Local Churches Plan Easter Services

By NEAL ESTES

MRS. ROY PICKETT, secretary and publicity chairman of the Martin County Cancer Unit, has advised the press that $105.19 was collected at the Courtney Cancer kick-off program the other night. She expressed thanks to the fine cooperation of the people of the community and said the local unit was indeed grateful and pleased for and with the good response following publicity given the event in THE STANTON REPORTER.

MRS. OGAL AVERY underwent surgery at the PHYSICIANS and SURGEONS HOSPITAL in Stanton Tuesday and at press time her condition was reported as good. We talked with one of her sons, DONALD, Wednesday morning and he advised that his mother was getting along just fine. MRS. AVERY is the circulation representative for the MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM and has a wide circle of friends in Martin County who have always admired her friendliness, courage, and eagerness to assist the people of the community she loves.

Good Friday is coming up. That means garden planting time for some of the folks hereabouts. GEORGE DAVIS jumped the gun this year and started his crop of vegetables early. He advised us Wednesday morning that some of his plants were already good sized. We lost most of our beans and peas but the onion plants given to us by UDELL MORRIS are up and going good. Our bulbs from JOHN ATCHISON have done well. We call our onions LIONS because UDELL is president of that fine group and our plants strongly stood the ravages of the recent bad spell.

MRS. JACK (MARGIE) IRETON underwent surgery in a Big Spring hospital recently and is reported doing just fine. We see JACK around the drug store at meal time with DANNY and DENNIS since MARGIE has been sick and those boys are surely growing up.

The Stanton Future Homemakers of America chapter will be well represented at the state meeting of the Texas Association, Future Homemakers of America, in Dallas, April 22-24. The meeting theme for delegates from the 1,314 FHA chapters throughout the state will be "Home-life — Foundation of Peace."

Regular delegates from the Stanton chapter are Cindy Pickett and Anita Woody. At Friday night's fun session, Linda Manning, Cindy Pickett, and Eunice Stephenson have been chosen to help usher.

Registration headquarters will be the Adolphus Hotel. Meetings will be held in the Music Hall, State Fair Park.

Mrs. Joyce Woody, home-making teacher, will accompany the group to the Dallas meeting.

Injuries Hurt Stanton High Track Chances

A disastrous fall by a leading high hurdler and a sprained knee suffered by another strong contender dashed Coach Milam's hopes for records to be shattered in the district track meet held at Wink on Saturday.

Royce Hamilton suffered the fall toward the end of the 120 yard high hurdle event while leading the field of contenders. Only the day before he had been clocked in a practice run at 14.9 seconds, which is one of the finest times in the state according to Coach Bill Milam.

David Dunn was unable to participate in the meet because of an injury to his knee.

However, the Stanton team did qualify for regional play-offs in five events. They are Roy Powell, shot put; Dennis Polson, 220 yard dash; Royce Hamilton in 180 yard low hurdles and in broad jump, and Guy Brown, 120 yard high hurdles.

In the freshmen group, the junior track team was led by David Avery, who won first place in high jump, 2nd in low hurdles, and third in broad jump.

Terry Carr won second place in the 220 yard dash, and fifth in broad jump. Burt Decker won second in shot put, second in discus, and came in sixth in the 100 yard dash.

The 440 yard relay team composed of Terry Carr, Freddy Newman, Burt Decker, and David Avery, won third place.

PRESENTATION — Stanley Wheeler, director, and Coats Bentley, past president of the Stanton Rotary Club, were present Monday afternoon at ceremonies when Beryl D. Clinton, incoming president of Rotary, presented a set of the 1965 World Book Encyclopedia and Dictionaries to Mrs. Ralph Caffey, librarian, at the Martin County Library. The Rotary Club has been instrumental in securing a number of books for the local library and the purchase of this set of encyclopedias places much-needed reference material at the disposal of the people of Martin County.

THE MODERN WAY — Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is utilizing the modern method of putting down lines these days. The picture above shows a crew at work on an underground cable planting operation east of Stanton. A deep plow hitched to the rear of the big wide-track catapillar digs the opening and puts the covered and specially treated line into the ground at the same time. The big machine rolls back over the furrow to pack it down. This method replaces poles and above ground lines and the estimated duration of the coated cable is 30 years.

The Big Spring man plans to show pictures of animals and introduce a live lion to the audience.

Fisher says "All of you men and women who like to live dangerously come out and give him a hearing. This is not a meeting which will obligate you to anything but it will serve to show your interest in a progressive community."

Christian World To Mark Event

By EUGENIA BENTLEY

Easter will be observed this year on Sunday, April 18. It is one of the moveable feasts of the Christian religion. Its date varies each year, but it falls on the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21. Therefore, it cannot come before March 22 or after April 25. It is a Christian festival that many observe to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Some authorities believe its name may be derived from the Teutonic festival of spring called Eostur.

TMA President Writes To Congress On "Medicare"

In a letter sent to all 32 Texas Congressmen, the President of the Texas Medical Association pointed out that the Texas plan of medical care for Old Age Assistance recipients is an excellent program which is working well and which is economical to taxpayers.

Max E. Johnson, M. D., a San Antonio general practitioner, urged the Texas delegation to oppose H.R. 6675, the so-called "medicare" bill that was reported out from the House Ways and Means Committee last week. The bill is expected to be presented to the U. S. House of Representatives next week for debate and voting. "After carefully studying and evaluating H.R. 6675," Dr. Johnson stated in his letter, "the Texas Medical Association feels a deep sense of responsibility to the people of our State to urge you to oppose those provisions which embrace health care for the elderly."

The TMA President pointed out that if this legislation was enacted, it would duplicate and thus wipe out almost completely the hospital features of the Kerr-Mills program which have been developed for OAA recipients in Texas. "We believe that the people of our State will be disappointed in losing the basic benefits of this program," Dr. Johnson said.

The Texas program of hospital, medical, surgical, radiation and nursing home benefits for those on Old Age Assistance was implemented on January 1, 1962. More than 7,500 patients are being hospitalized each month through coverage provided by this program, and almost 11,000 are receiving nursing home care.

In evaluating the "medicare" proposal, Dr. Johnson stated that "the $6 billion government medicine package approved by the Ways and Means Committee will impose an unjust tax on working people of our State in order to provide hospitalization and medical care benefits. Texans will be forced to support this extremely expensive program through increased Social Security taxes and general revenue taxes. H.R. 6675 will more than double — $174 to $369.50 annually — the maximum amount of Social Security taxes which each employee and employer must pay over the years to finance the pension and medical benefits of the program."

In listing other reasons why Texas Congressmen should reject H.R. 6675, Dr. Johnson said that the proposal would provide medical care benefits to every person aged 65 or over, including thousands who are able to take care of themselves. He said it would centralize control over many aspects of the practice of medicine in a federal bureaucracy, thus adversely affecting the quality of care. He continued by stating that the proposed program would overload hospitals with non-ill patients, just as it has done in those countries with compulsory systems.

The letter was mailed to the members of the Texas Congressional delegation on Tuesday, March 30, from the Austin headquarters of TMA.

Teen Students Driving Rodeo Set For May

Safe driving by Texas Teenage Student will be rewarded by a $1,000.00 college scholarship when the winner of the annual Texas Teenage Safe Driving Road-E-O is declared in Fort Worth in May. H. C. Pittman, Executive Vice President of the Texas Automobile Dealer's Association, and Jim Reese, President of the Texas Jaycees, announced today in Austin that TADA, state association of franchised new-car and truck dealers, will award the one thousand dollar scholarship this year.

Local member dealers of TADA throughout Texas will cooperate during the next few weeks with local Jaycee chapters in staging local Road-E-O contests to select boy and girl winners to be sent to Fort Worth on May 8 for the state finals. The state finalist will represent Texas in the National Road-E-O finals in Washington, D. C., in August.

"More than 5,000 Texas youngsters enter Road-E-O competition each year," said Pittman. "The Road-E-O provides the teenager with the opportunity to demonstrate his acquired skills in driving, while at the same time show responsible citizens, parents, teachers and others, the need for driver education. We in TADA are very pleased to share the responsibility of promoting driving safety — particularly among this group of teenagers who are clearly demonstrating that they want to become safe and responsible Texas citizen-drivers."

Religion Of Thanks Typified In Psalms In Praise Of God

When the Apostle Paul, contemplating the blessing of God through Christ, sought to express his wonderment and phrase, prose failed him, and he burst into the lyricism of Psalm: "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift."

The giving of thanks was a deep and impassioned thing in Paul the Christian.

And the note of thankfulness was deep and strong in the religion of the Old Testament, which was the heritage of both Paul and His Master.

Its highest expression is in the Psalms.

If one had to choose one Psalm that typifies the religion of Thanksgiving, one would probably pick the 107th, although the group of Psalms from the 103rd through the 107th are full of the note of thanks.

Thankfulness in religion

Philosopher Thinks President Referred to Him When He Mentioned A Disorderly Planet

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses orderliness this week, a topic rather far afield for him.)

Dear editor:
In his speech television the other night, President Johnson said sort of in passing that this will be a disorderly planet for some time to come, though it doesn't have to be that way forever.

What I want to know is, who told him about this Martin County grass farm?

To an outsider, this place may seem disorderly, and if it was located in some other country I'll admit it probably would be recommended for foreign aid to bring it up to 20th century standards, but one trouble with me and some foreign countries is that we're satisfied, in a backward sort of way, with the out-moded system we're using.

For example, say I need my pipe wrench. I don't have go hunting all over the place for it. All I have to do is remember where the last pipe busted, and that's where the wrench is.

Or why walk yourself to death putting your hoe in the tool house when you know the place you're going to need it again is in the garden. If I pass by the garden and notice a weed, chances are it'll stay there if I have to walk back to the tool house to get a hoe. When the weeds get so tall you can't find your hoe in them, you don't need it anyway. It's too late. Let it stay there and try for a garden again next year. This doesn't feed a hungry world but it doesn't depress the price of vegetables either.

I don't know anything about this phase, but I've been told that sometimes the business men with the clean-

Europe's longest river is the Volga, in the U.S.S.R., 2,300 miles in length.

Eskimos are born and reared near the water, but they seldom learn to swim because

How To Plant Roses

Planting roses properly require neither skill nor experience. Simply follow the easy procedure outlined below. Essentials for success with roses are: good healthy plant, a well prepared bed with good drainage and a minimum of at least a half day of sunshine in the area in which the roses are planted.

1—Prepare bed. Dig hole 15" to 18" wide and as deep. Add quart of peat moss. Mix well with soil. Form a mound of the mixed soil and peat in the center.

2—Position rose on mound so that bud union (swelling at base of stem) is level with the ground. Spread roots naturally down slope of mound, pruning off any broken pieces. Prune all canes to 12".

3—Work in soil around roots to eliminate any air pockets. Fill hole 3/4 full and firm with foot or tamper.

4—Fill remainder of hole with water and allow to drain. See that bud union remains at ground level. After water drains, fill remainder of hole with soil and tamp.

5—Mound soil around and over plant to height of 8 to 10". This protects the rose canes from drying out. When buds break, gradually remove mound of soil—probably within a week to ten days.

They said they had been following one flock of snow and blue geese from Anahuac, about thirty miles distant, hoping to harvest a few after they landed.

Beezley said they naturally were disappointed, after the cross-country run, to learn the reservoir is a waterfowl refuge.

Farm Bureau Trade Group Returns Home

A Farm Bureau trade mission now scouting Europe for new farm markets has determined that feed grains and soy beans offer excellent market development possibilities.

Some 50 Texans are participating in the "market builder" tour of Western Europe. They left from Houston March 31 and will return April 15. Their purpose is to seek out possibilities for development and expansion of overseas markets for Texas agricultural products.

Walter Meyer of Waco, manager of the Texas Farm Bureau's marketing subsidiary and director of the tour, said the group also sees "great promise" for variety meats such as liver, tongue, kidney, etc.

In addition, Meyer said, the group has noted seasonal opportunities for fresh fruits and vegetables from Texas. The potential for selling rice to Europeans is also good, he said, as the per capita consumption of rice is increasing.

An upward trend in the use of cotton in leisure wear garments should help cotton sales possibilities also, he added.

"Farmers in the group are discovering that Texas and American farmers must produce what European consumers want in order to sell," Meyer said.

In London Monday and Tuesday, the group visited with British importers and farm organization leaders and toured the famed Covent Garden Fish market and Smithfield Meat Market. Last week they visited the Netherlands and Belgium and were told by H. H. Alp, director of the American Farm Bureau Federation's foreign trade office in Rotterdam, that sales of U. S. commodities through that office are "increasing tremendously each year."

In a meeting with the Cotton Council International in Brussels they were told that the Cotton Council is now cooperating with textile industries in Europe to promote use of cotton in leisure and sportswear.

Other countries on the itinerary include Germany and France. The Texans are setting up miniature "trade fairs" to show samples of various products in each of the cities they visit.

Trade at home and save!

Biggest job of the 59th Legislature—writing the $3,600,000,000 biennial budget for state government—was being wrapped up in conference committee this week.

Conferees were playing a game of "beat-the-clock" to wind up before Easter holidays. If they fail to make it, such important issues as teachers' pay raises and balancing tax measures would be postponed until dangerously late in the session.

Both Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes urged committee chairmen to turn on the speed.

Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, chairman of the House group, doubted the task could be completed by April 15, previous deadline set by Barnes. But Healy said 15 solid hours of work would do the trick — if conferees can find the time between busy floor sessions.

Completing the 59th legislative meeting by the end-of-May cutoff time may depend on whether the conferees find that 15 hours for showdown decisions on vital money matters.

Redistricting Now Or Never — Sub-committee chairmen of the House redistricting committee huddled this week to compare notes on how legislative and congressional districts should be carved up under court order.

Senate already has passed two versions of a plan to increase its membership from 31 to 39 to help the work along. Indications are that the House plans to give big counties the minimum representation allowable. This to make the painful task of reapportionment as easy as possible on rural areas which must yield representation any way you look at it.

State lawmakers are hopeful congress soon will pass a bill authorizing a 15 per cent variation above and below the mathematical average population per district. Speaker Barnes, on advice of Texas congressmen, predicts U. S. Supreme Court would yield that far in its one-man-one-vote edict.

Youth Corps Project Approved — First federal grant for a Neighborhood Youth Corps project in Texas has approval.

Governor Connally announced clearance of all state preliminaries to grant of $135,570 from U. S. Labor Department for Corpus Christi Independent School District. Program will enable 675 youths from low-income families to stay in school. They will be employed on part-time basis at $1.00 an hour—or 23 cents, considering required hours of counseling and vocational guidance.

Wage is an exception from regulation requiring federal minimum wage to be paid on corps projects. Such exceptions, Connally noted, can be made on presentation of "convincing evidence."

College Loans Approved — State-financed college loan plan has final legislative authorization for submission to Texas voters.

If statewide election carries, an $85,000,000 bond program will be established, enabling students from junior college to graduate and medical school level to borrow funds to complete their higher education.

Rep. George Hinson of Minneola, author of the proposed constitutional amendment, estimates up to $32,000,000 will be borrowed in next two years.

Mental Facilities Revamped — A bill calling for massive reshuffling of all state facilities and programs for mental health and retardation has been signed into law.

Legislation brings services under new Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. It anticipates gradual shift in next decade from institutional care in state mental hospitals and special schools to "community care" in or near homes of patients.

Governor already has signed bill to place tuberculosis control and eradication facilities in State Health Department. These two bills in effect abolish the present Board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools which has administered mental hospitals, special schools and tuberculosis hospitals.

Waco A&M Unit Asked — Governor Connally called on the Legislature to authorize establishment of a vocational-technical training institute at Waco's Connally Air Force Base, to be administered by Texas A&M University. Base is scheduled for deactivation in 1966.

Bills to carry out Connally's request promptly were introduced by Rep. David Haines of Bryan and Sens. Murray Watson of Mart and Bill Moore of Bryan.

Governor asked appropriation of $1,100,000 to prepare base for first classes in September, 1966.

Appointments Announced — Carlos Cadena, a law professor and former city attorney of San Antonio, was named associate justice of the South Texas 4th Court of Civil Appeals by Governor Connally.

Governor named Jimmie L. Norman of Mesquite and reappointed Walter E. Wilkins of Corpus Christi as trustees of Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Robert Pesek and James Bozka of Hallettsville were reappointed to board of directors of Lavaca County Flood Control District No. 3; and Donald C. Webb of Port Arthur was picked as a member of the pilot commissioners for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

Dr. Everett D. Wilson of Huntsville was appointed and Dr. Paul C. Witt of Abilene was reappointed to State Board of Examiners in Basic Sciences for six-year terms.

Flood Clears Weed — When flood gates broke at Corpus Christi, near Mathis, thousands of acre feet were lost and the lake level dropped drastically. However, not everything was as damaging, says a Parks and Wildlife Department biologist.

Dropped level left high and dry thousands of hyacinths, which the department had been trying to eradicate for years. A nuisance to fishermen, the plants had been almost impossible to control.

Mexican Governor Visits — Gov. Pravedis Balboa of the neighboring Mexican state of Tamaulipas (which borders on Texas from about Laredo to Brownsville) got a big reception on his visit to the capitol last week.

He and Governor Connally said they will ask federal officials to begin working on development of standard laws and regulations for Lake Falcon and the lake to be impounded by Amistad Dam upstream from Del Rio.

By having standard regulations, fishermen and sportsmen from either nation can use the facilities of the lake without worrying about violating the law when they inadvertently cross in waters of the other country.

Balboa said that, thanks to the cooperation from Texas and the U. S. government, the screwworm has been virtually eradicated in his state. He said the past have been done away with in a zone 90 miles from the border, is being finished in the next 90 miles and work is progressing satisfactorily in a third 90-mile zone.

'65' Insurance Reopened — Governor Connally has declared at Texas 65 Month in recognition of the third open enrollment period of Texas 65 Health Insurance Association, scheduled for April 15-30.

During these two weeks, all Texans 65 years old and over again are eligible to enroll in the health insurance program, regardless of age or health condition. Three plans are available ranging from premiums of $9 to $19 monthly.

Ag Opinions — Atty Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that the Commissioners Court of Sherman County may recognize the existence of a vacancy in the office of County Attorney and may appoint someone to fill the office.

District Attorney William Hunter of the 69th Judicial District had requested the opinion as a result of balloting in November's general election.

In that election the incumbent County Attorney was defeated by a write-in candidate. However, the write-in candidate had not yet taken his bar examination. He was admitted to the bar prior to January 1, 1965. Subsequently the District Court ruled that no eligible candi-

If you've got to rewind a loose guide on your rod at the last minute, paint it with glue rather than varnish. Varnish takes 24 hours to dry well. Glue takes ten minutes.

Mrs. Zella Graves Talks To Rotarians

Not too many years ago, comments about ever ascending hospital charges were more often than not, reserved for hospital journals consumed only by hospital executives, and their Boards of Trustees. Not so today. With amazing regularity, articles about the high cost of healing appear in all newspapers. Not infrequently, these hospital costs are the subject of discussion at labor management meetings. But many hospital administrators seemed to have shunned open response to these allegations, and avoided discussion of the real facts and thereby have missed chance to present their side of the question.

Quite a few months back we decided to initiate a counter-offensive in our own back yard. Our own back yard is of rural make-up what the fringes of our service area situated on the outskirts of two large towns. Our community general hospital, with a total bed capacity of 26, reopened about six years ago.

To the conservative citizens around us, whose average annual income depends on their crop, and whose tranquility has never been significantly affected by any large scale industry of any kind, the very mention of hospital care costs usually results in various comments: such as "old Doc Jones delivered Sara Jane back in 1930 right here at home, and it cost me only fifty dollars including medicine for my wife"; and "Doc Farely fixed Johnny's broken arm right in his office good as new," and "Aunt Eva laid right here on the kitchen table to have her appendix cut out." And many other such remarks. Quite naturally these people didn't seem to remember that Sara Jane's mother was real poorly for a long time after the baby came, or that poor Aunt Eva may have died shortly after the operation. People do, however, remember that Bob on the next farm had his appendix removed at the hospital last month, and the bill came to almost one hundred and eighty dollars for only five days, and this was probably paid by insurance. Forgotten is the memory of Jim, who parted with his appendix several years back and returned home after a twenty day hospital stay.

In 1952, hospital stays averaged eight day apiece, and the average tab for each eight day stay was $145.00 per person. In 1962 duration of stay ran about the same. But the patient's bill will be up around $290.00 by end of this year. And before the soaring 60's are out, the price of eight days in a hospital bed will rise well above $400.00.

Physicians Hospital and Clinic spent $65,000.00 in salaries during 1964, drugs and medical supplies were $15,000.00, groceries $6,000.00, laboratory and x-ray supplies $3,000.00, utilities $5,000.00,

Governor John Connally has proclaimed April as Texas 65 Month. During the last two weeks of the month all Texans 65 years of age and past will again have the opportunity to enroll in the Texas 65 health insurance program regardless of age or physical condition and without the necessity of a physical examination.

and this is just the beginning of the expense of a hospital. Our hospital must collect $10,000.00 each month to break even. Salaries $6,000.00 and other expenses about $4,000.

Hospital haven't received a shake in many respects, perhaps simply because their services are generally not willingly sought. After all, who really wants to go to a hospital? The ailing, the injured, surely wouldn't be with us if they had a real choice. No one wants to be sick or hurt, but naturally when he is, these health services must be paid for. We always seem to feel that the patient should be so very appreciative about being well, that he ought not mind paying his bill. Perhaps having insurance to pay bills serves as a distraction from the total balance due, but not to the self-paying patient. A bill for $180.00 for a hospital can seem tremendously large to a person like Bob, and being faced with a bill over $750.00 for thirty days of hospital services while recuperating from a coronary can induce a relapse.

But haven't we forgotten a really significant part of our present day economic language? A valuable assistance in presenting seemingly outlandish amounts in terms readily understood, is the item, the hourly rate. All have at one time or another heard about the hourly wage. The plumber gets so much per hour, the electrician so many dollars, the farm worker, and the baby sitter, and etc.

We simply applied this method of interpretation through the hospital bills of our patients as the feature weapon in our counter-offensive. Our own initial reaction was one of amazement. We saw that our average charges for nursing care, prescribed diets, laundry and housekeeping services, records and business forms, were about fifty cents per hour. While the average special services came to about sixty cents per hour, for such services as the x-ray, laboratory, physical therapy and the operating room.

How much does a baby sitter charge, or a plumber or an electrician? With this new viewpoint, more people are seeing that hospital charges are really not high at all. In fact, they are quite reasonably low when we consider that Bob has his appendix removed for less than $1.50 an hour. And our coronary patient incurred services which averaged a bit more than $1.05 an hour.

Now, we frequently hear comments from people such as these: "I had the T.V. repairman in the other day and his bill came to $6.00 for just an hours work. It cost me almost $25.00 to have the kitchen sink drain fixed, and it took the plumber only three or four hours." No doubt but that a really valuable by-product of our counter-offensive weapon is that it shows that hospital charges will, and must necessarily continue to increase.

For the past few years or more, we have all been subjected to the oratory of the politicians declaiming for further medical assistance to the aged by the federal government. Probably, no individual has more genuine grass roots experience with the paying ability of the elderly than your hospital credit manager. As such, I have been conscious no greater percentage of hard-ship medical expenses among the aged, than of any other age group. To a great extent the ability of any group to pay is reflected in how well that group does pay. The elderly, I had thought, were paying as well as any of the others, until the ding-donging of the politicians made me curious.

For the past two years, I have been credit manager of your local hospital. It was decided to find out just how well or how poorly patients over 65 were paying their account. The first step was to gather data on all of the admissions for the previous two years, to see what percentage constituted those over 65. While we were at it, we classified maternity cases separately too, as we did think that we were having more than average difficulty with this class. Our percentage ratio was, over 65 group: 15 per cent; Maternity, 20 per cent, all others, 65 per cent. Next we classified all delinquent accounts of three months to the one and one half years. The percentage ratio was, over 65 group: 10 percent; Maternity, 30 per cent, and others, 60 per cent. These percentages show that the group over 65 were by far the best paying of the three. Their rate of delinquency was almost a third less than that of the average patient under 65. And less than half of that of the maternity accounts. To extend this analysis a bit further, if a hospital were losing four per cent a year, through uncollectable accounts, about one per cent of this loss would be on maternity accounts. While a little over two-fifths of one per cent would be on the over 65 group. Maternity accounts have become more difficult to collect over the past few years because of the younger age of marriage, and because of the ease with which a young couple can now get themselves hopelessly in debt.

It might be quite interesting, as well as illuminating for other hospitals to make a similar survey to see if the over 65 are really the problem as people say they are. We were quite surprised to find that they were actually paying better than any other group. We had thought they might merely be doing as well. For the past six months, collections are much better, and I do believe that your hospital is on the way to the very top.

Spray new Caparol when planting your cotton to control weeds.

Spray new Caparol* in a band or broadcast when planting your cotton for effective, early-season control of most annual broadleaf weeds... like carelessweed (pigweed), annual morning glory, cocklebur, lambsquarter and many other problem weeds.

You'll also get control of many grass-type weeds, such as crabgrass and goosegrass.

Early-season weed control with Caparol means you'll be able to eliminate that first, slow cultivation. So you won't be plowing out or covering up young cotton. All it takes is moisture to move Caparol into the soil.

You can also apply new Caparol after your cotton is up six inches or higher, or at layby. Just direct the spray to the base of the plants and apply to weeds no larger than two inches in height.

Whatever program you decide on, you'll have no soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops when you use Caparol.

Ask your local supplier or custom spray applicator for new Caparol. Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Ardsley, New York.

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative Requires Accuracy For All Meters

The watt-hour meter, sometimes referred to as the cash register of the Cooperative, is a precision piece of equipment — one of the most accurate measuring devices in general use today. Its mechanical accuracy and the accuracy with which it is read is all-important to both the member and the Cooperative.

Three men read the 5,600 meters on the Cap Rock system each month. They are Ray Long, Roger Fleckenstein, and Tom Johnson. These men are thoroughly familiar with the 20 different types of meters currently in use.

The first day of the month sees them begin their rounds. Each man follows approximately the same route each month. This allows him to become familiar with roads and location of meters, thus eliminating unnecessary driving. Depending on the distance he must drive, each man reads 1,800 to 2,200 meters every month.

In a typical month, a meter man reads meters 15 days. During this time, he drives 2,300 miles and reads 1,865 meters. This means he drives 1.2 miles and reads a meter every four minutes during his working day.

When you consider the fact that there are still a good many gates to open, bad dogs to make friends with, field roads blocked with irrigation pipe — requiring considerable walking, flat tires, and detours — the meter reader doesn't have much time to get acquainted with the people he serves. But he always has their best interest uppermost in his mind. He is careful to avoid driving too close to the clothes line when the family wash is drying; he leaves the gate just like he found it, and he never, never steps in the flower bed.

Near the end of the month, when all meters have been read, the meter reader is assigned other work. Depending on the most pressing need at the time, he may work on the line crew or in the warehouse, assist in the meter shop, collect delinquent accounts or carry the rod on a line-staking crew.

Ezell McKaskle, meter expert from the standpoint of both training and experience, presides over the meter shop. All meters on the system pass through his hands and are checked before they are installed; and all meters will return to the meter shop for periodic checks for accuracy on special testing equipment.

Contrary to popular belief, meters tend to slow down as they get older. This is due to wear and the accumulation of dust in the mechanism. A meter that runs too fast is in the same category as the two-headed calf. It happens just about as often.

The Cooperative stocks a wide variety of meters and metering equipment to take care of the many different types of loads served. The meters you see most often cost all the way from $10 to $100. Special metering equipment for large industrial loads may run to several hundred dollars.

Regardless of the cost or effort involved, it is the aim of the Cooperative to measure the electricity you use with 100 per cent accuracy.

Dude's Den—Panfish Lure Park Patrons

A balancing factor in the inevitable Texas big fish stories has been found in a state park.

Dan Murrell, manager at Garner State Park, has no problems with "super fish" trade.

His patrons — and he managed an even one million last year — are contented with small, "eating-size fish" — better known among connoisseurs as panfish.

For example, Murrell said he happened by some trailer guests where the aroma of frying fish even smothered the fragrance of budding spring, and noted a skillet full of fish, none of which weighed over a pound and a half.

Now, here's a man whose area attracted just about one-seventh of the persons visiting the 58 state parks last

Veterans Administration

Dallas, Texas Information Service

(Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q—I am a World War II veteran, discharged in 1944. I was rated zero percent at that time for a service-connected disability, and have had no treatment since then. The disability has started giving me difficulty. Can I obtain treatment for this condition, and how can I reopen my claim?

A—You are eligible for treatment at a VA Outpatient Clinic for your service-connected disability. You may ask the Regional Office to review your claim on the basis of treatment received. The Adjudication Division must have current medical evidence as a basis for review of the claim.

Q—I have a $10,000 thirty-payment life National Service Life Insurance policy. I am considering borrowing on this policy. What are the terms of a policy loan, and what is the schedule of repayment?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of your policy. You will be billed each year on the anniversary of your loan for the year, who says flatly that the guests aren't committed to land that "eight pound black bass" or that "sixty pound catfish."

Murrell qualified that by noting that the picturesque Frio River, winding its musical way through the park, much like a roaring mountain trout stream, really doesn't harbor many giant fish.

"Oh, they catch good-sized bass and lots of fine perch, and an occasional six or seven pound yellow catfish," explained Murrell, "but the whoppers definitely give way to the panfish size catches."

interest only at only four percent. You may make payments to liquidate this loan whenever you wish. If you should die the proceeds of the policy, less any indebtedness, will be paid to your beneficiary.

Q—My U. S. Government Life Insurance is paid up but my wife has just died. I have no children and no near relatives. I really only need enough insurance to bury me. Also I owe some money that I would like to pay off. Can I change my insurance to meet this situation?

A—Yes. You may borrow against your insurance or you may cash in part of it, retaining the amount of protection you consider necessary. You may also wish to revise your beneficiary designation.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

I read an interesting story in THE DALLAS NEWS Sunday. In a two-column head a city proclaimed itself 'Dynamic Denton.' Denton is a good Texas town—population 32,000. A publisher named RILEY CROSS operates the newspaper. CROSS used to be on the Marshall paper. But CROSS didn't like the set-up down there in the piney wood country — told the owners so—and bought the DENTON CHRONICLE, a mighty fine newspaper. Recently BILL RIVES, formerly with THE DALLAS NEWS, joined the staff of the Denton publication as executive editor. RIVES is one of Texas' top journalists. The purpose of the "Dynamic Denton" business is to promote the facilities of the city. That's well and fine, but RILEY CROSS and BILL RIVES might have launched out a little too far in their description of the drive to attract attention to the "most unusual city of 32,000 in the nation." Not so many moons ago, Midland, our sister city, offered a glittering slogan: "Magnificent Midland." When industry failed to come into the area the municipal leaders changed the slogan to "The Tall City." Under that more down-to-earth description, Midland will undoubtedly gain more industry in the future. And better still, Midland will develop the fine facilities it has—just as ART COLE pointed out to the Rotary Club over there the other day. And a very constructive editorial appeared in the MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM concerning COLE'S talk. It is good that Midland dropped the 'magnificent' and Denton might be sorry for the 'dynamic' because both cities could take a page from some aged Longview history about high sounding slogans. Thirty years ago a smooth talking, high binding chamber of commerce manager was brought into Longview. He is not remembered favorably there now, but he did author a slogan during his brief tenure. He tagged the town "Luscious Longview." Now in an area known for its blackeyed peas, corn on the cob, cornbread and turnip greens, that slogan wasn't even real. So the town leaders changed it. Today, Longview has more industries than any city its size in the entire United States. Longview is certainly a leading city, but there never was and never will be anything 'luscious' about it. The reason for Longview's great growth is easily defined. The city's well edited newspapers, the very efficient city manager, and the county officials stopped battling each other long ago and joined in a group effort to build the area.

STANTON WHITE drove by our house one day last week and we accompanied him to the scene a mile or so out of town to watch a giant tractor-cat-paw operated by a very capable expert open the ground so cable could be buried. The operation is one of the latest methods developed by the telephone people to get their lines down—not up. No poles are needed to insure fine phone service to rural customers. The particular underground line we witnessed planted deep under the surface was being readied for service to the homes of the STANLEY REIDS and the GEORGE GLYNNS. The thing that amazed us most was how the contractor and the BELL representative on the scene could tell almost exactly how much line to put on the big spool so as to insure accuracy without waste from point to point. A measuring device is used alright in advance of the plow but still the accuracy is uncanny. MR. RENSCHAW was the company man on the line-planting project northeast of Stanton. We enjoyed our outing with STANTON, who is the local representative of the BELL SYSTEM in this area and also president of the STANTON ROTARY CLUB.

THE writer received a nice note from W. C. GLAZENER Monday. He advised that we were sending two copies of the "OLE RELIABLE" to Sinton, Texas. Cleverly, he added this postscript: "You are discriminating in our favor." We don't know finer persons we had rather be guilty of "discriminating" for.

LITTLE CRAIG EILAND was downtown in the postoffice with his grandfather GUY EILAND, on Tuesday morning. CRAIG was wearing a popular cap the youngsters sported in the days of the DAVY CROCKETT legend as aired by tv. We spoke to the little good looking lad and told him he was wearing a DAVY CROCKETT hat — in a few moments CRAIG walked around to where we were taking mail from the box and said, "I'm DANIEL BOONE." No doubt the handsome son of PAIGE and ELAINE EILAND has been viewing the current tv story starring Fort Worth's FESS PARKER as DANIEL BOONE.

FORMER president HARRY TRUMAN is still as good at getting off acid remarks as ever. Walking in New York this week and trailed by a hoard of reporters the man who fired a general while serving as president had this comment about MARTIN LUTHER KING . . . "he's a trouble-maker." When asked if he didn't think his remark might stir up criticism, the man who ordered the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima said: "What the h . . . do I care?" Just a few days ago FBI Director J. EDGAR HOOVER had stiffer words for KING. Those three Swedes who presented the Nobel Prize to KING apparently didn't speak for HOOVER or TRUMAN. Personally I have always felt that Nobel prize jazz was as rigged as some of the old tv quiz shows chased off the air and as phony as the political polls.

OUR subscribers will find some very interesting local news stories in this issue of the newspaper. They will find over 100 items again — another good edition packed with constructive stories. Be sure and read the long article about the talk ZELLA GRAVES made before the STANTON ROTARY CLUB. It will be the purpose of this publication to continue to give the people a real newsy publication—not a shopper's guide or advertising pack sheet.

NEAL'S NUGGET: Is pride a terrible thing? Is it a sin to be proud of one's self, or family or home, or city, state, or nation? There are those who would have us think so.

Fisher Announces Plan For Family Get-Together

(Editor's Note: Dr. Allen Fisher, president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, submitted the following article to the newspaper for publication and we found it so interesting and inspiring we are passing along the original script.)

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce wishes to announce plans are complete for a family-type get-together at Shelburne Park on May 1, between the hours of 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Stanton. All the families living in Martin County are invited to come and join in the fun which is planned to include all ages. There are plans to announce this event in the next few weeks on radio, television and newspaper, so that no family should be ignorant of this invitation of "you-all come."

Nolan Parker, Stanton Ag. teacher, will have charge of the concession stands, the profits of which will go to worthwhile organizations who will run them. Bob Cain and Melvin Standefor will manage the two "baseball" teams, who will swing into action as a preliminary to the coming Little League season. These dads will play ball with very little conditioning so that we need about a 30 or 40 man roster on both sides to keep the game going. Ronny Gilbreath has promised to keep an ambulance on the alert for all those who play too hard and get tuckered out.

Jewel Standefor and Janie Boyd will captain two teams composed of the fair sex, who will play volleyball. Since most of these girls keep in condition by playing volleyball, it is not expected that there will be as many dropouts in this game. Coach Bryan Boyd will also team up with his wife, Janie, and conduct a series of "fun" contests for boys and girls, which should not only prove interesting to take part in but also fun to watch.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock there will be a lunch box auction presided over by Cecil Bridges who, as chairman of the special events committee, will be largely responsible for the smooth flow of activity during the day. All the ladies of the families represented

(plus those who might be looking forward to a family) should pack a lunch for two in a box that cannot be identified, with her name on a small slip of paper inside the box. This box will be auctioned off to the highest bidder, who will win the privilege of eating the lunch with the lady who packed it. No bid shall be higher than $5.00, and this can be arrived at immediately or by auction. The first bidder to reach $5.00, or the highest bidder, whichever the case might be,

Jerry Banks and the Stanton High School band will give a concert at 6 p.m., and at 7 p.m. there will be a singing led by Mike Anderson, with everyone invited to take part. Jimmy Stallings is in charge of the mechanics of the program and will be responsible for all the equipment needed for the games.

This Spring Frolic has no designs upon the family pocketbook, but does sincerely wish that every one who comes will have a good time. If you come determined to have fun you will have just that, for it is planned to be an occasion in which the people of Martin County can get together and get to know each other better. The activities planned might seem old-fashioned and corny, but I sincerely believe that all will enjoy the day if they enter into it with the proper spirit. It is still a good idea to illustrate to our young folk that good times can be had without much expenditure of money, without radio, television, cars, telephones, movies, etc., etc.

This event will fall flat without public support, so let's all get enthused over it and bring your families out to support it. It will be a fine opportunity to visit all your friends and neighbors at one time, an activity which West Texans do so very well.

Library Lines

MRS. RALPH CAFFEY,

Library hours: Monday 1-9 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 1-5 p.m., and Saturday 9-1 p.m.

Know What You're Talking About . . . READ! National Library Week, April 25-May 1.

What can the library do for Joe? It can select and buy books and other materials any Joe might want and need, looks over the 5,000 or so books published each year and chooses the best ones for Joe's community — gets extra copies of popular ones.

The library catalogs the material so it is easy for Joe to find what he is looking for. It will help Joe find whatever information he needs, all Joe has to say is — "where can I find something about —" and the librarian will help him locate the material if it is available either in their library or can be borrowed from another.

The library lets Joe know what kind of information is available through book reviews in the newspaper, talks and personal counseling. The librarian works closely with the schools by working up bibliographies of books available and strives to acquire the books needed by the students. The library can do all these things for Joe as you the public help make it possible by contributing books and money.

Recent donations given to the library has been: The Sportsman's Almanac by Carley Farquhar, donated by M. O. McKay.

The Conqueror by John Tebbell, and The Carolinians, by Jane Barry, given in memory of Mrs. Annabelle Collier by Mrs. R. R. Sauers of Cisco, Texas.

Two boxes of books donated by Joe Froman.

A memorial donation in memory of Mrs. Vesta Mae Piccolo, by Beryl Clinton.

The 1965 set of World Book Encyclopedias and Dictionary by the Rotary Club, has certainly enriched our reference section.
