Our county depends largely on the profits derived from the crops in the field of agriculture for economic security. It behooves us all to join the nation in observing FARM SAFETY WEEK. Elsewhere in this issue of the newspaper we have dealt with the necessity of marking the week both editorially and in a page one banner story.

On this page a report citing the causes of crime increase across the nation as described by COL. HOMER GARRISON Texas Department of Public Safety appears. On the inside of this issue the entire comprehensive report recently released by J. EDGAR HOOVER is printed as a public service. Read the stories — get the facts from authorities who know. The situation is critical. The riots, robberies, and other crimes against society — some no doubt communist inspired are on the upswing.

THOMAS WILLIAM ANGEL, 90, one of our county's true pioneers was laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery last week. MR. ANGEL was a native of Alabama and left his native state to come to Texas, meet, and wed MISS ZELLA EMELINE HULL, Brown County, in 1895. The couple selected Martin County as their permanent Texas home nearly 40 years ago. They prospered in many ways and carved a place for themselves and their family in this area. MR. ANGEL was very active in Masonic circles. He sincerely lived up to the code of that fine organization. MR. TOM leaves a wonderful wife, and a number of descendants who have always cast credit on this community. He will be missed by all who loved and honored him.

THE STANTON REPORTER and the editor lost a good friend and loyal supporter when MRS. HENRY RINGHOFFER was called to eternal rest by The Maker. It was our happy privilege to work with MRS. RINGHOFFER as her hometown newsman in publicizing the many accomplishments in the culinary field won by this late talented lady. MRS. RINGHOFFER exhibited home canned foods, the jellies, the preserves, and other articles of her own creation in many state, regional, district, and county fairs. She was a constant winner. She was not only a winner of many honors in the exhibit halls of this area but a winner in life too. She was a Christian. She leaves a devoted, sorrowing, and loyal husband to mourn her going home. We extend HENRY our deepest personal sympathy.

BOB LATIMER is on vacation this week and advised us this week that he planned to spend his off time at home. His business associate, LU BLACK, is taking the vacation time off visiting relatives and friends in other cities in Texas. BOB is not going to get too far away from the local coffee drinkers. He was standing downtown in front of WAGGREEN'S waiting on SAM MARTIN to come by and invite him in for a cup about the usual time Monday.

KID GLOVE TREATMENT HIT

Crime Increase Causes Cited

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety Monday blamed the 10 per cent nationwide increase in serious crime on public apathy, over-production of lawbreakers and disrespect for law enforcement officers.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. coupled these with "a general weakening of the moral fiber of the over-all population" in commenting on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's report Monday that 2.5 million serious crimes were reported in 1963.

In issuing the report, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington that too much leniency is extended to lawbreakers.

Texas showed a 5.8 per cent increase in reported crime with 229,254 offenses. "There seems to be an increasing tendency to overzealously protect the so-called 'rights' of the lawbreaker to the detriment of the law-abiding majority, coupled with an apathetic attitude on the part of the people toward crime as long as it does not directly affect them," Garrison said in Austin.

"In this climate, it is also apparent that there is an accompanying disrespect for the duly constituted officers of the law as reflected in the increasing number of attacks upon them, and a lessening of public support for those who have been selected to protect their lives and property.

"It appears that we are living in an era of growing disregard for law and order in our society, which is nurtured by a lessening of parental supervision of our youngsters at a time when they represent a larger percentage of our entire population than ever before in history." (Continued on page 5)

Farm Bureau Spearheading Annual Event

Martin County is observing July 19 through July 25 as FARM SAFETY WEEK, according to Owen Kelly, president of the local county Farm Bureau.

President Johnson and Governor Connally have previously designated this week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce disabling injuries and death.

The county farm leader said that farm accidents have been reduced in the past few years; however farmers cannot afford to let down their guard against accidents. He emphasized that farming remains one of the most hazardous occupations in America today.

Kelly stated that "All the citizens of Martin County are concerned about the safety and well-being of farm families from whom we receive our abundance of food and other essential agricultural commodities."

"Farm accidents result in over 150 deaths and thousands of disabling injuries in Texas each year.

"Farm accidents are responsible for needless suffering and incapacity, and greatly effect the economic well-being and progress of our agricultural population in our county, state, and nation."

"Throughout this special week, a statewide farm accident prevention and educational program will be under- (Continued on page 5)

Farm Safety Week

National Farm Safety Week has become an American Institution. It richly deserves this distinction, for the toll of death and injury that accidents cause to farmers and farm people is and long has been an urgent problem.

This year the week is to be observed during the July 19-25 period, using as its theme "Safer American Families Everywhere".

Notwithstanding the fact that hundreds of thousands of volunteer leaders and members of rural organizations actively participate in community, state, and national safety programs which have proved effective in reducing the number and rate of accidents among farm residents, accidents still cause thousands of deaths and nearly a million disabling injuries to farm people each year. This loss of human and economic resources causes a significant adverse impact upon the economy of the entire Nation and must be viewed as a matter of national concern.

The facts and figures fully support the statement. The death toll from farm accidents runs at a rate of about 8,700 a year, along with some 800,000 injuries. The dollar cost is estimated at $1.5 billion.

Farm people who are laid up by accidents buy less machinery, consumer goods farm supplies. Their income loss is a business loss to the community and nation. And no statistic of course, can begin to measure the extent of the human problems that all of these needless deaths and injuries create.

During the week, all manner of media are used in the concerted effort to bring the message home to farm people everywhere in the 50 states—and to business and other people as well. Factual kit materials have been prepared by the National Safety Council and the Department of Agriculture. They include items for newspaper use, material for talks and articles, program ideas for religious leaders and women's groups, stickers and posters. The dangers which are thus covered are wide—highway safety, electricity, falls, machinery, and so on.

Basically, the idea is to stress that accidents don't just happen, they are caused—and to stir people to act constructively. As an example, particular attention is given to stepping up safety efforts in the use of pesticides and tractors. As a spokesman for the Department of Agriculture put it, "Both are basically safe tools. It is unsafe users that make them dangerous."

Specifically, in our society we use over 25,000 different kinds of drugs and household products. Many of them are potential killers if misused. But, if the proper, and usually simple, precautions are taken, they are perfectly safe. To say the obvious, special care must be taken in keeping such substances away from children.

A list of the causes of fatal accidents on farms in a recent year (traffic and home accidents not included) is revealing. Among them are machinery, drownings, firearms, falls, blows, animals, burns, lightning and suffocation. An accident of some kind kills a farm resident every hour.

The doleful record can be cut, and sharply, if those concerned will pay attention to the lessons that Farm Safety Week is designed to teach—and remember that "accidents don't just happen, they are caused."

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

A common, old-fashioned blister can spoil a summer weekend or vacation trip.

If you enjoy a lot of golf, tennis or hiking during your vacation weeks, a blistered foot or finger can be a minor calamity.

The blister merits closer attention than we usually grant it, says the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and the Committee on Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association. The admonitions that apply to organized athletics also are sound tips for the millions of weekend and vacation athletes.

The blister is caused by pressure and friction on a localized area of the skin. Fluid collects between the inner and outer layers of skin. If pressure is continued, it hurts. Even if no infection follows, the pain can cause a limp that isn't much fun for the golfer or hiker, and it can upset the customary grip on a tennis racket or golf club or oar or canoe paddle.

The best approach to blisters is prevention. Proper fit of shoes is fundamental. There should be room beyond the big toe, room across the top, fitting of the ball of the foot into the widest part of the shoe and no slipping at the heel.

Wearing two pairs of socks, a lightweight pair under sweat socks, is recommended. Hands can be protected by taping or by special sports gloves. Decision on whether or not to puncture a blister is based on location, size and inflammation. If there are signs of inflammation or irritation, medical attention is indicated. Sometimes it is advisable to puncture a blister before it breaks from friction. Wash the area with soap and water and sterilize with alcohol. The puncture is made with a sharp needle held in a forceps (small pliers) and sterilized in a flame. The puncture is made at the side of the blister and the outer skin layer is left in place as a protective cover.

Attention to cleanliness in dealing with blisters cannot be overstressed. Infected blisters require prompt medical attention, as do the occasional blisters from severe sunburn or other burn causes.

Bible Comment—

'Character' Is Great Theme In Bible

What the Bible has to say about character is not to be found in one place; it permeates the Great Book, from Genesis to Revelation.

After its supreme theme—the message concerning the character of God, and the Gospel of His grace—it is the Bible's greatest theme of man's relationship to God and to his fellow man.

Nor are these greatest themes of the Bible in any sense separate or unrelated. Jesus said to His disciples: "Be ye perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect." It is in being godly, like God, that man attains his highest and best.

This close linking of man and his God is the distinctive quality of Judaism and Christianity. Most other religions have been characterized by fear, not in the sense of awe and veneration in the presence of a Perfect Being, but in abject appeasing fear and humiliation.

When that ancient Hebrew writer declared that God had made man in His own image; it might equally have been said that man was conceiving of God in his human image; but either way it was a profound conception.

With such a conception of God as the supreme perfection of all that man saw in the promptings of his own soul, man's aspiration toward that Perfect Being became, at least in the truly saintly, the one great goal of life and character.

The power of that self-discipline, as the fundamental element in character, became expressed in a spiritual largeness the like of which has seldom been equaled elsewhere in religious experience.

Philosopher Seeks To Get Convention Language Adopted By Rest Of The Country

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw probably has been watching television too much, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor: One thing I've learned from watching political conventions on television is that politicians have developed the English language to a much higher and more satisfactory instrument than the rest of us and I don't see why we can't get up on their level too.

For example, one of those television interviewers with a box strapped to his back and ear muffs on, I guess to keep from hearing the same thing over and over again, will corner a politician and say:

"There's a rumor that you might be selected as the vice presidential candidate. Can you confirm this?"

"I can confirm the rumor, but that's all."

"Would you accept the nomination if offered?"

"Let me make this clear. I've said again and again that I am not seeking the office, that I'm happy with the job I have."

A man, if he believes in his country and the future of this party, and let me say I certainly do, has to do what he has to do, as duty dictates. I don't see how I can make it any clearer."

This is what I'm talking about. Now say a store calls you up and says, "We have your check here for $3.25 which has been returned by the bank. We wonder if you will please make it good?"

"Well, you ought to be allowed to say, 'let me make this clear. I have always believed in fiscal integrity, it's the corner stone on which the Pilgrim fathers landed, and I don't mind saying for the record that excessive government spending and financial irresponsibility in Washington have got to stop, and that goes for Cuba too, not to mention what we all know about the situation in Viet Nam, and while I certainly consider it a signal honor that you have mentioned my name in this matter, I have always taken the position that no man should cross two bridges at the same time, whether he has come to them or not, nor should he attempt to burn one, whether it's behind him or not, or to his left or right. The middle of the road is the way to sail safely into port. I don't see how I can make this any clearer."

Voters seem to go for this sort of language, why can't store owners?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURYNE VARNADORE

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday night, July 27, at the Chamber office. All directors are urged to be present.

The Pecos Chamber of Commerce has issued an invitation to all flying enthusiasts in Martin County to attend its Fly-In Breakfast on Sunday morning, August 23. Plans are being made for a ranch style breakfast which will include Pecos cantaloupes. All pilots are urged to participate.

In the wee hours of Monday morning, July 20, your Chamber manager joined the grandmothers club when a baby was born to her son and his wife in Colorado City. The following poem is lovingly dedicated to her first grandchild.

"I know a little garden, dear,
Where weeds and flowers grow;
The weeds must all be rooted out;
This garden is your little heart,
Where faults and virtues grow;
And you, the little gardener,
Must tend it well, you know.
You must pull out the growing weeds,
And cultivate the flowers;
And you must toil with patient care
Through long and weary hours.
For weeds are of a ranker growth,
And grow despite your care;
But you must weed them, one by one,
And help the flowers grow there.
And tending, you must pray for help;
God's sunshine and His rain;
For, without these, my little one,
All tending is in vain,
But with His help, dear as you toil
Through life's long, passing hours,
You'll have, instead of ugly weeds,
A garden full of flowers!"

Bye, now.

Regulations On Dove Set

The regulations for the coming mourning dove and white-winged dove season as promulgated by the Parks and Wildlife Commission are:

The North Zone mourning dove season opens at noon September 1 and runs through October 30. Shooting hours are from noon until sunset. Bag limits are 12 per day and 24 in possession.

The South Zone mourning dove season opens September 26 and runs through November 24, except in counties having a special open season on white-winged doves where the season will close on November 20.

White-winged dove season will run two consecutive weekends, September 5 and 6, and September 12 and 13, opening at 2 p.m. and closing at sunset in the following counties: Brewster, Brooks, Cameron, Culberson, Dimmit, El Paso, Hidalgo, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Jim Hogg, Kennedy, Kinney, La Salle, Marverick, Presidio, Starr, Terrell, Val Verde, Webb, Willacy, and Zapata.

The North Zone comprises Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, and Shelby counties and counties north and west thereof. All other counties are in the South Zone.

Mourning doves may be taken also during the special whitewings seasons. Bag limits will be 12 doves per day and 24 in possession, but only 10 per day may be whitewings and only 20 whitewings may be in possession at any time.

The department also announced regulations for some of the other migratory game birds. Rails and gallinules (except coots) may be taken from September 1 through October 20. Shooting hours will be from sunrise to sunset. The bag and possession limits will be 15 in the aggregate.

Woodcock may be hunted from November 27 through January 15, from sunrise to sunset with a daily bag limit of five (5) and a possession limit of 10. RECOGNIZED AT REUNION—G. Knappe, seated right, of Big Spring, was recognized as the oldest settler at the reunion held here recently. Also seated are Mrs. Hattie Estes and Mrs. Claude Kelly, oldest living women pioneers, and standing Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Marshall of Hartford, Connecticut, who came the longest distance for the celebration.

A costly plan for "catching up" with other states in the field of higher education has been outlined to Texans by the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

It will take considerable money to accomplish just one of the major tests of excellence in education — bringing Texas faculty salaries up to the national average. More is needed for libraries and research facilities.

To help achieve goals in those three fields, the committee recommended that further college construction be delayed. By using present classrooms and laboratories more hours a day and more days a year, this saving can be accomplished, the committee felt.

Gov. John Connally conceded that it will take new taxes to finance the program which he has termed his No. 1 interest. Neither he nor the committee recommended a financing plan. Committee did say the Legislature should double college tuition, so students and their parents would share more of the cost of education.

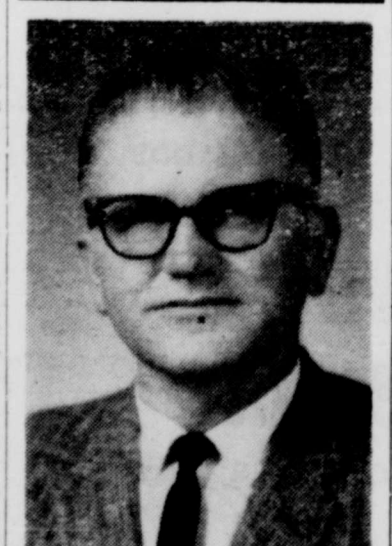

Plan calls for expansion of the junior college system, and wide use of vocational training to prepare students for skilled and semi-skilled technical jobs in industry.

Coordination, to eliminate duplication between state colleges, would be placed in the hands of an 18-member board appointed by the governor. Board would take over duties of the present junior college division of the Texas Education Agency and the Commission on Higher Education.

This would put junior and senior college and university supervision in a single group. Goal would be to make junior college training available to all, and to raise its level of excellence so all junior college credits would be immediately transferrable to senior colleges.

Committee, headed by H. B. Zachry, San Antonio construction executive, is taking its case to the public in a series of meetings with business leaders in their communities.

Making Way For 1960 — A large number of Texas cities with populations of less than 50,000 are planning now for the year 1990 by developing a blueprint for program under a federal-local program being administered by the State Health Department.

Under this program, a city can obtain studies of current facilities and projections of future needs in every area from economic and sociological needs to budgeting for capital improvements. The Housing and Home Finance agency makes grants for the master plans and the city pays one-third of the cost, while the federal agency pays two-thirds.

A typical town under study is the West Texas city of Winters, which has a population of 3,200 and will spend $4,845 toward a $13,365 master plan.

So far, 109 cities have enrolled in the planning project to see where they can go and how they can get there over the next 25 years.

Public Pier — Parks and Wildlife Department will advertise a second time for bids for concession rights on the new state fishing pier at Port Lavaca. Only one person submitted a bid July 1 after 13 said they were interested.

The 3,200-foot-long pier, which replaced one destroyed by Hurricane Carla, is said to be the world's longest fishing pier. Access to it will be free to the public, but the department is trying to provide a source of bait, soft drinks and fishing gear via a concessionaire contract.

Animal Health Head Change Due — Texas Animal Health Commission will decide on July 27 on a new commission director to replace Dr. R. G. Garrett of Taylor who plans to resign.

Decision will be made at a meeting to be hosted by Chairman Ed Knolle of Sandia at his Knolle Jersey Farm in Jim Wells County. Knolle said there have been several "well-qualified" applicants for the post, but declined to list them. However, it has been rumored that a staff veterinarian with the commission, Dr. S. B. Walker, will be favored.

Brucellosis Program Blocked—Animal Health Commission postponed to September a decision on whether to let a Type II brucellosis control program be set up in one part of Brooks County.

Commission has been informed that many Brooks County producers want to organize a program, but the King Ranch which has 3,991 of the cattle in a county is tax rolls does not. Approval of the owners of 75 per cent of the cattle in a county is necessary so the proponents want to organize a program in just the soil conservation district which covers all of the county except King Ranch property.

Commission said it lacked sufficient information for a decision at this time.

West Texas School — West Texas cities that want to be home to a new West Texas school for the mentally retarded will have to wait until at least September 14 to learn which will be chosen.

Chairman of the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools' site selections committee, C. E. Bentley of Abilene, said his committee will report to the board on that date. However, Bentley did not say that the committee will make a definite recommendation on a single site at that time.

Industrial Development — Texas Industrial Commission is boasting in the July issue of Texas Parade Magazine that 27 new plants were announced in Texas in May. Map used to illustrate the new industry points out quite prominently the fact that while the Dallas-Fort Worth area gained 12 of these new plants, seven were located in Panhandle towns and six others were in other small towns.

Commission announced that Patrick J. Ryan of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and Sylvan R. Lange of Greater Marshall Industries have been approved for the first year class at the Industrial Development Institute in Norman, Oklahoma.

Attorney General Rulings — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr ruled that a county election board must furnish voting booths for all polling places within each city of 10,000 or more inhabitants.

Carr also ruled that a county clerk does not have authority to charge the fee for releasing of chattel mortgage or lien on personal property at the time such mortgage is filed.

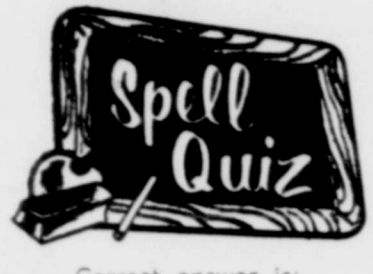

Veterans' Commission — State Auditor C. H. Cavness reports that the Veterans' Affairs Commission helped Texas veterans and their dependents and survivors obtain $93,591,000 in benefits during the year which ended August 31, 1963.

Commissioners are John E. McKelvey of Electra; Justin N. Morrow, Rotan; J. Walter Janko, Somerville; Joe F. Ramsey, Jr., Houston, and Charles C. Ford, Longview.

Mrs. Jack Adams of Lewiston, Idaho, has returned of her home after being here for several weeks at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Albert Louder, who is seriously ill in the local hospital.

Mrs. H. M. McReynolds and Mrs. F. J. Brandt visited in San Saba during the past weekend. Susan Brandt returned home with them after having visited with friend and relatives in Austin and San Saba for five weeks.

Dr. Sue Fisher is in Amarillo this week, where she is taking advanced studies in anesthesia at the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital. She is working with Dr. Scott, chief anesthetist at the hospital.

HOT SUMMER WEATHER... when I do the most for you!

To keep you cool and comfortable, I work more hours per day operating your room air conditioners, evaporative coolers and electric fans.

I work harder operating your electric refrigerator to protect your perishables and supply extra quantities of ice cubes, cold drinks and frozen desserts.

There is more washing and ironing to be done, supplying the crisp, clean clothes your family needs during wiling summer weather.

Because there are more and bigger jobs for me to do during extremely hot dry weather, most electric service bills are higher during such periods. But it's now... when you're able to stay cool and comfortable in spite of the heat... that you can really appreciate the value of my services. I'm your greatest aid to summertime comfort and year-around better living.

New Frontier Born Revolutionists Win Two Subway Battles In New York

NEW YORK — Gangs, 25-strong, of young negroes, again have made white subway riders the targets of subway attacks. Two white men were robbed, beaten and kicked without any provocation by a band of the roving thieves. One of the victims was 57 years of age and an actor. The other was a 51-year-old pharmacist. Neither of the men belonged to a "hate" group but the group that clobbered them sure "hated" them. This "hate" political baloney is a two-way street in the minds of not only southerners but New Yorkers too.

Ill Adjusted Pickers Can Pick A Pocket

Poorly adjusted cotton pickers may lose three to four dollars worth of cotton from each acre picked, reports Beverly Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Losing just one percent efficiency from your cotton picker can mean the loss of a dollar per acre or more on bale-per-acre cotton, explains the specialist. Poorly adjusted pickers commonly lose three to four percent efficiency.

The condition of your picker affects cotton grade as well as picking efficiency. Therefore, hundreds of dollars can be saved by putting your machine in top condition before picking season, says Reeves.

Since all working parts should be in good condition, a complete overhaul by a qualified dealer is your best insurance against picker breakdown and inefficiency, advises the specialist. Pickers need a certain amount of regular adjustment, repair, and part replacement which can best be performed by trained personnel with the proper equipment while the machine is being overhauled.

Due to improved designs and assembly line overhauling, annual overhaul costs are lower than a few years ago, says Reeves. Also, through improved design of picker components, annual maintenance costs have been reduced by nearly 50 percent since 1950.

By putting your picker in good condition before harvest season, you can harvest extra dollars from your cotton crop.

County Farm Bureau President Kelly, said that a different phase of safety would be emphasized each day during the week: Sunday — reverence for life; Monday — safety begins at home; Tuesday — agricultural chemicals; Wednesday — prevent falls; Thursday — rural highway safety; Friday — farm machinery; Saturday — recreation safety.

County Farm Bureaus are becoming increasingly active in safety work. President Owen Kelly said. This is evidenced by the County Farm Bureau cooperating with the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department in sponsoring and conducting safety education demonstrations all over the state as well as demonstrations in high schools all over the state as well as participating in fire extinguisher and auto safety seat belt projects.

The county farm leader said that in seven years of sponsoring and conducting the safe driving demonstrations, some 170 different county farm bureaus have staged the program in 566 schools across the state. About 145 county farm bureaus have sold over 6,000 pressurized dry chemical fire extinguishers and 1,600 auto safety belts, Kelly continued.

Increased emphasis is being placed on fire prevention and protection by farm bureaus across the state. County farm bureaus from all parts of the state are sponsoring members of local volunteer fire departments as students attending the annual Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M during Farm Safety Week, July 19-25. Farm bureau is paying $45 of the $50 registration fee, lodging and meals for each of 110 volunteer firemen sponsored.

The farm bureau will also pay any local organized fire department for answering calls outside the city limits to fight fires involving the property of farm bureau members carrying fire insurance with the farm bureau insurance company, he said. The amount of payment will be $75 per call.

Another emphasis on fire prevention and protection is a new safety education demonstration to be conducted in high schools all over the state commencing with the 1964-65 school term.

Multiple Definitions Fit All Bachelors!

Some people don't know what weddings are all about. Orange blossoms, white lace and diamonds rings give them indigestion. These people are called Bachelors and they say Nobody Understands Them. But everybody knows what a bachelor is:

A guy who never got around to marrying in his youth, and has gotten around it ever since.

A guy who never Mrs. anything.

One who enjoys life, liberty and the happiness of pursuit. A fellow who wants to have a girl in his arms without having her on his hands.

One who believes it's better to have loved and lost than to have to get up for the 2 a.m. feeding.

A fellow who may not have all his buttons, but still has all his marbles.

A fellow who can take women or leave 'em — and usually does both.

A guy without the urge to merge.

A chap who doesn't want to play Truth or Consequences. A Big Dame Hunter out window shopping.

A fellow who is footloose and family-free.

A guy without the itch to hitch.

A man who wouldn't take "Yes" for an answer.

A guy who only has to fix one breakfast before going to work.

A chap who has to leave a tip after each meal.

A man who considers a wedding ring a vicious circle.

One who is crazy to get married—but realizes it in time.

FBI Reports Ten Per Cent Crime Increase

Big Rise Registered Since Kennedy Death

Serious crime in the United States registered a 10 percent increase in volume in 1963 over 1962 according to the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy today released figures made available by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover which disclosed the sharp trend last year resulted primarily from crimes against property which had an overall 11 percent rise. Larceny $50 and over climbed 13 percent, auto theft 11, burglary 9 and robbery 5. These crimes comprise 92 percent of the total Crime Index offenses. Crimes against the person likewise showed an increase of 5 percent as a group with aggravated assault up 6 per cent and forcible rape and murder 1 percent each. There were over two and one-quarter million serious crimes reported in 1963.

Mr. Hoover noted that the continued upswing in crime was consistent in all areas led by the suburban communities up 13 percent, while the cities averaged a 10 percent rise and rural areas 6 percent. Geographically, the trend was uniform with the North Central States up 6 percent, the Western States 10, the Southern States 12 and the Northeastern States 13 percent.

When considered in relation to our population increase, the arrests for all types of criminal acts per 1,000 inhabitants. In the cities the arrest rate was 42 per 1,000, suburban area 19 and rural areas recorded 15 arrests per 1,000 population. Volumewise, the number of city arrests remained about the same level as 1962; however, suburban and rural areas each had a 6 percent increase in arrest activity. Mr. Hoover said that the city arrest total was substantially influenced by a decrease in arrests for the offenses against public order such as drunkenness, vagrancy, disorderly conduct and the like, while arrests for major criminal activities were generally up. Mr. Hoover stated that police arrests nationally for the serious crimes rose 8 percent in 1963 over 1962 which was one indicator of law enforcements increased activity to meet the growing crime problem.

During 1963 arrests of young persons under 18 years of age for criminal acts soared 11 percent. This was the fifteenth consecutive years to register an increase. Since 1958 police arrests of juveniles have increased twice as fast as the young age population growth. For all criminal acts these young offenders made up 17 percent of all police arrests. However, persons under 18 were represented in 8 percent of the arrests for murder, forcible rape 18 percent, robbery 26 percent, aggravated assault 14 percent burglary 50 percent, larceny 51 percent, and 63 percent of the auto theft arrests. Mr. Hoover cautioned that although arrests indicate our young people contribute a disproportionate share to the crime counts nationally, only 4 out of each 100 young persons actually become involved.

When comparing arrest rates, it was found that young persons in the 15 through 19 year age group had the greatest frequency of all population groups for the crimes against property of burglary, larceny and auto theft. The 20-24 year age group had the highest arrest rates for the crimes of murder, aggravated assault and forcible rape, as well as for robbery and narcotic violations. The arrest rate for gambling was highest in the 30-34 year age group while related arrests occurred most often in the 25-29 year age group.

The FBI Director called attention to the fact that 88 law enforcement officers died in the line of duty in 1963, 55 of them victims of vicious killers. Since 1960 a total of 168 officers have been murdered as they performed their official tasks. Firearms were used in 162 of these killings, with revolvers and automatic pistols accounting for 131 of the deaths and rifles and shotguns 31. Knives, clubs and other weapons were responsible for the remaining 6. A review of the criminal histories of the persons responsible for these murders discloses 79 percent had prior records of arrest. Seventy-three percent had been convicted of some crime and 53 percent had received leniency in the form of parole or probation. Thirty-six percent were on parole or probation at the time they became involved in the killing of a policeman. The numbers of assaults on police continued an upward trend with 11 of every 100 officers having been the victim of an attack during 1963. The number of police employees remained unchanged from 1962, namely, 1.9 per 1,000 population.

Other highlights in the FBI report disclosed that firearms were used in 56 percent of all murders and 13 percent of all assaults to kill. Nationwide, a weapon was used in 59 percent of all robberies. Property stolen in 1963 through robbery, burglary and larceny exceeded $785 million. The average loss in each robbery was $276, burglary $211, larceny $82 and auto theft $927. These property losses were cut to 46 cents on each dollar by police recovery action. Mr. Hoover stated the annual cost of crime in the United States is now conservatively estimated to be $27 billion. This updated an earlier estimate made 5 years ago.

In releasing that 1963 Uniform Crime Reports, Director Hoover called attention to statistical data published for the first time pertaining to the criminal histories of chronic offenders. This information was developed from a new program initiated by the FBI in 1963 and which is the beginning of criminal career records on repeaters who over the years contribute annually to our mounting crime counts.

According to Mr. Hoover, the analysis of the new information revealed that 75 percent of more than 56,000 offenders whose criminal fingerprint records were actively handled in 1963 had been arrested 2 or more times and 25 percent had been arrested for the first time.

In reviewing the records of those who had 2 or more arrests, it was determined that the average criminal career (span of years from first to latest arrest) was 10 years, during which period the average offender had been arrested 4 times. According to their criminal histories, 52 percent of these offenders had received leniency during their criminal careers in the form of probation, parole, conditional release or suspended sentence. Of these, 68 percent received leniency on one occasion, 20 percent twice and 12 percent three or more times. As a group, these offenders averaged 3 arrests after the first leniency action and their career criminal records averaged 12 years and 6 arrests.

An analysis of these criminal records by type of offender revealed that the robber had an average criminal career of 13 years and 9 arrests for separate criminal acts. Twenty-five percent repeated in robbery and two-thirds received leniency during their criminal career.

The auto thief also has a high degree of mobility as does the burglar. The auto thief had a criminal career averaging 9 years and 6 arrests; the average burglar 12 years and 8 arrests. Two-thirds of both of these criminal types, like the robber, had been granted leniency during their criminal careers. On the average the auto thief was arrested 4 times after the first leniency action and the burglar 5 times. Thirty-three percent of the auto thieves repeated this crime while 37 percent of the burglars were arrested for additional burglaries. The narcotic offenders in this study had an average criminal career of 11 years and 8 arrests. As a group they showed the highest recidivism in the same crime with 48 percent of the offenders recording two or more arrests for

Union Man Says LBJ Office Wired

A Teamster Union lobbyist said this week that Atty. General Bobby Kennedy has installed secret listening devices in Lyndon Johnson's office in the White House office.

And Mr. Johnson knows it, but "has been afraid to do anything about it because of the political implications with the Kennedy family," said Siney Zagri, head of the Teamsters Union political and legislative operations.

Zagri, who is chief lobbyist in Washington for the Teamsters, spoke at a defense fund rally for Teamster President James R. Hoffa, who is currently on trial in Chicago on charges of fraud and taking kickbacks from the Central States Teamsters Pension Fund.

Zagri said he learned of Kennedy's alleged bugging of the White House "from the head of an important committee of the House of Representatives," but he declined to name his source.

Zagri said he expects that the alleged bugging of the White House, and the "planting of spies in labor unions by the Department of Justice" will be investigated soon by the House Judiciary Committee. He said 21 of the 35 committee members now are pledged to vote for hearings on the Justice Department.

Zagri said Kennedy's "vendetta" is "not only against Hoffa but also against Roy Cohn (former aide to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, (R-Wis.), Gen. Edwin Walker and anyone else who dares to disagree with him."

He urged Teamsters to advise President Johnson not to name Kennedy as his running mate in the forthcoming presidential election.

Game Warden C. H. "Swede" Johnson, in Brady, received a report of two small coveys of exotic gray francolins observed in northwest McCulloch County in the Pear Valley Community. One brood contained four and another eight young birds.

In 1963, 192 hatchery-raised gray francolins were released on four separate areas in the north part of the county. These two broods are the first offspring to be reported.

King Ranch Grant Will Launch New Research At Texas A&M

The King Ranch Chair of Basic Animal Science will be established in Texas A&M University's College of Agriculture with funds provided by the Ranch. A grant of $125,000 was presented to the university on July 7 to finance the new research program for the next five years.

Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., Belton K. Johnson and Dr. J. D. Alexander represented King Ranch at the announcement luncheon held here. Dr. R. E. Patterson, dean of A&M's College of Agriculture said funds made possible the first chair for the college and give added support to study involving intensive basic research. "The project," he said, "is expected to directly benefit agricultural producers, the entire livestock industry and beef consumers."

University President Earl Rudder, in accepting the grant, said "The King Ranch grant is symbolic of changes in agriculture and of changes taking place in the agricultural science program at Texas A&M. It will help A&M speed the further development of a strong, progressive agricultural research and educational program, and is an excellent example of an industry supporting research which will help insure agricultural progress and prosperity."

Mr. Kleberg complimented the university officials for the progress Texas A&M has made under its program of excellence and added he felt that Texans could meet the competition from any other beef producing state. He said, "The King Ranch is happy to make these funds available for this basic and intensive research in the animal sciences. We are interested in the future prosperity of the Texas livestock industry and all of agriculture and know of no better way to help than by helping through research."

"The King Ranch," Dr. Patterson said, "has for many years cooperated closely with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station on research related to the ranching industry and we are most appreciative for these contributions as well as for their latest grant to A&M."

Goldwater Can Restore Confidence, Tower Says

Sen. John G. Tower of Texas praised the "unstoppable Barry Goldwater" as a man who can restore the confidence of the American people in their political leadership.

Tower's appearance before the Republican national convention to second Goldwater's presidential nomination drew a loud ovation. Delegates from throughout the country joined Texas delegates in giving him a rousing welcome.

He warned of spendthrift policies he said could destroy the nation. People will make the sacrifices necessary to avoid that fate if they have the proper leadership, Tower said.

Then he took a couple of jabs at his fellow Texan, President Lyndon B. Johnson, without mentioning his name. "But this cannot be expected of our people," he declared, "when their political leadership winks at corruption; when political office is used to enhance the wealth of the office-holder; when political integrity is compromised by deals with special interest groups in our society."

Tower said the American people "must have a president who by precept and example, reflects all that is best in our society."

"There are those on the political scene today, in positions of leadership in the opposition party, who take a completely cynical view of politics — who subscribe to the maxim: tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect — who would insult the American people by inferring that their votes are for sale.

"We shall soon show them that such is not the case," Tower declared.

"In some respects, a nation, being the sum total of its individuals, is no different than an individual. For instance individuals, or families, cannot spend their way into properity. There must be work, and prudence, and thrift, and wise investment if success is to be achieved in the long run.

"A spendthrift nation will suffer the same consequences as a spendthrift individual," said Tower. "Eventually the cold realities of mathematics will come into the picture and the cupboard will be bare. The nation or the individual will then be easy prey for demagogues who promise easy answers for difficult questions.

"I believe our people will accept the truth if it is told them," he said.

"I believe they will, as they have done in the past when the occasion demanded accept discipline and sacrifice if it is required to set our house in order so that our children and their children will not inherit a treasury ravaged by spendthrift politicians — and a constitution made meaningless by the weight of bureaucratic government."

He described Goldwater as a man who believes in moral and political integrity, a man of great warmth, compassion and civility, a family man who devoted much of his energies and resources to philanthropic and religious endeavors.

The latter, he said, was done not for political benefit but "because he believes firmly that compassion is most blessed than publicity."

"He is a man in tune with the times," said Tower. "He can pilot the fastest jet our Air Force possesses. He is at home in the complicated field of electronics. He has a deep and abiding interest in the application of science to technology of production, transportation.

Tower said Goldwater is a product of the great heritage of America and he believes in that heritage.

"He served his country well in war and in peace," said Tower. "His period of greatest service is yet to come."

FB Seminar To Be Held At Huntsville

The second annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau, will be held August 11-14 on the campus of the Sam Houston State College at Huntsville.

The local county Farm Bureau will participate in the statewide program aimed at better informing young people on vital matters pertaining to citizenship, according to Owen Kelly of Stanton, county Farm Bureau president.

Two 12th grade high school students from this county will attend the special training conference in August for intensive studies on our American heritage and the communist threat. Local students attending will include Reba Ringener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ringener, Stanton, and Bobby Deatridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Deatridge, Flower Grove.

Purpose of the seminar, according to the farm leaders, is to convey to students a better concept of the American system and how it has made possible the abundance which we enjoy. A similar training program conducted last year was attended by some 234 high school juniors and senior from all over the state.

Among the outstanding lecturers who will appear on the seminar program are Dr. George S. Benson, president, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas; Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, vice president, Harding College and head of the department of history and social sciences; John Noble, Wheaton, Illinois, noted author and lecturer, who spent 9½ years in a soviet prison camp, and W. Cleo Skousen, Salt Lake City, a former FBI agent, and chief of police in Salt Lake City.

She was visiting in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Sipes.

KEEP IT SAFE

Does this sound like war? An American soldier was killed in a communist ambush 50 miles northwest of Saigon. The American was the 134th U. S. service man to die in actual combat in Viet Nam. We now have $16,500 American servicemen in Viet Nam. If we are going to continue to fight why not fight to win?

A friend of mine from Fort Worth told me the other day that an Oklahoma dignitary had invited him to go to the World's Fair being held in New York with him but that he chickened out. "I'm going to wait until they pass a civil rights bill up there for white subway riders," he said.

LONDON'S Sunday newspapers of all political complexions loosed a new flood of anti-GOLDWATER comment. There were also predictions that the Senator would be no pushover for JOHNSON. There were also warnings that Britain might have to reappraise its relations with the U. S. on defense and diplomatic matters. The British are beginning to get the full charge of the jolt the American people got at San Francisco. The man who wasn't supposed to get the GOP nomination won it in a walk. And the British know that they are not going to be permitted to continue to take from the U. S.—sell to Cuba—and keep on getting away with it. American taxpayers are tired of sending boat load after boat load of money to the foreign bums and beggars who are ungrateful for our help. Some of the European nations even have spokesmen, money solicitors, coming over here and finding a way to wrangle an invitation to appear on tv, now recognized as the "Voice of the Revolution," so they can seek more aid from this country's people—and don't forget the money they have been getting belongs to you and me—the taxpayers and not the government in any sense.

WERE you one listening to NBC Monday morning who heard JOE MICHAELS, a network reporter, give one of the most one-sided, hate-filled, statements on the riot in Harlem in New York Sunday that you have ever heard? He appeared, of course, on the Today Show—the blast off pad for the "Voice of the Revolution," almost everyday. HUGH DOWNS asked MICHAELS some questions that will tend to start another civil war in this country if his type of interview is not curbed. HUGH then tried to make it appear that SENATOR GOLDWATER was responsible for the riot in Harlem. We have a message for "The Voice of the Revolution." Everytime they put a JACKIE ROBINSON, a FRANK BLAIR, a JOE MICHAELS, up there shouting around they are making GOLDWATER more and more votes. If this "hate" attack is not stopped against SENATOR GOLDWATER he is going to beat the living socks off LYNDON JOHNSON in November.

TUESDAY night the "Voice of the Revolution" presented the telecast, "A Man Called Mays." The network previously presented the show on October 6, 1963. Why drag it back now with the "hate" groups kicking up their heels all over the nation? And too, MICKEY MANTLE might claim discrimination and that his civil rights are being denied. What is wrong with a tv production which could be called: "A Man Named Mantle."

THE political prophets say LYNDON JOHNSON has one very difficult decision to make in Atlantic City, N. J. next month when the Democrats convene in convention to name a candidate for president and vice-president. JOHNSON has been cautioned by many southern Democrats that he will surely lose the south if he picks BOBBY KENNEDY to run with him. By another yardstick, northern Democrats want KENNEDY on the ticket. Some of the big labor bosses, now friendly with JOHNSON, would leave his team if he picked KENNEDY. JOHNSON right now, will carry the union support in the garment districts in the east, he will take all of the negro vote, but he is currently running behind in the midwest, west, far west, south and southwest. Political observers say it will be another toss up for Texas. And seriously, now, in some points in the north and east talk of putting a colored candidate on the Democratic ticket in November with JOHNSON is not far-fetched. Almost surely, if PRESIDENT JOHNSON is re-elected, the country can look for more appointments of negroes to high places in the official government family—some cabinet post might be sought by the demanding, still adamant leaders of CORE and NAACP. It is plain to thinking people everywhere that such leaders as JAMES FARMER have no intention of quitting a good thing he has going with the blessing of the administration.

NEAL'S NUGGET: Public opinion expressed from low-abiding citizens in New York demanded and finally, if reluctantly, got an FBI investigation started in Harlem.

Rev. J. R. Williams, pastor of the Courtney Baptist Church, held a revival recently at the New Home Baptist Church in New Home. Filling the pulpit while Rev. Williams was away was Sammy Webb, senior student at Baylor University.
