The most appropriate and most economical way I know to send greetings to friends at Christmastime is by using the columns of THE STANTON REPORTER. Why buy expensive cards, have them printed, take the time to address them, buy postage for cards, when you can get a nice space with holiday border around it for very little money. Call or come to see us today about your personalized holiday messages to friends.

Just 20 more shopping days until Christmas when you take the Sundays away. Three more issues of the newspaper. Please get your holiday ads in early, and get your fine specials in the county newspaper so you will benefit from the extra selling period. Let's make this a trade-at-home Christmas. Local merchants have just as good merchandise as can be found anywhere but the customers need to know about the Christmas bargains. Why not use the paper to tell them? I think we can sell some $4,000 automobiles, some $1,000 color tv sets, and a whole lot of toys if we just get the chance to advertise them for our local merchants. Try us.

One of the nicest courtesies you can show guests and loved ones visiting in your homes this Christmas is to report their visits to the hometown newspaper. Just call us anytime and we will take your personals. There is no charge for news items. Use the columns of the paper free for listing visitors. The phone number is 756-3344.

The Texas Department of Public Safety has urged us to ask our subscribers for cooperation in safe driving during the Christmas holidays. Go where you please and drive carefully on the highways. Start in time and be sure you keep your best driving manners on display. There is no substitute for courtesy. Make this Christmas a happy one by driving safely and soberly.

The abrupt change in weather in the past few hours has been pretty disagreeable but it has also signaled the fact that wintertime is here. Cold, crisp days are expected in December. As a matter-of-fact, most of us feel the holiday spirit in evidence when the brisk winds blow.

The STANTON GARDEN CLUB is again sponsoring the residential Christmas lighting contest. A coupon blank appears in this issue of the paper. Fill it in and mail to the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. It is always a happy pleasure to contribute free publicity to the annual holiday lighting contest. Our city and county looks a great deal better when the homes are lighted for the Yuletide.

Be sure and get your Christmas packages in the mail as early as possible. Try and have your out-of-town packages ready to go to friends before December 15. To insure men in service to have your packages on time why not mail them today or this week.

Deaths on the nation's streets and highways mounted steadily during the Thanksgiving holidays but when the dangerous period ceased the record of highway slaughter for last year was not topped. This we have to be thankful for. With the proper caution, the highway fatality figures can be reduced.

Christmas Lights To Sparkle Friday

The columns of this issue of The Stanton Reporter are brimful of interesting holiday gift suggestions. The items are priced right and these Dollar Day values certainly should and will be appreciated by the buying public.

Scan the columns of the paper. If you find something in the ads you like, go down and have the business firm wrap it up for quick delivery or put it on lay-a-way.

McReynolds Returns To Chamber Duty

H. M. McReynolds returns to the Martin County Chamber of Commerce office December 1 as office manager.

McReynolds will replace Mrs. Lita B. Eldson, temporary replacement manager who assumed the duties of the office several months ago when Mr. McReynolds left due to illness.

Cecil Bridges, president of the chamber, made the announcement here Wednesday morning.

McReynolds has been interested in Chamber of Commerce programs in West Texas for many years.

Reporter To Use Christmas Letters Again

This year The Stanton Reporter will again publish letters to Santa Claus.

The letters received by the paper will appear in the issues of December 7, December 14, and December 21. Address your letters to "Santa Claus, Stanton Reporter, Stanton, Texas."

Santa will be very busy this year, so get your letters in early. If you children are too young to write, ask your mummies and daddies to write them for you. Your letters will appear in a special col-

DUE DECEMBER 15—Santa Claus is due to arrive in Stanton on Friday, December 15, but his heavy schedule may delay his annual visit until December 16. The Chamber of Commerce will announce the date in the next issue of The Stanton Reporter. One thing is for sure — Santa will be here for a pre-Christmas visit with all the boys and girls of Martin County. Watch the newspaper for this important announcement.

McGrath and Smith Inc. of Midland plans to re-enter No. 1 - A Hatchett, a 12,113 foot failure in Martin County, and plug back to 9,800 feet to test the producing ability of the Dean-Wolfcamp.

It spots 1,650 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 23, block 36, T-3-N, T&P survey, seven miles northeast of Tarzan. It was originally drilled by Texaco Inc. and abandoned in 1957.

Santa's Visit Expected To Be Announced

The sparkle of Christmas lights will be seen in Martin County Friday night, December 1 when the holiday season officially gets underway.

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce made arrangements for the Yuletide ornaments and lights and the town is expected to look as bright as usual in holiday dress.

Strings of multi-colored electric bulbs have been put in place and the traditional candy canes decorate the downtown business section. Travelers on U. S. Highway 80 will be impressed with the lighted courthouse dome as they have in the past. This centerpiece of the decorations has attracted widespread attention from tourists passing through Stanton has caused the city to gain wide recognition from admiring travelers who paused to view the lights atop the temple of justice.

Santa Claus will be coming to town again this year but arrangements for his arrival have not been announced by the Chamber of Commerce. James Jones, chairman of the retail merchants committee, Paige Eiland and Cecil Bridges and other chamber leaders, have indicated the arrival date will be either December 15 or December 16. Ample time remains for the official announcement through the columns of this newspaper before the visit of the Jolly Man from the North Pole who always wears a red suit.

The downtown stores have joined in the holiday spirit by decorating their stores and attractive Christmas merchandise is currently on display in all the stores.

In this issue of the "Ole Reliable" several ads appear announcing specials for Dollar Day and the pre-Christmas advertising will be brisk as local merchants bring their many bargains during the Christmas season to their customers through newspaper advertising.

Medical Folklore Usually Wrong

While much of medical folklore is now obsolete and largely forgotten, there are still many completely erroneous beliefs about their health held by sizeable numbers of people in our so-called age of enlightenment.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family, points out that grandma is not always wrong in her concepts of health. But she often is wrong. The book lists some of the common misconceptions about health—

- Eating between meals is always harmful (untrue).
- Bad breath means disease (not so).
- Milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits (not so).
- Proteins and carbohydrates should not be eaten at the same meal (incorrect).
- Daily bowel movements are necessary for health (untrue).
- Pain in the back must indicate kidney disease (incorrect).
- Pain in the abdomen means an overloaded stomach (wrong).
- A laxative is good for abdominal pain (it is sometimes dangerous).
- Food kept in an open tin can is necessarily poisonous (not if properly refrigerated).

- Scales from scarlet fever and measles spread the disease (nose and throat secretions actually do).
- Sewer gas makes people sick (no—it's just unpleasant).

- Pimples and boils indicate bad blood (they are due to infections).
- Boric acid strengthens the eyes (it does not).
- Fried and highly seasoned foods are harmful (not in moderation).
- A cold can be broken up or cured (it cannot).
- You feed a cold and starve a fever (no).
- Eye muscle exercises will eliminate the need for glasses (a dangerous fallacy).
- Vegetarianism is good for health (it simply makes good nutrition more difficult).

Texas Food Roundup

Plain or fancy, potatoes provide a treat for every meal of the day.

They're among our most versatile vegetables. Preparation is limited only by the cook's imagination.

Both Irish and sweet potatoes are abundant at Texas produce markets this week. Cabbage also continued in unusually good volume.

Increased offerings cause prices to ease on some varieties of apples. Bananas, grapefruit and Texas oranges sold cheaper at most locations, along with cabbages, cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, spinach and tomatoes.

Such items as strawberries, tangerines, pole beans, eggplant, green peppers and yellow squash cost more, according to market news offices of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The season's first arrivals of Texas tangerines appeared at a few points.

Turkeys, broilers and pork remained the most plentiful among protein foods. Eggs showed a slight price gain during the week, but still are most attractively priced.

District Has A Chance Of Reaching Bond Quota

District 4 has a fair chance of attaining its United States Savings Bonds quota for 1967.

October sales reports and those for the first three-quarters of the year show that the district is keeping pace, according to Larson Lloyd, district chairman.

October sales jumped back up in reaching $133,103, thanks to a hefty surge in Scurry County, where $38,103 in bonds were bought. The total for the year crossed the million dollar mark, hitting $1,008,063, not far off the entire 1966 quota of $1,100,000.

This year's quota is $1,400,000 for the district, and through October sales amounted to 72 per cent. If the October pace can be increased slightly, the district could approach its 1967 target, Lloyd pointed out. One county, Martin (headed by James Jones), has exceeded its total for the year. Only Andrews and Gaines are lagging badly.

This is the way the October sales picture (with cumulative sales in parentheses) and percentage of quota for the year stack up:

Andrews	$7,063	($53,792)	60
Dawson	$7,656	($92,294)	71
Gaines	$2,672	($39,581)	34
Howard	$56,003	($533,573)	76
Martin	$6,052	($30,210)	101
Mitchell	$15,535	($134,170)	79
Scurry	$38,103	($133,443)	78
Totals	$133,103	($1,008,063)	72

Area I (the Panhandle and western half of West Texas) sales amounted to $924,342 making $9,625,797 or 65 per cent of the 1967 quota. Texas sales for October reached $14,689,704 making $139,007,131 for the year, or 77 per cent of the year's quota.

Water Rights Act Becomes Effective September 1968

The Texas Water Rights Commission announced today that it had begun distribution of reporting forms required by the Water Rights Adjudication Act of 1967.

Persons using public surface water in Texas for any purpose other than for domestic or livestock uses without a permit are required by recent legislative action to file a sworn statement with the Texas Water Rights Commission for recognition of their claim. This must be done no later than September 1, 1968.

The Water Rights Adjudication Act, effective August 28, 1967, provides that all claims of water rights must be recorded with the Water Rights Commission. These claims must be valid under existing law and will be limited to actual use. All water rights are to be adjudicated and administered by the commission "to the end that the surface water resources of the State may be put to their greatest beneficial use," to quote the new law.

This act will not affect users of ground water. Users of surface water for domestic or livestock purposes only also will not be affected. The new law applies to and may limit claims to riparian waters, waters diverted or impounded for use other than for domestic and livestock purposes. . . . claims to water rights under the Irrigation Acts of 1889 and 1895 which were not filed with the State Board of Water Engineers in accordance with the Irrigation Act of 1913, as amended . . . and all other claims to water rights for which permits or certified filings have not been granted.

Only the maximum volume of water beneficially used by claimants during any one year from 1963 to 1967, inclusive, will be recognized under the new law. If an individual has expanded his water application facilities prior to this act but has not fully used the facilities, the volume used without waste from 1963 to 1970, inclusive, will be recognized. These individuals will need to file an additional sworn statement on or before July 1, 1971, to include the additional two years.

Water authorities have explained there will never be enough water in Texas for each individual to have an equal share. Therefore, available public water must be appropriated to individuals based on priority, necessity and legal right. The Water Rights Adjudication Act is designed to protect the rightful users of public waters from waste and unlawful users.

The act empowers the commission to adjudicate water rights in the State. Adjudication of a stream may be initiated upon the commission's own motion, by a petition signed by ten or more claimants of water rights on the same stream, or upon a petition by the Texas Water Development Board.

The new law contains detailed procedures to insure due process and notice. Judicial review of the commission's final determination is mandatory.

The eventual determination in every water right adjudication will be final. The Water Rights Adjudication Act provides, "Except for domestic and livestock purposes or rights subsequently acquired by permit, no water rights shall be recognized in the adjudicated stream or segment unless included in the final decree."

Upon final determination of water rights on a stream, the commission will issue a certificate of adjudication to each person found to have a water right. All permits for unappropriated water granted after a stream is adjudicated will be administered in the same manner as an adjudicated right.

During drought periods, especially on larger streams, it will be necessary to closely supervise all rights. The commission will divide the State into water divisions and appoint watermasters to regulate stream flow and water usage. Any person dissatisfied with the actions of a watermaster may appeal to the commission and then to the courts.

The watermaster and necessary assistants will be paid by the commission which in turn will be reimbursed by the holders of water rights.

Water users on non-adjudicated streams may enter into a written agreement with the commission for administration of the stream flow and a special watermaster will be assigned.

The Water Rights Adjudication Act involves three basic premises. The act provides for up-to-date recording of all water right claims in the State, for the adjudication of these rights on streams upon filing of necessary petitions, and for the administration of adjudicated rights during times of water shortage to insure that rights and priorities are protected.

The recording forms may be obtained free of charge from the Texas Water Rights Commission, P. O. Box 12396, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Turkey Tops Plentiful Food List

Let's talk turkey for December.

Marketings are expected to run above a year ago on this traditional bird, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

That's why the U. S. Department of Agriculture has placed turkey at the top of the December plentiful foods list. Other foods in abundant supply include oranges, grapefruit, cabbage, broilers, and grape juice.

This season's production of early, mid-season and Navel oranges is forecast at 71.2 million boxes — or 28 percent above last season's record crop. The 1967 grapefruit crop is set at 38.7 million boxes. So, any way you look at it, you know there's going to be plenty of citrus for your holiday needs.

A 23 percent increase over last year in cabbage production means plentiful supplies of this popular vegetable, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. Winter cabbage will come from growing areas as Texas, California, Florida, and Arizona.

Marketings of broilers in December are expected to approach the extremely high levels of a year ago. Plan to utilize this favorite protein item in your cooking needs.

Large carryover stocks coupled with another good production year for Concord grapes has made an abundance of grape juice available.
