Stanton Will Observe D-Day On Tuesday

By NEAL ESTES
The Democratic National Convention convened in Chicago Monday. Some life-long, staunch party members were making sounds like GOV. RONALD REAGAN who used to vote Democratic, but who recently said: "I didn't leave the Democratic Party — it left me." The crowd in control of the present Democratic-Socialist Party took these vital steps in early committee meetings: (1) Slapped JOHN CONNALLY in the face by eliminating the century-old unit rule method of voting. (2) Issued an ultimatum to Alabama delegates to take the loyalty oath or get out of convention hall. (3) Alerted Georgia that their delegation were not representative and unless they amended their way of choosing delegates in the future they would be "read out of the party."

The Deep South — and several borderline sister states will vote overwhelmingly for RICHARD NIXON or GEORGE WALLACE — they have no place else to go. Southerners are not alone in their desire for a change in the government. As many as 35 states are now ready to "bar the door Katy" on any person nominated in Chicago by the Demos, and that included JOHNSON, McCARTHY and HORATIO HUMPHREY.

Some pretty astute politicians think LYNDON JOHNSON will get the nomination. KING and KENNEDY are out of his way; his physical check-up says he is o.k.; monkey-faced HUMPHREY will jump to the master's organ music and if LBJ orders the playing of "Hello Lyndon" HORATIO will leap off the bridge, 1968 McCARTHYISM will fade fast under JOHNSON'S fire and "POKER-FACED McGOVERN and "AXHANDLE" MADDOX will give up in despair, LYNDON, the Big Daddy of the Unioners and money men will come out swinging. He can be expected to call up FRANK ROOSEVELT'S fear formulae — all federal employees will — of jobs — claim new developments on the world war scene with the taking over of Czechoslovakia by Russia, et al. Yes sree, DADDY BIRD can have it all in BOSS DALY'S corrupt city if he wants the nomination.

It is generally known in Texas that Longview is one of the few cities blessed with industrial growth. The abundant water power available in that section of the state has been a major factor in locating industry in the East Texas area. Industry simply does not come to those communities lacking in a labor pool and in high cost public services. Nor do industrialists seek out town and cities guilty of (Continued on page 8)

Some Stanton Stores To Close On Labor Day

Some stores in Stanton will close on Monday, September 3, to observe Labor Day. Other stores will remain open. All federal offices will be closed because Labor Day is a national holiday. All Martin County schools will observe the day as the first holiday of the new school term. Postoffice will be closed and offices in the courthouse will shut down with the exception of the office of Sheriff Dan Saunders. Labor Day is one of the holidays to recognize as such by members of that organization. The next holiday will fall on Thanksgiving.

Donkey Baseball Game Sponsored By Lions Club

The Stanton Lions Club met Tuesday noon, with First Vice President Charles Elmore the sing-song accompanied by Tom Angel at the piano. John Rouche led the pledge to the flag, and Rev. Richard Payne voiced the invocation. The Lions were reminded of two coming events. They are sponsoring a Donkey Baseball game on September 6, and the Teachers Appreciation Banquet is scheduled for September 16. The club voted to send flowers to Lion Boss Russell McMeans, who is hospitalized. Charles Elmore introduced Kelly Joe Gaskins of Knott, and Ann Haggard of Lenorah. They spoke on their trip to Washington, D. C., the Government - in - Action Youth Tour, which was sponsored by Cap Rock Electric Co-Op in this area. The tour was one week long, and during their visit they attended a Texas Congressional reception and talked with congressmen. A highlight of their trip, was on the occasion when President Johnson spoke to the entire group. Youth from all over the United States were in the Capitol city during the same week. Kelly Joe and Ann showed slides of their trip, and described the scenes to the Lions. Nineteen members were present, with two guests, Robert Young of Midland, and Orland Gilbert of Lubbock.

Stanton Man Named To State Board

O. B. Bryan, manager of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Stanton, was elected to Telephone Cooperative. Prior to 1940 he worked in several phases of electric and telephone operations and the grocery business.

The Cap Rock Electric Cooperative manager is active in local civic and church work in the Stanton area. Bryan is past president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. He has served as chairman of the Board of Stewards of the United Methodist Church, and he is presently a director of the First National Bank of Stanton. He is a member of the Lions and Rotary clubs and is a Mason. Bryan has received the Silver Trail Award from the Buffalo Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and holds an honorary membership in the Texas Association of Future Homemakers. In other work, Bryan has served as a member of the Texas Electric Cooperative Power Use Committee. Bryan, a native of Whitesboro, is married to the former Johnie Bess Richards, a member of a pioneer Martin County family. They have three children, Bobby, Mrs. T. E. Angel of Stanton and Mrs. Loyd Harvey of Pampa.

Stanton Lions Will Sponsor Fun Ball Game

Fun-loving sports fans are promised a field day of hilarious entertainment when the Ralph Godfrey Donkeys, from Crescent, Oklahoma, come to town on September 6.

A big program has been arranged and in addition to the main event, "Donkey Ball," a series of tricks and stunts by a trick mule will be presented as a preliminary act. Also races on donkeys will add to the bill of fare to round out a full evening of fun for old and young. Sponsor of the shows is the Stanton Lions Club, and the scene of inaction will be the Stanton High School football field. Time for the first event, 8:00 p.m. Admission prices will be $1.00 for adults, and 50 cents for children, and advance tickets will go on sale immediately. The show is sponsored by the Lions in order to raise funds for their many projects. According to their contract with Ralph Godfrey, the sponsors receive ten percent more on all tickets sold in advance, so local folk are urged to buy tickets for the entire family before the night of the game, and thus increase the profit to the local group.

We prefer couples from the age of 25 to 55 without children living with them. And you know, our source of income is free-will donations. Therefore, we have very little money for ads. H. 20 covering 12 miles west of Stanton is under construction but traffic is moving through the zone from Stanton to Midland. Adequate signs are up and travelers will have no difficulty driving through the construction area if they proceed with caution.

F.B.I. Reports Upswing In Crimes Of Violence For U.S.

The FBI reported Monday a continued upswing in serious crime in the United States, accounted for largely by an increase in crimes of violence. No city, state or geographic region appeared immune from part of the hefty 16 per cent boost in serious crime, said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. At the same time, he noted a drop of 8 per cent in numbers of offenses solved. The figures were from the FBI's 1967 Uniform Crime Reports, a bulky volume of police statistics gathered across the nation each year. Even more startling than the comparative figures for 1967 and 1966, however, were those for the current decade. These showed an increase in serious crime since 1960 of 89 per cent, with a rise in crimes of violence of 73 per cent. Hoover said he is most concerned with a pattern that has emerged linking youth with violence, particularly in the large, metropolitan areas. And the long-time FBI head made what has become almost an annual appeal "for greater social action to prevent and abort more careers in crime."

More than 3.8 million serious crimes were reported during 1967, 494,000 of them crimes of a violent nature, Hoover said. A summary of the statistics for 1967 compared with 1966 showed these trends: Crimes of violence increased 16 per cent, the same as the incidence of all serious crime. Firearms were used in 63 per cent of all homicides, a 17 per cent increase over 1966. There were 11 per cent more murders in 1967 than in the previous year. Serious crime trends were consistent to all areas—16 per cent higher in the suburbs, 17 per cent higher in the large cities and 12 per cent up in the countryside. Narcotics arrests up 60 per cent, attributed largely to an increase in marijuana cases. Police solutions of serious crimes, down 8 per cent. Robbery, up 27 per cent with an increase in the bank robbery rate of 45 per cent. Crimes against property, up 17 per cent. The report concluded that almost two people out of every 100 became victims of serious crime last year, an increase since 1960 of 71 per cent. Providing a group of "crime clocks", the FBI report showed the rate of various types of crime as each minute ticked by. Serious crimes occurred at a rate of 7 a minute; someone was being murdered every 43 minutes and a woman was being raped each 19 minutes. Aggravated assaults occurred at the rate of one every 2 minutes while there was a robbery every 2 1/2 minutes. Somebody's house was being burglarized every 20 seconds while cars were being stolen at the rate of one every 48 seconds. Every 30 seconds, property other than a car was being stolen. The figures compiled by the FBI show that states with some form of gun control generally had a lower proportion of gun deaths than states that did not. Four Northeastern states with strict gun control laws were among the lowest in the incidence of murder by firearm. Rhode Island had 34.1 per cent, New York 34.9 per cent; Massachusetts 39.9 per cent; and New Jersey 41.2 per cent. Three of the five states with some form of control also were well below the average—Hawaii 48.6 per cent; Michigan 52.4 per cent; Illinois 57 per cent. Missouri, 67.1, and North Carolina, 70.2, were the exceptions. Vermont, with 83.3 per cent, had the highest per cent murder by firearm between 1962 and 1967 followed by Kentucky, 77.3. The states with the highest numbers of homicides between 1962 and 1967 were: Texas, 6,105; California 4,857; and New York, 4,835. New York's gun deaths, however, ran only 34 per cent, while in the other two states, neither of which have gun control laws, the rates were 70 per cent of Texas, and 52 per cent for California.

Philosopher Says The More He Studies Presidency The Closer He'll Stick To Farm

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw reviews the drawbacks of the Presidency this week.)

Dear editor:

There are times, like when my tractor has a flat and my car battery is dead and a neighbor calls and says my cows are in his field and ruining his crops and it's the hottest day of the year and we're four weeks overdue on a rain and the kitchen faucet is leaking and the dog tore a hole in the screen door and insurance rates have gone up and farm prices have come down, when I half-way wish I was doing something else besides farming, but after reading the newspapers for the past few months, especially the last few weeks, I have decided if I ever make a change, it will not be to the Presidency of the United States.

The job has been misrepresented. In farming, when you go to bed at night you can generally count on sleeping pretty good till you wake up the next morning, but in the Presidency you never know when the phone will ring at 2 a.m. telling you Russia has invaded Czechoslovakia or Saigon has been shelled again or some nation has stolen another one of our ships.

If you do get to sleep the whole night, you wake up to find our Congress has rebelled or some Senator you had to supper last night has thrown a monkey wrench into your plans or 2,000 letters have arrived telling you to get lost and offering to show you the way.

When George Washington was elected the first President, he had 13 states to look after and figured he had his hands full. Now we've got 50 states and a large part of the 200 other nations on earth, and as if that wasn't enough, we're taking on space to boot, not to mention the people who want to colonize the bottom of the ocean.

On second thought, this farm is not for sale.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bible Comment—

True Greatness Is Won By Service And Humility

Learning to live together is the hardest lesson many of us must learn during the course of our daily lives. This task is faced the same problem and not unlike every group has differences in personalities and and personal jealousies.

Even the disciples suffered from these human frailties. Once, when someone had evidently offended Peter he went to Jesus asking how many times a brother should offend his brother and be forgiven. Peter set, what appeared to be a reasonable limit, asking: "Until seven times?"

But Jesus put forgiveness on a much larger basis with his answer "Not until seven times, but until seventy times seven." and it is on this greater plane that forgiveness should be considered if there is to be any true forgiveness at all.

Thus the disciples were taught. They were extraordinarily fortunate in having such a teacher who also knew the meaning of greatness. He defined greatness in terms of service, saying: "He that would be greatest among you, let him be the servant of all."

To make a deeper impression, He taught them by example, washing their feet, and explaining that He was not to be ministered to, but to minister to others, even to give His life as a ransom for many.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive." He said. Unfortunately, this has not yet been adopted as a creed by the world. But the world must acknowledge the true greatness of those who have adopted Jesus' standards as their own.

It is men like Father Damien, St. Frances, Dr. Grenfell, and others who have become the servants of their fellowmen, who are honored and revered. They have learned the greatest lesson, that of living with and for others.

Art Director Is Important Cog In Movie Machinery

John R. Lloyd is serving the movie "Midnight Cowboy" as art director.

It has been said that no one reads the credits of a movie beyond the names of actors and possibly the director.

That's not true with "show biz" people and critics.

The average theatre patron wouldn't know what the art director of a flicker is much less his connection with a scene of amor, big fist fight or any scene set in a West Texas ranchhouse in the early 1950's.

Yet the art director has the sometimes difficult — sometimes easy — task of translating directions of a script and director's ideas into a carefully constructed set that looks authentic and supports the script.

This is how John R. Lloyd, director for the Jerome Hellman - John Schlesinger production of "Midnight Cowboy," described his job. The last sequences of the "late western" are now being filmed on location in Stanton and Big Spring.

Lloyd said Stanton and Big Spring offered the ideal locations with few problems for the West Texas sequences of "Midnight Cowboy."

"The locality here in West Texas is so ideal for the story line," Lloyd explained. "It seemed as if this was precisely the area John Schlesinger director, and Waldo Salt had in mind in the early scripting."

But the "Midnight Cowboy" script did present problems of having to design sets that would support the script.

"Midnight Cowboy's is written in a fast-cutting, fragmentary manner — each vignette full of inventive idea," Lloyd explained.

"In a more conventional script, half as many sets would be needed to tell a story of the same length," he continued.

"It takes precisely the same amount of energy and imagination to prepare a set for a two-page scene as for a 20-page scene," Lloyd added.

Most of the filming of "Cowboy" was completed in Filmways Studios in New York City and on location in New York City and Miami Beach.

Lloyd has worked with all the studio and location sets and worked closely with his set director, Philip Smith, his scenic artists and carpenters to make certain nothing is left to chance.

With 20 years of art direction experience in scenic design for films, television and stage, Lloyd has developed a technique for establishing mood with "color and texture."

Traditionally Austin has been the headquarters site for Texas campaigns of presidential candidates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquarters (American Independent Party) now is located 49 miles to the south, in New Braunfels.

It was moved from the capitol city to within 30 minutes' drive of the office of the party's state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant — especially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November.

When the state executive of the American Party decided to place Miss Pane Sumner of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braunfels; named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replacing Mrs. M. Bacon of Austin, and demoted Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birchism" were hurled. Miss Sumner ran for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1966, and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio, during Spears' 1966 bid for State Attorney General.

"It's not the Birch people that are causing the trouble," Chairman Logan says. "It's the anti-Birch people. They were all looking for Birchers when they were getting signatures to get Wallace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

Logan said he didn't think the internecine battle would harm Wallace's Texas campaign, and Mrs. Bacon said she still intends to work for votes for Alabama's former governor.

Wallace will be in the state Sept. 16 to speak at a $25-a-plate fund - raising dinner in Dallas on the eve of the American Party's Sept. 17 state convention there. He's also scheduled to speak to the convention.

Gubernatorial Campaigns Heat Up — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith's announcement that he would not go to the National Democratic Convention in Chicago because he would rather use that time to get better acquainted with delegates to the State Democratic Convention, to be held in Austin Sept. 17, came as something of a surprise.

But it's not the first time Smith instinctively has steered clear of battles within the party — as the Chicago scene was sure to be. He has gained some widespread and rather unexpected support from liberal Texas Democrats because he refused to go with Gov. John Connally, then Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, and Speaker Ben Barnes to head off a migrant workers' march to Austin two years ago.

Smith, however, says he is serious about wanting to meet and talk to state convention delegates because he wants to command the convention. The September state convention is known as the "governor's convention." It will be interest-

"First I read and study the script and break it down into scenes and set requirements."

"Next come rough layouts which include my impression of the flow of action of the required geography of a set or location."

"Then I have a lengthy meeting with the director for a full discussion of set requirements," Lloyd explained.

"Then I reorganize my original plans and design ideas to suit his interpretation of the script," Lloyd added. "From these notes I re-evaluate and design each scene." The numerous conferences with the director and author are held to discuss smaller points of artistic judgment to Once approved, the design fulfill script requirements.

Interpretation is drawn and put into work, he said, and problems of set dressings and finishing is approached.

ing to see who wins control—the man who is governor now or the man who is the Democratic nominee.

There's no doubt among Republicans that the star of their state convention in Fort Worth on Sept. 17, will be GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers. Eggers is running a hard race against Smith.

Constitutional Revision Recommendations — While Texas Democrats are taking a stormy role in nominating a presidential candidate in Chicago, a potentially historic event will be unfolding on the home front.

In a three-day Austin meeting this week, State Constitutional Revision Commission is wrapping up its final recommendations for a new Texas constitution.

Sub-committee completed their year - long studies last month.

Fireworks were anticipated on these proposals:

• Four year terms for governors and all other statewide officials who now have two year terms (recommendation would prohibit direct succession to a second term by the governor).

• Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions. • A requirement that state senate closed - door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished.

• Authority for the legislature to instruct courts as to how they will handle appeals from state administrative agency actions.

• Provisions for county home rule and optional plans for consolidation of political subdivisions and functions within a county.

• Appointment of Supreme Court of Criminal Appeals judges by the governor from a nominating commission slate of three.

• Easier access to courts for taxpayers protesting assessments. Recommendations agreed on by the revision commission must go to the legislature next year. Legislature then can submit all or any part of the recommendations to the voters — or reject them entirely.

Aside from its recommendations of minor controversial nature, commission has made a good-faith effort to tighten and streamline the constitution and chop out long-recognized dead wood.

Appointments — Governor Connally reappointed three members of the PanAmerican College Board of Regents to terms expiring in 1973. They are Lou Hassell of Houston, Leonal Garza of Brownsville, and McAllian Attorney Morris Atlas.

Then the Governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas, to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the late Walter McBee of Dallas. Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salvation Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative.

House Speaker Barnes named these committees:

• To study election laws — Reps. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi, James D. Cole of Greenville, Russell Cummings of Houston, Rayford Price of Palestine, and J. W. Stroud of Dallas.

• To study recreational water safety — Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur, Gerhardt A. Schulle of San Marcos, Bill T. Swanson of Houston, and Leroy Wieting of Portland.

• To assist in a study to determine the feasibility of creating a Texas stock exchange — Reps. David Finney of Fort Worth, Don Cavness of Austin, and Dick McKissack of Dallas.

C. R. Baskin will be new acting chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board, succeeding John J. Vandertulip, who is joining the International Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso as principal engineer.

Texas Department of Mental Health - Mental Retardation has transferred Wichita Falls State Hospital Superintendent Dr. Willar Segerson to that post at Austin State Hospital. Wildlife Plans — Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted a $17.5 million operating budget for the next fiscal year.

Commission will ask the 1969 Legislature to appropriate money to reopen the fish and water-exchange pass between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf across Mustang Island.

Commission also set Texas duck season for December 14-January 1. Daily bag limit was set at four and possession limit at eight. Goose season will be October 20 - January 12, with daily bag and possession limit of five.

Studies of the ecology of prairie chickens and ways to increase their population — perhaps enough to hunt them someday — have been authorized by the commission for the year beginning Sept. 1.

Open season was set for November-November 21 for deer in Devil's pocket unit, Angelina Management area.

City Water Prices Vary — "Water Service in Texas Cities," new publication by the Texas Municipal League, indicates a wide spread in water prices throughout Texas.

Lowest city rate is Uvalde's $2.40 per 10,000 gallons; highest is Terrell's, $10.25. League said average water prices charged by 61 cities of populations between 10,000 and 25,000 is $6.00 per 10,000 gallons.

Tidelands Arguments Again — U. S. Supreme Court has granted Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin an Oct. 14 requested hearing on location of Texas shoreline or the point from which Texas measures its submerged land boundaries.

Last December a decision granting Texas ownership of tidelands to 193 miles into Gulf of Mexico, held that where shoreline has receded, Texas cannot claim the 1845 historic boundary (which would give Texas more acreage). Federal government also would deny Texas its 163 - mile area where the shore has built out into the Gulf.

At stake is about 36,000 acres. Since 1950 the undisputed acreage has yielded more than $100 million in oil-gas leasing for permanent school fund.

SHORT SNORTS Texas Education Agency estimates 123,855 professional educators will be needed to instruct 2,661,454 pupils who will be reporting to classes in September; and concludes that language improvement is the most important educational need to serve children from low income families.

State Banking Commission rejected an application for new American Bank of Commerce, Harlingen.

In spite of increased income taxes and inflation, retail sales in Texas made a three per cent in July over June sales, reports UT's Bureau of Business Research.

N. Johnson Appointed Information Director, West Texas Electric Coops

Neal Johnson

A man of many interests and numerous talents is Neal Johnson, newly appointed information director for the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., Austin, the statewide service association for rural electric systems.

Johnson will coordinate information pertaining to rural electrification in Texas, including liaison with newspapers, radio and television stations for the organization which represents the 79 rural electric cooperatives in the state.

He succeeds Jim Morris who resigned his duties only recently to prepare for his work in the missionary field for the Methodist Church.

Entering his work with the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Johnson, 31, brings several years of newspaper and broadcasting experience to his new post. Following his graduation from Abilene Christian College in 1961, he did graduate work at Texas Tech. He was Farm Editor for the Wichita Falls Times and Record News, and Farm Director of KFDX - TV, Wichita Falls and KCBD Radio and TV, Lubbock.

A native of Frederick, Oklahoma, Johnson was a member of the 4-H and Future Farmers of America while growing up on the family's wheat, cattle and cotton farm. He later farmed and ranched in Tillman County, Oklahoma.

As information director for the Texas Electric Cooperatives, he works closely with many organizations and activities with goals of building the economy of rural Texas. He is immediate past-president of the Lubbock Agriculture Club, and secretary of the West Texas Water Institute. He was recently elected to the board of trustees of the 4-H Foundation.

The new director holds several honors, including the Individual Supporter Award from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, The Distinguished Service Award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas, and the Honorary Lone Star Farmer Degree from the Future Farmers of America, Texas Association.

Johnson with his wife, the former Sandra Terry of Abilene, daughter, Diane, 6, and son, Keith, 4, are new residents of Austin, and have already entered into the community life through the Brentwood Church of Christ, and the Brentwood Elementary School. They reside at 7518 St. Phillips.

County Agents Column

Household insects are munching, biting and possibly spreading disease at all hours of the day and night, County Agent Billy Reagor says.

Any home and its surroundings harbor some form of insect life. Some insects feed on fabrics, contaminate food, attack dwellings, while others annoy humans by "biting." Insects carry diseases and cause possible secondary infections and are general nuisances, he continues.

A new leaflet published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects (L-311)" gives recommendations for controlling every kind of insect from moth to mosquito, and from tick to termite, says the agent.

Sanitation and good house-keeping are important in controlling or keeping most pests away, but even well-kept homes sometimes become infested.

Certain pests may be found outside and controlled before the enter the home. However, some insects live entirely within the home where they must be controlled by applying insecticides as sprays, dusts or baits. Fumigation seldom is necessary — if a house must be fumigated, it is wise to rely on a qualified company to provide this service.

The leaflet contains descriptions of the many types of available equipment which can be used for insect treatment and insecticidal formulations are discussed at length, Reagor adds.

Anyone wishing to obtain this new leaflet can get in touch with Reagor, or write to the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

A lot of folks talk about Internal Revenue putting you in jail for cheating on your income tax. However, there's not a large number of people who actually end up behind bars as a result of tax fraud. This doesn't mean that it has become advisable to start cheating on your income tax. Internal Revenue does not undertake the investigation of fraud against a taxpayer lightly. Before they present a tax fraud case to the Justice Department and finally to the Grand Jury, and the Judge and the Jury, they must be able to prove that the taxpayer was guilty of cheating on his taxes, and that there was a deliberate intent of malice forethought involved. It's not unusual to read that the jury found, after trial of a taxpayer, that he was not guilty of criminal fraud. However this taxpayer still must pay his taxes and civil fraud penalties and interest. Those taxpayers who manage to escape detection even though Internal Revenue has all types of records and sources available to them often wish that they had paid the additional tax so they could stop worrying about the tax man finding them out.

"The challenge of wildcat oil and gas drilling was highlighted in recently released reports that show 89 per cent of 5,260 wells drilled in 1967 were dry holes," says the land Oil News. "These were in areas where neither oil nor gas had previously been found. The average depth was 5,325 feet — more than a mile. Experience has shown that only two or three of every 100 wildcat wells are commercially profitable."

To "air condition" the decorative scheme of a room, hang white monk's cloth panels from ceiling to floor across the entire width of one wall. These panels can be put into the washer and dryer a few at a time for easy laundering.

Chicago Amphitheatre Ringed By Steel, Wire

The International Amphitheatre, many times a showplace for prize livestock and political circuses, was not built to be a fortress but that is what it has been converted into for the Democratic National Convention.

The sprawling amphitheatre complex on the Southwest Side has been ringed with steel and barbed wire. Its parking lots have been given canvas roofs to obscure VIPs from any hidden rifleman.

The streets leading to the convention hall have been fenced and mapped. Rooftops and ledges have been cleared and even the airspace above the hall has been put off-limits to any but police aircraft.

The only thing missing is a moat.

The main line of security for the amphitheatre and other focal points of political activity in Chicago will consist of city and county police.

Backing them up are approximately 6,000 National Guardsmen authorized to duty in Chicago by Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro. Another 7,500 federal troops have been given riot training in Texas for possible use during the convention. An undisclosed number of federal agents are in Chicago working with police in an advisory capacity. Secret Service, FBI, and Chicago police have spent weeks planning the security for more than 5,000 Democrats who will attend the convention.

The elaborate and unprecedented precautions began in the spring after the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy were coupled with threats that demonstrations would disrupt the Democrats' meeting.

The primary mission was to secure the amphitheatre which is approximately a quarter mile long and 500 feet wide. It is situated five miles from the downtown hotels where the delegates will be housed.

The first security measure was the erection of a chain-link fence, topped with strands of barbed wire, around the amphitheatre. The fence is designed to prevent access to the convention hall by anyone potentially harmful to the delegates with the exception of the cattle and hog stench from the nearby slaughter yards.

Police will physically cordon off Halsted Street, the hall's eastern boundary, from 37th to 45th Streets. No one without proper credentials will be permitted to step off the east curb of Halsted.

The next checkpoint will be at the north and south gates of the chain-link fence. Police and professional security ushers will patrol the fence and check identification.

Armed police and Andy Frain ushers will check credentials at the doors to the hall and more ushers and usherettes will direct delegates in the main arena.

Andy Frain said, "We had 325 people in Miami and we had the most trouble keeping the aisles clear. Here, we'll use about 450 including 75 usherettes and 150 men patrolling the outside fence."

Blarney Stone Sale Refused By Irish Lady

Sure, and you can take your millions elsewhere. The Blarney Stone is not for sale.

A bold, million-dollar American bid for the stone, which traditionally bestows the gift of eloquence on those who kiss it, has been turned down.

The very thought of the treasure leaving Ireland was enough to make any Irishman see red or green.

Mrs. Penelope Hillyard, the Irish lady who owns the legendary limestone imbedded beneath the battlements of Blarney Castle, said the offer came from an American chair store millionaire.

"It's not for sale," she said. To keep the Blarney Stone in Ireland, she disclosed, her late uncle, Sir George Colthurst, specified in his will that the rock must never be sold.

Sir George owned Blarney Castle, lock, stock and rock, and he appointed the minister of justice as trustee to insure that the stone remain an heirloom of the nation when he died in 1951.

Almost 30,000 tourists from around the world converge on the castle every year to kiss the stone.

The Blarney Stone lies in the 500-year-old castle at the village of Blarney, five miles northwest of Cork, Ireland.

Painting Interior Walls

A more professional job may be obtained when painting interior walls if care is taken to prepare the wall surface prior to the application of the paint, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. All small cracks and nail holes should be filled with spackling compound and sanded smooth. The wall will look better if it is rubbed down with a medium coarse sandpaper to remove all the little imperfections that seem to collect on the surface. The appearance of the final coat is going to be only as good as the surface under it.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw,

Now is the time for farmers to begin thinking about cover crops and residue management, reports Jake D. Hodges, local S. C. S. technician, assisting the Martin - Howard Soil and Water Conservation District. Cover crops for this area might include oats, wheat, or barley being planted by November 1. Cover crops will not only provide soil protection from wind and water erosion, but will also add soil nutrients and organic matter to the land. Crops that are high residue producers, such as grain and forage sorghums, can also be managed to provide soil protection and help build up the land.

The stubble left over after harvest can be managed so that it will remain on the soil surface through the critical erosion period ending about April 1. After April it could be turned back into the soil as organic matter and it will provide food for certain bacteria and will result in more nitrogen and phosphorus in the soil. The amount of residue or cover crops needed to maintain soil fertility and tilth depends on the type of soil. Some soils can be maintained on one-half of the land in high residue producing crop or cover crops, while other soils may need three-fourths or two-thirds. With strip row farming, strip cropping may be the only way of meeting the needs of the land. This can be done by planting two rows of sorghums in the blank rows prior to July 1, or planting four twenty inch rows of sorghum or millet by August 15. Small grain drilled in a strip five feet wide in the two blank rows, or twelve feet wide if there are four blank rows, will also provide soil protection and add organic matter to the land. Small grain for this purpose should be planted by October 1.

Charles L. Duff, soil consultant, said, "Annual yields result from many factors, of which the soil is of equal importance with climatic conditions and sunlight. Crop rotations which seriously upset the soil balance have little to recommend them on a long term basis." Such a system is the present skip - row fallow pattern for cotton production. Dr. Wm. Albrecht, of the University of Missouri Department of Soils, published the results of a 15 year experiment in which a fallow soil was measured against two methods of turning under annual applications of red clover. This was designed to study the effects of nitrogen released for plant use. His conclusions were that about one-third of the crop residue went into a stable form of organic matter (soil humus), one-third was lost by leaching, and one-third became available for plant use.

Low nitrogen results from the loss of organic matter which had been burned out of the soil by poor cropping systems, which do not return enough crop residue to the soil to balance the loss.

It is practically impossible to build the level of organic matter; it is possible to maintain a level of organic matter. Cotton residues of one-half ton or slightly more, cannot maintain enough organic matter to meet the needs of the land. To reduce this by one-half with blank fallow rows, is not intelligent soil management.

Disking the fallow strip several times, results in considerable extra soil turning which aerates and sterilizes, thus speeding the burning out of the organic matter and what crop residues may have been put into the soil from the preceding year.

The long term "side" effects of a skip - row fallow program outweigh any early increase in yield which comes at the expense of the soil.

Crop residue can be turned back into the soil with skip - row farming, if strip cropping is used.

Fred Phillips, Jimmie Sawyer, and Dan Meek are a few of the farmers in this area using strip cropping and soil management practices to offset the losses in skip-row farming.

Grassroots Opinion

SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., COMMON-WEALTH. "For many years this newspaper has been expressing the belief that justices of the United States Supreme Court and judges of the various federal district and appellate courts should not be named for lifetime terms but should be subject periodically either to election by the people or reappointment by the then sitting U. S. President, subject to approval of the United States Senate. . . the people are much better protected in their rights when those who rule are subject to the people for their acts. It is much better to depend on the voice of the people than to depend on the authoritarian acts of judges who have no checkrein on their activities."

VAN HORN, TEXAS, ADVOCATE: "We should realize that millions of young people are quietly preparing for community leadership. They are better informed, more articulate, and better educated than any group before them. We should be proud of the conscientious majority of younger Americans. They are preparing for their future responsibilities with diligence and honesty. They also have a deep sense of morality and citizenship. Young people must respect the challenge of opportunity rather than the false hope of security. They should understand that the way to build a better world for tomorrow is not to start by tearing down every institution in it today."

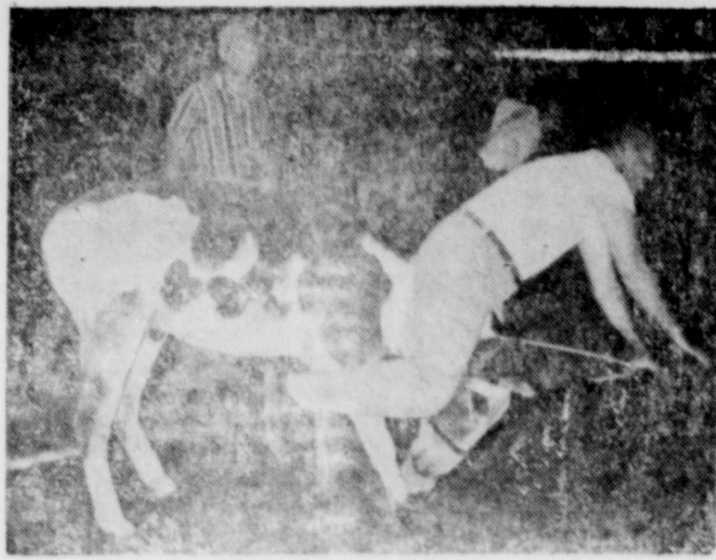

BEDFORD, IND., TIMES-MAIL: "People want better streets and roads and are quick to express their sentiments on that score. We wonder how many of the complainers are persons guilty of littering and thus draining off money for cleaning up that could be spent for the better purpose of maintenance and construction."

LANCASTER, S. C., NEWS: "The Communist Party of the United States, through its General Secretary . . . has announced that it will offer candidates for President and Vice President this fall. The domestic Reds, having made so many gains through the generosity of the U. S. Supreme Court, apparently want to try their hand on the political front again."

Above is a scene from a donkey game which will be re-enacted here, when Ralph Godfrey's Donkeys come to Stanton to present their comedy game on September 6, sponsored by the Stanton Lions Club.

Donkey Baseball Game To Held Here On September 6

In this game all players, except the pitcher and catcher, are provided with donkeys. The pitcher and catcher will stay on the ground inside the white lane marked off as the pitcher's and catcher's box, any they must keep one foot in or on the white line while making a play. The pitcher and catcher are not permitted to field a batted ball, but must leave it on the ground until someone on a donkey has first handled the ball. After someone with a donkey has picked up the ball, and gotten back on his donkey, he may toss or hand the ball to the pitcher or catcher, and from then on until the play is either safe or put out, the pitcher and catcher may assist in the play by tossing the ball over to the base or tagging the runner, if he comes close enough.

There are no strike-outs or walks in this game. When the batter gets a fair hit he must get on the donkey that will be waiting for him at home plate and ride around the bases in their proper order—if he and the donkey can agree on which is the proper order. The base running donkey must have one foot on or inside the white circle representing the base, and the runner must be on the donkey's back, in some manner or other, long enough for the umpire to declare him safe. After he has been pronounced safe he may dismount, hold the donkey on the base, or sit on the donkey or on around to the next base, whichever he and the donkey decide to do.

Force - outs and tag - outs are the same as in regular ball, but you must tag the man and not the donkey. If the runner is on the ground leading his donkey, or trying to get back on, then the player with the ball may dismount and tag him out, however both players must hold to the reins of their donkeys. You can't turn loose the reins to make an out or to keep from being put out.

A player is allowed to dismount to pick up the ball, stop a grounder, or to catch a fly, but must hold to the reins and take the donkey with him wherever he goes, and don't forget to get back on donkey before throwing the ball. A fly ball caught by a player on the ground is not an out, but if he is on the donkey the batter is automatically out. We count all runs that are scored before the third out. We play five to seven innings, or approximately one hour and a half.

Second Zone Opened For Sandhill Cranes

In an effort to increase sandhill crane hunting in Texas, and help decrease crop depredations, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in a special meeting Tuesday announced the opening of another section of North Texas to hunting this fall.

Two zones were created for the sandhill crane, the second opening at a later date because a whooping crane was sighted around the turn of the century in the newly opened area. The new zone will be hunted from December 14 through January 12, long after the annual southward whooping crane migration is over. This liberalization was the result of a request to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service originally proposed two or three years past and approved this year.

E. A. Walker, wildlife service director for the department, said the new area was requested in order to give people the chance of hunting the wily birds and to prevent some crop depredation.

Hunting in the old or western zone will be held from one-half hour before sunrise November 2 through sunset December 28. This zone lies west of a line from International Toll Bridge at Del Rio, Val Verde County, thence northward following U. S. Highway 277 to its junction with U. S. Highway 87 at San Angelo, Tom Green County, thence northwesterly following U. S. Highway 87 to its junction with U. S. 287 at Dumas, Moore County, thence northwesterly following U. S. Highway 287 to the point of intersection with Texas - Oklahoma State line at Dallam County.

The new zone will be hunted beginning at sunrise Dec. 14 through sunset Jan. 12 in that portion of Texas lying west of a line from San Angelo along U. S. Highway 277 to Abilene, then along State Highway 351 from Abilene to Albany and U. S. Highway 283 from Albany to Vernon, thence easterly along U. S. Highway 183 to the point of intersection with the Texas - Oklahoma State line in Wilbarger County; and east of a line from San Angelo along U. S. Highway 87 to the junction of Highways 87 and 287 at Dumas, Moore County, and then along U. S. Highway 287 from Dumas to the point of intersection with the Texas-Oklahoma line in Dallam County.

Bag limit in both zones will be two with a possession limit of four.

Mahon Says Defense Cuts Will Stand

Rep. George Mahon, D-Texas, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said the invasion of Czechoslovakia by the Russians may increase pressure for bigger defense spending but that cuts made recently will stand.

Mahon made his statement Friday while attending a briefing called by President Johnson of more than 30 top congressional leaders.

Johnson and his chief aides informed the bi-partisan group of rent developments in the invasion and spoke of Vietnam and other matters.

Mahon said that the Soviets moved into their liberal-leading satellite not because of U. S. weakness or military involvement "but because Communism cannot tolerate liberals."

Thomas H. Kuchel of California, Senate Republican whip who was also at the meeting, said, "Our country—even in the midst of a hectic campaign—needs urgently to demonstrate that in times of crisis our people support our commander-in-chief."

Veterans Administration

(Editor's note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA offices.)

Q — I was drafted and have served two years. Now I am about to be released from active duty but must serve in the Reserves. May I keep my Servicemen's Group Life Insurance while in the Reserves or must I convert to a private plan?

A — You must convert your SGLI policy to a private plan within 120 days after release from active duty if you want to keep this insurance protection. For further information, contact your nearest Veterans Administration office when you get back home or write to the Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington Street, Newark, N. J. 07102.

Q — I lost my father in Korea, and the Veterans Administration has been paying an allowance to my mother for me. When I enter college this fall, will the War Orphans Educational allowance also be sent to my mother, or to me?

A — The VA usually pays this benefit directly to the college student, unless the mother or other fiduciary has been formally appointed as "guardian" by court action.

Q — I am interested in buying a farm with a G. I. loan. I am told I can do this even though the selling price is more than the VA appraisal.

A — Unfortunately, you have been informed incorrectly. Farm real estate (non-residence) cannot exceed VA's appraised value. PL 90-301, signed by President Johnson last May 7, permits veterans to pay more than the VA appraised price for homes — not farms. The maximum guarantee for the type of farm loan you mention is still 50

Six Texas Farm Groups Ready For Water Fight

Six Texas farm organizations are represented on the newly formed Texas Agriculture Water Committee, organized to protect agricultural interests.

Represented are the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Sheep and Goat Raiser Association, Texas Grange, Texas Farmers Union, and Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

"Agriculture has been placed behind municipalities and industries in Texas," said Sidney Dean of Victoria, chairman of the group. "It should be on a par with industry as agriculture is the number one industry in Texas." Dean is president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Vice chairman is A. L. Black of Friona, president of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation District, and the secretary is Wayne Bodkin of Waicoma, assistant to the president of Texas Farmers Union.

The committee, organized Thursday in Dallas, voted to ask the Texas Railroad Commission for its interpretation of use of fresh water for flooding oil fields.

Oily skin needs to be soaped and rinsed twice every time you wash your face. Then pat it with an astringent to tighten up any large pores. Repeat this treatment two or three times a day.

American Industry has created 7.5 million new jobs over the past four years as reported by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. The figures from the Department of Labor average out to over 5,000 new jobs created every day. People employed in the civilian labor force number a record high of about 86 million.

per cent of the loan amount or $4,000, whichever is less. Again, PL 90-301, which raised the VA maximum guaranty on home from $7,500 to $12,500, did not change the farm loan guaranty.

TIPS FOR Outdoorsmen

by Vern Sanford

HEMOSTAT AS HOOK REMOVER
If you've got a doctor pal have him get you a used surgical hemostat (one has very short life for surgical needs and many are discarded regularly.) Its clamping mechanism and trim shape makes the finest hook disgorging going and high-grade steel never rusts.

FREEZE QUAIL IN MILK CARTONS
Milk cartons make good freezer boxes. Fill with game a quail or doves, add water, freeze and store in freezer.

LIGHTER LEADER FOR SNAGS
If you plan on fishing around snags or rocks, use a leader least a pound test less than your line. Then if you hang up, leader will break, not the line.

INEXPENSIVE REEL BAG
Cut off an eight-inch piece of your old pants leg and sew up one end closed. In the other cut slits and weave jaw string through, or add a zipper. Now you have a good bag, soft and easy to clean.

HANGERS AS ROD HOLDERS
Hang your fishing rods on coat hangers in the back of your door. Keep people from sitting on them or catching them in door.

FLOUORESCENT FLOATS VISIBLE
Bright fluorescent paint help keep a bobber in sight on a fog or dark days.

SUGAR LESSENS PAIN OF STING
Rub a bee sting with sugar. It will lessen the pain.

GUM WILL STOP LEAKS
Chewing gum will help reduce a rivet leak in an aluminum at. Chew gum well and stuff around outside of leak. Allow harden, then enjoy a dry boat ride.

SOX PROTECT REELS
Wrap reels in old heavy woolen socks. Keeps scratches off.

USE TALCUM ON LURES
Talcum powder dusted on rubber or skirted lures will keep them from sticking together.

The eggshell has been called the "perfect package—but, it's breakable. The liability of cracked eggs is a profitable enterprise, according to reports by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Eggs in liquid form have found ready markets. Liquid egg is a convenience for commercial bakers. Also, is sold in dried and frozen forms. Many food processors buy only part of the product — such as yolk or white only.

What do you do with those half-empty boxes of cereal that the youngsters have lost interest in? Instead of letting them get stale, make a cereal crumb pie crust. Farm & Ranch Review

Brush Control—Texas landowners could add an estimated $10 million to their yearly income by following brush control recommendation and proper land managements, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range brush and weed control specialist. Presently, brush is being controlled on about 1.2 million acres, about 10 percent of what should be controlled.

Suggestion For Dairymen—If U. S. Department of Agriculture sire evaluations on bulls in artificial insemination were used at their maximum current potential, Texas dairymen should be able to raise their yearly gross income $8.5 million, report A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist. Semen is available from bulls, at no more cost than semen from average bulls, which can raise milk production at least 400 pounds above breed average. The sire summaries are available, he says, at all county extension offices.

Hay Producers Watch A&M Tests—Texas A&M University dairy scientists are checking a commercially available chemical designed to allow farmers to bale hay with a higher - than - usual moisture content. The chemical, largely a mixture of ordinary food preservatives, is supposed to enable a person to bale hay at about 30 percent moisture, said Dr. R. E. Leighton.

Corporation Farm In Agriculture—A study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that corporations have made no serious inroads so far on the family farm.

Screwworms Still Around—Livestock producers are urged to delay surgery on animals if possible during the current screwworm outbreak. If surgery is necessary, then all wounds should be treated with a recommended chemical. Late season calves and wild-life populations also are contributing to the high case numbers. The importance of submitting worm samples for identification is very important, program officials say.

Texas Extension Workers In A&M Conference—The family get together for all Texas Agricultural Extension Service employees will be held at Texas A&M University, August 26-30. The biennial state conference will have for its theme — "Working Toward Perfection in Extension Educational Programs."

More On Farm Situation—From 1960-67, the number of farms in the U. S. declined 23 percent. But, while those with less than $2,500 annual sales declined by 27 percent, those in the $2,500 to $4,999 sales category declined 42 percent, and those in the $5,000 to $9,999 declined 32 percent during the period, those with farm sales of $10,000 to $20,000 decreased only 1 percent. And those with farm sales of $20,000 to $40,000 increased by 40 percent; and those with sales over $40,000 a nd more rose by 62 percent.

The USDA report said farms in the largest three categories accounted for only 31.5 percent of all farms in 1967, they accounted for 85.1 percent of cash receipts from farming, more than 75 percent of the realized net income from farming.

National 4-H Pledge—The 4-H pledge explains the "4-H's" and the aims of the youth phase program conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "I pledge my Heart to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service, and my Helath to better, living, for my club, my community, and my country." More than three million boys and girls are currently enrolled in the nation's 4-H Clubs.

Prevention Is Best Control—The best disease prevention measure for those growing ornamental plants is starting with healthy plants or those with disease resistance. Once an ornamental plant becomes badly diseased, it is almost impossible to nurse it back to health, says Dr. Wendell Horne, extension plant pathologist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reebough have also been visitors with the Hazlewoods. They are from Orient, Iowa. Mrs. Reebough is a niece of Mrs. Hazlewood.

Questions And Answers

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q—I've been audited several times, but none of my friends have been audited once. Am I on a blacklist or something?

A—No, you are not. Computers screen all returns and identify those with certain characteristics for examination. When your return or the returns filed by your friends are processed, the computers are prepared to look for certain "blacklist" used by IRS to identify returns for examination.

Q—Can I have my tax withholding reduced when I reach 65?

A—Yes, persons 65 and over may claim an additional exemption for income tax withholding purposes. To do this fill out a new Form W-4, Employees Withholding Exemption Certificate, and give it to your employer. He will tell you when the change will go into effect.

Q—Our apartment was rifled by burglars while we were away on vacation. Since we do not have insurance, can we deduct our losses for tax purposes?

A—Yes, a deduction for a theft can be taken on your return. However, only the loss in excess of $100 can be deducted.

To establish a theft loss you must be able to: (1) show the date the theft was discovered; (2) show the property was stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) establish ownership; (4) show evidence of the cost or other basis of the property; (5) show any amount taken or allowable for depreciation; and (6) show the amount of insurance or other compensation for the loss received or recoverable.

Spell Quiz

Correct Answer is:
Stilletto

Current indications are that the goal for cotton production in 1969 will be set by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the neighborhood of 14 million bales, according to Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Johnson commented on prospects for increased cotton acreage and production at a meeting August 22 of the Plains Ginners Association Board of Directors.

He pointed out that if projections of 1968 production and 1968-69 consumption prove correct the carryover of cotton in this country on August 1, 1968, was 6.3 billion bales, and USDA is estimating this year's production to be in the neighborhood of 10.9 million. This total of 16.2 million, plus the normal "city crop" and imports of about 100,000 bales, would give a total U. S. supply of 17.3 million bales from which to satisfy domestic and export demands to August 1, 1969.

Many observers in the trade and at mills are guessing 1968-69 consumption by domestic and export markets at around 13.5 million, which if correct, would bring the August 1, 1969 carryover down to 3.8 million.

The big factor determining the level of plantings in 1969 will of course be the provisions of the 1969 cotton program.

USDA must declare marketing quotas and announce major details of the 1969 program by October 15 of this year. "And unless something unexpected happens between now and that time to change their thinking, officials are certain to be shooting for increased acreage and production when they make their announcement," Johnson said.

There are two areas in which the Secretary of Agriculture has authority to make changes in the cotton program that would be calculated to bring about increased plantings.

The simplest change and the one that can be made without affecting other payments or provisions of the program, and therefore the most likely, is a lowering or elimination of the payment made for acreage voluntarily diverted from cotton production.

This payment was 6 cents per pound times projected yield times acreage voluntarily diverted in 1968 when producers across the belt diverted 22 per cent of allotments. In 1967, when the voluntary diversion payment was 10.78 cents per pound, the national average diversion rate was 33 per cent.

Also, the Secretary of Agriculture has the option to reduce or do away with mandatory diversion. This year producers were required to divert at least 5 per cent of their allotments in order to qualify as cooperators under the program. The maximum mandatory diversion under the present law is 12.5 per cent and that was also set in 1967 as the minimum diversion level for cooperators.

But if the Secretary requires no diversion at all he will be forced by the so-called Ellender amendment to raise either the price support payment or the loan level. The Ellender amendment specifies that the price support loan plus the price support payment, which is made only on the domestic portion of each producer's allotment (65 per cent), must equal 65 per cent of parity on the "permissible" acreage.

It parity at the time provisions are announced in October remains at the current 44.66 cents, and if the Secretary requires no diversion of acreage the price support payment for 1969 with a 20.25 cent loan would have to be 14.3 cents per pound as compared to the 12.24 cent payment rate for this year.

The law also requires a mandatory diversion payment of not less than 25 per cent of parity, and if there is no mandatory diversion in 1969 the Government would save the 10.76 cents per pound paid on the 5 per cent diversion that was required this year to help offset the additional cost of price support payments.

Even if growers are required to divert 5 per cent of allotments, the higher parity in 1969 would push price support payments up to 13.6 cents per pound, assuming that the loan level is not raised.

Johnson was recently reappointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee, which met prior to the announcement of cotton program provisions in 1967, and is of the opinion that this committee will be called together again next month for a discussion of 1969 provisions.

"A prime factor in the Secretary's decisions with regard to the 1969 cotton program will almost certainly be the overall cost to the Government," Johnson said, "but we will do all we can to prevent that factor from overshadowing the well-being of the U. S. cotton industry and its tremendous contribution to the U. S. economy."

GEORGE WALLACE backers got a big boost in morale this week when information was mailed to thousands of county leaders for the former Alabama governor showing that he could be elected President and with no big effort if all the people who have been saying: "I would vote for him if I though he could win" would stop and reason a minute. The fact is, and it is a concrete fact, WALLACE needs to get but 34 percent of the vote in any state to carry it. Give the GOP 33 percent and the DEMOS 33 percent and WALLACE 34 and there you have the election in the bag.

In Texas, the WALLACE vote is going to hurt the Democrats more than the Republicans. I don't know how many individuals told me they would vote for GEORGE next November who remained in the Democratic party in the primaries so they could vote for local candidates. At that, WALLACE polled heavily in Martin County. The quota for this county in the drive to get WALLACE'S name on the Texas ballot for the general election was exceeded by a five-to-one ratio. Either WALLACE or NIXON will carry Martin County next November despite the heavy padding of the federal payroll in this section. Many federal employes have told your editor that a change in Washington was a must this year and some of the blue checkers plan to follow GEORGE or put one in for DICK this time around. They fully realize that the jobs they now hold will become non-existent in four more years of "The Great Society." This nation is the greatest Republic on earth but it cannot survive the burning of the candle at both ends. I think it was EDNA ST. VINCENT MALLAY who wrote: "My candle burns at both ends—it give a lovely light—but it will not last the night." Or maybe that quotation goes: some other way. I will have to write my friend, PROF. LEROY (RED) GIBSON about it.

LEROY (RED) GIBSON has been writing a column for the paper titled "Red's Corner." He accepted my invitation to author such a column several months ago and I have thoroughly enjoyed reading the items mailed in by RED. It is my duty to pass along the information that RED'S column will not appear anymore because he says he just can't find time to write it. I never give up easily and I hope RED will change his mind under persuasion. If any of you subscribers out there in readerland will communicate your thoughts to me concerning the "draft Red's column" for continued publication, I will pass it along to him along with the lure of a paid up subscription and see if he won't reconsider. I simply won't accept the fact that a native son with talent plans to leave me with all the responsibility of again reviewing the new fall TV shows by myself.

The smartest trick of BOSS DALY'S long, colorful, and at time allegedly corrupt political life was pulled from his bag early Wednesday morning when he caused the Chicago convention to be adjourned. The Democratic chairman had refused the floor to delegates from other states but when he got the signal from DALY he allowed the man who helped the Democrats take Cook County when the national chips were down, have the floor. The heavily regimented machine vote in Chicago is well known. RICHARD NIXON lost the presidential nomination by less than 100,000 votes when he opposed the KENNEDY-JOHNSON ticket in 1960. That 100,000 majority was furnished by DALY'S machine in Chicago and nothing was ever done about it. In 1968 the people are going to demand as many guards, special police, and federal troops in that area as it has taken to control the Democratic convention. A fair election is going to be held in Chicago this next November if BOSS DALY has to be surrounded 24 hours daily until the votes are in and counted. This nation is in no mood for a national election theft. Even MAYOR DALY seems to sense that the people are in no state of mind to be tampered with—that's why he made the adjournment motion at the convention at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday morning. He didn't want the Democratic convention completely wrecked and the inside mood was mounting to match the outside mood when DALY made his smooth political move.

A major metropolitan newspaper carried the headline: "Connally Surrenders Delegation." That's all LYNDON'S LITTLE JOHN has done lately. First, he refused to run for re-election, then he refused to support PRESTON SMITH, then he refused to give up control of the Democratic Party in Texas even though a lame duck, then he surrendered in Chicago. I hope that these former poor boys who rose to riches from rags in parallel political careers settle down in the barbecue and beer country on their rolling ranches, acquired in the heyday of their public lives and leave the job of cleaning up the mess to men like DICK NIXON, TED AGNEW, or GEORGE WALLACE and his running mate come next November.

MR. and MRS. WALLACE KELLY have been vacationing in Detroit, Michigan this week. They left Midland by air Monday morning and will return home this weekend. While ALYNE has been away it has been a genuine pleasure to work with her substitute, MRS. HOMER SCHWALBE. When ALYNE returns, perhaps I can get her to write a column about a very interesting trip to Detroit, and motor car capital of the world.

NEAL'S NUGGET: Why take Humphrey rather than Johnson? It don't make sense to replace the ventrolaquist with the puppet.

Abilene Christian College Movie Crew Moves In To Present Muscial Group For Final Film Shots

Abilene Christian College will present the popular singing group The Association in concert September 24, as the first in a series of Moody Coliseum attractions.

Robert D. Hunter, assistant to the president for public relations and development, made the announcement recently at a press conference. Hunter said The Association, number one in the popular entertainment field for young people, would be followed by a November 21 performance by the "Up With People Sing-Out Explosion," a group of about 200 touring young people whose music combines the sophisticated professionalism of Broadway and the highest ideals of a new breed of young Americans.

The two attractions make up the fall schedule in the new series, with two more scheduled for the spring, according to Hunter. He chaired a 10-member student-faculty committee which arranged the attraction series.

"Since it is difficult to book major artists and groups in the popular entertainment field when there is limited seating," Hunter said, "we felt that with our coliseum we have an unusual opportunity to provide currently popular entertainment to collegians and youth of our area."

"It is our plan to book a wide variety of entertainment programs each year in coordination with other offerings by other groups in the community," he continued.

"One of our concerns in dealing with the national agencies was to negotiate contracts that would enable us to offer reasonable ticket prices for well-known popular entertainment. And we feel that we have been most successful in this regard," he commented.

Tickets for The Association concert are on sale by

Speir Predicts 46 Labor Day Deaths On Highways

Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said recently the DPS estimates 46 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Labor Day week-end.

"This is the last holiday week-end for the summer, and thousands of motorists traditionally take to the highways for an outing," Speir said. "It is indeed tragic that so many men, women, and children will become victims of motor vehicle accidents during an otherwise happy period," he added.

Speir said the Department of Public Safety will use all facilities and personnel at its consistently turning to the government for past help with projects. I have been informed by reliable residents in Martin County that Stanton once lost a fine project because of the high cost of living in this community. Cost of living services can chase people off faster than anything else. People are edgy right now anyway with trying to keep up with the back-breaking taxes, et al, forced on the average man as a result of foolhardy moves on the part of the government. Something has got to give—money is just not that plentiful in towns in the small category.

A very popular internationally acclaimed television comedian took his cuts at SPIRO T. AGNEW, candidate for vice president on the GOP ticket the other evening while substituting on the CARSON show. The funny man, once a partner in a twin act with DEAN MARTIN, whom DEAN now refuses to share the stage with, shouted that SPIRO AGNEW sounded something like a skin disease. Well, SPIRO did keep the name his mother gave him at birth. He never found it honestly essential to change it. And perhaps HERMAN HYMAN LEVINSKY would have done just as well in his comedian's role without changing his name to JERRY LEWIS. Or would a guy called LEVINSKY feel less secure knowing someone might think his name sounded little a case of Russian dog mange?

disposal in an effort to reduce the predicted death toll. A special "Operation Motorcade" will be activated at 6 p.m. Friday, August 30, and continue through midnight Monday, September 2. During this period, all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

"Many other groups such as local police and sheriff's department, the trucking industry, and the Jaycees will be cooperating in this effort to promote safe driving during the holiday," Speir noted.

For example, the Texas Motor Transportation Association and its Texas Council of Safety Supervisors, will sponsor a holiday road patrol during the Labor Day weekend to assist stranded motorists.

Jack Bryan, TMTA safety director, said some 40 cars marked "Holiday Road Patrol" will be used in the program. These will be manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors, and safety engineers of the trucking industry, who comprise the membership of the Council. Personnel participating in the road patrol will work as volunteers.

The Jaycees will provide rest stops for motorists in many areas of the state. Texas Safety Association said W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate efforts of over 12,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members in operating some 200 "rest stops" for serving free coffee to fatigued drivers.

The Texas Highway Department has provided the news media with a bulletin listing all road construction areas in the state.

Dallas Fair Set To Open October 5

They're wild about Texas! And it's a sure thing that Texas will be wild about "them."

Coming from every section of the state to the Agriculture Show, they are bringing a little bit of the wild and wonderful to that place where Texans come for fun—the State Fair of Texas Oct. 5-20 in Dallas.

"They" are a live collection of Texas wild animals, birds, fish, and snakes. The collection of creatures, everything from javelina to chaparral, from bluegill to coral snake, will be on display in the Agriculture Show during the 1968 State Fair.

From morning to night each day of the Fair, these real native Texans will entertain countless adults and children. Among the large number of animals are deer and antelope, ocelots, skunks, minks and racoons. The birds include the rare chachalaca, the bald eagle and the golden eagle.

In specially decorated tanks, visitors may see many native fish — including several species of sunfish, carp, catfish, and gars. The snakes will be of both non-poisonous and the poisonous varieties, including rattlesnakes, moccasins, and cooperheads.

The two youngsters portrayed Jon Voight as a little boy.

The company has already shot sequences in Big Spring and some in Midland.

The filming should be wrapped up in Stanton before the week is concluded.

Lloyd Henson was hospitalized in a Big Spring hospital Tuesday. Apparently he suffered a heart attack. His condition at press time Wednesday was reported as good.

putting estimated tax. A new Form 1040FY will be sent to fiscal year taxpayers in time to file and pay the surcharge tax by the due date, Sept. 15, Mr. Campbell said. Form 10-44FY will also be available at IRS offices the first part of August.

IRS Directors Says Revised Reports Due

Individual taxpayers who previously filed declarations of estimated federal income tax for 1968 must now revise their estimate to reflect the new surcharge tax recently enacted into law, Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for Northern Texas, said today. He also reminded taxpayers to file Form 1040 ES, declaration of estimated tax, if their federal income tax for 1968 will exceed their withholding by $40 or more.

Mr. Campbell said a new 1040 OES worksheet is now being developed to aid taxpayers in computing the amount of revised estimated tax. It will be mailed to taxpayers at the time they are billed for their third quarter installment due September 15. The worksheet will also be available at IRS offices around the first of September.

The new tax law imposes a 10 percent annual surcharge tax retroactive to April 1 on individual tax returns. This means, Mr. Campbell said, that most taxpayers who file on a calendar year basis will be required to pay a 7 1/2 percent surcharge on federal income tax covering income received during 1968.

Taxpayers who previously based their 1968 estimate on tax paid during 1967, can no longer use this method after Sept. 15, Mr. Campbell said. The law now requires individuals to use "anticipated income" as the basis for com-
