Saturday is Memorial Day. It is one of the days a majority of the members of the Chamber of Commerce designated as a holiday to be observed. As important as Memorial Day is to the people, business in small communities is important too. Taking Saturday for a holiday is unusual in a town the size of Stanton. Of course, the post-office, federal offices and offices in the courthouse will be closed. Perhaps it would be more fitting and proper for all of us to observe this Sunday as Memorial Day, for after all, the sacredness of the occasion does not call for merriment, fishing trips, or safety, but rather to pause and reflect for a day on the sacrifices our war dead made for us. What better day than the Sabbath could be picked for such reflection?

The other day a very interesting article over the byline of our friend SAM BLACKBURN appeared in the BIG SPRING HERALD about an area landmark with a history. SAM wrote that a house located in the Howard County city was being removed and told of three distinguished families that lived in the house in the past. He mentioned the QUINN family as former occupants. We got interested and kept reading until we found a part of the history of the QUINN family. We have often wondered why REAR ADMIRAL JOHN QUINN, now living in Washington, D. C. subscribed to our newspaper. We found out quickly. The QUINN family was most prominently associated with this section of Texas for a long time. The ADMIRAL'S mother once taught school in Stanton. He was the son of the late MR. and MRS. J. T. QUINN. They were a ranching family who came to the Stanton area in 1880 and settled on 19 sections of land between here and Big Spring. ADMIRAL QUINN still owns the land. SAM BLACKBURN wrote in his article: "MRS. MABLE QUINN, (the admiral's mother) a remarkable woman, was graduated from Baylor University in 1881. It is recorded MRS. QUINN received four degrees from the school simultaneously — which, for any time, is unusual, and for the day when she lived, almost unheard of. She came to the ranch with her husband, and in 1882 she began teaching school in Stanton. She taught for many years. In 1918, her husband died, and MRS. QUINN and JOHN moved to Big Spring. ADMIRAL QUINN attended school in Big Spring and following graduation from high school there entered the University of South California. Later he served in the Navy in World War Two and in the Korean War. He is married and has a son, TOMMY, a graduate of Annapolis and now in the U. S. Navy following in his distinguished father's footsteps. We are mighty proud to have REAR ADMIRAL JOHN QUINN on our mailing list. And in SAM BLACKBURN'S fine story we have found another famous man who once lived in these parts.

TALL TOMATO GROWER—Mrs. W. S. McDonald, shown above standing beside the champion plant she succeeded in growing last season has "put in" another garden and another Porter plant she hopes will better the one which yielded many pounds of delicious tomatoes in 1963. This year, in her garden, Mrs. Mac, as she is affectionately known by friends, is including some McDonald berries. The McDonald berry is a combination of the dewberry and blackberry. Stanton Adds Four Tenths To May Total

In Martin County a good splashing, soil soaking shower is sometimes as welcome as a drenching rain, especially after long dry days of no moisture at all.

Bible School Dates Set At Courtney

The First Baptist Church at Courtney has scheduled their Vacation Bible School, June 8th through the 12th, at the church. Mrs. Joe Boadle will be the school principal, and Rev. J. R. Williams will be the Vacation Bible School pastor. Hours for the school will be 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Classes will be offered from beginner age through intermediates. Activities will include Bible study, mission study, character stories, creative activities, recreation and refreshments in each of the departments. Parents night will be observed on Friday night at 8:00 p.m., with a worship service in the auditorium followed by an open house in each of the departments where work and achievements will be displayed. Mrs. A. B. Johnson will be superintendent of the intermediate department; Mrs. L. R. Shoemaker, Junior II; Mrs. Thearl Creech, Junior I, and Mrs. J. R. Williams, beginner department.

A four-tenths of an inch shower spread across Stanton Tuesday night late and early Wednesday morning. Coupled with a five-tenths rain about 12 days ago, this gives the county hub city a moisture total of just under a full inch. In the Tarzan area about four-tenths also drenched the parched fields on Tuesday evening and the same average continued in the Badgett community on the Edmund Morrow place. The communities are located more than 20 miles from Stanton in the northern sector of the county. In the Valley View community about 17 miles northeast of Stanton a total of just one-tenth was registered. G. P. Harrell reported the same amount, one-tenth, at Courtney, ten miles northwest of the county capital. Joe Stewart said one-tenth was captured on his rain gauge five miles west of Stanton and two-tenths fell in the Lenora community. At press time skies in Martin County were dark and cloudy and the weather forecast was for more late evening showers. So, with enough small showers, the soft, soaking, sticking kind, a certain amount of blessed moisture can be drilled into the land just in time to further the progress of crops in the area.

Mahon Admits He's Not Fighter Like Predecessor

Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Texas, the new chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, said that in at least one area he is more conservative than his predecessor, Rep. Clarence Cannon. "Mr. Cannon was a big public power man, and he gloried in the fight," Mahon said of the 85-year-old Missourian who died last week. "I'm more middle of the road in this area." In an interview, Mahon indicated many subtle differences in philosophy, and gave the impression that his views are more in accord with those of President Johnson than Cannon's were. For instance: "On foreign aid: 'I think Mr. Cannon was opposed to all foreign aid. I have felt a certain amount of foreign aid, military and economic, is in the best interest of the United States. I have voted for a lot of reductions, but generally I've supported foreign aid.' —On the $5 billion-plus space program which Cannon looked on with some disfavor: 'A lot of people are skeptical, but we have launched it and I feel we have put our hand to the plow and we shouldn't look back. The over-all benefits will be tremendous. Going to the moon is incidental.' (Continued on page 5)

Stanton Boys Bag Bobcat

Three local boys out hunting rabbits flushed out a little more interesting game in the form of a bobcat on Monday. Kenneth Owens, Eugene Owens, and Luther Gossett, who shot the cat, were hunting rabbits five miles east and north of Stanton, when they came upon two bobcats in the ruins of an old barn. Luther shot one of them in the head, but the other one was last seen heading east as fast as it could travel. The cat they brought by the office weighed between 45 (Continued on page 5)

Everybody Has A Personal Interest In Public Notice

By Dr. Charles L. Allen, Director School Of Journalism Oklahoma State University It is so easy to see how the other fellow profits from a venture, and so difficult to acknowledge that we also gained from the same deal. Everybody can see that printing a public notice makes some money for the publisher, and for the lawyer, and perhaps a fee for some public office. But few will readily admit that they — the bakers, the butchers, the plumbers, tradesmen in all lines of merchandise and service; and yes, even the teachers and preachers — also have a deep selfish interest in public notices. They stand to profit the most from this guarantee of "freedom to know." You may not agree. You also may not agree that a basic freedom guaranteed in the U. S. Constitution — Freedom of the Press — was intended solely for the protection of the people. It does not belong to editors or publishers, or reporters. It was not designed to be a guarantee of a newspaperman's right to tell anything but the facts. It is the guarantee of the people's right to know. It insures the right of YOU and YOU to have access to information which you need to be a good citizen, an intelligent voter, and to protect your rights to free speech, freedom of assembly, trial by jury and your property rights. Think on these matters, and you will soon see how the free press protects YOU, and every one of your freedoms. It is a basic principle in law and ethics that every right a human enjoys is balanced by some equal obligation or duty. It is also a basic (Continued on page 5)

Martin County Included In Salt Water Survey

Progress by the oil industry in handling salt water disposal problems in Martin and Andrews counties was claimed in a new survey released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. Martin and Andrews counties comprise an area to be considered by the Texas Water Pollution Board at a hearing to be held in Austin this week. The survey, made in conjunction with the association's water conservation program, disclosed that 71 per cent of produced salt water is being put back underground through injection or disposal systems in the two counties, as compared with 1961. New projects currently under way or in the planning stage will increase by another 13 per cent the portion of salt water production going into injection - disposal systems, the new survey disclosed. Bible Comment— 'Character' Is Great Theme In Bible

What the Bible has to say about character is not to be found in one place, it permeates the Great Book, from Genesis to Revelation.

After its supreme theme—the message concerning the character of God, and the glorious Gospel of His grace—it is the Bible's greatest theme of man's relationship to God and to his fellow man.

Nor are these greatest themes of the Bible in any sense separate and unrelated. Jesus said to His disciples: "Be ye perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect." It is in being godly, like God, that man attains his highest and best.

This close linking of man and his God is the distinctive quality of Judaism and Christianity. Most other religions have been characterized by fear, not in the sense of awe and veneration in the presence of a Perfect Being, but in abject, appealing fear and humiliation.

When that ancient Hebrew writer declared that God had made man in His own image, it might equally have been said that man was conceived of God in his human image; but either way it was a profound conception.

With such a conception of God as the supreme perfection of all that man saw in the promptings of his own soul, man's aspiration toward that Perfect Being became, at least in the truly saintly, the one great goal of life and character.

The power of that self-discipline, as the fundamental element in character, became expressed in a spiritual daring the likes of which has seldom been equaled elsewhere in religious experience.

Philosopher Finds Comfort In Learning Lady Bird's Farm Makes Only 7 Cents An Acre

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw takes note of a certain famous farmer this week.)

Dear editor:

There are some types of news that sort of jump out at you from a newspaper and then continue to stare you in the face throughout the day.

A sample of the news I read in a newspaper yesterday morning before I began my day's work. Some farmers fill up their tractor with oil and gas and then take off, but I always figured I ought to fuel up my mind too and consequently like to look over a newspaper before starting out so my brain will have something to operate on also.

Sometimes you don't find much, but then sometimes it doesn't take much for a brain to run on. If you will adapt your brain to whatever newspaper is handy, you'll find you can get by on very little, and while I'm not naming any newspapers, frequently it's a necessity.

According to this item, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, the President's wife, made only $284 profit on a 4000-acre farm in Alabama last year.

I thought about this all day and came to some conclusions.

In the first place, this proves the folly of keeping books on a farming operation. It's a lot better to wind up a year knowing you didn't do so well than to know you made only 7 cents an acre, which is what Mrs. Johnson's farm made. At that figure, a man would need 50,000 acres to clear only $3,500 a year, and there's not that much land to go around on earth, even if you count the floor of the ocean. Mrs. Johnson says she's saving this land for her children, but you reckon that's a favor to them?

In know this is unscientific, but I don't care to know in black and white how much per acre this Martin County grass farm is making.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

A flameless ELECTRIC water heater needs no flue ... installs almost anywhere

You'll have greater flexibility in kitchen and home planning, when your water heater is flameless electric. Because an electric water heater needs no flue or ventilation, you can install it almost anywhere, close to the point of greatest use. You can put it under a counter top, beneath a stairway, in an otherwise wasted corner, even way back in a tightly enclosed closet. An electric water heater with immersed heating elements is fast and efficient, too. And because it's flameless, it's clean, safe and completely silent in its operation. Clark Sees Texas Tops In Nation

Texas will be the fastest growing state in the nation by 1980 and the nation's largest state by 2,000, predicts Harry W. Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Clark, a veteran of 26 years in industry-luring, bases his prediction on the present rate of industrialization in Texas and on the fact that Texas, while far behind California and New York in population, is further from the "saturation point."

Total value of manufacturing construction in Texas in the first quarter of this year was more than $38 million, up to 72 per cent over the same period last year, Clark said.

Last year 317 new plants were located in Texas, the second-best year on record.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Udell Morris and family during the past weekend were Janie Morris of Bethany, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morris and sons of Cisco, and Rev. and Mrs. Bill Morris of Rotan.

Squalls Only Delay Nesting

Recent high winds, hail and heavy rains in parts of West Texas have hindered nesting game birds only to a minor degree, according to West Texas game wardens.

Blustery spring blows accompanied by rain and hail have soaked and scattered poorly constructed dove and quail nests, but Mother Nature equipped these important game species to re-nest after such disturbances with nothing more than time being lost.

Bobwhite, scaled quail and mourning doves bend with the elements and bounce back with renewed nesting efforts after early spring storms. Hatches of young may be a week or so later this year because of windy rain storms, but hatches are anticipated non-the-less.

(Continued from page 1) six other Baptist groups, including Northern and negro conventions. The action was taken in Atlantic City, where the Southern Baptists were in session. DR. C. C. WARREN of Charlotte, N. C., who has been heading the Baptist jubilee advance program, said here was no intention of dragging the Southern group into any church councils. "It does not belong to the National Council of Churches," he said. The preacher who has been heading the National Council is, in our humble estimation, as prejudiced as they come.

The mails brought us a copy of a club magazine last week and one of the pages near the front was reserved for the president's column. We read it in the bathroom. It was the only reading material we found in there at the time. The president used "I, Me, and My" forty-two times on one brief page. The message was silly, too personal, and sadly and badly composed for the printer. It sounded like the incoherent ramblings of a tranquilized trolop on a timeless and thoughtless tour. In other words the president's message stunk.

The visitor who entered my house by the back door Wednesday morning should have been more considerate. He took our green stamps, and a few more valuables but forgot to pick up our water and electric bills. We left the door open for our maid. The maid didn't show but the burglar did. The loss was not insured.

(Continued from page 1) principle of law and ethics that for every right YOU enjoy there is an equal right enjoyed by some other person or persons.

Every right, or privilege, in this world carries with it an awesome responsibility.

It is the tremendous responsibility of the newspapers of America to keep our populace currently and adequately informed. This is the obligation they embrace when they become truly the instruments of a "Free Press."

Public notice is another aspect of the free press principle which also protects the rights of all the people. Everybody, without exception, has a stake in preserving this traditional method of informing the people about legal matters.

Let's consider the businessman, the grocer, the grain elevator man, the coal and wood dealer, all the tradesmen. They, more than the average citizen, need to know how the public's funds are being spent—and where. They have a right to know these things because every governmental body should purchase materials, supplies and equipment from local businessmen whenever possible. In several states the state institutions are required to buy from in-state firms if these firms can supply their needs. It is recognized as a principle of good business to keep the money "at home" when you can.

Mothers and fathers, especially those who have children in school, are vitally interested in what the school board does.

What it buys, where and what it pays for it. Furthermore, because the school board does business continuously, the members of the PTA and others with school-age children need to know what is going on from week to week and month to month. Fact is, the money the school board is spending belongs, not to the board, but to these people and the other taxpayers.

We could go on and on. Every taxpayer has the right to know what happened at county commissioners' meeting, how the school district treasurer spent school funds, and exactly what the city council's proposal is for zoning. These, we must repeat are things the people have a right to know. And they have an equal obligation to become well informed about them.

Although everybody has some self-interest in preserving the American system of keeping the people informed, perhaps no one is more affected by it than the public official. We seldom find a dedicated public servant who does not realize the importance of a free press and also the necessity of public notice. In this writer's experience as the editor-publisher of five newspapers, only one official opposed the publishing of a report required by law. His opposition was very short-lived because other school treasurers in the county soon explained things to him.

At a matter of fact, the honest public official — and 99 out of 100 men in public office are both honest and hard-working — WANTS to report to his public periodically. It is the newspaperman's job to publish a paper every week or every day so that the medium will be ready when the public official needs it. This may be seldom, or very often, but the official will most certainly have need for a way to get his story to the people.

There are few notices required to be published in a country ruled by a dictator. For that matter there are mighty few newspapers in any country ruled by a tyrant. He sees to that as soon as he grabs power. The newspapers are immediately shut down, their plants padlocked or confiscated. The few that remain are edited strictly for the dictator's pleasure and to peddle his warped philosophy of life and politics. A free press can exist only in a free country.

Dedicated public officials know what happens when a dictator seizes a country and they know that the second thing he does is to arrest and imprison all public officials who disagree with him. After the newspapers are destroyed, the politicians are next. And those who take over as public officials, are completely lacking in a sense of loyalty to the people.

This being true, our American public officials welcome the opportunity to make an accounting of their stewardship. Much of what a public official does is to do what he does will never reach the people unless it is brought to them in an official publication. Yet this report of his day-to-day or month-to-month activities — particularly the accounting for the handling of public monies — may be far more important than the extraordinary things that make news.

Publishers acknowledge their gratitude to public officials for the part these public servants have played in helping to draft and to sponsor good laws on public notice. It is earnestly hoped that this fine cooperation will continue, and the the public will be made more aware of these activities that protect the people's "right to know."

When casting live minnows . . . or at times when you are getting strikes on live minnows, but aren't hooking the fish . . . try using two snelled hooks instead of the usual one hook. Lace one hook through minnow's back fin, the other through lips. Neither impairs live minnow's action but you can cast and catch better.

Baking soda is a good camp companion. It will put out a campfire, clean odor from hands, and help remove pot stains and help indigestion.

Granddaughter Local Couple Tapped For Beauty Honor

Darla Kay Randolph

Darla Kay Randolph, great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ward of Stanton, was chosen out of more than 200 children as Miss Golden Triangle in Beaumont recently.

The children, aged one to five years, were from all towns and cities near Beaumont. A panel of judges chose the most beautiful child out of each age class, basing their decisions on beauty, poise and personality. The five finalists appeared before a large audience at the municipal auditorium and the judges selected the one they thought would make the best Miss Golden Triangle. Darla Kay was also chosen queen of her age class (two years old). This was determined on a basis of health, beauty and friendship. The young Miss Golden Triangle and her court were dressed lavishly in royal blue costumes.

The photo published above shows Darla Kay with the two trophies awarded her. She also received two certificates for her outstanding health and beauty.

Darla Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Randolph of Beaumont. Her other grandparents, also residing in Beaumont are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Brown.

Dealers, Old And New Praise Mrs. Johnson

Lady Bird Johnson, often referred to as the vice-president to the President, is following closely in the footsteps of one of the American women she admired the most—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

One of the better known of the old New Dealers, U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, a warm personal admirer of Lady Bird, says Mrs. Johnson has been given the mission to "carry forward the imperishable work of Eleanor Roosevelt."

Mrs. Johnson has pitched in to join her husband in every endeavor from outright politicking to polite and formal entertaining at the White House. And every month, her calendar of activity, issued by her press secretary, seems to get longer.

It's no secret she plans to start downright campaigning before long. Every day, Mrs. Johnson is bearing down on the administration's declarations against poverty and prejudice. And she realizes as an astute political phrase maker that just about anybody opposed to helping the poverty stricken is cast into the same situation as being against God, home and mother. It's good politicking indeed.

Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg, spokesman for the present New Dealers, and wife of one of the nine Supreme Court justices, commented recently: "Mrs. Johnson has been such a shot in the arm to women in their middle years by being so active and attractive."

Mrs. Johnson does just about everything, her backers say, from holding Johnson's hat while he speaks, to watching the clock for him. Almost from the start, Mrs. Johnson has been compared to the late Mrs. Roosevelt who traveled widely to discuss her ideologies.

A new travel record could be in the making if President Johnson is elected in November for a First Lady.

John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil Company (Indiana), said, "It is hardly surprising that corporations have tended to grow in a country which has elevated growth itself to the status of a national goal; and growth we have surely had, ranging from the unprecedented in population to the breath-taking in technology. In the process, corporations—as one of our key social institutions and themselves a prime source of growth in wealth, techniques, and ideas—have also increased in both number and size."

Highway Patrol Leader Urges Safe Memorial Holiday Driving

Capt. Ray B. Butler, commander of the Texas Highway Patrol's 24-county Midland district, appealed to motorists Saturday "not to kill more persons during the Memorial Day holiday than were killed in the battles we commemorate."

"Each year during this Memorial Day period," he pointed out, "more fatalities result on the highways in this country than those who died in many of the battles of American history! And the cause usually is carelessness, drinking or fatigue."

Butler urged persons starting out Thursday or Friday for a holiday trip to check beforehand to make certain that headlights, turn signals and brakes are in proper working order.

"It is especially important," he cautioned, "that anyone who has been drinking doesn't try to drive. Our men are going to be on the lookout in particular for drunken drivers, because drinking is the principal cause of highway deaths not only in our district but all over the state."

Rest areas are provided at frequent intervals along highways in the district, he said, "and fatigue is another principal cause of accidents."

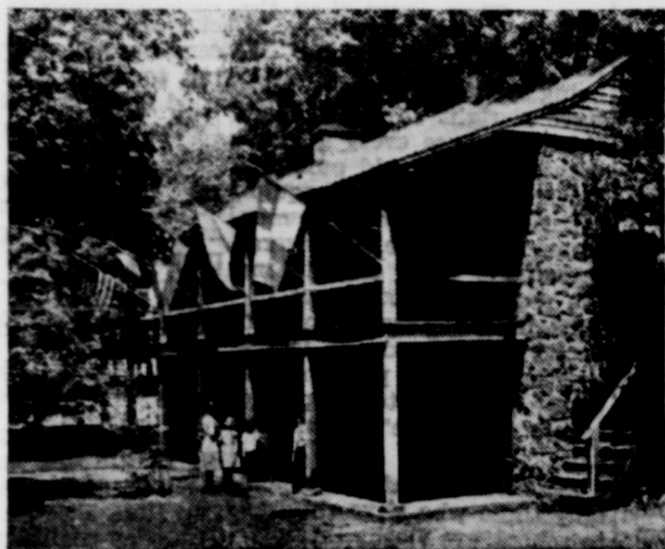

Eight persons died in the Midland district in rural highway accidents in April and 10 died in the Abilene district, giving the high 49-county Department of Public Safety's West Texas region a total of 18, compared in 13 in April, 1963. In the 296 accidents in the region in April, 139 persons were injured and property damage was estimated at more than $238,000.

The Memorial Day holiday last year was on Thursday, and from 5 p.m. the preceding Wednesday until the following Sunday night, five persons were killed in three wrecks in the Midland district.

"All 58 of our patrolmen, plus four sergeants, two lieutenants and myself, will be on special alert this year from Thursday evening until Sunday night," Butler said, "and we'll be trying to keep a close watch over approximately 4,000 miles of federal and state highways in our district, plus several thousand miles more of farm-to-market roads."

"We need the help and co-operation of every driver to cut down on the useless death toll that turns a good time and a holiday into grief for many people."

NACOGDOCHES—Built in 1779 as a Spanish trading post and fort, the Old Stone Fort is now a museum, located on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches. Over its walls have flown eight flags.

Texas Offers Vacationers Variety Of Scenic Points

It has been said that you may spend your holiday in any type surroundings that suit your fancy—and still be in Texas. If you prefer forests, then East Texas is for you.

Here you drive through gently-rolling country, along highways that tunnel through deep woodland. In the spring, thousands of dogwood trees in full bloom add to the beauty of the landscape.

In making a tour of East Texas, you will find it worthwhile to visit Nacogdoches, where history and progress join hands. The Spanish founded a mission in Nacogdoches in 1716 and the site has been a settlement since that time.

Motorists can travel to Nacogdoches on U. S. Highways 59 and 259, or on State Highways 7 and 21.

There remain a number of historical sites and buildings in the town's history. Among these are the Old Stone fort, a restoration of one of the oldest buildings in the state; and Hoya Memorial Library and Museum, a home built by Adolphus Sterne in 1834.

There's Old Nacogdoches University, the only building still standing from an educational institution chartered by the Republic of Texas.

growth in wealth, techniques, and ideas—have also increased in both number and size."

Nacogdoches is also the site of Stephen F. Austin State College and the Stagecoach Inn. The Inn dates back to the 1840's and at one time housed Sam Houston and other early Texans.

The Old Stone Fort Museum is located on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State College. The original building was erected by Antonio Gil Y'Barbo in 1779. Over its walls have flown eight flags. The museum is open daily from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 6 p.m. except Sunday mornings. There is no charge.

Nacogdoches University, a non-sectarian school, was founded in 1845 by the Republic of Texas. The old building on Washington Square was completed in January, 1859. The University continued to function under different auspices until 1904 when the property was sold to the Nacogdoches Independent School District.

Old North Church was constructed in 1838 and was used by a union church for Protestants but later became the property of the Missionary Baptists. It is said to be the first Protestant church in Texas. The present building replaced the original in 1852.

In Oak Grove Cemetery may be found the graves of many early settlers who played a prominent role in Texas' colorful history. Among these are graves of four signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The State of Texas has placed granite markers at these graves.

Texas' first producing oil well was drilled in Nacogdoches County in 1866 by Confederate veteran Lynis T. Barrett. The well was completed in the "oil spring" region of the county. Site of the well has been cleared and plans are underway to develop the area as a park.

For a pleasant overnight stop, the community-owned Hotel Fredonia offers excellent accommodations in a beautifully landscaped setting.

According to a leading insurance company report, "One of the most vexing questions in highway safety today is with percentage of the total number of persons killed and injured in highway accidents each year became casualties as a result of alcohol. . . From a study of the reports prepared by the various state motor vehicle departments it can be determined that approximately 85 per cent of the casualties occur in accidents which involve driver violations. Undoubtedly, many of the violations are motivated by liquor but how many is a question that is difficult to answer."

Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. This has been the hottest sales year in Ford Division history. We have a winner in the Super Torque Ford, a car so well built, so predictably tough, that competition-modified Fords took eleven of the last twelve NASCAR 500-mile races. Ford sales are up 17% this year. We have a luxury car that's taken off like a skyrocket: Thunderbird, with sales up 68%. Falcon is selling almost as many cars as Valiant and Chevy II combined. Fairlane continues to be a favorite in its own field. Now comes Mustang . . . turning the trend to Ford into a downright stampede. Mustang, by any measure of sales or excitement, is the most successful new car ever introduced in America—ever. When you see a stampede, it makes sense to find out what started it. That's something only your Ford Dealer can tell you about.

Fruits Add Sparkle To Summer Menus

Mint is easy to grow and makes a perfect garnish for fruit.

Serve melon with a wedge of lime instead of lemon. It's delicious.

Pour orange juice, partially diluted, over cubed melon or melon ball. Chill a few hours. Or serve the juice on bananas.

Sprinkle orange sections lightly with sugar or honey, layer them with coconut, and chill. It's an ambrosia dessert.

Pour slightly thickened jello over any combination of sweetened fruit. Chill in dessert glasses—or in a pie shell.

Serve fruit compotes (sweet mixtures of quick-frozen, canned, or stewed fruits) with creamy cheese and crackers a perfect dessert.

For delicious fruit sauce, thaw berries or peaches slightly. Then mix in blender until satin smooth.

Garnish grapefruit halves with halved Tokays or green grapes.

George Ray Lewis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis, had surgery recently at Hogan-Malone Hospital in Big Spring, and is now recuperating at home.

Sweeten grapefruit with syrup or honey for a change. Add chopped mint or a mint sprig to a fruit cup for a party.

"A FRIEND IS NOT ONE WHO IS TAKEN IN BY SHAM. A FRIEND IS A PERSON WHO KNOWS OUR FAULTS AND DOESN'T GIVE A DAMN."

I LIKE that "scripture" above. It is my philosophy that it is for better to live as best one can from day to day without pretense. Sincerely, I must say this, because I know people the shoe fits, so here goes: "The meanest enemy on earth is one who pretends to be your friend. You know the type—the kind of individual who says something like this—"he's a good guy—a swell fellow—BUT." We call that double talk—a sort of system of building you up to your face and knocking you down to your back.

"MILK" made directly from vegetable matter without the help of a cow is expected on the market shortly. DR. H. B. FRANKLIN, leader of the scientists who have been working since 1956 on the manufacturing process, claims that almost 80 per cent of the protein in suitable vegetable matter can be extracted and made digestible by his process, compared with the waste of four-fifths of the protein in grass by the inefficient cow. Looks like the cow is going to be out of a job—a milking cow that is. And this is bound to cause more poverty if it happens—cow poverty anyway.

RESPONSIBLE citizens in communities north and south, east and west, cannot allow this country to be taken over by a handful of lawbreakers and left wing extremists who, to prove a point, would give American cities a bloodbath. Congress should let the agitators know that it will not be intimidated into passing legislation that would not only regiment responsible citizens but would give irresponsible, lawless elements the privilege to disrupt the nation. Preservation of the Republic requires an alert citizenry that will not tolerate social terrorists who hide behind the label of "Civil Rights."

A FRIEND of mine, COACH J. V. (SIKI) SIKES, longtime head football mentor at EAST TEXAS STATE COLLEGE in Commerce, and former TEXAS AGGIE great, died of a heart attack last week. SIKES expired while playing golf on the college course. A few years ago, another Commerce coach, RED PETTY, died while playing golf. SIKI was a native of Leonard, Texas. He had a fine coaching record at EAST TEXAS STATE, winning 71 games while losing 34 since heading up the LIONS in 1954.

THE pollsters are up to their political tricks again. A bird named LOU HARRIS, Washington, D. C., has "polled" SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER out of the presidential nomination it seems. How and where MR. HARRIS got his authority, facts, information, and how he made his survey is unrevealed to most Americans. We are not supporting GOLDWATER, but it is grossly unfair and stupid for a guy with a gimmick to try and dictate to the people of this nation who shall and who shall not be nominated for any office by use of a poll. I have written in this column before that I have never received a sample ballot or questionnaire from any poll taker or poll taking organization and I have never found one single individual in the long time I have been in the newspaper business who ever was polled. I think, and this is my opinion, that the pollsters never leave their air-conditioned offices. I think polls are rigged.

Mrs. John Sorley is in a hospital at Hamilton suffering from a broken hip. She is the mother of Floyd Sorley of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Sorley were in Hamilton last week to be with his mother for a few

Dairy Products Head List Of Plentiful Foods

"June is Bustin' out all over."

And milk and dairy products are "bustin' out," too, for "June Dairy Month," reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The normal seasonal abundance of such items as cottage cheese, cream and milk is expected again this year. And both cheese and milk production rank above last year.

Also, look for plentiful supplies of beef; early summer vegetables, especially onions; and canned pink salmon.

Beef in abundance is expected to continue on into June, with about 6 per cent more fed cattle reaching marketable weight during this quarter, than in the same period of 1963, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture whose Marketing Service compiles the monthly plentiful foods list.

Seasonal increase of vegetable supplies from commercial production areas also are anticipated. Such items as onions, leafy greens, green beans, radishes and sweet corn are expected to be plentiful.

Unusually good catches of pink salmon in Alaska, Washington and Oregon during the last three years have enabled processors to accumulate large supplies of canned salmon. Retail prices are particularly favorable now.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURYNE VARNADORE

Hello, again. Several topics for discussion were on the agenda Monday evening when the Board of Directors held its regular meeting for May. Directors present were Jimmy Wheeler, Paige Eiland, James Jones, and Roy Crim. The directors agreed to consider a plan for recreational facilities and a general clean up of the business area. These plans are just in the talking stage at present, but committees will be set up to study details and provide a workable solution to some of the problems. The merchants committee will be meeting soon to formulate plans for another special day, details will be forthcoming.

Saturday May 30 is Memorial Day. This is an elected holiday so lets all get together, close shop and let the employees have a day off, but let's not forget the reason and say a prayer for the men and women who have given their lives to make our country free.

We have a holiday that will fall on a Saturday this year. It is July 4th, so don't forget it. That will leave Monday, September 7, Labor Day; Thanksgiving and Christmas, which have been voted as holidays in Martin County.

How To Spot a Chamber Member: A Chamber of Commerce member is easily recognized. He is the one with the ability to see not only the present but the future — not only the immediate profit, but the long-range development. He is happy with his environment, but not satisfied to leave it as it is. His normal existence is one of constant growth. He is out to improve himself, his business and his city. He is not content to stand still, or to let others carry his load. His outstanding traits are responsibility, initiative, integrity and vision. He is a businessman and a good one. He has ambition, both for himself and for his entire community. To him, growth is a way of life. He recognizes only one direction — Forward. He demands the right to be an individual, and asserts his individuality as a constructive force in his community. If you meet a man like this, you can bet he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. And when you meet a Chamber of Commerce member, he is probably a man like this.
