Sunday, June 14 is Flag Day. The June date marks the anniversary of the date the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the national flag in 1777. It is hoped that many Martin County citizens put up Old Glory on Flag Day.

By-the-way, WALTER BRENNAN narrated a very fine program on tv Tuesday evening when the "Red, White and Blue" was presented. We need more patriotic programs of this type. BRENNAN said that few Americans pause long enough to display the flag but that everyone should be more concerned about displaying the bunting which means so much to people everywhere. He pointed out that a man might now be considered eccentric by his neighbors and others in the community for flying the American flag on special dates such as the Fourth of July, Flag Day, Thanksgiving, Veteran's Day, Armed Forces Day, etc. BRENNAN urged more people to get the Stars and Stripes — especially — where young children are in the home.

Sure it's hot! It is supposed to be this time of the year. This is still Texas and a Lone Star sun gets really hot. We have long since learned to take the weather in stride. We have no ear for complaints or mutterings about the heat. Just a few short years ago we had no air-conditioning units. We pulled the windows up and opened the doors and not many of us died of virus "X." I picked cotton under a Hunt County sun when it must have been a 110 in the shade. And we still think that if an individual wants to amount to anything in life he better learn to follow the rules of life. The main rule is that hard, honest work is a cure for about everything — including bellyaching about the weather, working conditions, and etc. You can't find a much tougher situation than a North Texas cotton field, 110 in the shade and warm drinking water to get your training under.

In reading FRANK TOLBERT'S column in THE DALLAS NEWS Monday evening we learned of the whereabouts of HACKBERRY JOHNSON. The old rodeo promoter and owner of a herd of "bucking buffaloes" has retired and is living in Austin. TOLBERT describes HACKBERRY as "one of the state's most picturesque characters." That he is. We met HACK a few years ago while he was putting on rodeo promotions in this area. (Continued on page 4)

No. 1 Juliette Wolcott In County Down 9,357 Feet

By JAMES C. WATSON
Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Juliette Wolcott, slated 13,100-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northwest Martin County, encountered slight shows of gas and oil in the Dean sand at 9,357-98 feet.

A one-hour and 10-minute drillstem test at that interval had gas at the surface in 10 minutes with no gauge or estimate on the volume reported. The recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud and five feet of 36.6-gravity free oil.

One-hour initial shut-in bottomhole pressure was 4,394 pounds, flowing pressure was from 31 to 45 pounds and two-hour final shut-in pressure was 4,378 pounds. The project is drilling below 9,500 feet.

T&P Seeks To Curtail Rail Service Here

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company will seek approval for the discontinuance of its Texas Eagle trains, Nos. 21 and 22, between Fort Worth and El Paso, it was announced today.

This action is being taken to curb sustained and mounting losses in the operation of these two T&P trains in West Texas, which also is served by two other passenger trains, Nos. 27 and 28. The annual loss in the operation of the Texas Eagles amounts to over $100,000.

Congressman Demands Delay In Election Results Broadcasting

A Republican congressman called on the nation's radio and television networks to hold off announcing a winner in the November presidential election until polls have closed all over the country.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, said he would ask the Federal Communications Commission to step in if the networks fail to arrive at such a policy on their own accord.

the National Association of Broadcasters said the NAB would "resist any such action."

Bolton said projection of early results based on analysis by computers conceivably could influence voter attitudes in the Western part of the nation where voting booths still would be open.

"We have always had that," Collins replied when asked about Bolton's proposal. "This is just a furtherance of technological competence."

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., called at the same time for a congressional investigation of "polls and pollsters" in the same manner that Congress studied television rating services. He said many seemed to seek to influence an election rather than predict it.

Both Hall and Bolton criticized the Columbia Broadcasting System for announcing before all the polls had closed in California last Tuesday that Sen. Barry Goldwater had won that state's presidential primary.

Bolton said he would "certainly consider" asking the FCC to "seriously consider appropriate regulatory action" if the networks reject its request for a voluntary moratorium on announcing the election of a president until all polls have closed.

"Judging from last Tuesday's California primary it's conceivable that we might witness victory and concession statements from rival camps two to three hours before the polls close in many parts of the country," Bolton said.

"Think of the implications of such positive and definite declarations broadcast in a national election where, because of the difference in time zones, polls close many hours later in the West than in the East," he added.

Bolton said he feared that fast predictions of a winner in the East might encourage the Western voter to check the results first and decide to ride with a winner — "almost like the fictional horse player who knew how the race came out before placing his bet."

"I hope that the broadcasting industry will recognize the dangers inherent in this aspect of presidential election coverage and voluntarily agree to curtail any declaration of winners until after all polls have been closed," Bolton said in a statement.

Hall wrote Rep. Oren Harris D-Ark., chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, urging him to conduct an investigation into the "objectivity, credibility and reliability of professional pollsters."

Your Dough

By Howard Preston

Reprinted from The Plain Dealer Cleveland, Ohio

Of all the lost causes I have pushed, I think none is recalled more often than the unsuccessful attempt to do away with the expressions "at government expense" or "paid for by federal funds" and similar phrases.

Scarcely a day passes but what the newspapers report on some project which the "government will pay for." Quite often a politician will explain gleefully to his constituents how he has saved the money. The new bridge or highway or municipal building or what-have-you will not, says the politician, cost his beloved taxpayers anything but a simple fee.

"The big expense," he tells the audience, "will be taken care of by federal funds."

Now, except for their own contribution through personal tax, politicians don't spend their own money. When the President or the Congress approve a gift or a loan of millions or billions of dollars, inside the country or outside, the money being spent doesn't belong to them. It isn't the President's money that's being spent, any more than it was... George Marshall's money under the Marshall plan.

This money is taxpayers' money, it is your money and mine, and for a long time I have scorched with a slow burn when the loot is referred to as government money.

The implication is when there is a joint financing of some project, any part contributed by the federal government is "found" money. As long as "federal funds" are used, nobody has to pay.

It seems to me it is about time somebody put to use the known facts of financial life, the most prominent being that there are no such things as federal funds in the sense the government owns money. The government doesn't earn a dime unless you include some of the unintentional profits it makes from its intrusion into business.

Because of this, I have suggested more than once that the phrase "federal funds" be changed to "taxpayers' money." Instead of accepting a statement that the United States government is spending $500,000,000 for development of a river in South America, I think the American Society of Newspaper Editors ought to agree to print such items as follows: "The taxpayers of the United States today sent, etc..."

Instead of telling how the federal government is paying for some new buildings in Catchall, Kansas through generous loans at low rates, the item ought to read "The taxpaying citizens of 50 states today chipped in $43,000,000 so that the people of Catchall could have a new downtown development."

In the first place, I think the people who come up with the scratch, not the gents who spend it, should get proper credit. In the second place, drumming home the point, day after day, that there are no "federal" funds but only taxpaying citizens' contributions might cause more people to zipper up the national purse strings. At least, it might get recognition abroad for the hard-working folks who make it possible for our agents to play Santa Claus.

Federal Funds? Nuts. That's our dough.

Irrigation Depletion Case Now Before Federal Court

Whether Texas farmers should receive a depletion allowance for water they pump from beneath their land is currently being studied by the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in Houston.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Dooley of Amarillo ruled in 1962 that Marvin Shurbet of Floyd County was entitled to a tax refund for water depletion.

In appeal, the Justice Department contended Congress never intended a depletion allowance for water and that the decision could open way for all farmers to make such claims.

Arguments Heard
A panel consisting of federal Circuit Judges J. C. Hutcheson, Jr., of Houston and Richard Rives of Montgomery and U. S. Dist. Judge Hobart Grooms of Birmingham, heard arguments and took the case under advisement.

The water drawn from Shurbet's wells comes from a geologically isolated under-

Bible Comment—

Faith, Good Works Must Go Hand In Hand

In the Epistle of James, there is a profound plea for plain, honest, practical Christian living. There ought to really be a great deal more of it in the church and in all relationships of Christians with the world. We have had no right even in our thoughts, to separate faith and works. Faith is primary and basic, but faith and works go together, and until we relate faith to character and conduct we do not come to understand what Christian faith is. James, like Paul, emphasizes, the fact that God is the source of all goodness. From Him comes every good and perfect gift, and with Him there is no variability or shadow or turning. His love and His grace are abiding, and every man who in faith accepts the obligations of the Christian life will find the power of God with him to help him. We cannot too strongly stress this concise definition of religion, found in the Epistle of James: "Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unspotted from the world."

It is this sort of religion which distinguished the early disciples. Paul believed in it just as much as James, but the world is still run largely on the basis of self-interest and not always "enlightened" self interest. True Christianity represents something deeper and brighter. It has produced humanitarian organizations and movements which lift mankind to motives of mutual aid. This, not self-interest, is the hope of the world's future.

Philosopher Claims Two Easiest Jobs Are Poll Taking And Long Range Weather Predicting

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw reflects on certain job opportunities in his letter this week.)

Dear editor:
For two of the easiest jobs I can think of, I'll nominate public opinion poll taking and long range weather forecasting.

Take public opinion surveys. Out in California last week these experts, after going through their complex soundings, were predicting how the Californians would vote in a presidential preferential election, and they said that considering only the voters who had made up their minds, Rockefeller would beat Goldwater.

This is what I'm talking about. As everybody knows, it was the other way around when the votes were counted, but the public opinion pollsters were left untarnished because they'd already said they weren't predicting how the undecided voter would vote.

On this basis, I can sit here on this Martin County grass farm and take a public opinion poll of any place on earth, and can predict for example that Casius Clay will be elected dictator of Cuba, excusing the 99 per cent of the voters who haven't made up their minds yet.

Or take long range weather forecasting. I got hold of two different farm magazines yesterday and one of them said June will be wetter than normal, the other that it'll be drier. It's hard to see how they both can be right.

If I could get a job predicting the weather for both magazines, dry for one and wet for the other, I know I could be right 50 per cent of the time, and that's pretty fair predicting in any league. In half a day, I could draw up predictions for every month in the year for the next 20 years, and any time I can do 20 years' work in half a day, I'm in favor of it. It's even better than taking 20 years to do half a day's work.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Wadena, Minn., Pioneer Journal: "The price of gasoline in Cuba has been increased from 34 cents to 60 cents a gallon in the interest of the national economy," according to a news dispatch from Havana. That 60-cent price is twice as high as the average United States gallon of gasoline including taxes, and three times the cost of a U. S. gallon before taxes. Castro said the price hike provides a new avenue for Cubans to make a greater contribution to progress. According to reports from newsmen who have visited Cuba recently, a little more Castro-type 'progress' may put the island out of business entirely."

During the course of the five sessions this year, there will be a total of approximately 420 Girl Scout campers at Boothe Oaks.

An additional attraction of the first session this year is the Pioneer Unit for advanced campers. Pioneers must have completed the eighth grade in school and have had at least two years' experience as established campers. These Girl Scouts do not live in an established unit; they select their own campsite, clear it, and set up an entire primitive unit. The Pioneers live in their unit and cook all their meals during the 12 days of their camp.

Miss Rebecca Morrow of Lamesa will be unit leader of the Pioneer Unit this year, and Miss Georgia King of Sweetwater will be the assistant unit leader.

Leaders of the four established units during Session I are Mrs. Jack Dumphy of Big Spring, Miss Burnell Hargrove of Rotan, Miss Jan Beath of Baytown, and Miss Alma Agee of Lamesa. Assistant unit leaders are: Misses Judy Stichter, Diane Hitchcock, Mary Lou Smith, Helen McGinty, Gayle Dornay, Carol Houston, and Candy McCracken of Abilene; and Miss Carolyn Critz of Sweetwater.

The waterfront staff are Miss Elaine Cross of Abilene, waterfront directors, and Mrs. Wayne Raines of Roscoe, assistant waterfront director. Mrs. A. M. Nelson of Winters is dietitian and cook; Mrs. Ruth Ware of San Angelo is a cook, and Miss Jorja Hooker of Abilene is the kitchen helper.

Mrs. Frank Neely of Abilene is business manager, and Mrs. George Hughes of Abilene is camp first aider. David Redwine of Snyder is the camp handyboy for the 1964 season.

Editor's

(Continued from page 1) role in our educational program. This year we asked you for special help on the sales tax table. You came through with flying colors.

Over the years we have asked you to print a lot of educational stories. You have responded to our requests. You have made "Tax Man Sam" a widely printed column. Spot checks have shown that weekly editors do an outstanding job for Internal Revenue Service year after year. During the 1964 filing period you have even exceeded your contribution in the past. May we simply say, "Thank you very much!"

Sincerely yours,
Ellis Campbell, Jr.,
District Director.

Charter

Articles of incorporation and by-laws for the organization were adopted, and below is a brief summary of the Washington meeting.

There were about 80 persons in attendance at the meeting making up a very good cross section of the various interests, including producers of all kinds, canners, shippers, associations, etc., from across the United States. There seemed to be a great deal of enthusiasm among those present as to the possible benefits to be derived from the formation of the new organization.

Articles of incorporation and by-laws were adopted and clearance was given for the filing for a charter in the District of Columbia as advised by the attorneys.

At present, J. B. Kirkin is the chairman of a three man committee the members of which are the incorporators. The other two members are Bill Tolbert, Ventura, California and Charles Toan, Winchester, Virginia. When fully operational the board of directors is to comprise of one member from each qualifying state as elected by the members of that state. It is hoped that all states possible will qualify by June 15 and that each such state will have its director elected by July 1 this year. To qualify, a state must have sufficient memberships from which the combined dues total at least five hundred dollars.

There are three kinds of memberships:

(1) Regular members are natural persons, partnerships or other organizations whose principal operation is the production of agricultural commodities within the United States.

(2) Sustaining members are grower, trade or commodity associations whose members are engaged in the production, handling or processing of agricultural commodities or products in the United States.

(3) Contributing members are natural persons, partnerships or other organizations whose business welfare is affected by the economic efficiency and well-being of United States agriculture.

It is anticipated that the organization will have an annual income from such membership dues of one hundred thousand dollars plus.

The articles of incorporation specify that the organization is not empowered to act as bargaining agent or to negotiate agreements on behalf of employers with labor unions or any other organization.

Several applications for the executive position in the Washington office have already been received. The plan is to select someone for this position who has a wide range of experience and contacts and with proven ability in dealing with Congress etc.

J. B. Kirkin, temporary chairman of the board of the new organization has called a state wide meeting of interested persons for 10:00 a.m. Friday, June 12, in the Civic Room No. 1, Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. The meeting will discuss matters of vital concern to those interested in farm labor problems.

Adding to T&P's passenger problem in West Texas is recent schedule changes at El Paso, nullifying connections for T&P's Texas Eagle trains to California.

In passenger transportation today, 9 out of 10 trips taken between our cities are by private automobile. This leaves all commercial carriers to compete for and divide up less than ten per cent of the total travel volume.

"Our remaining two trains — 27 and 28 — can and will provide adequate service for our patrons in West Texas," said the railway spokesman, "and we hope our friends will better understand the conditions we face and why we are taking this action."

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bridges were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Warren of Amarillo, Henry Bridges of Seminole, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Williams of Courtney, Charlie Vest and Ethel Vest of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Collier of Crosbyton, spent Friday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collier. Lesa and Jerry Collier returned to Crosbyton with their grandparents for a visit.

Decorations were in the bride's chosen colors of pink and white.

The serving table was covered with a white silk taffeta cloth with a net overlay. A pink and white floral arrangement centered the table. Appointments were in crystal and silver. Embossed napkins carried the names, "Gene and Jan."

Pink punch and white wedding cookies decorated with pink rosebuds were served to guests attending the affair. Misses Marty McArthur and Debbie Nelson of Lubbock, registered guests, and gifts were on display.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Jess Angel, Mrs. Glenn L. Brown, Mrs. Doris Stephenson, Mrs. Lewis Carille, Mrs. Floyd McArthur, Mrs. Phil Robbins, Mrs. Tom Smith, and Mrs. Bill Hull.

One of the speakers, Dr. William E. Drummond of San Diego, Calif., theoretical physicist at the General Atomic division of General Dynamics Corporation, reported that a new wave of optimism is overtaking scientists around the globe who are engaged in efforts to harness the tremendous power of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes.

Experiments now being carried out in controlled nuclear research have confirmed new theoretical principles and dramatically demonstrate the feasibility of achieving control of the thermonuclear (H-bomb) reaction for the generation of electric power, Dr. Drummond said.

The Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation has been engaged since 1957 in a jointly-sponsored research program with General Atomic. The program is the world's largest privately-financed research effort in the field of controlled nuclear fusion and is being directed by some of the nation's outstanding nuclear scientists at General Atomic laboratories at San Diego. Variety

He liked our printing plant, our prices and advertising, circulars and placards and we handled several printing jobs for him after he departed Stanton. We shipped him some bills for his show as far as Peos once. Hack made our office his headquarters when he was up town in the daytime.

He liked to talk with us and we remembered many of his stories. TOLBERT wrote further about HACKBERRY: "MR. JOHNSON is a big, hearty, ruddy-faced fellow of 76 and he only recently retired from a career as a rodeo performer, despite the fact that he lost his right leg 58 years ago. His actual Christian name is HUGH. The HACKBERRY nickname derives from the fact that his first wooden leg was made of hackberry. His present pegged is fashioned of mesquite." JOHNSON told TOLBERT that he planned to attend the upcoming Stamford, Texas rodeo on July 2-3-4 and he added: "I've been furnishing bucking stock for rodeos since the Cattle Raisers Association show in El Paso in 1919, and these buffaloes I got now is the meanest, hardest-to-ride creatures I have ever handled." One of HACKBERRY'S old rodeo stunts was to hitch up a very wild buffalo to a Ben Hur model chariot, and let one of the more foolhardy cowboys take a ride. "I will offer a free ride in the chariot for the mother-in-law of any ticket holder at the Stamford rodeo too." That last sentence sounds like OLD HACK alright.

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)...or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

Goliad One Of Historic Spots In Lone Star State

Are you thrilled by Texas history? If so, you will enjoy some of the scores of historic spots that mark the challenging episodes of our frontier land.

The battle cry that spurred the Texans on at San Jacinto was "Remember the Alamo; Remember Goliad," and it is quite fitting that the state, many years ago, established a state park at Goliad in southeast Texas. It was here that Colonel Fannin and his men were massacred on Palm Sunday, March 27, 1836.

Goliad is situated on U. S. Highways 59, 183, and alternate 77; and can also be reached on State Highway 239 from the west.

In Goliad State Park there is a small museum of early Texas relics and the Mission Espiritu Santo de Zuniga. In 1749, this mission was moved to Goliad by the Franciscan padres to Christianize the Indians and civilize the frontier. It is open to the public. Nearby is the Presidio La Bahia where the Goliad Declaration of Independence was drawn in 1835. Sunday mass is still celebrated there. Near La Bahia stands a monument to Colonel Fannin and his men.

Goliad became the county seat of Goliad County in 1837. On the courthouse grounds you will find the famous "Hanging Tree."

City Park has a monument to the men who lost their lives at Goliad, erected in April, 1885, surmounted by two cannons found on the streets of the town after the Texas Revolution.

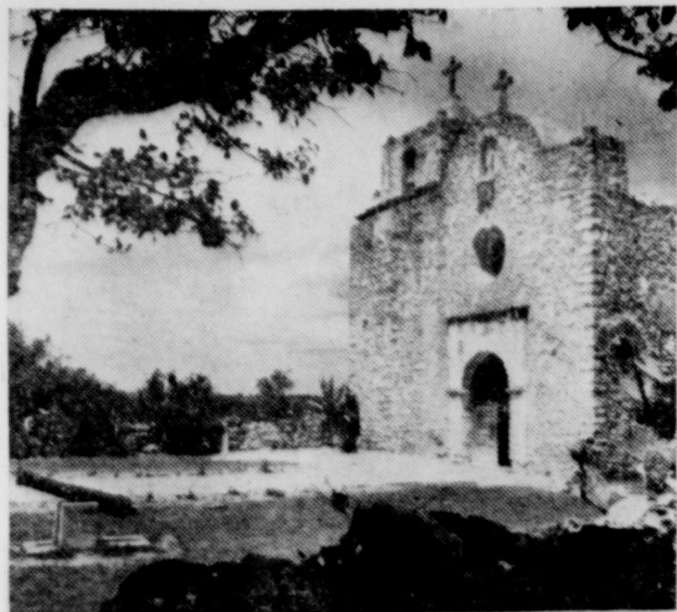

Twenty-five miles northeast of Goliad on U. S. 59 is Victoria, one of the first three towns of the Republic. Here you will find a number of beautiful ante-bellum homes, still in good condition, as well as the famed Dutch Windmill in Memorial Square.

If you'd like a bit of fishing to finish off your trip, drive on another 27 miles on U. S. 87 to Port Lavaca, where red-fish and speckled trout abound.

Mrs. Albert Louder is a patient at Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring, where she had recent surgery.

Mrs. Gene Petree of Orange, Texas, visited this week with her mother, Mrs. Fay Rhodes.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Keaton were Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Keaton of Plainville, Kansas. The two men are brothers. They also visited with other friends and relatives while here.

WEATHER-RESISTANT INSECTICIDE:

New Bidrin[®] Insecticide penetrates cotton leaves, kills insects from inside out. Control lasts 7 days—rain or shine.

BIDRIN is a powerful new kind of cotton insecticide. It gives an honest week's control of thrips, aphids, spider mites and fleahoppers. Resistant strains of fleahoppers are also controlled. Bidrin not only kills insects on contact—like ordinary insecticides—but also in a completely new way.

Is absorbed by leaves

Soon after spraying, most of the Bidrin you apply is absorbed into your cotton's foliage. Inside the leaves, where it is protected from rain and sun, Bidrin keeps on controlling insects for a full seven days.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Not all leaders are born

some are made

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964. It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six.

4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

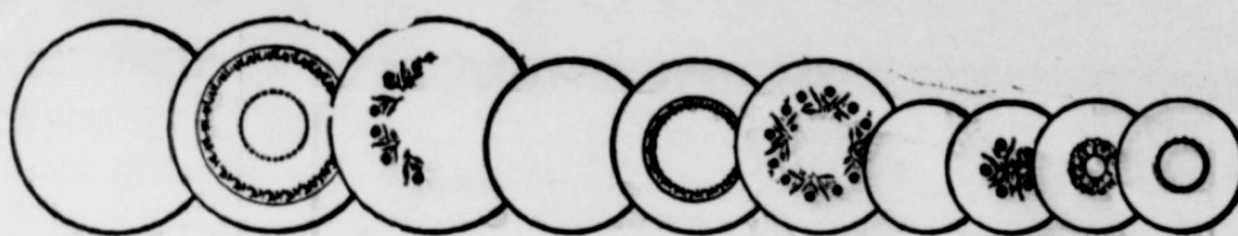

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

VACATION is with us and now is a fine time to take the children over to see DR. ALLEN HAMILTON in Big Spring for an eye examination. HAMILTON CLINIC is right across the street from the courthouse on the north side of the Howard County square. Either DR. HAMILTON or one of his professional assistants will be there with plenty of time to make a good examination and if necessary, prescribe glasses. If glasses are necessary the vacation period is a good time to get used to wearing them, learning to take care of them, and be all primed and ready to start back to school next September with at least, a brighter and clearer outlook toward the assignments, lessons, and recitations.

A HEADLINE in a metropolitan daily read Sunday: "Bowles Gains Reputation as the Smiling American." CHESTER BOWLES, a switch-hitting diplomat to India is a visionary and idealist. He speaks and writes beautifully and fluently on the problems of underdeveloped nations. He considers the U. S. A. a world bank. In New Delhi recently he summoned a bunch of Indian farmers and sat on the ground among them under a burning sun. He asked: "Now, tell me your problems?" The turbaned farmers told CHESTER of their woes. Quickly he replied: "OK, forget them, we are going to help." No wonder the agriculture men in India love BOWLES. Don't we all expect SANTA to smile.

GEN. GEORGE PATTON, hero of American boys everywhere, took a terrible panning on the FRANK BLAIR SHOW Sunday afternoon. The great general was described as a warrior and lover of warfare. Such was not the case at all. PATTON never started a war but he finished one up pretty good for the late FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT, and would have conquered all of Germany and put it under the Stars and Stripes but for ROOSEVELT'S order for him to stop his march. To this very day no good reason has been found to justify ROOSEVELT'S stopping PATTON. All that ROSEY gained was the construction of the BERLIN WALL and the United States "contributed" East Berlin to the Communists. And America still has a problem with Russia.

EARL WARREN had about as much business visiting with cold-blooded, convicted, killer, JACK RUBY, in the Dallas County jail the past Sunday as a polecat would have at a lawn party and he had just about as much of a welcome to Texas too. Why did WARREN visit RUBY? Have all of the facts been printed about the late PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S murder? We understand that LYNDON JOHNSON, a great friend of a certain element in Dallas, appointed the Chief Justice to head the KENNEDY-killing investigating committee, but WARREN, a man who may someday help make the final decision of whether RUBY lives or dies for the hand-cuffed murder of the alleged killer of KENNEDY, should have left that part of the "investigation" up to other committee members. This whole thing is beginning to stink—the murder of KENNEDY, we mean.

FRAN HEDRICK telephoned Sunday afternoon to advise that she, BOBBY, and their attractive daughter were back in Texas and home again from California. The HEDRICKS will be located in West Texas, possibly back in Stanton for good very soon. Both BOBBY and FRAN like Stanton, and the people here admire them. We told FRAN and she agreed that Stanton and Martin County just can't be topped for that "extra something" we are all looking for in the world today.

WE would like to thank DORIS STEPHENSON, SHERIFF DAN SAUNDERS and all the other good folks in our courthouse family for the cooperation they always extend the newspaper and your editor in collecting returns on election nights. It's great to be over in the commissioner's court room on election evenings and be able to meet the citizens who bring those election returns in. We know most of them after ten years residence in the county and appreciate everyone of them. Most of them know NEAL by now and since we are a neutral editor, or try to be, with no local infaiks to keep the water stirred up, we are happy to be an honorary member of Martin County now and with the Good Lord's willingness—forevermore.

SUZANNE HIGHTOWER has a few of her oil paintings on display at the MARTIN COUNTY LIBRARY today. Go by and see them and if you are lucky, maybe you can purchase one. SUZANNE is the wife of GALEN, son of MR. and MRS. PRENTISS HIGHTOWER, this city. She has been described by art critics as a promising young artist.

NEAL'S NUGGET: There has been lots of talk lately about the "mainstream of the Republican Party" and party members differ in their views. It appears, however, with GOLDWATER'S great triumph in California and with the only man with a chance to carry the South, that the mainstream is apparently closer to the Mississippi River than it is to the Hudson.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURYNE VARNADORE

Hello, everybody. Hello. Vacation time is here. Time is moving rather slowly now since this one and that one is either leaving or just getting back from vacations. We are trying to arrange to have a few days off next month and go fishing again. That big one is still in the river just waiting to tease and taunt us so it is about time to go after him.

Speaking of vacations and outings, we certainly could use a recreational area around here. A picnic area, camping area, and stocked fishing pond, would be an asset to the county and would draw from all surrounding areas, plus the travelers passing through. A small charge would be in order, and no one would mind paying the fee to have an outing without driving two or three hundred miles.

Martin County has been invited to attend the open house at the new Winkler County Airport (formerly Wink Airport) on Saturday, June 27. There will be a fly-in breakfast, Military Fly-Over, dedication of airport, parachute jumps and airplane rides all day at a penny per pound. This sounds like a full day of fun for the whole family, so why not join in and at least go for a ride.

Monday morning, John Ben Sheppard, who is president of the Texas Historical Society, called and asked to check on two historical markers in Martin County. These sites will be listed in the new booklet to be printed soon. One of the markers is located at the western edge of Stanton, and the other on the Pitman farm at Courtney. The marker on the Pitman farm is on the spot of the Mustang Spring, and was a stop over for Indians and the first white settlers in the area. This marker is in very good condition, but the one on Highway 80 has been sorely neglected and the plaques are missing. Mr. Sheppard said that funds are available and the plaques will be replaced, also, highway markers can be purchased and set up by the highway department pointing out the markers for travelers. These historical markers are important and it behooves each of us to help preserve our heritage for posterity.

Quite unexpectedly, my husband, Bill, had minor surgery last Thursday in Big Spring. He is home and we are happy to report that all is well.

Always wear a big smile—some folks will appreciate you for it, others will wonder what you are up to.

Bye, now.

John A. Wilkes, Jr., who had recent surgery in the local hospital, is now recuperating at home.

Mrs. L. F. Clark and Mrs. C. E. Crow will attend the J. B. King family reunion to be held in Big Spring this coming Sunday.

Teenagers Need To Know Value Of Their Money

Many Texas teenagers don't know how to use money wisely. And many parents fail to provide an opportunity for young people to learn money management.

Recent research conducted in the Blackland area of the state has revealed a "lack of perspective or understanding on the part of parents concerning money as a training instrument." What training occurred was often incidental and not planned, says Patsy Reynolds, extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Bardin Nelson, who presently is on leave from the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department to assist with the establishment of an agricultural university in Syria, conducted the research.

Three-fourths of the parents of 15 and 16-year-olds studied by Dr. Nelson followed a system of doles or dictated method of providing their children with money. Even with limited allowances, parents should provide the child with a bit more money than is absolutely necessary, so there is an opportunity to make choices about spending money, points out Miss Reynolds.

Many parents supervise their children's use of money closely in order to prevent mistakes. However, people learn from mistakes, and a misspent dime may teach a lesson which may prevent a misspent dollar, the extension specialist says.

Just as a child must have planned systematic training to learn to read or write, he should have planned opportunities to learn to use money wisely. Boys enter military service at 17, and both boys and girls go away to school or to work at this age. Young people need to learn money management before they are "on their own," Miss Reynolds emphasizes.

Negro Hero Prefers South

After three weeks in New York City, an 18-year-old negro from Mississippi says he's going back to Vicksburg.

"I'd rather wait on tables at $27 a week there than get my head kicked in here," said Larry Thomas.

Thomas was hailed as a hero by New York newspapers a week ago because he frightened off a gang of negro boys who had attacked a white boy on a subway train. The negroes ran when Thomas shouted, "The cops are coming!"

Thomas then helped the injured white youth, Howard Weiner, 16.

Thomas said Sunday he'd never seen anything like the subway assault in Mississippi.

"Once in a while a cop will hit someone alongside the head with a blackjack, but that's all," he said.
