TEXAS WESTERN recently won the NCAA championship by defeating Kentucky in College Park, Maryland. The Miners started only one native Texan—DAVID LATTIN of Houston. The rest of the team didn't look much like the sturdy individuals the nation has come to visualize when talking about Texans. They were more on the order of the new Texas image authored during the past two years by LYNDON JOHNSON. We might quickly point out that Kentucky had only two natives on their team; Utah had only one, and Duke, one of the clubs in the semi-finals, didn't have a single player from North Carolina on their roster. Our source for the information contained in this paragraph comes from SAM BLAIR, Dallas sports writer.

DR. HOUSTON COLE, President of Jacksonville State College in Alabama laments the advent of mechanical teaching devices. Addressing a meeting of educators he offered this doggerel: "In the good old-fashioned school days, Days of the golden rule, The teacher said 'good morning class,' And so she started school. Alas! how different things are now. The school day can't begin, Till someone finds the socket, And plugs the teacher in."

Down in East Texas a number of years ago we got the impression from press, radio, and law enforcement reports that Big Spring was the West Texas city registering more crime per capita than any place out here. Since coming to West Texas and learning to know more about Big Spring we are happy to announce that in our estimation, Lubbock should be voted the crown. One headline right after another appears in the paper up there about crime. And Lubbock is a senior college town. We could print here a long story about how Longview took many major industries away from Texarkana simply because it was crime free. Two industrial plants were about ready to settle on Texarkana as location spots when "The Phantom Bandit" started shooting people right and left in the Twin-City and Longview wound up with the industrial plants because big industry won't come into towns with a high crime rate or where the people tell the world they have to send to Washington to get information on how to run their communities. Industry is looking for towns with faith, backbone and independence—not a place where the will of the people has been whipped and brainwashed so much the energy, power, and will is all gone. A community on the dole is either dead or dying.

Some very important deadlines are approaching. Car plates must be obtained by April 1, March 31 at midnight is the last time to sign up for medicare. People 65 and older who want to qualify for medical care coverage must sign up. Car inspections must be obtained by April 15. Income tax deadline is April 15 too.

REV. C. R. LEMOND has been ill for the past two weeks. He was able to be out and downtown Monday. His friends were glad to see him back in circulation. The popular Methodist pastor is in his fourth year in Stanton and has made a fine impression on his own congregation and others in the community.

Some of the students in the county schools have worked very tirelessly for passage of the swimming pool bond is— (Continued on page 4)

Ackerly To Get Modern Postoffice

Ackerly will get a new postoffice building as soon as construction can be completed. The project has already been accepted and the postal site picked.

The post office building is an enterprise in which the entire population of the community is deeply concerned. Ackerly post office is now housed in a small building on First Street where it has been located for the past 33 years. John Rudeseal, who is rural route mail carrier out of the Ackerly office, but who was postmaster for 32 years before changing jobs a year ago, owns the building. "I'll lose a tenant," he said, "but that's fine. I've been working five years to get (Continued on page 4)

Chamber Directors In Meeting

President Horace Blocker of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce presided over a monthly director's meeting at the chamber office in the First National Bank building Monday night.

The directors discussed many things of vital importance to the community and cast prominent discussion on the agriculture situation and possibilities here. They also discussed the printing of a brochure and appointed a committee to get information on the best method to proceed with this project. The brochure would point up some of the interesting aspects the county has to offer and would be used as an invitational folder to get any interested parties thinking about Martin County as a site location or home.

The directors also voted to sponsor a pancake supper in early May. The Spring Festival idea, with the supper and auction, has been a consistent chamber project.

Final Rush Underway For Car Plates

The final rush is underway for the purchase of motor vehicle registration plates.

Friday is the deadline for purchase of the plates and County Tax Assessor - Collector Dan Saunders said his office will remain open during the noon hour as usual to accommodate applicants for car tags.

Saunders said it would speed matters up if car owners would bring along their last year's registration papers and car titles. He stated that several cars would need to be registered to bring the 1966 number up to average.

Sheriff Saunders also pointed out that it is a violation of the law to operate a motor vehicle after April 1 with delinquent plates.

Stanton Gets Moisture On Monday Night

Stanton and some parts of Martin County gained about a half-inch of moisture Monday night.

It was the first measurable rainfall in several weeks. High winds and small hailstones pelted the county seat but no major damage was reported. The hail fell for only a few minutes and the stones were about the size of shelled peanuts.

Spring-like weather covered the county Tuesday. It was a typical West Texas day following an evening of turbulence.

Forecast for Thursday calls for fair weather.

Proclamation

Governor John Connally has signed a proclamation designating Lamb Week in Texas the week of April 4-10. Texas stockmen produced more than one and one-half million lambs for market last year, but only a small percentage of the lambs were consumed by Texans. Most went to the East and West coasts. Texas sheepmen would like to see more lambs consumed close to home.

The Governor's proclamation ties in with the state-wide lamb promotion campaign being pushed jointly by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and the American Lamb Council. Bulk of the campaign will be in April. The Texas sheep men's organization has a quarterly meeting scheduled in Menard Saturday, March 25. At that time the stockmen will read the Governor's proclamation and discuss ways of convincing other Texans that lamb is great on the dining room table. The Menard meeting is expected to draw several hundred sheep and goat producers from all over West and Central Texas. In keeping with the Governor's action, they will eat a lamb luncheon featuring three types of lamb dishes—roast lamb, lamb curry, and lamb pizza. The latter hardly is a chuckwagon staple.

Some twenty-five thousand Texas sheep producers own more than five million sheep, with almost seventy-five million dollars.

With the Governor when he signed the proclamation were Mrs. G. C. Magruder, Jr. of Mertzon—President of the TS&GRA; Mr. Roy Willoughby of San Angelo, a past president of TS&GRA; Mr. Bill Pieratt the Deputy Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture.

The Diplomatic Pouch

Washington. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

A local political reporter has asked us to trace the history of the term "White Paper" in the United States. We have been successful in finding references to the British use, but have not been able to find when the term was first used here.

Since the Department of State has used the term, we hope you can help us.

M. B. Fresno, Calif.

Dear Mrs. B.: The term "White Paper" has no official standing in the United States, but has from time to time been used informally to refer to publications, both documentary and narrative, of a significantly revealing nature, particularly with respect to negotiations or other political developments which were not immediately a matter of public record. We have no information as to when the term was first used in this informal way to refer to a publication of the United States Government.

There has been British usage of the term for more than a hundred years. In its original or basic meaning, "White Paper" refers to one of a series of British parliamentary publications bound in white paper covers. A dictionary of the "American Language" defines "White Paper" as "an official government report on some subject of less importance or less complete than that treated in a white book or blue book; so called from the binding, usually of the same white paper as that used for the text."

There are other, less specific dictionary definitions of the term "White Paper," and the term has been popularly used both in the United States and abroad in a wide variety of meanings. In the United States the term has been applied casually in common parlance to various unofficial as well as official publications.

I am interested in obtaining information about U. S. aid to Central and South America. How much is in grants, how much in loans? I am particularly interested in finding out how much of our aid is designated for specific projects and who oversees these projects.

J. S. Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Dear Mrs. S.: We're enclosing a new booklet on the Alliance for Progress—the 20-nation cooperative effort to which the United States, as a partner, contributes grants, loans, technical assistance and foodstuffs. The booklet was just published by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; additional copies are available from them.

As for loans versus grants, the ratio is roughly 4 or 5 dollars in loans for every dollar in grants. Our AID Mission in each country carries out periodic inspections of, and receives regular reports on, the various development programs to which we contribute—whether it is establishment of a credit union, or construction of schools, roads, hospitals or irrigation systems.

Bible Comment—

Evangelism Needs A Personal Touch

Jesus said that the test of discipleship, and the glorifying of God, was in bearing much fruit. "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear fruit; so shall ye be My disciples."

What does it mean to bear the fruit that glorifies God? Perhaps the greatest form of fruit bearing is that in which the original disciples were engaged; that of bringing others to Jesus.

That is something in which every Christian should be engaged, and no movements of mass evangelism can be permanently effective unless the spirit and activity of personal evangelism be present and enduring.

From the throngs that attended evangelistic meetings, one may anticipate a number of changed lives.

Many changes may not be permanent, but despite the relapses, many transformations to newness of life will be lifelong and strong.

The ultimate power of winning souls for Christ rests with them. Theirs is the task of teaching and guiding the young so that they never go astray or need rescuing. That is a basic form of evangelism.

But with that is the work of creating an evangelistic atmosphere and environment, a constant invitation to all to accept the message of Christ's Gospel and find new life in Him.

This is one great way of bearing fruit to the glory of God.

Philosopher Says It's A Mistake To Listen To More Than One Expert On China

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw tells what he learned about Red China from two experts this week. We don't know what it was.)

Dear editor: According to every newspaper I've gotten my hands on lately Red China likely will be the world's worst enemy in the years ahead, even ahead of Russia, although Russia is no slouch in that department.

With Germany and Japan now on our side, with India growing kids faster than wheat, and with the Russian men getting interested in automobiles and air conditioning and the Russian women now going to beauty parlors, Red China, the articles are saying, is the No. 1 potential threat.

Therefore when I read that two experts on China were going to appear before a Senate Committee on television, I dropped what I was doing, I don't remember what it was, and tuned in.

One expert said we ought to recognize Red China now and let her in the United Nations, and it'll be years before she'll be far enough advanced to threaten anybody with nuclear bombs. The other expert said no, we shouldn't recognize China, that she'll be delivering bombs before you know it, and we ought to hem her in now.

What I'd like to see the Senate Committee do now is come up with a man who is an expert on China experts.

When you get two experts coming to exactly opposite views, you're about where you were before you tuned in.

But by all means be sure to tell the Committee to come up with just one expert on the experts. If it gets two, and they disagree, the thing would go on all spring and summer, with one set of experts disagreeing on the expertness of the previous experts, until finally about everybody is used up and they get down to me, and I don't mind saying it wouldn't take an expert to find out how little I know about Red China. I don't even know what's happening at the court house in Stanton.

If you want to stay clear-headed about anything, never consult with more than one expert.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

The Big Lift!

AMERICA'S MIGHTY LEAP into space is rapidly turning science fiction to startling fact. Yet we are just beginning to probe the vast reaches of the universe. And right there among the headline-makers, a very small, yet vital vehicle is quietly at work. In manufacturing plants fork lifts are carefully moving experimental Apollo spacecraft in preparation for this decade's planned lunar journey.

MEANWHILE, ON EARTH... many U.S. plants are going super-modern with Yale's fork lifts. Industry is relying more and more on internal distribution by smooth, mechanized operations. This big lift is responsible for widespread economies in cost, time and for more effective use of productive manpower—streamlining the age-old problem of moving mountains—of materials.

IN BUSTLING FOREIGN and U.S. ports, fleets of Yale lift trucks are swiftly, steadily loading and unloading the goods—American products—to millions of customers. This means rising profits, and many more jobs on the docks and in the factories here at home. If Archimedes were alive today, he might well say: "Give me a Yale lift and I could move the world!"

Toledo, Iowa, Chronicle: "Times change. We can look back along the years to a time when we paid no income tax, and neither did our friends. Now the Tax Fundation says Americans work 2 hours and 20 minutes of every eight-hour day just to meet their federal, state, and local tax bills."

DECORATING THROUGH THE AGES

FROM THE TIME THE EARLIEST BUILDINGS WERE ERECTED MAN HAS BEEN BEAUTIFYING THEIR INTERIORS. THE EARLIEST CEILING WAS MADE OF PLASTER OR MUD. AS THE ART OF BUILDING IMPROVED, THE CEILING BECAME A MEASURE OF ITS BEAUTY. RELIGIOUS SERVICES WERE AMONG THE MOST MAGNIFICENT. THE MOST FAMOUS EXAMPLE OF A DECORATED CEILING IS OF COURSE, MICHELANGELO'S EXTRAORDINARY ACHIEVEMENT, THE SISTINE CHAPEL.

IN MORE MODERN TIMES THERE HAS BEEN A MOVEMENT AWAY FROM DECORATED CEILINGS TOWARD THOSE WITH ACOUSTICAL QUALITIES. THE NEW PHARMACINE HALL AT LINCOLN CENTER HAS BEEN ENGINEERED ALONG SIMILAR LINES WITH EMPHASIS PLACED ON THE ACOUSTICAL PROPERTIES OF ITS AUDITORIUM.

TODAY MANY PEOPLE ENJOY BOTH IN THEIR OWN HOMES. SACRETT'S ELEGANT CEILING TILE HAS BEEN DESIGNED TO ENHANCE EVERY DECOR WHILE PROVIDING THE FINEST IN SOUND ABSORPTION. ITS ACOUSTICAL QUALITY LETS THE CHILDREN SLEEP SOUNDLY UPSTAIRS WHILE AN ADULT DISCOTHEQUE GOES ON BELOW!

Major Crime Increases In Texas By Nine Per Cent

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that a major crime was committed every 1 and 3/4 minutes during 1965 to mark a nine per cent increase over the crime statistics for 1964.

The number of estimated offenses reached an all-time high total of 284,249 for last year. This was an increase of 23,389 individual instances of criminal activity over the 260,860 offenses tabulated in 1964.

The largest increase percentage-wise occurred in the aggravated assault cases, with a 17.1 per cent rise over the previous year. The number of thefts closely followed with a 10.3 per cent increase over the 1964 mark. Burglary showed an 8.8 per cent increase, robbery decreased 1.0 per cent, auto thefts were down 2.3 per cent, rape decreased 8.3 per cent and murder and homicide dropped 19.3 per cent.

The crime rate, the comparison of the number of crimes to the population of the state, also showed a sharp rise, Garrison stated. During 1965, there were 2,967.2 crimes committed for every 100,000 persons in Texas. This was 244.2 more than the 2,723.0 calculated for 1964, resulting in a nine per cent increase in

David Lawrence writes: "The true enemy of mankind today is Communist imperialism. It is not going to be checked or defeated unless the free world stands up to the fight and manifests its willingness to thwart the ambitions of the Communists. Their autocratic rulers profess to believe that Communism is the savior of mankind, but it has not brought contentment or salvation to the hundreds of millions of people in either the Soviet Union or Red China."

New Bird Adds Zing To Upland

A new challenge faces slow - speaking scatter - gun fans hunting upland game in some West Texas areas come fall.

Because they will be expected to protect the latest exotic game bird released in those areas. And when an Afghan flutters into the air before cocked shotguns, some sport will be expected to drown out the wing beat with a loud "A-F-G-H-A-N."

That, in any event, is the usual procedure when you're hunting one thing and something else in the protected category gets up.

One hundred and eighty of the white - winged pheasants, flown from California, were released by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in selected sites in Gaines, Lynn and Lubbock counties.

The Afghan, somewhat smaller than the Chinese ring-neck pheasant, lacks the white neck ring but has a pronounced white shoulder patch, which is lacking in the ring-neck species.

They are native of Afghanistan and Trukey and thrive in semi - arid areas much like West Texas.

Sportsmen noted that if they are anything like as rugged as their look-alikes, the Chinese ring-necks, they may add greatly to the Texas hunting opportunities.

The ring-necks first introduced successfully in the north central states now have spread throughout the mid - west and even into the southwest. They endure the worst of winter blizzards and now are harvested by the countless thousands each fall.

The latest additions to Texas' varied upland game bird population were released in areas with ample food and

Easter Seal Sales Going Strong Here

Jim Tom, Martin County's Easter Seal representative said today that the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal is going well. Mr. Tom also serves as treasurer for the appeal.

As Easter Seal representative, Mr. Tom is the person to contact to request assistance or services from the Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Last year the society aided 14,395 Texans in the form of treatments, services, equipment loans and related aids.

The society is carrying out a program to reach every disabled person in the state who needs assistance. This program is to insure that every crippled child and adult has an equal opportunity at a normal way of life.

Tom urged that any disabled person needing the assistance of the Texas Easter Society for Crippled Children and Adults contact him at The First National Bank. There is no charge for these services, he added.

He also urged that those who have not yet responded to the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal send their donations

Library Lines

MRS. RALPH CAFFEY, Librarian
Library Hours: Monday 1 - 8 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday 1 - 5 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m. - 3 p.m.

The Midland Library has done it again! They have given us a large number of books, National Geographic, and other materials that will help fill in some vacant spots in several collections. We are truly grateful for their help.

Every time that we feel that we can almost see the end of cataloguing books, another group seems to appear from somewhere. This is the way it should be in a library, always growing. There are boxes and boxes of books here in the back waiting to be processed, some we may find that we can't use, many will just fill up space on the shelves when they are placed there unless you, our patrons come in and use them. And yet we say that we have need of more books, many times we have need for books that someone can not give us, they must be purchased. This of course takes money that we do not have. Perhaps after the Governor's Conference on Libraries, more people will begin to ask why the library doesn't have at least a small book budget, as some are asking

Miss Tucker Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Beverly Tucker was honored with a bridal shower, Thursday night at the home of Mrs. T. D. Barnhill, 711 College Street, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Miss Judy Barnhill greeted guests and Miss Betty Glasple registered the 65 guests.

The bride-elect wore a pink linen frock. Her corsage was white carnations. The mothers also wore white carnation corsages.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink, the bride-elects chosen colors. Pink sweet peas and stock held in place in a silver bowl surrounded by four white candles in silver holders, was the centerpiece. The white cake embossed pink roses and silver leaves, now.

Two weeks ago the librarian attended a workshop in Abilene on Public Relations. The point was brought out that a library has an image, not one but three: the library I think we have, the library other people think we have and the library we really do have. Generally the last one is the one nobody fully knows. Why not make the acquaintance of the library we really have? It might change your whole life.

had twin wedding bells with silver bead trim. The words "Ulen and Beverly" were inscribed on the cake, and the napkins. The crystal punch bowl and silver appointments completed the table arrangement.

Miss Cindy Britton poured punch, and Miss Evelyn Doyle served cake to the guests. Mrs. Jimmy Barnhill made pictures of the group.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Earl Blocker, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. L. D. Adams, Mrs. T. D. Barnhill, Mrs. Walter Graves, Mrs. W. T. Wells, Mrs. Fred Holder, Mrs. Jimmy Henson, Mrs. Clyde White, Mrs. L. D. Stripling, Mrs. Claude Glasple, Mrs. Clyde Miller, Mrs. Loyd Odom, and Mrs. Dan Saunders.

Brown Spots In Clothing Guard Against

If brown spots or holes appear in your dress when you iron it, it may be because a small battery was formed at the spot where the damp dress touched two different metals as you ironed it, says Mrs. Mildred Eiland, county home demonstration agent.

Two metals in a zipper—usually aluminum in the teeth and copper or nickel-plated copper in the slide—can act as electrodes, she reminds. The salt in liquid starch serves as carrier of electric current in the wet garment. It may be caused by the minerals in the water you use for dampening. The resulting combination forms a small amount of acid. Nothing happens until you apply a hot iron. Then you get the brown spots and holes, the agent says.

Zipper made of one metal, or nylon zippers, will eliminate this problem. So do wash-and-wear fabrics which don't require dampening.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

It isn't absolutely necessary for executives to have heart disease, ulcers and strokes, ailments commonly associated with American businessmen who reach the management level.

Further, these ailments are by no means limited to executives. They can affect almost any one.

A few suggestions offered by the American Medical Association to help executives preserve their health also can be readily applied to most Americans, regardless of level of employment.

- Watch your weight. Strenuous diets usually aren't necessary.
- Exercise. Golf is fine, if you enjoy it. But if you're one of the many who lose their tempers and get upset over every missed stroke, brisk walks will serve just as well as golf, probably better.
- Take vacations. Real vacations, not just an occasional day or two. And plan your vacation so that there is time to relax and unwind.

• Smoke less. Better still, quit smoking altogether, if you can. There is much debate about the effect of tobacco on health, but there is no argument on the premise that it doesn't do anything good for you.

• Cut down on drinking. Two cocktails before dinner may be one too many. One might be too many for some people.

• Get plenty of sleep. And try to sleep without the use of drugs, if at all possible.

• Put business worries out of your mind when you leave the office. This sometimes is easier said than done. Perhaps you will need to get active in something else, such as the affairs of your church, to get your mind off your job.

Third Annual Baseball Camp Set For Lubbock

Final arrangements are being completed for the third annual West Texas Baseball Camp to be conducted in four sessions this summer at Lubbock Christian College.

Sessions will begin June 12, June 26, July 3, and July 17. The June 26 session will last only one week, while all others will be two-week affairs.

Bobby Moegle, head baseball coach at Monterey, will once again direct the baseball instruction at the camp. Dr. Herman B. Segrest, Director of PE for general college students at Texas Tech, is overall camp director.

"We feel as though the camp is becoming well known," commented Moegle. "We expect an increase in attendance this year. Last year we felt as though our program really accomplished the desired results and the comments from parents seem to back up our thoughts. Many parents seemed pleased with their son's baseball accomplishments and the opportunity to associate with our coaches and learn to work and cooperate with other boys."

Joining Moegle on the coaching staff are Kal Segrist, assistant baseball coach at Tech; Earl Parker, head coach at Lubbock High; and Bill Dean, an American Legion and Colt League coach here the past 10 years. Danny Mason, golf coach at Tech, will offer golf instructions to those interested. Segrist, Parker and Dean worked at the camp its first two years.

Baseball instruction will stress basic fundamentals of all phases of the game. Instruction by position will be covered in morning workouts and in the afternoons boys will be broken down by age groups for additional instruction.

Aside from baseball and golf boys will participate in basketball, volleyball, badminton, tennis and table tennis programs in the LCC Fieldhouse. Boys who live at the camp will stay, two to a room, in new ultramodern dorms and will eat all meals in the new LCC Student Union-Cafeteria. Local boys may attend daily and return home in the evening.

Million Plus Automobiles Still Need Inspections

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported today the owners of more than one and one-quarter million motor vehicles still need to have them safety checked at official inspection stations before their current inspection stickers expire April 15.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. said this means Texas' 5,350 inspection stations must collectively check over 65,000 vehicles per day in order to meet the deadline.

"This breaks down to an average of 12 car per day per station, Garrison said. "And though this may seem like a small enough number to run

A.C.C. Reports Record Number Spring Students

Ablene Christian College announced a record-breaking spring registration total with 2,888 students. The old mark was last year's 2,748.

The West Central Texas area contributed 243 students from 51 towns to the total. Towns included:

- Albany 6, Anson 17, Aspermont 3, Avoca 1, Baird 7, Ballinger 7, Big Spring 13, Blackwell 3, Brady 7, Breckenridge 10;
- Bronte 2, Brownwood 7, Clyde 8, Coleman 5, Colorado City 6, Cross Plains 2, DeLeon 1, Dublin 2, Eastland 7, Eden 1;
- Goree 2, Hamlin 5, Haskell 4, Hawley 1, Hermleigh 4, Jayton 2, Knox City 10, Lorraine 2, Lueders 1, McCaulley 1; through each station, it adds up to a total over 1,378,000 individual vehicles."

He pointed out that the load on some inspection stations is greater than on others, resulting in the development of frustrating waiting lines in some places as the deadline approaches.

Latest figures indicate that so far during the 1966 inspection period approximately 2,815,000 vehicles have been inspected. This is 308,000 more than for the same period during the 1965 period when 2,507,000 were safety checked. It is estimated that some 200,000 to 250,000 more vehicles will be inspected this year compared to 1965.

"This gives us a gain of some 50,000 vehicles over last year's inspection period," Garrison said, "which is less than one day's total."

"Those drivers who consistently have their vehicles checked early and more than once during the year, such as before long trips, are to be commended for guarding their safety as well as that of others on our streets and highways."

By NEAL ESTES

TWO candidates for the high state office of attorney general passed through Stanton last week without stopping. Both of them appeared in Big Spring and in Midland. It shows just how much candidates think of small towns these days. Most of the vote is centered in the cities. When they campaign in the air-conditioned buildings in Dallas, Ft. Worth, Austin, Houston, Beaumont, Longview, Midland, Corpus Christ, Galveston, San Antonio and Wichita Falls, they feel as if they have it made. No siree no more stopping in the small towns and it would be unthinkable for one of them to stop as DAN MOODY and JIMMIE ALLRED used to do and talk with a farmer plowing a field by the roadside. Come to think of it, I haven't seen a farmer plowing a field by the roadside in many a moon either.

MOST candidates running for state offices still talk a lot about helping the common man. The common men don't just live in the small towns anymore either. Under the present federally sponsored poverty program a lot of the common men are drawing large salaries administering the program. In one major city alone, more than twenty men are making more than $10,000 each just "looking after" the really poverty stricken people.

A SMALL boy went to a town meeting where the poverty program was being discussed. After listening to one of the speaker telling about the program in colorful and entertaining terms, the lad returned home with his dad and his mother asked what he wanted to be when he grew up. He replied: "Poor."

DAVID HICKS was by the office Monday afternoon to bring in news from the High School principal's office. This young man typifies everything I admire looking at in a teenager of today. He has character, ability, sportsmanship, the competitive spirit, a love of God, and is a good student and son. BILL and GLENDEEN HICKS, his parents, are sure doing a good job with their boys, DAVID, and RUSTY. By-the-way, BILL is a candidate for the school board, and the Master willing I intend to vote for him on election day. GLENDEEN was our society editor here at the newspaper office for a long time and she is one the finest individuals I ever knew.

WE salute HALLIE and WOODFORD SALE upon the arrival of a new granddaughter, born in Longview. The young lady is the daughter of MR. and MRS. JACK WARD. She will be remembered as SHARON SALE, one of the attractive twin daughters of the SALES. The new arrival has been named TRACI DEE.

WE welcome TRUMAN FRIDAY to the business circle of Stanton. He has opened up a first class shoe repair and novelty shop in the BENTLEY building on St. Anna. Go by his place and get acquainted. He is a fine man, a shoe repair expert with 30 years of experience.

Officers Entitled To Better Pay

J. Edgar Hoover has mailed newspapers the following fine article.

Law enforcement is highly exacting work. It demands mental and physical alertness, single-mindedness, dedication, and enthusiasm for effective performance. To fully discharge his responsibilities and do a creditable job, an officer should devote all his energy to his enforcement duties. Unfortunately, many cannot do this. They are required to "moonlight" in order to give their families a decent standard of living.

My criticism of moonlighting is not against the officers who must hold a second job. Rather, it is against the prevailing systems which unwittingly makes this questionable practice necessary. Local governments and communities willing to accept the practice as a substitute for adequate police pay are applying short-range judgement to a long-range problem.

As to law enforcement operations, there are numerous dangers inherent in moonlighting. These include conflict of loyalties, potential corruption, increased absenteeism, low morale, ineffectiveness, personal danger to officers resulting from fatigue, and loss of public respect and confidence. It is true that many police agencies restrict the types of outside jobs which can be held, but this does not mitigate the basic problem.

Moonlighting is condemned by virtually all experienced law enforcement executives in this country. However, most department heads are not in a position to force the issue. Still they know that fighting crime and protecting life and property require all officers to be fully prepared, mentally and physically. Continuous study and training are vital phases of this preparation. Policemen who hold two jobs can devote little time to improving themselves to meet the challenges of law enforcement.

Odessa, Texas, American: "The best-kept secret in America today is that people would rather work hard for something they believe in than enjoy a pampered idleness." That is a quotation from John W. Editorial . . . Open Your Doors And Your Heart

The late President John F. Kennedy, speaking of the Crusade against Cancer, said: "I . . . hope that you will open your doors and your hearts to the two million volunteers in this great drive who will be calling on you."

President Kennedy spoke from profound and deeply felt compassion for people stricken with disease.

Our First Lady, Mrs. Lynwon B. Johnson, who has carried the American Cancer Society's life-saving message from door to door herself, has said with equal meaning: "All together, volunteers, the government, physicians and scientists, we are united in our effort to conquer cancer. . . Welcome your neighbor when she calls for the Cancer Crusade."

During April a neighbor will visit you—a volunteer in the American Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising Crusade.

The volunteer will come to your door with two vital messages: 1) How to best protect your life from cancer; 2) An appeal for much-needed funds. The Society seeks these funds not only to carry on at present levels but to enlarge its research, education and service programs and give us more effective control over cancer.

The cancer problem is big. It involves all of us. Cancer is impartial when it attacks. But the cancer problem is not at all as gloomy as it was a few years ago. Modern science and education have made great inroads on the disease. There are 1,400,000 Americans alive today, cured of cancer. A quarter of a century ago there were only 260,000.

Twenty years ago only one out of four stricken with the disease was saved. Now it is one out of three. It could be one out of two, that is, if all of us exercised necessary precautions. This is why education is so important — people must know the facts and be persuaded to act in time. Action requires a health checkup by a physician every year and being constantly on the alert to cancer's seven danger signals.

Research is most important. The lives of half of those who develop cancer depend on future research. The American Cancer Society needs more research funds to support more of the project recommended by the distinguished scientists who are on its Research Advisory Council.

So when an American Cancer volunteer calls, "open your doors and your hearts" and your minds.

Drug Test Warning Given

The drug industry was warned to tighten its own testing regulations or face the possibility of more federal controls. Dr. James L. Goddard, the tough new commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), said in an interview the "primary responsibility" for enforcement of FDA rules on testing rests with drug makers.

"They must look very carefully at their practices or they will invite more regulation," he said.

Goddard, a physician who has been in office only two months, said he did not want additional regulations any more than the industry.

"Rigid control of drug testing destroys innovation, reduces the possibility of developing new products and makes their operation more costly," he said.

He said the FDA was lax in the handling of "DSMO" — an industrial solvent that was administered illegally to thousands of patients as a cure for arthritis and other ailments before test results showed it caused eye damage. Its use was halted.

"If I had been commissioner then that sort of thing would never have happened," Goddard said.

"The Light Was Green"

At busy corners all over the country stand familiar machines, designed to help automatic justice. We call them traffic signals, and they deliver a clear and simple rule of law: green means go, red means stop.

Unhappily, justice is far too complicated for total automation. The signals do help, but they cannot give a final answer. In fact, they are sometimes no more than a starting point in the process of telling right from wrong.

For example: A motorist, sued for knocking down a pedestrian, offered this defense in court:

"The light was green when I entered the intersection, so I had a right to go through."

But the pedestrian too had started across lawfully, on a green light. The motorist was held liable for relying blindly on the signal, not giving the pedestrian a fair chance to complete his crossing. As one judge phrased it:

"A green light is not a command to go, but only a limited permission."

In another case a motorist was held negligent, again in spite of a green light, for colliding with an ambulance. Evidence showed that the ambulance had its siren on, that others heard it plainly, and that the motorist's window was down and his radio off.

Nor does a green light, beckoning in the distance, justify bad driving in an effort to get there before it changes.

One motorist, with that in mind, crowded close behind the car ahead of him. When the light changed to amber, the front car was able to make a proper stop. But the following motorist could not. Result: a bad crash, for which the impatient driver duly held liable.

Just as green doesn't always mean go, neither does red always mean stop. For instance, emergency vehicles are often given the right by local law to go through a red light.

Yet even this special right is not clear-cut. Thus it was held negligent for an ambulance driver to race through a red light at a dangerous corner, without sounding his siren, when there was no medical need for haste.

The court held that even an ambulance must respect the one bedrock rule that underlies all the rest: SAFETY FIRST.

to be quite an individual . . . it is amazing that a man like he would get himself tied up with the $10 billion boondoggle that is HEW and which exerts cradle to grave control over the lives of the people.

Good men in political office cannot make a falsely conceived idea good. And every phase of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is falsely conceived on the idea that people can't and won't take care of their own well-being."
