MRS. RALPH CAFFEY, Librarian

The library has just received a report that is very interesting reading. The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission annual report gives details about heroic acts recognized during 1964. Andrew Carnegie said in setting up the award: "I do not expect to stimulate or create heroism by this fund, knowing well that heroic action is impulsive; but I do believe that, if the hero is injured in his bold attempt to serve or save his fellows, he and those dependent upon him should not suffer pecuniarily."

This report also gives the information to be given in reporting an act of heroism and the regulations governing it.

We are grateful to the Moody Literature Mission for a set of free Christian story books. The books were paid for by friends concerned about giving our boys and girls the best in clean, moral literature. The books are non-sectarian and any church would do well to encourage their young people to avail themselves of this good reading.

Let us resolve to be better informed by reading more in 1965!

Here Are Two Recipes For Black-eyed Peas

For the benefit of any cooks who may never have served blackeyed peas before, but who want to insure a little extra good luck for 1965, here are two recipes from two excellent regional cookbooks.

From "A Tastes of Texas," recipes compiled for Neiman-Marcus by the late Marihelen McDuff and edited by Jane Trahey, the basic recipe.

FRESH BLACKEYED PEAS
3 cups shelled, snapped fresh blackeyed peas
1/4 pound salt pork or ham hock
1/2 teaspoon salt
Water to cover

Wash peas through several waters, add water to cover and salt pork scored to rind or ham hock scored to bone. Boil briskly 15 minutes, then cover and lower flame for peas to simmer until plump and tender. Add water as needed, but allow peas to cook down with rich pot liquor. Serve with corn bread.

(NOTE: For frozen fresh, canned-fresh or packaged dry black-eyes, follow label directions for cooking.)

pin' John is eaten for good luck on New Year's — for enjoyment the year 'round. This recipe is from "Charleston Recipes," collected and sold by the Junior League of Charleston.

(NOTE: In Charleston they may be called cow peas; in Texas, cook this dish with blackeyes!)

HOPPIN' JOHN
2 cups cow peas
1 cup raw rice
Salt to taste
3 slices bacon, fried with 1 medium sliced onion
2 cups water

Boil peas until tender. Add well washed rice and bacon with grease and onion and 2 cups water. Put in rice steamer or double boiler and cook for 1 hour or until rice is thoroughly done. Serves six.

DEAVENPORT'S

25. Because of rising expenses and overwhelming competition, a further increase in failure will be seen in 1965.

26. As a result to automobile strikes in late 1964 and the fear of a possible steel shutdown in mid-1965, we look for a bulge in business volume during the first half of 1965.

27. In a nutshell, business should make new all-time highs in early 1965; after mid-year, a tapering-off appears likely. However, 1965 will set another new record.

28. Following the strike interruptions of late 1964, personal income should move smartly ahead to new highs in the first half of 1965... although the rate of advance will slow after midyear.

29. This projected rise in income will be beneficial to retail trade. And though buying in the second quarter may be dampened by heavy income-tax payments due Uncle Sam on April 15th as a result of under-withholding during 1964, the last half of the year will find retail trade in certain lines — such as furs and jewelry — spurred by President Johnson's promised excise-tax cuts.

30. The important automobile industry should post another excellent sales year in 1965, but as the year advances we feel that gains will be harder to come by.

31. The powerful building and construction activities should prove a strong support to general business during 1965... even though we foresee no marked improvement. Some gain in dollar volume will be largely due to higher costs. Apartment building has been overdone in some sections and a breathing spell is logical. One- and two-family houses could post a small increase, but the big market for new housing is still some years distant.

32. Overextension of credit and overambitious operators have put the real estate market in a bind in many large metropolitan areas. We strongly advise caution in making new commitments, especially in commercial real estate where a thin equity exists.

33. However, even if scarcer than in recent years, there will still be opportunities for selective purchases of real estate in 1965. Each area is a law unto itself. Know your locality and study the direction of bought in the path of expanding suburbs may be a better long-term buy in 1965 than stocks.

34. Nonfarm real estate foreclosure will continue in an uptrend during 1965. This should be particularly true in regions where overbuilding of speculative homes has taken place and where cutbacks in defense spending cause local distress.

35. Productive farm land that lends itself to mechanization will not decline in price in 1965. Rising use of farm equipment makes it necessary for operators to cultivate ever-larger spreads. This trend is maintaining the demand for fertile acreage in the farm belt.

36. As 1965 begins, prices for agricultural products are generally well above their lows for 1964. Unless severe widespread drought intervenes, we look for no more than seasonal strength in agricultural prices during the year ahead. In a word, we do not see any near-term important uplifting forces on the farm scene.

37. The situation in industrial commodity prices is somewhat different. With business heading higher in the first half and with labor costs scaling new peaks, industrial commodity prices, with some exceptions, will push upward at least during the coming six months.

38. Living costs will also rise to new all-time heights. And, since President Johnson is committed to getting Medicare passed at this session of Congress, look for hospital, nursing, and doctors' fees to spurt before the end of 1965.

39. Even with federal income taxes already slated to drop a notch next year and with prospects excellent that excise taxes will be cut, rejoicing should be restrained by the knowledge that local taxes will take another up-turnd and social security levies will rise again... even faster after the 89th Congress enacts Medicare.

40. Climbing capital goods outlays will be one of the brightest spots for 1965. Gains over this year could run as high as 10%.

41. Further progress in United States exports will be harder to achieve in the coming year. Certainly, if the steel labor outlook appears bad by mid-spring, heavy imports of foreign steel may be resorted to by U. S. businessmen. This would result in a narrowing of our favorable trade balance and have a further adverse impact on the U. S. international balance of payments.

42. Although we are not forecasting runaway inflation for 1965, we do feel that attempts to keep money easy in this country, in the face of a world-wide trend toward tighter credit, will greatly increase the danger of a later inflationary blow-off. Conditions remind us of the late 1920's when the Federal Reserve here kept credit too cheap and plentiful to support the British pound. Hence the eventual collapse came from an even more dangerous level.

43. It is unlikely that the United States will raise the price of gold during 1965. However, we may well see the calling of a monetary conference to deal with the weakened British financial situation and to attempt greater liquidity for world currencies generally.

44. As far as gold stocks are concerned, they are largely high and should only be held in 1965 as insurance against the long-range trend toward higher world prices of gold.

45. The silver coinage situation will become more acute as the year progresses. The 89th Congress will be forced to consider a new silver coinage act. If it is not passed in 1965, it will be shortly thereafter.

46. Returning to the all-important foreign scene — since we are very much wrapped up in the future of the free World — we forecast further instability among the Russian leadership. Khrushchev's ouster marked only the beginning of the coming power grab in Moscow. The real leader has not yet emerged.

47. Ascendancy of the African and Asian nations to a position of control in the United Nations will force the United States in 1965 to take action alone when the vital spheres of influence are violated. The UN will become even more of a debating society; and month by month the chances grow dimmer that we will ever again see United Nations troops used for rescue operations such as in Korea or the Congo.

48. Following the British crisis, General de Gaulle will work harder than ever in 1965 to unite Europe as a great third force between Communism and the United States. President Johnson is well aware that the winds of change are blowing strongly in Western Europe. 1965 could see the beginning of the end for transatlantic union as envisioned by U. S. Administrations during the past two decades.

49. World-wide credit problems and restrictions on trade cast dark shadows on investment prospects abroad. Many nations which have shown great growth during the past 20 years will be poor risks for new commitments during the year 1965.

50. In conclusion, we recall the statement of a former President of a South American nation: That the U. S. A. prospered so greatly because its founders came to worship God... as opposed to countries whose settlers went to worship gold. Surely we can hope to prosper in the future only as we recognize that righteousness and morality must be as important as analysis and statistics as springboards for new business ventures during 1965 and in all the years ahead.

1964 Farm Prices Expected To Remain Somewhat Stable

The overall agricultural outlook for 1965 takes on a complexion pointing to an increase in demand as well as an increase in supply of farm products. Farm prices and incomes, however, are expected to remain relatively stable.

While little change is foreseen in livestock product prices, crops prices will probably be slightly lower in 1965. Estimate total gross income realized by all farmers and ranchers will maintain the level of the past two years. This income includes cash receipts, government payments and non-money income. Furthermore, only small increases in production expenses are in prospect as compared with increases in recent years.

Farm assets during 1964 are anticipated to increase more than three percent, due mainly to rising land values. Farmers' debts, though, continue to rise, and there will be a greater need for farm credit for acquiring land and capital goods in the coming year.

For the U. S. as a whole, farmers' liabilities are likely to increase to about 16.4 cents per dollar of total assets on January 1. This compares with a rate of 15.7 cents a year earlier and 9.5 cents in 1950.

Philosopher Reports, In A Round-About Way, What Sort Of Year 1964 Was, 1965 Will Be

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw takes a look at a couple of years in his letter this week.)

Dear editor: "Well, what sort of year did you have?" a neighbor asked me as 1964 drew to a close.

Generally, I've found that the man who asks this question probably had a pretty good year himself, so I never let such people down, I just say "Oh, I can't complain," and then give them a chance to report on theirs, which I figure was what was on their mind in the first place.

Another thing I've found out is that people report a much better year when they're talking with people outside their own immediate family. The last thing a man want to do is let his own folks know he had a good year, financially speaking. It'd be worse than a country on foreign aid announcing its gross national product was up 400 per cent. You've got to remember, a family's rock-bottom, absolute basic needs always stay 10 per cent ahead of what a man's making, regardless of what it is. But what I really started out to say was what I thought the new year of 1965 will bring. I know that there are trouble spots all over the world and nobody seems to know what to do about them, but this doesn't bother me because it's normal. Man's problems are always several jumps ahead of his ability to solve them. My theory is that the amount of brains in one town is always about equal to the amount of brains in any other town, and you carry this forward to nations, and you can see we never quite have the equipment we need. We get along, but the odds for total solution are always against us. And besides, if we wouldn't know what to do with ourselves, although I'd be willing to try. Therefore, my prediction is that 1965 will be about normal, although as to what exactly will take place throughout the world, I can't tell you. Me and the State Department haven't figured out yet what took place in 1964. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Bible Comment—

Paul Preached Freedom And True Brotherhood

Freedom and brotherhood are terms that need a lot of careful defining in the difficult times in which we are living. And there is no better guide to an accurate and workable definition of this term than the writings of the Apostle Paul.

Paul puts a great deal of emphasis on freedom. He had been a lawyer, and the meaning of his conversion to Christianity has been the discovery of a new freedom. Religion became a matter of the heart to him. It concerned faith more than formal observance that lacked the spiritual reality.

That is the essence of Paul's philosophy of freedom. It is always associated with goodness.

"The law is our schoolmaster," he declares, "to bring us to Christ." He adds, "Christ is the end of the law for everyone that believeth."

What Paul says concerning liberty in relation to Jewish law is true of liberty in relation to all law. Their relationship to liberty makes all laws either a curse or a blessing.

The freedom to do right is a very real freedom and all laws that suppress that freedom are bad. Freedom and brotherhood were associated with each other in Paul's religion. The life that was lived in the path of freedom was fulfilling the law.

"All the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." That phrase expresses the feeling of brotherhood without any limitations. Some persons claim that Paul's practicing of brotherhood was limited to the community of Christians. It is true that Paul did regard Christians as owing a special obligation to one another. But the word "Neighbor" meant the same thing to him that it meant to Jesus when He told the parable of the Good Samaritan.

Twenty Years Ago

Winter weather in no uncertain terms visited Martin County this week by dishing out a mixture of falling moisture, rain, snow, and cleet, riding on the wings of an icy blast that sent temperatures down below the freezing point. When the weather cleared a thick coating of frost was on weeds, grass, trees, and house tops.

The three-day basketball tournament held last week end in Stanton, closed with the Stanton "A" team blasting Union for championship honors. The Midland "B" team won the consolation trophy.

The Stanton Study Club met January 10 at the library for a program on "Russia," directed by Mrs. Calvin B. Jones. Taking part in the program were Mrs. Harry Echols, Mrs. B. F. Smith, and Mrs. Jones. Present were Carrie Alvis, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Echols, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Phil Berry, Mrs. Bob Latimer, Mrs. John Priddy, Mrs. Biggs, Mrs. A. B. Whitaker, and Mrs. Anna Belle Collier.

Capt. and Mrs. Poe Woodard are now back in their home in Stanton after being away during the war. Capt. Woodard served in the European theatre.

Bill Collyns, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and just recently discharged from the U. S. Army, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Stanton Lions Club Monday night. Collyns said, "This West Texas area from Sweetwater to Pecos has a most promising future. It's important that towns in the area cooperate fully on matters of interest to the area as a whole instead of a selfish interest, in order that the section might grow and expand." Frank Munroe, superintendent of the Midland School system, and Tanner Lane, news editor of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, accompanied Collyns and spoke briefly.

Candidates announcing for public office were Joe Froman, who announced as a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner of Precinct 4, and Otto Bearden, who announced for re-election for County Commissioner of Precinct 3.

Walla Walla, Wash. Union-Bulletin: "The proposal was advanced recently that the federal government turn back to the states, with few or no strings attached, a portion of the sum it collects in taxes. Now suppose the U. S. government should assign shares of its intake to states. In the first place the round trip of its money to Washington and return would cost a sizable bit. And the remainder, some office holders would content, represents a saving to the local taxpayers from whose pockets, however, the federal payment originally came."

Military time as used by the U. S. Armed Forces has a day of 24 hours beginning at midnight.
