The Federal Trade Commission says advertising which makes false claims about the benefits of various headache remedies must be halted. Control yourself, the commission in effect told manufacturers of pain relievers in proposing a new rule aimed at what it called "unfair and deceptive advertising practices" the FTC said are used to push sales on nonprescription painkillers. The commission inferred the public is likely to swallow claims that one type of pain reliever works faster or is stronger even though, said the FTC, it appears the various are equally effective. Manufacturers are going to be required to prove a given brand works faster, etc. than some other brand or hush broadcasting. Now a question comes to mind for the public. Which hurts the most—the real headache, the palaver about the fast cure—or the new edict to be enforced out of Washington? Can't they let us have anything to argue about concerning the powers of nonprescription medicine? Personally, I am an aspirin man.

Up until a few years ago most of the advertising spent on patent medicine was allocated to the weekly press. Such favorites as Black Draught, SSS, and others. The ad messages were pointed and simple. No claims of Black Draught working faster than castor oil or any of that hook'em and hook'um. No test was ever made by an expert off Madison Avenue to determine how soon or how quick Uncle Abe had to rush out to the 'Chick Sale' after downing a dose of nonprescription medicine. As a matter-of-fact, no one ever clocked the time of Uncle Abe's rush to the outside necessity building used by the rich, poor, and in-betweeners in the early days of this nation. It's the boob tube and the dapper-dons standing up before an unseen audience who started these claims of magic power in patent medicines. Manufacturers would do well to return their ad copy to the "Ole Reliable" country weeklies and tell the truth as they did in the yesterdays. Everyone knows that Dr. Moon's mineral oil can't hold a candle to castor oil even if it is also good for wagon greasing.

A very timely editorial appeared in THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM this week and we are picking it up and passing it along to our readers who might have missed it. "Committed To Conquest" is the title and it is good reading. MARTIN DIES, SR. of Beaumont, former Congressman, was one of the first statesmen to smell the invasion of pinks into this nation's government under the old ROOSEVELT regime. He was a man of deep conviction and brimming over with a term we might call TEXANISM. And when you blend TEXANISM with AMERICANISM you have an old-fashioned guy full of real patriotism. The ROOSEVELT crowd tried for years to crucify Congressman DIES and today in Washington we don't have the calibre of men up there who can hold a candle to him. I have a hunch that in 1968 a whole covey of new faces are going to rise up and once and for all chase that gang of unprecedented money spending, bunch of mediocre men now in Washington out of office. The war in Viet Nam, as RONALD REAGAN said the other day, is not a pale pastel affair and the public is in no mood to hear yapping about prosperity and peace while men are dying by the hundreds daily. That is another thing—we are not even sure that the correct number of fine young

TESCO Area Development Men, Cotton Experts Visit Stanton

Area Development representatives from Texas Electric Service Company and two cotton research economists were in Stanton Tuesday night, July 11, to confer with community leaders about opportunities available in this area for manufacturers of cotton products.

R. H. Browder, agricultural consultant for the Texas Electric Service Company, accompanied Carl Cox, director of the Cotton Research Committee of Texas, and W. F. Harris of the Cotton Economic Research Division of the University of Texas.

The meeting was part of a study which is being made by the two cotton research groups under the sponsorship of Texas Electric Service Company.

Community businessmen conferred with them on the specific advantages the textile industry might expect by locating facilities here.

The study underway will identify the products that can be manufactured from locally produced cotton and which of these products can economically be produced and marketed in this area. Harris and his staff at the University of Texas will determine the optimum size factory, the cost of operation, and profits that could be expected. They will consider return on investment, payout period and will prepare a detailed five-year proforma operating statement.

Cecil Bridges, (manager here for Texas Electric Service), stated that the study will be completed this fall and will then be presented to executives of the principal textile manufacturing firms throughout the nation.

Bridges said, "Helping to attract industry and create new jobs in the communities served by the company in West Texas is a continuing program of Texas Electric Service Company."

REUNION MUSIC—The Hank Singer Instrumental Group furnished music Tuesday afternoon in downtown Stanton for the meandering reunion visitors. Their program of entertainment was especially well received.

Vaughn B. Thomas

The parade, always a big feature, was just alright and the floats were very appropriately decorated. Winner of prize number one went to the Stanton High School Class of 1927. Twelve members graduated in that class and eleven of them were present for the reunion. All of the classmates are still living. A dinner honored the group on Monday evening in the Ray Simpson home.

Second award for the best entry in the parade went to the Lakeview Home Demonstration Club. The float was dedicated to a theme well remembered through the years—"In the Good Old Summer Time."

The Koffee Kup home Demonstration Club captured third place honors in the parade of floats.

Honorable mention went to the Stanton Cheerleaders, Cub Scout Pack 24 and the Stanton Music Club.

Downtown window displays were recognized as follows: James Jones Hardware, first place; Stanton Walgreen Drug, second place; Sheila Dress Shop, third; and Stanton Variety, fourth.

Epley, Washington, D. C. was announced the person traveling the longest distance to attend the reunion.

An important decision was made at the business session held Tuesday night. The reunion date for next year will be on Saturday, taking the place of the second Tuesday in July.

Bible Comment—

The Apostle Paul Criticized Laziness

The "helps" in the early Christian Church, to whom the Apostle Paul refers, were probably individuals who were particularly helpful toward fellow - Christians, or others in need of some form of aid or encouragement.

But there is another form of helpfulness with a pronounced social aspect, in which "helps" are as greatly needed in our world of today as they were needed in that ancient day of the church.

It is clear from various passages in the New Testament that, strange to say, there were two classes or two attitudes among those early day Christians.

To some, their allegiance to Christ and their place in the church meant giving all that they had.

But there were others who were in the church for what they could get out of it.

It seems strange that anyone should have joined a group like those early Christians except from faith and strong convictions.

But apparently there were those who took advantage of the genuine Christian to loaf, and who expected to be provided for, without themselves contributing.

This situation evidently became so acute that Paul, himself a very independent-minded and self-supporting worker, came down with severity upon them. He declared in no uncertain terms if a man among them did not work, neither should he eat.

It was in this same spirit that Paul declared that Christians should fulfill the law of Christ by bearing one another's burdens, but also that "every man should bear his own load."

Philosopher Says Cities Shouldn't Look To Him For Their Financial Salvation

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw has had some trouble napping, if we understand his letter correctly.)

Dear editor:

At first I thought I was suffocating but when I finally woke up under the tree where I was napping I discovered a copy of a big daily had blown over my face and when I flailed around and got it off I decided I might as well read it. Sometimes this is a good way to get back to sleep.

It didn't work, because of two articles I found it in.

One was a report quoting a big city mayor as saying every city in the United States needs help from Washington.

New York alone could use 10 billion in the next few years. The cities' problems are so big and so complex, he said, that the financial burdens are now too big to bear alone. "No big city can exist without help from Washington," he said.

"The problems of slum, ghettos, schools, crime, traffic, violence, drinkable water, sewage disposal, air pollution . . . these can't be solved without outside help."

The other article said the farm population has now dwindled to only 8 per cent of the population. In other words, 92 per cent of the population

Louisburg, N. C., Franklin Times: "The people elect men and women to public office, presumably because of the confidence they have in them. The people, rightfully, expect these officials to act in the people's best interest at all times. However, this confidence does not preclude the people's right to observe in person or to be informed of all actions taken by their chosen representatives."

JACKIE KENNEDY once said that JOHN CONNALLY was a pretty vain fellow with lots of big I's in his conversation. She pointed it out to BILL MANCHESTER in describing her visit with the Governor at pre-parade time in Dallas on that fateful November 22, 1963, when PRESIDENT KENNEDY lost his life to assassins, some perhaps, still unidentified by the WARREN Commission. MANCHESTER was the author picked by the KENNEDY family to write "The Death of a President." Well, "Big Jawn" is off to the bush country to hunt game Safari style with a bunch of Hollywood entertainers, golfers, and one or two plain old boys like PHIL HARRIS, allegedly long associated with a legend of consumption of strong beverages. It is not good for the state when a political prince attains such a status of self importance, as MRS KENNEDY, seemed to sense in MR. CONNALLY, that he begins to think he can change the spots on the leopards. Or could it be that the governor is out early pursuing the elephant, symbol of the GOP, in an endeavor to help keep his buddy up on the Potomac in office four more,

OEO Grant To Finance Area Anti-Poverty Study

An Office of Economic Opportunity grant for $211,919 to finance a study on "community needs" for a 21 county area — including Martin — has been announced by Congressman George Mahon.

Mahon said the money will cover program development and administration for a 12-month comprehensive study and development of projects in response to community needs.

The grant was applied for by the Tom Green County Community Action Council. The money will establish the Tom Green council as district headquarters for anti-poverty programs in Kimble, Sutton, Menard, Schleicher, Iraan, Coke, Sterling, Crockett, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glascock, Ward, Crane, Upton and Reagan Counties.

A breakdown of monies inter, Mrs. Ola Stubbs of Turkey, two brothers, J. A. Johnson of Turkey and R. E. Johnson of Truth or Consequences, N. M.; 15 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

involved shows $42,885 going for a study of poverty conditions in the area with an additional $168,000 for the establishment and administration of anti-poverty programs.

Both will be administered by the Tom Green County Community Action Council. Each local program will have its own board of directors, however.

According to the Tom Green council, the area has a population of 421,425 and an estimated 31 per cent living on poverty level incomes.

Officials of the Tom Green council said the money would be distributed equally to each county on the basis of poverty level of residents in that county.

Other government money — to the tune of almost $60,000 — was given the Tom Green group for use within Tom Green County.

If you are 20 to 35 years of age and would like to make $571 a month, see your nearest Texas Department of Public Safety office TODAY.

The National Association of Manufacturers reports that, "In two 5-4 decisions that will doubtless be extremely costly to the American public until corrected by Congress, the Supreme Court has held that labor unions may lawfully boycott and prevent innovations, improvements and economies in construction and other industries for the purpose of preserving their work just as it always has been."

Mr. James Reston, in his column in The New York Times of April 28, 1967, wrote: "When Secretary of Defense McNamara was asked . . . whether he agreed with Westmoreland's public observation that the critics of the Viet Nam war were 'helping the enemy', he replied: 'I have long spoken in favor of free speech in this country . . . It's what we have fought for for 200 years, domestically and internationally, and I would not like to see any action taken to in any way restrict it . . .'"

'Committed To Conquest'

Martin Dies, Sr. of Beaumont, former congressman and original chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, hasn't changed his thinking one bit concerning the Red menace.

In fact, he warns that civilization is more gravely menaced today than ever before.

Nuclear weapons are in the hands of two Communist dictatorships "committed to world conquest and bound by no religious restraint," Dies said in a recent address.

"No one but a fool would risk American survival on the promises of any Communist power," he said.

Yes, sir, the former congressman who knows from study and personal experience just what is meant by "committed to world conquest and bound by no religious restraint," warns again of these hazards.

Yet, there are those in and out of government who seem to believe the U.S. can and should lean over backwards in dealing with Communist powers, and on their promises.

They should heed the words of the former chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"There is something seriously wrong with our foreign policy," Dies said in his speech. "We are appalled by the fact that after all the billions we have spent on others, we are without a major ally and friend in the world."

He also cited America's "obsession with pleasure and luxuries, with sex and materialism" and noted "the evidence of moral decay."

Dies said the solution to America's problem is to preach the gospel for a long time to country in the face of derision, sarcasm and ridicule.

Here's hoping Martin Dies, Sr. will continue to preach the gospel for a long time to come. America should listen.

Drouth Threatens Greater Cotton Loss

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Monday reported the 1967 Texas cotton crop is down 215,000 acres over last year's short crop, and may drop many more acres because of a severe drouth in some sections.

Total acreage planted this year in Texas was 4,050,000, compared with 4,265,000 acres planted in 1966. But last year only 3,968,000 acres was harvested due to crop failure in various areas.

Texas is the biggest cotton-producing state in the nation. California, with 605,000 acres planted this year, is second. Nationally, the USDA reported 9,724,000 acres of cotton planted, down 6 per cent from 1966.

Thousands of acres of the 1967 crop in Texas already is at a critical stage because of severe dry spells in large sections of Central, South Central and South Texas, the USDA said.

Drouth Blamed

Much of the 215,000 acre drop from total acreage planted a year ago was attributed to the drouth at planting time during April and May in the southern sections.

The loss of acreage could mean severe financial loss to some farmers. Under normal conditions, farmers could expect to harvest up to $15 million in cotton on the 215,000 acres.

State Agriculture Commissioner John White reported last week that much of the Central Texas cotton crop "is a disaster," with acreage in some other sections suffering severely from the drouth.

Texas farmers harvested an average of 6,182,000 acres of cotton during the years 1960-64. However, beginning with last year's crop, total harvested acreage dropped severely under a federal surplus-reduction program.

During the past two years farmers have been required to divert from 12 to 35 per cent of their cotton acreage in order to be eligible under the government subsidy program.

How It Works

Under this program, a farmer is paid just over 11 cents per pound for projected cotton which he does not plant. In addition, the federal government pays him 9 cents per estimated pound for the crop which is planted. This subsidy is in addition to what the farmer receives when he sells his cotton on the market, which averaged 17 cents per pound in 1966.

Some dryland cotton acreage in the Southern High Plains also is in trouble because of the drouth. Much of the dryland acreage over the sou-

Sections through these regions have received little or no rain during the past three months.

However, much of the crop in the Blacklands is in good shape. This region begins around the Waco area and runs north through the Dallas-Fort Worth area and to the Red River. Rains have been good in this area in recent weeks.

If summertime cooking chores have you steaming, there's a refreshing breeze on the way from Reader's Digest. The magazine's July issue carries an unusual, 22-page detachable booklet featuring summer recipes and tips for outdoor entertaining. Here is one of the easy-to-prepare Patio Party dishes spotlighted in the booklet.

"It took me forty years," said an old man, "to learn three simple things: that I could not do anything to save my soul, that God did not expect me to, and that Christ has done it all." David taught that a long time ago. He said in Psalm 3:8, "Salvation becometh unto the Lord."

Some friends desired the freedom of a prisoner. They smuggled a pistol into the prison to subdue the guards and a ladder to scale the wall. Then they arranged the getaway car. "But," asked the prisoner, "how do I get out of my cell?" "That is up to you," they answered. He did not escape. He could not take the first step.

But the Lord has taken the first step in salvation. He loved the world so much that He gave His only Son. Now you must do one of two things: you must receive Him or reject Him. But some object, "Why cannot I be neutral and leave the Lord alone?" Because He will not leave you alone.

This saving Lord is a seeking Lord. He is seeking each individual through His Church — its worship and witness, the Scriptures and the sermons. He is seeking each one, seeking to give each one all that he needs for time and eternity. It is your move. What will you do with Jesus?

Connally To 'Star' On TV Safari Along With 'Der Bingle,' Others

Plans for a television network - financed African safari were confirmed by Gov. John Connally Friday.

Connally will travel with several Hollywood celebrities on the five week trip. He will leave July 19 for the hunt in Tanzania on the east coast of Africa and will return in late August.

Phil Harris Bing Crosby and television star David Janssen will travel with Connally on the safari to hunt "the big five" on a trip to be filmed for release on American Broadcasting Company's weekly program, "The American Sportsman."

The group will hunt elephant, rhinoceros, leopard, lion and cape buffalo, Connally said. He said the hunt will begin in extreme northern Tanzania on the Serengeti plains and then move southwest to the Selous region.

"I'm looking forward to it very much," said the governor. "This is something I have looked forward to all my life."

He said he planned to take a safari in 1965, but had to cancel at the last minute because of the uncertainty of the legislature.

Reagor Warns Tetanus Danger To Animals

Tetanus represents a dangerous problem especially in horses, if the animal is not properly treated, County Agent Reagor warns.

Although the horse is particularly vulnerable to tetanus, swine and sheep can be afflicted with the disease. Castration is the most common wound to all three through which the disease may enter.

Particular care should be taken when shoeing the horse or when docking or shearing sheep. Barbed wire injuries should be tended immediately to insure against infection, Reagor says.

Tetanus is caused by an anaerobe, an organism that grows in the absence of oxygen. The organism reproduces by spores and therefore can protect itself from its environment.

The organism produces a potent toxin affecting the nervous system. This is the

If a wound is noted, the animal should be given tetanus antitoxin. The animal should gain immediate immunity which will be effective for about two weeks.

If tetanus is detected or suspected, call your local veterinarian at once, Reagor advises.

Dallas Flower Show Slated At Fair Park

The Exchange Desk

MATADOR TRIBUNE: "A majority of 31 votes in Roaring Springs Saturday, rejected the plan to consolidate the Matador and Roaring Springs School Districts. Roaring Springs voted 71 for and 101 against, according to unofficial tabulations. It was necessary that both districts have a majority favoring the consolidation for the merger to become effective."

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER: "Target date for production at Pecos County's second sulphur plant is January 1, it was learned by the Pioneer late Wednesday by phone from officials of Sinclair Oil Corp. in New York City. Indications have been strong all week that Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. would enter the sulphur production business in Pecos County, but the first official announcement came Wednesday. The announcement comes on the heels of last week's impressive news that Duval Corp. will build a $5 million, full-scale sulphur plant on its property about 17 miles northeast of Fort Stockton."

THE MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT: "Leo E. Mullin of the Turkey area, received 7,000 small black bass to stock his lake on his land five miles east of Turkey yesterday afternoon. Joe Sanchez of the Game and Fish Commission's fish hatchery at Santa Rosa, N. M., arrived in Turkey promptly at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday to deliver the fish. Mr. and Mrs. Mullin met Mr. Sanchez at Turkey and led him to the lake for the unloading of the fish. On hand for the occasion were Leon Thurman and Willis McPhaul of the Farmers Home Administration, the agency which provided funds for building the lake on the Mullin land."

THE MUNDAY TIMES: "Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced a national allotment of 59.3 million acres for the 1968 crop of wheat. This acreage, the Secretary said, will produce the supply of wheat needed to meet expected domestic and export needs during the marketing year which begins July 1, 1968." R. T. Price, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, points out that the Secretary's decision follows widespread consultation with farmers, the trade, congressmen, and officials of other government agencies. During recent weeks, a series of 15 public hearings were held throughout the wheat-producing area with farmers and their representatives, processors, and the grain trade, and the vast majority favored an acreage allotment at the level announced. The national advisory committee on grains, meeting in Washington in May, also recommended a 1968 allotment at the same level."

THE JAYTON CHRONICLE: "Officers of the Kent County State Bank met in Jayton last Thursday and voted to pay a cash dividend of $10 per share on the stock. This represents a 10% dividend on the face value of the stock. There are 750 shares of stock, which means the total dividend amounted to $7,500.00. About six months ago the bank paid a 5% dividend."

SEMINOLE SENTINEL: "Forty questionnaires have been returned to the Seminole Area Chamber of Commerce office regarding the need for low-rent housing here, according to manager Joe Seagler. From the replies there is an indicated desire to have some 50 of the transient labor units, Seagler said. Farmers were asked if they needed additional housing for laborers and if they would use it if provided. One of the requirements to live in the FHA-financed units is that at least one member of the family must be employed on the farm, Seagler added. When the survey is completed the local steering committee will get with the FHA people and try to work out the details of the units, if they are felt to be actually needed here, he concluded."

THE EDEN ECHO: "With this issue — Volume SIXTY-ONE — Number One — The Eden Echo enters the threshold of its SIXTY-FIRST year of service to the people of Eden and Concho County. During the past sixty years, The Echo has continually held pace with the area that it serves, and at this time has one of the most modern printing plants to be found in a town of this size. . . many additions to its equipment and services have been expended during the past few years in both newspaper and commercial printing facilities so that our ever-increasing number of patrons may be better and more efficiently served."

THE McCAMEY NEWS: "Mrs. W. F. Patterson who has been serving as the Curator of the Mendoza Trail Museum since June 1st has announced 'good things' museum-wise in McCamey. Over 120 people visited the Mendoza Trail Museum during the month of June. These folks came from 39 towns in Texas, not counting McCamey, and six other states, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, California, and Utah."

THE HOUSTON COUNTY COURIER: "The 62nd semi-annual session of the Tex-La Neches Valley Singing Convention meets Saturday afternoon, Saturday night, and all day Sunday, July 15-16, in the air-conditioned school auditorium at Huntsville. Several thousand gospel singers and lovers of sacred music will gather at what some say is the nation's greatest gospel song festival. Admission is free. Organized 31 year ago in Angelina County, average attendance is 4,000 to 5,000—and at the 1961 session at Lufkin's Pentacostal Camp Ground 11,000 attended."

DENVER CITY PRESS: "The city council of Denver City has established a retirement policy for city employees. The policy was set by action taken by the council Monday night

Carolyn Taylor Honored With Shower June 29

Miss Carolyn Taylor, bride-elect of Paul Allen Jones, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower June 29, in the home of Mrs. Herman Lander, Jr.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dovie Pinkerton, Mrs. Glynnie Cain, Mrs. Judy Mashburn, Mrs. Johnnie Smith, Mrs. Leona Hightower, Mrs. Penny Woody, Mrs. Anita Johnson, Mrs. Obera Angel, Mrs. Anita Vest, and Mrs. Mickey Lander.

Wedding cookies and apricot punch was served from a table covered with a white net and a blue cloth. It was centered with a bride doll encircled in blue carnations. Milk glass appointments were used, and completing the decorations were blue napkins on which were engraved in silver, "Carolyn and Paul Allen." Fifteen persons were registered by Mrs. Tim Johnson.

Miss Taylor attired in a white suit, was presented a corsage of carnations. Mrs. Maggie Taylor, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Jones, mother of the bride-groom, were also presented corsages.

when the governing body authorized the retirement of 72-year-old Angel Nevarez when he becomes 73 in October. On a motion by Councilman Roy Akin, the officials authorized free city utilities to retired city workers on the basis of one year of utilities for each four years of municipal employment. A maximum of $25 worth of city utilities was set. The utilities involved are water, gas and garbage collection service. Councilmen agreed upon a retirement age of 65 years for city workers but authorized prolonged employment to age 68, based upon annual physical examinations and annual re-approval for work by the governing body."

STAMFORD AMERICAN: "The Retail Trade Committee of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce is currently conducting a market survey among the merchants. Roy Eisenbach, chairman, stated this was one of the first steps in improving a planned business program to have adequate and accurate information from which to build. He urged those who have received the blanks to fill them in and return to the C of C office as soon as possible so the information can be compiled and distributed to the business men. The survey will seek to establish the imaginary outline of the primary business market area and perhaps to suggest development of new areas."

MORTON TRIBUNE: "It took something more than 150 minutes to play, added several hundred bruises to tired bodies, provided a couple of thousand laughs and put more than $100 into the kitty for a new Scout Hut. What it was was softball, played in an inimitable style by the Morton Lions and the Morton Jaycees. What the score was was atrocious. . . more like football than anything else. But, as one lion said wearily, 'It's not how you play the game that counts. . . it's whether you win or lose.' And the Lions staged a late-inning rally sometime before midnight to win 34-28."

THE ALPINE AVALANCHE: "Texas motorists will pay about $4.2 million less for auto insurance under new insurance rates which go into effect Aug. 1. The one percent average statewide reduction in the cost of private automobile insurance policies was approved by the State Board of Insurance Monday, July 3 in Austin. For motorists in Brewster and Jeff Davis counties, the new auto insurance rates for next year will save the average motorist about $10. Under the new rates approved, drivers in Brewster and Jeff Davis counties using a new Ford or Chevrolet for pleasure and driving to and from work will pay $5 less for their $100 deductible collision insurance ($42 instead of the present $47). According to Sammy Satt, chief rate actuary for the Texas Insurance Board in Austin, the standard 10-20-5 liability coverage will go up $1 ($43 instead of $42). Liability includes $23 for injury and $20 for property damage."

THE STANTON REPORTER, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1967—7

Texas Baptists Donated More Than $6,000,000

Texas Baptists through almost 4,000 churches have given more than $6,000,000 to missions since the first of the year, R. A. Springer, treasurer of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, has announced.

Springer also announced that gifts for the month of June total $1,044,122.29 to exceed the monthly budget by $25,372.99.

Springer said $6,303,305.18 was given through the Cooperative Program for January through June 1967, compared to the $6,029,405.80 given during the same period in 1966. The 1967 total represents an increase of $273,899.38 over the past year.

The June gifts brought Cooperative Program giving for the six months period to $190,805.18 more than the budgeted $6,112,500.

The Cooperative Program, the missionary arm of Texas Baptists, is a unified budget plan for undesignated receipts. Funds given by individual churches support Southern Baptist work in Texas, throughout the Southern Baptist Convention and in many foreign countries.

Designated giving for the January through May period reached $3,954,161.56 compared $3,938,950.15 for the same period in 1966. Designated gifts include the Lottie Moon Christmas offering of $2,770,012.81 and the Annie Armstrong offering of $668,730.97.

Springer said total mission giving for June was $1,160,042.34 bringing the total for the January through June period to $10,257,456.74. During the same period in 1966 total mission giving reached $9,968,355.95.

WEST TEXAS lost a good minister and widely known evangelist last week when death claimed MR. ALVA JOHNSON. The Turkey resident was the eldest member of a family known in Church of Christ circles throughout this area. DOYLE CORDER, local Church of Christ minister, was a grand nephew and ELLMORE JOHNSON, formerly of Stanton, now of California, was a nephew. Many friends turned out for the final rites conducted in Turkey on Friday of last week.

I HEAR by the legal grapevine that a new Family Code is being worked on by a group of lawyers to be submitted to the next Legislature. The touchy question of alimony is being handled gingerly by the drafting attorneys for Texas. Behind the consideration of an alimony recommendation is a belief, held by some of the lawyers working on the new divorce law, that a share of community property is no longer a fair share for a divorced wife. How come? Texas needs alimony about like Stanton needs parking meters. It is our view that big alimony payments will lead to an increase in divorce cases and will put a man in a box where he can't even think of trying to remarry for keeping up alimony payments. The woman in the case might be content to live off the alimony, plus what she can make personally, and not want to remarry. Thus, the American home would suffer. I agree with the late JOHN BARRYMORE'S definition of alimony. If you can't recall his opinion, I suggest one look it up.

IN a recent issue the name of PAT BRUTON was omitted from a news story concerning the opening of THRIFTWAY SUPER MARKET. PAT is a valued employee of the store and his responsibilities are appreciated by the young likeable fellow. He didn't mention the absence of his name in the story, one of his employers did. PAT was good enough to laugh with us about the omission of his name, saying: "I thought maybe I was in the dog-house." While we are on the correction trail this week it is a good time to mention sometime ago the name of GUY SPINKS, the contractor, was spelled wrong. We really pulled a dud on the spelling of GUY'S last name. It is enough to say here our young friend's name appears right this time and we won't say how it was spelled the first time a few weeks ago for fear of being bashed in the mouth. Sorry about that GUY.

ANOTHER Old Settlers' Reunion celebration is in the record books. Many of the old-timers were back for the two-day event this year but one only has to attend the memorial services held annually to realize how many have passed on in the last few years. To avoid ending this paragraph with a sad sentence we hastily add the parade was just fine, the women pretty, the men all handsome and plenty of pep and vigor was exemplified by those working on the committees under the leadership of reunion chief BOB DEAVENPORT.

TUESDAY was a busy day in Stanton for everyone. The editor started early and was down with the crowd snapping photos. Several evening meetings turned up on the agenda too. TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY sponsored a meeting starting Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. A good group turned out. The story appears in this issue. Then the long baseball game caught some of the local sports flat-footed with that 15 inning affair on tv. Needless to say, that group of ball fans, spent the evening glued to their chairs. They tell me it was some contest. The Nats won over the American leaguers by 2-1 in 15 innings.

IT was a tough tour of duty here in the paper Tuesday. MAC MCKAY and your writer started at 6 a.m. and shut off at midnight. The 18-hour stretch was absolutely necessary else readers wouldn't be reading the OLE RELIABLE early Thursday morning. We won't want to leave ALYNE out either. We pressed her in service on a new assignment Tuesday afternoon and she came through splendidly. Out of personal interest, I am sure, some of my friends keep asking me when I plan to go back to the doctor and the dentist. Well, it appears that all our days have been Tuesdays lately. Maybe that answers their friendly questions.

NEAL'S NUGGET: Last year, LBJ said an unbalanced budget helped the economy. This year, he says a tax increase is necessary because the budget is unbalanced. Welcome to the NEW ARITHMETIC.

L. D. Stripling Guest Speaker At Lions Meet

Lion President Tom Ed Angel, at the first official meeting for the fiscal year 1967-1968, called the Stanton Lions Club to order at noon Tuesday, July 11, at Belvue Restaurant.

Program Chairman James Eiland introduced L. D. Stripling, who brought the program on highlights of his experiences concerning his recent visit to South America.

Stripling displayed artifacts he had gathered from Indian villages in Brazil and along the Amazon River.

Stripling revealed the contrast in the ranchlands of South America with lush grass eight feet tall to the sparse scrubby patches of West Texas grass lands.

Stripling's mission to South America was to drill a water well. This he accomplished with a native-built cable-tool rig. Water was produced in abundance at the depth of 71 feet, but production of the water at such a tremendous depth was unheard of by the natives. The largest production equipment available was a two horse power jet pump.

After returning to the States, Stripling has sent adequate equipment to produce the necessary water for the community in which the well was drilled.

In the absence of Lion Sweetheart Pauline Wood, Tom Ed Angel accompanied at the piano while Lion Paige Eiland led the group singing.

The incident was said to be triggered by welfare recipients demanding increased allowances. . . . Next thing you know someone will form a union of welfare recipients and we'll have strikes for bigger and better doles."

Count the days till spring when you can zip into the very latest miniclotte. You might say a mini-for-all-seasons. Most exciting in a wild print but for the more conservative, you can have yours in a solid.

Mr. Don Brotzman, U. S. Representative from Colorado, recently noted: "More peculiar federal projects have been brought to my attention since I objected . . . to several strange scholarly research grants, including $15,000 to the University of California at Los Angeles for preparation of a dictionary of folklore, magic, and witchcraft. Now I find that you, the taxpayer, are also spending $5,000 for analysis of violin varnish used prior to 1737, $20,000 to study German cockroaches, and $11,782 for a social history of French medicine from 1789-1815."
