Plans For Settlers Reunion To Be Finalized

By NEAL ESTES

There should no longer be any question about where the best newspaper — daily that is — is being published in Texas in cities of between 15,000 and 150,000 population. THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM walked off in jet style with all of the honors and the general excellence award last Friday in Houston at the TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION convention held in that city. This award was determined out of many contesting publications and judged by out-of-state newsmen who have reached the top in their profession. P U B L I S H E R JAMES N. ALLISON was present when the honor was announced. He accepted the fine awards for his newspaper. We send our personal congratulations to the Midland publisher, JAMES N. ALLISON is a publisher who knows every facet of the business. Recently, when the KENNEDY assassination occurred in Dallas, JIM ALLISON and SALTY JOHNSON put out one of the four or five extras the REPORTER-TELEGRAM published that day just about alone. This is mentioned not to take anything away from the great staff of THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, but just to recognize the fact that JAMES N. ALLISON sits right up there with my beloved brother in know-how and ability, my teacher of journalism through the years, CARL ESTES.

It was made known recently by a tv show narrated by WALTER BRENNAN that a nearby half the towns in the U. S. don't even bother to celebrate the 4th of July anymore. But the patriotism of some of our people makes up for the neglect of the rest. In Faith, North Carolina, a hamlet of 500, the whole town turns out for Independence Day. July 4 is coming up and it is hoped that the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, or some such group will work out a real day for observing freedom. Why not arrange a program, bring a good speaker to Stanton, and plan for all the residents of the area to assemble and participate in a real Independence Day celebration right here at home. The Fourth is coming up on Saturday and that means a two-day period and the highways are going to be crowded with cars and the lakes with motor boats. Be safe — plan to spend the next weekend in your home and in your church on Sunday following the Fourth.

High School Gym Open For Family Night Activities

The high school gymnasium will be open each Friday night from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. during the summer months for a varied program of activities for each member of the family. Superintendent Beryl Clinton is in charge of the "family night," and has stated that all types of games will be available, including basketball, volleyball, table tennis, and other types of active games. There will also be table games, such as dominoes, forty-two, and checkers for those who prefer a less strenuous form of activity. Clinton said this was an excellent opportunity for all members of the family to get together for a period of fun and fellowship and urged that all residents attend the family night. Approximately 40 persons attended the activities last Friday night.

Most Stores Will Close On July 4th

Most Martin County business places will be closed on Thursday, July 4, to observe Independence Day. The Martin County Chamber of Commerce circulates a selected number of days for the merchant's consideration concerning the days in the year they prefer to close up on a list compiled in January of each year. From this list, the days the merchants vote to close on, are posted as official holidays to be observed in the county. July 4th always leads the field. This year, as usual, the great majority of stores will close. The postoffice, government offices, courthouse, city hall, and all state agencies operating in Martin County will be closed July 4th. The courthouse will also be closed on Friday, July 3, by order of commissioner's court giving all courthouse employees an extra holiday.

Important Meeting Set For June 29

Martin County Old Settlers will hold another planning meeting Monday, June 29, at 7:30 p.m. at the Cap Rock auditorium. Purpose of the meeting will be to finalize the program for the reunion to be held July 13-14.

Relief Sought From Decision On Districting

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said Wednesday he will ask lieutenant governors of other states to petition Congress for relief from the U. S. Supreme Court's legislative redistricting decision. The court held Monday that both houses of a bicameral legislature must be apportioned strictly on basis of population. Smith said the decision "will have a drastic effect on the Texas Senate. It appears that the five largest counties will have 12 of the 31 Senate seats, leaving 19 places to be allocated among the remaining 249 counties. We will have some Senate districts 300 miles wide." In a new statement of newsmen, Smith said "the only apparent way for Congress to intervene would be by submitting a clarifying constitutional amendment." Smith, presiding officer of the Texas Senate, said a resolution will be drafted for the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors meeting in New York August 20-22 asking Congress to intervene.

All committee chairmen are urged to be present in order that a report of progress may be made. President Ohmer Kelly has stated that plans are moving at a rapid pace. Theme of the reunion this year will be "How Time Flies."

The parade is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m. Billy Houston is parade chairman, and serving on the committee with him is Morgan Hall, O. B. Bryan, and Bob Cox. Anyone wishing to enter a float in the parade should contact one of these men. Prizes of $15, $10, and $5, are to be awarded the best floats entered.

Old Settler officials said they are expecting a good parade, as several float entries have been received. Also to be entered in the parade are riding units, the Big Springs Mounted Patrol, Lamesa Riding Club, the Martin County Sheriff's posse, and entries by business houses.

Mrs. Leo Turner and Mrs. Glenn L. Brown will be in charge of making arrangements for the program.

An interesting program has been planned. Recognition will be made of the person coming the longest distance to the reunion, the oldest and youngest old settler present.

A barbecue will be held at the Stanton Park at 7:00 p.m. Price of the plates will be $1.35, and in event of bad weather another place will be provided.

Other committee chairmen are as follows: finance, Edmund Morrow, M. S. Good Jobs

Almost everyone wants a good job, or thinks he wants one. And the prospects are he can find it now or at any time in the next few years—if he has prepared himself by education and experience and personal discipline to handle a good job.

The Twentieth Century Fund has made a projection which indicates that the gross national product output will approach a full trillion dollars a year by 1975, based on current rates of growth of the national economy.

The importance of a trillion dollar economy is apparent when it is considered that by 1975 the average family income should be slightly above $9,500, if the value of the dollar remains the same as it was in 1960. A good job in 1975 ought to provide such an income.

But there was a warning issued in connection with the Twentieth Century Fund projection. It said there will be no great hope for the uneducated and unskilled in the years between now and 1975. There will be a definite need, as there is now, for individuals to be useful citizens of the working community.

In other words, even with an expanding economy and the better jobs and higher incomes this will provide, there is to be no easy way out for the high school drop-out or the junior college quitter. Nor will the way be easy for the drifter and bungler who refuses to do a job right, or who will not discipline himself to work pleasantly with other people.

Our nation and the world is rapidly becoming industrialized. Education and skill are the only means of matching the individual to the good jobs.

The passage of the civil rights bill does not guarantee equality of skill, background, training, knowledge, craftsmanship, experience or native ability. Those things still must be EARNED, and running, marching, ranting, panting, singing in the streets like a bunch of jungle dwellers is silly. As a matter of fact, the country must put an end to this type of peace-breaking and lawlessness. Now that the bill is passed, the best thing for the colored folks to do is go out and get a job, and come off the relief and welfare rolls. Now we are all looking forward to some help from the negro citizens on the payment of the heavy tax loads we white people have been carrying all these years.

Enforcing 'Rights'

The U. S. Senate is now beginning to worry about enforcement of the civil rights bill which it is certain to pass. Sen. Hubert Humphrey recommends that the 50 state governors call a conference on enforcement. He even presumes to suggest that President Johnson may want a national conference on how to carry out the law's functions "on the state, local and federal level."

This belated discussion on what to do with the bill, after it is on the books, should have been the first concern of its architects. The prohibition amendment, passed under the stress of national emotion, proved that legislative directives are not always the proper medication for an illness.

Early in April, The News in the tenth and final of an editorial series analyzing the civil rights bill warned: "We question legislation which would require 90 per cent of the population to accommodate itself to the desires of 10 per cent. . . . The bill attempts to do by force what can be achieved only by voluntary compliance and good will. It is doubtful whether its provisions could ever be fully enforced."

But now the Congress is close to facing the problem which it has created, and that problem has only begun to assume its real magnitude and complexity.

For one thing, what if opponents of civil rights legislation began to file a series of lawsuits that will delay compliance?

What if every hotel and restaurant in the Deep South challenges the constitutionality of the public-accommodations section?

The organized demonstrations — and in spots, the deliberate violence — which the nation has witnessed the last year for the most part were in violation of established laws to keep the peace. If those who object to the punitive provisions of the bill should register similar opposition, the nation is in for real trouble.

Any law going to extreme lengths in directing the lives of the people must, in the end, be enforced by voluntary compliance as long as the country is guided by democratic principles. Trouble with this bill is that "democratic principles" were not given much thought. It was conceived, discussed and passed under the pressure of political minorities. Now the legislators worry about steam from the other side.

Philosopher Says Rural Areas Had Nothing To Do With How Legislature Operates

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw apparently has found out about the latest Supreme Court ruling, his letter indicates.)

Dear editor: I'm not going to argue with the Supreme Court — it's like arguing with a woman, you don't get anywhere, even when you're right — but there was something in the newspapers about the results of the recent decision on redistricting that I want to clear up.

As you know, the Supreme Court says state senates have to follow the same rule as state lower houses, base its membership on population, not on geography.

In reporting this, the newspapers said that city people would be pleased with the decision, that for years the rural areas have held the upper hand in state legislatures.

This is outrageous. They're not going to pin the blame on us country folks. What's ever the state legislature has done in the years past, it was entirely out of my hands. Most of the time I didn't even know about it till it was done. I had nothing to do with it.

Let me go ahead and redistrict, let the cities have all the legislators and senators they can get, and I predict you won't be able to tell the difference.

Bible Comment—

Common Sense Is Needed In Christian Life

The Christian way of life and conduct, if one accepts and proposes to follow it, ought to be simply and easily defined. Is it not to love God with all the heart, strength and soul and mind, and to love one's neighbor as one's self?

Yet it is obvious in the pages of the New Testament and in the religious life of all times, including our own, that religious people have been deeply concerned about the problems of daily conduct. They have differed widely about questions of right and wrong and have often been harsh in their demands and judgments upon those whose ideas have not coincided with their own.

There are reasonable standards of moral judgment that would mark the proper conduct of a Christian while avoiding great extremes of undue Puritanism and undue license. They can be found in studying the words and example of Jesus in relation to matters of conduct.

So often, we are too inclined to relate the teachings of Jesus to the supreme matter of faith and life without paying sufficient attention to specific instances.

A striking instance concerns the Sabbath. It was made for man, Jesus said, and not man for the Sabbath. Throughout Christian history, punctilious observers carried to extremes observances to the letter of the Sabbath.

There are enough real sins and wrong to fight without creating artificial sins out of matters that are neither against God nor against one's fellow men.

Godness needs always the strong ally of common sense.

DeVaney Urges Federal Funds For Worm Fight

Texas Farm Bureau President C. H. DeVaney said federal funds for screwworm eradication should be increased from $2.75 million to $5 million annually, without a matching requirement, since the program is now international in scope.

The American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors has added its support to the program by requesting such an increase. DeVaney said. The FBF board, has long been active in the eradication campaign, having served as chairman of the group which established the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation to fight the screwworm.

Since the Southwest eradication program began more than two years ago, the campaign has been termed fully effective. Program officials now propose establishment of a buffer zone of several hundred miles in Mexico to prevent reinfestation. Cost of this is estimated at about $5.5 million annually.

The House Appropriations Committee, in a report approving the value of a buffer zone, said it does not feel the federal government should provide the full cost, and recommended that the executive branch "explore the possibility of establishing a joint program with Mexico to provide the necessary protection." The measure is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Federal expenditures have mounted to $6.3 million since the program began. Texas has spent $2.7 million, and area livestockmen and sportsmen have spent in excess of $3.2 million over the same period.

DeVaney said the Farm Bureau recommends the cost of spot checking and determining infestation in this country to be borne locally, as is the practice now.

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang — and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car — the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car—Thunderbird—with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

Texans With College Degrees Needed By TEC Kinney Says

Leon M. Kinney, office manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, urges Texans of both sexes with college degrees and an interest in youth to apply at the TEC office for one of the 250 counseling positions to be filled in preparation for a concerted state-federal effort to upgrade the work skill and employability of disadvantaged youth.

"The success of this intensive effort to motivate and to rehabilitate thousands of Texas youth who are unskilled and unemployed will depend to a great extent upon the caliber of the counselors we are able to recruit to work with them," Mr. Kinney said.

In pilot projects it has been discovered that young counselors in their early and middle twenties often do a superior job of working with school drop-outs and other troubled youth. For this reason, Mr. Kinney urges recent college graduates who enjoy working with youth to apply for one of these challenging positions. Applicants of all ages are needed and are urged to apply, however.

"No experience is required, and your degree can be in any field," Kinney stated, adding that selection will be based on interviews, personal and professional references, and a written examination to be given at the local office on June 27.

An intensive 8- to 10-week training program in techniques of counseling and other aspects of this effort to rehabilitate unskilled, jobless youth will be given counselors selected at a major Texas college beginning around the middle of July. During this training period, trainees will be paid subsistence and transportation costs. This training will be conducted by college teachers.

"Counselors will give intensive personal attention to all employment-related needs of disadvantaged youth, working closely with schools, community agencies, governmental groups, and employers to achieve the best possible utilization and coordination of the community's resources," Mr. Kinney said.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained at the TEC office at 406 Runnels Street, Big Spring, Texas.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

The sunburn season is here again.

It's a completely safe prediction that at least ten million people will succeed in roasting to a turn on the first long, hot weekend at the beach or pool, or even in the backyard garden.

If you want to get a sunburn, it's easy. Just stay out in the summer sun too long. However, do this with the knowledge that the physical benefits of tanning are at best dubious, and that there is solid evidence that continued exposure to sun weathers and ages the skin.

If you want to get tanned, the American Medical Association offers some pointers on how to do it without burning too much.

Gradual exposure to the sun is the safest and simplest method of acquiring an attractive tan. As a general rule, begin with 15 minutes exposure the first day, and increase the time by a few minutes a day. The time of day is important, with the mid-day period, when the sun is directly overhead, being the hottest for burning purposes.

Actually, the slim possible benefits of tanning are more than offset by its potential hazards. One skin specialist who has studied the problem said recently that he foresees the day when tanning will no longer be a status symbol and the fair, creamy complexion will once again be the vogue.

Continued tanning brings gradual changes in the blood vessels of the exposed surfaces. The connective tissue of the skin degenerates, causing wrinkles and a coarsening of texture. The "V" of the neck becomes permanently reddened and freckle-like dark spots appear on the skin. These spots can sometimes be the start of skin cancer.

Sun bleaches the hair too, and over a period of time the sun-bleached hair becomes brittle and unmanageable. However, the damaged hair will eventually grow out.

The only really beneficial effect of sunlight on the skin is formation of vitamin D, but the American diet already provides an adequate supply of this vitamin.

Despite the adverse physical indications, doctors are well aware that many of their patients still will continue to work on a suntan each summer. If you feel that you must get tanned, remember the basic rule for gradual tanning—15 minutes the first day, increased by about a third each day. With care, it may be possible to tan without too much burning and a minimum of peeling.

Questions And Answers

Q—I receive a widow's pension. I was not working when I began receiving the pension, but I have now secured employment. Is it necessary to report this to VA, or may I wait until I receive an income questionnaire at the end of the year?

A—You should inform the VA at once so that your continued entitlement may be checked. This could prevent the creation of an overpayment which would later have to be repaid to the VA.

Q—When I move next month how should I tell the VA so that I will get my pension check at the new address?

Should I notify the Treasury in Chicago?

A—No, do not advise the Treasury. Notify the VA Regional Office where your records are located and they will advise the Treasury. Give your Claim Number along with your old and new address. Also, be sure to tell your post office of the change.

Q—I have a rather large dividend accumulation on deposit with the Insurance Service. May I withdraw only a part of the total amount?

A—Yes. You may withdraw all or any part of the accumulated dividends.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER

Baking soda puts out a fire fast. Fill a plastic bag and store in camp gear. The tent you save may be your own.

WHITE GRUBS STAY WHITE

White grubs, like your wash, will stay whiter, brighter longer (instead of turning black in the water) if you put them in a container of white cornmeal the night before you go fishing.

NAILING THE BIG ONES

Got any old plugs that never seemed to do their share of catching fish? Raid your wife's nail polish and doctor them up with some horizontal red slashes. You might be surprised at the results.

ZIP!

A pinch of graphite on your zippers keeps them working smoothly in all kinds of weather.

CLAMP CLEANER

Take a board a foot wide and several feet long. Then take a battery clamp and drill a hole in the handle (often they come drilled). Screw clamp to board. Strong jaws of clamp hold fish's tail while you clean.

OUTFOXED

If you ever see a fox in the field, but he doesn't see you, conceal yourself, then blow on the back of your hand to make a squeaking noise. Fox will think it's a meadow mouse and start stalking you, when he gets in range . . . POW!

TABLESPOON SCALER

An oversized tablespoon big enough for your hand to get a grip on makes a fine fish scaler. Works best on small pan fish.

PLASTIC BAG CREEL

If you're wading and don't want to be bothered with a creel, tote several plastic bags. They fit easily into a pocket and you can wrap fish in them and store in a pocket with no fear of mess.

GUN OIL

In a pinch the dip stick of your car will provide enough oil to keep gun from rusting or reel working another day.

Then, when you have a full load, you press a button and your glasses and other dishes are washed and dried automatically. An electric dishwasher not only keeps your kitchen tidier and saves many hours of drudgery, it gets dishes hygienically clean, using water hotter than hands can stand. SPRAYING MESQUITE-INFESTED RANCH—A Piper Pawnee spray plane is shown spraying the Chuck Houston ranch south of Stanton in an effort to control the rapid infestation of rangeland by mesquite. The planes dump the spray on the mesquite while flying about 20 feet over the tops of the trees. The chemical, a hormone, is mixed with diesel fuel and a wetting agent. Spraying also kills veined weeds.

Bobby Rejected For Asia Post

President Johnson rejected an offer by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to serve the administration in South Vietnam, it has been learned. Reliable sources confirmed a New York Times report that Kennedy had made the offer in a letter to the President, and that Johnson had telephoned Kennedy, expressing warm gratitude but turning down the offer and asking Kennedy to remain in the Justice Department.

There has been speculation that Kennedy is being considered as a vice-presidential running mate for Johnson this year. There has been equal talk that Johnson and Kennedy do not get along well. In the light of these reports, the sources said, Johnson did not want to be viewed as sending Kennedy out of the country during the political season.

Bell Ringing Set July 4

In a flurry of resolution signing Thursday, Gov. John Connally proclaimed a resolution encouraging the ringing of "every bell available to every community" for two minutes at noon on Independence Day, July 4.

The bell-ringing, known as "liberty bells," was urged by Connally to remind Texans on the Fourth "of the worth and wealth of his national heritage."

"Testifying before a Congressional Committee, an official of the Social Security Administration was asked exactly where the fund stood. His answer was that if social security were stopped today with no more contributions and no additional obligations, it was in the red $300 billion. The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

SAMMY DAVIS, JR., the negro entertainer, opened this week in Philadelphia in "Golden Boy." Even GOD won't change him that much, civil rights or no.

SMART Texans are going to the mountains, lakes, streams, and quiet, restful places for their vacations. None of this New York business and the World's Fair baloney. It's not safe to be in New York without a gun and it's a violation of the law to carry a pistol on your person up there. Last week two couples were beaten by roaming street vandals while 50 New Yorkers looked on and moved on without calling the police. Some deal—some town—some protection!

IRONY in rank form entered the political picture last week. The descendants of GRANT passed the "no-rights" bill on Juneteenth. It was one year ago on the same day—Juneteenth—that the late PRESIDENT KENNEDY called for the bill's passage. On the same day the senate bill passed—Juneteenth—SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY was critically injured in a plane crash. Things do bug one! Call it coincidental—accidental—or what you will. Could it be that a message is trying to be sent? You star gazers study up on this fortune telling and forecasting business and let us know. We heard a prediction the other day and if it happens we are going to stop doubting the palm readers, fill up the jug, and head for the hills.

A "rights" trio—all men—trained in Ohio to participate in the "Mississippi Project" are missing according to late press reports. The people living in the Delta Country will work out their own problems, including the right to vote if let alone by outside agitators. It is only natural for residents of one state born and reared in long standing traditions to resent a "second march to the sea," from agitators and peace disturbers. And acts of possible violence can result from such acts of deliberate provocation. No loyal citizen of any state is going to be shoved around and let his or her rights be trampled on just so someone else can gain theirs. It's not in the cards.

FEDERAL court dockets in the U. S. are destined to become so cluttered with cases after the passage of the CR bill that suits and counter suits will go for years before final decisions can be made. Speaking of opportunity for our youths—why not the law? Attorneys are due to make fortunes in the years ahead just from the causes of action to be filed in U. S. courts.

A story out of Washington Wednesday said "Atty. GEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY, still trying to decide what to do with his future, removed himself Tuesday from a chance at one of New York's Senate seats." A lot of good, patriotic, loyal Texans would like to make suggestions to GENERAL KENNEDY concerning his future. It appears now that LBJ will play a vital part in helping the late President's brother with his future.

SPEAKING of the future, we have lots of nice things coming up on the community calendar this Summer. For instance there is July 4, and following shortly thereafter we will see the OLD SETTLERS home again for a visit at their annual reunion. The second Tuesday in July will really be a fine day here. For lots of folk the vacation period starts. We would appreciate a card or letter from any vacationing Martin Countians for publication because we are all interested in each other.

LLOYD HENSON, out of the hospital, visited in our office Wednesday morning. LLOYD was hospitalized after suffering a heart spell at his home in the city last Saturday. He told us he planned to rest, relax and take it easy. Doctors advised us to do the same thing recently but it's hard for people in our business to slow the pace.

YOUR writer appreciated a personal telephone call from DR. ALLEN HAMILTON of Big Spring last week. The eye specialist has frequently called us in months past to compliment some article appearing in the newspaper. He told us that THE STANTON REPORTER was always a welcome visitor in his office—that the entire staff read it—and then it gets a place in the waiting lobby so any patient desiring to read the publication can do so.

YOUR editor, Martin County Chairman for ATTY. GENERAL WAGGONER CARR'S YOUTH CONFERENCE to be held in Austin, July 9, received a personal communication Wednesday morning asking us to be sure and try to find some boys from this county interested in attending. If you want to go contact us immediately. We will explain the plan.

The program was presented by Mrs. Floyd Martin on "Pies and Pastries."

Refreshments were served to those attending.

Members present were Mrs. Horace Tubb, Mrs. E. P. Madison, Mrs. Floyd Martin, Mrs. Ernest Reynolds, and Mrs. Lee Castle.

Mrs. Delbert Donelson and son, Gary of Vernon, have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Donelson. Their son, Delbert, will come for his family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton McClesky, Stephen, and Janie of San Antonio, visited last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McClesky, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haislip. Mr. and Mrs. McClesky will return with their son for a visit to San Antonio, and Stephen will remain to visit with the Haislips.
