Two real, wide-awake, alert young Americans visited the newspaper office Friday afternoon. Reggie and Rance House, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dee House, visited with us and the boys apparently liked what they found here in our printing plant. Their mother, the former Virginia Bryant is to be our new society editor. Mrs. House has been with us for the past two weeks and Jeanene Wheeler has been showing her the ropes of the newspaper game. Jeanene is leaving us on February 1 and we will all miss her. We looked over at McKay once and in was holding Little Rance like a bear would hold a hot roasting ear—but Rance was so intrigued with the operation of the linotype machine that he didn't pay much attention. His eyes were big and wide and he liked the sound the machine made. Reggie appeared to take a sound and solid view as to the operations in the back shop. The boys left the office with souvenir metal type slugs bearing their names and in the years to come they can truthfully say: "We started in this printing trade early in life."

A wire service reported Monday that samplings at the polls in Tehran, Iran, indicated millions of Iranian voters backed the Shah's basic reform program Saturday by a ratio as high as 1,000 to 1. That sounds like Duval County to us.

A bill is slated to be introduced in the Legislature aimed at halting remarriage by either party for at least six months after a divorce is granted. That ought to make a lot of people think about the old adage "a bird in hand is worth two in a bush." That is—unless the hunting season is still open.

A rumor voiced through the land this week was to the effect that Adlai Stevenson was resigning from the United Nations. He is our delegate there you know and since the United Nations seems to have assumed extended power in the field of foreign relations, it's important that we "keep an eye on Adlai." At press time this week the resignation story could not be confirmed. Personally, we hope that the President has seen fit to seek his resignation. Hiring Stevenson to represent me, your writer, anywhere, would be just like getting a black crow to watch a cornfield.

Many of our friends in Howard County are concerned about the increased crime tempo over there. It is enough to scare off industry. In Texarkana a few years ago, four or five industrial operations elected to locate in Longview, after the crime rate in Bowie County continued to climb. One major industry had virtually selected Texarkana as a site for their new southern plant when the "Phantom Killer Case" broke wide open. The operation was located in Longview—a city of one of the lowest crime rates in Texas. It pays to keep crime down if you expect top executives to locate their southern branches in Texas. Right now—this week—the Howard County grand jury is considering two charges of murder with malice—four complaints alleging assault with intent to commit murder and one case alleging statutory rape. In addition to these more serious offenses, the grand jury will consider 22 lesser complaints running the gamut from DWI to possession of narcotics. Boy, oh boy, it's good to live in Stanton. Here a man can still go to town after nine o'clock at night and know he stands a good chance of not having a knife pressed between his ribs.

Let's don't let it go unheeded! With this miracle administration in Washington running things the box score on the longshoremen's strike adds up: 700 ships immobilized for 24 days; an estimated $800 million cost; the Atlantic's longest and costliest. How can you get "the country moving" when the presses in big city newspapers have been stilled by strike and American shipping has been shut down for one-twelfth of a year? Holy mackerel. Eisenhower, golf bags, balls, gear and all, could collect the tax. The collections are not enforced as the matter stands now. So this collector's item appears (Continued on page 5)

In the spring of 1959, S. P. Reed seeded 53 acres of cropland to a mixture of sideoats grama, sand and weeping lovegrass, and Blackwell switchgrass. The grasses were seeded into a dead litter cover of sudangrass which was established in 1958. The seeding was done on Class III and IV land with the major portion being Class IV.

The cost sharing for seeding was obtained through the Conservation Reserve Program. The Conservation Reserve Program is retiring on the land this year. A good stand of the seeded grasses were obtained the first year and have since made an excellent stand. The grasses are not being used for grazing, but have done an excellent job of recovering sub-marginal land.

Home Safety Workshop Scheduled February 7

The Texas Safety Association — in conjunction with Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Texas Electric Service Company and Key, Rhoades and Jenkins Insurance Agency of Odessa — will sponsor a home safety workshop February 7.

The daylong workshop will be held at the Holiday Inn on U. S. Highway 80 between Midland and Odessa. Arrangements are being handled by Mrs. W. F. Miether of Odessa, TSA regional director for home safety.

She stressed the importance of a baby sitter session which is scheduled. Mrs. Miether termed it "something completely new in this area." It will be directed specifically to baby sitters and to persons who use their services.

"We cannot put enough emphasis on the need of safety for children," she said, "and this session will be of great help to parents, as well as to those who temporarily have the care of children."

The workshop will be the first of its kind sponsored by TSA in the Permian Basin Empire.

New Arrivals

Mrs. Miether said the public is invited and invitations have been mailed to civic and service clubs, Parent-Teacher Association units and Chambers of Commerce in Midland and Odessa, as well as several other Permian Basin Empire cities.

The workshop is designed to help individuals "learn something of the importance of safety in the home and also learn the application of sensible, workable, everyday safety measures that will decrease the danger of accidents and death in your home and for your family," Mrs. Miether said.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Douglas are the parents of a daughter born January 26, in the Howard County Hospital. She has been named Carrie Drew. Miss Douglas weighed five pounds, eight and one-half ounces and measured 17 inches long.

The Douglas' have two boys, Michael and Morty.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Douglas of Midland, and Mr. Clyde Robertson of Big Spring.

Cities Service Oil Company Stakes Wildcat

By JAMES C. WATSON

In South Martin County, seven miles northeast of Midland, Cities Service Oil Company staked location for a 10,700-foot wildcat.

The Pennsylvania test is No. 1-B Nail, 1,900 feet from west lines of section 3, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey and 2 1/2 miles south of the Frang-Glas (Pennsylvanian) pool.

The Martin County portion of the Spraberry Trend area gained a 1/2-mile north extension with completion of Grass, and others, Midland, No. 1 Puckett Myrick, five miles northwest of Stanton.

Completion was for a daily pumping potential of 217 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil, plus 2 per cent water, and with gas-oil ratio of 2,189-1, through perforations between 7,116-86 and 9,052-72 feet, which had been fractured with 60,000 gallons.

Kent County Land Company No. 1 Kingsfield, Martin County wildcat, eight miles south of Patricia, was plugged and abandoned at a depth of 12,082 feet.

The duster is located 1,900 feet from south and east lines of league 253, Ward County School Land survey.

Husky Oil Company No. 1 Lester, scheduled 12,000-foot Fusselman wildcat in Northeast Martin County, 19 miles north of Stanton, has set 8 1/2-inch casing at 3,763 feet.

The well is now drilling on bottom at 5,000 feet in limestone.

Site is 1,900 feet from north and 690 feet from east lines of section 29, block 36, T-3-N, T&P survey.

C. W. Guthrie of Big Spring has completed No. 1 Jack Berry as the second producer in the Zant (San Andres) pool in Northwest Glasscock County.

On the potential test it pumped 32 barrels of 29-gravity oil, plus two per cent water, in 24 hours from open hole at 3,671-3,803 feet after being shot with 300 quarts of nitrocrawl faster than the pace we are experiencing under President Jack. It's time to stop mourning Meredith and Mississippi and start lining up honest men to count the national election returns in 1964.

Nothing is so flattering to a person as to be called by name by someone he has just met or has met only casually or sometime before. The remembering of names is truly an asset. Too many of us just don't remember and there is a reason for it. We don't learn to associate a face with the name. Try it the next time you are introduced to a stranger and you will find that the comparison helps. Yes, it will help you to remember — even if you have to turn your head and chuckle when you associate the name with the face and call it correctly on the second, third, or fourth meeting. To illustrate our point, we will tell you a true story. A lad of three, very quick, bright, and a real all-American, learned from his grandparents the name of a certain citizen in a town where his grandparents lived. A few days after he returned to his hometown, his mother was reading to him from an animal book. On page 12 the photo of a 'possum appeared. The lad of three years broke into a ceaseless laugh when he spied the 'possum's picture. His mother wanted to know about the laughing. The three-year-old replied, "That's Mr. 'Possum." The mother was completely bewildered until the grandson returned for a visit with the grandparents the next summer. Down on the street one day, the lad, then turned four years of age, saw the native he had been introduced to the year before, and very seriously he said: "Mama, there goes Mr. 'Possum." Get the idea.

Rep. John Allen of Longview has introduced a proposed constitutional to be on the way out. amendment which would let Texas voters decide if they want the sales tax to be held the present 2 per cent. Allen said that by freezing the sales tax "future legislators will have to live within their means."

Rep. Chet Brooks, Houston, has introduced a constitutional amendment to exempt motor vehicles in private use from ad valorem taxes. The amendment would prevent any governmental body from levying a tax on vehicles not used for commercial purposes. Only three cities, Austin, Dallas and Lubbock, and only one county, McClellan, make any effort to collect the taxes now. A very few

Senator Cole To Introduce Charity Bill

State Senator Criss Cole of Houston, believes the state should keep tabs on all people who raise money for charity.

Cole has stated that he will introduce a bill requiring people who head charity drives file a report with Secretary of State Crawford Martin giving him information on the following:

- (1) Report what sort of deals made with any professional money raisers.
- (2) What disposition of money raised for charity is made.
- (3) When solicitations were held and what was done with the money solicited.
- (4) Annual reports of licensed and recognized organizations would be checked by a certified public accountant. Organizations raising money would also register with the attorney general.

So that our citizens will not be preyed upon by a few unscrupulous operators, it is necessary from time to time to upgrade and improve our procedure for the licensing of those who sell real estate."

Senator Don Kennard of Fort Worth joined Blanchard as a co-sponsor of the legislation.

Mr. Editor:

We of the eighth grade class of Grady were asked to find out what the striped poles in front of a barber shop stood for.

We found out the pole dates back to the barber-surgeons. Poles or rods have been used as symbols of healing and medicine for thousands of years. During some kinds of operations the sick person was given a pole to hold. The red of the modern pole is supposed to mean or represent blood; the white, white bandages. Some people say that a blue stripe was added by an American barber to include the same colors that are in our flag.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. Howler's Eighth Grade Class.

Announcement

Our usual New Year's Greeting has been delayed because we had some transactions pending that rendered it hard for us to decide just what to say.

We have been in the insurance business longer than any other insurance agent in town. It has been a pleasure to serve in that capacity for so long and we appreciate the splendid loyalty that has been ours. But because the load was becoming too heavy for us to carry we have dispensed with our insurance department.

In wishing you a happy and prosperous new year, we want you to remember that we shall continue at the same location in the abstract business and our slogan shall continue: There is not a better place than ours for abstract and notary services.

THE LAND OF SNIPPED-OFF TROUSERS: Not only do the tourists wear Bermuda shorts in Bermuda, but even the English-style policeman who directs traffic in the middle of the island's capital city of Hamilton. Others who wear Bermuda shorts in the Atlantic Ocean island which made the snapped-off trousers popular include teachers, businessmen, clergymen, attorneys and office workers. They are extremely popular with the tourists who reason, and quite correctly, that if you can't wear Bermuda shorts in Bermuda, where in the world can you wear them?

Fellowships For Teachers

Ahliene Christian College will offer fellowships to 100 public school teachers during the 1963 summer session as a part of its seventh annual American Studies Program.

Fifty fellowships will be given for each six-weeks session, June 4-July 12 and July 16-August 23. The fellowships will provide board, room and tuition for the six weeks of study.

In addition, for the second year the college will offer fellowships to 25 teachers from Latin American nations. Last year, 21 teachers took courses in American constitutional history, and American economic history. These courses were taught in Spanish. A course in conversational English also was given to the teachers who last year came from Mexico, Guatemala and Argentina.

The larger part of the program will permit public school teachers to take two of the following courses: Bible 399, Christianity and Communism; B. A. 399, The American Economic System; Education 399, History of American Education; English 399, Masters of American Literature; History 399, American Political Biography, 1507-1865; and Speech 399, The American Forum.

These graduate courses are intensive refresher courses designed to provide positive and factual answers to socialism, communism, and other ideologies which threaten American freedoms.

Teachers interested in applying may write Edward L. Kirk, Coordinator of American Studies Program, Ahliene Christian College, Ahliene, Texas. Completed applications should be returned not later than April 1, 1963.

Reports Show Public Hunts Harvest Good

Hunters on the various wildlife management areas across the state had some exciting times and success stories to talk about when it was all over this year. A quick glance at the reports coming into Game and Fish Commission offices in Austin indicates that once again the harvest was good.

On the Kerr Area in Kerr County, 316 hunters showed up for the hunt and killed 106 deer for an average 62 per cent hunter success. Of this total, 90 were antlered bucks and 106 were antlerless deer. This was one per cent better than last year's success. Generally, the deer were in better than average condition.

Hunting on the Angeline Wildlife Management Area was hampered off and on during the season. Nevertheless, 554 hunters braved the elements and killed 101 deer. Of these, 46 were antlered and 55 were antlerless. This area was open to one-day hunt only, whereas the other areas had two-day hunts, and hunters had to get their deer the first day or not at all.

The Angeline Area is divided into three sections, the Moore Area in Sabine County, the Cherokee Area in Cherokee County, and the Devil's Pocket Area in Angelina County. Squirrel hunts were held on each of these areas. A total of 639 hunters reported for the hunts and killed 1,229 squirrels, for a 1.92 per cent kill per hunter. The Devil's Pocket Area had a high success with 333 hunters bagging 929 squirrels.

The Engeling Area public hunt in Anderson County had a good success with 267 hunters participating in the hunt and harvesting 143 deer. Of these 42 were antlered males and 101 were antlerless. A squirrel hunt also was held on the area, with 43 hunters taking part. They killed 278 squirrels, for a 6.47 per cent kill per hunter.

For the mule deer hunt on the Black Grap Area in Brewster County, 384 hunters reported for the hunt and killed 189 deer for a 49.2 per cent hunter success. Of this number, 95 were antlered and 103 were antlerless, plus 44 javelina.

The Seirra Diabo Area in Culberson and Hudspeth counties had a good hunt with 77 hunters participating. They killed 55 deer, of which 23 were antlered and 27 were antlerless.

Texas' wildlife management areas were purchased primarily for research. Each area represents typical habitat for the particular region in which it is located. By studying the habits of the different game species on these areas, biologists are able to recommend successful wildlife management practices for landowners in similar areas.

The harvest of the surplus game on the areas by hunters is an important part of the total management program, based on a proven theory that game cannot be stockpiled on a given area. The number of deer, for instance, which can survive in a healthy condition on a given area depends on the available food and cover. To estimate the populations of the various game species on each area, biologists take a census just before the season opens. If there is a surplus, the amount of surplus is determined and hunters are invited to come in and harvest this surplus. A public drawing determines who will hunt.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

EITHER LEAD, FOLLOW, OR GET OUT OF THE WAY.

WE enjoyed the annual CHAMBER OF COMMERCE membership banquet Monday evening. The affair was well attended and many of our friends from Big Spring and Midland were present. JAMES N. ALLISON, JR., president of the MIDLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, headed a 26-persons delegation to the Martin County banquet. A delegation of 14 persons attended from Big Spring. Some of the red-coated members of the Ambassador Club from Big Spring appeared but nothing like the number BYRON ALEXANDER led over here last year. BYRON, former manager of the telephone company, is living in Dallas these days. We were very proud of the talk of ROY PICKETT, who will head the chamber this year. We also liked the remarks of the others who appeared on the program before the chief speaker was introduced. After the banquet we found MR. BREMER, the principal speaker and extended to him the hand of welcome and fellowship. He arose Monday morning, caught a plane at five a.m., and made other efforts to be with us Monday evening. It was good to meet JIM OXFORD, now manager of the Midland Chamber. OXFORD is formerly of Paris, Texas and his record as one of the state's better known managers is well known. While he served in Paris, if memory serves me correctly, JIM OXFORD was responsible for bringing nine or ten major industries to Lamar County. On top of his achievements as a chamber manager, he also knows where Bois 'd Arc Bottom is located near Paris. The best barb-wire fence posts in north Texas are taken from the bottom. We have several hundred 7-footers around a farm in Hunt County between Greenville and Commerce. And now is just as good a time as any to tell our readers that we helped dig the holes and place those posts in the ground on our livestock farm. We had eleven months experience in the cattle business—knew nothing about such an operation when we started and less when we finished our 11-month course. We lost so much money and had so much hard luck we couldn't look at a steak for a year. But those fence posts from Bois 'd Arc bottom are still standing up just as straight as military sentinels.

SATURDAY, February 2, is Ground Hog Day. Perhaps all of our readers know the legend. If he—the hog—climbs out of his hole and glimpses his shadow, he dashes back in because it frightens him—and six weeks of bad weather is supposed to ensue. If the hog comes out and fails to see his shadow we are due for plenty of fair weather ahead. We looked up the forecast on our CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE COMPANY calendar and—yep—you guessed it—fair weather is forecast for Saturday. Sunday, February 3, is going to be warm—then it ought to be just right—weatherwise—for a little moisture before we print another issue of the paper on Thursday, February 7.

MRS. J. B. PICKLE, mother of our long and loyal friend and fellow newsmen, JOE PICKLE, managing editor of the BIG SPRING HERALD, passed away Saturday morning and funeral service was conducted for her Sunday afternoon at the FIRST METHODIST CHURCH in Big Spring. MRS. PICKLE was known for her dedication to her church, FIRST METHODIST, where she taught a Sunday School class for 30 years. She was active in the Women's Missionary Society and at one time served on the Board of Stewards of the church she loved so well. She also centered warm devotion on her home and her family. MRS. PICKLE married a Tennessean, and she and her late husband were truly pioneers of this great section of Texas. MRS. PICKLE is survived by another son, J. J. (JAKE) PICKLE, Austin, member of the Texas Employment Commission; two daughters, MRS. MILLER HARRIS, wife of the sheriff of Howard County, and MRS. JONATHAN LANCASTER of Kermit.

WE had a nice note along with a request of change of address from MRS. MALCOLM MARTIN, 3715 Glenmore, Houston, 23, this week. She wrote: "Received the paper today and enjoyed it all ways. We have bought a new home so need to have our address changed." MRS. MARTIN also commented in a postscript that they were having cold weather in Houston too.

THE newspaper has had some calls concerning the condition of young RODNEY BRANTLEY, 13-year-old son of MR. and MRS. CARLOS BRANTLEY, who was injured in an accident at his home Monday afternoon. We have learned at press time that RODNEY is resting as well as could be expected in HOWARD COUNTY FOUNDATION HOSPITAL, Big Spring. He was injured when a shot from a BB gun lodged in his right eye.

WE send congratulations to MARY PRUDIE BROWN, wife of GLENN, who received the outstanding plaque for civic service and club work at the C. C. banquet here Monday night. MARY BROWN is our image of a very wonderful person and this unexpected honor voted to her by chamber officials certainly reflects the sentiment of the community and of your writer.

YOUR writer has been very busy this week—really going more than usual. Lot's of things have been going on community-wise. Plenty of activity has been put in motion by groups, individuals and organizations. The social, civic pace has been terrific. In addition to daily duty at our desk, we have made five night meetings and just dropped in on a couple of other sessions. We are also making a change here in the office—a change that we didn't have a thing to do with but are willing to accept like all good editors who hate to lose one employe and have to train another. We will have an interesting announcement to make next week. And now in closing out this week's message we want all of you to continue writing your editor your views and in the words of an editor friend of mine: "The good Lord willing—I'll have a lot of copy in this column in the next issue."
