By NEAL ESTES

One of the finest, sweetest, most gracious ladies that I ever knew is leaving the employment of THE STANTON REPORTER. An advertisement appears in this issue of the prize-winning publication for a permanent replacement for MRS. GLENDEEN HICKS. In the past decade, it has been our great privilege and personal pleasure to have been associated with four of the best women the Good Lord ever created. In addition to MRS. HICKS, we refer to MRS. DON HIGHTOWER, (now of Midland), MRS. JAMES (JIMMY) WHEELER, now looking after a very fine young son, and making a home for her husband in Stanton; and MRS. J. D. HOUSE, wife and mother of three children. I have no way of knowing who number five here at the office will be, but I will stake my life that the replacement for GLENDEEN turns out to be the kind of individual the town and county has learned to expect to manage the society news at THE STANTON REPORTER.

I see by the papers, as WILL ROGERS used to say, where BOBBY BAKER is planning on opening a law office in California. The next thing we will hear that BAKER is running for some office out there. One recent refugee from the "Black Cat Jungle" on the Potomac flew out there, tossed down his carpetbag, gulped a glass of orange juice and started raising cane in the courts to get his name on the Democratic Party's ticket for senator. SALINGER was nominated too! BOBBY KENNEDY has departed Blackcat Thicket for "Noo Yawk" and arriving dutifully with carpetbag, etc., is now running the bristles off KEATING for the U. S. Senate. He'll get it too! Come to think of it, I think I ought to go down to Georgia and run for governor. They need a good southern Democrat down there in place of that Yankee-acting fellow who is in the drivers seat these days. GOV. SANDERS is the first damn Yankee I ever heard with a genuine southern accent.

The acting Attorney General of the U. S. is a fellow named NICHOLAS KATZENBACH. Sounds like and I think spells like an old quarterback I used to know who played for the College of the City of New York.

A story filed out of Los Angeles says that seven million, three hundred and fifty thousand copies of "A TEXAN LOOKS AT LYNDON" has been sold and more are on order. The presses are still humming for an edition that could reach 50,000,000 before election day according to some thinking men and women. The author is a West Texan, EVETTS HALEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Church and family of Hobbs, New Mexico, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Church during the Labor Day weekend. Church is a school counselor in the Hobbs schools. Other visitors in the home were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brice of Clovis, New Mexico.

Acreage Survey Starting

Postmaster Mrs. L. B. Eidson announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1964 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about September 12. The Post Office Department assists U. S. D. A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1964. To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Mrs. L. B. Eidson urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox. Rural mail carriers working on this project are: Mrs. Oma H. Johnson, Route One, and D. H. Rogers, Star Route.

Mr. Neal Estes
The Stanton Reporter
Dear Editor:
The Texas Heart Association and its various local units across the state are participating in a nation-wide effort to inform and educate the public about high blood pressure. Sometimes called hypertension, this disease is a common condition affecting some 5 million Americans. Though the causes of some types of high blood pressure are still unknown, much can be done today to keep it under control — to prolong life and to prevent complications. Additionally, the hypertension mortality rate among men, aged 45 to 64, dropped 50 percent from 1950 to 1962. Among women in the same age group, the mortality rate dropped 56 percent.

People need to know more about the nature of high blood pressure—what causes it, its signs and symptoms, how it is treated, and what can be done to prevent it. Alerting the public to the advances in medical knowledge and to the methods of helping patients so afflicted are the primary objectives of our educational campaign.
In view of your general interest in the public's welfare, and considering your strong community voice, may we count on you to help attain these objectives? Enclosed are (Continued on page 5)

Stanton Buffs Break Grid Drouth

By NEAL ESTES

Some lazy person said a long time ago that "what is to be will be." I don't subscribe to that philosophy of life. It is my studied belief that you can do something about things and especially football victories. Otherwise, one might get slotted. And the former county attorney of this county and now our district judge once told me: "Neal, don't let them slot you."

So—the Stanton Buffaloes marched out on the gridiron last Friday night and pulled a victory—their first in many moons. Every man on the squad was eager, ready and willing. Coach Bill Milam was more than ready to drink deep from the sweet cup of triumph. Milam's patience paid off. Men made of lesser metal would have quit coaching and tossed in the towel. Today, in the estimation of the editor, Coach Bill Milam stands tall in the saddle. Mind you, readers, we know that the boys have just took one, but they will win more games as the season ripens. We build that sentence on faith. That faith rests in the ability of the coaches and the confidence we have in the fine young men wearing Stanton's school colors this season. Now let's look at the game. The statistics need to come first, because they clearly show that Stanton outplayed the Roscoe Plowboys all the way and the Bisons deserved to win.

Bill Milam

Stanton	Roscoe
14 First downs	9
269 Yards rushing	129
47 Yards passing	108
2 of 9 Passes com.	7 to 11
0 Passes int. by	1
3 - 32.3 Punts, avg.	6 - 33.5

Fumbles lost 2
Pen., yds. 13 - 105

For two period neither the Buffs nor the Plowboys looked like winners. The half ended in a scoreless tie. Stanton yielded the lead to Roscoe when the visitors tallied in the third quarter. Randall Harris passed 12 yards to Larry Holdeman for the Plowboy touchdown and Billy Holloman caught a pass for the extra points which put Roscoe ahead 8-0. After the Plowboys tallied the Bisons started stampeding. In its first series of downs, Dink Polson took a handoff from Buddy Shanks and traveled 56 yards before being tackled on the Roscoe three yard line. Johnny Swanson scored the first td of the new season for the Buffaloes by plunging over from the 3 in two plays. Shanks' pass to Dunn was no good and the Plowboys still led 8-6. Big Mike Hall scored the final counter for the Buffs in the last quarter. This is the way the play went before Hall tallied. Stanton had the ball on their own 25. Quarterback Buddy Shanks hit David Dunn on a beautiful play that carried to the visitors 35 yard stripe. One of the Roscoe players slugged Dunn while he was down and a 15 yard penalty was assessed. This placed the ball on Roscoe's 15 yard line with first down and goal for the Bisons. Four plays were used up before Big Mike Hall crashed across the goal line for the winning touchdown. Final score; Stanton 12; Roscoe 8.

Farm Bureau Asks Reversal Court Edict

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has urged both Texas senators to press for legislation before Congress adjourns to reverse the Supreme Court's decision on appointment of state legislators. In a telegram to Senators Yarborough and Tower, C. H. DeVaney said, "Delay would create further confusion and jeopardize chances for ultimate reversal if a Constitutional amendment is necessary." The Texas Farm Bureau believes, he said, in the "time-tested and successful pattern" (Continued on page 5)

Supt. Beryl D. Clinton Thanks School Patrons

One Rotarian picked up the telephone in his office and called another one Wednesday morning to report the reflection of a genuine display of community spirit in the school registration here the past few days and to stress the prevailing harmony when the bell sounded for classes August 31. Superintendent of the Stanton Schools, Beryl D. Clinton, advised the editor of The Stanton Reporter, that he was so full of gratitude for the help he had received from every facet of local life that he just wanted to "thank you all." He said: "Registration of students went off splendidly with students cooperating in every way possible -- when it meant having to change teachers or classes because of an over-crowded situation." The superintendent said: "Most students volunteered to take classes or teachers they didn't particularly want when it became necessary to balance the load." Registration in high school, 265, compared with a peak of 238 last year. Conditions at the high school, junior high, and elementary school all reflect the increasing enrollment with conditions becoming crowded at all levels. Clinton stated that 75 students were registered at Courtney and 53 at the colored elementary school in south Stanton.

The superintendent advised the editor that a total of 491 students were registered and attending junior high and the elementary school classes. A total of 344 are enrolled in grades first through the fifth; and 157 are enrolled in grades six, seven and eight. Supt. Clinton advised that 265 students were included in the high school enrollment and that 85 of this number were members of the freshman class. Clinton advised the press that a total of 64 students were attending the Courtney school and that six teachers made up the faculty there. He pointed out that this pointed up a teacher to each ten students in Courtney. He said the average number of students per teacher in the local schools, excepting the colored elementary school was 30. The students divided between the three colored elementary teachers averages 16. Supt. Clinton thanked the newspaper for its loyalty to the school plants of the county, and asked the press to express thanks to the members of the county commissioners court for having the roads in good shape for school bus transportation. He also wished to express appreciation to the Texas Highway Department for the installation of a traffic control light and to employees of the city and state for their help in making the school zones safer.

Junior Great Books Leader Training Set

A series of eight training sessions for prospective leaders of Junior Great Books discussion groups have been scheduled. The training sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sept. 13, 14, 31, 22, 29 and Oct. 5, 12 and 13 in the Midland Room of The Midland National Bank. The program is sponsored by the Friends of the Library here and the Great Books Foundation. Richard Turnbull of Kansas City, a member of the Great Books staff, will be in Midland, to conduct the training meetings. The sessions are tuition-free and only a nominal charge is made for materials. Adults wishing information may contact Mrs. Raymond St. Germain at MU 2-8355 or Mrs. Jacob Williams at MU 4-8407. After the training period, adults will be qualified to organize a Junior Great Books discussion group. Two leaders are required for each group of youngsters in grades 3 through 12. Boys and girls in the program learn to think more clearly and independently, to express themselves more effectively and to listen more intently as well as to respect the opinions of others. At each monthly or semi-monthly meeting, the youngsters discuss readings whose authors range from Aesop, Dickens and Kipling to Plato, Huxley and Shaw. The Junior Great Books program is similar to the program which has been offered adults since 1947. Both programs are sponsored by the Great Books Foundation, a non-profit educational organization.

Mrs. Jacob Williams is the former Angela Peters, daughter of I. G. Peters. She is a graduate of Stanton High School and is interested in having any of her Martin County friends who desire to accept the opportunity of attending the training sessions to do so. There is no charge.

The Price Of Bread

As every food shopper knows, the price of bread has gone up in recent weeks. Why?

The price of bread has been increased as a result of the effects of a new federal government farm program.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, explains this wheat program and its effects as follows:

"The administration bulldozed the wheat certificate scheme through Congress with the promise that it would avert a threatened $600 million drop in farm income. Now it appears that the net income of farmers will be lower than it would have been without the new program. . . .

"Secretary (of Agriculture) Freeman assured consumers that bread prices would not increase; but flour prices have been hiked, and bread prices are being increased. It is becoming clear that the certificate plan is, in fact a bread tax."

This explanation sheds plenty of light on the bread price mystery. It can be credited to federal government activities in farm production and marketing and price-fixing. The aim of the government program, of course was to aid farmers. But did it help them?

"To a rising degree, efficient farmers are finding that federal price support programs hamper their operations, damage their markets, and hold down their income," says Nation's Business. It is pointed out that higher food prices that follow government action contribute to inflation.

Ignoring for the moment the problems of consumers, let us look at the problems of farmers. The old argument that government policies which force food prices up are necessary if we are to have a prosperous farm economy has become threadbare and outworn.

It is common knowledge among the informed that when the government forces the cost of foods up, it often boomerangs. As in the case of wheat, higher prices can cut consumption. This has happened to a marked degree with coffee and butter.

The consumer has his problems, of course — chief of which is the constantly rising prices of almost all things he must buy, such as bread. And coffee has gone up since the federal government entered an international agreement to help control marketing.

Consumers, of course, do not know all the ramifications of government meddling in the production and marketing of foods. It is quite a story, and both swift and heavy would be the reaction if it was known and understood by the general public.

Suffice it to say, however, that food price increases for which manufacturers and processors and retailers are given the blame, more often have been directly or indirectly due to actions of the government.

The net result, all too often, is that the farmer is benefited little or none and the consumer, be he rich or poor, has to pay out a larger share of his income because of improper and unnecessary government programs.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Hightower during the holiday weekend were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newberry, Barbara and Sidney of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Newberry and family of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bass of Flower Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Rhodes were in Dallas last week to attend the 1965 Dodge show. The show was held at the Dallas auditorium.

Civil Servant Lobby

Six hundred thousand employees of the federal government are now members of AFL-CIO government and postal workers unions. Up to now, under the shadow of the Hatch Act, they've restrained their political influence formally by pressuring Congress for frequent big pay increases, and they have been notably successful.

Sylvia Porter, the columnist, declares that a typist gets $600 more in government service than in private business, and an office manager $400 more per year. More federal pay raises are due in January, and work is almost complete on still another pay raise bill.

Having demonstrated their power, these unions have attracted the attention of COPE, the AFL-CIO's political education arm. It seems the federal unions aren't kicking in for political education like the other unions. This seems unfair to COPE's fund raisers, because political education is a COPE is to advocate the election of candidates who favor bigger government and more power and money for government workers.

COPE hopes to up the ante. It is preparing a booklet telling how deeply federal civil servants can wade into politics without violating the law, and that's pretty far. And the unions, encouraged by the administration, are driving to increase their memberships in federal departments all over the country.

Any citizen may be forgiven for fear when an army of two and a half million federal workers is being goaded into greater political activity. It's a huge bloc, more than enough to swing many national elections.

Democracy seems to be taking many steps in recent years toward the day when control of government will pass to those who rely upon it for their support.

Hunters Urged To Note Rules

Nearness of happy hunting days for Texas hunters are indicated as the Parks and Wildlife Department distributes the new 1964-65 hunting digest to sporting goods stores and license deputies.

And the local game warden recommends that you pick up a free copy of the game laws and examine regulations for the county where you intend to hunt.

For instance, an easily overlooked item might be the definition of a buck deer. In some counties in the state, having regulatory responsibility, a buck is defined as a deer with a harden antler protruding through the skin. Not so, says the warden in Harrison County. Due to a special law, a buck deer in Harrison, to be a legal buck deer, must have at least one pronged antler.

So it will pay to read before you shoot.

Bible Comment—

Bible Tells Us Just What Man Is

The Bible asks, in Psalms and Hebrews, "What is man?" And it then gives the answer with a completeness unequalled anywhere else in literature. Its answer is unsurpassed even in the delvings of modern psychology.

In the Bible, man is revealed in all the heights and depths, aberrations and variations of his acts and character, with nothing withheld.

In the early record man appears as an unbrotherly murderer. Cain becoming the symbol of the unbrotherly murderers of all time, including our own.

Man is a liar, even in the lapse of the good Abraham; a cheat in the weak but the ultimately better Jacob; an adulterer in the strong and great David; an oppressor in the glorious builder, Solomon.

In these and many other characters is expressed what man has been and is, in lust and cruelty; in ruthless ambition and misuse of power; in slackness and weakness in petty and major sins and transgressions.

It is all there—the Bible's answer to the question, "What is man?" But the uniqueness of the Bible is this: with all the realism concerning man's degradation and degradation of himself and his fellows, it also reveals man in all the heights of his possibilities and attainments.

In contrast to its Ahabs and Jezebels and the Johns, Josephs and Simons, the Annas and the Marys. In contrast with all the depths are the pinnacles of man's aspirations and glories.

Nor is this all. For man in the depths there is the favor and grace of God. The Bible is the Book of the Gospel, of faith and hope, of restoration and uplift, of a new life.

Philosopher, Like The Candidates, Takes A Rest Before Settling Down To Campaign

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw claims he's resting his mind this week.)

Dear editor:
If you noticed, after each convention and just before the campaigning began, both candidates for President took off and rested up a while, and that's what I'm doing this week, resting up before settling down to listening to the campaigns.

Consequently, I have carefully avoided thinking about any big problems for a week now, and it's surprising how many of them seem to get along on their own.

As for the little problems, I was interested in a couple of items I found in a newspaper last night.

One reported a city man has devised a special clock that turns his car's motor on fifteen minutes before he needs it, so it'll be good and cool in summer time via the air-conditioner, or nice and warm in the winter time via the heater. I guess one of the most perplexing problems some people face is having to wait five minutes for their car to get air-conditioned in summer or warmed up in the winter. I'm sort of the same way, I guess, and for years during the winter have followed the practice of banking the fire in the fireplace before I go to bed so it'll be ready to go in the morning. I'm in favor of all the soft living I can manage.

and cruelty; in ruthless ambition and misuse of power; in slackness and weakness in petty and major sins and transgressions.

It is all there—the Bible's answer to the question, "What is man?" But the uniqueness of the Bible is this: with all the realism concerning man's degradation and degradation of himself and his fellows, it also reveals man in all the heights of his possibilities and attainments.

In contrast to its Ahabs and Jezebels and the Johns, Josephs and Simons, the Annas and the Marys. In contrast with all the depths are the pinnacles of man's aspirations and glories.

Nor is this all. For man in the depths there is the favor and grace of God. The Bible is the Book of the Gospel, of faith and hope, of restoration and uplift, of a new life.

Philosopher, Like The Candidates, Takes A Rest Before Settling Down To Campaign

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw claims he's resting his mind this week.)

Dear editor:
If you noticed, after each convention and just before the campaigning began, both candidates for President took off and rested up a while, and that's what I'm doing this week, resting up before settling down to listening to the campaigns.

Consequently, I have carefully avoided thinking about any big problems for a week now, and it's surprising how many of them seem to get along on their own.

As for the little problems, I was interested in a couple of items I found in a newspaper last night.

One reported a city man has devised a special clock that turns his car's motor on fifteen minutes before he needs it, so it'll be good and cool in summer time via the air-conditioner, or nice and warm in the winter time via the heater. I guess one of the most perplexing problems some people face is having to wait five minutes for their car to get air-conditioned in summer or warmed up in the winter. I'm sort of the same way, I guess, and for years during the winter have followed the practice of banking the fire in the fireplace before I go to bed so it'll be ready to go in the morning. I'm in favor of all the soft living I can manage.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Texaco No. 2-X Wildcat, State Of Texas Slated

By JAMES C. WATSON
Texaco Inc. No. 2-X State of Texas is slated as a 13,430-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northwest Martin County, 23 miles northwest of Stanton.

It is 2,173 feet from north and 975 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, University survey and between two of the four producers in the Block 7 (Devonian) pool.

The operation will attempt to dually complete in the Devonian and in the Ellenburger — should it find production in the lower horizon. It is a southeast offset to the same concern's No. 1-X State of Texas, originally completed in June, 1950, to open Ellenburger production in that region, when it potentialed a daily pumping production of 14 barrels of oil plus 96 per cent water from perforations between 13,275-300 feet.

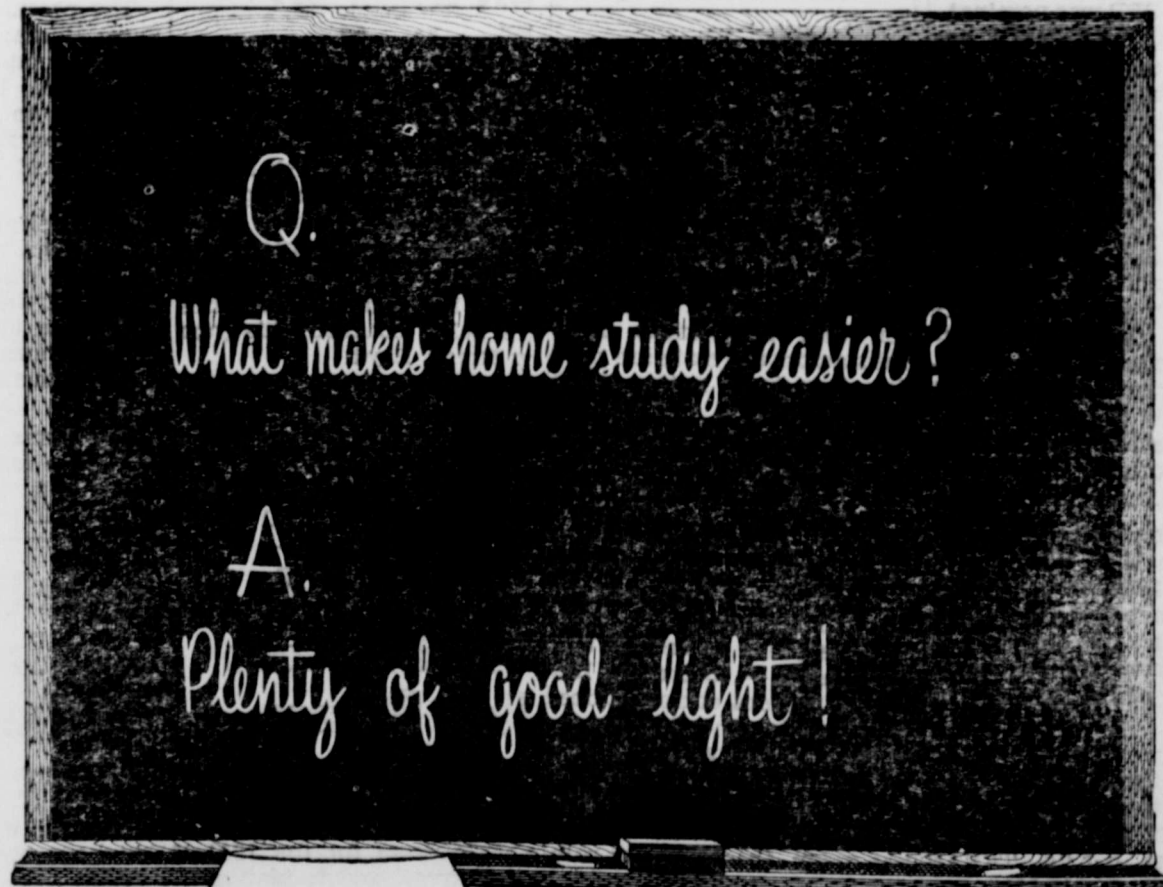

That horizon depleted in a few months and the project was recompleted in December of the same year from a daily production of 391 barrels of 45-gravity oil, flowing on a 10/64-inch choke from Devonian perforations at 10,280-295 feet, to be the discovery from that section in the Block 7 area.

Q. What makes home study easier?

A. Plenty of good light!

Homework is hard work for young eyes. Plenty of good light is needed for reading small type, seeing details in maps and charts and performing other close visual tasks. For easier seeing at the study table, a good table lamp with at least a 150 watt bulb or equivalent is recommended. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work surface and properly shaded to conceal the light source from the eyes. A diffusing bowl (or a bulb with its own built-in diffuser) is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Make sure they have proper light for easy seeing when they do their homework.

Preston Smith Lists 'Must' Bills Facing '65 Legislature

The head-long plunge into national politics has taken a bit of the spotlight from the 59th session of the Texas Legislature which will convene next January 14 — only five months away.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock, writing in the current issue of the Texas Tax Journal, has predicted a session of "important and controversial legislation."

The major "musts," Smith says, will be: (1) Making a decision as to the immediate future course of higher education in Texas; (2) paying for it and the other vital state functions; (3) re-districting, both state and congressional.

Possible Bills

In addition, the lieutenant governor believes the next Legislature will be faced with bills dealing with municipal tax problems; legalizing pari-mutuel betting on horse races; sale of liquor by the drink in eating places; control of oyster shell dredging on the Gulf coast; an oil and gas pooling plan; further controls on water pollution; repeal of the poll tax and a "women's rights" amendment to the state Constitution.

Although Smith doesn't mention it, several bills in the last category are sure to stir almost as much controversy as the redistricting bill.

Pari-mutuel betting, for example, is apparently gaining some momentum, and if re-apportionment of the Legislature is carried out to the letter as directed by the U. S. Supreme Court, it easily could become a reality within a few years.

The same holds true for liquor by the drink.

The reason, of course, will be because total control will rest in the large population centers instead of the less "wide-open" rural areas.

Smith believes the greatest financial question to face the 1965 session will be funds for education, "in both public schools and state supported colleges."

"We have not exactly neglected this responsibility in the past," Smith points out, adding "46 cents of each state-level tax dollar is now devoted to education."

It breaks down to 35 cents for public schools and 11 cents for higher education.

This, along with local school district taxes, tuition and other fees still is not enough, he says.

"There are three main reasons," he says. First, the school-age population is continually growing. The Gilmer-Aikin formula, without any changes, will require the state to contribute $68 million more to public schools in the next biennium.

Second, Texas salaries for teachers are below the national average. The Texas State Teachers Assn. already has announced, Smith says, that it will request a $405-a-year across-the-board raise for public school teachers.

That would cost another $68 million over the next two years. The Texas Commission on Higher Education has recommended an increase of $86 million for the 22 state-supported colleges and universities, 23 per cent of which would be for increasing teacher salaries to near the national average.

Third, says the lieutenant governor, is "a positive demand in Texas for upgrading the educational product, particularly in the higher education system."

Major Goal

This is a major goal of Gov. John Connally, and the recently released report of the Committee of 25 declares clearly that a great deal more money will be needed.

Other than the 46 cents of every dollar for education, Smith points out that the 54 cents left over goes into existing services.

The breakdown goes like this:

Roads and highways — 28 cents;

Public welfare — 15 cents;

Public health, including mental and TB hospitals — 4 cents;

Law enforcements, including penal institutions — 2 cents.

The remaining 5 cents goes for all other state expenditures including the operation of some 70 state departments and agencies, the state judicial system and legislative salaries and expenses.

In the "last nickel" category, says Smith, fall such interesting and potentially revenue-producing activities as improvement of state parks, attraction of industry and encouragement of tourism.

Put them all together and they spell the taxpayer's dollar.

Take them all apart and redistribute them and they spell a long and probably at times heated regular session of the 59th Legislature.

They also could very easily spell a special session or two and a long, hot summer in Austin in 1965.

ODDS AND ENDS USEFUL

Start A Compost Pile With Unedible Vegetable Parts

What are you doing with the inedible parts of the vegetables you and your family eat every day in the week? Or the dead flowers you take from vases in the house for discard? These odds and ends of plants might well be used to start a compost pile to furnish your garden with organic matter or you with the foundation of potting soil guaranteed to grow super plants.

While in the large garden such refuse may be piled on top of the ground in any out-of-the-way place, it is better in a small garden to dig a pit into which to throw these remains. A cupful of any complete fertilizer sprinkled over a bushel basket of waste, six inches of plant remains covered with 1" of soil, an occasional soaking of the pile with the hose, and by next spring you'll have an inch of fine compost at the bottom of the heap.

Miller Launches Campaign With Hometown Jab At Foe

Rep. William E. Miller opened his campaign for the vice presidency Saturday with an all-out attack on his Democratic opponent and an assist from presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

"I run proudly with Bill Miller," Goldwater said, after announcing that, if elected, he would ask for automatic income tax cuts annually.

The Republican vice presidential candidate began his campaigning formally in his native city of 27,000, where both his parents were Democrats until he entered politics.

Miller lashed at his Democratic opponent, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as a founder of an organization trying to subvert the U. S. government into a "foreign, socialist total-itarianism."

The crowd, estimated by sheriff's deputies at more than 20,000 stood on the Niagara County fairgrounds under a sunny sky, on a warm, late summer day, to cheer Miller and Goldwater.

Beliefs Alike

Introducing Miller, Goldwater, said that "We come from different parts of the country but we believe alike . . . that the government founded 200 years ago is the best government for us."

Miller cited Humphrey's connection with Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) as a founder and current vice chairman and said that organization advocated policies ranging from repeal of internal security legislation at home to a "disastrous coalition program" in Southeast Asia.

Employing a technique that is becoming increasingly popular among candidates on the national political trail, Miller drew the enthusiastic crowd into his speech by luring them to respond vocally.

He listed program after program he said the ADA advocated and each time, he asked whether voters wanted a vice president from an organization that proposed such policies. The crowd roared back: "No."

Chorus Of Boos

"Well," Miller replied, "Lyndon Johnson does." This produced a chorus of boos.

Soon, Miller began stopping after the word "well," and the crowd shouted back the line—"Lyndon Johnson does"—then booing, finally laughing and applauding.

The candidates flew to Niagara Falls, about 12 miles from here, aboard their respective campaign planes — Miller from Washington on his prop-jet "The Niagaran," and Goldwater from Phoenix, Ariz., aboard his Boeing 727 jet, "Yia Bi Ken." That is Navajo for "House in Sky."

Goldwater was accompanied by his wife, Peggy, his sons, Barry, Jr. and Mike, and his daughters, Peggy and Jo Anne.

Mrs. Miller flew with her husband. Their two oldest daughters, Elizabeth, 20, and Mary Karen, 17, came from Phoenix aboard the Goldwater plane.

"Interbasin diversions," the process of moving water from where it is to where it is needed, is being talked about more and more in Texas where half of the state's water supply is centered in the eastern one-seventh of the state.

It will be the topic of three speakers at the Association of Western State Engineers in Austin on September 21.

Speakers are Frank Raab of Oklahoma, David Hale of New Mexico and William Warne of California. All three are water officials in states which have turned to interbasin diversions to solve some water problems.

Some moving already has taken place in Texas. In the Trinity watershed, for instance, Dallas is completing a pipeline and treatment plant for moving Sabine River water from Lake Tawakoni to Dallas. Also Houston has signed a contract with the Trinity River Authority to move Trinity water to Houston.

Interbasin diversion will become the subject of more conversations for Texans when the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation releases its pending report. It proposes a 400-mile canal to move surplus water from the Sabine and Neches basins, southward to link all major rivers in Texas and meet the needs of the Gulf Coast to a point below Corpus Christi.

Gov. John Connally has asked the Texas Water Commission to speed up water planning to seek alternatives to the Bureau of Reclamation's forthcoming proposal. But the commission is strapped by the bounds of a budget inadequate for such a study, unless the 1965 Legislature increases its funds.

Insurance Interest Charge Upheld — An effort by the Allstate Insurance Company to knock out the State Board of Insurance order requiring a minimum charge of six per cent interest on insurance premiums paid by installments has failed.

Board said it found nothing in the hearing to change its mind. It reported that abuses of Texas laws, prohibiting inducements to prospective policyholders and prohibiting discrimination between policyholders, were taking place under deferred payment plans.

"Net costs of handling premium payments financed by insurance companies at curate interest, or no interest, will ultimately be paid by all insureds," said Board Chairman Hunter McLean. "Those electing deferred payment plans should bear such costs."

A spokesman for one company charged that criticism of ruling by the National Association of Independent Insurers laid the groundwork for "an attack on the Texas rating system and policy control." N. A. I. I. claimed the order discriminates against Texas policyholders, and that the board had no authority to adopt it.

Out Of The Red — State government ended its 1963-1964 fiscal year on August 31 with a fat general revenue fund balance of $73,000,000.

It was the brightest year-end figure since 1949.

"It looks better than it has for a long time," beamed State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Five years of deficits still are fresh in his memory. One year the State ran $110,000,000 in the red.

Calvert declined to speculate on the amount of surplus which will be available for legislative appropriation.

Governor Connally predicted earlier that the general revenue surplus may reach $80,000,000 next year. Despite the abundance of money, the Governor said the Legislature likely will have to pass a new tax bill or amend the existing rates in 1965. This because of demands for more spending in education and other areas.

Calvert noted three factors in the favorable fiscal 1964 close-out: a $24,000,000 increase this year over 1963 in general sales tax revenues; an $8,000,000 jump in the auto sales tax; and a $3,000,000 crude oil tax increase.

Comptroller's report showed state revenue collections during 1964 were more than $1,600,000,000, compared with $1,500,000,000 in 1963. Expenditures totaled $1,500,000,000, compared with $1,400,000,000 the previous year.

General economic growth of the state; the federal income tax reduction designed to prime spending; and removal of the $10 clothing exemption from the state sales tax were

Cabinet Meetings Resumed — Governor Connally has resumed his schedule of unofficial "cabinet" meetings with top state agency heads.

He started the sessions last October, but had to discontinue them when he was wounded by the same assassin who killed President Kennedy.

Last week's meeting was held in the offices of the Texas Education Agency. Emphasized was overall operations of agency problems with the governor followed.

These sessions have a twofold purpose: to analyze workings of departments one by one; and to familiarize the governor and other officials with mutual problems.

Highway Hurry-Ups Asked — Citizens from San Antonio, Corpus Christi and the counties which connect them asked the State Highway Commission to "hurry up" and schedule work on a proposed Interstate Highway between the two cities so that construction will be completed by 1965.

That is the year when San Antonio will produce the HemisFair; Padre Island National Seashore will be in full-scale operation and Mexico City will host the World Olympics. Nueces County Judge Noah Kennedy, Jr. said, "We would just like to be in a position to swap tourists with the city of San Antonio."

DeVaney declared that at the time of adoption of the Constitution and subsequent amendments "it was never presumed to authorize federal regulation of the apportionment of state legislatures."

The Texas Farm Bureau, of which DeVaney is president, has a membership of more than 90,000 farm and ranch families, and is organized in 200 counties.

Religious Census To Be Taken Sunday

Members of the First Baptist Church will be taking a city wide religious census beginning Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Teams of workers will call on each home in the city for an individual census. They will obtain information on each member of the family, which will include birthdate, church affiliation and preference.

People who are planning to be out of town are asked to call the local church office, telephone number SK 6-3354, and give them the information in advance of the census. A stamped self-addressed envelope with cards enclosed will also be left at the home to be filled out and returned the church office.

Bob Priddy, minister of music and education at the church, is directing the census, and approximately 50 people will take part.

Priddy stated that census information on faith or preferences other than Baptist, will be given to other local churches.

Anti-Mosquito Campaign — Spurred by the spread of encephalitis, state, county and city officials all over Texas are conducting a vast campaign against mosquitoes, according to State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy.

Although much of the war against the disease carriers is waged constantly in areas which have tax-supported districts to combat disease-bearing insects, extra measures are being taken in many places, including Houston where 75 two-man spraying crews are at work.

Dr. Peavy said that as of September 1, a total of 474 cases of encephalitis and 19 deaths had been reported from Houston; 61 cases and five deaths in the Upper Plains region; and a smattering of suspected infections in other counties.

He said the 1964 epidemic has been the worst since 1954, when close to 1,000 cases — most in South Texas — were reported. In a "normal" year, only 50 to 75 cases develop.

Dr. Peavy said he feels that the intensive anti-mosquito campaign, and the advent of cool weather will combine to beat down the disease, which is dwindling somewhat.

Traffic Survey Funds Challenged — A new attorney general's opinion holding that counties cannot spend their funds for traffic surveys required to obtain future federal highway aid has confused state highway administrators.

Problems presented by the opinion were outlined to the Attorney General's office. But a revision of the opinion was not officially requested, according to Carr's aides.

Thirteen counties now are participating in the financing of detailed traffic surveys on a 15 per cent local share basis. They are Cameron, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston, Harris, Jefferson, Lubbock, Orange, Potter, Randall, Smith, Tarrant and Webb.

Although cost of the studies is relatively minor, they are important to Texas' 22 metropolitan areas. They must be under way by next July if federal aid to the urban centers is to continue. Cities in nearly half the areas are picking up the local bill, without help from counties. . . . If the opinion stands up, city governments may have to take over in the other 13 counties.

Church In Stanton Scene Of Wedding

Eva Angelina Madrid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Madrid of Stanton, and Ben J. Johnson of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of Guthrie, Okla., were married at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

The double ring ceremony was held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church here, with the Rev. John Pierce officiating.

Rosa Madrid, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Hilda Levario and Alicia Vigil, both of Kermit, cousins of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

Marvin Ellis of Kingfisher, Okla., served as the best man. The groomsmen were Don Wanjura of Lubbock and Frank Madrid, Jr. brother of the bride. Tom Arista, Jr. of Big Spring and Owen Cotton of Plainview seated the guests and lighted the candles.

Gloria Arquella, Martha Padilla and Christine Barron were the flower girls, and Carlos Madrid, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Nuptial Music
The organist was Mrs. Edmund Tom, who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Glenn L. Brown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin styled with a cummerbund caught at the back with small tailored bows. A chapel train fell over the controlled fullness of the bell-shaped skirt. Floral motifs of seed pearls accented the center front of the skirt and cummerbund. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion with butterfly blusher was held by a caplet of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried white roses in a cascade arrangement on a white satin covered prayer book.

Satin Gowns
The bride's attendants wore fuchsia satin gowns styled along Empire lines, and they carried light pink carnations.

The reception was held in the church hall before the couple left on a wedding trip to Mexico. They will be at home after September 15 at 2118 6th St. in Lubbock, where the bridegroom is employed by Dun and Bradstreet. The bride, a graduate of Midland High School, is a senior student at Texas Technological College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Oklahoma State University.

Goldwater Hits Duties In Army

Sen. Barry Goldwater said Friday the Army is being turned into a work camp, while Republican National Chairman Dean Burch claimed the senator's call for an end to the draft was a "campaign triumph."

The Republican presidential nominee hurled new criticism at President Johnson's handling of the military.

"Minutes after Sen. Goldwater announced that the unfair and ineffective military draft system should be ended, the present administration jumped up and shouted, 'Me too,' Burch declared.

"Therefore," said Burch, "thanks to the Republican party, this outdated and worn-out system seems headed for oblivion."

Goldwater spoke out as he said goodbye to his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, heading east to formally launch his campaign at Lockport, N. Y.

Phoenix Gazette newsman John Carpenter interviewed Goldwater at the airport and reported: "The GOP presidential aspirant questioned the 'Texas National Guard serving barbecue to Johnson,' '60,000 misfits in the Army' and the 'Army turned into a CCC camp.'"

Press secretary Paul Wagner declined later to seek elaboration from Goldwater.

The Civilian Conservation Corps—CCC—was a Depression-day program to provide work for the jobless.

In launching his campaign at Prescott on Thursday, the senator charged Johnson is using the draft "for political and social schemes."

"Republicans will end the draft altogether, as soon as possible," he said.

Dr. Sue Fisher Is Shower Honoree

Dr. Sue Fisher was honored with a pink and blue shower on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. James E. Wheeler.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Wheeler were Mrs. W. E. Robnett, and Mrs. J. Woodford Sale.

The serving table was laid with a white tullework linencloth, centered with a floral arrangement of roses. Table appointments were in silver and crystal.

Mrs. J. Woodford Sale presided at the serving table. Cranberry punch and sand tarts were served to guests attending.

Gifts were opened by the honoree. Those attending the affair were Mrs. S. W. Wheeler, Mrs. Stanley Reid, Mrs. John Graves, Mrs. Bob Priddy, Mrs. Beryl D. Clinton, Mrs. Wallace Kelly, and the hostesses, Mrs. James E. Wheeler, Mrs. W. E. Robnett, and Mrs. J. Woodford Sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Roten and Rhonda visited with Mrs. Roten's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. King in Gainesville, during the past weekend. They carried Mr. Roten's mother, Mrs. T. J. Perrin of Clarksville, who has been visiting here for the past month, to Gainesville, where she will visit.

Site Selection For State School Still Is Wide Open

The chairman of a committee which will select a site for a new state school for mentally retarded persons said this week none of the qualified cities bidding for the school has been eliminated.

C. E. Bentley, Jr., president of the Abilene Savings and Loan Association and chairman of a three-man special committee of the State Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools, said 17 West Texas cities had met criteria established by the board.

These cities, he stated, are Amarillo, Big Spring, San Angelo, Lamesa, Lubbock, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Plainview, Alpine, Crane, Snyder, Sweetwater, El Paso, Levelland, McCamey, and Ozona.

Bentley said his committee will meet in Austin, September 13 to make its decision. The group's recommendation will be presented at a meeting of the full board September 14.

Sites Visited
Bentley said he and the other two committee members, retired banker Jesse Osborne of Muleshoe and former lieutenant governor Walter Woodul of Austin, had visited every proposed site at least once.

The board will ask the next state legislature for an appropriation of $2.5 million for the first phase of construction of a school to be located "somewhere west of the 100th Meridian." Another $2.5 million request probably will be made for the following biennium.

The Abilene executive said a tendency to reduce the size of such state schools probably would place about 1,200 persons "and certainly not more than 1,800" in the new school.

DeVaney Gives Sketch Farm Bureau Policy

The long, tedious policy development process—by which Farm Bureau members at the "grass roots" chart their course of action for next year—is now under way across the state according to C. H. DeVaney of Waco, president of the 90,000-member Texas Farm Bureau.

Discussion of issues affecting agriculture and the nation is in progress in many communities now with many more neighborhood meetings scheduled soon. Recommendations on matters ranging from community problems to foreign policy will come from these meetings to be voted on before October 31 at county FB annual conventions.

Recommendations adopted at county annual meeting process is the most democratic and fair method we know of get the true thinking of our members," DeVaney said.

County FBs also adopt recommendations on state and national issues, and these are forwarded on to state convention.

At the Texas Farm Bureau convention (this year November 8-11 in Houston), delegates from counties decide, by majority vote what the state organization's policies will be for 1965 and also adopt recommendations on national issues which are sent to the national convention.

At Philadelphia in December, delegates from state Farm Bureaus will vote to decide what the American Farm Bureau Federation's 1965 policies will be.

Each county's voting delegate strength at the state convention is based on the number of members in that county. Likewise, the voting strength of states at the AFBF meeting is based on membership size.

"Our policy development process is the most democratic and fair method we know of get the true thinking of our members," DeVaney said.

Do This Now

With public schools having resumed classes this week, there is something that will not wait, something that should be done now. It is this: Every driver of a motor vehicle must be more cautious, more watchful to avoid children on the streets.

Attending school requires children to be on the streets, walking or riding bicycles; crossing streets, which should be done only at intersections; getting into and out of motor vehicles at street curbs. And, sometimes, they dash out into streets because (just like some adults) they forget to look, or look hurriedly and fail to see danger.

This increased traffic of children on the streets and roads requires of every motor vehicle driver an extra amount of precaution and watchfulness. It requires a slowing down of speeds in the areas of schools and in residential sections.

Let's take care of our youngsters. Now is the time to do this, before tragedy strikes unexpectedly.

Col. Homer Garrison Says Car Inspection Time Here

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the time has arrived for Texas motorists to have their vehicles inspected again.

Garrison said September 1 marked the beginning of the 1965 vehicle inspection period as prescribed by the Public Safety Commission. As in previous years, the period will end on April 15, 1966.

"This means that between now and April 15, 1965, more than 5,200,000 Texas registered vehicles will have to be inspected at the 5,200 official inspection stations in Texas," he said.

Garrison urged motorists to have their vehicles inspected in the routine visits to garages for ordinary maintenance and repairs and thereby eliminate the necessity of having to wait in line at a later date for an inspection sticker. He further pointed out that with the ever increasing number of vehicles registered in Texas, it is becoming ever more difficult for the motorist to get an inspection sticker without some delay.

"With the hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have vehicles safety checked for the winter months ahead," Garrison said.

In announcing the new inspection period, the Public Safety Director pointed out that vehicle inspection in Texas has apparently been a valuable tool in reducing traffic accidents due to vehicle defects. When compulsory vehicle inspection began in 1951, 19 per cent of all vehicles involved in fatal accidents had a defect that contributed to the accident, while in 1963, that percentage had been reduced to 4 per cent. In non-fatal accidents, vehicle defects as a contributing factor were reduced from 20 per cent in 1951 to 5 per cent in 1963.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

ABOUT three weeks ago a confidential poll reached us that LBJ was worried over his chances of carrying Texas. It is admitted by both party leaders that the race is going to be extremely close in Texas. SENATOR GOLDWATER will open up his Texas campaign in Longview this month. He will visit the Odessa-Midland-Stanton area on September 22 and thousands are sure to be on hand for this visit. The Ector County Coliseum in Odessa will be the rallying point for a great Texas rally. Evidently, the JOHNSON forces are running scared in this section because it was picked to put a gruesome clip on some area tv stations. The shocker comes on right in the middle of a feature—there is a pause—then a little child picking the petals from a flower—then a frightening voice starts a count down—and the screen rocks with an explosion and a political message urging LYNDON'S election winds the package deal up. This is the spreading of fear an awesome way to campaign. The smear method introduced by HORATIO HUMPHREY, the ADA disciple, and official in it, when he stepped in a pile of what he is trying to sell the American people on the LBJ Ranch, is another example of the low-pitched, old Duval County type of campaign we can look forward to as cranked up by the mud-mongers in Washington.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order this week for COACH BILL MILAM, his associates on the staff, and for the individual players on the team for their fine victory over Koscoe. Sometimes the headlines only proclaim the great play of the men who work in the backfield and carry the ball across the goal line. Without taking any glory away from the pigskin luggers we want to acknowledge the great play of the linemen in the opening game here Friday night. For special mention we salute CARL LAWSON, THOMAS BRUTON, BUDDY STEWART, WAYNE WOODY and BILL DAVIS.

U. S. SENATOR RALPH YARBOROUGH made this statement in Longview on Labor Day: "In the early 1930's when as an assistant attorney general I was sent by Gov. Jimmie Allred to East Texas in connection with the hot oil situation. The governor told me to look up CARL ESTES, and after CARL talked with me a few minutes he ordered his crew to stop the press in order to get a story in the day's paper as to why I was in East Texas. I am glad to know that CARL still has the same bounce and verve today that he had then. I hope to get to see him while I am here." The last time NEAL saw RALPH in Longview — the time he was opposing successful ALLAN SHIVERS in the governor's race—a whole delegation of muggers, strong-arm men, goons, etc., followed him from Port Arthur to Gregg County. With, or without RALPH'S knowledge, this was the darndest gang of muscle men and club-carrying busters I ever saw mustered on a country courthouse lawn at one time in one night. The police jailed ten or twelve of them after the "rally" and ED LEACH, then the managing editor of the newspaper in Longview and now of Austin, and your writer, suffered a physical encounter with one strong arm goon that almost led to bloodshed. That was a night! That was the Port Arthur Story that played such a part in the campaign between SHIVERS and YARBOROUGH. And that, my friends was just a prelude to tactics being employed by some backers of YARBOROUGH today, and again, I repeat, with or without his consent. My brother, CARL, was against YARBOROUGH then and he is today. His editorial endorsement of GEORGE BUSH for the U. S. Senate was one of the first by a distinguished Texas newspaper. (Side-bar remark: "I sure would like to have heard what RALPH said to CARL when they met in Longview on Labor Day." Better still—I'd like to have had the ticket concession because I know how my brother feels about BILLIE SOL and RALPH.

THE PECOS INDEPENDENT has endorsed SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER for the presidency. The former editor, OSCAR GRIFFIN, was the man who "broke" the BILLIE SOL ESTES case wide open. The people of Pecos and Reeves County all know about the large personally autographed photos of LYNDON JOHNSON and RALPH YARBOROUGH that used to hang in the office of the Pecos tycoon when he was wheeling and dealing in high fashion. And since there are no more rugs left in Pecos to sweep scandals under the cards are on top of the table out there — it's GOLDWATER by five to one in Reeves County in November.

THE past weekend we passed by the park in West Stanton and found five pretty little girls at play. We made their picture grouped together and promised them we would run it in the paper. The mail was delayed and so was the engraving due to closing up for Labor Day, so we didn't get the photo processed. But the names of the girls are: RHONDA ROTEN, SUZANNA BROWN, CINDY WHEELER, ALICE BAKER and JUDY HENLEY.

WHEN LYNDON JOHNSON calls a conference of Southern leaders he never includes the prominent white men of the region. But MARTIN LUTHER KING appears to always be getting invitations. Now if LYNDON wants to hob-nob with KING, WILKINS, et al it's his perfect right. But he can't expect to carry the South anymore. That's plain! Right this minute—all the way from Texarkana to Galveston the tide in Texas is running pure GOLDWATER. Those people living in the cradle of early Texas still remember the Alamo! And they are not willing to give up any more of the sacred soil of the Lone Star state to court the favor of a nation who still refuses to cease trading and trafficking with Cuba.

WE sure miss our good old black dog, TARZAN. The member of the extremist group that poisoned him ought to be ashamed. After all, we never picked OLD TARZ up by the ears to make him holler.

SOME of the great dogs in history we like to remember include ERIC KNIGHT'S beloved LASSIE; JOHN STEINBECK'S mind-reading CHARLEY; JACK LONDON'S invincible BUCK; RUDYARD KIP-

Applications Available For Navy Tests

Applications are now available for the Navy's nineteenth annual NROTC qualification test, according to Bill Johnson principal at the Stanton High School. The nationwide examination will be given December 12, 1964, and all eligible male high school seniors and graduates may apply.

On the basis of this test, personal interviews, physical examinations, and other factors, Mr. Johnson explained, over 2,000 young men will be given college educations as midshipmen in NROTC units in 52 well-known colleges and universities throughout the country.

Registrations for the test will close November 20. Informational bulletins and applications are available from Mr. Johnson or the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station.

A successful applicant receives financial aid for four years of college. This includes tuition, book, uniforms, miscellaneous expenses, and a $50.00 per month retainer fee. After successfully completing college degree requirements and naval science training, NROTC midshipmen become commissioned officers in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps.

During their training, regular NROTC midshipmen enjoy three summer cruises with various naval units, including visits to foreign ports. These cruises help them learn more about the variety of interesting and challenging opportunities available to them as naval officers.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jacw Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw,

Proper management of irrigated pastures is one of the greatest needs of stockmen in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District at the present time. Management of pastures may be defined as the production and management of the higher quality grasses and legumes in such a manner that the maximum forage and plant survival will be obtained.

Stockmen in the area are now depending more heavily upon forage production obtained from irrigated pastures as the drought continues in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District area of West Texas. Both large and small ranchers are beginning to incorporate the use of irrigated pastures into their ranching operations so that a sound program of rotation grazing and deferment of the native range grasses can be established on their range lands. As the irrigated pastures are introduced into the ranching operation a understanding of pasture management should be understood before the practice is undertaken.

When a decision has been made to do what grass species, and field or pasture is to be used for irrigating purposes, the area should be arranged so that a systematic system of use and resting can be applied. Irrigated grasses should have a resting period of from two to three weeks following use if maximum plant growth is to be obtained. The resting period is necessary so that grass plant can produce new leaf and plant vigor will be maintained and the plant will have sufficient time to reach maturity before grazing occurs. To obtain the use-resting cycle the pasture should be divided into at least three or more equal parts so one part can be grazed while the second part is being fertilized and watered with the third part resting.

Information concerning seeding rates, planting dates, and recommended species for planting in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District can be obtained from the local Soil Conservation Office.
