Farm Tour Slated For August 29

Caravan To Visit Many County Areas

Arrangements are being completed for the annual agricultural tour of Martin County farms and ranches to be held Thursday, August 29.

The tour is sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, and covers all parts of Martin County.

Plans call for those making the tour to gather by 9 a.m. on the Southside of the courthouse, where the tour will get underway. The group will make the trip by bus.

The noon meal is to be served at the Grady School cafeteria by the Martin County Home Demonstration Council, and it is scheduled to be served at 12 noon. Tickets are $1.25 each and all directors and agriculture committee members are selling tickets.

The tour is scheduled to begin shortly after 1:00 p.m. from the Grady school to tour farms and ranches around the area.

In addition to the scheduled stops, other crops and agricultural methods will be observed from the bus.

The crops which the tour will see will be cotton varieties, pitting and seeding, irrigation systems, bermuda grass, brush control, feed lot operation and dryland fertilizing.

Arrangements for the tour schedule have been made by Jake Hodges, Soil Conservation Service and Bob Johnson, county agent.

During the day cold drinks will be served at various stops, in addition to the noon meal.

Bob Cox serves as chairman of the agriculture committee, and has been in charge of the tour arrangements.

All interested persons in the county and surrounding area are invited to make the tour. Invited and urged to attend are all businessmen, farmers, ranchers, school teachers and other interested persons.

Cox said, "We urge all persons who possibly can make the tour, as it will be very interesting and informative."

No tour was held last year because of the dry weather conditions. But the past agricultural tours have been successful, and the August 29 tour is expected to be even more successful than the ones in the past.

Last year about 200 persons were present, and this year's event also is expected to be well attended.

OFF-LIMITS AUTHORIZATION

Mahon Advises Caution On Military Segregation Note

The man with the tightest grip on Pentagon purse strings has warned the military not to go overboard in its handling of off-base segregation.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock, commenting in the midst of a Congressional furor over a Defense Department directive authorizing military base commanders to declare off-limits and communities or businesses practicing discrimination, stated:

"I have cautioned defense officials not to get too far in this. I urged extreme caution on them because there is a lot of confusion over this and it could be injurious to the armed services and harmful to the defense program."

As chairman of the House Appropriations Committee on Defense, Mahon passes on all defense spending and his words do not fall on deaf ears in the Pentagon.

He addressed himself in this instance to Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's off-limits directive, but also to the report of a special Presidential committee on equality in the armed forces headed by a Washington lawyer named Gerhard Gesell.

It is the so-called Gesell Report, which recommended among other things that bases near segregated communities be closed down if the communities do not relax their discriminatory practices, phalaxes of Southern Congressmen have been attacking.

One sore point is that nearly half of all U. S. servicemen are stationed in Southern states. Texas, for example, has the largest number in the nation next to California. The 177,318 servicemen in Texas receive annual pay of $726.5 million.

Elwyn Bass, principal of Grady School, will graduate August 29 with a Master's Degree in Administrative Education from Texas Tech College in Lubbock.

Duck hunters in the Central Flyway will have bigger bag limits and a longer season to look forward to when the 1963-64 seasons open this Fall. The Central Flyway states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have been given options of selecting 35 consecutive days of duck shooting or split seasons totaling 32 days, according to the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, a division of the U. S. DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR. Daily bag and possession limit of four and eight were approved by SECRETARY OF INTERIOR STEWART L. UDALL. This is double the bag and possession limit of the 1962 season in the Central Flyway.

The TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT had to spend $1.4 million to pick up litter during 1962. The cost of cleaning up the highways increased $100,000 during the past year. Repair of vandalism damages added another $485,000 to bring the total figure for the litter pickup and vandalism to a whopping $1.9 million. These funds could have built 76 miles of Farm to Market Roads of 25 miles of two-lane primary highways. In an added effort to slow down the mounting cost of litter pickup, signs styled "Litter Longhorn" will be prominently displayed. The cartoon character will be printed on the 1963 Official Highway Travel Maps published by the Department to remind the public in a lighthearted way not to litter the roadsides.

It has been pointed out that to litter or damage the highways is a violation of a state law. A litterbug can be fined from $10 to $200. Help stop this littering thing by helping keep our highways clear and clean. Carry a litter sack or basket in your car. We can assist in cutting spending of state money in this manner.

Along with the many other friends of MIKE ANDERSON, we have been concerned about his condition since he was felled with a heart attack early last Saturday morning at his home in this city. MIKE is a patient in HOGAN-MALONE FOUNDATION HOSPITAL in Big Spring. The community is wedded together in watching and hoping for MIKE'S recovery.

Three football coaches descended on the editorial office at one time Tuesday morning. The mentors were with us to tell the story of the practice sessions of the prospective pigskin warriors to date. They felt good about the situation. COACH BILL MILAM, DOYLE EDMISTON, and ROY DODDS were our guests.

These waning days of Summer vacation are attracting more and more Texas parents and their children into the great outdoors for a final fling at fun in the sun before reopening of school begins to confine them to home. Don't take a hurried trip without making sufficient preparations however, because accidents are accelerated sometimes when vacationing parties get a little careless in the closing days of the season. Get your school supplies ready to go back in September before you use the final days for tripping. That way, you'll be ready for a week's rest and complete relaxation before the Fall bell sounds for classroom work.

The people in Kansas are not impressed by plans for an Atheist Colony to be established in their midst. The Kansans are ready to fight this encroachment on their "civil rights." Yeah, the folks up in former PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S neighboring state are trying their dead-best to hang on to the Bible, the Flag, the Constitution, and to GOD. Under the KENNEDY BROTHERS administration, the task gets harder and harder. The Supreme Court has long since capitulated to the call of "isms" foreign to this country. There is a single going around Boston these days and it goes like this: "Here's to dear old Boston — where the beans and the cod — where the Lodges speak only to the Kennedys and the Kennedys depend on the court to define GOD."

School Board Adopts Budget, Hires Teachers

The Stanton School Board met Monday night in a called meeting and adopted the budget for the 1963-64 school term and hired four new teachers. Vice President James Eiland presided over the meeting.

Doug Sikes was hired to be a teacher in the junior high. He will teach girls physical education and math. Mrs. Sikes was also hired by the board. She will teach homemaking and social studies in the high school.

Mrs. Roberta Rogers was employed by the board to replace Miss Anita Slaughter who resigned last month.

Jerry Don Banks of Lubbock, was hired as the band director.

The board was unable to secure a suitable applicant for the auto mechanics class. This was a new class, which was to be offered in the school system for the first time. Since an applicant could not be secured, the class will not be offered.

Board members present were James Eiland, G. P. Harrell, Coats Bentley, Neil Fryar, James Biggs, and Marvin Hampton.

The board will not meet on the first Monday in September because of Labor Day, but will meet September 9, the second Monday in the month.

Local Officers Nab Big Spring Bandits

Stanton based police officers stopped a long chase down Highway 89 from Big Spring to seven miles West of this city early Tuesday morning by firing 23 bullets into a car driven by a 240-pound bandit fresh from a Big Spring service station robbery.

The pistol firing tally found Patrolman Bobby Papsan shooting 11 times; Chief of Police Johnny Murdoch turned loose six slugs at the fleeing bandits; Sheriff Dan Saunders let go four bullets and Papsan reloaded (not like they do it on tv) and finally brought the total to 23 by blasting out an additional two more shots. Incidentally the local trio found 11 bullet holes in the car, and one in the shoulder of one of the bandits.

Charged with armed robbery were Bruce Troy Melvin, 21, Chicago, who was shot in the right arm just below the shoulder, and Gary Allen Stack, 21, Monterey, California.

State Welfare Office Opens In Stanton

The State Department of Public Welfare has authorized the opening of a welfare office, a branch of the Medical Services Division, in this city.

Charles T. Hamilton, transferred from Austin, is to be the district supervisor for this county. He also covers 41 other counties in this state.

During our interview with Hamilton, we asked him what was the purpose of this new office. He replied: "Our main job is to classify with the different nursing homes of this area, according to the standards set up by the Public Welfare Department, as to the care required for the different categories of nursing home patients, and to see that these services are supplied and maintained."

Hamilton was born in Brownfield, Texas. He attended college for two years, and on September 12, 1942, he joined the United States Air Force, and served five years as a transport pilot. He then returned to Texas Technological College, graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree. Since then he has worked in Fort Worth, Lubbock and Austin for the State Department of Public Welfare.

Mr. Hamilton made the following comment about our city and its citizens: "For the past two weeks my stay in Stanton has been very enjoyable and friendly. In the future I hope to become personally acquainted with as many of the citizens here as possible."

City Absentee Voting Underway

Absentee voting started Wednesday, August 21, in the city elections which will be held here on September 10.

City Secretary Harvey White picked up the ballots at the newspaper office early Wednesday to meet legal requirements for the elections. Stanton residents may mark absentee ballots until September 6.

Municipal voters will cast votes for or against the Urban Renewal program, phase two and local voters must choose four councilmen at the same election.

Separate ballots have been prepared at the direction of city officials.

The ballot for councilmen will carry only the two names of announced council candidates. They are Juil Reed and Ed Robnett, both seeking the two open places for the unexpired terms of resigned councilmen whose terms will expire in 1965.

City voters will find it necessary to write in two names for the two places to be filled by resigned councilmen whose terms expire in 1964.

Lines have been provided on the printed ballot for this write-in purpose. Lines have also been provided on the ballot for two places below the two printed names of Reid and Robnett in case some voter wishes to scratch the announced candidates names and write in two more for the two expired council seats they are seeking.

Resigned councilmen include: Rufus Tom, Bob Deavenport, Jimmy Stallings and John Roueche.

J. A. Wilson Marks 33rd Anniversary

J. A. Wilson is marking his 33rd anniversary as a businessman in Martin County this week with a special birthday sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson moved to Stanton in 1930 from Mitchell County. They entered business in a building adjacent to the location of the then postoffice on the corner of Front Street and St. Peter. In 1933 the Wilsons purchased the building they occupy now and opened an expanded dry goods store.

In addition to the operation of the popular dry goods firm, the Wilsons own real estate and farm land in Martin County. They are members of the Baptist Church and both have participated in many civic and social organizations in the county.

Arthur Wilson has been associated with the J. A. Wilson store in Stanton for the past 17 years. Another son, Cullen, worked for a time in the store. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson moved to Stanton from Fort Worth.

"I have enjoyed every day of my association with the good people of Martin County — every day since opening on August 30, 1930," Mr. Wilson said.

"It has been a genuine pleasure to do business here and we treasure our friends who have made our operation of a store in Stanton successful," J. A. Wilson continued.

The store, in appreciation for 33 years of patronage, is offering some special values in this issue of The Stanton Reporter.

Resigned councilmen include: Rufus Tom, Bob Deavenport, Jimmy Stallings and John Roueche.

An Achievement?

In the winter of 1959 when Soviet Premier Khrushchev was making world peace propaganda of his plea for a nuclear test-ban treaty, U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had this to say:

"Since a (test-ban) treaty is what the Russians want, it wouldn't be difficult to come up with one which would look good on the surface. We could include in its all the fuzzy language of diplomacy — and believe me, I know some of the phrases—and present it to the world as a great achievement for peace. All of this would result in a relaxation of world tensions, generate a feeling of international goodwill, and probably elected a Republican President in 1960.

"But we're not going to do it. If we signed such a pact with the Soviets, there would develop a tremendous pressure to cut back on our defenses, reduce the size of our armed forces, and curtail our armaments. And we'd have only the word of the Russians that they were doing the same. Our NATO, SEATO, and other alliances would be endangered, perhaps to the point of deterioration. As a result, within a few years, we could be as a sitting duck for the Communists to pick off whenever they felt the time was ripe."

AFTER THREE TIE VOTES

New Bracero Plan Okayed By Senate

The Senate passed Thursday a bill to extend the Mexican farm labor program for another year after first adopting an amendment which sponsors of the bill said would effectively kill the entire program.

It was an afternoon of cliffhanger votes. There were three tie roll calls at 45-45. The key amendment was adopted 44-43.

The amendment, in effect, would require employers seeking Mexican laborers to offer domestic workers the same housing, transportation expenses, workmen's compensation and work period guarantees given to Mexican workers.

Measure Goes To House

Senate passage of the bill, by a vote of 69-24, sends the measure to the House, which earlier this year killed a two-year extension bill by a 15-vote margin.

The Senate bill was an attempt to revive the program after defeat of the House bill. Without some such bill, the program under which Mexican workers come into the United States each year to help harvest fruit, vegetable and other crops, will end December 31.

The bill passed by the Senate would extend the program until December 31, 1964.

Backed By Minnesota

The amendment to require benefits to domestic farm workers comparable to those given the imported workers were offered by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Min.) who said it would put the U. S. farm worker on a par with the Mexican worker.

When McCarthy first offered his amendment it lost on a 45-45 tie vote. A few minutes later he offered it in a slightly altered form and it was adopted 44-43.

Subsequently Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La.) moved to reopen the bill obviously for the purpose of knocking out the McCarthy amendment. Whereupon McCarthy moved to table Ellender's motion. Both motions lost on tie roll call votes of 45-45.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson, who has the right to vote in case of a tie, was absent from the Senate, keeping a speaking engagement in Detroit.

Just before passage, four Republican senators from the West and Southwest, Thomas Kuchel, Calif., Barry Goldwater, Ariz., Peter Dominick, Colo., and John Tower, Texas, expressed hope that the House could revise the Senate bill.

All argued the Senate version had virtually killed the program which was favored by Mexican leaders and needed by important agricultural areas in the United States.

Benefits Cited

Kuchel told of meeting in Mexico last year with parliamentary leaders of both nations who unanimously urged that the labor program continue.

Tower said that the program was Mexico's second most important means of earning U. S. dollars and a factor in Mexican-United States friendship.

Because he speaks Spanish, Goldwater said he knew from talking with many Mexicans, including workers, that the program has been the "most constructive thing we have done to improve relationships between the two nations."

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Get acquainted. Does this sound like something you've heard before? Many, many times?

Well you have. An you'll hear it again and again.

Despite all the combined efforts of the medical profession, public health officials, school officials, voluntary groups and many others, there still are countless millions of Americans who are facing unnecessary risk of disease, crippling and even death — simply because they have procrastinated about immunization.

There still are cases of tetanus, or lockjaw, every year. Almost every one is unnecessary. Tetanus toxoid offers excellent protection. Tetanus is a serious infection that often proves fatal. It's much too serious to take a chance.

Thanks to the vaccines, poliomyelitis is now down to a few hundred cases a year. But polio is still present in the United States, and is still a potential cripple or killer. Despite some eight years of steady campaigning for polio vaccinations, there still are millions of Americans unprotected. Have you had your polio vaccine? If so, have you had a booster lately?

Diphtheria is still dangerous and by no means wiped out, despite the fact that a vaccine has been available for years. Whooping cough is so common in childhood that most parents don't consider it serious. But whooping cough can be dangerous. It also can be prevented by vaccination.

Vaccines proved to be effective against measles have recently been developed. Ask your doctor about protection against measles for your children.

With the approach of the fall season and the time for schools to reopen, now is a good time to check up on your family's vaccination status. If anyone in the household is lacking any of the essential immunizations, see your doctor and bring your family's protection up to date.

Bible Comment—

True Greatness Is Won By Service And Humility

Learning to live together is the hardest lesson many of us must learn during the course of our daily lives. This task is not unique. Every group has faced the same problem and differences in personalities and personal jealousies.

Even the disciples suffered from these human frailties. Once, when someone had evidently offended Peter, he went to Jesus asking how many times a brother should offend his brother and be forgiven. Peter set, what apparently seemed to him to be a reasonable limit, asking: "Until seven times?"

But Jesus put forgiveness on a much larger basis with his answer "Not until seven times, but until seventy times seven." And it is on this greater plane that forgiveness should be considered if there is to be any true forgiveness at all. Thus the disciples were taught. They were extraordinarily fortunate in having such a teacher who also knew the meaning of greatness. He defined greatness in terms of service, saying: "He that would be greatest among you, let him be the servant of all." To make a deeper impression, He taught them by example, washing, their feet, and explaining that He was not to be ministered to, but to minister to others, even to give his life as a ransom for many. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," He said. Unfortunately, this has not yet been adopted as a creed by the world. But the world must acknowledge the true greatness of those who have adopted Jesus' standards as their own.

It is men like Father Damien, St. Frances, Dr. Gentell, and others who have become the servants of their fellowmen, who are honored and revered. They have learned the greatest lesson, that of living with and for others.

Philosopher Takes A Close Look At Idea Of Selling Farm Vacations To City People

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discovers a new idea on increasing farm income. His letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor:

With so many other grave problems facing the thinkers of the nation the farm problem generally has been ignored lately and it was therefore a pleasure to find an article in a newspaper last night getting back to the subject.

According to it, one way for a farmer to increase his dwindling income is to sell farm vacations to over-worked, wound-up city people. Instead of going to the beach or the mountains, a city family relaxes on a farm.

The way it works is, a wound-up city man comes out and spends a week or two in your home, away from the noise of the metropolis, where he can get close to nature, study your folkways, view the scenery, enjoy a simple life, help with the fascinating chores, watch the sun go down, eat three solid meals a day, walk through the countryside, sleep soundly, and awake to the sweet loosing of cows, which generally takes place around day-break.

Then he pays you for all this, and you take the money and light out on a vacation of your own.

Now I don't know whether this will work or not, but I can testify that I have tried it on a limited basis and my advice to any farmer planning on making money off of city visitors is to watch his prospective clientele pretty close.

I mean, the first thing you want to do is to steer clear of relatives and in-laws. You can do lots of business with them, but the financial gains are awfully meager. It's sort of like the foreign aid business, all you get is goodwill and that stops when the aid does.

If there are any city people who want to vacation on this Martin County grass farm, I want it understood it's cash in advance. I wouldn't be interested in a swap where I'd have to spend a week in the city. I don't need to un-wind. I never have wound up.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mount Ayr, Iowa, Record-News: "A businessman whose office was high up in a skyscraper, waited impatiently for a farmer, with whom he had an appointment. Finally, an hour and a half overdue, the farmer tottered into the office, puffing and panting. Farmer — Sorry I'm late, but it's a long climb up those sixty flights of stairs. Businessman — Stairs! Why didn't you come up in the elevator? Farmer — Wal, I kinda wanted to, but I just missed the turn thing."

4-H'ers Ponder: Which Came First, Chicken Or The Egg?

"The day my aunt gave me two setting hens and two settings of eggs was the day I started my poultry project," revealed a 17-year-old 4-H Club member. That was in 1958.

Last year the young poultry raiser had a flock of a thousand birds, was named state and national winner, and received a $400 4-H scholarship.

More award winners will be announced shortly by the Cooperative Extension Service. Six of the best 4-H poultry project members throughout the nation will receive $500 scholarships. Around 5,000 will earn a poultry medal and about 50 will win trips to the 1963 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the first week in December.

Awards are made possible through the Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc. of Kirkland, Wash., international poultry breeders and leaders in genetic research.

Scientific investigation also is an important part of the 4-H poultry program. Boys and girls need not necessarily live on a farm to participate in the program, says the Extension Service. Fascinating studies and experiments can be done without raising a large flock of birds.

How does light in laying houses affect egg production? Why use high energy feeds? How can flocks be kept disease-free? Why is the consumer able to buy fresher and better chickens and eggs today at reasonable prices? These are only a few of the answers sought by the young 4-H poultry project members.

Scores do go into raising birds and make a nice profit. Others concentrate on demonstrations, judging and marketing studies. Any of these specialties could lead to careers in the vast research, marketing or educational field of the modern poultry industry, club leaders observe.

"No longer is the hen expected to lay eggs, set on eggs three weeks and rear a flock of birds," points out an extension poultry specialist. And 4-H'ers are learning why not.

Largest Draft Call In Two Years Coming

State draft boards will get their biggest monthly quota in nearly two years in September.

The call for September asks for 609 men for Army service, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

This is the biggest state quota since November 1961, when the quota was 923.

The September call off 609 compares with 552 for August, 349 for July, and 187 for June. The September call is the state's share of a national quota of 12,000 men.

The state Selective Service director also announced pre-induction physical and mental examinations for 2,060 men in September.

Local board quotas for the September call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The September quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on September 1, except volunteers and those legally determined delinquent under the law, who may be younger.

Mrs. Joe Dean Hall

Nina Sharron Yater Weds Joe Dean Hall

The First Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday of Nina Sharron Yater of Stanton and Joe Dean Hall of Ackerly.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yater of Stanton are the parents of the bride, who is a graduate of Stanton High School. She attended Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hall of Ackerly. He is a graduate of Ackerly High School.

The couple will be at home in Ackerly after August 28.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Rev. C. R. LeMond. Mrs. James Jones was the organist and Cheryl Whiteside of Big Spring was the soloist.

Formal Dress

Mr. Yater gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of delusured satin and imported French lace. The bodice featured a scalloped scooped neckline and was enhanced with an Empire-length lace jacket. The chapel train fell from the back and was appliqued with the same lace as the jacket.

The bride's crown of pearls and a beaded rose held a fingertip-length veil of French illusion. She carried a bouquet designed by Mrs. Mildred McKay of Platonita. It was a crescent of stephanotis, ribbon rose-knots and American Beauty rosebuds on a satin covered Bible.

Mrs. Ed Billingsley of Ackerly was the matron of honor. Ann Yater was the maid of honor and Delores Lankford of Gail was the bridesmaid.

Crystal Peau Gowns
The bride's attendants wore dresses of sky blue crystal peau made with scooped necklines and bell skirts. The backs of the skirts were accented with free flowing panels topped with open petal roses. They also wore short white gloves and carried Colonial bouquets of stephanotis and American Beauty rosebuds.

Jerry Batson of Lubbock was the best man. The ushers were Jerry Hall and Don Shortes of Ackerly. Ed Billingsley of Ackerly and Darrell E. Wehmann of Shiner were the groomsmen. The candle lighters were Kattina Johnson of Stanton and Karen Blohm of Shiner. Marian Johnson was the flower girl and John M. Yater IV, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Citrus Fruits Supply Body With Vitamins

Summer is time for fun and active sports, and children will play hard in spite of the heat. Mothers could well take a tip from scientists and athletic coaches who see that plenty of the right kinds of fluids go with strenuous exercise in hot weather.

Dr. Yas Kuno, one of the world authorities on human perspiration, reports that a number of minerals and vitamins are lost in perspiration. When perspiring is excessive, the substance lost in greatest amounts can be replaced by salt (sodium chloride) tablets and ordinary drinking water.

Many of the other mineral and vitamin losses are well supplied by fresh citrus fruits or beverages made from citrus juices. In addition, moisture loss can also be replaced by the fresh citrus fruits and beverages since citrus contains 85 to 90 per cent water.

The combination of minerals, vitamins and moisture in citrus fruit beverages makes them far superior to soft drink beverages, some of which are prepared with water, from which the natural mineral contents

CAN SET MORE, TOO

Musial Has Many Baseball Records

Stan Musial, a sure-top future Hall of Famer, will leave a remarkable biography on baseball's record books.

One of his many glittering achievements even surprised old Casey Stengel and the ancient manager of the New York Mets is a tough man to catch off base when it comes to baseball statistics, past or present.

"Did you know," a Figure Filbert asked Casey early in the season, "that Musial is about to crack Babe Ruth's lifetime record for the most extra base hits?"

"That can't be," insisted Stengel but out came a record book and proved the old boy wrong.

A Remarkable Man

"Then you would have to say he really is a remarkable man to do something like that," said Casey. "Which," he added, "everybody knows."

Musial is, indeed, a remarkable man and most everybody knows it.

Even now, 22 years after he broke in sensationally as a pre-Pearl Harbor rookie, he retains a boyish enthusiasm for the game that brought him a legion of personal admirers equalled by few figures in the history of sport.

His loyalty to the St. Louis Cardinals — and vice versa — is well known.

And that's matched by his loyalty to the players of the 1960's who, he believes, could hold their own with the stars of what has come to be hailed as the "good old days."

Talent Always There

"No era hold a monopoly on baseball talent," Stan said recently, "I broke in against some of the great stars of the 1930's who had made their reputations against the stars of the 1920's. Styles may change and equipment may change but the talent always seems to be there."

In Musial's case, there was an abundance of talent plus grim determination to make good even after an Army injury washed him out as a pitcher. All told, he has led the National League or tied for the lead 40 times in various departments of play over the years.

When he hit the big leagues at the tag end of the 1941 season, he was a line drive hitter. In the last 12 games of the campaign, he sprayed so many line drives he worked up a .426 batting average and nearly made a cliff-hanger out of a pennant race the old Brooklyn Dodgers had just about wrapped up.

"It was a pitcher's league in those days," says Musial. "We had good ones like Bucky Walter, Paul Derringer, Van Mungo, Claude Passeau, Kirby Higbe and Whit Wyatt and not forgetting the Cardinal staff with Mort Cooper, Johnny Beasley and Ernie White.

Poll Shows Arizona Senator Ahead

Goldwater Leads Kennedy Easily In Texas, South

When Barry Goldwater is pitted against Jack Kennedy in a test race in Texas and the Deep South he wins easily according to the pollsters.

The latest "trial heat" figures in the South are: In Texas—71 per cent for Goldwater over Kennedy. In the South proper, all 13 states included, the Arizona senator tops Kennedy with a whopping 59 per cent of the votes as compared to 38 per cent for the president.

The Gallup poll predicts that "just 100 years after the Battle of Gettysburg, the traditionally 'Solid Democratic South' may be on its way to becoming the 'Solid Republican South'."

The trend away from the Democratic party to the Republican party in presidential elections actually began in 1948 when the combined vote of Dewey the GOP nominee and the independent voters backing Strom Thurmond of Carolina totaled 48 per cent in the South.

In the Presidential election in 1952 Eisenhower polled 48 per cent of the popular vote and in 1956 carried Texas and the South against Stevenson with a healthy 52 per cent of the total vote.

In 1960 Nixon came within a very narrow margin of winning a majority of the votes of the 13 southern states polling 49 and one-half per cent of the votes to Kennedy's 50.5 per cent.

With racial unrest on the increase and with white voters in the South highly critical of the Administration's civil rights program, leading Americans are swiftly lining up behind a Republican ticket.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Some of us work so hard at fishing, we take all the joy out of it. We spend so much of our time trying to catch a fish, or just covering the water, that we fail to get the complete relaxation that a fishing trip should provide.

Recently I was pleasure boating on a central Texas lake when I saw three fishermen, all of whom I knew. Each was working the shore line with his plug.

They had boated a few fish in the wee hours of the morning. But they hadn't caught a fish in more than two hours. Nevertheless, they were still hard at it — with the hot summer sun beaming down on them.

Before I got to their boat I could tell that each cast had lost its vigor. The men were tired. They admitted they had not stopped to rest all day.

I had a few bottles of soda pop in my ice chest so I pulled over to the shore, got out and offered each a drink and a chance to stretch his legs.

They had been sitting in a cramped position in the boat so long they could hardly stand. Their fish had been caught long before noon, but still they were plugging.

Too many of us fish that way. Most of the time we have but one day a week — sometimes only one a month — when we can get out and fish. Then, of course, we try to crowd everything into that one day. So we fish without regard for rest, or even food or drink.

I know a guide on a nearby lake who requires that his customers take time off to rest.

He gets them out at the crack of dawn, when fishing is at its best. About 10 o'clock he tells them they'll have just 30 minutes more of fishing. By 11 o'clock they are back at the dock.

He tells them to get into some lounging clothes, eat a good meal and meet him back at the dock at 2 o'clock. Then they will fish until sundown.

Once they've had a good meal, and their arms and bodies have had a chance to fully relax, they can fish hard the remainder of the afternoon and finish up at a time when the sunset is beautiful.

Another guide I know carries along a pint sized vacuum bottle of coffee for each fisherman in his boat. Along about 8 o'clock he stops for coffee and urges them to do likewise. At noon he refills each bottle with lemonade, orange juice, or milk.

With individual vacuum bottles each fisherman can take time out from fishing for a refreshing drink, then get going again. And without disturbing anyone else for a bottle opener, or rocking the boat while he rummages around in an ice chest.

A friend who recently made a float trip told me how that trip worked.

Each person also had his bottle of coffee. At 10 o'clock there was some fruit for them. At noon they pulled into the bank and spread out a picnic lunch.

Then they leaned back against a big tree trunk and just relaxed and talked or caught an hour of shuteye. As a result they started out fresh again for the afternoon.

Chances are they didn't miss a fish during the time they were resting.

When night came they were not exhausted from boating the water with their lures. The trip was refreshing.

Instead of a day of hard work they got full enjoyment from it.

We heartily recommend that you take along refreshments on that fishing trip — be it hot drinks or cold ones. They are fine mid-morning or mid-afternoon pepper-uppers.

Also, don't overlook that Mexican exercise known as a siesta. A little nap can add a lot to the enjoyment of a trip and to your physical condition at the end of the day.

CANAL STREET STREETCARS GOING

New Orleans Loses Trolleys

A transit modernization program, resulting in the removal of streetcars from Canal Street, was approved by the city council 6-0 Thursday, over protests of several citizens.

Removal of the streetcars from world-famous Canal Street will leave only one route for the old trolleys . . . St. Charles Avenue.

Some citizens protested removal of the traditional streetcars, which run from the Mississippi River to the picturesque cemetery section in Lakeview, would be a loss to tourists.

Most civic groups, however, gave support to the proposal by the New Orleans Public Service Inc., which operates the city transit system.

Streetcars will be replaced with diesel buses. The modernization program will cost Public Service $4 million.

Hot Checkers To Draw Jail Time After Friday

Effective Friday, August 23, check writers must have money in the bank or go to jail, for authoring a hot one.

Heretofore, hot check writers have been able to pay fines in most instances. A new Texas law makes the jail sentence compulsory or mandatory—it must be served.

And all worthless check prosecutions must originate in the county or district courts. The justice courts will no longer have jurisdiction in such cases, because that division of the judicial system has no authority to serve up jail sentences.

The range of punishment under the new law is left largely to the judge or jury. It may be as little as $1 and one day in jail or as much as $1,000 and two years in jail.

The new law is reminiscent of the state DWI misdemeanor penalty. This law, too, carries a mandatory jail sentence, but in DWI cases the convicted persons must serve three days.

Checks of $50 and over are classified as usual felony offenses. Conviction under the law of felony check charge carries a penalty of not less than two nor more than ten years in state prison.

The best advice for anyone pondering the writing of a check in the future is to be sure and keep the ink and bank balance black — else Black Friday could initiate bad news for the "in the red" hot check artist.
