Friends of JOE STEWART learned with sadness of his serious illness this week. MR. STEWART had attended church service at the METHODIST CHURCH with his family a short time before suffering a heart attack at his home west of Stanton. He is hospitalized and will be for several days. It is hoped that his condition continues to improve. MRS. STEWART was in the office Tuesday to bring us up to date on his condition.

We enjoyed a nice visit with our efficient County Agent Tuesday afternoon. BOB JOHNSON is doing a real great job here in Martin County and we are all very proud of him, his family, and the record he is making in the community. BOB brought us up to date on the approaching Martin County Capon Show slated for next weekend.

JOHN HARVARD was an office visitor on election day. JOHN wanted to come by and visit with us and see if we could supply some results. A number of years ago we predicted the overwhelming election of a certain state candidate and offered JOHN our reasons for thinking as we did. JOHN bet on our judgment and we both lost. He told me the other day that since that occasion he hadn't placed any faith at all in our predictions. As a matter of truth, we haven't either.

JOHN T. OWEN is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring. MR. OWEN, a plumber by trade, has many friends in Stanton who are concerned about his health. Since the OWEN family moved to the city they have made a host of friends. And those friends are hopeful that JOHN OWEN finds the recovery road back to good health soon.

MRS. JOE BELL of Brownfield was in Stanton this week transacting business and visiting with friends. She was in the newspaper office to renew her subscription and to express her appreciation for the editorial content of THE STANTON REPORTER. Thanks a lot, MRS. BELL.

We want to commend the youth of our community for the good manner in which they behaved on Halloween. Sure, some minor damage was reported by the trickers but we also had a lot of nice, orderly groups who preferred to take the treats. We think our young people are exceptional examples and we are proud of them all.

Once again we want to thank JUDGE and MRS. JIM MCCOY, MRS. DORIS STEPHENSON, SHERIFF D A N SAUNDERS, MRS. GEORGE DAVIS, and others who aided us in making the election results available to the press and the public as soon as they did Tuesday evening. It is always a genuine pleasure to work at the tabulation table with these fine people. We might add that it was nice to have MR. and MRS. JOE MABEE and MORGAN HALL with us Tuesday night at the courthouse counting table.

With the national election behind us, the community can start preparations for a bountiful Thanksgiving and a brilliant Christmas. Things are slated to swing back to normal tempo in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bell of Toyah, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McQuerry Sunday.

Lyndon B. Johnson swept back into office by a landslide which included a two-to-one vote over Barry Goldwater in Texas.

Yarborough trounced youthful George Bush of Houston by almost a quarter million votes. The incumbent senator rolled up 1,042,142 votes as compared to 794,525

Martin County Estimate Is Cut Back To 27,000

Crop estimate by Texas Employment Commission for Martin County has been reduced from 45,000 to 27,000 bales, it was announced last week. The change in the estimated total for the season was brought on by the low yield fields are making and by the dwindling prospects for any improvement, the Midland TEC office announced.

Democrats Win 23 House Seats

Texas Democrats ousted the state's two Republican House members Tuesday night in a fantastic congressional coup that swept all 23 seats into the Democratic column.

Former Dallas Mayor Earle Cabell crushed Republican Bruce Alger's bid for a sixth term as representative of the heavily populated Dallas County District in the party's major breakthrough. Coupled with the defeat of Republican Ed Foreman, the Grand Old Party suffered a political setback that caught even optimistic Democrats by surprise. Dallas Democrat Joe Pool, the incumbent, swamped Temple Republican Bill Hayes in the race for congressman-at-large. Only the seat held by Democratic incumbent Bob Casey of Houston and Walter Rogers of Pampa appeared in doubt, and both led their Republican opponents by substantial margins.

Eligio de la Garza, McAllen Democrat, breezed to a surprising-easy victory over Republican Joe Coulter for the South Texas seat vacated by the retirement of Democratic incumbent Joe Kilgore. George Mahon, this district, solidly defeated Joe Phillips. Congressman Mahon garnered 73,415 votes to 20,849 for Phillips.

Philosopher Has Suggestion For Keeping
Nation From Drifting Toward Thrift

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw has a novel slant on the economy this week.)

Dear editor:

I didn't want to bring this up during the campaigning as it wasn't irrelevant enough to classify as an issue, but now that the election is over and the country can settle down to important things I can get around to discussing it.

According to a newspaper item I've been saving for three weeks now, economists have hailed as good news the discovery that people during the third quarter of this year resumed their normal habits of spending.

During the second quarter
the experts had detected a dangerous drift toward thrift and this had them worried.
During that period people were saving over 8 per cent of their take-home pay, whereas in the third quarter
they got back to saving only 7 per cent, with the possibility of going a little lower,
what with Christmas coming on and all.

As I understand this theory, the economy is geared to a steady pace of producing and selling, and a jump in saving means a drop in buying, followed by a slump in producing. In other words, a penny saved is a wheel stopped.

I have not gone into this theory thoroughly, but I am willing to practice it, provided there are some built-in safeguards to protect a man's reputation.

For example, say right now I'm a little hard-pressed for cash, and you could say it without indulging in campaign talk, and as a result have cut down on my spending.
Now I don't want people, unaware of the situation, saying, "Look at him, not spending much these days. Probably saving his money. What's he trying to do, wreck the economy?"

Now the last thing I'd want to do is wreck the economy, therefore it seems to me the government ought to have a special fund to tide people over when, with the help of expensive families and short-sighted credit managers, they've cut down on their spending.

Any time a man's saving goes about 7 per cent of his income, the government should nip it in the bud and step in with a subsidy to bring it back down to the safe, national level, and keep the wheels turning. I never was a man who liked to shirk his duty.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bob Priddy, educational director of the First Baptist Church, was leading the song services in a revival at the First Baptist Church in Fort Stockton last week. Mrs. Priddy and children joined him over the weekend.

Bible Comment—

We Defeat God's Plan For Man Kind When We Allow Dishonesty, Corruption To Live

Perhaps the one great,
comprehensive, all-inclusive
definition of Jesus' mission and redemptive purpose is in the declaration, "I am come that they might have it more abundantly."

In that declaration, Jesus specially contrasted the purpose of God, in His own mission with the purpose of others to steal and destroy.

The long course of history is one of rapine and bloodshed but our own age has revealed evil fully as appalling.
The great tragedies and evils
of life are apparent.

What is not so apparent is that they have their roots of crime, even in the hearts and lives of men who are not legally criminal.

The businessman who takes unfair advantage of his fellows is weakening the whole fabric of society. The public official who betrays his trust would probably seem to commit murder, or banditry, or to steal in some grosser way.

One can see plainly in revelations of graft and civic corruption how such men have been the actual ally of those who have made stealing destruction their chief purpose.

Every day the news reveals,
in its recount of tragedies and accidents the extent of the drink evil, the gambling evil, and the other evils that affect and endanger society, the things that oppose and defy God's life-giving purpose for mankind.

Yet the public attitude is still largely apathetic and ineffective. What the world needs is an immense endowment of God's life-giving purpose as Jesus expressed it.

TAX MAN SAM

When Junior says he is a double income tax exemption, it comes as a surprise to thousands of Dads each year.
Dads have had 10 years since the law was changed in 1954 to learn about the student exemption—but they haven't.

The student must claim his own exemption on his own return. If he is under 18 or a full time student and is receiving principal support from Dad, he can be claimed on Dad's return too.

However, the mixup continues. A lot of Dads send word to the teacher teaching the little IRS tax course at school that they are teaching the course all wrong. Dad tells the teacher that you can't "double dip." Well, Dad, in this case Junior gets an exemption and you also get an exemption.

...YOU DON'T EXPECT TO REACH TIMBUKTU

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you send it . . . in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

High School News

Students names not appearing on the honor roll lists published last week due to an error, Mr. Johnson stated, are as follows:

Jimmy Jones, freshman; Beverly Clements, sophomore; Mike Springer, sophomore; Linda Manning, junior; Alice McNew, junior; Reba Ringen-er, and Nancy Powell, senior.

—SHS—
Bill Johnson, principal of Stanton High School, announced that Dr. Smith of Couley and Smith, Big Spring, will be giving eye tests to all students of the high school this week.

—SHS—
The students enjoyed the assembly that was held Tuesday, November 3. The program was the Wendays, an aerobic group.

Writing in Newsweek, General Thomas D. White, USA (Ret.), says: "As for public discussion of military intelligence, whether it concerns our forces or those of the Soviet Union, no one should deny that the American public is entitled to all the facts on our military establishment short of that which can be of significant value to any enemy. Likewise, general statistics on an enemy's forces are safely releasable. But the professional, through long years of training, shudders when an exact figure is given on a matter which is highly secret from the enemy's point of view — the exact number of Soviet ICBMs for example. There is at once room for skepticism that our intelligence gathering is as accurate as all that; if it is why tell the enemy?"

Austin once again became the seat of the executive branch of the federal government as President Johnson moved back to his home grounds for an expected prolonged post-election stay.

The President preferred to vote in person at his old box in Johnson City, rather than cast an absentee ballot.

An elaborate communications network was prepared for the election day party here. Hundreds of national press, radio and television representatives accompanied Johnson to Texas Monday night.

Major developments are anticipated at the vacation White House during days immediately following counting of the votes.

The President, while resting up from the campaign, undoubtedly will be formulating his plans for the future and staying abreast of national and international developments at this important period.

He is scheduled to entertain at least one distinguished visitor at the LBJ Ranch. Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz will visit him November 12-13, according to early reports.

Most observers predict the President will remain at least until mid-November, possibly longer.

Courts Speak — Court of Criminal Appeals criticized state courts of inquiry but declined to declare unconstitutional the law authorizing such procedures.

Issue came before the court in the appeal of Pasadena Attorney N. A. Smith who claimed his constitutional rights were violated in a court of inquiry into Pasadena city finances. Judges ordered Smith freed of contempt of court charges arising from his refusal to testify at a court of inquiry held on June 2.

Court of Criminal Appeals also ordered a new trial for Arthur Geter on marijuana charges in Harris County, citing a new U. S. Supreme Court decision that legal representation in trials is a constitutional right. Geter began serving a life term in 1952.

Supreme Court refused to review a dispute between City of Athens and Gulf State's Telephone Company over phone rates. It thus left standing the lower courts' decisions that the East Texas city's 1961 and 1962 rate ordinances do not permit the company a fair return on its investment. City asked higher court to review the case.

In another case the Supreme Court agreed that Connecticut General Life Insurance Company is entitled to collect $408,661 in overpayment of occupation taxes for 1952-57 and for 1959.

It left standing the lower court findings that United Press International libeled Bruce B. Mohs, a Madison, Wis. pilot in a story concerning a seaplane landing. Court of Civil Appeals has questioned the accuracy of most of the story. Mohs was awarded some $7,500 in damages.

Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools cannot negotiate a new water-supply contract with the City of Big Spring, according to a ruling by 53rd District Judge Herman Jones. City attempted to have the Austin court set aside a 1937 contract under which it agreed to furnish water to the Big Spring State Hospital at a cost of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. Estimated cost of furnishing this service now is set at 32 cents per 1,000 gallons. It is expected that the city will appeal Jones' decision.

Business Climbs — Texas building permits rose to a near-record level of $155,600,000 in September.

It was the 43rd month of the current Texas business expansion — second longest peacetime cyclical upswing since December 1854. Longest period was March 1933-May 1937.

Business index as measured by University of Texas Bureau of Business Research was 12 per cent above September, 1963 — one per cent below all-time high of 152 per cent last July. Researchers registered an optimistic outlook for the remaining months of 1964.

Appointments — Gov. John Connally has selected Richard M. Price of Abilene as 104th District Attorney. He succeeds Tom Todd who resigned the post effective November 1. Price was the only general election candidate for the office. District includes Fisher, Jones and Taylor counties.

Connally reappointed Bay City Mayor Richard C. Gussman to the Battleship Texas Commission and selected Lofton O. Wells of Houston and Mrs. Mack (Viola) Webb of El Campo as new members of the commission.

Appointees yet to be made total 72, on 29 state agencies, including the Sabine River Authority, Texas Water Commission, Neches River Conservation District, State Seed and Plant Board, Red River Authority, Water Development Board, Texas Liquor Control Board, and 22 other administering bodies.

Cleanup — Water Pollution Control Board announces its intention to adopt and enforce stringent new regulations on all sewage treatment plants in Bexar County.

Board decided that there is no point in trying to clean up the Houston Ship Channel. It will be designated for navigation and industrial use, not for recreation.

Estes Judgment Entered — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports that the 108th District Court in Potter County rendered a $547,500 summary judgment against onetime West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes, winding up the state's suit against Estes and Commercial Solvents Corp.

State claimed Estes and the firm combined to unlawfully injure and drive out competition in anhydrous ammonia fertilizer in the high plains area by selling below cost and through other schemes violating the anti-trust act.

Commercial Solvents earlier paid $150,000 under an agreed judgment. But it admitted no liability.

Estes is appealing the Federal Court's 15-year fraud and conspiracy sentence to U. S. Supreme Court.

Highway Projects — A delegation from Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Johnson, Hood and Denton counties called on the State Highway Commission seeking a $72,100,000 highway development program in the Fort Worth metropolitan area.

Emphasis was placed on construction of a 56-mile link between Fort Worth and Ennis on U. S. Highway 287 to facilitate truck traffic from Houston to Fort Worth.

Highway Commission's approval this week of a $400,000,000 highway construction project within the city limits of El Paso demonstrates results that can come from close cooperation between residents of the community and a state agency.

Eighteen months ago, the mayor and county judge from El Paso conferred with the commissioners on traffic problems resultant from that city's status as the third fastest-growing city in the U. S. in the decade ending in 1960.

Highway Department told them it could do nothing unless the people of El Paso got busy. They did — and passed a $15,000,000 road construction bond program in October.

When city officials came back to ask the Highway Commission for help, it came in a hurry, since $7,500,000 worth of local right-of-way funds were ready.

AG Opinions — Attorney General Carr has ruled that state law does not authorize a discount for the taxpayer for early payment of state ad valorem taxes, even though county ad valorem taxes have a discount feature.

Attorney General's office also has ruled that savings loan association agents cannot appraise properties on which a loan application has been made; and that no further court action is necessary to escheat funds ordered turned over to the State Treasury by state judges.

Public Employees Week — Governor Connally has proclaimed November 8-15 as Texas Public Employees Week.

In his memorandum, the Governor stated that "Texas public employees have con-

Approximately 50 adults and children made the trial ride.

Spell Quiz

Correct Answer is: Emendation

Innertube Protects Motor — When transporting your outdoor motor in the trunk of your auto, try placing it in a half-inflated innertube. Tube reduces the bumps of the car to mere quivers. This helps prevent injury to the motor or parts from shaking loose.

Carp Love Wheaties — When fishing for carp, try using a simple bait made from Wheaties.

Simply mix the cereal with enough water to knead into a ball. It will remain on a hook for long periods. Carp really go for it.

Pipe Cleaners Useful — An ordinary pipe cleaner can serve many purposes for the outdoorsman, besides cleaning his pipe.

It can be used to hold parts of a rod together when disassembled; keep line from unwinding on a reel; and as a nook and cranny oiler.

Handy Gun Oiler — Saturate a lamb's wool pad with oil and pin it to the flap of your gun case. There it will be handy at all times for oiling the gun.

Peps Up Batteries — Heat flashlight batteries over your campfire for a few more hours of life.

Repairing Rod Guide — A hairline crack in a rod guide can wear fishing line thin in a very short time.

To fix it temporarily, wrap a section of line carefully all around the guide. Weave it around and around and lay it up smooth. Then lash it to supporting arms.

It will last for several days. Early attention may prevent loss of the lunker fish.

Handy Lure Box — Some salt water fishermen use toothbrush holders to store their feathered lures.

Keeps 'em in good shape a lot longer than bouncing around in the bottom of a tackle box.

Another Use For Magnet — When refinishing ultra-deluxe items like a gun stock or rod rack, run a magnet over the surface before varnishing. It will pick up every last trace of steel wool used to smooth the surface.

Excellent Fire Starter — To make an easy starter for a campfire, soak a charcoal briquet in turpentine and wrap it in aluminum foil. It burns hot and lasts a long time.

Storing Minnow Seines — Use old newspapers to keep your minnow seine from rotting while in storage.

$1,235 Collected For Boy Scouts

George Costlow, drive chairman for the annual Boy Scout Drive, announced that the drive is officially complete.

The drive was originally scheduled to end on Friday, October 30, but was extended through October 30.

Workers have turned in their contributions and a total of $1,235.00 has been collected.

Included in this total is the Grady's Scout Drive contribution, which was $300.00.

Sands Wins Over Loop In District Play Friday

Sands came from behind to defeat Loop 16-7, in a District 3 game Friday, to move a step closer to the championship.

Sands can win the right to represent the district in bidistrict play by defeating Flower Grove in its own Homecoming contest next Saturday night.

Neither team scored in the first half, although Sands drove down to the Loop two before yielding the ball on downs.

The Loop Longhorns counted a touchdown in the third when quarterback Don Klier ran over from the six-inch line. The drive went 47 yards.

Sands came back to go ahead shortly thereafter, however, when it dug in to hold the Loop team on its own 15 after losing the ball on a fumble.

Halfback Larry Oaks raced 20 yards for the Sands touchdown midway in the third period, and Eddie Herm picked up the all important two extra points on a run.

Ricky Kemp went over four yards at the end of a 55 yard drive. Herm again added the two extra points on a run.

The Mustangs are now 5-0 in district, and 6-1-1 overall. The Ponies have two games remaining on their regular schedule.

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

Whether you own a two-horsepower lawnmower or a 20-foot combine, a good job of preparing the machine for storage will pay off in long-term service and lower repair bills, according to an agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University.

"Parking the machine in a building is just a small part of good winter storage," says Beverly Reeves, extension agricultural engineer. "You need to make sure it won't rust or deteriorate while it sits idle."

No matter what kind of a machine you store, Reeves says there are three things you need to do to get it ready for storage: Clean it. Lubricate it. And eliminate any stress on part.

The agricultural engineer suggests removing trash, lint, dirt and dried grease either by washing the machine with kerosene and rinsing it with water or by steam cleaning.

The machine should be lubricated and then run a few minutes. Chains and adjustment bolts should be coated with a rust preventive oil.

Cotton yields in 1964 are up more than 50 percent, reports Calvin Rinn, manager of the Stiles Farm Foundation. Best of all, he adds, net income is up to the tune of $35 per acre. Rinn is conducting a large scale demonstration in farm management on the 3,200-acre Blackland farm under the direction of Dr. R. E. Patterson, Texas A&M University's top agricultural administrator.

In 1963, the first year under A&M management, Rinn harvested 438 bales from 1,025 acres, averaging just under 212 pounds of line per acre. This year, although cotton acreage was cut almost in half, Rinn harvested 392 bales and posted an overall average of almost 332 pounds of lint. Much of the extra profit is the result of last summer's deep plowing which reduced root rot considerably, he says.

John Box, extension agronomist and coordinator of Operation B.I.G., points out other factors contributing to the Foundation's success. For example, cotton was fertilized according to recommendations of A&M's soil testing laboratory and insects were poisoned on an "as needed" basis. Only 4 applications of insecticide were required.

Careful planning and preparation can reduce losses from gin fires this fall, believes Beverly G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Keep fire extinguishers available in all parts of the gin house, says the specialist. Be sure they are ready for use — properly filled and tagged with a dated refill card.

At least three covered barrels filled with water should be placed in the gin house in strategic points along with several buckets. The buckets, Reeves points out, should be labeled for fire use only so they will be available if they are needed.

He suggests checking water lines to insure they are large enough to furnish adequate pressure. A two-inch line with two-inch riser is preferable.

Sufficient hose, preferably one and one-half inches in size, to reach any part of any building on the gin lot, plus an extra 25 feet, should be available, says Reeves. The hose should be hung on racks and used only for fire purposes.

Gin owners and managers should find it profitable to train their personnel in fire fighting methods and familiarize them with equipment available for fighting fires.

A properly equipped and trained gin crew can play a major role, the specialist says, not only in holding gin fire losses to a minimum, but their alertness can also prevent fires.

A new five-cent commemorative stamp honoring homemakers was unveiled at the opening session of the National Extension Homemakers Council at Honolulu, Hawaii, Oct. 26, according to Mrs. George Hackney, Jr. of Greenville.

Mrs. Hackney, president of the 34,000-member Texas Home Demonstration Association — the state counterpart of the homemakers' council — served at official delegate from Texas to the Hawaii meeting.

The commemorative stamp went on sale at all other U. S. postoffices on Oct. 27, the Post Office Department has announced.

Discussions on research, changes in recommendations, and the safe use of agricultural chemicals will highlight the Insect and Plant Disease Control conference to be held November 10 and 11 at Texas A&M University.

Presentations and topics to be discussed generally revolve around the use of agricultural chemicals for controlling insect and plant diseases, reports Wendell Horne, extension plant pathologist, Texas

A&M University.

E. M. Trew, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture at Texas A&M, will welcome the approximately 250 people expected to attend the conference.

Topics to be discussed include the following: "Shade Tree Disease in Texas," "Diseases of Flax and Sorghum," "Changes in Insect Recommendations," "Small Grain Diseases," "Field Diseases of Rice," "Changes in Vegetable Guides," "Nematode Control in Field Crops," "Virus Diseases of Tree Fruit," and "Changes in Livestock Pest Control Recommendations."

Also, "Extension's Response," "Changes in Vegetable Control Recommendations," "Pesticides," "Food and Drug Administration Activities in 1964 and Plans for 1965," "Pesticide Residue Analysis," "Peanut Diseases," "Leaf Diseases and Cotton Rust Prevention Program," "Results of Research with Systemic Insecticides for Cotton Insect Control," and "1965 Cotton Insect Control Recommendations."

The movement of Mexican grown cotton across the border at Brownsville doesn't mean it has been purchased by American processors. The Port of Brownsville handles more foreign grown cotton for export than any port in the nation, says James E. Kirby, economist in marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Chances are very good, he says, the inbound cotton shipments are coming into Brownsville as a part of this foreign trade.

He explains that certain U. S. ports have bonded warehouses where foreign products may be stored or processed and then re-exported. These facilities allow an imported product to be stored, sorted, graded or manufactured without the payment of duty. If the product, however, enters the U. S. market it is subject to the normal import duty.

He lists transshipments for the 1962-63 Mexican cotton season through U. S. ports as 449,000 bales through Brownsville; 18,000 bales through Houston; 4,000 through Corpus Christi; 77,000 through San Diego and 3,000 bales through Los Angeles.

Kirby said Brownsville's six compresses at one time provided the major facilities for handling cotton grown in Mexico's Gulf Coastal areas and by which the Mexican flat bales could be prepared as high density bales necessary for ocean shipment. Changes in export policies by the Mexican Government have resulted in expanded compress facilities and their use and a drastic drop in business for the Brownsville compress, Kirby said.

He noted that the 1963-64 cotton crop in Mexico is estimated at two million bales, a sharp drop from the 2.4 million bales for the previous season.

Safe operation of a mechanical cotton picker means following a few simple precautions, says Beverly G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Taking the picking drums out of gear before getting off the picker is the first rule. Service and adjust the picker head only when it is out of gear, advises Reeves, and remember to replace all safety shields when it is necessary to remove them. Also, lock the basket in the dump position when servicing the engine.

When turning at the ends of rows, raise the picking unit to its highest position but do so only at half throttle or less, recommends the specialist.

Since cotton pickers have a high center of gravity and turn over easily, extreme care should be used when operating or turning the picker near ditches. Reeves points out that steep downgrades, such as ramps used to load or unload the machine, should be approached by backing.

Avoid applying the brakes quickly when traveling on roads. A mechanical picker is a heavy machine, explains the specialist, and is hard to stop.

These simple suggestions have been proved by manufacturers and in the field, says Reeves. A few minutes devoted to safety can protect the cotton picker as well as the operator.

Cap Rock To Sponsor Study On Irrigation

Texas Tech College has received a $30,000 research grant from electric cooperative in West Texas and New Mexico.

Tech's agricultural engineering department will use the grant to study power requirements and efficiency of irrigation well pumps and power units.

The three-year project will be centered at Tech, and work will be primarily on wells within a 300-mile radius of Lubbock.

Several wells in the area served by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative will be studied.

Cap Rock is one of the sponsors of the research, and Manager O. B. Bryan is serving on the project advisory committee.

Albert Sechrist, project director for Tech, and John Shanklin, REA irrigation specialist, met with area agricultural representatives and Cap Rock officials in Stanton recently. They explained the objectives of the research project and asked the cooperation and assistance of those present in obtaining a considerable amount of detailed information on each well in the program.

What Makes Fish Bite? Page P&WD!

A book a day, a fascinating book, could be written from the stacks of mail reaching Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters each day.

It's the day-by-day log of a newly combined state agency designed to serve all 11,000,000 Texans plus many visitors. It does seem sometimes they all write about something or another sooner or later.

And J. Weldon Watson, executive director, said that is the challenging thing about operating such a massive organization with personnel assigned directly to almost all of the state's 254 counties.

That mail! It concerns everything from law enforcement to harvesting forty-eleven varieties of fish and game and definitely including public relations and community service angles.

Watson admitted some of the mail "get a bit salty at times." "But," he added, "we deal with many controversial subjects and it's simply impossible in this field to keep all the folks happy all the time."

But that mail, the huge pile that totals more than 3,000 pieces some days.

Just lately a man wrote in capital letters: "What Has Happened To All The Jack Rabbits?"

The same day a woman scribbled in semi-terror: "An armadillo is attacking my house."

On the park side, an eastern tourist asked: "How long does it take to cross Texas?"

A young Texas mother wrote: "Is it okay to take a six weeks old baby on a camping trip in a state park?"

A child scribbled: "What makes fish bite?"

Sandhill Crane Season To Open

Large flights of sandhill cranes, enroute to southern wintering grounds, are now descending on lakes and grain fields throughout much of West Texas, reports Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

Latest estimates from wildlife personnel indicates 5,000 to 6,000 cranes are in the vicinity of Big Spring and even greater numbers may be found on the high plains west of Lubbock and Amarillo.

Biologists said sportsmen, who have found the sandhill crane to be a worthy game bird and a choice table delicacy, eagerly awaited the special 1964 hunting season from October 31 through November 29. Sandhill cranes may be taken from sunrise to sunset in that portion of Texas west of a line formed by Highway 277 from Del Rio to San Angelo, thence along Highway 37 to its junction with Highway 287 at Dumas and northward along Highway 287 to the Oklahoma-Texas line. The daily bag and possession limit is two (2) birds.

Sportsmen, who have traditionally played an important part in game harvest surveys, are counted on for valuable assistance to the Parks and Wildlife Department again this year. They are urged to contact either their local game warden or the nearest Parks and Wildlife Department office and pass on information concerning the success or failure of each sandhill crane hunting venture. Biologists note that, if sportsmen cooperate in this important survey, a more reliable kill estimate on sandhill cranes can be used in setting future seasons and bag limits.

Ann Yater Among STSC Students

Ann Yater of Stanton, is among 4,460 students enrolled in Southwest Texas State College this fall.

The total enrollment represents a 15 per cent increase in the institution's student body size over last year's 3,850. Accounting for the significant increase, Registrar Alton Breiger said that the large growth has been primarily to two major factors: (1) the national publicity SWT has received as the alma mater of President Lyndon B. Johnson, and (2) the increased emphasis on higher academic standards and entrance requirements.

Miss Yater is a sophomore at Southwest Texas, majoring in elementary education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yater of Stanton. She resides at Stanton.

While at Southwest Texas, Miss Yater has been active in Chi Omega Sorority.

Annuals Furnish Color And Beauty For Fall, Winter Gardens

In areas of Texas with open winters, annual flowering plants are a must for fall and winter color in the garden, although prevailing temperatures must be carefully considered.

Day temperatures during November and even early December seem to be ideal for good plant growth and development. As the season progresses into December, however, night temperatures may drop so low that they will prevent flowering on many annual plants.

To insure good winter blooming on annuals, plant them early enough in the fall to develop good flower buds before low night temperatures slow down or stop their growth.

There are a considerable number of annuals, and perennials treated as such, that are well adapted to fall and winter gardens. Each plant has its own growth limits during cold nights; plants used for fall and winter flowering can be placed into groups based upon their response to climatic conditions.

Pansies and other species of Viola can withstand almost any climatic condition in fall and winter gardens. They can endure freezing weather, need low temperatures to set flower buds, and will continue to bloom through the fall and winter regardless of most weather changes.

Stocks and snapdragons are another group of winter garden favorites that are in a class by themselves. While these annuals survive temperatures as low as 18 to 20 degrees F., they need the warm days and nights of November to produce good early growth and should be in bud stage by the end of November at the latest.

Another cool-season annual, Calendula, responds well to climatic conditions in fall and winter gardens. In areas void of heavy frosts with mild winters, fibrous rooted begonias, cinerarias, fiery primroses, gazanias and other annuals can provide extensive bloom during the cool spring months, even though they may be damaged slightly during winter cold spells.

Violas and pansies should be available soon from nurseries and should be planted when purchased. These come in separate and in mixed colors with numerous selections of flower size and abundance of bloom.

This year a wide selection of snapdragons should be available for almost any garden purpose. The newer, All-American winner Rochet types are tall growing plants with long flower spikes but are more suited to summer gardens in Texas.

For medium height plants from 18 to 24 inches, consider United Sprites. They do not need staking and are available in mixed colors.

Margot Carpet strains are extremely well suited for low, dwarf garden effects. A newer dwarf strain introduced this year is Floral Carpet, growing only eight inches tall.

Stocks for fall planting should be available in two well known strains. The Dwarf Ten Week is useful for mass planting in flower borders; plants are available in separate colors. Also well suited to fall and winter gardens is the Trysomic Hi-Double. This is a tall growing branching strain that produces a high percentage of double-flowered plants and is offered in single colors or in mixtures.

The newer trend toward the use of various vegetables in garden plantings should not be overlooked in fall or winter gardens. Parsley and lettuce make good low border subjects; carrots and beets can be used as intermediate effects. Green-curved endive and red swisschard can be mixed into the border where taller accents are needed.

These annuals should be planted as early as possible so that they will be well established before the cold nights of December occur.

A spokesman for the American Medical Association says that the leadership needed to solve such growing community problems as air pollution, water pollution, and traffic safety can be found at the local level among the health team employed in private industry and trained in preventive medicine.

These making the tour were: Michael Adams, Curtis Flanagan, Tommy Deavenport, Walt Haislip, Danny Meek, Randall Papan, and Charles Clinton.

Serving as leader for the pack Wednesday, in the absence of Mrs. Haislip, was Mrs. Curtis Flanagan.

A noon-time show on tv — NBC, of course it would be, in running a one-hour rhubarb on home wreckers and wrecked homes called "Divorce Court." They claim it is being presented to slow down the ever-increasing divorce rate. It is having exactly the opposite effect on eligible single people—both men and women — who either have or might be contemplating marriage. A bachelor who watches that tv spectacle at the lunch hour five straight days is a dead duck as far as matrimony is concerned. So the purpose and intent of the show is defeated before it gets off the ground. If people stop marrying the divorces can't occur. And such programs as "Divorce Court" will be and should now be tossed off the air. In our personal opinion, only a sadist could relish such a heart-breaking program. The Good Lord knows that morality in this country is at its lowest peak in the history of the USA.

A few years ago we heard the late JIMMY ALLRED lay claim to being a descendant of SAM HOUSTON. The other evening we heard GOV. JOHN CONNALLY tell about some of his illustrious ancestors and former GOV. PRICE DANIEL is reportedly married to the great-granddaughter of SAM HOUSTON. In between, through years, politically speaking, we have heard many other candidates of public office in Texas state that they were descendants of some famous Texas patriot. Some have "racked up" kinship with JAMES BOWIE, DAVY CROCKETT, WILLIAM B. TRAVIS, and the aforementioned SAM HOUSTON. You don't ever hear the political chameleons bragging about being related to anybody named BAKER, JENKINS, JEAN LAFITTE, CLYDE BARROW, PARR, RAYMOND HAMILTON, PRETTY BOY FLOYD, MA BARKER, MACHINE GUN KELLY, BONNIE PARKER, JOHN DILLINGER, or JACK RUBY. But some of our candidates can trace their bonds of kinship back to one or two of the individuals in the last list though. Think of it this way—if the trend continues in politics as developed in the elections this year—a smart candidate won't mention the fact that he is related to past Texas heroes. It might hurt some of the rabid integrationists feelings to claim kin with one of the patriots who died at the Alamo. We all know that Texas kids have quit playing "Cowboy and Indian" for fear of hurting the redman's feelings. And newscasters giving weather reports have long since stopped ceased referring to the type days we have experienced recently here in the basin as "Indian Summer" weather. Even "QUINT" has replaced "CHESTER" on the MAT DILLON show.

RAY CHARLES, negro singer, was picked up by customs agents and treasury department officials on a charge of illegal possession of narcotics. They nabbed him as he stepped off a plane from Canada at Boston airport. Why is it that some people can't stand success? Remember BIG DADDY? In the future colored celebrities should take a lesson from MAHALIA JACKSON and LOUIS ARMSTRONG, true and dedicated American patriots.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON won a decisive victory at the polls Tuesday. As a matter-of-fact, his triumph could be called awesome. The impact of exactly what it means is not yet completely analytical. It is too early to assess the total results. This smashing success could mean the end of free enterprise in this country. Perhaps the triumph tells the tale of the birth of a new society—as the President put it in the campaign—the Great Society. Maybe the Democratic victory by such a margin has cut the heart out of all opposition, because not only did MR. JOHNSON win convincingly but clear-cut majorities for members of the U. S. House of Representatives and U. S. Senate were also recorded. Congress will convene in January with all but a handful of men and women seated on one side of the respective aisles. There will be no opposition to the President's policies regardless of what they might encompass. The Congress can be expected to chant a chorus of affirmation. Truly, it appears now that this country belongs to one man, lock, stock, and barrel. Call it what you will, LYNDON JOHNSON has more power to use and do with as he pleases than any other man ever had in all the history of this nation. Let us hope and pray that he uses this power humbly, justly, and with some limitation. Let us further hope and pray that the President be blessed with good health during the years to come because America never wants to experience again the tragedy that took MR. KENNEDY from us last November.

OUR personal congratulations go this week to CONGRESSMAN GEORGE MAHON, a long-time friend, on the sweeping victory he registered at the polls Tuesday. The Lubbock resident gathered in nearly 80,000 votes to lead his opponent almost four to one. MAHON is chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee and is the only representative the 19th District has had since it was created 30 years ago.

AS the Martin County campaign manager for ATTY. GEN. WAGGONER CARR, an old friend of your writer and native of the same North Texas county, we wish to thank all of the voters who cast their ballots for CARR in Tuesday's election. In the two boxes here in Stanton, GENERAL CARR won 567 to 126.

GUY STORY BROWN has won another honor with his exhibit at the Midland Rock Show. The Midland Gem and Mineral Society held its annual two-day Rock Show at the National Guard Armory on N. Lamesa Road last weekend. More than 150 private exhibitors and dealers from six states turned out for the exposition. More than $500,000 in highly polished rocks were on display. From dirty rocks, some precious and semi-precious stones, statues, tie bars, necklaces and table tops have been fashioned. The most valuable single item on display at the show was the 102-carat Texas Blue Topaz. GUY is the son of MR. and MRS. GLENN BROWN. He has been interested in rock collections for about two years and has previously been cited for his

Thanks To You Who Helped

Since the youth of our church took on the responsibility of collecting for CROP at Halloween season, I would like to thank each of you for your participation.

I am sure that you understand that this is not a Methodist program, but a relief program participated in by Christian youth of many churches, and is handled through Church World Service, as an organization. In many places the churches band together to sponsor this program, and I am sure had we had more help that the report would be much better, but our youth worked at it diligently and we are able to report to you that they raised around $185.00. I do not have the exact figure.

This will help to prolong life for a number of people, and for our youth, let me say a big "Thank You"

C. R. LeMond,
Methodist Pastor.
