It's that time of year again when all school districts, municipalities, banks, agencies, associations, and county and state agencies, show the taxpayers what the financial situation of the organization is. The state laws require publication of quarterly semi-annual and annual statements of condition. We have published reports from the County of Martin, City of Stanton, Flower Grove School District, and in this issue the Grady School financial statement appears. We hope to have the statements all printed by November 1. We urge our subscribers read them all.

Congratulations again to the members of the STANTON HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM on their victory over O'Donnell. We also send a salute to the coaches. Be in the stands this Friday night when the boys meet Seagraves in another exciting district game.

On Thursday evening at 5 p.m. the MARTIN COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE will sponsor a chili supper. Serving time will continue to 7 p.m. Come out and bring the entire family — eat chili with all the trimmings for only 75 cents a serving and then attend the auction sale. Let's make this a fine evening in our community.

LYNN WHITE, grower of flowers and foods, was in the office Tuesday with two of the largest sweet potato specimens we have seen in these parts. One of the potato exhibits measured about two feet in length. LYNN says they are all that large—real Texas size. They are not pithy either — but firm and tasty. If LYNN could get a shipment across the big pond to some of our less fortunate world brothers, it would make a big dent in the money the government is now spending for food under a portion of the poverty program. He has enough sweet potatoes to feed a small nation.

ARTHUR WILSON brought in a write-up about the last meeting of the STANTON ROTARY CLUB. We lost the notes somewhere in the bill making shuffle at the office so will just say here that we know CHRISTINE WOODROW, daughter of ROTARIAN JACK and JULIE WOODROW, brought the program. Her dad presided at the meeting with 20 members and guests present.

The TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY will sponsor a Nuclear Science Symposium in Odessa, on Oct. 30. Watch the paper for more interesting information about this news item in the next issue of the paper.

RUPERT HORNBECK is currently serving as minister of music at the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH in our city. We know this talented man will receive the full cooperation of the faithful. He is a member of the school faculty.

Knott Girl Wins State 4-H Honor

Robbie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Knott, is the state champion of the Texas 4-H Club Dress Revue. Robbie won her title Friday in Dallas over more than two score girls from all over Texas. Her victory was good for an all-expense trip to Chicago, where she will compete in the national 4-H Club Dress Revue. She designed and made the dress she wore in the revue, and achieved the right to compete in the state by defeating other dress revue competitors in her county. Two years ago Robbie won alternate post in the state.

All workers in the drive have been requested to meet at the Methodist Church at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Methodist sanctuary and everyone is cordially invited to attend. The film is titled, "A Grain of Sand." It is narrated by actor David Wayne. The film tells the story of a day in the life of a Tunisian boy giving a dramatic rendition of the Unicef story. If the drive workers miss you on October 26 contributions can be mailed to Christine Woodrow, Rev. LeMond or Susan Brandt.

Tickets were printed last week by The Stanton Reporter and the chairman of sales, Cecil Bridges, reports brisk sales. Prices for a chili supper ticket with all of the suitable trimmings only 75 cents. If you need a ticket see any member of the committee, the chamber, or you can buy one when you attend the evening affair. Free prizes will be given and Joe Russell and chamber directors and committee workers all promise an evening of fun for all. Any item will be auctioned off immediately following the chili supper. Bring any article you want sold and consign to the auction such as household items, clothing, appliances or just trinkets. The more the merrier. Various Stanton merchants will feature sidewalk sales. Persons attending the festival can always find good values in the local stores on this special day. Some merchants have special ads in this issue of the paper on their one-day items. Read these ads and go directly to the store buying space in their hometown newspaper for the best bargains. Come to the Fall Festival and bring the entire family.

Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson Praises Tax Free Project

(Editor's Note: The article appearing below is a business news feature directly out of the offices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, D. C. We are publishing the article just as mailed, and without any additions or deletions.)
WASHINGTON — The federal government has spent billions of our dollars on local urban renewal projects. Nevertheless, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson — wife of the President — recently went out of her way to praise a local urban renewal project that did not take one dime of taxpayers' money from the federal treasury, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

She spoke at the dedication of the new $4.5 million county courthouse at Peoria, Ill. Money to construct the courthouse was raised by a local bond issue, and within one block of where Mrs. Johnson spoke were some $50 million worth of handsome, new buildings, built with private financing. Mrs. Johnson praised the program as "an example and a model for an entire nation." No higher accolade could be bestowed. She added another graceful compliment, "As one of your leading citizens told me 'those people have transformed downtown Peoria into one of the prettiest cities in America.'"

"I can see for myself that the tribute is a just one. Your downtown is marked by an ease and grace of landscaping and architecture that masks the long, hard work and planning that built it."

Renewal of Peoria got underway when Sears, Roebuck & Co. decided to join the flight of stores to the suburbs. Business leaders realized the downtown would soon be blighted. Some 20 got together. This group set out to decide what was needed to spark a revival of the downtown area. Retention of Sears was obvious. They also determined to replace the decrepit courthouse.

To keep Sears, a corporation was formed to raise equity capital, buy land and put up a new building to rent back to Sears. To get the new courthouse, the businessmen concentrated on establishing a Public Buildings Commission.

Both efforts succeeded. What followed is dramatic. Caterpillar Tractor Co. is completing a new multi-million dollar headquarters. Banks put up new offices. Hotels and motels were erected. Old buildings were refurbished. Downtown Peoria boomed. Other cities, also are finding that self-help programs and quick, good results. To name a few: Tampa, Dallas, Greenville, Miss., Rapid City S. D., and Indianapolis, Ind. Though undertakings of community development may seem overwhelming, getting started is not difficult. The National Chamber has tested techniques in a score of cities. It stands ready to help any community apply them. By using these techniques, problems are analyzed, solutions and alternatives proposed, a community consensus formed, and work get underway. Every city can be a Peoria!

Amendment Vote On Agenda For Nov. 2

On November 2 Martin County voters will join with those over Texas to make decisions about ten proposed constitutional amendments. They will say yes or no to what they want done. The ten amendments are part of a batch of 27 approved by the 59th Legislature for submission, and the first to be submitted (on Sept. 7 failed.) The remainder of the amendments will be voted upon in 1966.

First of this year's amendments was to enlarge the number of senatorial districts, but the big cities voted heavily against it.

We submit here condensed contents of each of the ten amendments to be considered on Nov. 2.

- Number One — provides for a method of payment for acquiring, constructing and equipping buildings and other improvements at certain state institutions of higher learning. It raises state ad valorem tax from 5 to 10 cents per $100 evaluation and removes a restriction that none of proceeds be used for auxiliary enterprises. The interest rate on bonds or notes is increased from 3 to 5 per cent per year. The Constitution now contains set dates for the maturing of bonds for which is substituted a ten-year period.
- Number Two — would increase Veterans Land Fund from $200 million to $400 million.
- Number Three — permits Legislature to appropriate funds for use in the following categories: (1) needy aged, (2) needy individuals who are permanently and totally disabled, (3) needy blind, (4) needy children, and caretakers of such children. It would raise the appropriation limit for such purposes from $52 million to $60 million.
- Number Four — provides for four-year terms of office for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of General Land Office, Secretary of State, and any statutory state officer who is elected by the electorate at large, unless a term of office is otherwise specifically prohibited in the State Constitution. These offices are limited to two-year terms at present.
- Number Five — would create an agency of the State of Texas Teacher Retirement System.
- Number Six — would provide for an $85 million Texas College Student Loan Fund available to qualified students attending institutions of higher learning.
- Number Seven — would exempt certain charitable organizations from local ad valorem taxes provided the organization met certain conditions and expended at least $1.5 million annually for free medical and hospital care for Texas citizens. Limited to counties having a population of 1,240,000.
- Number Eight — requires automatic retirement of certain district and appellate judges at age 75, or such earlier age not under 70, as may be required by law. Would also create State Judicial Qualifications Commission. This provision would empower Supreme Court of Texas, at its discretion, to retire such judges for disability and to remove them for misconduct upon recommendation of the Commission created by the amendment.
- Number Nine — would allow Legislature to set annual salary of Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House. They now receive the same compensation as legislators. The proposal sets the per diem allowances for Legislators at $20 per day for the first 140 days of each regular session, and for 30 days of each special session. As Constitution now stands legislators are paid a per diem of $25 per day for the first 120 days only of each regular session. The second part of this proposed amendment deals with vacancies in the office of Governor (Continued on page 5)

WT Boys Ranch Slates New Dorm

West Texas Boys Ranch at Tankersley has received a $60,000 gift from the Doss Foundation at Seminole for construction of a new dormitory at the ranch.

Harvey Hartgrove, treasurer of the nonprofit organization which cares for homeless boys, said the new dormitory will boost the capacity at the ranch to 96 boys. The ranch is now capable of caring for 64 youths.

Hartgrove said the new dormitory will be constructed as soon as architectural plans and specifications are completed. It will be similar to the other dormitories at the ranch, with several changes planned. It will house older boys, he said.

The Doss Foundation's gift was presented the ranch through Morris Craig, ranch executive director.

Hartgrove said the gift came as a complete surprise to Craig and other ranch directors.

"It is really a wonderful thing for the ranch," Hartgrove said.

Ranch officials said the Doss Foundation has been a steady supporter of the ranch and its activities.

Philosopher Hears About, But Sheds No Light On, Map Doubting Columbus' Discovery

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw reports on a different angle in the Who-Discovered America controversy.)

Dear editor:

According to three different newspapers which turned up on the same day on this Martin County grass farm last week, a record so far, there is some doubt whether Columbus was the first man to discover America.

As I understand it, some professors at Yale University have come up with a document showing two other fellows discovered America and drew a map of it years before Columbus came over.

This has thrown the historians into a tizzy and has made a lot of Italians mad. I was talking to a friend of mine about this who has a college degree and he said he had been thinking it over and had come to the conclusion it's possible the Yale professors have been the victim of a fraud.

His theory is that the map is factitious, that it was drawn on worm-eaten paper and planted by present-day descendants of Columbus who had just as soon he hadn't done it.

"Discovering America seemed like a fine thing at the time," he said he could hear his descendants saying, "but now... well, we just don't know. Let's see if we can't shift the blame on Lief Erickson or somebody else for awhile."

I don't know that I go along with this theory, but you reckon if the Supreme Court hears about the map and believes it'll throw out all the examination papers of everybody who went to school and passed American History by answering Columbus to the question, who discovered America? Why I'll bet even everybody on the Yale faculty would have to take first-grade history over again, or lose his teaching certificate.

I hadn't thought the Supreme Court could top some of its decisions, but when the day comes it rules everybody in the United States is uneducated, I'll take my hat off to it, if the weather is pleasant.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Editorial . . . Sentimental Gesture

During his near fabulous era as head coach at Notre Dame University, the late Knute Rockne is said to have obtained the maximum determination from his squad by pleading: "Let's win this one for the Gipper," referring to George Gipp, a deceased player.

Much of the same sentimental and emotional play was used by the White House in asking for house passage of the highway beautification bill before President Johnson entered the hospital for surgery. Action on the bill was stalled in the house for some time. In an attempt to force it out the administration withheld normal appropriation bills for executive departments and other less controversial matters.

Either the bill was worth passage or it was not—on its merits—and not because of personal desires that in this particular case caused the beautification measure to be known as "Lady Bird's bill." Mrs. Johnson is reported to have called a Chicago congressman, taking French leave from Washington, demanding to know why he was not at the capital pushing her bill out of committee.

Charges of some house Republicans and Democrats of the executive pressure on the legislative branch neared a boiling point after this instance. Angry congressmen have had slowly rising temperatures ever since the session began. They publicly resent charges of being rubber stamps yet continue to be dominated by the supposedly equal branch of triangular government.

Sentiment and emotion are admirable human qualities but they are not basic criteria for legislative action that becomes law of the land. If the congress has indeed abdicated its prerogatives it has only itself to blame.

PTA Founded In Dallas 56 Years Ago

This month PTA's over the state are observing in various ways the founding of the state organization 56 years ago in Dallas during the State Fair.

Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, state organizer, called a conference of mothers at the First Methodist Church, October 19, 1909. She was assisted in her efforts by the Dallas Council of Mothers.

Texas mayors were requested to send representatives, who, together with delegates from mothers' clubs over the state, leading educators, and other interested men and women, made up the nucleus of the Texas Congress of Mothers, now the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. State Fair officials and the Dallas Morning News lent active support.

The primary purpose of the organization then, as it is now, was to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, and community. Today, as a living memorial to Mrs. Porter and the other pioneers, there are more than 2,775 local units, some 160 councils, and a membership of 787,280, second in state membership only to California.

The Texas Congress will hold its 56th Annual State Convention in Corpus Christi November 17-19.

Draft Call For December Rises Sharply

The Pentagon has ordered 45,225 men drafted for the Army and Marine Corps in December, a 10,000 jump over the call-up rate set by President Johnson this summer. It was the biggest single call since the Korean War.

Uncle Sam wasn't exactly playing Santa Claus to the men involved. Except for emergencies, such as the Vietnamese war, the custom has been to relax draft calls in December to an extent because of the Christmas holidays.

The Army said leave would be authorized for all personnel in Army training centers during Christmas week—Dec. 23 to Dec. 28.

When Mr. Johnson originally announced the increased draft calls to meet manpower needs for the Vietnamese fighting, he said 35,000 men a month would be ordered to arms.

The sharp increase in the draft, which was designed to avoid a call-up of civilian Reserves, began in September when the quota went up from 17,000 to 27,600 men. For October, the number called was 33,600.

For November, the Selective Service ordered up 36,450 men. Now it's 45,224 for December, with 40,200 destined for the Army and 5,024 for the Mar-

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

MAKING A GUN RACK—A home-made gun rack can be a thing of beauty. Furthermore the cost can be held to a minimum, if you will scout around the shops. Just find an old-fashioned used glass-door bookcase desk, take out the shelves and replace with clamps for gun barrels. Leave the drawers as they are to hold accessories. Desk slab serves a good workbench.

CAMOUFLAGING A HUNTING JACKET — You don't have to buy expensive camouflage clothing to go hunting. You can create the same effect by taking an old hunting coat and canvas cap and scrawling all sorts of zig-zag heavy lines and spots in greens, browns and blacks on the cloth. Use grease pencils or the kid's crayolas. After drawing the designs, run a hot iron over the backside of the cloth. This will set the colors and make a good waterproof jacket and cap, perfectly camouflaged.

WHEN VARMINT HUNTING — An ordinary sponge makes a good gun rest when varmint hunting. Attach sponge with rubber bands to the forearm of gunstock.

DURABLE TENT PEGS — You can buy 1/2-inch steel concrete reinforcing rods cheaply at most junk yards. Get a few and cut them into 12-inch lengths for use as tent pegs. These pegs can be driven into hard, even frozen, ground without splitting. And they won't slip.

EMERGENCY CAMP LAMP — For emergencies always carry in your car two alligator clips, a standard lamp socket, a 6/12-volt — 15/25-watt bulb, and a length of flexible, extension cord, lamp wire.

Then if you need a light, you can rig up one quickly from your car battery by attaching clips to one end of extension cord. Clamp clips to battery terminals and the bulb will light. Cord, bulb to the other.

MORE ACTION FROM LURES — Carry along in your tackle box a supply of buttons of assorted shapes, colors and sizes. Then, when you want a more zippy jig just thread a

Fall Produce Moving In To Markets

Produce counters soon will begin to fill with fall vegetables and fruits. There are vivid red apples, green and yellow squash and bright orange pumpkins. Sweet potatoes, cabbage, eggplant, collards and turnips and greens are other good vegetable choices for fall, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Supplies of russet and red potatoes are increasing and prices are below those of last year. Corn, okra, blackeye, crowder and purple hull peas are still available but supplies are declining. Snap beans are the featured item at some stores.

Grapes are an attractive fruit choice with both white seedless and Tokay of excellent quality available. Golden delicious is one of the early apple varieties now on the market. Cantaloupes, honeydews, pears, oranges and pineapples are available. New crop grapefruit is just beginning to arrive.

For an economical beverage, Mrs. Clyatt says to mix equal quantities of fresh whole milk and reconstituted nonfat dry milk. Use this combination in hot chocolate or cream soups, both favorites for cool weather.

Feyers are in good supply with prices at bargain levels. Large size chicken hens and trukeys are attractive buys.

Beef prices are generally about the same as a week ago. Hindquarter cuts of beef may be just a little lower in price, which means that steaks may cost less. The forequarter cuts including cuts for pot roasting and ground beef continue to give the most for value for the money.

Pork supplies remain short with smoked pork butts and hams the best buys. Canned hams and picnics will be featured at attractive prices in some markets.

Editorial . . . Vote For College Loans

On Nov. 2 Texas voters are offered an opportunity to vote on nine more important constitutional changes. A number of them are of vital importance to the future of our people. One of these is Number 6 on the ballot. The Mirror urges all voting age readers to make it a point to come to the polls and vote FOR this proposal.

It is a college student loan program, authorized by our own State Rep. George Hinson in the House and by Sen. Grady Hazlewood in the Senate. It has the strong backing of Gov. Connally and it passed the Legislature without opposition.

To our way of thinking it is the simplest, most practical and least costly way to provide needed funds for our deserving youngsters to attend the college of their choice, public or private, without being a burden upon their family.

Briefly it provides that the State of Texas will use its credit to issue bonds to provide low interest rate loans for these college students who show in their application that they need them. Interest rate would be about 4 percent. Loans are made to the student and not the college or university.

Thus, a boy or girl who had wanted to attend a private school, such as Baylor or SMU, will be able to obtain any needed funds through this state-backed loan. The funds are good for junior college expenses as well as senior ones.

When a student attends a private college, this relieves the growing burden of the state tax supported schools, R. P. Hinson pointed out, so it is "good business" in that sense, too.

And it is not a scholarship. The student doesn't have to be in an upper percent of his high school class—only have the ability and determination to do college level work and maintain the game grade level required of any passing student.

The funds advanced are for the difference between what a student may be getting from his parents or from working and what he needs to stay in school. It will apply all the way through a professional school such as medical school.

Repayment is carefully controlled, on either a monthly or similar basis. And when a student becomes delinquent, the State Attorney General's office is empowered to sue him for the debt anywhere he may be. This and other safeguards placed in the measure have satisfied the Legislature that the state tax payers will never have to make up any deficit.

Administration of the program is through the new Texas College and University system co-ordinating board and the loan officers of the college or university at which the student attends. The repayment of the loans goes back into the state fund, similar to the way the Veterans Land Loan program has operated. Red tape in obtaining a loan is at a minimum as is the cost of handling the loans.

It is called the Texas Opportunity Plan, TOP for short and in our opinion it is exactly that, tops. Vote for it, No. 6.

Statistics Even Favor Game Status

Even the statistics favor the big game hunter this fall, according to E. A. Walker of the Texas Park and Wildlife Department.

Walker, director, wildlife services reported that a recent game survey of field forces showed that 116 counties had deer prospects better last year.

Eighty - four of 198 counties reporting said wild turkey prospects were better.

Deer in 121 counties were listed as the same as last year and only 13 were listed as less favorable.

Turkey conditions in 101 counties were credited as the same last year, with 13 counties having the same prospects as last year.

Walker said the survey was taken before good rains prevailed over most of the state, altering "habitat and other biological conditions throughout most of the state."

The day actually begins at midnight and lasts until the next midnight.

Stanton Buffs Rack Up First District Win Over O'Donnell

Dink Polson, Buddy Shanks, Bert Decker, Karl Herzog, Don Burns and company of footballed turned in a brilliant pigskin performance Friday to give the Stanton Buffs a 42-19 victory over O'Donnell. It was the first District 5-A contest for both clubs.

Polson, apparently in fine fettle after being held back for the first part of the season with injuries, turned in touch-down runs of 66, 42 and 70 yards against the Eagles.

Coach Bill Milam was pleased with the play of his boys. He pointed out the excellent play of the players mentioned above for their good work on offense and defense, but Milam said it was the best total team effort of the season. Coach Milam was also high in his praise of Terry Carr who has been a dependable man all season long in the clutches. Milam was also optimistic about the prospective return to the line - up of Allen Springer, who has been out with injuries. Springer's broken ankle is said to be mended. He plays fullback.

Karl Herzog received facial laceration in the O'Donnell outing calling for the taking of four stitches. He is doing fine and Coach Milam expects him to be ready for service this coming Friday.

The Seagraves eleven will be the next opponent for the Buffs on the home field Friday night.

Stanton's triumph over O'Donnell was the second of the year for the local eleven. The opening period run of 66 yards by Polson got the Buffs on the right leg and in the second period Buddy Shanks got on the scoreboard with a five yard touchdown run. Polson powered up again for the third Buff counter with a 42-yard scamper. Polson waited until the third quarter to hang up his brilliant 70-yard run to the goal line. Quarterback Shanks hit end David Hicks with a pass in the closing frame to wind up the Bison's scoring for the night.

Phillip Payne was another player singled out by the Bison coaching staff as turning in his usual fine performance.

Seagraves, the next Bison foe, won from Wink by a 23-14 margin last Friday night to give the Eagles a record of three wins and three defeats.

Help, Help! Geese Raid Crane Safe

Completely unrelated to public handouts, new experimental feeding areas have been completed for the migrating Whooping Cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austwell on the Texas Coast.

R. H. Shields, refuge manager, told the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, a second 98 - acre "food lot", designed to supplement the marine diet for the rare birds, has been readied.

It's success was assured, he said, when the earlier arriving sandhill cranes and wild geese immediately began "mooching off" the Whoopers' area.

"We didn't have any 'Keep Off' or 'Private' signs to fit the emergency," said Shields, "so we have had to very rudely use scare guns, or rockets, to rout the intruder lest they denude the areas before the Whooper arrive."

Shields said the second plot was provided this year after a test tract was planted last year to include such crane goodies as sweet potatoes, grain sorghum and plain field corn. He said emphasis this year is on grain, sorghum which the pericious cranes seemed to prefer.

There were problems about things that would grow in the marshy land that had to be placed close enough to the salt water to accommodate the feathered celebrities whose main winter diet comprises crustaceans, frogs and other shallow water habits.

The refuge manager said the giant cranes, equipped with a monstrous bill, like to probe in the soft earth and therefore prefer tubular varieties. A new species called chufas, a sedge type plant, is being tried this year, he said.

All of this is very jolly for the early - arriving slate - colored sandhill cranes, themselves very large and ordinarily chummy with the all-white Whoopers. But the honeycomb simply does not include both board and room, said Shields.

All Shields has to do is shoo away the usual low-priority winter guests, including 60,000 ducks, 12,000 geese and 2,500 sandhill cranes and permanently convince them they definitely must not imitate the Man Who Came To Dinner.

Any time now, the royal ritual will begin as the Whoopers, mysterious travelers all, begin dropping in by the twos, the three or even fours (the latter two groupings family size) and assume the throne on their ancestral wintering grounds.

Last year the first regal crane arrived October 11. The median arrival time is October 15. But the pathfinder

Veterans Administration

(Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office).

Q — The new Federal Housing

Act of 1965 gives veterans certain housing benefits under FHA. Does this bring to a close the GI home loan program?

A — The Federal Housing Act of 1965 has no connection with the GI home loan program which continues until January, 1975, for Korean Conflict veterans and until July, 1967 for World War II veterans. The FHA benefits you speak of are available to those veterans only who have not availed themselves of the GI home loan benefits.

Q — Does the recent closing of some six VA hospitals lessen the number of beds provided for veterans or the care administered to veterans?

A — No. The number of beds remains the same since an equal number of beds were opened at the remaining 162 VA hospitals for those lost through the closing of six older, more obsolete hospitals. There will be no change in the extent or quality of hospital care for veterans.

Q — How many veterans of the Spanish - American War are living today? Is some ceremony planned for the "last man"?

A — There are more than 15,000 veterans of the Spanish American War alive today. Such a ceremony would appear to be many years away.

Stone age paintings in the Spanish Pyrenees depict men hunting for honey 15,000 years ago.

The FHA benefits you speak of are available to those veterans only who have not availed themselves of the GI home loan benefits.

Q — Does the recent closing of some six VA hospitals lessen the number of beds provided for veterans or the care administered to veterans?

A — No. The number of beds remains the same since an equal number of beds were opened at the remaining 162 VA hospitals for those lost through the closing of six older, more obsolete hospitals. There will be no change in the extent or quality of hospital care for veterans.

Q — How many veterans of the Spanish - American War are living today? Is some ceremony planned for the "last man"?

A — There are more than 15,000 veterans of the Spanish American War alive today. Such a ceremony would appear to be many years away.

Stone age paintings in the Spanish Pyrenees depict men hunting for honey 15,000 years ago.

Air Force Seeking German Shepherds For Training

The Air Force's urgent need for German Shepherds to be trained at the U. S. Air Force Sentry Dog School at Lackland AFB, Texas, was sharply pointed up today when 50 Lackland-trained sentry dog teams left in the second such shipment to Viet-Nam.

Since the 50 teams were drawn from their bases of assignment throughout the United States, the school has the task of replacing them. The Animal Procurement Branch at Lackland, which supplies the school with dogs, needs "a thousand German Shepherd dogs as soon as possible," according to base officials.

The Air Force at Lackland is responsible for procuring all German Shepherds required by all the military services and for all the training of the teams used in this country by the Army as well as the Air Force.

Requirements for dogs took a sharp upswing after word was received here that the experimental Project Top Dog 45, which sent 40 sentry dog teams to Viet-Nam July 11, was working out well.

U. S. Commanders in Viet-Nam, impressed with the team's performance, requested more teams in addition to the ones being trained for duty throughout the United States. And the Sentry Dog School was already critically short of student dogs.

Owners who wish to donate or sell their dogs for sentry dog duty are urged to contact the Animal Procurement Branch at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Needed are German Shepherds between one and three years old. Among other requirements, dogs must weigh at least 60 pounds and stand at least 23 inches high at the shoulder. Either males or females are acceptable provided females are spayed at least 90 days before acceptance.

Teams shipped to Viet-Nam in the experimental Project Top Dog 45 provided valuable information about how dogs and handlers react.

Veterinarians, who kept a close eye on the original 40 dogs, report they adjust well to heat and humidity after three to seven days. The only medical problem, the parasitic hookworm, is relatively minor — and improved kennel facilities now under construction in Viet-Nam will eliminate it.

The dogs in Viet-Nam receive the same diet as those in the United States. Water is purified and filtered, and is the same as that drunk by handlers and other personnel.

Some dogs are so well-adjusted they now alert their handlers against snakes as well as infiltrators. Handlers have learned to distinguish between the alert signals.

Officials says a sentry dog team can patrol territory which required three men previously, thus releasing more trained men for combat. These teams are considered as effective as a cocked weapon for patrol and detection duties.

Notified of the change this week, Coach Bill Milam said he had been expecting the transfer and was delighted.

Roundup Memories

Voices of 12,000 Girl Scouts from all over the world, singing such favorites as "America the Beautiful," and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," were recorded at Roundup this past summer in Idaho. You may get this record for the Scout in your family, free, by sending the code number from the top or bottom of any size can of ground Maxwell House Coffee, along with your name and address to: P. O. Box 12,000, Kankakee, Illinois 60901. Maybe you'd enjoy serving Mocha Raisin-Nut Bars while listening to the record.

Mocha Raisin-Nut Bars
 1 package butterscotch or white cake mix
 1 cup cold brewed quality coffee
 2 eggs
 1 cup chopped raisins
 1 cup chopped nuts
 Coffee Glaze
 Empty cake mix into bowl. Add coffee and eggs. Blend at low speed just to moisten. Beat 3 minutes at medium speed of mixer or with a spoon until creamy. Mix in raisins and nuts. Pour batter into two 13x9-inch pans, which have been greased and floured on bottoms and sides. Bake at 350° for 15 to 20 minutes, or until top springs back when pressed lightly.
 While cakes are still warm, spread Coffee Glaze over tops. When cool, cut each cake into 30 bars. Store in pans covered with aluminum foil. Makes 60 bars.
Coffee Glaze: Measure 3 cups unsifted confectioners' sugar into a small bowl. Gradually add 2 tablespoons melted butter and 1/4 cup cold brewed quality coffee, beating until smooth. Blend in 2 teaspoons vanilla. Makes about 1-1/3 cups glaze.

MRS. RALPH CAFFEY, Librarian
Library Hours: Monday, 1 - 8 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday 1 - 5 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. - 3 p.m.

It has been a busy week for the library, which indicates that the teachers are requiring more reading of the students. We have a group of books on reserved lists, they can only be checked out for one week and only by the Junior High students. The list consists of 28 books, plus any available on teenage problems and we have or are trying to acquire at least two books of each one. Even with two each, it will be hard to supply the needs, but with the cooperation of the students and parents, we feel that we can do it.

Thursday, October 14, the annual Study Club coffee was here at the library. They graciously asked me to speak on the library, and then presented the library with a check for $25.00 to help buy books. The different clubs and organizations in town are the lifeline for us, we can always depend on enough help from them to help get some of the books that we need.

A number of patrons have asked about the new book "A Gift of Phophecy," by Ruth Montgomery. This is the story of the phenomenal Jeane Dixon, who publicly foretold President Kennedy assassination, and other world-shaking events. These and many fascinating new predictions are documented as well as telling the story of Jeane Dixon herself. I picked up this book from the Book Stall in Big Spring Saturday afternoon and I have already read it and will get it processed and on the shelf as quickly as possible. It will be ready by the time this is published I am sure.

I enjoyed the District III meeting of the Texas Library Association, which I attended in Brownwood Oct. 16. A detailed release on this meeting is printed elsewhere in this issue. At the noon luncheon at the Holiday Inn, we were privileged to make "A Jet Tour Through Books," a review by Mrs. Elva Love Dobson, acting head of English department at Howard Payne College. It was worth the trip just to hear her.

The first Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries, called by Governor John Connally for March 23, 1966, to discuss improved library service for the state, was the subject of the Texas Library Association District III meeting held October 16, in Brownwood, and attended by Martin County Librarian, Mrs. Ralph Caffey. "Library Excellence: Today's Necessity," was presented as theme for the conference, which is being planned at Governor Connally's request by the Texas State Library and the Texas Library Association. Slides illustrating the absolute necessity for improving library service in Texas, and the suggested solutions, which the Governor's Conference will offer were presented by David Hennington, assistant director, Dallas Public Library, and Lee B. Brawner, Chief of Branch Services, Dallas Public

Mrs. Ferguson Xi Epsilon Delta Hostess

Xi Epsilon Delta chapter meet in the home of Mrs. Vivian Ferguson.

Helen Thrailkill, president, was in charge of the business meeting. The chapter voted in favor of having a refresher course in the place of the regular spring book review.

Helen Thrailkill gave the program on "The End of Life," with an appropriate poem read by Augustine Epley.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Vivian Ferguson, to: Bert Schwalbe, Lois Powell, Helen Thrailkill, Penny Woody, Correne Manning, Helen Ruth Louder, Augustine Epley, and Alywne Kelly.

Distinguished state and local community leaders will be invited by the governor to attend the one-day conference to hear the governor, educators, and professional librarians discuss problems and suggest solutions for Texas' library problems. Librarians are planning the conference, will lend their assistance with workshops, and will assist in implementing programs of change in their local communities after the conference, the speaker explained.

In addition to the problem of inadequate facilities and book collections, they said, the conference will point out the growing demands for broader services. Industry and professional men (including doctors), considering a location, use the library as an index of the cultural level of a community. Expanding adult education programs are making heavier demands on libraries. Competition for college entrance is increasing library demands at all levels. The speaker emphasized the opportunity open to librarians to help arouse the layman's interest and support in helping meet these demands.

The District TYA members were invited to detail their local library problems in order that they might be incorporated in the conference study of overall state problems.

Who Owns A Letter?
Interesting letters may give birth to interesting notions. Such as:

"I'd better not throw away this letter from Fred. He might become famous some day, and then the letter could be worth a lot of money as a collector's item."

Suppose Fred really does become famous and his letter valuable. Would it belong to you, because it was sent to you? Or would it belong to Fred, because he created it?

The law's deft solution is to divide the ownership of a letter into two separate rights—the right of possession and the right of publication. The recipient has the right of possession of the paper and ink. He may keep the letter as a memento, sell it to a collector, or even toss it onto a bonfire if he pleases.

But the right of publication—to make copies and exploit it as a literary work—still belongs to the original writer.

This division of rights was illustrated in a famous lawsuit involving some personal letters written by Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science. After Mrs. Eddy's death, her executor tried to prevent the auctioning of these letters.

The court ruled that the sale itself could not be prevented, because Mrs. Eddy had given away the right of possession when she first mailed the letters. But the court did forbid reprinting of the letters in advertisements of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstance alters cases. For example, if you write a letter—to the editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of possession but the right of publication as well.

Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

But as a rule, the separate rights of possession and publication will be kept intact. For the law is simply lending form to the instinctive promptings of fair play.

As one court put it, in denying a man's demand for the return of love letters he had once sent to a woman:

"According to befitting decorum, such letters, written to her to keep and read and cherish, are hers."

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

THE same left-wing group in Washington who are heady with success in getting crack-pot bills passed are clamoring for the enactment of a law prohibiting the sale of firearms. I say and mean to practice what I preach here—a person should protect himself in his home, in his automobile and as he walks down the public streets. In this age of riots, marches, killing, screaming, raping, and burglarizing, a person must be alert. With the laws being constantly relaxed, with policemen almost afraid to do their duty due to the many charges they must face under the brand of "police brutality" if they do make a legitimate arrest, and with long periods of time lapsing before killers, muggers and other criminals charged with capital offenses can be brought to trial if ever, then the human being's best weapon to stay alive these days is to get the right survival kits and don't hesitate to use the tools when needed.

CRIME is on the increase and we are well aware of that fact. Yet, we are on the door step of the application of the new code of legal procedure come January 1. And yesterday we read where a judge in Austin had granted the motion to continue the case of JAMES CROSS, charged with the rape and murder of two Texas University girls. Wouldn't it have been nice if the judge who granted the continuance to CROSS could have been around and granted an extension to the life of the girls he allegedly murdered there in his apartment in Austin? Why give a killer anymore chance than he gives his victims? We also read the other day where a well-advertised and over-headlined Houston attorney advocated the abolition of the death penalty in Texas. He argued that "nobody would want the death sentence if the electrocution could be seen in tv." I'll tell that Houston mouthpiece here and now that nobody would do away with the supreme penalty if they could view the horror of the crimes committed on television bringing about the conviction and death sentence.

TAU CHAPTER OF KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY University of Texas, Austin, will honor FRANK S. ERWIN, JR., as 1965 Man of the Year on Saturday, October 23. I was initiated at Tau many years ago and it is good to know that BRO. ERWIN has climbed the ladder of life so swiftly. He is a member of the Board of Regents of the University. Democratic National Committeeman from Texas and served as vice chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention in 1964. ERWIN, of course, was picked for the top Democratic political job in Texas by GOV. JOHN CONNALLY.

MRS. CARL LEONARD, JR., was by the office this week to express her appreciation for the fine job of cooperation the paper is doing in handling her church articles and other publicity. We are grateful to MRS. LEONARD for her comment and wish to state that we have also received genuine cooperation from her on the preparation of her material.

WE caught a story in the LUBBOCK paper about DR. W. A. CRISWELL, pastor of the largest Baptist Church in Dallas holding a revival meeting in the small West Texas hamlet, Roosevelt. DR. CRISWELL accepted the invitation extended in 1964 by the pastor of the Roosevelt Church, REV. O. W. DONLEY. Religion is far from gone when a man of the character and ability of DR. CRISWELL is willing to come miles into the tiny Roosevelt community on a soul-saving mission. Despite the un-American cries of the MADALYN MURRAYs of this world, we can be eternally convinced that there is a higher power—a power stronger than the edicts of a strange decision making Supreme Court—strong enough to over-rule that court and in finality, restore the faith of our fathers in the greatness of an America from the attacks of the Communists, Red, and atheists.

THE early morning show on NBC television consumes about two hours of as useless prattle as we have viewed. The format of the show seems to be based on a propoganda plank. The show run short of soap and even small shop talk recently and the executives allowed HUGH DOWNS to take a trip on a boat. With his return to the program about all we have heard when tuned in and that is infrequent these days, is slush about his trip. DOWNS can't qualify as a nautical expert. DOWNS can't qualify—period.

I wish to personally congratulate the 39 students of Stanton High School who made the first term honor roll. As any other interested citizen and businessman of this town I wanted to scan the list of the young girls and boys in our community who are doing outstanding scholastic work in our tax supported school. We are happy that the 39 made the grade this first six weeks but we want to see more names next time. With the hundreds of students we have up there perhaps there should and must be more the next time around. It is certainly true the editor took note of the boys and girls tapped for the honor roll and we know just about all the kids parents too. We salute them and their parents. It is too bad that there are other boys and girls up there in the tax supported student body who seem to care only about a date, dance, hot rod race or beer bust. I am sorry folks—but this had to be said. Any if any of your parents don't like it—then call your country editor and I'll come pretty close to telling you where your errant son or daughter was last week. How about more names on the honor roll next semester?

Canton, Pa., Independent-Sentinel: "Gangs have organized in profusion in a number of states. Shome have run rampant in week-end spree in California towns recently. . . . How vicious and dangerous they can be was shown recently when a teenage girl, selling cookbooks door-to-door, was dragged into a house and repeatedly raped by members of a motorcycle gang. She suffered a mental breakdown soon after the incident. This time has come for stringent laws and action . . ."

Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune: "One more good word is losing its reputation through misuse: 'protest'. Of late many perpetrators of disorderly conduct and even crime have excused themselves as making 'protest' against some policy they disliked. . . . Such an attitude is far off base, however. Protests have an honorable history, and have helped to abolish many tyrannies. The word is too good a time has come for irresponsible lawlessness."

Brown patches appearing in St. Augustine grass lawns are the results of a disease caused by a fungus which becomes more active with the advent of cooler weather.

The disease is commonly referred to as brown patch and is characterized by the dying of patches of grass in circular patterns. The spots may range in size from a few inches to several feet in diameter with the turf collapsing at the affected spots giving a sunken appearance in comparison with the surrounding healthy turf. Brown patch is sometimes found only in a single lawn. In other cases, every lawn in a particular neighborhood will be affected.

Whether to remodel one's home or sell it and purchase or build a new one is a question pondered by many families.

W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer at Texas A & M University, suggests that a family make sure the home is worth remodeling before deciding to do so.

"Unless the house is in good condition, the cost of remodeling may be as much or more than building a new one," he said.

Here are suggested items to check: Are the foundation walls cracked? Floors sagging or shaky? Walls out of plumb? Roof line uneven? Do doors and windows fit properly? Does siding, roof, chimney or stairway need replacing? Will a complete job of plastering and painting be needed?

If the answer are all yes, the cost of remodeling probably will be as much as the building it worth, Allen said.

McKay Chosen For Important Bureau Place

Texas Farm Bureau President has announced the appointment of Edwin N. (Ed) McKay of Waco as legislative director for the Texas Farm Bureau.

McKay, 42, had served as assistant legislative director under Charles Huff who resigned recently to become executive secretary of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. McKay has the dual responsibility of coordinating state and national legislative activities of the Texas Farm Bureau. He also is in charge of policy development training programs of the state farm organization.

McKay had served as County Agricultural Agent in McLennan County prior to joining the TFB staff as assistant legislative director in 1962. Previously, he was Assistant County Agent in Cooke and Denton counties and County Agent in Hunt County.

Born at Pearsall in Frio County, he finished high school at Luling. He attended college one year prior to volunteering for the Army Air Corps following Pearl Harbor. After the war, McKay attended Texas A&M where he received a BS degree in animal husbandry in 1949. He entered county agent work upon graduation from college.

He is married to the former Mary Beth Smith of Lone Oak in Hunt County. They have one son, Murray Lance McKay.

Birds of all sizes are available at economic price levels. If you are buying turkey, remember that the larger birds will yield more meat in proportion to bone, she says.

Another good meat choice this week is beef. It remains plentiful with little or no price change except for cuts placed on "special" at some markets. Round steaks, chuck and other cuts for pot roasting and ground beef are among the better buys.

Eggs remain a good protein choice during October, designated in some markets as "Egg-tober" time. Prices are only slightly higher than they were a year ago.

Fish items also are featured by many stores in observance of "Fish'n Seafood Parade." Perch and shrimp are among "specials" available. Canned tuna is an economic choice.

Poor posture spoils our looks, health and effectiveness at work, says Mrs. Elise P. Short, extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

A variety of things can cause poor posture. Worry, fear, emotional disturbances and problems at home, school or work affect posture. Fatigue from overwork, or overplay may result in stooped shoulders and general slumping. Beds that are too soft or that sag will prevent proper rest and force the body into unnatural positions.

An infection, poor vision or poor hearing can cause poor posture. Many people with poor vision push their necks forward to enable them to see better. Defective hearing can also result in the head being inclined and the body being off-balance.
