Bob Priddy, Educational Director for the First Baptist Church, announced plans this week for coming church activities.

Monday, September 9, marks the beginning of Women's Missionary Union week of prayer for State Missions. All members of the WMU will set aside this week for special prayer.

The Brotherhood will meet September 12 in their regular meeting of the month. An interesting program has been planned for the men at this meeting.

Each third Thursday of the month is set aside by members of the Sunday School as all day visitation. September 19 will be visitation day for the workers.

September 22 will be observed as Harvest Day in Sunday School. This day is held each year the Sunday before Promotion Day.

Promotion Day will be September 29, the last Sunday in the month. All Sunday School members will be promoted to the new classes during the Sunday morning Sunday School hour.

The first week in October is being set aside by the church as Sunday School Preparation Week. A book will be taught during this to all members of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Douglas and children visited last week in Artesia, New Mexico with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Butcher.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Uhlman and family have returned from vacation where they toured six states and visited with relatives in Alabama.

Seminole Girl Wins District Queens Contest

Elita Clanton, 18, graduate of Seminole High School, was named winner of the District Six Farm Bureau Queen's contest, which was held in Lamesa August 30. Miss Clanton will represent the district in the state contest in November.

Miss Clanton was selected by judges out of a field of approximately a dozen young ladies in the district eliminations.

First runner up in the contest was Jean Hillen, Pecos, and the second runner up was Peggy Corley, representing Coke County.

Martin County was represented by Ann Yater, a 1963 graduate of Stanton High School. Ann plans to enter Southwest Texas State College at San Marcus this fall.

In addition to the queen's contest, there was a student talk meet. Marvin Jones of Tom Green County, won the talk contest and will go to the state meet.

Judy Ater, Nolan County entry, captured the talent contest honors, with a medley of popular songs.

Approximately 300 persons attended the contest held in the Lamesa High School Auditorium.

Miss Newman Marries Jackie Don Crawford

The parsonage at Wesley Methodist Church of Big Spring, was the scene for Miss Ginny Elizabeth Newman's marriage to Jackie Don Crawford.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Newman, Lomax, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crawford of Big Spring.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered organdy styled with a full, street length skirt, scalloped neckline and sleeves and a lowered V-shaped waistline.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Willard Doisher of Stanton, was matron of honor, with Melvin Fryar serving as best man to the bridegroom.

Mr. Peters Carves Underground 'City'

By FRANK X. TOLBERT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in the column of Frank X. Tolbert in The Dallas Morning News on Sunday, September 1. We are reprinting it here for the news interest it holds for Martin County people. Mr. Tolbert owns one of the finest reputations in national journalism. He is an author, historian and newsmen without a peer.)

SPEAKING OF DIGGING up things, a fellow who lives near Stanton, Martin County (out between Big Spring and Midland) has been digging an underground "city" beneath his little ranch for two decades.

Also in the cave, there are two water wells and a blacksmith shop. And Mr. Peters allows his livestock to roam in and out of the cave and its tunnels.

Another Clemmens Peters project is a well with four levels which he has dug down to a depth of about 70 feet.

EVIDENTLY, MR. PETERS doesn't want any messy old oil wells in his new City of Mariensfeld. There are producing oil wells around him yet he has refused to lease his land for petroleum exploration. Also, he scorns to take Social Security or any other moneys from the government.

THE EARLY GERMAN settlers of Stanton, then called Mariensfeld, had a tough time of it in the 1880's. A big rancher who owned or leased the surrounding rangelands objected when the farmers raised barbed wire all around their properties.

DON'T KNOW MUCH about the next wave of settlers. Only there must have been many persons from the northern reaches of the nation. For, in 1890, the title of the town was changed from Mariensfeld to Stanton, in honor of Edwin M. Stanton, the secretary of war in Abraham Lincoln's cabinet.

THIS DEPARTMENT was instrumental in getting a live buffalo mascot for the Stanton High School athletic teams, which are called the Buffaloes. Mentioned that the high school wanted a pet buffalo and was surprised when several persons offered to donate the animals.

One was accepted, the gift of the Josey Ranch people, and hauled out to Stanton in a truck driven by former high school football players. Only then a spoil-sport school administration stepped in and made the kids get rid of their mascot.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Many millions of Americans will take to the fields and forests this fall to hunt everything from cottontail rabbits to Canadian moose.

At least 200 of these hunters will be brought back dead. They'll be killed in accidents involving guns.

And back of almost every hunting accident is one cause, carelessness.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers some basic pointers that will help you both to return unscathed from your hunting trip and to avoid bagging a fellow hunter.

Never climb through or over a fence with a loaded gun. Unload the gun, then reload after you've crossed.

Never shoot at a flat, hard surface. Ricocheting bullet can kill or wound at long distances.

Never look down the barrel of a gun to see whether it's loaded. You can't tell by looking down the barrel anyway, and there's always the chance of an accident.

Always carry a gun so that you control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you're ready to shoot.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without first unloading it. Store guns and ammunition safely out of the reach of children.

Unload guns carried into camp or home. Keep guns cased until reaching the hunting area. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions, such as mud or snow.

Alcohol and guns definitely don't mix. Avoid drinking while you're carrying a loaded gun.

Above all, treat a gun with respect. Never point it at a human. It might go off.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

by Vera Sanford

SILENT SHELLS

Why take a chance when the big old buck is pussy footing through the woods toward you — the spare shells in your pocket might clink together. In the silent woods, a slight sound can make a noise like an explosion. Poof! The buck vanishes like magic. Stow shells in "store-bought" cases or wrap with a light rubber band.

PLEASING PLASTIC

Remember when saving string was a big thing? Well, today's fisherman is a plastic saver. By keeping an eye out for odd bits of plastic, a supply is built up that adds sex appeal to spoons, feathers, trolling lures of all kinds.

STORING OUTBOARD MOTOR

To maintain the finish on your outboard motor through the long winter, mix oil and gasoline half and half and spray motor inside and out. Gas evaporates, leaves motor covered with light protective film. Next Spring wash off with detergent and water and you're ready to go.

HOSE HOLDERS

Here's an ingenious idea that sol-ves a knotty fishing problem with little work and no expense. There are times when you want to carry your rod to another fishing spot, but don't want to dismantle it. So you put the hook in a guide, tighten the line and get going. But keeping hooks, lines, lures from getting tangled is a headache. And if there are several rods all wrapped together, the situation can get chaotic. One reader solves this problem by cutting small inch-long pieces of rubber hose of the 3/8 or 1/2 inch variety. Each hunk he slices in a long cut that enables the hose to be opened, slipped over rod, line and lure. Natural rubber action closes the hose, holds the whole thing securely. In five minutes you can make a couple dozen hose holders that will last indefinitely. Indefinitely until you lose 'em, that is.

SHOOTING STAND OF IRON

An old ironing board that folds up for closet storage also will fold up to go in your car's back seat, or trunk. In shooting country, however, along with a folding camp chair it makes an excellent rifle bench rest. A shooting stand of iron, so to speak.

KING SIZE STRINGER

One reader (who must be some fisherman) uses a wax sash cord for a stranger. (That part is okay.) Then he tips each end with metal points to slide the fish on easier. So far so good. (Now comes the king size part.) Next step is to stretch the stringer FROM THE BOW OF THE BOAT TO THE STERN. (This guy really thinks big!) Seems then no matter which end you are slaughtering them from, the stringer is right there to hold 'em on. (He's all man, this boy!)

Col. Paul Carlson Named Regional Commander Of SA

Mrs. Paul Carlson

Col. Paul Carlson

The Texas Division of the Salvation Army has been notified of the appointment of Colonel Paul J. Carlson as territorial commander of the Southern Territory, effective November 1, according to Brigadier B. Gordon Swyers, Texas divisional commander. On assuming the post, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. Colonel Carlson will direct the activities of 15 southern states, the District of Columbia and Mexico.

As the largest division in the Southern Territory, Texas is expected to be among the first of the states to be visited by Colonel Carlson and his wife.

Colonel and Mrs. Carlson, who share equal rank, are succeeding Commissioner and Mrs. William Davidson in the southern appointment. Commissioner Davidson, who has been a frequent speaker in Texas cities, has been appointed territorial commander of the Eastern Territory of the Salvation Army with headquarters in New York City. His new command will also be effective November 1, according to the directives from General Wilfred Kitching, International commander of the Salvation Army with headquarters in London, England.

Colonel Carlson is presently chief secretary of the 11 state Eastern Territory, serving as second in command to Commissioner Holland French since February 1, 1962. He has 39 years experience as an officer, having received his commission in June, 1924, from the Salvation Army School for Officers' Training in New York City.

An outstanding administrator and finance officer, Colonel Carlson has seen Army accounting techniques evolve into efficient and modern procedures.

"Stewardship of Salvation Army funds has been considered such an important part of our accountability to God," he says, "that every step has been taken to assure that our records can stand the scrutiny of today's standards of acceptable accounting practices and procedures."

The Colonel was born in Worcester, Mass., one of seven children, to Swedish-American officer-parents recognized for outstanding leadership in Salvation Army corps. He entered training for officership while in his teens. For many years he was a cornetist in the New York Staff Band. He is presently one of the Eastern Territory's most popular speakers.

Like her husband, Mrs. Colonel Carlson is a second generation Salvationist and a musician. She will succeed Mrs. Commissioner Davidson as Southern Territorial president of the Home League and League of Mercy Departments and Nurses Fellowship.

September, October Named As P-TA Enrollment Months

Gov. John Connally has designated September and October as P-TA Membership Enrollments Months in Texas. The theme for the period is Children and Schools Need You in the P-TA. Join This Important Team Today.

The governor said, in part, "On October 19, 1963, the organization's aim was and so remains 'to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community' . . . Few, of any, organized groups have enjoyed such a tremendous growth. This is undoubtedly due to the challenging program which appeals alike to men and women of all occupations and professions."

Gov. Connally called upon the citizens of the state "to assist this distinguished organization's important program."

The Texas Congress, second in membership among the states, with a total of 783,624, is preceded only by California. The national membership is 12,131,318.

Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state president, in inviting interested citizens to join their P-TAs and participate in the program pointed out the overall object of the organization — the best education for all children. She said this can be attained only through the combined efforts of both parents and teachers.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins of Long Island, N. Y., national congress president, has explained that the P-TA is a voluntary association where mothers, fathers, teachers, school administrators and other friends of children and youth come together to work together, where they explore roads to reach their goals for children and schools.

Inspection Stickers Now Available

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the new 1964 vehicle inspection sticker becomes available September 1 at all Official Inspection Stations in Texas.

"During the summer months, the department has conducted intensive re-training schools for all owners and mechanics of inspection stations," Garrison said. "These men are now qualified and they are ready to serve the motoring public in their vehicle inspection needs."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official stations between now and April 16, 1964. Operators of vehicles not displaying the new sticker by that date will be in violation of the law.

Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected at the earliest possible time and pointed out:

"Since the vehicle inspection program began in Texas, vehicle defects as causative factors in motor vehicle accidents has been reduced from 13 per cent in 1961 to five per cent in 1962. We have every reason to hope that with continued voluntary compliance with this law, accidents can be further reduced."

clown and red punch was served to the guests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Snell and Denby, Mr. and Mrs. Bub Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. T. Y. Allen, and Martha Kay Henderson of Midland.

The honoree was presented with gifts by those present.

Poisonous Snakes Bulletin Now Available

"Red and yellow kill a fellow," has been used by many outdoorsmen to help them identify the venomous coral snake found in most counties of the eastern half of Texas.

The cottonmouth, rattlesnakes and copperheads may lack some of the coral snake's brilliance, but they possess their share of venom and have characteristic scale patterns and colors that distinguish them to the hunter, fisherman, hiker or bird-watcher.

Texas' 16 species and subspecies of poisonous snakes, with full color illustrations of each, are described in the Park and Wildlife Department's revised Bulletin No. 31, "The Poisonous Snakes of Texas and the First Aid Treatment of Their Bites."

John E. Werler, the author, also provides the color photographs for this attractive and informative publication. Mr. Werler, director of the Houston Zoological Gardens, has performed a real service of Texas outdoorsmen with his treatment of poisonous snake recognition and an even greater service with suggestions and precautions of be used at home and in the field which will help prevent snake bite. He presents a modern, step-by-step, recommended procedure on the first aid treatment of snake bite as well as helpful information on snake bite diagnosis and suggestions to physicians who may treat snake bite victims.

This bulletin is now available for free distribution. For your copy, write to: Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas, 78701.
