VARIETY

On the evening on November 8, election night, the STANTON LIONS CLUB will sponsor the feature performance of the Zogi Review. Tickets are now on sale. Go out and enjoy an evening of fine entertainment.

Be sure and plan to attend the OPEN HOUSE at BENTLEY'S today. MISS LILLIAN KOSH, Midland, home economist for TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE will be present to explain the performance of new style dryers. The hours for attending the demonstrations have been announced elsewhere in a news story in this issue of the paper. TULL RAY LOUDER will have some dryers on exhibit too and the day should be a very fine one for Stanton.

EUNICE JAN STEPHENSON is a very capable high school writer and frequently contributes good articles to our paper. We appreciate her interest in getting school news in the county paper. She has written a story for us concerning parade float winners in the Homecoming Parade held here the past Saturday. It appears elsewhere in the paper.

Monday will be DOLLAR DAY in Stanton. Several merchants have used the columns of the paper to run specials. Read the ads and be in the county hub Monday to take advantage of the advertised values.

Don't forget to vote Tuesday, November 8. Texans pick a U. S. Senator to serve the state the next six years. We also ballot on 16 proposed changes in the Constitution of Texas. THE STANTON REPORTER is joining hands with the WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE in supporting all 16 amendments.

The cold weather rolled in this week and the mercury took a sudden nose dive. The Indian Summer weather pattern was blocked out. We can expect more cold weather in the next few days. The area had its first light freeze Tuesday night when the temperature plunged down to 31 degrees.

Golden November is the time of the year to start thinking about mince and pumpkin pies, turkey, chicken, and capon cooking with all the trimmings, and to start the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas shopping. Just six more issues until Christmas. Better start advertising holiday goods now in the OLE RELIABLE.

JESS WOODY has a real celebration going on at his store in Stanton. Go by now and buy some of his advertised items. They are real bargains.

Mrs. Bill Stribling of Midland, who underwent major surgery Oct. 26, in a Midland hospital, is reportedly doing nicely. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thrallkill of Stanton.

Front Chills Martin County

Two weather fronts moved into Martin County late Monday night and winds kicked up sand and a light drizzle fell early Tuesday morning. Winds gusting up to 35 miles an hour late Monday night did more damage to garbage cans than did the spooks. As a matter-of-fact, the biting, cold wind drove the Halloween delegation in early.

Temperature dropped to 41 degrees in Stanton early Tuesday morning and after rising to the high sixties Tuesday afternoon fell back to an even 32 degrees Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning.

The real hint of winter came Monday night when Dalhart reported light snow.

Johnny Krause Cited For Proficiency

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Johnny C. Krause, superintendent of the Stanton water supply system. The citation reflects the high regard in which Krause is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Krause's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

Slaton Downs Stanton

By DON SANDERS
The Slaton Tigers scored two touchdowns one minute apart and spoiled the Stanton Buffaloes' homecoming festivities in winning a 14-0 District 4-AA football victory here Saturday night.

The two teams handed the ball back and forth the entire first half unable to penetrate the other's defense. Slaton, however, got to the Stanton three in the final seconds of the first period and as near to the goal as the two on the first play of the second period, but had to turn the ball over to the visitors on downs.

Stanton had the ball four times and Slaton had it three times in the first half. The nearest Slaton got to the goal line was its own 46-yard line. Stanton kicked off to start the second half. Steve Harlen ran the kickoff back from the seven to the 41. Two plays later, quarterback Jimmy Williams connected with Larry Pickens for a 19-yard pass play. On the next play, Richardson Washington sped through the middle 43 yards to score. Harlen kicked the point after with 10:43 reading on the clock.

Exactly one minute later, Pickens picked off a pass by Stanton's Larry White and ran the interception back 38 yards to score the second TD. Harlen again converted, and 9:43 read on the clock.

With a little more than a minute left in the game, Stanton had the ball on its own 45. White tossed two 16-yard passes to his end, David Avery. Time remaining amounted to only 15 seconds, just time for one play. White connected with Phillip Payne for a 24-yard pass play. Payne was run out of bounds on the three when the gun sounded.

Allen Springer was top rusher of the game with 63 yards. Payne had 54 yards. Stanton out rushed Slaton 162-118, and out passed the Tigers 136-22. Miss Anna Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee Thompson of Stanton, was named the Homecoming Queen during the halftime festivities. Her court included Miss Sandra Marfield, Miss Trudy Powell, and Miss Connie Henley.

Amendments In Brief

3. Withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in the Permanent University Fund.

FOR — The 59th Legislature did not intend for the college to participate in both the permanent fund and a state ad valorem tax fund when it was made part of the University of Texas System.

AGAINST — The college should be allowed continued participation in the fund, as it did as part of the Texas A&M University System.

4. Increasing permissible terms for directors of conservation and reclamation districts from two to six years.

FOR — Six-year terms would permit staggered elections every two or three years, reducing cost of elections. Proposal authorizes, but does not require longer terms.

AGAINST — Proposal includes no provision for recall and poses threat of making elective officials less responsive to needs and desires of the people than if they were serving 2-year terms.

5. Authorizing Legislature to provide system of retirement, disability and death benefits for county officials, employees and others.

FOR — Noncompulsory retirement plan would aid in recruiting and holding employees and ameliorate layoffs of elderly employees who should be relieved of active duty. There is no retirement system for elective county officials.

AGAINST — Employees are already eligible for Social Security at much lower cost.

6. Providing assistance for survivors of law-enforcement officers, firemen and Department of Corrections custodial personnel.

FOR — System would eliminate sole reliance on charitable contributions to provide for needs of survivors. AGAINST — It is unfair to (Continued on class. ad page)

Question-And-Answer

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q — I just quit my summer job to go back to school. When is my employer supposed to give me a Form W-2?

A — In your case it should be within 30 days of your final pay day. Be sure to file the Form W-2 with your 1966 tax return. If your total income was under $600 for the year you still have to file to get a refund of income taxes withheld.

Q — I'm making much more money this year than I expected. Can I change my declaration of estimated tax?

A — Yes you can. On the reverse side of the estimated tax installment notice you receive there is a place to make a change. Instead of using the next notice form you may take a copy of Form 1041-ES (Amended) which you may obtain by dropping a post card to your IRS district office and send that in.

If the change occurred after September 1, the amended declaration should be filed by January 16, 1967.

Q — I disagreed with the agent auditing my return and told him so. I then received a letter suggesting I take my case to the Appellate Division of the IRS. Can't I also ask for some other sort of conference with the IRS?

A — Yes you can. In some cases, however, where it seems likely that the issue cannot be resolved at a district conference, IRS encourages taxpayers to go directly to Appellate.

If you want to present your case at a district conference first, however, contact the district director and he will arrange it.

Q — How do I go about setting up a pension plan for myself and my employees? I have a small unincorporated repair business.

A — This is explained in the free Document No. 5592, Retirement Plans for Self-employed Individuals, which is available by dropping a post card to your IRS district director.

Q — Will your Teaching Taxes program be offered to schools again this year?

A — Yes it will. Notices on the program are being sent to junior and senior high schools as well as some business schools and colleges. Schools wishing to participate will receive their free materials the first of the year when the 1967 tax forms and instructions are available.

Q — I'm buying Series E savings bonds for my child's education. Do I have to report the interest on my return or can I put it on my child's return since he is the owner of the bonds?

A — If your child is listed as the owner of the bonds then he or she is liable for the interest. If your child elects to report the increase

Bible Comment—

We Defeat God's Plan For Mankind When We Allow Dishonesty, Corruption To Live

Perhaps the one great, comprehensive, all-inclusive definition of Jesus' mission and redemptive purpose is in the declaration, "I am come that they might have it more abundantly."

In that declaration, Jesus specially contracted the purpose of God, in His own mission with the purpose of others to steal and destroy.

The long course of history is one of rapine and bloodshed, but our own age has revealed evil fully as appalling. The great tragedies and evils of life are apparent.

What is not so apparent is that they have their roots of crime, even in the hearts and lives of men who are not legally criminal.

The businessman who takes unfair advantage of his fellows is weakening the whole fabric of society. The public official who betrays his trust would probably scorn to commit, murder or banditry, or to steal in some grosser way.

One can see plainly in relations of graft, and civic corruption how such men have been the actual ally of those who have made stealing and destruction their chief purpose.

Every day of the news reveals, in its recount of tragedies and accidents, the extent of the drink evil, the gambling evil, and the other evils that affect and endanger society, the things that oppose and defy God's life-giving purpose for mankind.

Yea, the public attitude is still largely apathetic and needs an immense endowment of God's life giving purpose as Jesus expressed it.

Philosopher Talks About College Professors And Women Picketing Grocery Stores

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw may get himself into hot water, the latter part of his letter this week indicates. That's his worry.)

Dear editor:
 I went for three days last week without finding a newspaper around this Martin County grass farm and finally gave up and went into town and bought a copy, and now discover I may be further behind the times than I realized.

According to one item on an inside page a college professor discussing the great strides he claims man has made in the past few years said "if you haven't been back to school in the last 10 years you're already behind the times."

I don't know what school he was talking about, but I have a notion you can pick out any college you want to and find therein professors who've been to school all their lives and are still behind the times.

Actually, of course, I don't know what being behind the times means.

While it's true there are dozens of countries on this earth I don't know anything about, never even heard of, you've got to remember on the other hand they've never heard of me either. It all comes down to who's times you're behind, or whose clock you're watching.

 I have a notion that if a man sets out to keep abreast of the times all over the world, he'll wind up knowing something about nearly everything but not very much about anything. On the other hand, you can know not very much about anything and nothing about the rest of the world. I've tried it, and it works.

To change the subject, I've been reading about those women in cities picketing the grocery stores over high prices. Since they're carrying their signs anyway, how much you reckon they'd rent the back of their placards to carry a message from us farmers objecting to the low prices we get? Why couldn't one picket sign to two jobs at the same time?

However, if any of those women boil over and want to see me about this, tell them you don't know how to get in touch with me.

Yours faithfully,

of Texas Criminal Appeals to five and lengthening court's term.
FOR — Would facilitate disposition of appeals and would effect almost continuous function. Present provisions governing length of term were intended as temporary when enacted 40 years ago.
AGAINST — Integration of civil and criminal appellate courts is needed, not patchwork preservation of present system. State should move toward plan in which judges run unopposed against their records (Missouri plan) rather than increasing number of judges and thus the campaigns that must be conducted.
10. Providing that change in junior college or school district boundaries will not abrogate, cancel or invalidate taxes or bonds, previously voted.

AGAINST — Newly annexed areas would be subjected to taxation at rates not specifically voted upon by the newly annexed property owners.
11. Authorizing Texas Water Development Board to issue $200 million in bonds upon two-thirds vote by Legislature, and expanding uses of Texas Water Development Fund.
FOR — Individual political subdivisions in Texas do not have money, authority or facilities to plan and develop efficient statewide plans.
AGAINST — Development of Texas water resources is better handled locally than by the state.
13. Authorizing Legislature to provide for consolidating functions in counties of 1.2 million population or more.
FOR — One unit's assessing property could guarantee uniformity and fairness; county may be able to provide services better or at less expense than small towns. System would be completely voluntary.
AGAINST — Large cities would have the votes to override wishes of rural population; possibly exists that services would be provided to well-to-do areas but not in less-attraction subdivisions.
14. Allowing members of armed forces to vote in Texas if they satisfy ordinary requirements.
FOR — Present law was inspired by mutinous conduct of nonresident volunteers after Battle of San Jacinto. It is unfair to deny protectors of nation one of their most precious rights. Obscene Calls Drop Almost 50 Per Cent
Annoying, obscene and crank telephone calls have declined almost 50 per cent in North Texas since Southwestern Bell Telephone Company declared war on annoying callers in mid-June.
Harry Sawyer, manager, for Southwestern Bell, said that new tracing devices have been a major factor in the decline. The devices — the polarity trap and the line identification dial switch — are installed in dial separators mechanisms when customers are taunted with silence, threats or obscenities over the telephone. The electronic devices keep the crank caller's line open while the party's number can be positively identified.
He also cited the cooperation between local police officials, telephone technicians and harassed customers as another important factor in apprehending annoying callers.
Sawyer noted that more than 25 persons in North Texas alone have been arrested since the company began its campaign against nuisance callers.
He pointed out that under Texas law, it is a misdemeanor for a person to use vulgar, profane or obscene language over the telephone, or to use the telephone to harass, annoy, torment, abuse or threaten another person. A violator can be fined as much as $1,000 and imprisoned up to one year.
However, the telephone official said that Southwestern Bell is now offering its customers a booklet which will, in many cases, "help our customers handle these nuisance calls and perhaps keep them from recurring."
The best advice in handling a nuisance call, Sawyer again pointed out, is to hang up.
Copies of the eight-page booklet can be obtained by writing Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, P. O. Box 5265, Dallas, Texas 75222, or by calling the local telephone business office.

Editorial . . . 'Unless God Intervenes'

Dr. W. A. Criswell's recent prediction that "Christianity — already fading — almost will cease to exist by the 21st century," undoubtedly shocked many Christians.

Perhaps it awakened some persons to the realization it could happen here. Some might be shocked into a spiritual reawakening. Others likely take a "so what" attitude.

Anyway, Dr. Criswell, pastor of the nation's largest Baptist Church—the First Baptist of Dallas—has given churchmen something to think about.

He blamed the "loss of conviction on the part of preachers that the Bible is word of God."

This is a serious charge against ministers of the gospel, and many of them likely will rise in defense. The blanket indictment undoubtedly is too far-reaching.

There has been too much wandering into fields outside the generally accepted areas of religion on the part of some clergymen. Basic religious teaching undoubtedly has suffered as a result. Some denominations also have wandered.

Dr. Criswell, in tracing the decline of Christianity through history, said that 180 years ago 25 per cent of the world's population was evangelical Christian, compared with 8 per cent today.

At the present rate, he said, "in 1980 the number will decline to four per cent. By the year 2000 the number will be less than two per cent.

"In the century that follows, unless God intervenes, they will become practically nonexistent."

Think of that for just a minute . . . 'the evangelical Christian will become practically nonexistent' in the next century.

It presents a challenge to clergymen, layman, churches and denominations.

And, certainly, the ministers of the gospel cannot and must not be shouldered with the entire blame. Re-evaluations by individuals, congregations and denomination are in order.

The important thing is that churches and churchmen must join in curbing the slide backward and downward. Programs and religious teaching generally must be stepped-up at every level.

Churches face a tremendous challenge in the religious training of youths and adults. More funds, however, are essential in meeting the need.

This is due serious consideration, particularly at this season of the year when churches are engaged in budget-raising efforts.

The church MUST meet the challenge, with God's help. Perhaps this is what Dr. Criswell had in mind, awakening churchmen to their responsibilities.

Plainview Woman To Head Women's Activities Group WTCC

"Woman on the go" would describe the Plainview clubwoman, Mrs. John J. Kirchoff, named today to head up the Women's Activities Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to John Ben Shepperd, president of WTCC, when he made the announcement of her selection.

Her presidency of the Woman's Club of Plainview, her Life Membership in the PTA, her service to the Girl Scouts of the Caprock Area, her active direction of Youth Activities in the First Christian Church, her avid support to Texas Tech (her Alma Mater), Little Theater work, teaching in a "Headstart" class and her husband and two teenage children contribute to keeping her "on the go."

The Women's Activities committee will assist in the organization of women's groups within the local chambers of commerce. These members will serve actively on industrial, tourism, cultural, educational and all other local committees. The "women's viewpoint" will thus be utilized to strengthen the work of each committee.

Promotion of the use of West Texas products will be one important activity. These will include manufactured products as well as products of farming and ranching. Special lists of these items will be prepared by the groups in cooperation with growers, manufacturers and processors.

Tourist development, one of the most important phases of the WTCC work program, will be aided by women who organize special tours in their communities. Special attention will also be given to civic improvement in all physical, educational and cultural aspects of the area.

More than 1,500 women have been invited to the first meeting of the Women's Activities Committee in Denton on November 10th. Mrs. Kirchoff will preside and will introduce the program of work that is scheduled for her co-workers on the local and regional basis. Sessions begin at 1:30 p.m. at Texas Woman's University.

"We are exceedingly fortunate to obtain the leadership of such an outstanding person for this important assignment. Mrs. Kirchoff will bring to her new committee the enthusiasm and organization that is so vital to its success," Shepperd said.

Veterans Administration

(Editor's note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q — The new G. I. Home Loan interest rate is 6 percent. But I understand there is some kind of insurance fee on top of that. What is it?

A — There is a fee on a Veterans Administration guaranteed or insured loan that amounts to one-half of one percent. That is paid on the amount of the loan. It is paid only ONCE. Not every month.

Q — I'm in college under the G. I. Bill. I heard that I do not have to send in a certificate of attendance to get my first allowance check. What about the second, third, fourth, etc.?

A — The certificate of enrollment returned to VA by the college is sufficient for the mailing of the first check. Subsequent checks will be sent AFTER you send in your monthly certificate of attendance.

Q — I receive regular treatment and medicine from the Veterans Administration for my service-connected disability. I plan to travel overseas for about six months. Is there any way I can get medical care for medicines if I need them on my trip?

A — Yes. The Veterans Administration provides such care and medicines for service-connected disabled veterans everywhere possible. Just contact the nearest U. S. State Department, Embassy, Consulate or Legation.

Q — Last January my G. I. insurance premium was waived because of a disability. Yet the other day I received a dividend check. Should I return it?

A — No. Keep it. It is yours. A waiver of premium on a G. I. participating policy is not a bar to dividends.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Are you looking for a place where you can get away from it all?

How would you like a wilderness spot with good fishing, outdoor camping facilities and ample opportunities to observe wild game and still be within easy reach of civilization?

There's just such a place and it's nestled deep in the heavily timbered wilds of East Texas.

It's called the Wildlife Kingdom and Fishing Resort. It's a 1,500 acre layout located about 10 miles out of the small East Texas town of Newton. Newton is a lumber town, on State Highway 87 about 60 miles north of Beaumont. State Highway 87 runs north-south and is about 15 or 20 miles west of the Sabine River which separates Texas from Louisiana.

Wildlife Kingdom is the pampered child of Newton Lumber Company. It's owner is Claude H. Williams.

Actually it's the realization of a childhood dream. As a youngster Williams enjoyed many hours fishing East Texas pothole lakes. He vowed that someday he would own land and have his own lake.

When he did acquire that lake, he and his friends had so much enjoyment that the idea of acquiring more land and lakes for public enjoyment and fishing was born.

Today Williams' Wildlife Kingdom and Fishing Resort includes eight lakes ranging in size from two to 40 acres. All have been stocked with black bass, catfish, crappie and bluegills.

Their crappie and bluegill fishing is consistently good. Several of the lakes have produced catches of bass going to nine pounds and catfish to 18 pounds. All the lakes can be fished either from the shorelines or from boats.

There's a small fee charged for fishing and for overnight camping. But this fee includes use of a boat on any or all of the lakes.

A limit of three horsepower is put on outboard motors. Actually no motors are needed since the aluminum johnboats are light and easy to paddle.

For those who don't want to camp out or rough it, Williams has four cabins, a house and a house trailer for rent by day, week or month. All are completely air conditioned.

For the fellow who likes to fly fish, these lakes are unexcelled. Nestled in valleys and surrounded by tall and heavy timber stands, the lakes are protected from winds that can make fly fishing difficult.

In addition to camping and fishing, Wildlife Kingdom offers the city dweller a chance to see wild game in its native habitat.

Some 80 deer and 36 Barbardo sheep roam the 800 acres portion of the kingdom that is enclosed with a deer-proof fence. Smaller game like squirrel, rabbit, and armadillo abound. The area also is rich in birdlife with quail and dove most abundant.

During the open season a limited amount of deer and squirrel hunting is permitted in some portions of the Wildlife Kingdom.

Bulk of the land in the 1,500 acres is heavily wooded with nearly 10 miles of car trails winding throughout. These trails allow for interesting hiking jaunts for those who like to study the flora and fauna of East Texas.

All these lakes, formed by damming small valleys, are spring-fed. Water in all of the lakes is clear and some of the larger lakes have holes as deep as 30 feet.

It's a tempting setting for any freshwater angler, hunter, or just plain ole' vacationer.

A GLIMPSE OF HEMISFAIR—The accidental meeting of some Braniff International hostesses in their new Pucci-designed uniforms and some girls posing at HemisFair '68 headquarters in traditional Mexican costumes resulted in this "something old, something new" picture. This is just the sort of happenstance that intrigues HemisFair officials, who plan the San Antonio World's Fair as a colorful mixture of the ancient and futuristic. The Fair, which runs from April 6 to October 6, 1968, expects the participation of some 37 private industrial exhibitors and more than 30 nations from every continent. The girls are Misses Iree Van Cleave and Susan Greenwood (L and R) of Dallas, and Estela Yvonne Herrera (C) of San Antonio.

A strange accident took the life of a Cameron man. He was exchanging rifles with a companion when one gun fired, striking the victim in the heart.

One fatality, not counted in the hunting total, was a 47-year-old Guy man who died of a heart attack while hunting squirrels with a ten-year-old son.

Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa recently observed: "Congress has authorized another huge, multibillion-dollar foreign aid program, included in which is provision for hundreds of millions of dollars to be 'loaned' to foreigners. And, believe it or not, although American taxpayers who put up this money are faced with bone-chilling high interest rates when they have to borrow, foreigners will get their money at an interest rate of 2.5 per cent. And for the first 10 years of a 40-year loan, foreigners will pay only 1 per cent interest for the use of your money!"

On The Square

By RED GIBSON

Somewhere back up the line I ran into a word that deserves a little more public exposure. It's "syllogism." There is no conspiracy to cover it up, at least not as far as I can tell.

Nevertheless, syllogism doesn't have a steady job; he just works part time. The reason for this unemployment is that a syllogism involves thinking, and a lot of people have other things to do.

A syllogism is a device used in logic. Mathematically, you would say that if A equals B, and B equals C, then A equals C. Here's a clearer example: Lyndon (to pick a name at random) is a Texan; all Texans are good guys; therefore Lyndon is a good guy.

Or this one: Every virtue is laudable; kindness is a virtue; therefore, kindness is laudable.

This is easy to handle. There is no problem in understanding such a simple bit of logic. The problem comes when we shift our mind into neutral when it should be in a working gear. That is, we use the syllogistic approach but step off the path.

Which brings us to the point of this essay: like the guy who leaped off the Brooklyn Bridge, we have a lamentable tendency to jump to conclusions.

And false syllogisms help us jump.

For example: Texans are good guys; Bobby Kennedy and Barry Goldwater are good guys; therefore Bobby and Barry are Texans.

No so? Try this one: A lot of subversive jerks can be found on campus picket lines; North Texas State University had a picket line; therefore, NTSU had a demonstration by a batch of subversive jerks.

Tain't so. We had a demonstration, all right, but it was mostly by good people. It's probably wrong of me, but I can't get hot about the issue one way or the other. The students want a disciplinary appeals board, which would be a student-faculty-administration group that would listen when a student thought he was being shortchanged.

(Usually it isn't "he" but "she.")

The typical disciplinary case involves a coed who stays out too late (there is a 10:50 curfew except on the weekends.) She gets slapped on disciplinary probation. This may mean that she is confined to the campus for a certain period, or that she has to get in early every night, or that she must report to the dean of women for a reprimand.

The students want some place they can appeal to if they think they are getting a rough deal. And that's what all the picketing is about. The reason I don't get up in arms and take out my picket signs is that I'm not sure a board is needed. It stands to reason, (we could probably fix up a syllogism on this) that if we need an appeal board, somebody has been getting treated unfairly. They haven't proved this to me, although complaints are not rare.

They think they are getting a rough deal.

And that's what all the picketing is about.

The reason I don't get up in arms and take out my picket signs is that I'm not sure a board is needed. It stands to reason, (we could probably fix up a syllogism on this) that if we need an appeal board, somebody has been getting treated unfairly. They haven't proved this to me, although complaints are not rare.

To take the students' side, it might be said that women students think there is enough unfairness to warrant an appeals board. As long as we think it, there will be some basis for it.

It wouldn't hurt anything to set up a board, except that this act would imply that the present people can't handle the job. That's a bad thing to imply.

Let's look at it syllogistically. Where there's smoke there's fire; there's smoke here; there must be a fire.

Drownings Top '65 By 21 Already

The Texas water recreational toll for this year has reached 221, or 21 deaths more than the entire 1965 season, as recorded by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Seven previously unreported drownings provided a grim boost. The last four victims perished while lacking life belts.

Three of the four were fishing. One man fell into the Trinity River near Palestine. A man and a boy drowned in a private lake near Huntsville. The lad apparently fell into the water and the man succumbed while trying to save him.

The only fatality associated with boating occurred on Lake Texoma when a man, with a skin diving party, drowned when their boat broke up and sank.

Meanwhile, hunting fatalities total twelve to date, just nine short of the entire 1965 fall hunting season toll of 21, with the major hunting period still ahead.

All three hunting victims were killed by guns in the hands of a companion.

All but one victim of the previous nine gun fatalities had been youngsters but only one of the latest trio involved a teen-ager. He was a 14-year-old Athens youth struck in the head with a charge from

Farm & Ranch Review

Horse Short Course — Texas A&M University's sixth annual horse Short Course Nov. 6-8, will feature a program of interest to every person interested in horses, says B. F. Yeates, extension animal husbandman and program chairman. Subjects range from ethics in the horse business to tips on developing outstanding cutting horses. A polo game and Shetland pony show will feature the first day's entertainment, Yeates says.

Benefits Many From Bulk Feed Handling — The old adage "use your head and save your back" is an apt description of what bulk feed handling can do on the farm, says W. S. Allen, Texas A&M extension agricultural engineer. Allen reports many farmers have told him that after bulk feed facilities were installed on their farms they just couldn't do without them. Allen suggests to farmers or stockmen who are not now handling their feed in bulk that they confer with their local feed supplier or county agent about a system for their farm.

Fall Application Of Fertilizer — Applying fertilizer in the fall may be as good as waiting until spring. A recent test at the Blackland Experiment Station, Temple, showed no yield differences in grain sorghum planted last spring on land which had received fertilizer applications in October, November, December and January, reports Dr. C. D. Welch, extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University. But, he adds, fall application on sandy soils may not be a good idea since rainfall may move nitrates below the root zone in the soil. On heavy soils, this is not the case, he says.

Something To Think About — Automatic, electrically heated livestock waterers can save stockmen time and trouble in the winter months ahead and provide the livestock herd with the ice-free water they need. Texas A&M University extension agricultural engineers say many types of automatic livestock waterers are available to meet individual needs.

The giant stars are atom-smashers. The natural process within these stars is the splitting of atoms into protons and neutrons.

Outdoors In Texas

Tide tables are invaluable to the salt water fisherman. Sunrise and sunset times are equally important to the hunter.

Most newspapers every day list this information in their weather boxes. This is handy for the outdoorsman who plans to go fishing or hunting on a paper's date of issue. But what about the outdoorsman who wants to plan weeks, maybe even months ahead?

He can still get the information from the nearest U. S. Weather Bureau. But this takes time.

However, for an investment of $2 the outdoorsman can get all this information in book form covering the entire 12 months period. The book is TIDE TABLES, and it's published by the U. S. Department of Commerce. Actually there are four separate books — European waters, North and South America east coast, North and South America west coast and Pacific and Indian Oceans.

Since you're living in Texas, you'll want the book on North and South America east coast waters.

TIDE TABLES can be ordered through most book stores or by writing direct to the Coast and Geodetic Survey Service in Washington, D. C.

TIDE TABLES lists high and low water times for every day in the year. Behind each time listing is the tide height in feet in relation to mean low water.

Base points are taken all along the North and South America east coasts. For Texas the base point is Galveston. For other points on the Texas coast various corrections must be made by either adding or subtracting time. This, too, is covered in the book.

For example, on page 240 of the 1966 book time corrections as well as corrections for height in water are listed for such points as Sabine Pass

Jetty, Freeport Harbor, Pass Cavallo, Port O'Connor, Port Lavaca, Aransas Pass, Brazos Santiago and Port Isabel.

While tides have little influence on offshore fishing, they are of the utmost of importance when it comes to surf or bay fishing. Knowing in advance the tide times and water heights will enable you to map your fishing trip intelligently.

Pages 251 through 269 contain valuable information for the hunter. This section lists sunrise, sunset, moonrise and moonset times. And, of course, there are corrections for areas other than the base points listed.

With game laws being more strictly enforced every year, it's important to know exact sunrise and sunset hours and minutes in order to keep from running afoul of the law.

The book isn't hard to follow. Times are listed on the military system of 1 through 24. If you've had any military training at all, you'll know, for example, that a time listed in the book as 1430 is nothing more than 2:30 p.m. (2 hours and 30 minutes past 12:00 noon). Making corrections for areas listed between base points involves nothing more than simple arithmetic—addition or subtraction.

It's also a fine book for planning those out of Texas vacation fishing trips. You can find east coast tide tables all the way from Argentina, Newfoundland, to Punta Loyola on the southern tip of Argentina in South America.

In using this book one point must be taken into consideration. Remember all the predictions listed are made for constant and ideal weather conditions. Strong sustained winds influence tides by making them either higher or lower than the predicted height. The winds, however, do not influence the times of high and low tides, but only the height of the water.

Size-wise the book—10 inches by seven inches—and 3/4 of an inch thick—will fit neatly in your tackle box.

This book isn't something entirely new. The Coast and Geodetic Survey has been publishing TIDE TABLES since 1853. They are intended for the use of the mariner, but easily can be adapted to benefit your fishing and hunting.

Midland Rock Show Slated For Nov. 5-6

Remember the good old marble game and your highly prized agate shooter?

The Caudle collection of spheres—oversize marbles—will be one of the featured exhibits at the Midland Rock Show, November 5-6 at the National Guard Armory on North Lamesa Road.

The spheres, none of them alike, were cut and polished by W. H. Caudle of Jal, N. M., and are made of semi-precious gem stones—jade, agate, petrified wood, jasper, etc. They are all colors and patterns created by nature, which even the widest imagination of man could not dream up. Weights 3 1/2 to 10 pounds, they range in size from 3 to 6 inches in diameter.

This sphere collection will be entered in competition in the Master's Division at the National Gem and Mineral show in June 1967 in Washington, D. C.

Other special displays by guest exhibitors will be hand-crafted sterling silver jewelry by Dr. Victor Glover of Roswell, N. M., and Bart Mann collection of gold cups and chalices.

The fluorescent display will be one of the special attractions. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Keathley, who will assemble display, will describe and explain fluorescence and phosphorescence. They will demonstrate the types of luminescence in mineral and rock specimens excited by long and short wave ultra-violet lights.

Ultra-violet light enables one to see beautiful glowing spectacular colors and weird designs in rocks and minerals not visible under ordinary white light.

The Keathleys will stress commercially important minerals, where ultra-violet light plays an important part in prospecting for new deposits. One prized specimen will be scheelite, a major source of tungsten. Because of its very high melting point, tungsten is an alloy used in steel to make it hold a temper, for high speed tools. It is also used in filaments in television and radio tubes and light bulbs.

Black light plays an important role in oil exploration and locating uranium bearing minerals.

Working demonstrations under the direction of Charles McCamey will be another feature where visitors will have the opportunity to see a rough rock worked up into a piece of finished jewelry. Members of the Midland

The Nashville, Tennessee, Banner believes, "The term 'Gross National Product' has become a refuge for Washington spenders when they feel compelled to defend lavish expenditures beyond income. . . If a high 'Gross National Product' has been an economic Rock of Gibraltar, Germany would have been riding high when it took a bushel basketful of marks to buy a loaf of bread."

The heavily fortified North Sea Island of Helgoland was surrendered to Great Britain in 1945, demilitarized in 1947 and returned to West Germany in 1952.

"He that will not reason is a bigot; he that cannot reason is a fool; he that dares not reason is a slave." — William Drummond.

Gem and Mineral Society who sponsor the show, will display their lapidary work and specimens.

The Launching Pad

BEFORE another issue of the paper can roll from the press the general election will be in the history books. Absentee voting ceases on November 3 and the election will be held on Tuesday, November 8. All good citizens should vote. Sixteen amendments will be up for consideration and the very important United States senate race will be decided. Incumbent SENATOR JOHN TOWER is opposed by ATTY. GEN. WAGGONER CARR. This race promises to be close, according to the polls. Some of the experts claim that a light turnout at the polls will favor TOWER. They contend a heavy vote will favor CARR.

WE hear a lot these days about the changing times. Times have been changing through the decades, but we have never witnessed such a drastic face-lifting as is being pushed off on the people through the efforts of this administration. The "change" business is being mouthed and parroted by the lower level heads of the states—some referred to as mimicking vice-roys of political tycoons. In JEREMIAH, the sixth chapter and 16th verse we read: "Thus said the LORD. Stand ye on the ways and see, and ask for the old paths where the good way is and walk there in, and ye shall find rest for your soul." This text holds an appeal for many these days. It is especially significant to the old and young caught up in the current revolution. Jeremiah was one of the loneliest men in the Bible. Lonely, because he stood firm and fast against the tendencies of his day which he believed to be wrong. To take a firm stand against a popular feeling is very lonely business and few of us are inclined to do so. Just because there is change, does not necessarily mean that there is progress. The two words are not synonymous. We are in one of those feverish periods in history when some politicians and even preachers want to tinker with everything that is old, and have a new concept. Life may be more comfortable for some and our per capita income higher but our moral atmosphere has not improved. Jeremiah has called us to re-examine the old path of walking in the light of GOD, to find rest and encouragement for our souls in this time of change. MR. CONNALLY and LBJ will do well to learn again the words to the great old hymn which says: "Give me the old time religion, it was good for PAUL and SILAS so it's good enough for me."

WE had many telephone calls concerning our Variety column last week. According to our readers, we must have hit the economic nail right on the head. It is good to have the backing of the leading citizens in the community. MRS. RALPH CAFFEY, our efficient librarian, telephoned in to convey her endorsement of our comment concerning the fact that the farmer, the producer, and the grower are not responsible for the rising cost of living. We repeat here again, the government experts would attempt to place the blame on the little man, the taxpayers, if you please, but we all know better. You can't move Santa Claus Land to 1600 Pennsylvania, Washington, D. C. and set a world toyland up in the White House, and expect taxes to drop, inflation to wait, and the cost of living to go down. It's that simple!

HALLOWEEN vandalism was absent in Stanton Monday night. The county had the usual run of tiny door-to-door ghosts and goblins but among teenage spooks, there appeared to be a trend to more grown up doings. Many attended the Booster Club sponsored carnival. We always get a kick out of the visits of the young people to our door. They came to our house in droves, members of all races and we are delighted to have them. Every once in awhile Monday evening one of the tiny costumed and well masked goblins would sing out: "Hi, Neal." One little spook wanted to be sure we remembered when he used to visit a neighbor's son about his age. We made it a habit of seeing that the boys got Cokes or Dr Peppers when they played in our yard. It was good to have all the little guests come by again Monday night.

LYNDON added something new to our foreign policy program while shopping over in Thailand last week. He sent all the way back to America for a jazz saxophonist and had the musician flown to the royal court of Thailand's chief to play. That's adding jazz to razz-ma-tazz. Such capers may lead to peace but we don't think history records any wars being won with saxophones. It takes men and guns to win.

Owls Vs. Hawks

Owls have an advantage over hawks as birds of prey. Where hawks swoop down with noisy whirrs of their powerful pinions, the owls make the same deadly descent in complete silence, as their feathers are fringed with down.

Cedarwood timbers in some Egyptian pyramids are thought to have been imported from the Lebanon area during early dynastic times.
