By NEAL ESTES

The generous rain was the big news this week. We can readily read the benefits to come to Martin County producers by watching the broad grins on their faces. Local merchants seem in an encouraging mood and we are all grateful from the heart for this fine measure of moisture. GROVER SPRINGER was in the office Tuesday to sign up for another year with the OLE RELIABLE and he brought good tidings. The U. S. official rain gauge at Lenora indicated that 4.55 inches was recorded there during the four-day rainy spell. Other sections of the county captured from two inches to almost four inches. It was truly a bountiful rain.

The editor suggests all who can possibly make it to Stanton May 2 to do so. In addition to the regular DOLLAR DAY celebration of values, we will observe the annual SPRING FESTIVAL. The MARTIN COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE has planned a day of events for those coming to the county hub and we know you will enjoy the bargains and the fellowship. Get your tickets to the Pancake Supper now. You can't make a mistake. Plenty of entertainment is on tap and some attractive prizes too.

The rainfall brought in a lot of renewals to the paper this week. Some of our old friends returned to take out their paper subscription for another year and we welcome every one of them. Our circulation continues to climb and that is indeed gratifying to us and to the merchants who use our medium to advertise from week to week.

We send congratulations to our old East Texas partner, JOHN BEN SHEPPERD on his newly bestowed and well earned honor as the new leader of the WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. JOHN BEN is a fine man, intelligent, a brilliant leader of men and our regional chamber is in continued good hands. The chamber has been in sterling hands for the past two years under the direction and presidency of BEEMAN FISHER. We salute MR. FISHER on a job well done.

Some very sad, disturbing, and actually heartbreaking stories are making the community rounds concerning the escapades of some of our younger set. We have pointed out before, maybe not in strong enough terms, that parents need to know more about where their children go and what they do. The Lord knows it's hard to bring youngsters up a place where recreational facilities are as limited as they are in Stanton and to supervise their every move, but something needs to be done by the adults of Martin County to offer a better environment for the young people. We have an exceptional fine bunch of boys and girls in this area and it is our fault — not theirs — that we have done absolutely nothing about helping them find avenues of clean fun and entertainment. Let's get busy on this program. Maybe the swimming pool was not the answer, but at least, they have lights around modern pools.

Speaking of lights I heard this story the other day and will pass it on. A loud mouth braggart recently elected to a place on the town's board of city development was spouting off attempting to impress a reporter from a big town daily. He said: "Why our whole community is booming, and next week we are going to install lights in the cemetery."

Chamber Sponsored Spring Festival Slated For May 2

The annual Martin County Chamber of Commerce sponsored Spring Festival will be held in Stanton on Monday, May 2.

Dollar Day will also be observed by some Stanton merchants on the same day. Advertisements of participating local retail merchants appears in this issue of The Stanton Reporter. Many merchants also plan to feature sidewalk sales. Tables loaded with low marked values will be displayed on sidewalks. Other fine bargains can be purchased on the inside of the stores.

A pancake supper will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. and festivities will open early Monday and continue throughout the day and evening. Music will be furnished by a local musical group headed by Mike Wood. His players are known as the "Wipeouts."

Tickets for the pancake supper are now on sale and the day will be devoted to the entire family. The evening meal is always delightfully prepared and served.

This year the auction will not be held. But the chamber officials have arranged for prizes to be awarded during the evening of fun and entertainment.

The Texas Electric Service Company will feature an open house from ten a.m. until 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served and door prizes awarded. Miss Lillian Kosh, Home Economist from Midland, will be on hand to demonstrate electrical cooking appliances and to answer questions.

Senator John Tower and Congressman George Mahon sent telegrams to O. B. Bryan, manager of Cap Rock, along with Yarborough.

The editor of The Stanton Reporter received three telegrams practically at the same time.

The telegrams appear below and the combined text spells out the story of the approval of the loan.

Bountiful Rain Breaks Long Dry Spell In Martin County

Blessed rain visited Martin County most of Friday and Friday night and moisture of the slow variety measured a quarter of an inch by Saturday morning.

After a Saturday morning of continued drizzle the thunder started rolling and by 8 a.m. a general downpour was penetrating the previously loosened up soil. The rain soaked the ground and for better than a two hour period water gushed down the curb lines in Stanton, roced across dry yards and beds and caused general jubilation wherever people congregated.

The slanted streams of water generously washed window panes in business houses, cleaned the streets of accumulated dust and residents stood in doorways and peeked through windows to watch the moisture run down out of the sky while pets scampered for outdoor cover.

Rain held on throughout Saturday night and Sunday and continued to bathe the dry community Monday. Some reports of moisture ranged up to almost five inches. The U. S. gauge at Lenora showed 4.55 inches. Tarzan caught a good rain but not that much. In Stanton the measurement was 3.2 inches.

Rainfall was reported from all points in the county and the measurements ranged from two to four inches on the average.

When moisture started falling Friday it was consistently penetrating and loosened up the top crust so the abundant rains coming Friday night, Saturday, Sunday and Monday really soaked in the ground.

Tuesday morning found the sun breaking through crystal clear and the warm-up period set in. Wednesday was fair and fair weather was depicted for this area Thursday.

Shepperd To Lead West Texas Chamber In 66-67

John Ben Shepperd, prominent Odessa attorney and former Texas attorney general, was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the closing session Saturday in Ft. Worth of its annual convention. He succeeds Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth.

Fisher had served as president the past two years. He is the head of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Roff Hardy of Abilene, president of West Texas Utilities Company, was named vice president.

Cecil Bridges of this city, was named a director, and W. H. (Bill) Collyns, editor of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, was selected as a district vice president.

Jack Springer, executive vice president, and Don Wooten, treasurer, were re-elected. Both live in Abilene.

Del Rio was selected for the 1967 convention. West Texas Chamber member voted unanimously to ask the state to locate a medical school in the West Texas area. The Chamber has taken the stand that a medical school is needed in this section to provide geographical balance in such training and to help alleviate the shortage of doctors in West Texas.

Several resolutions were presented and approved at the convention. They included one asking the U. S. Department of Agriculture for permission to plant field peas on conserving-based acres; a resolution asking additional research in range management, forage, and mesquite and brush control; another proposed additional federal legislation on water pollution control.

The WTCC also asked that the new Texas master water plan include all areas of Texas, including certain West Texas areas which apparently have been excluded in the proposed plan. Members also voted to expand the directors to 250.

Jake L. Hamon No. 1 Logs Possible Production Zones

By JAMES C. WATSON

Testing of shows of possible petroleum production logged in several zones in Jake L. Hamon No. 1 Pollock, Martin County wildcat, 11 miles northwest of Stanton, should be in progress within the next 10 days to two weeks.

This explorer, contracted to a possible 12,200 feet to check the Devonian had reached 10,965 feet in lime, shale and chert in lower Mississippian topped at 10,885 feet, which is 131 feet high on that marker to the same geological horizon in the Texaco Inc. No. 1 McLain, a dry hole at total depth of 11,600 feet in the Devonian about 1 1/4 miles southwest which was drilled and abandoned several years ago.

The Hamon venture is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 48, block 36, T-2-N, T&P survey, 3 1/4 miles northeast of the nearest production in the Spraberry Trend Area.

It has encountered interesting shows of possible production in at least three different zones.

The best indications came in a four-hour drillstem test in the Wolfcamp at 9,320-9,500 feet. Recovery was 1,413 was 1,413 feet of 38-gravity oil and 360 feet of heavily oil- and gas-cut drilling fluid.

The section registered a gas volume estimated at 12,000 cubic feet per day.

That was followed by a test at 9,836 - 9,986 feet, also in the Wolfcamp, from which the return was 450 feet of slightly gas-cut mud on another four-hour check.

The latest and deepest indication of petroleum came on a four-hour test at 10,335-435 feet which surfaced gas in nine minutes with there being no gauge or estimate on the volume. Recovery was 130 feet of slightly gas-cut drilling mud.

The explorer still has possibilities in the Mississippian and due to its geological position, it could make a well in the Devonian.

After the Devonian is penetrated it is expected that operator is to set casing and test all zones in the wildcat through perforations which have logged any indications of oil or gas.

Vaughn Petroleum Inc. has staked location for No. 3-B L. S. McDowell as a 2,500-foot test in the McDowell (San Andres) area of Glascock County, 16 miles southeast of Garden City.

The drillsite is 1,970 feet from north and 1,659 feet from east lines of section 30, block 34, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Raisins Top May Surplus Food List

What's your favorite use of raisins? Whatever it is, May's a good time to use lots of raisins, says Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

They're the featured item on the May list of plentiful foods. Also included on the "plentiful" list of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are honey, grape juice, scallops, crabs and crab meat.

Honey and the two grape products are carryover from the April plentiful list, as supplies continue in unusual abundance on into May. Honey stocks are slightly less than the 1964 near-record level, but well above 1962 and 1963 figures.

Raisin production is estimated at the largest in 13 years. And production of American type grapes used for grape juice was five percent larger than the previous year.

Eugene Salyer during a Friday evening ceremony at the Baptist Temple in Big Spring. The Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor, performed the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Langley, Rt. 1, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denzell Salyer, Wheatfield, Ind.

The bridal isle was marked with white satin bows leading to an altar decorated with sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums against a background of emerald palms illuminated by wedding tapers.

Miss Brenda Reid, organist, presented a selection of wedding music, and Miss Mary Frances Newton, pianist, accompanied Miss Joanne Nell as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie trimmed with pearls and sequined re-embroidered Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was enhanced with scalloped neckline and long petal point sleeves. The flowing chapel train swept from a slender silhouette bow in the back.

Veil Of Illusion

The bride's veil of illusion was attached to a crown encrusted with seed pearls and iridescents. Her bouquet was of white orchids and featured chrysanthemums carried atop a white Bible. For traditional items she wore a single strand of pearls borrowed from Mrs. C. Meek and the veil belonging to Mrs. Robert E. Barkley, Odessa. Her dress was new and she wore a blue garter and birth date pennies in her shoes. For something old, she carried a handkerchief which belonged to her grandmother.

Miss Diana Langley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Rose Sturm, Luther; Miss Iris Knox and Miss Brenda Pyles, cousin of the bride, Sarah Saunders. The attendants wore identical gowns of pale green brocade. The sleeveless dresses were fashioned by rounded necklines and bell shaped skirts. As bouquets, the attendants carried long-stemmed yellow

Paul Dodd, Dallas, was best man. Groomsmen were Robert Crow, Wayne Turner, Larry O'Hara and James Mewis. Ushers were Donnie Reagan of Big Spring, and Larry Haggard, Stanton, both cousins of the bride.

Miss Sherri Sacket was flower girl, and Leon Langley was ring bearer.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride's traveling costume was a three-piece yellow linen suit worn with a printed blouse and white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage from her bouquet. The couple will reside at 1003-A Lincoln, in Big Spring.

The bride graduated from Big Spring Senior High School where she was a member of the Future Homemakers Association, the Latin Club and of the National Honor Society. She is presently attending Howard County Junior College of Wheatfield High School, Wheatfield, Ind.

Reception

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the church fellowship hall where the honored couple, the bride's parents and attendants welcomed guests.

Mrs. Jim Laney and Miss Sherry Thomas served refreshments from a table covered with a green linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and yellow and white carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was separated with swan replicas and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Treonne Reagan, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the register. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Jack Buchanan, Mrs. Louis Sturm, Mrs. R. V. Colclazer, Mrs. R. C. Thomas, Mrs. Jack Hatch, Mrs. Alden Ryan and Mrs. Bill Newton.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Petree, Garland; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hall and Ronnie Reagan, both of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Euton of Fayetteville, Texas.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Langley. The table was men cloth and centered with a bouquet of yellow roses. The honored couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Philosopher Says N. Y. Stock Exchange Won't Find Any Low-Tax Place To Move To

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw explains some facts of life to a big outfit this week.)

Dear editor:

According to a copy of the Wall Street Journal which a well-to-do friend of mine in town handed to me the other day to indicate the conversation was over, which I figured was a fair swap, the New York Stock Exchange has threatened to move out of New York City because the new mayor wants to raise its taxes.

As a result, lots of other areas are bidding for the Exchange, but I wish to announce I have no place for it out here on this Martin County grass farm, and I'll tell you why.

I'm not that I have any objections to the Exchange as far as I know it's a fine outfit, but its members seem to know more about stocks than taxes.

I don't understand a bunch of men capable of handling millions of dollars worth of stocks every day not knowing that trying to flee from high-er taxes in the 20th century is as hopeless as trying to make water stand uphill at an angle.

It's all right with me if the Exchange wants to move out of New York, but if it thinks it can leave any of its present or future taxes behind, it's headed for a crash. Don't the members know that taxes can go where even paved roads don't?

You let the Exchange move out here and it wouldn't two weeks before I'd get a letter saying my taxes ought to go up on account of me being benefitted by the proximity of the thing. As for the Exchange itself, what makes it think one part of the country is any less tax-hungry than the rest? It could escape maybe for a short while, but they'd overtake it before long. Business is like an iceberg, only a small part of it is ever allowed to stay above the tax line.

Taken as a whole, I guess the world is the tax-hungriest it has ever been in history and I would have figured the Stock Exchange would have known this.

You can't escape, gentlemen, even if you put it in a house trailer and keep moving it around. All you'd be doing is adding the gasoline tax to the rest.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Spring House Cleaning Is 'Old-Fashioned'

Spring house cleaning is old-fashioned, says Mrs. Doris Myers, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

A good home manager will rotate cleaning jobs each week or each month. She thus avoids ever having to do a total cleaning job at any one time.

"This practice will keep the house looking presentable throughout the year. You'll have more free time in the spring to devote to other important family activities," Mrs. Myers adds.

There are a few safety rules for you to remember about household products used in cleaning, however.

Be sure to read the labels on all household products, and follow instructions given. Teach other members of your family to do the same.

Do not mix liquid bleach with any other cleaning compound or a different kind of bleach. If liquid bleach is added to an acid or acid-producing use of this mixture, the specialist reminds.

Household ammonia, when mixed with bleach, produces highly irritating fumes. An explosion may result if ammonia is poured into bleach, cautions Mrs. Myers.

Library Hours: Monday 1 - 8 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday 1 - 5 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m. - 3 p.m.

National Library Week has just come to a close, but I know that many more people are aware that there is a need for libraries. So many more people responded to the invitation to visit your library, many more registered last week than normal, and many people heard the report from Beryl Clinton on the first Governor's Conference on Libraries. A hearty thanks to you, our patrons and public, who helped make the past week such a good one for our library.

We have just received a set of books purchased with some of the money we received last year from the S&H Green Stamps you collected for us.

The set is eight volumes entitled "The Famous Library of Crafts and Hobbies." It is an intelligent set of Hobbycraft Books designed for students in the middle grades. Many youngsters will spend many happy hours learning to work with magic, paper, clay, boxes, wood, fabrics, string, etc. I predict that the youngsters want to be the only ones enjoying these books, many adults will find them just as interesting also. This set will be on the shelf ready to be checked out by the time you read this.

Continue to grow as you read.

In absolute darkness, the human eye can detect the light of a candle 14 miles. Its sensitivity is 300,000 times greater than the finest light-receiving apparatus. — mixed with bleach, produces highly irritating fumes. An explosion may result if ammonia is poured into bleach, cautions Mrs. Myers.

U.S. Court Is Ask For Odessa

Odessa hopes for a federal court were buoyed last week following the introduction of a bill in Congress by Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, which would carve a new U. S. district court out of the West Texas District of Texas.

The Fisher bill came on the heels of a similar one by Congressman Richard C. White of El Paso, except that White's bill simply said the court would be located in the Midland-Odessa area.

Under the provisions of Fisher's bill the new division would include Midland, Ector, Andrews, Crane, Upton and Martin Counties. These counties are now served by the U. S. District Court in Pecos.

Lady, you'll just love flameless electric cooking...it's so accurate

When you cook electrically, there's no guesswork to it. You simply select the cooking heat you want and you get the same heat from the same setting every time. Only an electric range gives you accurately measured heat on all four surface units and in the oven. Foods will cook to perfection without attention while you're away from the kitchen. And you can repeat recipes with confidence of the same perfect results every time. Accuracy is one of the many reasons why you'll just love flameless electric cooking.

Editorial . . . Boom In Agriculture

Connie Mack Hood of Midland believes the United States is on the verge of the greatest agriculture boom in the nation's history.

He believes the boom will hit with the smallest number of farmers on record . . . 1,000,000, for instance, by 1970, compared with 3,000,000 today.

"But those who stay will be in it because they like it, and they will get the job done," he said. "They are the ones who will adapt to change and who keep abreast of progress."

Hood, who operates farms and ranches in West Texas and New Mexico, was the speaker Thursday at a Rural-Urban Relations program presented at the Midland Rotary Club.

He presented facts and figures showing the importance of agriculture at local, state and national levels.

And looking to the future, he pointed a bright picture for agriculture, and for the farmer.

The soaring population, of course, is the prime factor behind the agriculture boom. That, plus the fact a hungry world looks to the United States for aid in meeting its spiraling food needs. The law of supply and demand is about to take over once again.

Fortunately, however, farm production continues to climb, due largely to more intelligent use of land and to scientific advances.

But despite the much publicized American surpluses in farm products, Hood pointed out a severe drought over the nation would put this country in a starvation situation in three months.

ed out a severe drought over the nation would put this country in a starvation situation in three months.

This is something most of us don't think too much about, but something which merits careful study and consideration. It is a situation the nation's leaders should consider from all angles when they sell or giveaway surplus food products.

It is up to the farmer—the modern agriculturist of today—to meet the ever-increasing needs of the future. Hood predicts beef production alone must increase by 40 per cent by 1985.

All this puts farming and ranching in a somewhat different and more appealing light in the minds of most persons who still think of farming in terms of yesterday.

The Rotary speaker said agriculture is not as bad as sometimes pictured, and those who like it should do well in it, if they are willing to stay with it.

Hood's observations and his optimism undoubtedly were well-received by a number of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members who were in attendance at the Thursday meeting. If they needed encouragement in planning their careers in agriculture, they got it from Hood's talk.

"Farming still is the finest and most satisfying of all professions for those who like it," he concluded.

This is a message which should be told and retold all over America.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH
MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernad Houston, Larry Shaw, J. D. Crawford.

Temple, April 23 — "Texas soil and water conservation districts have enjoyed public confidence and widespread endorsement since their very beginnings more than 25 years ago," says H. N. Smith, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. "In recent years increased support, by rural and urban folks alike, or the vital work Texas conservation district are doing, is evidence by the most tangible evidence of all—money," Smith goes on to say.

Figures recently released comparing dollar estimates of non-Federal contributions to Texas conservation districts for 1963 and 1965 amply back up Smith's statements. Total non-Federal contributions for 1965 were $3,576,000, an all-time high. Local units of government, primarily cities and counties, contributed about $1,114,000, an increase of more than $200,000 over 1963. State government assistance to soil, water and plant conservation rose $20,000 over 1963, from $291,000 to $311,000. Financial help from private individuals and institutions approximated $2,151,000 during 1965.

Purposes for which non-Federal funds were spent during 1965 as compared to 1963 reveal changes of emphasis in conservation. For example, local and state funds spent for flood prevention, increased from $1,725,000 in 1963 to almost $2,500,000 in 1965.

Non - Federal expenditures in other categories, such as information and education also increased.

Smith, in conclusion, pointed out the foregoing estimates do not include donated time and expenses of more than 900 busy and dedicated soil and water conservation district supervisors.

Italians Gave World First Bologna Meat

Bologna is a good meat choice when you want quick, gourmet meals.

Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A & M Extension consumer marketing specialist, says that bologna has been popular since the Middle Ages, when an unknown sausage maker in Bologna, Italy, blended cured beef and pork with a magic mixture of spices. Other sausage kitchens in the town soon picked up the idea, and when the fame spread to other towns, the product was given the name of the city of its origin.

In the United States today, bologna's popularity is second only to frank, the American Meat Institute reports.

You can bring interest to your breakfast menus with these suggestions. For an elegant, yet simple - to - prepare Sunday breakfast, place broiled bologna slices on an English muffin and cover with chopped hard cooked eggs in dish meal, try baking whole silvers to scrambled eggs. Quickly browned bologna slices will curl to form cups - a tasty and eye - appealing container for scrambled eggs.

Use bologna cups as containers for mixed vegetables or potato salad for a luncheon dish. For an interesting main a white sauce. Or add bologna bologna, peeled, scored and decorated with cloves. Add whole bologna to your list of rotisserie entrees. Bologna is a natural for casserole dishes because it combines well with other foods.

Beef prices are steady this week. The economy cuts come from the forequarter of the animal. Fryers remain moderately priced. Both best value, compare the cost of fryer parts with prices of whole birds. Egg prices are about the same as a week ago, although a price drop is expected.

Weather conditions have caused fluctuation in supplies of head lettuce, onions and white potatoes. Carrots, celery, sweet potatoes, cooking greens and cabbage are among the more economical choices. Strawberries and fresh pineapples are more plentiful.

Tips For Outdoorsmen

Pool Storage Use empty adhesive rolls for line storage. Reel holds the line, cover keeps line dry, out of sunlight and clean. Rolls come in all sizes.

Mud Travel Got to cross wet, muddy stretches. Make it easy on yourself. Wear your snowshoes. They won't sink in the mud. A hose down at the day's end cleans them up quick.

No Snag Snags can steal lures. Guard against it by putting a fishing bubble about a yard above the lure. Then it hits snags, lifts over and keeps lure clear. Well, usually.

Leader Sink Carry a small bottle of household detergent trout fishing. Rub the stuff on leader and watch how fast they sink.

Porous Buckets New porous ice boxes, minnow buckets, etc. can be given a new lease on life by dipping broken or frayed areas in melted paraffin.

Fish Sealer Keep things neat by scaling fish on an open copy of a magazine. Clean fish, turn a few pages, clean more fish, turn a few pages, clean some more. Always you have a clean new place to work.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Allen of Winters announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Ann, to Hugh Darr Huckaby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huckaby of Stanton. The couple will marry May 28 in the Church of Christ in Winters. A 1965 graduate of Winters High School, Miss Allen is a senior student at Glen and Lottie's School of Beauty in Abilene. Huckaby is a graduate of Stanton High School and Texas Barber College in Abilene. He is an airman third class with the United States Air Force, stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls.

Senator Tower's Column

It has been my privilege to visit several communities throughout our state in recent weeks. Most of the Texans with whom I visited told me about something that costs them more than it used to — or more than they think it ought to — haircuts, bacon, clothing, shoes, taxes, insurance, television repairs, newspapers, college costs, medical services, interest... even eggs.

Now, some federal bureaucrats have characterized this development as only "crawling" inflation. By any name it is genuine inflation — and some people are talking apprehensively about runaway inflation.

Evidences of this inflation are manifold.

The February cost-of-living increase was the greatest in 15 years. Today's dollar is worth only 75 cents compared to the 1950 dollar and only 44 cents compared to the 1940 dollar. It's the cheapest dollar in our nation's history.

Just a year ago the average American family of four told the Gallup Poll it needed a minimum of $81 to make ends meet. This year it needs $99, according to the same poll. That means the average family feels it needs this year more than $900 in additional income to maintain last year's standard of living.

Every Texan, young and old, has been touched by and penalized by inflation. And, it's high time inflation was brought under control.

The lesson of history is that every major, modern inflation has been aggravated by excessive government spending. It is a matter of grave concern to me that continual federal fiscal irresponsibility has operated to drive the cost of living ever upward.

Unrestrained federal spending on non-defense programs is a principal cause of our inflation. This inflation has been spurred by unwise governmental policies — a sort of debt-propelled "destructive federalism." The policies have substituted compulsion for freedom and have thrown the market place out of kilter by attempting to substitute for it a federally-planned economy.

Yet, the plain fact is that the federal government, even in the face of war and inflation, is not reducing its domestic spending nor placing responsible priorities on its spending. For instance, from January 1965 to January 1966 some 91,000 workers were added to the federal payroll. Federal payroll costs now are in excess of $1.8 billion a month.

That's nearly $22 billion a year which taxpayers must provide. Our national debt now stands at $324 billion as the government continues its policy of "going now and paying later." That debt penalizes Americans — every minute — $22,000 in interest cost. But, rather than cut spending, the government is now indicating that it may seek to alleviate its own insolvency by once again tapping the pocketbooks of its still solvent citizens.

In short, it suggests that it fight inflation by imposing an income-tax hike, atop already increased Social Security taxes and already accelerated tax withholding. Amazing as it sounds, the federal government suggests that it fight the rising cost of living by raising the cost of living!

The theory behind this novel idea is that there is too much money in the economy causing too much demand and pushing up wages and prices. Take some of this money from Americans — reasons the government —

TO BE MARRIED — Mr. and Mrs. James Weldon Doyle of Stanton announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Ann, to Jimmy Foresyth, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Foresyth of Big Spring. A May wedding is being planned by the couple. Miss Doyle is a graduate of Stanton High School. Her fiance was graduated from Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, and is employed in Big Spring by the Texas Highway Department.

Texas Voters Prepare To Name Favorites On May 7

Texas voters are having a hard time making up their minds about some of the contested state races and a general apathy seems to prevail just a few days short of primary time on May 7.

The number of undecided voters appears to be higher than the usual average. It has been estimated as many as twenty-five per cent of the people have not yet decided.

The attorney general's race seems to have sparked the most interest. Three candidates are in the melee. Two of the men appear to be pretty well heeled with campaign funds. The third man, Senator Galloway Calhoun, Jr., of Tyler, has a chance of making the runoff election only if friends rally to his cause. He is obviously short on money but is not on talent and ability. He is the son of one of the state's most distinguished orators of another day. His dad also served as Potentate of the North American Shrine and many of young Calhoun's votes will come from men who know and admired his father.

Crawford Martin and Franklin Spears are as far apart in thinking as day and night. But both seem to have plenty of campaign money. Martin, a distinguished Texas attorney and former Secretary of State, apparently has the backing of Gov. John Connally. Spears, energetic and personable, is said to have the support of much of organized labor. He is also a member of the Texas Senate and is an attorney from San Antonio.

Atty. General Waggoner Carr will start an active, street corner - handshaking campaign during the remaining days before May 7.

Gov. Connally will wind up

I hope Congress will take reverse the cost-of-living increase and to restore reason to federal financing. That certainly will be my goal.

Thus, an income - tax increase without controlled federal spending would merely shift spending from individuals to government. It would increase each citizen's cost of living. It could accelerate, rather than slow, the inflationary spiral.

We need less of these unsuccessful "new economics" and more old-fashioned American economy. The federal government must recognize that its spending is the biggest single item in the American economy and correct its own shortcomings before imposing new penalties on everyone else.

his campaign for re-election with public addresses and some television spots. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith has drawn heavy newspaper editorial endorsements. He has appeared at many public gatherings in recent weeks as top speaker.

Judge W. T. McDonald has the advantage of running for a second term. His opponent is Judge John Onton of San Antonio. This race could go either way. But it is well for Texans to remember that the name McDonald has always fared well and gone far in Texas politics.

On the Republican side of the political ledger most of the talk is centered around Senator John Tower. He is seeking a second term and his nomination is assured for his party. The big test for Tower will come in November when he faces Waggoner Carr.

David Lawrence writes, in U. S. News and World Report: "We in America... have established 'foreign aid' programs involving billions of dollars a year. It's true that many of the projects have been poorly operated and that some errors have been made. But the goal should not be forsaken. Rather, there should be a wider recognition of what can be achieved for world peace and for our own self-preservation by bringing to the people of the world better and better living conditions. . . . There is only one way to stem the tide of revolution. It is to improve the living conditions of peoples everywhere so that, when they have a real chance to assert their right of self-determination, they will be able to choose efficient leaders, maintain economic stability, and

An editorial statement in the Chicago Tribune says: "Negotiation is a magic word to pacifists and those who openly or covertly support the communist cause. But negotiation is an infinite danger to the United States. The lesson must constantly be in mind that one can win no more at the conference table than he is able to win on the battlefield."

Sacredness Of Human Life Must Be Recognized

Insistence on the sacredness of human life did not begin with Jesus. It was part of the noble tradition of Israel that He said He had come to fulfill, not to destroy.

One of the first references to the sacredness of human life is found in the tale of Cain's murder of his brother, Abel. Later the story of Abraham pleaded for the inhabitants of a wicked city. He was even willing to forego his own advantage in order to prevent strife.

This emphasizes the high plane or moral foundations and human relationships based on the concept of the sacredness of human life.

Why hasn't Mrs. Reba Hays missed a day's work since May 10, 1951?

Mrs. Hays is an operator for Southwestern Bell in Fort Worth. She hasn't missed a day's work since May 10, 1951. You have to have some pretty good reasons to work 15 years without being absent one day. You have to have what we at Southwestern Bell call the "spirit of service." Mrs. Hays has this spirit.

"I've been very lucky to keep in good health," says

Mrs. Hays. "And something else that helps is liking my job. It's the company's responsibility to give the customer good service. As an operator, that's my responsibility, too."

Mrs. Hays and 50,000 other Southwestern Bell people have one thing in common. They're making your telephone service—already the world's best—even better.

By authority of said Act and with the agreement of the Local Public Agency, the said Notes are to be unconditionally secured as to the payment of both principal and interest by the United States of America. The full faith and credit of the United States will be pledged to such payment under an unqualified payment agreement endorsed on each of the Notes. Under said Act, such agreement is required to be construed by all officers of the United States separate and apart from said loan agreement and is incontestable in the hands of a bearer thereof.

THE NOTES will be dated June 7, 1966, will be payable to bearer on June 9, 1967, will bear interest from their date to their maturity at the rate or rates per annum fixed in the proposal or proposals accepted for the purchase of such Notes; will be issued in such denominations, and both principal and interest thereof will be payable at such incorporated Bank having powers or incorporated Trust Company, as the purchaser designates in the proposal. All fees or charges, if any, of such Bank or Trust Company shall be paid by such purchaser.

SAID NOTES will be special obligations of the Local Public Agency and will be secured by a requisition agreement between the Local Public Agency and the United States of America under the terms of which agreement the United States of America agrees to lend the Local Public Agency prior to the maturity of said Notes an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest of all said Notes and agrees to cause so much of the proceeds of such loan as shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest upon any of said Notes to be deposited at the respective Bank or Trust Company at which said Notes are payable for the benefit of the holder or holders thereof. Under the proceedings authorizing said Notes, the proceeds of such loan payment will be irrevocably pledged first to the payment, at maturity, of the principal of and interest on said Notes.

THE VALIDITY of the Notes and said requisition agreement shall be subject to approval by attorneys designated by the purchaser in the Proposal. The interest rate specified for each part of said Notes shall be a multiple of one-hundredth (1/100) of one per cent (1%). Said Notes will be awarded at the lowest interest rate or rates offered in the proposals, without reference to premium; provided, however, that as among proposals specifying the same lowest interest rate, award will be made on the basis of the highest premium per dollar principal amount of Notes specified in such proposals. No bid for less than $50,000 principal amount of said Notes or for less than par and accrued interest (which interest shall be computed on a 360-day basis) will be entertained, and the Local Public Agency reserves the right to award to any bidder all or any part of the Notes which such bidder offers to purchase in his proposal, upon the basis of such proposal; provided, that if less than $50,000 principal amount of Notes is to be awarded to any bidder, such bidder will be relieved of the obligation to purchase such Notes upon written notice to the Local Public Agency within two days after notification of such proposed award. By NEAL ESTES

THIS is the season of the "polls" again. Every year about this time some egghead reports his findings concerning the candidates and their chances to win. We have written here before that most polls are pure and simple fakes. Any good country editor is just as accurate a guesser as the PR men who drum up ideas to gain revenue from. For instance, take this question and kick it around. Do you think JOHN CONNALLY is going to be re-elected governor? The answer to that one is a resounding yes. Any half-smart guesser knows CONNALLY is as good as in for another term without being told so by a poll. I just as soon have an undertaker take the polltakers out of politics as to read their hogwash a week or so before elections.

GOING ahead with the poll business. I might add that it is safe to say that PRESTON SMITH, WAGGONER CARR, BRYON TUNNEL, and JUDGE W. T. McDONALD will all win Democratic nominations. The attorney general's race will be close for the simple reason that we have three qualified men running. Regardless of their labels they are all smart, intelligent men. Texas is bound to gain regardless of which candidate, GALLOWAY CALHOUN, JR., FRANKLIN SPEARS, or CRAWFORD MARTIN, is the final choice. I have seen one of the candidates in person. They didn't stop in Stanton enroute from Midland to Big Spring. But, if I had been notified of their approximate time of arrival in our city limits, I would have met them and rode with them to the out limits. I like to know the man personally I ballot for in the attorney general's race. WAGGONER CARR always stopped in Stanton. He found time to shake hands with many people in Martin County. He has many supporters in the county who will help him gain a seat in the U. S. Senate in November. JUDGE ROBERT HAMILTON of the Texas Supreme Court spent a lot of time in Stanton too. As a matter-of-fact, we here in Martin County claim him as our own. He was our county attorney here and went on to constantly climb the ladder of legal success. Someday, I hope some smart President elevates him to the Supreme Court of the United States.

WE have always thought the tv show, "My Mother the Car," was about the silliest thing the boob tube executives ever asked the public to witness. Certainly it ranked in stupidity along with the "talking horse," et cetera. But I had the dial turned to the "Voice of the Revolution" the other day and there before my very eyes was this guy listening to a loaf of bread talk. His wife yelled down from upstairs and wanted to know who was in the kitchen with him. I want to know more than that — I want to know where he and the bread had been and who brought them home?

BY January of 1967 it will be mandatory for publications like our to have zip codes behind the address lines. Won't you please send us your code now so we can start changing over. We have been assured by the Stanton postal staff that they will help us keep the hometown paper coming to you in any way they can. We are grateful for this pledged assistance. But POSTMASTER BILL MORROW and his staff, like the paper, must follow the directive from Washington. It won't be too bad if we all work together. Anyway, it's a job and we need to get on with it early and not wait until the approach of the deadline.

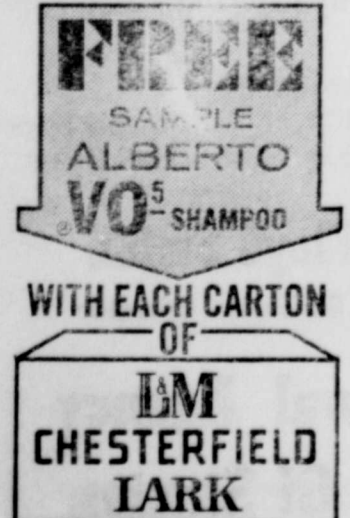

THE STANTON ROTARY CLUB will sponsor a city clean-up campaign the second week in May. You will hear and read more about it. The idea was brought to the attention of the club members by two Rotarians who have long labored in the camp of civic advancement. We refer to STANLEY WHEELER and WOODFORD SALE. These dedicated members of Rotary and of the town commission, want a cleaner Stanton. The operation needs to get started immediately. Search out your premises for those undesirable throw-a-ways and when the trash wagons call for your discards time will be saved.

We would appreciate it if school officials would send us photographs of honor students in the graduating classes of Martin County. We want to run news items about our boys and girls who "brought home the bacon" as soon as possible. We also think it might be a fine idea to run all of the graduating seniors names.

We really appreciate the manner in which JOHN-NY ROUCHE is turning in the LIONS CLUB news. He is the best reporter that organization has had during the past ten years. JOHN writes his story immediately after the Tuesday noon service club meets and brings it to the paper. What a delight it would be if we could get that kind of cooperation from all club reporters. Keep the good work up JOHNNY.

P&WD Offers Hidden Spot For Anglers

Fishermen seeking spring-time camping trips coupled with good fishing might consider a trip to the historic Rio Grande forming the boundary of the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area 54 miles south of Marathon, Texas. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds that 20 miles of wild primitive river forms the southern boundary of the game management area and fishermen have access to numerous primitive camp sites along the river.

Department field men report April is a good month for fishing and mixed catches of channel, yellow and blue catfish are commonplace.

Sportsmen interested in trying their luck should assemble their camp gear, drive to the management area south of Marathon, and sign in at Area headquarters.

Restrictions on fishermen are few, but firearms of all types are strictly prohibited.

Tallahassee, Ala., Tribune: "The Nationalist Chinese have an estimated 600,000 troops and it doesn't take any Phi Beta Kappa to know that they have been kept, food and lodging, for the most part by the American taxpayers for 10, these many years. Another known fact is that they have been chopping at the bit... to engage the Chinese Reds in mortal combat. Why they cannot be used in Viet Nam instead of feeding American troops to the jungle hell is one of the things we will never be able to understand. And if some highly intellectual member of the Great Society can explain it intelligently to us we promise to listen to the next LBJ sob story on the tube."

"You can't look across the fence and tell if an animal is suffering from parasites, or an empty feed trough," said Dr. R. R. Bell of Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

Bell was speaking at the Sheep and Goat Field Day at A&M's Livestock and Forage Research Center near McGregor.

Using drugs without good care and feeding will not control parasites. Controlling internal parasite still depends on good management and good nutrition, said Bell.

He continued, "When the animal is suffering from parasitism, it's fine to treat the animal, but it's even better to correct the conditions that led to the problem. There is no benefit to treating with drugs — in fact, it is harmful — when the animals are hungry, rather than suffering from parasitism."

Presently, said Bell, we recommend Thiabendazole and Phenothiazine as treatments. Pasture rotation will help in internal parasite control if the pastures are left vacant for at least 60 days.

A&M research indicates that on a vacant pasture, 50 percent of the parasite larvae die within 30 days, and over 90 percent die within 90 days. Also, experience shows animals can better resist harmful effects of parasites if they are well fed.

Recent improvements in cotton batting are brightening prospects for its increased use in the furniture and bedding fields. This prediction comes from Mrs. Jane Berry, Texas A&M University Extension housing and home furnishing specialist.

The new state law does NOT provide for lighting or row-boats or rafts or other crafts not classified as motorboats. But Coast Guard Inland Rules of the Road as adopted for Texas stipulates that all rowing boats, "whether under oars or sail" and other such water craft must have a light.

It is specifically stated, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, that occupants of the non-motorized craft "shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent a collision.

It is further stated: "Rafts, or other water craft not here-in provided for, navigating by hand-power, horsepower or by the current of the river, shall carry one or more good white lights" visible up to two miles.

A Parks and Wildlife Department spokesman said proper illumination of the slow moving craft is vital to safety, particularly in areas where fishermen normally run their line after dark.

Wait For Deer

When you spot a deer don't move a muscle. Stand absolutely steady until he flicks his tail. Then shoot. Reason: When you spot him he is probably poised to spring. It he flicks his tail he has relaxed... enough to give you a quick shot.

Shine Chrome

Rubbing tarnished chrome with aluminum foil will put a shine back on it.

Slap Eel

Reports say a couple of whacks of an eel on a rock or boat seat will quiet it enough to allow it to be grabbed and taken off the hook.

Radio Antenna

A radio antenna off a wrecked car makes good rod to start a boy fishing. Fill end with dowe, wrap on eyes and mount a tip on the end. Rod can be held on with hose clips.

Frog Bag

Bags carrots come in are good for storing frogs. Small perforations allow frog to breathe. Transparent too, so you see which frog you want.

Want to make a waterproof flashlight? Buy long jar full of olives. Eat olives. Buy a flashlight to fit jar. Solder flashlight base to jar top and screw tight. Light goes through bottom, flashlight floats, water stays out.

Road, with white, red and green lights precisely located with red to port and green to starboard, and with a white light at the stern located higher than any other part of the boat.

The Department spokesman said the lighting requirements are so exacting and vary so much according to boat types, that exact specifications should be obtained from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department which administers the law. It's address is 30th and Jackson Avenue, Austin, Texas. "Rules of the Road, International — Inland," CG-169, may be obtained from the U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C.

"Proper lighting is indispensable," said the spokesman. "There simply cannot be any guesswork after dark with the speed of modern pleasure boats and the increasing congestion of our waterways."
