We cordially invite communications from our readers on all legitimate subjects provided the contributions are signed and fit to use in a family newspaper. As a matter-of-fact, we treasure our letters from readers. We think our subscribers like to get the views of other people from time to time. If you want to write a letter to our country editor—feel free to do so. We do not necessarily have to endorse your remarks and will print your messages whether we agree with your opinions or not. Our personal stand on any proposition, issue, question, or situation will be published as an editorial.

We received an invitation to attend a reception at Hotel Lincoln this Friday in Odessa honoring Ben Ramsey and Jim C. Langdon, both members of the Texas Railroad Commission. W. T. (Bill) Edwards is making the arrangements for the affair. He is president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. We are making plans to attend and renew an old friendship with Ramsey, who is a native of San Augustine, Texas, and to meet Judge Langdon.

COACH BILL MILAM visited in our home while Sunday afternoon and it was certainly a genuine pleasure to have talked with him. He is a sincere fellow, determined, has faith in the fulfillment of his responsibilities working with our youth in school athletics and we predict he is going to do a splendid job. COACH MILAM is no braggart. He is a to-the-point person, a man of sincerity and convictions. He knows he is going to be called upon to exert all his talents to put together a balanced football team this fall. He said to me, "I don't ever predict victory. I attempt to instill the will to win in the boys and of course, hope they do, but to brashly say we are going to take them all is too far-fetched." Good luck coach!

Arthur Wilson missed the Rotary Club luncheon meeting last week for the first time in many years. Of course, he can and will make up his attendance. He has a good record going in the club. Wilson missed because of having to make an urgent business trip to Dallas. He is serving the Rotarians as their secretary this year and we have to write the meetings up when Arthur is gone. We are glad he is going to get back in the slot again for at least ten more years.

Welcome aboard in our salute this week to these people who either subscribed for the first time or turned in renewals to THE OLE RELIABLE. J. S. Fee Required For Address Changes

After this week, all changes of address, must be reported directly to The Stanton Reporter, P. O. Box 248, Stanton, Texas.

If you are a subscriber, wish to change your address, and live out of Martin County, just mail us your old and new address. We will change it without charge. If you use any other method of changing your address, we will require a fee of twenty-five cents per change.

It takes this much to process a change after two or three notices are received at a charge of ten cents each time. County newspapers, charging only $3 a year for an out-of-town subscription can't do business on this basis. We have but this single alternative — either raise the subscription price for all outside subscribers or require the 25 cent fee for changing an address in the future, unless a postal card is mailed directly to the paper. That way, a subscriber will only have to pay four cents.

If we receive any other changes of address in any manner other than the one specified above, we will simply hold your newspaper up until the twenty-five cent fee for changing is mailed in.

If you live in Martin County, want to change your address, it is plain. Just pick up your phone, report the change, mail in a card, or come by the office when in town. No charge for a local change of address will be made, if you use anyone of these three methods.

The Kingfisher Story

The federal government can save $110,000, if it listens to the Chamber of Commerce of Kingfisher, Oklahoma. That body of local business leaders voted to ask Uncle Sam not to build a half-block long post office in their town, and to use the money instead to whittle down the national debt a little bit.

Kingfisher isn't exactly growing by leaps and bounds, and the present post office is just fine for the purpose, the Chamber members decided. "Someone has to take the initiative of stopping this constant taking," as the Chamber president explained.

Kingfisher is right in being worried about that national debt, despite the spenders' cherry assurance that it's really all right because "we owe it to ourselves" and it isn't as large in proportion to what we earn as it once was all the height of our biggest war, and "that if we don't get it someone else will."

It was pointed out the other day that each American family now pays $15 a month in taxes just to pay the interest on the national debt. So, without paying any of it off, the interest on the national debt is costing everybody in Kingfisher and elsewhere more than any of their utility bills.

Any concern from thrift will have to come from the grassroots, in Kingfisher and elsewhere. From Washington budgeteers come only proposals for expanding the debt. From the General Accounting Office we learn that Government bureaucrats are wasting millions—many times the cost of the Kingfisher post office—every day.

The Department of Defense, for example, is costing the average family $75 a month according to Rep. Jensen of Iowa. GAO finds the Air Force wasted $10 million by throwing out perfectly good repair kits, and a million dollars to store oil in Plattsburg, N. Y., just because it wanted to use up its appropriation at the end of the year.

Thanks to Kingfisher, we taxpayers get a small break. If other areas follow the Kingfisher example, we may all get a large one. While the $110,000 is just a drop in the bucket insofar as needed savings is concerned, a beginning is always necessary before anything worthwhile can be accomplished.

Thrift At The Grassroots

Twenty-four million bushels of grain is a lot of grain. It would fill all the space in the hulls of the great ocean liners Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth, France, and United States.

To the ordinary person, it would seem to be impossible to lose 24,000,000 bushels of grain—but our federal government has done it. And now the Agriculture Department, is trying to assure us that it doesn't matter, anyhow.

The grain was bartered to Austria for commodities to add to our military stockpiles, and all the items we were to get we already have in surplus. While the grain didn't arrive where it was supposed to go, apparently whatever was supposed to send us minerals in exchange for it lived up to their part of the bargain anyway. If they don't get the grain, why are they paying us for it?

The Agriculture Department, which shipped the grain, hasn't answered that question. Its officials have appeared puzzled by the questions. They shipped wheat in enormous quantities to Austria for more than two years without, apparently, ever asking whether the Austrians ever got it.

To this day, they don't know who did get it. They assure us that none of it went behind the iron curtain, but how do they know when they don't know where it did go?

They assure us that the United States will not lose anything, but we have merely exchanged one surplus commodity for others we already have too much of. And, it is wryly admitted in Washington, if the grain was consumed in any land where we ordinarily could sell wheat for dollars, out balance of payments has suffered to the tune of more than $30 million.

Furthermore, we have shipped over a billion and a half dollars worth of commodities under the same law over the years. If the same slipshod procedures were employed with results similar to the Austrian results, a billion dollars worth of them could have gone astray. We don't know what they did, but does the federal government know that they didn't?

Congress should not let the matter drop now. In fact, Congress ought to be asked about it every day, until it finds out exactly what happened to this lost wheat.

The address of George Mahon, our Congressman in Washington is as follows:

Bible Comment—

There Is No Place In Religion For Hate

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy."

But if happiness consists in being free from danger and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men have revealed how false is that easy adage.

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is that mystery of the Cross and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced, fellow townsmen as he began His ministry of Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry.

Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But, unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred. It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by His own brothers. But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sin aroused such hatred?

If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him was another.

The opposition of certain Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had some justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus Himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat."

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness, and hating one who the people heard gladly.

Are we wiser than those of old? Is religion our response to the goodness of God, is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

Philosopher Willing To Take On Rain-Making Job If He's Given Wide Enough Territory

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw must need a rain, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor:
According to an article I ran across in a newspaper which a dry August wind blew across my front screen door and which I pulled off as fast as I could because it was stopping what breeze there was, a scientist claims that rain-making is now within the reach of man but before he goes any further we've got to have a sort of Rain Commission to decide where and when a rain should be produced, for legal protection.

Regardless of how dry it is in any given spot, he said, some farmer can always be found who doesn't want it to rain at this particular moment, he's still got a crop he's gathering and next week would be a better time.

Therefore, he claims, we need a National Rain Commission to decide when the majority need a rain, then turn it on, regardless.

This seems to me to be just another example of needless government spending. There's no need to set up a government bureau. I can handle this job on my own. It's a job for private enterprise.

If the government will stick to drought relief and turn all the rain over to me, and let me make a nominal charge, I will contract to make it rain everywhere. The secret is to take in enough area. It's volume that counts.

My charge would be one cent per acre for every acre that gets as much as one inch, and where's the farmer needing a rain who wouldn't pay a penny an acre for an inch?

I might not be able to please everybody, but I doubt if a week would go by when I didn't produce rain somewhere in the United States. Oh I know there'd be soreheads in drought areas complaining I was neglecting them, but sooner or later in any area where it has rained before, I could make it rain again. This is a big country and no man could be expected to get round to everybody every week.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Virgil White Miller Wed To Kathryn Elaine Rogers

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller announce the recent marriage of their son, Virgil White Miller, to Kathryn Elaine Rogers of Palacios. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Rogers of Palacios.

The First Baptist Church of Palacios was the setting for the marriage July 12. The double ring ceremony was read before an arch covered with greenery and white carnations. Tall candelabra and baskets of white gladiola flanked each side of the altar. Large bows of white satin marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over satin. The bodice was of chantilly lace. It featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. The dress was designed and made by the bride's mother.

The veil was of full tulle illusion held in place by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible covered with an orchid bouquet placed in the center.

Rita Rogers served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Darnell, Shirley Smith, and Margie Lively of Houston. The attendants were in identical street-length dresses of blue pois de soi, featuring a sleeveless bodice and bell shaped skirts. Their veils fell from a crown of blue satin leaves. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

The bridegroom's brother, Clinton Miller, was best man. The groomsmen were Wayne Rogers, brother of the bride, Paul Stanley of Houston, and Ted Mayo of Bryan.

Timothy Weisman of Houston, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer, and Laura Penland of Port Lavaca, niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

Patricia Miller, sister of the bridegroom, was the soloist. She sang "Always," "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer." Richard Sanders of Palacios, played the traditional wedding music.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 308 Welch St., Palacios, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Palacios High School. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Stanton High School, and is a senior at Texas A&M College.

He is majoring in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the Air Force ROTC and of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He is presently employed by the Alcoa Aluminum in Port Lavaca.

Adjustments Needed For Cotton Pickers

Cotton grade, machine life, and harvesting efficiency are affected by an improperly adjusted cotton picker, says B. G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A properly adjusted machine can harvest an extra $10 per bale, he adds.

The spindle is the heart of the cotton picker and must be properly adjusted to the moistener pad and the doffer, the specialist advises. This adjustment can easily make a full grade difference in the cotton you pick.

The purpose of the moistener pad is to clean the spindle thoroughly, says Reeves. If plant juices, bark and other foreign material, build up on the spindles picking efficiency and grades suffer. The moistener should touch the entire picking surface of the spindle to do a good job of cleaning it. However, Reeves warns that the addition of more water than is needed to just clean the spindles will make the cotton more difficult to gin and can lower its grade.

Doffers should be adjusted to remove the cotton without touching the spindle while allowing about 1/64-inch clearance between them. The practice of adjusting doffers tightly against the spindles to overcome poor cleaning should be avoided, says the specialist.

You can harvest more cotton dollars if the doffers and moisteners are properly adjusted to the spindles, Reeves reminds.

Melt a quarter cup of butter, add a couple of tablespoons of minced parsley or fresh dill and pour over a pound of sliced hot cooked new potatoes with their skins removed.

Stanton Bisons To Open Practice Sessions Monday

By NEAL ESTES

The Texas schoolboy coach who has not experienced a losing season in a dozen years, will find only two returning lettermen ready to lead a band of fighting new recruits into the pigskin wars for Stanton High School this year.

Head Coach Bill Milam has announced two daily drills for prospective players starting Monday, August 19. He will command a coaching staff consisting of Roy Dodds, Doyle Edmiston and Floyd Sorley.

Practice sessions will be held from 7 to 9 a.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

Coach Milam and his staff have issued a special invitation to all boys to come out and try for a place on the squads regardless of experience.

The Bisons have an extra tough 10-game schedule. Ten contests have also been lined up for the junior varsity and a full schedule is the goal for the charges of Coach Floyd Sorley.

Stanton lost 22 boys last season via the graduation route. Only two returning players have played offensive and defensive football. They are Donnie Polson, 225-pounder and Ronnie Hays, who hits the beam at 185. Coach Milam is depending a great deal on these boys to help knit a strong forward wall.

Coach Milam said hopeful backs include: Ronnie Hartsell, Mickey Allen, John Swanson, Dink Polson, Donnie Thompson, Mike Hall and David Dunn.

The quarterback spot seems to be the thing that is bugging the coaching staff. A signal caller runs the team on the field. Four qualified candidates are up for consideration as the starting signal barker. They are: Ronnie Driggers, Jerry Johnson, Carrol Anderson and Jerry Bone.

When Coach Milam thinks of his man-under-selection, he merely says: "Who knows?"

Coach Milam and his assistants have assured each boy that a fair deal will be forthcoming, and that hard work, training, attention, and attitude, will make the final decisions for all squadmen.

Coach Milam said: "If a freshman looks better on the practice field and in play than a senior, he will get the job."

Milam has operated at the helm of football teams for a total of 14 years and with the exception of his first two years in the coaching business, he has never had losing clubs.

"I have never taken a school that was a winner and I have never left a school that was a loser," the genial mentor commented.

He continued: "All it will take to make me happy is for the boys to train as football players should and show a burning desire to win."

Coach Milam closed the pre-practice interview by pledging his cooperation to the press, and all the fans who are interested in the football team. He extended an invitation to the public to come out and watch the boys practice.

Hello, again. Summertime, and the living is hot!

For several days in a row we have had some scorching weather. We could stand some rain and relief from this heat and it would help to keep the crops from burning up in the fields. If it were not the heat I suppose it would be something else, like bugs, so I think I had rather have the heat.

It seems the first bale of cotton slipped in on us unexpectedly. Jack Allred ginned his bale on Friday, the 6th, and it took some doing to get it ginned. Guita Gin Co. did the work and donated it to Mr. Allred.

As usual, the merchants of Martin County and Stanton came through in their generous way and gifted the Allred's with certificates in the amount of $500.00. That combined with the $100.000 from the Chamber made all that work profitable.

It was our pleasure to see the Farm Bureau Queen contest last Friday night and to witness Miss Ann Yater crowned 1963 Farm Bureau Queen. With such a lovely group to select from, the judges couldn't have gone wrong on anyone they selected and I certainly do not envy them their job. It was a very close contest and our congratulations to the winner. We hope Miss Yater goes all the way in the future contests.

We attended the meeting held over the weekend at the Hunter Ranch in the Guadalupe Mountains. The Permian Basin Chambers of Commerce are at work putting together a tourist brochure covering the entire Permian Basin and parts of New Mexico. These brochures are outstanding in the fact that they centralize all the tourist attractions in the area and each town participating will be included in the brochure. This will greatly enhance our own area in that these brochures will be sent all over the county and to foreign points. While at the meeting it was agreed that the chambers back the effort to get the Guadalupe Mountain area made a National Park. This would preserve this wildly beautiful area for all time so that our heirs will be able to see the wonderful work of nature in it's preserved state.

Bob Cox has announced that the Farm Tour will be held August 29, 1963. So make your plans to go on this trip. The luncheon will be served at the Grady School. So let's all go and get in on this wonderful Martin County home cooking. We will meet at the courthouse at 9 a.m. and return about 3 p.m.

Bye, now.

Marsha Bristow Complimented With Shower

Miss Marsha Bristow, bride-elect of Hughlyn Todd, was complimented with a lingerie shower Saturday morning, August 10, at the home of Mrs. Glen Gates.

Hostesses for the occasion were Gay Gates and Jean Mott.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of green and white were used in the table decorations. The table was laid with a green cloth with an overlay of white linen. The centerpiece consisted of an arrangement of green and white roses.

Individual sandwiches and sherry coolers were served by Gay Gates.

Those attending the party made rice bags, which Miss Bristow will use in her reception following her wedding. The couple plans to be married September 7 at the First Baptist Church.

Crime Toll Sets Mark Over Nation

The national crime toll spurted to a record high last year and is increasing four times as fast as the population, the FBI reported.

For the first time, more than two million serious offenses — an average of four a minute — were recorded, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a report to Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The over-all crime rate topped the 1961 rate by 6 per cent. Every crime category except murder showed an increase. Except dropped by 2 per cent.

Statistically speaking, of every 100,000 Americans 4.5 were murdered, 8.8 were raped, 51.3 were robbed, 75.1 were assaulted, and 480.4 were burglary victims.

The total number of serious crimes — 2,048,370 — were divided this way: 8,400 murder, down 2 per cent from 1961; 18,310 forcible rapes, up 2 per cent; 95,290 robberies, up 4 per cent; 129,600 aggravated assaults, up 5 per cent; 292,800 burglaries, up 5 per cent; 529,900 larcenies of at least $50, up 3 per cent, and 336,100 auto thefts, up 9 per cent.

The nationwide crime trend, the FBI said, was 13 per cent higher than the average rate over the three-year period 1959-61.

Hoover said the record shows that "police effectiveness remains high despite mounting crime workloads and heavier demands for a

Classes Begin In Glasscock September 3

Glasscock County Independent Schools open their 1963-64 term September 3 and anticipate an increased enrollment over last year. Enrollment will be about 250 in the elementary and high schools.

The seven buses will make their first run on the morning of September 3 but the first day will be devoted to registration and to issuance of books. It is planned to end the registration in both the high school and the elementary school by noon.

Actual class work begins September 4. The cafeteria will begin operation on that date.

School officials said that all first graders who are not on the census roll but who wish to attend school will be accepted on presentation of birth certificates or other satisfactory proof of age.

Glasscock County Independent School is the only school in the county. It employs 17 teachers, four cafeteria workers, two janitors and one bus mechanic.

There are two new teachers on the faculty list this year.

No new buildings or other major improvement have been made since last year. The cafeteria building, newest of the school buildings, was put into service last November.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1963. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 1 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to amend Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to amend the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and so as to amend the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Sections 2 and 4 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read, respectively, as follows:

"Section 2. Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which such person offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector; provided that any member of the Armed Forces of the United States or component branches thereof, or in the military service of the United States, may vote only in the county in which he or she resided at the time of entering such service so long as he or she is a member of the Armed Forces and provided further that before offering to vote at an election a voter shall have registered, if required by law to do so. The Legislature may authorize absentee voting. This Amendment shall take effect on December 1, 1963.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Texas Youth Council's parole division will triple in the next six months or so. But the problem of trying to help "reform school" graduates become useful citizens is still great.

Until September 1, five state parole officers are responsible for some 1,800 juvenile parolees spread over 169 counties. That's a ratio of one parole officer to about 357 parolees, compared to national standards of one officer to 40 parolees.

Staff will increase to 10 on September 1 — a ratio of one to 178. On March 1, 1964, when five more are added, ratio will be down to one parole officer to 119 parolees, spread over the Lone Star State.

Biggest number of parolees in centered in big cities where the general rate of crime is always higher. More than a third of the paroled children are in Dallas, Harris and Bexar counties, another 288 in El Paso, Jefferson, Tarrant and Travis counties.

About 154 are in Nueces, McLennan, Bell and Lubbock counties. But sizable juvenile parole populations are centered in smaller counties, such as Cameron, Grayson, Brazoria, Ector, Galveston, Gregg, Hale, Hidalgo, Howard, Hunt, Midland, Navarro, Potter, San Patricio, Smith, Wichita and Williamson.

Some counties only have one paroled child. But the state is retraining for every one it has "retrained."

FIRST AIDE — State Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell appointed Robert C. Duke, Houston attorney, as Deputy Commissioner and General Counsel of the new state agency.

Duke formerly served as acting Securities Commissioner in the Secretary of State's securities division.

Regulatory bill takes effect on August 23. Some 2,000 loan companies operating in Texas will have to file for state licenses at that time.

INSURANCE HEARING — A State Insurance Board hearing on proposed rules for regulating credit insurance — which pays off a man's debt if he dies, or makes the payments when he is disabled — drew a big crowd.

One controversial point was a ceiling rate of 90 cents per $100 of insurance.

Some insurance company executives insisted the ceiling should be no more than 60 or 65 cents per $100. But one spokesman thought the 90-cent per $100 rate was too low and recommended $1.

Some loan companies said they now give credit insurance free. They feared the proposed rules might outlaw this practice.

A second hearing with new proposed rules will be aired on September 10.

MONEY MEN — The Legislative Budget Board, lawmakers who make the Legislature's financial decisions between sessions recommended $4,644,000 worth of state building to Gov. John Connally.

Plans approved included one by the State Hospitals Board to equip a genetics lab and follow-up clinic on mental retardation in the State Psychiatric Institute at Houston, new dormitories for Gatesville School for Boys, Gainesville School for Girls and Crockett School for Negro Girls; and several prison system units.

Authorization was recommended.

for $25,000 worth of partitioning to provide 23 new offices in Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's department.

But the board balked at Texas A&M University's request to spend some $100,000 on a home — exclusive of land and furnishings—for A&M President Earl Rudder, to replace the one destroyed by fire.

A compromise recommendation of about $60,000 for a 4,500 square-foot home was the outcome.

CITIES GROWTH FORMULA — About 200 city attorneys, city engineers and city councilmen gathered in Austin to hear a Texas Municipal League explanation of the Texas Municipal Annexation Act, which will become effective on August 23.

Annexation acts out "extraterritorial jurisdictions" dictating the extent of a city's growth in any three-year period. For cities of less than 5,000 population, the extraterritorial area extends a half mile beyond city limits; cities 5,000 to 25,000, one mile; cities 25,000 to 50,000, two miles; cities 50,000 to 100,000, three and a half miles; and cities 100,000 and up, five miles.

But a city would not have to expand all the way around its rim. It could swing acres or "fingers" out to "desirable areas for growth," and obtain the annual area allocation of 10 per cent of its square acreage in these areas.

For example, officials of a city of 20,000 acres could annex up to 2,000 acres of "desirable" land one year; 2,300 acres the next, etc. without ever annexing undesirable new territory.

SCHOOL LAND BOARD — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, members of the State School Land Board, make and revise leases on public school lands, including river beds, bays and inlets of the Gulf of Mexico.

Attorney General requested that he be removed from the land board.

After August 23 he will be replaced by a private citizen of his choosing.

Before Carr leaves the board he will sign the deed which conveys state-owned land on Padre Island to the federal government for a national seashore.

SHORT SPORTS — Rep. Sam F. Collins of Newton asked to be allowed to serve as a state representative without pay, when he accepted a job as assistant to General Manager John W. Simmons of the Sabine River Authority.

Governor Connally appointed Hudson Davis of Borger as Canadian River Compact Commissioner, and R. Leighton McKinney Jr. of Denison, Interstate Compact Commissioner for the Red River.

The State General Revenue Fund finished July with $19,500,000 in the black.

Aerial Photos May Determine Soil Structure

Aerial photography may soon provide farmers and researchers with a simple, rapid method of determining the extent of salt accumulation in cotton fields, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The saltiness of cotton fields, to a depth of four feet, can be recorded in photos made with aerial infrared film and a dark-red filter, according to preliminary studies by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Previously used methods, though accurate, were time consuming and required laboratory testing of a large number of soil samples, the report continues.

By early identification of the salt-damaged soils farmers could reclaim land in time to prevent heavy losses in yields. This system should be especially important in the unirrigated portions of the Rio Grande Valley, says the USDA.

The method is based on the fact that the leaves of healthy plants reflect most of the light in the infrared part of the light spectrum. Also, cotton plants show symptoms of moisture stress in direct proportion to the amount of salt accumulation in the root zone. Therefore, the laboratory experiments showed that leaves from healthy plants reflect the most light while leaves from salt affected plants reflect less.

The USDA explains that aerial photos would thus show unaffected cotton as white while salt affected cotton would appear progressively darker with higher concentrations of salt.

The 1963 Poultry Conference will be held at Texas A&M College, June 19-20. The conference is designed for commercial producers, hatcherymen, breeders, hatchery and feed servicemen and related poultry industry personnel, says Ben Wormel, extension poultry husbandman. Topics of current interest will be discussed by a group of highly qualified speakers, he said.

A joy to serve — a delight to eat — is this dark and delicious chocolate cake. Rich in chocolate flavor and fine of texture, it will remain fresh and moist because it is made with soft cake flour milled especially for the feather-like quality you expect in a homemade cake.

RICH CHOCOLATE CAKE

4 sqs. unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter, margarine or vegetable shortening
1/4 cups sugar
3 eggs, unbeat
Milk (x)

Chocolate Butter Frosting
(X) — With butter or margarine, use 1/2 cup milk. With vegetable shortening use 1/4 cup milk.

Place chocolate and water in top of double boiler. Cook and stir over hot water until chocolate is melted and mixture thickens. Add 1/2 cup sugar; cook and stir 2 minutes longer. Cook to lukewarm.

Measure sifted flour, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening. Gradually add 1/4 cups sugar, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then alternately add flour and milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and chocolate mixture; blend.

Four batter into two round 9-inch layer pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes, or until cake springs back when touched slightly. Cool. Spread frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake, swirling frosting attractively.

CHOCOLATE BUTTER ICING

Cream 1/2 cup butter; add 2 1/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1/4 tsp. salt, and 5/8 squares melted unsweetened chocolate. Mix well. Add 2 1/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, alternately with about 7 tablespoons milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Then beat vigorously until mixture is creamy.

For an all-time dessert, anytime, anywhere, try this American favorite.

PIE CRUST

3 cups flour
1/4 cups shortening
1 tbs. salt
1 egg, beaten
4 tbsps. water

Inspect Before Buying Furniture

Before purchasing furniture notice the fabric. A well-made chair is almost never finished off with shoddy tailoring and sleazy fabric. How well does the design match at the seams? Are buttons even? Do pleats meet?

Note whether cushions are reversible or merely covered with a lining fabric on the underside. Reversible cushions may double the life of the upholstery! Also check to see whether the cushion fabric can be unzipped. If it can, cleaning will be a cinch!

Stretch the fabric between your fingers to make sure the weave is tight; loosely woven yarns tend to roughen with use and hold dirt more tenaciously. Ask about color-fastness and shrink resistance; remember that colorfastness is especially important if the piece is to be in the sun's rays part of the day.

Marvella and Paul Airhart of Muleshoe, have been recent visitors with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Airhart at Knott.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chesser visited over the weekend with Mrs. Walter Morris.

Miss Duncan Married In Evening Ceremony

Miss Martha Lou Duncan and Autry Allen Moore were united in marriage Friday evening in the Garden City Baptist Church. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. D. D. Smith, pastor.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 107 East First Street, Stanton, where the bridegroom is employed by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Tucker Duncan, Garden City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moore, 1201 Johnson.

The altar was centered with a potted palm flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Candelabra holding white taper candles were placed at each side.

Mrs. Jack Berry sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Miss Gail McDaniel at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin street-length gown. The bodice was fashioned with lace and long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Her waist-length illusion veil was held by a jeweled tiara.

For the traditional something old, the bride received a gold locket from her mother; something new, her wedding gown; something blue, a garter; and good luck birthdate pennies for her slippers.

The bride carried a white orchid showered with feathered carnations and white satin streamers. It was carried atop a white Bible belonging to her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Scott.

Attendant Mrs. Kenneth Scott, matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow silk afternoon dress and carried a nosegay of pompon mums in yellow and white tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Howard McChristian, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Alvin Moore and Billy Moore, brothers of the bridegroom, all of Big Spring.

Alisa Kay Scott, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Jimmy McChristian, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer. Tapers were lighted by Royal Duncan Jr., brother of the bride.

Reception
A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Receiving guests with the bride and bridegroom, were their mothers.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over yellow satin and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli. Crystal and silver appointments were used to serve the three-tiered white cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Howard McChristian, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests. Other members in the house party were Miss Betsy Grant, Sherman and Miss Sue Grant, Levelland, both cousins of the bride, and Miss Judy Moore, Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride attended Garden City High School where she was a senior student. The bridegroom was a 1962 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williamson were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barbee of Sand Springs, Mrs. A. J. Davie of Big Spring, Mrs. Frances Kahout and Tana of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barbee and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Barbee and daughter, all of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Alexander and children of Ozona, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williamson and Wanda Joe of Lovington, New Mexico, and Mrs. Belton Hill and Barry of Flower Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hightower of Midland, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Hightower and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

ELEVATED CAMPFIRE

If you are going to make a permanent camp, why not build an elevated fireplace. No more stoop and squat. Real outdoor luxury. Here's how: Cut logs and notch. Build up sides just as if you were raising a

4-ft. square log cabin. When you get to convenient height, cover top with logs. Next step is to create a clay-rich layer of insulation with the clay richer at the bottom, rocks richer at the top. A ring of rocks to shield wind and hold pots completes

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Where but in print can you get so close to the advertising messages that interest you? Where else can a woman clip the coupons and recipes that intrigue her? Or tear out tips to try on leftovers? Or mark, for future marketing, any of the colorful food ideas which strike her fancy? And where else can she circle and compare the colors and styles of clothing and furnishings that appeal to her?

Where else, in fact, can any message be re-run at will by an interested audience? So make sure a good part of your advertising message gets into print. Let somebody's eyes linger over it as long as they like. Let somebody's scissors clip it free of competition. And then watch someone's pocket or purse carry it to the place of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

ROUGH WATER CANOEING

If you've got to negotiate a really rough stretch of water in your canoe, strap an inner tube to each side. Will help stability. And a man overboard can use it as a life ring.

DANGER... DEER

An easy way to get a deer is to hoist him up by the forelegs so inside spill to the ground as you work. Trouble is, in heavily hunted country, this is an invitation to get shot. One way to solve the problem is to carry an assortment of red cloth strips. Tie to trees and bushes ringing your working area. Other hunters will be alerted to what's going on.

PAINT BLAZE

Don't forget a pressure can of yellow paint is the quick way to blaze a trail through the woods. And if you're camping with youngsters remember how scarry the trail from lake to camp got after dark.

CHAIN GANG

If you have to put chains on your tires and you're deep in the woods, the easy way is to cut a log. Shape flat on two sides, then bunch four or five cross sections of chain in front of log and drive car on top and park it there. Flip the long section of chain over and attaching area is right in front of you where you can work.

MATCH BOOK REPAIRS

Wear glasses? A glass-wearing outdoorsman discovered this tip. But you may well think of a time when it would have helped you plenty. On a mountain trip, the glass wearer lost the screw that attached his ear pieces. Using his head, he took the bottom staple out of a pack of book matches and used it to wire them securely in place.

DOING THE TWIST

A good way to untwist a twisted line is to tie a large float to the end and let the current sweep it all out. Then wait while float slowly revolves the problem away. Another possibility is to troll line slowly with nothing on the end.

CRAPPIE SHOT

Here's a hot one for live bait crappie fishermen. Instead of weighting line the regular way (which destroys minnow's natural action), put a BB shot in the minnow's mouth. Then hook minnow through both lips. (Seals in the shot, get it.) Minnow can't swallow the BB, hook won't let it out. The gasser is that the minnow can swim around with just enough difficulty so a big crappie thinks he's got an easy meal.

Puff, Puff, Up A Hill

Unless you've found the Fountain of Youth you may be bothered with shortness of breath when your hunting takes you up and down steep banks. Try this tip to keep puffing to a minimum. Inhale at the end of every two steps; exhale at the end of the next. Two and inhale; one and exhale. Strike a slow steady pace. Rapid oxygen intake and exhaust helps oxygen your body's extra requirement. SPECIAL NOTE: If you don't get special of breath climbing steep things, please send your secret in fast.

Pipe Cleaner Fly's A Pip

Short bits of pipe cleaner woven on to a tiny hook make a snazzy imitation of several kinds of insects trout go for. Can be treated to sink or float.

Hot Head

Got cold day, light hat, hence cold head? Cure it by lining the inside of your hat with aluminum foil. Weatherproof too.

Help Your Rescuers

A sensible precaution when you are fishing or hunting in big country is to leave a note with your name, address, license number and time expected back in your car. Note can be put in windshield or on front seat. In case something happens, game wardens and police can locate quickly the right place to start looking.

To remember all the good tips you get here, why not cut them out and paste in an inexpensive scrap book.

22 Sinkers

Insert a short piece of wire into an empty 22 shell and fill with lead. Makes a good light sinker.

Touchy Trout

This tip is slated for trout fishermen, but other fish than trout at times get so touchy that the slightest pull of the line will make them drop a natural bait. Fool 'em this way. Just cut a long rubber band and knot it at both ends. Then tie your line to one end and the end of your hook leader to the other. The stretch of rubber will absorb the fishes' pull and at the same time start the ever-so-slight pressure needed to put the hook into position.

Boil Line, Not Temper

If you are the excitable, type reeling a new monofil line out of its spool and onto your reel is likely to exercise your boiling point. Don't. Make the only boiling thing a pot of water on the stove. Soak the full monofil spool in it before you reel. Hot line will pay out smoothly.

Six County Good Food Buys Agents Due For Honors

Careful grocery shoppers can look to five plentiful foods as they plan summer-perfect menus this August, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Summer vegetables and canned tuna are featured on the official August list of plentiful, as determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

Also expected to be in supply that exceeds normal needs are watermelons, peanuts, and salad and cooking oils.

Supplies of specific summer vegetables will vary at different markets of the state. Generally, though, look for an abundance of tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, beets, cabbage and lettuce. "Good buys" will prevail on a number of in-season local vegetables.

Canned tuna joins the list because heavy inventories have caused concern among folks of the tuna industry. They're conducting a nationwide promotion program that means economical purchases for consumers. Tuna is an ideal hot-weather meat for sandwiches, salads, casseroles and other uses.

Watermelon supplies are expected to be at least as large as a year ago. Peanut foods, including peanut butter, are perfect summer snack items. Stocks of salad and cooking oils are about 700 million pounds larger than normal.

Shoppers can take advantage of the abundance of these plentiful foods by serving them often and generously. Lower prices and wider choice of quality usually accompany abundance.
