rooms is in itself new worthy and a sight well worth seeing. This press room accommodates 142 reporters and 20 photographers. As if that weren't enough, there are also facilities for six broadcast teams and 40 Morse and teletype operators. This is all in the press box that hovers 130 feet above the playing field of the Cotton Bowl in the State Fair Grounds at Dallas. On January 1, the Texas Longhorns will meet Mississippi in the well known Dallas game.

Flower Grove Dragons Take Second Regional Championship

The Flower Grove Dragons kept their second regional victory. Pyote was unable to stop the pair of touchdowns.

Lemon personally carried the ball over for two touchdowns and passed for two others. Ramsey crossed the pay dirt marker three times for Flower Grove.

In the running barrage of the Thanksgiving game Lemon garnered 203 yards rushing in 23 attempts. In all, the Dragons registered 255 yards rushing and another 150 through the zone.

Standout stars for Pyote were Bill Know, a halfback and David Frazier.

The Dragons proved their superiority in the second half after leading 21-20 at the intermission.

The Dragons fans really got their money's worth when with just a few seconds remaining in the second quarter, a pass from Lemon to Glynn Caughman netted the Flower Grove counter that helped the Dragons go ahead at half-time and stay ahead on the road to the championship.

Santa is an old friend of The Ole Reliable. We have been mailing the jolly fellow holiday copies of the paper for years and that way he reads all the letters mailed to the newspaper by the little people in the area and knows exactly what they want him to bring them for Christmas.

This year, Santa wants to meet his friends in downtown Stanton. He will not visit the courthouse lawn as in years passed.

Rhodes advised the press that more room would be available in downtown Stanton.

Plenty of candy and goodies for the children will be given away free by Santa.

Every boy and girl in Martin County and their parents are invited to be in Stanton on the afternoon of Friday, December 8, to welcome the grand man from the North Pole.

Schools will turn out for the occasion and merchants are planning a rousing session for Santa Claus when he mingles with the people on December 8.

attraction will be as good or better than those prepared in the past.

The lights will be up in plenty of time to give the area a pre-Santa Claus tint. The jolly man in the red suit with the little round belly that "shakes when he laughs like a bowl full of jelly," is really anticipating a Martin County visit. And with warm, glowing holiday lights swinging from the streets and other appropriate decorations in evidence his visit here should be highly successful. Although the lights will not be burning when Santa comes to town he will be very proud to know that this community will be well lighted on Christmas Eve when he starts sliding down Stanton chimneys and walking softly through unlocked doors to leave presents for the children.

In Our Time

Philosopher Ponders Another Side-Splitting Problem The Russians Are Now Faced With

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discovers an amusing problem for the Russians, in his letter this week. It is something to think about.

Dear editor: Ever since Russia started the world by being the first to put a satellite into orbit, not to mention a man into orbit, the rest of the world has sort of lost its sense of humor about that country.

For example, too many people get the notion that every test the Russians make comes off successfully the first time, that it just never does make a mistake, that it has no problems to speak of, etc.

Well, I've been thinking about one of Russia's problems, and I'm surprised nobody else has mentioned it. You know, the late Stalin, who was a hero in Russia for a long time, has now been re-classified as a bum by Khrushchev, and the Russians are busy trying to eliminate all reference to him. History books are being re-written, Stalin's body has been removed from Lenin Square, his statues are being torn down, his pictures are coming off of walls, etc.

Now I can see how they can change the name of Stalingrad to Leninville, and Stalin Avenue to Lenin Alley, and things like that, but have you ever stopped to think that during the long dictatorship of Stalin, when he was the Russians' substitute for God, there must have been thousands of babies named after him? What are they going to do about that?

There must be hundreds of grown men in Russia, born when Stalin was a hero, named Stalin Jonesky, Stalin Smithsky, Stalin Brownsky, etc. After all, it'd be the natural thing to do. In our country, we've got hundreds of George Washington Smiths, Roosevelt Browns, and such like.

Thanksgiving visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Vance Stephens and family were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McDonald, Gloria and Dean of Eastland, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Chenault and Tommy of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Douglas spent Thanksgiving in Midland with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Douglas and children.

Thanksgiving dinner guests with Mrs. U. H. Butler were Luke Cathey, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Williams and family, Mrs. Bess Herring, Mrs. Dewey Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Clements, and Weems Williams, who is a student at Texas Tech.

Thanksgiving guests with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Robinson and children of Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindsey of Odessa, Mrs. Cobb of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doggett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Huffman and family of Fort Stockton, visited during the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mott and Ben. Also visiting in the Mott home was Jean Mott, who is a student at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Bible Comment—

Have Faith As A Grain Of Mustard Seed And 'Nothing Shall Be Impossible Unto You'

Perhaps the most distinctive, and at the same time the most puzzling, thing that Jesus said about faith is in the words recorded in Matthew: "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say to the mountain, remove hence to yonder place; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

These words offer no puzzlement for us today, when we see such things actually being accomplished. Hills that have stood for centuries are daily leveled by high power equipment of puny man's devising. This is an interpretation of the words of Jesus that we could easily make today of the greater works that were yet to be accomplished. Perhaps it is the interpretation that Jesus intended.

What did the words mean to these disciples to whom they were spoken, and what did Jesus intend them to mean?

Jesus was about to give to these disciples a seemingly impossible task. He was sending them out to preach the Gospel to every creature, to make disciples of all nations. What a vast mountainous task that must have seemed to those few unknown men as they faced the world with its materialism, its power and its paganism.

Perhaps it was those very words of Jesus that they must have recalled as they faced that mountain-moving task.

And with what amazing results the power of faith was vindicated, both in the Roman Empire and the whole world have known.

It is that sort of faith that we need today.

Deer Hides Requested For State Hospitals, Schools

Now that the deer season is in progress in Texas, hunters are asked to remember there is a need for the hides to provide buckskin for use in occupational therapy in arts and crafts work of patients and students in Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Transportation of the raw hides is provided without charge by most of the motor freight lines.

Patients and students derive both pleasure and actual benefit from working with the leather. More than 2,500 hides were donated last year by Texas hunters according to T. D. Weaver, chairman of the Volunteer Services Council.

Hunters sending hides to Austin are requested to salt the hide and mark it "charity," and the address is: Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 South Lamar, Austin, Texas.

Most Texas freight lines will haul hides without charge. The hides are tanned and the leather is distributed to the Texas State Mental and tuberculosis hospitals and schools for the retarded where it becomes a part of the recovery program. Residents learn to make useful products from which they earn, in money and self-esteem.

HERE'S WHERE YOU GET THE GOOD WORD ABOUT THE '62 JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET

Jet-smooth ride 542 front fender underskirts rich new interiors 543

Jet-smooth ride, n. 1. The cloud-9 feeling of comfort that people in Chevrolets enjoy wherever they go. 2. A supple Full Coil spring flexing at each wheel of a Chevrolet to absorb road shock. These are teamed with over 700 noise and vibration filters throughout the automobile to help eliminate the noise and vibration ordinarily transmitted by metal-to-metal contact. The total effect is a ride of supreme quiet and smoothness. 3. The reason why so many Chevrolet-owning families leave home ever so happily. 4. A habit-forming pleasure for which no cure is known, wanted or sought.

new V8-skedaddle, n. 1. The result of touching an accelerator that's linked to one of Chevrolet's new V8 engines (also known as "six-skedaddle" when engine is Chevrolet's trusty 135-hp. Six). 2. The moving power of Chevrolet's 1962 V8 engines. There are five of them, ranging from a standard 170-hp. version up to an optional-at-extra-cost 409-hp. powerhouse.

Body by Fisher craftsmanship, n. 1. The closest that a body manufacturer has come to the care and skill of the jewelry maker. 2. The art and science of forming metal into the strong, solid body structure of the 1962 Chevrolet. 3. Something you won't find in any other car in Chevrolet's field.

deep-well trunk, n. 1. The giant warehouse built into the rear of a 1962 Chevrolet. 2. A trunk that loads at the bumper level and has a capacity of 29.7 cubic feet. It is built with an extra-deep recession in its floor so that it can easily accept odd-shaped outside objects.

comfort-high seats, n. Thought by many to be the most comfortable things to happen to the bottom side of the human lap since dad's overstuffed armchair.

rich new interiors, n. One of the principal reasons why people step into the 1962 Chevrolets and promptly feel luxurious all over.

One-Stop Shopping Center, n. 1. Where people go to get the most car for their money and get exactly the kind of car they want. 2. A concentration point for the 33 cars Chevrolet offers for 1962. These come in three lines: The elegant new Jet-smooth Chevrolet, the new-size Chevy II, the sporty new Corvair, and the new Corvette, with new refinements, new V8 power.

3. Where '62 values are way up but prices are the same—or less—on comparably equipped models.

4. The place where you enter a new world of worth in automobiles. 5. Where most Americans go for a pleasant, instant cure the moment the new-car bug bites them.

Public Education Needed To Control Viral Hepatitis

Each year, the number of cases of viral hepatitis, a contagious disease of the liver, increases. Cases reported to the Texas State Department of Health during the first eight months of this year were averaging 97 cases more per month than during the same period last year.

Symptoms of hepatitis are, in general, an extreme tiredness or weakness, loss of appetite, abdominal pains, nausea, diarrhea, fever ranging from 101 to 104 degrees, and weight loss of 10 to 20 pounds.

Writing for her fellow Texas physicians in an article in the November issue of Texas State Journal of Medicine, Dr. Francine Jensen, assistant director of the Harris County Health Unit, reports evidence that the disease is spread through person-to-person contact and transmission via the fecal-oral route.

With no known vaccine for viral hepatitis, the control of the disease centers primarily around intensive educational efforts to improve personal and community hygiene. Epidemics have been related to contaminated food and water, Dr. Jensen states. Recently an outbreak of 77 cases was reported, and the source of infection was found to be raw oysters which had been obtained from the mouth of a contaminated river.

It is important that infectious hepatitis be detected not only to allow prompt treatment, but also to prevent further spread of the disease. Evidence exists to prove that "carriers, both sick and healthy, are important in the maintenance of virus in nature and the spread of disease."

An educational program has been offered recently for public health workers. Health department personnel can identify the source of infection (usually a school age child), can detect other possible cases of the disease within the family, and can emphasize measures, the family needs to take to prevent spread of the disease within the household or community. Health departments also distribute gamma globulin to physicians who request it for contacts of patients with viral hepatitis. This treatment effectively controls the disease and prevents its occurrence in other members of the patient's household.

Private physicians have been encouraged to report cases of viral hepatitis promptly and to use the health department's resources to aid in controlling the disease.

Hunters Are Urged To Practice Safety

Deer are plentiful this year and there is also an abundant supply of hunters. Which will you kill? Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, warns that a lot of hunters will be shot unless common sense safety rules are followed by everyone in the field.

Can you imagine how it would feel to be hit by the slug from a deer rifle? Or perhaps even worse, how it would feel to be responsible for shooting one of your hunting companions? In either case, the prevention is much easier than the cure, advises Cooper.

Hunting safety rules are so simple that many hunters don't bother to practice them. Every year scores of hunters fall victim to gunshot wounds, and the excuses follow the same old pattern. "I didn't know the gun was loaded." "Well, he looked just like a deer in that thick brush." And so it goes, every year.

Many hunting accidents could be prevented if hunters would follow the simple rule of "Don't shoot unless you would bet your life that you know what you're shooting at." Another cardinal rule of hunting is, "Don't leave your stand until everyone quits hunting." Every step taken through the brush raises your chances of being mistaken for a deer, and this could prove fatal.

Always assume every gun is loaded until you have opened the action and looked for yourself. Before you fire a gun, make sure it is in good working order and the barrel is clear, warns Cooper.

Then there are the people who manage to shoot themselves. Climbing fences with a loaded gun, leaning one against a tree or car, or throwing a loaded gun into the car are ways to add your name to this list. The remedy for these potential accidents is simple: don't do these things and don't hunt with people who do.

There is no open season on people. Use your head and don't violate that rule, and don't let one of your friends "poach" on you, Cooper concludes.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

There's a good chance that you haven't learned to speak.

That is, you haven't learned to speak out clearly, so that those around you can hear and understand what you say. Millions of people are more or less handicapped in their everyday affairs because of slurred speech, mumbling, swallowing word endings and other violations of vocal expression that leave an impression of carelessness and lack of self-confidence.

Speech is our direct means of communication. Clear enunciation and a pleasant voice are among the greatest assets in modern society. This doesn't mean that everyone needs to be an orator, or even a public speaker. It does mean that we must make ourselves understood in our everyday dealings with the people around us.

Some people are fortunate enough to be born with voices that yield true, pure tones. From this group we obtain most of our vocal talents—singers, orators and radio and television announcers. Most of us have to be content with everyday quality of voice, but we at least can use it to the best advantage.

Some can gain from voice lessons. Not to become a singer, but just to develop a better voice quality. Almost everyone can gain from coaching in public speaking and dramatics.

Most important of all is the effort to express ourselves as clearly and as pleasantly as possible. It doesn't require a teacher to tell us that we must speak loud enough and distinctly enough to be understood.

The American Medical Association suggests that you try a simple experiment. Ask two or three close friends or relatives—those who will give you an honest answer—whether they can understand your speech all of the time. The answers may surprise you. Or, you, can ask yourself the question: How often does someone ask me to repeat a word, phrase or sentence?

A few minutes a day for a week or two of concentrating on speaking distinctly will help to develop clear speech habits that will be invaluable in human relationships.

is hoped that the necessary balance needed to start the building immediately will be raised this week by Saturday. If not, the campaign will continue until the essential money is made available.

The City of Stanton recently deeded the Build-A-Library group an attractive site adjacent to city hall in downtown Stanton. Some money has also been raised for the building.

At the Thursday morning breakfast workers will receive cash and pledge cards printed by and donated to the Build-A-Library effort by The Stanton Reporter.

A spokesman said Wednesday: "Plan now to give something to the drive because every cent of the money raised will become part of a total that will remain here in the county."

Let's get in step and donate something to the fund when contacted Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

On page one of this issue of the paper as a public service we are running a contribution or pledge form so any person wanting to make a donation to the Build-A-Library fund can fill one out and mail to Mrs. Glenn Brown or to Cecil Bridges.

"Most Christmas cards cost from 15 to as much as 50 cents," she said. "It is false economy to send so valuable a card with a three-cent stamp. One more penny (which means using a four-cent stamp on your Christmas mail) can spell the difference between your card reaching the person to whom it is sent and not reaching its destination."

She also pointed out that when a four-cent stamp is used on a Christmas card, the card can also include a personal handwritten message. Further, the card will be forwarded to the new address of the person to whom it was sent in the event that he is no longer at the address used. Those not delivered will be returned to the sender.

Postal patrons were urged to always place their return addresses on the Christmas card envelopes.

It is socially correct to do this, she said, and it enables both you and your friends to keep mailing lists up to date.

All our boys are urged to save their money and practically every one who has lived at the Ranch for as much as two years has a saving of $50 or more when he leaves. Right now the Ranch is holding for safe keeping, nearly $2,000 worth of U. S. Bonds belonging to the boys.

We're trying our level best to prepare a boy to be a productive member of society and business. Our goal is to give as much education as possible, teach him "how to work," to save as much as he can, to accept trust and responsibility and how to live and conduct himself with people.

The best way to see what can be done with this kind of boy is to visit the Ranch any time you're passing by. In the meantime, if you'd like to have a part in helping a mixed-up youngster become a worthwhile man who can stand on his own feet, won't you send what you can in the enclosed envelope. You may be helping a boy who will someday work for you.

The lot was located in New Mexico and considering something over a million persons registered in the contest, winning one, was real good luck.

take the pay is sometimes too small. We frequently read where brave men die in the line of duty but such reports always seem to come from far, far away. Tuesday the picture was made plain to residents of the Basin Area. A fine, clean, dedicated police lieutenant, GORDON SMITH, died when he was attempting to arrest a man wanted for murder—the murder of a woman of his own race. The colored strangler-murderer refused to surrender on command of LT. SMITH and fired two shots back mortally wounding the Midland officer before he was felled in a blaze of gunfire. In our estimation a brave man surrendered his life for a worthless bum, ex-convict, trouble maker, and his death naturally creates a void in the life of his loved ones. Was it worth it? LT. SMITH thought so. That's why he signed for duty with the police department in Midland. It is time for administrative, budget-making, city and county officials to start thinking about making provisions through adequate annual pay or good security plans for men in uniform. So much money is spent for silly subsidies that do not make sense—that it is ridiculous not to provide better for our peace officers at every level.
