The red carpet will be out the remainder of this week to take care of some mighty distinguished visitors expected to arrive in the county in time to help celebrate the OLD SETTLERS REUNION on Saturday, July 13. Yes sir, folks, your friends and loved ones here in Stanton are going to entertain you royally. This annual event — the reunion of old friends and schoolmates — is always a treasured time and this year the executives of the association are going all out to bring a suitable program of fun, food, entertainment, and of course the traditional memorial service.

Any newsman worth his salt knows when he is editorializing in a story. Columns, such as this one, and editorials on the regular editorial page, are reserved for the personal views of the editors. Some of the reporters traveling from time to time with President JOHNSON write little one and two sentence editorials into their press releases. The Associated Press man who covered the recent JOHNSON trip to Salvador was really guilty of expressing his personal, emotionally charged opinion in a story that should have "stuck to the facts." In describing LBJ's trip to the countryside in the tiny little country, he wrote: "It must have reminded the President of similar contrasts at home and, perhaps a bit wistfully, of political campaigns and swarming crowds of people." This is a clear case of editorializing in a news story supposed to be factual. This guy went so far as to imagine what was running through JOHNSON's head. His synthetic sentence of sentimentalism bounced off the eyes of the Salvadorans, those who could read, but it smacked of politics. Some voters still think JOHNSON will try again for the nomination. Of course, he can now have his party's nomination if he wants it. All he has to do is tell the monkey-mouth HUBERT to "go sit down clown," and he can get the nod since SENATOR KENNEDY has been moved out of the way through assassination. Watch for more editorializing in journalism by some of the paid henchmen who just might be engaged in some of that wistful day-dreaming too.

Those fortunate enough to be among the attendants at the OPTIMIST CLUB installation ceremonies the past Friday evening surely were treated with some delicious food. The food was prepared by MRS. M. L. KOONCE and MRS. ALLEN and RICHARD PAYNE, master of ceremonies for the affair, expressed thanks to the ladies and to SAM HOUSTON of the Cap Rock staff for use of the Willie Wirehand room.

MRS. MORGAN HALL telephoned us Tuesday to advise that the Old Settlers Reunion would be held in the American Legion Hall in case of bad weather. No doubt BUELAH MAE was made conscious of the possibility of rain due to the hard rain storm that struck Stanton late Monday afternoon and early Monday evening. If the weather is fair the program will be reeled off at City Park as usual.

Approximately 1,200 directories will be distributed, said Harry Sawyer, manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

CRMWD Shows Water Gains During June

Water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District showed a gain for the first time this year during June.

Stanton joined the district and took water for the first time. Stanton used 7,677,700 gallons.

During the month the district pumped 1,298,329,498 660 per cent more than June of last year.

Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring, and Snyder accounted for 919,147,500 of this, or 4.92 more. Big Spring, however, with 294,336,000 gallons was off 1.23 per cent, while Snyder's 83,691,500 gallons was up 23.75 per cent, and Odessa's 541,120,000 gallons was up 6.02.

The oil companies used 371,504,298 gallons, up 8.66 per cent over deliveries of June 1967.

For the year, the district has delivered 5,769,651,178 gallons, which is still 9.71 per cent under the 6,380,063,428 for the first half of 1967. Cool damp weather has cut down sharply on member-city consumption so far this year.

WALKER HONORED—Floyd Walker was awarded the Friend of the Boy pin in ceremonies here Friday night when the Stanton Optimist Club installed new officers. Bob Cain, new secretary of the local organization is pictured delivering the award to Walker.

Bullets Fly During High Speed Chase Across County

Several bullets sailed through the air Tuesday afternoon as police pursued a 17-year-old youth across Martin County before he was stopped at a road block in West Midland.

The chase started in Big Spring after Howard County officers attempted to question Thomas Daniels, suspected of automobile theft in Oklahoma.

Sheriff Dan Saunders said Lawton, Oklahoma authorities had notified Big Spring officers to be on the lookout for the wanted man. They also stated the suspect was serving a suspended sentence.

Stanton officers got in the act when Deputy G. B. Therman picked up the man's trail at the east Martin County line.

Beneficial Rain Socks It To Martin County

A highly welcome and exceptionally beneficial rain socked it to Martin County Monday afternoon and returned for an encore later in the evening.

Total moisture reported captured during the double-barreled downpour amounted to one and one-half inches.

Optimist Officers Installed Friday

New officers for the Stanton Optimist Club were installed in impressive ceremonies at Cap Rocks Willie Wirehand Room at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening.

Wanted Man Returned Here By Saunders

Sheriff Dan Saunders returned to Stanton from Roswell, New Mexico, on July with a man wanted on armed robbery charges in Martin County.

Saunders advised the newspaper that Duff Gonzales who eluded officers of Martin and several surrounding counties on March 28 was arrested at Roswell.

The Martin County officer said charges of armed robbery had been filed against Gonzales and the grand jury returned an indictment against him at the June session.

Sheriff Saunders said he also has several charges of burglary pending against him. Some of the houses he allegedly entered included those of F. Springer, Dean Fleming, A. H. Tate, Richard Parker, and Enos Ramsey.

Inadequate Wiring Is Common Problem

Inadequate wiring on many farms causes voltage drops of 10 percent or more. This amounts to 12 volts on a 120-volt circuit, explains W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer.

This means a decrease in light output from lamps by 30 percent, he notes. The power of a motor is reduced about 20 percent from a 10 percent voltage drop. Heating equipment will give only 80 percent of its rated heat output under such conditions.

Many new and expanded uses of electricity that were not foreseen has made the wiring installed several years ago inadequate for today's use.

There's just one answer to overloaded farm wiring, says the Texas A&M University specialist. That is to modernize the wiring system. Sometimes larger size wire is needed in the feeder lines to the various buildings. Additional electrical circuits are often needed in farm structures. In some cases, wiring can be remodeled to meet present day needs at relatively little expense. In other situations, a major rewiring job is needed, says the engineer.

For farmers needing help on planning a remodeling of their wiring system, he suggests a visit with their electrician or the agricultural engineer with their electric power supplier.

Philosopher Says 48-Minute Coffee Breaks May Produce Lots Of Peace Workers

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw reflects on a sidelight of the Paris Peace Conference this week.)

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday morning studying about doing some farm work and wondering why it is people are always hijacking airplanes but nobody ever hijacks a tractor when a newspaper started blowing along the ground toward me and I watched it hoping it'd get near enough so I wouldn't have to get up and luck was with me and it fell right in my lap right side up, so I started reading. The tractor probably wouldn't have started anyway, maybe it will tomorrow, although I've never believed in putting off till tomorrow what you can off till the day after that, and I'm not prejudiced against next week.

A heading caught my attention: PARIS PEACE TALKS MAKING PROGRESS.

It's about time, I said, and read that while nothing definite has been agreed upon and North Viet Nam was still saying the way to end the war is for us and South Viet Nam to surrender, still an atmosphere of cordiality is believed developing because the representatives are now taking longer coffee breaks together.

"Today's coffee break lasted 48 minutes," the report said, adding that this is interpreted as a good sign.

This is a new wrinkle in international diplomacy and it may have worldwide reverberations. I can see office workers in a thousand cities now, including maybe Stanton, stretching their coffee breaks out to 48 minutes and claiming they're doing it in the interest of international peace. With two or three breaks a day, you can see what a strong effort this will be toward settlement of international conflicts. There may be more peace workers in this world than anybody ever dreamed of.

Of course it may cause business to go broke but you can't have everything.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rains the last two weeks on the San Powell and Glen Brunson ranches in Glasscock County have amounted to seven inches and formed two huge lakes, one on the Brunson ranch and the other on the Powell ranch. Glen Brunson was plowing with a tractor and left it in the field when he quit work in the evening. Next morning after the flood came the tractor was buried in about seven feet of water. Grab hooks were used and it was several days before the tractor could be rescued.

Students Plan Demonstration For LBJ's Visit

The Committee to End the War in Vietnam (CEWV) at the University of Texas said it would demonstrate during President Johnson's tour of HemisFair Thursday.

The demonstration also will be supported by the Austin and San Antonio Committees for Peace and Freedom, said CEWV's Jim Damon.

"Despite his ostensible efforts to negotiate a settlement of the war in Vietnam, the President has consistently refused to recognize the National Liberation Front in Vietnam, the only government supported by millions of Vietnamese opponents of the military dictatorship in Saigon," Damon said.

The demonstration also will be in protest of state subsidies for the "lavish" HemisFair at a time of domestic crisis caused by poverty and malnutrition, he said.

San Salvador Press Raps LBJ Guard

Newsmen from five Central American countries complained bitterly that the U. S. Secret Service men and heavily armed guards blocked them from ceremonies and meetings of the regional summit conference held last week when Johnson visited San Salvador.

Two Salvadorean photographers said their cameras had been broken by the Americans guarding Johnson and they were not allowed in the motorcade from the airport.

The bullet proof car President Johnson rode in kept the domed top up all the time. Some of the crew tossed three paint bombs and eggs at the presidential car.

One of the visiting newsmen remarked that it "looked like the American army turned out to guard Johnson."

A&M Specialist Says Swine Production Up

Swine production in Texas has been rather limited in the past, but is on the upswing and could become very profitable for growers if they follow a few guidelines, Dr. Donald B. Hudman, extension swine specialist at Texas A&M University, says.

The litter size at weaning is an important consideration in raising hogs, and the more pigs produced, the more return to the producer. An average of nine pigs per litter is a realistic and profitable goal. By raising the average from seven to nine pigs at weaning it is possible to lower costs by

Federal Aid Apportionment Nels Texas One Million

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has been apportioned $1,105,000 in federal aid funds for fish and wildlife restoration projects, according to the U. S. Department of the Interior. Date for the preliminary distribution is scheduled for July 1; however, another distribution will be made in the fall.

Of this total, wildlife restoration projects will get $870,000 and fisheries $235,000. Under the federal aid programs, the state is reimbursed for up to 75 percent of the cost of approved projects.

These restoration funds come from federal excise taxes collected from manufacturers, importers, and producers of certain types of hunting and fishing license holders and total area of the state.

Texas and Alaska are scheduled for $1,105,000 each for the July 1 distribution of the $22.1 million, while California followed with $1,081,000, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands each are scheduled for $10,000.

Thomas of Pawnee. The bride is a junior student, majoring in elementary education, at the University of Oklahoma. She is a member of Delta Delta social sorority. A junior majoring in marketing and advertising at OU, the bridegroom is a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity.

Servicemen Can Shorten Stay In Army

The Army is putting into effect a new regulation that will enable GIs to get out of the service sooner by staying in Vietnam longer.

Servicemen having 90 days or fewer remaining in their hitch at the time they finish their Vietnam tours have been eligible for immediate release on the grounds they had too little time to bother with a stateside assignment.

The new regulation raises the period to 150 days and allows GIs to extend their Vietnam tour enough so they have fewer than that number of days left in the service when they leave the war zone.

If a man in Vietnam has six months left to serve, for example, he will be permitted to extend his tour there by one month to qualify for an early release of nearly five months when he returns home.

He otherwise would have to stay in the whole six months when he got back.

In areas outside Vietnam where the tour of service is less than 18 months, such as Korea, man will automatically be retained overseas until they can qualify for the early release.

TAXES

Since the earliest days of recorded history, taxes have been assessed in one form or another. King Hammurabi, during the golden age of Babylon, even engaged scribes to decide the most auspicious time to collect taxes.

Break For Veterans?

Three men apply for a single government job. One is a war veteran, the other two are not. Should the first man get the job just because he is a veteran?

To some degree, veterans have been getting this kind of a break ever since Civil War days. The motive, of course, is to give them an extra reward for their service to the nation. Still, they get this reward at the expense of non-veterans who might legitimately complain of discrimination. For the non-veterans, are in effect, penalized for something that may be in no way their fault.

To reconcile these conflicting considerations, the courts have worked out some practical guidelines.

In the first place, if a civil service law shows flagrant favoritism for veterans, it will probably be held unconstitutional. Thus, a court voided a law that allowed veterans to get on the local police force without taking any examinations. Pointing out that a veteran so hired might be totally unfit for the job, the court said:

"Public offices are created for the common good, and not the profit, honor, or private interest of any one man or class of men."

On the other hand, a court upheld a law that gave a more modest advantage to veterans seeking to be firemen. Here a veteran was given the edge only if he had shown, by competitive examinations, that he was just as qualified as other applicants. The court said it was fair to assume that his experience in the service might well make him a better fireman.

Likewise, the law may—and often does—given reasonable advantages to veterans in the matter of firing. For instance, the federal civil service law gives them extra procedural safeguard in case of discharge.

In one case a veteran employed at a federal shipyard was fired on charges that he had gotten too fresh with certain young women at a party. But he won reinstatement when the management failed to come up with sufficient details of his alleged misconduct. The court said he had not been given the veteran, he was entitled.

Grain Market New Moves

The national headquarters of USDA's grain market news service has been moved to Independence, Missouri from Hyattsville, Md. The move is a part of government's continuing program of decentralizing federal activities. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said the market news covers both grain and grain products.

Wheat Price Assurance

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman has moved to assure farmers participating in the wheat program a price at least as high as the local government price-support loan rate for their wheat. Any wheat delivered by farmers under this price support procedure will be moved to available storage at other points by the department and added to Commodity Credit Corporation stocks.

Treated Wood Suggested

Wood used in outdoor projects such as patios, picnic tables, or fences should be protected by the use of preservatives, suggests W. A. Smith, Texas A & M University Extension forester. The best treatment is the pressure process. Pressure treated lumber is readily available. A paintable preservative should be requested if painting is required or if the wood will be in contact with clothing or the skin, advises the forester.

Plastic Pipe May Be The Answer

The problem of getting water to a part of the pasture or range which is undergrazed may be solved through the use of plastic pipe-line, suggests B. J. Ragsdale, extension range specialist. Conventional float controlled water troughs or the newer automatic fountains can be used to control the flow of water in such an installation, he says. The plastic pipe should be placed below the soil surface to prevent deterioration from sunlight but it isn't necessary to bury the pipe below the frost line if the pressure is to be removed during the winter, he says.

OLD SETTLERS' DAY

A Texas housewife's eyes filled with tears when the time came to leave Ruidoso after a weekend. She blubbered as she told a popular entertainer goodbye. He turned and told a companion: "She's an emotional litterbug."

The Ruidoso story above reminds of this one. A drunk was being chased by the police and he ducked into a church where a funeral was in progress. He quickly took a seat with the bereaved family and one old gal was really letting go and laying on loud with the sobs of mourning. When the preacher said: "The Lord has given and the Lord has taken away," the tipsy intruder turned to the emotionally upset character and said: "Dry your eyes and right now—what could be fairer than what the preacher said?"

The DANIEL BOONE television show — if one could call it that — has turned out to be a propaganda vehicle. The mess of junk distributed on the Thursday re-run completely distorts the legend of a great American patriot—DANIEL BOONE. BOONE probably never saw an ebony man in his life. No sir, the real DAN BOONE was no celluloid sissy and he didn't take to marches, riots, and mule trains. They didn't have those un-American demonstrations in BOONE'S day and if any nut failed to salute the flag he would have been shot on the spot.

Thirteen million dollars a month is being paid out of the Social Security money to beneficiaries living in foreign countries. There are 180,000 persons getting this government money. In Italy 36,000 persons are receiving these benefits some American taxpayers are putting in the kitty. The pensioners find that the dollar buys more abroad than here in the United States. Still, if that $13,000,000 a month were being spent in this country, the economy might be more stable.

The people of the country are fed up with the flouting of the laws. And now, with the killing of the second KENNEDY in five years and the murder of MARTIN KING, along with the sudden death of the late ADLIA STEVENSON in London, England, it looks like the Democratic Party is going to nominate H. H. HUMPHREY as the standard bearer. Yet no candidate is worth losing a friend over or arguing about because we can't be certain any prospective candidate of any party will be alive on election day. It appears at the present time that RICHARD NIXON will take the GOP nomination. However, if ROCKEFELLER can stop NIXON, it is possible that RONALD REAGAN will win the nomination as a compromise candidate for the Republicans. GEORGE WALLACE is going to run a lot faster, and in areas outside the traditional South, too, than a lot of people figure. I predict right now that either WALLACE or the GOP nominee will carry Texas in November. HUMPHREY cannot win the Lone Star state, not even with the help of the JOHNSON-CONNALLY team. LYNDON and JOHN saw the hand-writing on the wall and announced practically joint abdications—as office seekers.

President JOHNSON signed at the Central American summit session Saturday a bill creating with six nations involved an alliance to fight the hoof-and-mouth disease of cattle. "We are here today to strengthen the bond of friendship between the United States and the republic of Central America," JOHNSON then announced he had brought along a $65 million loan to secure that friendship. In announcing the "Ham" Pact Hoof-and-Mouth — JOHNSON said: "On the grazing lands and praderas of six sister nations to the south we ally ourselves against the ancient enemy and a new danger." Under the terms of the pact, the U.S.A. will supply technical and field assistance and the money and the sons of the "sister" nations will furnish the disease, the red paint and the rotten eggs.

Members of the 1943 Stanton High School graduating class will observe the 25th anniversary of the group here Saturday. One of the members is JERRY HALL, son of MR. and MRS. MORGAN HALL. He was also present for the first Old Settlers Reunion held on his parents lawn thirty-five years ago. JO JON (MRS. BOB) COX, daughter of BUELAH MAE and MORGAN will appear on the reunion program. She will introduce guests. One of the guests will be a man from South Dakota who telephoned MRS. HALL Tuesday that he was "coming home Saturday."

MARY PRUDIE (MRS. GLENN) BROWN has been busy as a bee arranging for reunion programs and doing other chores before the Old Settlers Reunion opens here Saturday. MARY is a native of Martin County. She is the daughter of the late JUDGE and MRS. C. E. STORY.

BRAD and part of his co-workers will leave Stanton for Ft. Stockton in September but several of them will remain to finish projects. I want to say that no finer engineer is representing the Highway Department today than BRAD BUFORD. He is a gentleman, a man of ability and his personality is A-plus.

State Junior Colleges Due Financial Bonanza

Texas' 40 public junior colleges will not get all the money they ask for from the legislature, but they have made some headway — getting the lawmakers to use current enrollment in their figuring.

The House-Senate Appropriations Conference Committee has agreed to use the 1967-68 summer, fall and spring enrollment figures, instead of the spring, summer, fall figures originally approved by each house.

As a result of the change, Cisco Junior College will get $393,300 instead of $383,400; Howard County Junior College $315,450 instead of $313,650; Odessa College $846,000 instead of $796,050; Ranger Junior College $194,750 instead of $199,025; South Plains College $540,900 instead of $503,100; Southwest Texas Junior College $319,950 instead of $324,450.

The formula coming out of the conference committee and probably approved by both houses will be $475 for each of the first 450 students and $450 for each student above 450. That same formula is the one now in use in the one or-originally passed by both houses. In its deliberations, the Senate finance committee agreed to raise the formula, but when its bill got too big, the amounts were reduced to keep the tax bill as small as possible.

Most junior colleges will be getting more money, of course, by using the more recent enrollment figures, but some will not get as much as they would have under the old figures.

Still, the conference committee bill will have more money overall for the junior colleges, and since the enrollment figures are more recent, the conferees felt free to cut down on the amount of contingency appropriations, is supposed to make up for late fluctuations in enrollment.

The Senate bill had $3 million and the House $3.2 million, so the conference committee cut that down to $2,058,975.

Grassroots Opinion

GRANDFIELD, OKLA., NEWS: "If you don't have an overriding purpose and life ambition and goal in what you are presently doing — you better change jobs or careers and get into something else. The guy who has little enthusiasm for his work and passes it over with comments like 'it's something to do' or 'it makes me a living' somehow leaves us cold. We figure he'd just as soon be digging ditches. It is a reflection on himself, his lack of ambition and lack of faith in himself that he can really do something he feels is worthwhile. . . . In this day and time nearly any kind of work can be highly technical and interesting when people have a dedication to it and a sense of serving their fellow man, work at it and self-educate themselves beyond formal school to do the best possible job."

BARNESBORO, PA., STAR: "Whether it is in civil rights, college unions, community or civil affairs, violence must be brought to an abrupt halt if the American way of life is to continue. . . . Violence breeds violence, contempt breeds contempt and justice breeds justice."

TOPPENISH, WASH., REVIEW: "Seen at a . . . grocery store, a woman checking with frozen pizzas, frozen poor boy sandwiches, steaks, a variety of pastries and two cartons of colas. Then paying for it all with food stamps."

JOHN DAY, ORE., EAGLE: "Five per cent of the people in the United States will provide leadership for the coming generation. If university students are reluctant to pick up the cudgel, there will be well-informed voice to preserve the necessary segments of democracy. It would therefore be helpful if you with leadership qualities would bathe, shave, get a haircut, shine your shoes, and reenter the segment of America which so badly needs you."

Living Cost Index Continues Upswing

Living costs rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in May, continuing upward at an annual rate of more than 4 per cent, the Labor Department reported.

Biggest price boosts last month were for clothing, up almost 1 per cent, and food, up four-tenths of 1 per cent, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the bureau, said, "The upward trend of prices will continue for several months."

This year's rate of climbing living costs is the fastest in more than a decade.

At the same time, the bureau said average wages of some 45 million nonsupervisory workers rose $1.59 per week to a record weekly high of $106.03.

But the purchasing power of the average paycheck was still slightly below last year because of the rapidly rising prices.

The rise of living costs pushed the government's consumer price index to 120.3. This means it cost $12.03 in May to purchase typical family needs worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.
