Trucker Bill Draws Debate But Passes

A country-boy fight developed Friday in the House over a bill granting exemptions to certain truckers and haulers from requirements that they obtain a motor carrier permit from the railroad commission.

The measure, HB 31 by Reps. Robert Fairchild of Center and Terry Townsend of Brady, was given preliminary approval in a 75-35 vote after an hour and half of debate. The bill was readied for final passage next week.

Fairchild said the purpose of the bill was to require regulation of irresponsible drivers.

"It's wrong to regulate the irresponsible people of this state, then I stand before you condemning of that," Fairchild told the House.

The House adopted a key amendment providing four main exemptions from the requirement of getting a permit:

ONE — Vehicles used in transporting road building equipment such as sand and gravel.

TWO — Vehicles transporting oil well serving equipment, such as water, drilling mud, petroleum and petroleum products.

THREE — Vehicles hauling pipeline stringers.

FOUR — Vehicles carrying livestock and unprocessed agricultural products in their natural state.

The bill requires a permit of haulers who operate between two or more incorporated cities or drive more than 25 miles on public roads and highways.

Rep. Roy Arledge of Stamford opposed the bill. He said he had received several letters from his district opposing it. He said the bill would be burdensome, for example, on West Texas cottonseed mills because their products could not qualify as "unprocessed agricultural products."

Brady To Be Scene Annual Singers Meet

The annual Heart O' Texas Singers Reunion will meet Saturday night and Sunday, April 27 and 28 in the high school auditorium at Brady.

Bible Comment—

Israel Grew From Small State To Unified Nation

The process whereby a people becomes a nation varies in its time span according to many and varied circumstances. The American colonies built themselves into a nation after a slow and tedious beginning as tiny spot of civilization along an untamed coast which fringed a wilderness.

Israel began slowly to achieve a sense of national unity, ripening suddenly as she acquired strong leaders with the will to weld the tribes into a country under a ruler who gave his people a feeling of sovereignty.

Moving slowly from the Egyptian bondage to the haven of the Promised Land, the feeling of the people was more on a tribal, racial and religious level rather than national.

Eli was a great leader and had high personal integrity, but his sons "made themselves vile and he restrained them not."

A new leader, Samuel came to give the people such a strong national consciousness that they demanded military leader instead of a religious one. In this way they went too far, paving the way for the disaster which was soon to come to them.

We first meet Samuel as a small boy brought to the Temple by his mother, Hannah, who devoted him to the service of the High Priest Eli.

Eli enjoyed more success with the little helper than with his own sons. When Samuel heard the voice calling him, Eli realized it was the divine call and told the boy that when the call came again he should say, "Speak, Lord for thy servant heareth."

And thus Samuel became aware of having a great mission. He purged the temple of abusive practices and restored the religious life of his people to its former strength. He had his undeniable part in the building of the Jewish nation.

Philosopher Claims Russians Use Lie Detector Test In Reverse To Select Diplomats

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw takes a look at lie detector machines this week.)

Dear editor:

I've been noticing lately that more and more people are taking lie detector tests.

Football and basketball players take them, coaches take them, criminals take them, suspects take them, etc. But more than that, I understand business is now employing the lie detector, and prospective employees are sometimes required to take the tests to indicate whether they can be trusted later on.

Why some people have even suggested that politicians take the tests, but nothing much has come of it. I guess they're waiting till sturdier models of the machines come out.

Another use for the lie detector which nobody else seems to have thought of and which I offer free of charge would be in the public schools.

One of the worst chores of teaching, I understand, is grading papers. My system would eliminate this. All

Pioneer Natural Gas Company

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

A pesky little bit of life, capable of going for months without food, is a sour note in the otherwise symphony of a Texas spring.

It's a soft-shelled tick, known scientifically as Ornithodoros turicata, transmitter of relapsing fever. This time of year they'll be out in force over most of Texas — at the very season when the natural human inclination is toward picnics and exploratory sojourns into the Great Outdoors.

State Health Department entomologists says the pernicious, fever-laden parasites can bite, feed, release their hold and drop to the ground without their human victims ever knowing they have provided them with a blood meal.

Many cases of relapsing fever undoubtedly occur in Texas without ever coming to official attention. Ticks pick up the germ while feeding on infected wild rodents, become infected themselves and then pass it on to humans during the feeding process.

Soft-shelled ticks are close relatives of the hard-shelled ticks which spread spotted fever, tularemia, a type of encephalitis and other miseries.

Public health workers handle ticks with great caution to avoid being bitten and exposed to the fever they might be carrying. Specimens are kept in a specially constructed tick-torium where, if one escapes, it will fall into an oil bath and be killed.

State Health Department laboratory technicians over the years have added many refinements to diagnostic techniques relating to relapsing fever. The strange disease occurs all over the world, despite the fact that it is sometime called a tropical disease.

The onset of relapsing fever is characterized by chills and fever lasting from 24 to 36 hours. Recurring attacks of fever might persist for weeks, each one leaving the victim weak and wrung out.

Once successfully diagnosed, relapsing fever readily responds to modern treatment by a private physician. The disease is rarely fatal. Soft-shelled ticks usually inhabit caves and old buildings, while their hard-shelled counterparts stick to woods and field. Both types are actually occupational hazards for ranchers and foresters and people in similar lines of work.

Soft-shelled ticks can survive a year or more without food, so long vacancy of a vacation cottage does not mean there are no ticks in residence.

So go ahead — have fun outdoors this spring. But be sure to use plenty of insect repellent on exposed skin and on clothing if you are in infested areas.

Gem, Mineral Show Planned For Odessa

The Gem and Mineral show, sponsored by the West Texas Gem and Mineral Society, will be held April 26, 27, 28, in the Floyd Gwin Auditorium, West County Road at 10th, in Odessa. The show will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. School groups accompanied by the teacher are cordially invited and will be admitted free at any time.

Non-competitive exhibits will include minerals, crystals, carvings, jewelry, Indian artifacts, gem stones, fossils and novelties.

Anyone who has a collection to exhibit should contact J. A. Jorgensen and Midland or R. A. Dahl in Odessa. The auditorium will be available to exhibitors from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday, April 25, so that displays may be set up. All exhibitors must furnish their own display cases and lighting.

A feature of the show will be demonstrations by Mr. Jorgensen on faceting, Dr. Dale Curry on cabochon cutting and polishing and George Sinclair on fluorescences.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURVNE VARNADORE

The Spring Festival and Pancake Supper is coming along splendidly. The tickets are selling at a fairly fast pace. It does the heart good to see what can be accomplished when everyone chips in and does his best for a good cause — this cause being the Library Fund.

There will be a board of directors meeting Monday night, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. at the chamber office. I urge all directors to be present for this meeting.

I attended the West Texas Directors Meeting in Midland on Tuesday last, at which time they voted to support several proposals which will be of benefit to Martin County and West Texas in general. They endorsed a proposal to lower or do away with cotton subsidies and to try to get the cotton allotments increased.

Details are being worked out for a Queen Contest in connection with the Spring Festival and Pancake Supper. She will represent Martin County at the Turnbree Festival in Colorado City. The Stanton Reporter will be advised of the completion of these details as soon as they are available, so watch your local paper for the announcement.

This is remembered wealth. You are richer today than yesterday — if you have laughed often, given something, forgiven more, made a new friend today, or made stepping stones of stumbling blocks; if you have thought more in terms of thyself than myself, or if you have managed to be cheerful even if you were weary.

Bye, now.
