The nation is set to observe one of the most important weeks of the year — National Farm-City Week. The Soil Conservation District here and most of the civic clubs are participating in the observation activities. PRESIDENT JOHNSON has issued the annual proclamation calling attention to the importance between residents of rural and urban areas.

A few years ago the big discount stores learned that the way to sell Christmas merchandise is to start the holiday campaign in advertising mediums early. Gradually the bulk of Christmas sales have come during the last week of November and the first week of December. The last minute stuff is out. No progressive community waits until the day before Christmas to put their merchandise out and start the late selling. All the editor of this paper can do is bring some of the facts of this Christmas shopping business to the statistical front. Sales records compiled by reliable firms show that the bulk of the holiday buying is over in early December. Circulars from mail order houses, discount establishments, and other large area department stores, have been arriving in Stanton and Martin County for the past month. True, as we have said before, most of these circulars wind up in File 13 in the postoffice wastebaskets, but some do reach their point, and some sales are made. The next issue of the hometown journal appears on Thursday, Nov. 28. Will you continue to press your sales by remaining out of our selling columns?

The spirit of satisfaction in helping some favorite charities of your choice at Christmas-time is rewarding indeed. I get more personal pleasure out of knowing that the Good Man up above has allowed me the continuing opportunity through many years to make contributions to worthy things and causes. Some of the character building enterprises operated for benefit of boys and girls are located near Stanton. Some of these fine programs for building future citizens of America are located in Nebraska, Arizona, and Montana. I like to send remittance checks to Father Flanagan's Boys Town — La Sabre School for Indians, and those fine organizations doing so much for youth in West Texas. Remember your favorite school for boys and girls with a small check when solicited. You will feel better for having made some sort of contribution.

Jeffery Lusk Sentence Is Confirmed

Jeffery Lusk, formerly of Stanton but more recently of Midland lost his second bid for a reprieve by the Texas Court of Appeals last week. The court refused his motion for rehearing on appeal. Lusk was convicted in Midland County Oct. 25, 1967, for accosting a 16-year-old girl on the street. He was sentenced to two years in county jail. He appealed alleging discrimination because he is a negro, but the court of criminal appeals affirmed the conviction on September 16, and held to that position when Lusk asked for rehearing.

Mahon Doesn't See Nixon Cutting Spending By Much

House Appropriations Chairman George Mahon says he doesn't see President-elect Nixon cutting spending much during his first year in office.

As a matter-of-fact, Mahon thinks Nixon will do well to bring about a cut in the federal budget next year.

Money already appropriated and programs already approved for the first fiscal year won't find Nixon getting an opportunity to get his own administration program levelled out until July, 1969, the beginning of a new fiscal year.

Mahon says he expects little in the way of innovation legislation as proposed by Johnson.

Persons close to Nixon feel that the better of the existing programs will be studied and possibly implemented but that several others in the field of welfare and most federal regulations on educational spending that have not worked will either be substituted for or abandoned altogether. President-elect Nixon has his own ideas on educational programs that he feels will work.

George Mahon

Mahon said Nixon had already had him on the telephone and that he, Mahon, had pledged cooperation.

Mahon said the last Congress was a "middle-of-the-road" Congress, and so, he expects, will be the next one since membership has changed little.

"I do not think Mr. Nixon will come out drastically for repeats," Mahon said. But the Congressman would not be surprised, he said, if some of the programs now in existence are reconsidered.

Congressman Mahon also pointed out that much of the Johnson spending programs would have to continue for awhile because they are built-in. Federal indebtedness, now at an all-time high, will have to be refinanced and at higher interest rates. Another is the increase which possibly will come in the postal deficit. Another is the already escalated public assistance programs.

Mr. Nixon is not required to spend funds already appropriated, Mahon said.

Mr. Nixon is already pledged to do away with the ten percent surtax which expires on June 30. He has already said he will cut the urban renewal program back or out.

Dixie Democrats Control Senate, House Committees

Not a single deep South state supported Hubert H. Humphrey in his recent presidential bid but Southern Democrats will control most of the major Senate and House committees in the 91st Congress.

Democrats retained control of both branches of Congress. Under the seniority system of naming committee chairmen, many southerners — whose constituents continue to keep them in office — have risen to the top spots of their committees.

In the Senate, southerners will be chairmen of nine of the 15 major committees. The figure is 11 if the states of Texas and West Virginia are considered southern.

On the House side, southerners will be chairmen of four major committees and border state representatives will head six others, out of a total of 21.

Since there was no great turn-over in the Senate and House membership this year, committee lineup generally will be about the same in the 92nd Congress is in the 90th. This is especially true in the House where only one committee chairman was defeated.

In the Senate, three chairmen were defeated or retired. The principal change will be in the Senate Appropriations Committee due to the retirement of Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona. As a result Senator Richard Russell of Georgia will become chairman.

Another southerner, John Stennis of Mississippi will advance to chairmanship of the Armed Services Committee, succeeding Russell.

Senator Lister Hill, Alabama, is also retiring. He headed the Labor and Public Welfare Committee. Senator Ralph Yarborough of Texas will probably succeed to this chairmanship.

Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma was defeated. Sen. Gale W. McGee of Wyoming will move up to the chairmanship. (Continued on page 8)

Lions Plan To Honor District Governor Allen

The Stanton Lions Club met Tuesday noon, at the Belvue Restaurant, with first vice president, Chuck Elmore, presiding. John Roueche led the sing — song accompanied by sweetheart Pauline Wood.

Cecil Bridges led the pledge to the flag, and Rev. Richard Payne voiced the invocation. Deputy District Governor, John Wood, announced the date for the appreciation banquet to honor Past District Governor Marvin Allen. The event will take in San Angelo on the night of December 10, and the local Lions were encouraged to attend.

Lion Wood introduced Andrew Wilson of Coahoma, who brought the program. Wilson is a director in the Lions Crippled Children Camp at Kerrville, Texas. He presented a series of slides showing the buildings and grounds of the camp. Many of the children wore braces and some were using crutches or wheel chairs. ## Cancer Unit Headquarters Opened Here

The Martin County Unit of the American Cancer Society has recently acquired the use of the building adjacent to the Post Office downtown. Members of the unit have already begun work and are on duty approximately four hours each day from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The public is invited to stop by and look at the placard, brochures, and take home any of the leaflets, pamphlets, or books. There are hundreds of items concerning the cancer problem and it is through this media that the public will be educated by readily taking advantage of the material available there.

Public education is one of the main tools used to fight cancer. The local unit is proud of the fact that many programs and films have been heard or viewed by hundreds of people in Martin County. The Mobile Unit was in the Lenorah - Tarzan area last week, and was seen by people at the gins, stores, and schools.

According to a member of the local unit, the mobile unit will be on display in Stanton on the main street and near stores for the next few days. The public is urged to make an effort to see the unit in operation.

Members of the local unit are very appreciative that Jim Tom, allowed the use of the vacant building. It is through his courtesy that the building will be used for the next few weeks.

LBJ Proclaims Annual Event For Nov. 22-28

President Lyndon B. Johnson has designated the week of November 22-28 as 1968 National Farm-City Week.

The week is sponsored annually by leading civic clubs in cooperation with soil and water conservation districts.

Farm - City Week this year focuses attention on the quality of the nation's resources.

Resources are vital to all people regardless of whether they live in town or in the country. President Johnson said the quality and quantity of our resources in the next century depends on planning for uses of the country - side and developing town and country economics.

"Individual lives will be shaped, too, by whether our core cities are restored—and whether suburban growth is translated into durable and desirable forms of community development," the President said.

On the local scene, Jake Hodges, representing the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District (said a range tour was conducted on November 19 at the Glenn Brunson Ranch, located 17 miles south of Stanton, to celebrate the Farm-City Week event. A barbecue luncheon was served the many attending the interesting tour.

Local civic organizations have planned programs dealing with agriculture during the week and the Martin County Chamber of Commerce is urging a wider membership to bring about a better understanding between persons living in the communities and in the county seat.

Both Martin County farm membership organizations are expected to participate in observing Farm-City Week.

Stanton Refrigeration Co-Op Closing Down At End Of Year

Changing times, the widespread adoption of home freezers and new federal laws which hamper operations are spelling 'finis' to an establishment here which has become a landmark in this community.

It has been announced that effective Dec. 31, the Cap Rock Refrigeration Co-Op will close its doors. Actually, according to Orvel B. Bryan, who manages the Co-Op Refrigeration plant, as well as West - Tex Co - Op Telephone and Cap Rock Electric Co-Op, the plant has already been closed. The last employee was released from duties last week.

Meantime letters have been sent out to all members of the Co-Op who have lockers in the plant in which frozen food is still held. They are being asked to come and remove their food before Dec. 31.

CHANGING TIMES PUTS ONE-TIME BIG BUSINESS ON BLINK

Co-op Refrigeration at Stanton to close down effective Dec. 31

The Stanton cooperative refrigerator is one of 32 plants of its identical type put in operation in Texas a quarter of a century ago.

All the others have already gone out of business, Bryan said. After World War II, about 18,000 small freezing plants were set up over Texas.

These small, efficient units. They provide as much room as the lockers in the community refrigeration plants and offer the additional convenience of ready accessibility. The cost has dropped to the point where they are within reach of most families.

Farmers no longer raise their own beef and pork, and then process it as they did a score of years ago, Bryan points out.

Further, a new inspection law passed by Congress has placed a new barrier in the paths of small locker and processing plants which will probably bring about their extinction.

When the Stanton plant opened in 1945, it boasted aisles of lockers, totaling 605.

"They were all in use," said Bryan. "We even had a waiting list of people who wanted (Continued on page 8)

Many have closed down, Bryan said. Others will be closing as time passes. Their period of usefulness is over, he explained.

Probably the home freezer has done more to kill off these plants than anything. Nearly every farm home, and many urban residences, now have

Philosopher Follows The Trend And Comes Up With A Solution For Big City Problem

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Martin County guess, "Farm on Mustang Draw," unable to solve the farm problem, tackles the city problem this week.)

Dear editor:

It suddenly occurred to me yesterday that during the entire recent campaign nobody recognized, not to mention offered a solution to, the farm problem.

Checking up on myself, I went back through a stack of newspapers I've been saving to start fires with and I'm right. The farm problem was plumb forgotten.

The city problem though came in for a lot of talk, that's where most of the votes are, and just last night I ran into an article trying to solve the traffic snarl-up in cities.

As I understand it, in most cities people try to drive their cars to work, and the place simply won't hold that many. So this article was saying people should drive their cars to the edge of the downtown center, transfer to a bus, ride the bus further in, then transfer to a moving sidewalk, jump off at their building walk to the elevator and ride on up.

There is just one flaw in this. They have to walk from the front door to the elevator.

I have thought about this transportation problem and the answer is simple. Buildings in most big cities are only half tall enough.

Say you've got a 40-story building that'll hold 10,000 workers. Why scatter those 10,000 people way out in the suburbs, have them drive 10,000 cars in every morning and out every afternoon?

Why not add 40 more stories on top of the building and let them live there? A man having to report for work at 9 a.m. could sleep till 8:30, wolf down his breakfast, and take the elevator down to work on time. Everybody could even go home for lunch.

If they felt they had to have a lawn to work on, the company could plant grass on the roof, sprinkle some crabgrass seed around to make it challenging, and everybody could take turns at the sport.

As for children, add a few more stories to the building and put a school there, with of course additional apartments for the teachers.

Actually, with the addition of a hospital, nobody would ever have to leave the building till he went off to college, and if the foundation would hold, I guess they could add a college to the building too.

Don't know what they'd do about playing football, but I can't solve all the city's problems.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lord's Prayer Outline Ideal World

When we make that petition which is the Lord's Prayer, what do we mean by it and what should it mean to us?

One thing is certain. When we make that prayer in sincerity and truth the Kingdom has already arrived in our hearts and lives. The Rule of Christ, His law of love, and the following of His example, give evidence of our place in the Kingdom which is above all kingdoms, and whose King is supreme.

That rule is firmly established in ourselves it becomes a yearning, a passion, and a prayer that it might be established in all hearts, and in all the affairs of men.

It is this yearning and prayer that is so well expressed in the interpreting repetition, "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven."

There was a time not long ago when Allegiance to the Kingdom of God conflicted with allegiance to most of the kingdom of earth. In too many countries that conflict still continues, or has been reasserted, under cruel dictatorships in which godless philosophies and attitudes are manifest in suppression and persecution.

But today, in such democracies as Canada, the United States and Great Britain the evidence of almost revolutionary progress is seen in the fact that such conflicts of allegiance have almost completely disappeared.

If it were not for all the evil that democracy has not yet conquered, we might well say: "Would that all nations and peoples were as we are." However, evil carries within itself the seeds of destruction, and so in faith and hope we must pray that some day we may realize the Kingdom of God in full, in our every act and deed.

Recently we modernized the enclosure we've been sending out with monthly electric service bills.

We redesigned it so it would be less bulky, simpler, and easier to cut out and file the recipe.

The trouble was, we thought the two-month calendar wasn't serving any particular purpose and we eliminated it. It was a mistake. We got calls and letters.

So, starting in late November, you'll find that we have revised the enclosure so the two-month calendar will again be a part of it. The only difference is that it will be a two-sided calendar that can easily be cut out and carried or used any way you want.

CHICAGO—The happy scene above will be repeated soon when 1,656 of the nation's most outstanding 4-H members begin to arrive at Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel for the opening of the 47th National 4-H Congress. The group pictured here was among the first arrivals at last year's session and lost no time getting acquainted.

The 4-H Congress is the highlight of the 4-H year, and this year will convene the first week in December. The delegates are between the ages of 15 and 19 years and represent all 50 states and Puerto Rico. They will travel to Chicago with expenses paid by private firms that support nationwide 4-H programs. The young delegates are the top achievers in some 40 different 4-H categories.

Responsibility Is Theme
While in Chicago, the youths will hold assemblies to discuss the congress theme: Commitment to Responsibility. A colorful pageant written around this theme will officially open the session on Sunday afternoon, December 1.

In two half-day sessions the delegates will hear an address by Senior Editor of Reader's Digest, Charles W. Ferguson; and Judge of the County Court of Philadelphia, Juanita Kidd Stout. Judge Stout last year was honored as one of eight former 4-H members to receive the national 4-H Alumni Key award presented by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation. Among other speakers will be Dr. Harold Sponberg, president of Eastern Michigan University, and Dr. Luther S. Roehm, president of Merck Chemical Division, Merck & Co., Inc. The firm sponsors the national 4-H Horse program. Delegates to the Chicago meeting will see, hear and learn many things which will expand their horizons and contribute to their education.

Balanced Program
Entertainment will include a pop concert played by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Arthur Fiedler, world-renowned conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra. The Singer Company, a 4-H sponsor, will be the host for this musical treat. The recently restored Auditorium Theatre will be the setting for another exciting evening, courtesy of Tupperware, also a sponsor. The spiritual centers around attending the historic Chicago Sunday Evening Club where Bishop John E. Hines of the Episcopal Church, New York City, will be the guest speaker. Sunday morning the traditional 4-H service will be conducted in Central Church by the Rev. Kenneth Hildebrand.

Many Sponsors
Among the nearly 60 firms and foundations that help make the national 4-H Congress possible are: Ford Motor Company Fund; Chevron Chemical Company—Ortho Division; Ralston Purina Company; American Forest Institute; Homelite, A Division of Tectron Inc. and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company.

Others include: Chicago Board of Trade; Sunbeam Corporation; The West Bend Company; Massey-Ferguson Inc.; Eastman Kodak Company; Union 76 Division, Union Oil Company of California; Moorman Mfg. Co.; International Minerals & Chemical Corporation; The Singer Company; Edwin T. Meredith Foundation; The Milwaukee Road; Cities Service Oil Company and Elgin National Watch Company.

Nixon Inauguration Ceremonies Planned

Richard M. Nixon's inauguration ceremonies will include the traditional inaugural balls and a shortened parade keyed to the theme: "Bring Us Together."

Nixon advisers had been quoted as saying a "subdued" inauguration Day was under consideration in view of the Vietnam War.

But J. Willard Marriott, chairman of the 1969 Inaugural Committee, said today in a prepared statement that there will be five — possibly six — inaugural balls and a two-hour parade with bands and floats.

Nixon believes the inauguration "is a national occasion in which all the people should have the opportunity to see and participate in," Marriott said.

President Johnson trimmed the inauguration parade to three hours in 1965 and banished military hardware. He held five inaugural balls.

From 1945, when President Roosevelt was sworn in during austere ceremonies at the White House, until Johnson shortened the parade, the bands, floats and horses had taken five hours or more to pass the reviewing stand.

President Kennedy's inauguration parade lasted over an hour after sundown.

Nixon coined the "Bring Us Together" motto in his first press conference after his election. He said he borrowed it from a sign carried by a young girl during a campaign appearance in Deshler, Ohio.

NIXON MARGIN TOPS 316,000

Latest vote totals showed Thursday that Richard Nixon's popular vote margin over Hubert H. Humphrey stood at 31,134,760 to 30,818,056, a lead of 316,704.

Humphrey's total included 51,342 votes cast for electors pledged to him in Alabama, where George Wallace was the regular Democratic candidate. Wallace's total vote stood at 9,687, 609.

A departure from past years is the decision not to use the cavernous D.C. Armory for an inaugural ball. All five balls scheduled so far will be held in hotels.

Marriott said, "We will ask each state to be represented by a marching band of their choice and state float somewhat similar to the approach used by the Rose Bowl operation."

Reagan Owls Start Late, Then Crush Buffs, 64-25

The Reagan County Owls from Big Lake move on to bigger things in bi-district competition after claiming the District 5-AA championship with a walloping 64-25 victory over Stanton in Big Lake Friday night.

The Owls will play Alpine in the first round of the playoff. The Owls got off to a late start, allowing the visiting Stanton Buffaloes a two-touchdown headstart. But they smashed back with 25 points in the second period to take the lead at halftime, 24-20.

Stanton's David Jones passed to end Benny Avery for a 47-yard tally, and then ran for another TD from the nine. Jack Maidson kicked good on one PAT attempt to send the Buffaloes into a first quarter lead, 13-0.

Stanton came on strong in the second period with another Jones - Avery scoring pass good from the 35. The extra point failed.

But the Owls were not to be denied. Quarterback Joe Barnes finally got his offensive squad in the groove and passed to end Terry Tavin for an 18-yard TD. Barnes found James Watson with a 30-yard scoring strike, Sandy Wilson ran in from the 11 and Big Lake went into the lead with a pass interception by Barnes that was carried 75 yards to the end zone.

Barnes hit Watson with a seven - yard TD pass early in the third period to boost the Owls' margin to a fairly comfortable 10 points.

Stanton's Jones fired; to Steve Stallings for an 11-yard tally to close the gap, but the two - point conversion pass failed and left Big Lake leading by four.

Owl Sam Douglas returned the kickoff 97 yards to regain breathing room and break the back of the visitors who never scored again. The two-point conversion run was a good.

The Owls poured fuel on the fire in the closing period, with 26 more points. Sandy Wilson ran in from the 26 and later from the 13. Barnes hit George Wright with a 30 - yard touchdown aerial, and Larry Settle returned an intercepted Stanton pass 25 yards to tally. Toby Browder kicked two of the PAT attempts good.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw,

The irrigation of cotton must be considered supplemental to the average rainfall received during the growing season (April through October), reports Jake Hodges, local SCS technician.

A pre-plant irrigation will be necessary to produce maximum yields for two basic reasons: to provide surface moisture for timely planting and to provide stored moisture for emergency use during the peak summer fruiting stage of growth.

Recent tests show that pre-plant irrigation water use efficiency, was increased when cotton was planted in a two in, one out, or solid 40 inch row planting. Solid planted cotton receiving no pre-plant irrigation water and one summer irrigation equal in size to the pre-plant application, produced the highest water use efficiency in the test. Long time date of planting studies show that 500 to 600 pounds of lint can be expected from cotton planted as late as June 10, and watered with one summer irrigation.

Furthermore, 90 per cent of the years sufficient rainfall will be received to plant before June 10, without a pre-plant irrigation.

More efficient utilization can be made of both rainfall and irrigation water by land farming practices such as field leveling, bench leveling, and parallel terracing. Preliminary results from water conservation studies during 1963-64, reveal that yields in pounds of lint per acre for non-irrigation, were 401,228, 150, and 124 for soil having 0 per cent, 2 per cent, 5 per cent, 9 per cent, and 1.2 per cent slope respectively. Extensive irrigation tests reveal that one inch of rainfall or irrigation water stored in the soil, will produce 20 to 40 pounds of lint. Cotton irrigated only once during the summer, was found to produce highest yields and highest water use efficiency, when watered 20 to 30 days following bloom initiation. Soil should be wetted to a depth of two feet by this one summer irrigation, as this will be the only supplemental water received by the crop. When comparing yields of sprinkler and furrow irrigation cotton, there was very little difference in yield for the two methods when the total moisture was the same. Skip row planting was found to increase total water use efficiency more under limited water situations than under more favorable water situations.

Stanton Study Club Met With Mrs. Joe Stewart

The Stanton Study Club met Thursday in the Martin County Library, with Mrs. Joe Stewart as hostess. Mrs. James Wheeler, president, called the meeting to order. Reports were heard from Mrs. Ralph Caffey, librarian, and Mrs. Stanley Reid, chairman of the Martin County Historical Museum Committee.

Mrs. Bob Cox, program chairman, introduced the program topic, "Americanism," and gave a most inspiring and informative talk entitled, "Repeal Apathy Through Civic Responsibility."

Plans were made for the club Christmas party, to be held December 10, in the home of Mrs. Stanley Reid. Gifts are to be brought for the Big Spring State Hospital.

Thanksgiving decorations were used on the refreshment table. The following members were present: Mrs. Alex Haggard, Mrs. Homer Schwalbe, Mrs. B. F. Smith, Mrs. Ira Clark, Mrs. Ralph Caffey, Mrs. Bob Cox, Mrs. J. O. Stuard, Mrs. Stanley Reid, Dr. Sue Fisher, Mrs. Henry Watson, Mrs. Jack Woodrow, Mrs. S. W. Wheeler, Mrs. Glenn Brown, Mrs. James Wheeler, and Mrs. Joe Stewart.

C. F. Horne, president of the Pamona Division of General Dynamics Corporation stated: "The long-range future of our free enterprise system is dependent upon the young people now in school and the education they will receive."

Wake up, Texas, let's declare an all-out war on cancer by having an adequate physical examination. Other states have.

Red's Corner

By RED GIBSON

Secret ambitions? Sure, I've got one.

Some night, in prime time, I'd like to see the Allstate people miff one. You know, the giant that holds the car and house in his mitts would come out and cup his hands, the camera would pan down for a closeup, and he would say, "You're in good hands with . . . oops!" and the car and house would tumble to the floor.

Not likely. But it's worth thinking about.

A couple of others spring to mind. It would be a pleasant change to have the Ford people click on their light and say, "Ford has a better idea," and then the light bulb would burn out.

The television people, particularly those in charge of the nonsense that is passed off as advertising, no doubt live clean lives, donate regularly to charity and do other things that would cause us to wish them well. So it is not out of any spirit of malevolence that I suggest some changes in commercials. Changes could make the commercial a little more believable (but perhaps not more effective).

For example, I have long admired the Maryland Club man (the one rich enough to own all the coffee in the world). He gives a note to a lackey and then plunges into sporting activity, perhaps skiing, perhaps boating or call-branding. At any rate, his assistants relay the message by phone, carrier pigeon and dog sled and this fellow finally gets back to the house to find a cup of fresh-perked Maryland Club awaiting him.

What I would like to see would be this fellow taking one sip, spitting it on the ground and saying, "Gee! that stuff's ice cold. Can't you people do anything right?"

Maybe Ma Bell could be talked into the picture. Every year on this time the Bell Telephone Co. puts on its push to get people to phone their relatives long distance. I'd would like to see that homey scene in which the announcer makes his pitch about long distance phoning being the next best thing to being there, and the kiddie phone granny . . . and the line is busy.

One that I would prefer above all the foregoing involves that fool who goes around taking up people's Secret deodorant while they complain. (He gives them new Secret). I'd like to see him jerk a bottle of Secret out of someone's hand — and get his ears boxed for his trouble. Anyone so damned impolite deserves to be punched in the snoot.

It may have something to do with the generation gap, but I also get tired of a commercial showing tigers running around acting like cars and showing off their paws. I would like to see that dumb tiger get out on the freeway going 90 miles an hour — and have a truck come along and flatten his behind. Tigers are for zoos.

Just once, it would be refreshing to have some kid coned into washing his mouth out with Listerine and still not get the girl. Surely, somewhere in this country, there's a youth whose sexual problems can't be eliminated by resort to mouthwash. TV ought to portray the facts.

One more: one of the big things in shaving soaps nowadays is lime flavoring. Some commercials show a big jerk going cuckoo over lime soap and nibbling away on it as he babbles. I'd like to see that same jerk get some of that stuff in his mouth, spit, go "Yeesh!" and ask what the heck was going on that someone was trying to get him to eat soap.

A number of other possibilities suggest themselves for examination in this particular field. Most of these advertisements create animosity of a sort. The unfortunate part, and for a minute I'm serious, is that the advertisers don't care, because this animosity doesn't hang on for long. People criticize the Secret man and Katy Winters, the flat-faced broad with dry armpits who rescues less fortunate damsels with a sweat problem, but they remember the name

If Nixon Died Before Dec. 16, What Then?

If Richard M. Nixon should die or become incapacitated before Jan. 20, who would be inaugurated as the next president?

Congressional authorities said today the answer depends on whether death or incapacity occurred before or after the presidential electors meet Dec. 16 to cast their ballots.

If it happened after the electors voted, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, Nixon's running mate, would become the next president.

But if Nixon died before Dec. 16, the experts said, the electors would be free to vote for anyone they pleased.

Technically there now is no president-elect or vice president-elect despite Nixon's and Agnew's Nov. 5 victory.

The people voted for electors and the Constitution provides the electors shall meet in their respective state capitals and vote for a president and a vice president.

The only constitutional restriction on the electors is that at least one of the candidates for whom they vote shall not be a resident of the same state as themselves.

Negro Vote Hits Record

More Negroes than ever before — more than six million — cast ballots in the presidential election, most of them for Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic National Committee reported Saturday.

The committee said in a statement preliminary returns from Negro districts in key areas indicate Humphrey received 91 per cent of the black vote in losing the election to Richard M. Nixon.

Those voting comprise 80 per cent of the 7.2 million registered Negroes, it added.

Smith's Expenses For Campaign Over $1 Million

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith spent more than $1 million in his long and successful campaign for governor of Texas, he reported Friday to the secretary of state.

Smith's official campaign finance reports shows total spending, starting with his Democratic primary races, of $1,233,074 and contributions totaling $1,207,237.

Paul Eggers, the Republican nominee for governor, spent a total of $384,422 and received contributions totaling $291,352 in primary contests.

The final reports covering the period since preliminary expense and contribution tallies were filed Oct. 28, Smith said he received $296,254 in gifts and paid out $196,241.

Verifying reports that his campaign ran short of funds in its final days, Eggers said he received $17,159 and paid $16,005.

Here's the expert.

She's your telephone service representative. To many telephone users, she is the phone company.

She answers questions, provides personal number booklets, directories and duplicate bills. She helps you get new phones installed.

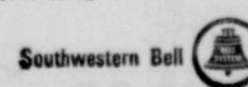

As a service representative, she has to be something of a lady executive, a bit of a diplomat and an expert in phone service.

And she is. She was hired from a select group of applicants and put through an extensive training program.

And she attends regular meetings to discuss customer service.

Next time you need help on a telephone problem, just call the telephone business office.

Your service representative will take it from there.

Howard County Candidate Asks Recount

Bill Crooker, Republican candidate for Precinct Three Howard County Commissioner, has filed a formal request with the Howard County Canvassing Board for a recount of all the boxes and absentee votes involved in the precinct.

Crooker lost the November election to Mrs. May Hayden, Democrat, by 81 votes.

Crooker took advantage of Section 1 on 1967 election law which makes it possible for a candidate who loses an election by five per cent or less to request a recount.

Crooker is also requesting a recount because the applications for the number of absentee vote ballots did not match the actual vote total counted. Only 383 applications were sought for absentee voting and 485 ballots were counted.

Crooker will suggest a counter, Mrs. Hayden will be allowed to name one and the two persons will choose a third person to recount the ballots.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The Internal Revenue Service doesn't think that small taxpayers are any more patriotic than the big taxpayers. However, the new red, white, and blue tax forms will generally go to the smaller taxpayers that do not itemize deductions, prepare schedules or report business or farm income. The forms are printed in blue ink with the red ink emphasizing points that caused the most taxpayers errors last year. Even though the other tax forms will be printed in plain old black and white (instead of colors) IRS still hopes that these taxpayers will be careful and avoid errors. The red, white, and blue forms will not be available at IRS offices. Unless you receive yours in the mail, you will just have to use the old black and white form.

Veterans Administration

An estimated 9,940 Texas widows of veterans who died as the result of military service will be eligible for up to 36 months of educational assistance from the Veterans Administration beginning December 1, Jack Coker, manager of the Waco VA Regional Office, said today.

He pointed out that starting Dec. 1, the wives of Texas' 6,148 totally and permanently disabled veterans will also be eligible to VA educational assistance payments of $130 a month — up to a maximum of 36 months — for full-time institutional training.

The allowance for three-quarters time training is $95 a month, with $60 being paid for half-time training under the new law granting these widows and wives VA educational help for the first time in the history of veterans' benefits in the United States, Coker said.

Widows and wives now eligible for this benefit will have until December 1, 1976, to complete their training under this new program, Coker explained.

He said that women who become eligible in the future for VA educational assistance due to the service - connected death or permanent and total disability of their husbands will have eight years to complete their training.

Eligibility of widows and wives does not depend on when their husbands served in the Armed Forces. However, he added, if a widow remarries or a wife divorces her husband she loses her entitlement.

Coker emphasized that it will not be necessary for eligible widows and wives to contact the VA for detailed information on this new program.

In the near future the Veterans Administration will mail explanatory material with widow's dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) checks and with the compensation checks for totally and permanently disabled veterans.

Court Docket Still Growing

Cases in 118th District Court number 24 more at the end of the month than were on file at the beginning of October.

There are now 1,309 cases pending on the docket, compared to 1,285 the previous month.

Eight new personal injury cases were filed and three were listed for workman's compensation. There were 27 divorce cases filed, nine other civil and 23 criminal.

During October cases disposed of include five personal injury, 24 divorce, 17 other civil and four criminal for a total of 46.

Of the total cases pending at the end of October, 26 were personal injury, 33 were workman's compensation, 256 were for divorce, and two were for annulment. There were four dependent and neglected children cases, 326 tax cases, 561 other civil and 79 criminal.

Survey Shows Americans Aren't Using Over-Shoulder Seat Belts

Americans aren't using the over-the-shoulder seat belts the government has required on new cars since last Jan. 1, federal officials say.

Dr. William Haddon, Jr., director of the National Highway Safety Bureau, estimates that in cars which have the belts, the use rate is less than 5 per cent.

"We feel deeply the tragedy of the death and injuries occurring by the tens of thousands that would not occur to anywhere near the same extent if people would use these belts," Haddon said in an interview.

Studies indicate that the shoulder belt, used in combination with lap belts, reduce a person's chances of being killed or seriously injured in an accident by 70 to 80 per cent.

A study of more than 28,000 accidents in Sweden found that not a single person wearing the shoulder-lap belt harness was killed in crashes at speeds below 60 miles an hour.

Why aren't people using the belts? Haddon said one apparent reason is that most people find the belt uncomfortable, often because of neck irritation.

He said the belts tend to put pressure on the neck because of the way they have been anchored in American cars with bench-type front seats. The belt pass between the fold of the seat to a point more behind the occupant rather than at his side, as is possible with bucket seats.

Another possible reason, Haddon said, is that many of the American cars have separate lap and shoulder harnesses, to that each must be fastened separately.

"A lot of people don't think it is worth the bother," Haddon said.

Publishers Eye Nixon's Regime

President-elect Richard M. Nixon will transform his slim election victory into nationwide support through strong leadership, members of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association predicted Sunday.

The publishers were polled at the opening session of the SNPA's 65th annual convention.

"He'll make some people unhappy, but President Johnson tried to please everyone and that was his mistake," said Bert Struby, general manager of the Macon, Ga. Telegraph and News. "The important thing is to take a firm stand on issues, national and international, and the people will fall in line."

The president of two newspapers that supported George

C. Wallace for president, Robert M. Hederman, Jr. of the Jackson, Miss., Clarion-Ledger and Daily News, said Southerners were rallying to the support of Nixon.

"In our area, I've never seen people in all walks of life so willing to accept an election and cooperate with a new administration," Hederman said.

"Nixon is experienced enough to know what he must do," said Hugh B. Patterson, Jr. of the Little Rock, Ark., Gazette. He said the lack of an electoral mandate is a mandate for Nixon to form a coalition government.

"I hope he'll clean house and apply some business sense to national affairs," said Edward L. Gaylord, executive vice president of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman a n d Times.

Ag Leader Charges USDA Mismanaged

A major spokesman for farm businesses said that President-elect Richard M. Nixon has an opportunity to accelerate agriculture economics because "farmers and their leaders are ready to listen and eager to act."

Robert C. Liebenow, president of the Corn Refiners Association, Inc., of Washington, D. C. and a former president of the Chicago Board of Trade, spoke to 300 delegates attending the annual National Grange convention.

Liebenow suggested that the Nixon administration "form a Hoover-type reorganization commission to reshape and re-study the existing Department of Agriculture."

Liebenow said the "clear farm belt mandate in the recent election" gave Nixon an "unprecedented opportunity to move deliberately and forcefully to blaze the new agricultural economic path for the '70s and '80s."

Liebenow said the agriculture department's "one of the most unmanageable arms of our government, loaded down with overlapping functions and fractured responsibility."

Liebenow said the present framework "is grossly unfair to farmers. The public tends to view the department's entire budget as aid for farmers when actually only about half of it goes into programs that assist farmers directly."

Sign Language
When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied:

"We have a sign on our wall reading 'Not Responsible For Theft.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding on a sign's legal efficacy. Thus, not only public policy, but also the legibility and the position of a sign may affect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice" — and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "Wet Paint" sign on a park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see. A motorist drove through a stop street, colliding with an oncoming car. His excuse was that the stop sign was lying in a ditch, out of sight.

Yet the motorist admitted he knew the neighborhood, and knew it was a stop street. Under these circumstances, even with the sign missing, the court said he should have obeyed its command.

Nor does a sign need elegance of phrasing to be effective. What counts is whether it gets its message across. Once a farmer, pestered by trespassers, posted this sign as a warning:

Questions & Answers

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers for tax purposes.)

Q — I started working this fall. Will enough be taken out of my paycheck to take out new surtax as well as the regular income tax?

A — For most people, withholding will be sufficient to satisfy their federal tax liabilities this year as it has in the past.

Withholding rates were adjusted in July to take care of the tax surcharge. As you started work after that date, tax will have been withheld at rates set to satisfy your federal income tax liability.

The new tax surcharge will have an effective rate of 7 1/2 percent in 1968. Although the tax surcharge rate is 10 percent it is in effect for only 9 months of the year for individuals. The surcharge on corporation income is in effect for the entire 12 months of 1968.

Q — Our country place was damaged by lightning. Can we deduct the loss?

A — If the loss exceeds $100 and is not covered by insurance you may be entitled to a tax deduction. Generally, the loss is the difference in the value of the property before and after the lightning struck.

For details send a post card to your district director and ask for a free copy of Document No. 5174, Disaster, Casualties and Thefts.

Q — Why isn't a check made out to cash acceptable as proof of a charitable contribution?

A — To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, to whom paid, as well as the amount.

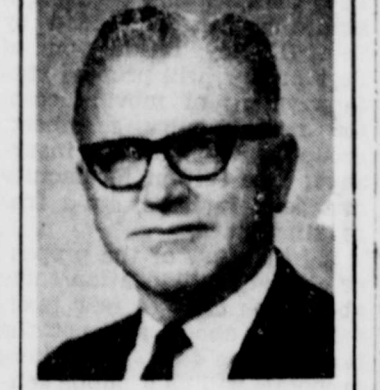

A check made out to cash or to yourself gives no indication by itself of the nature of the expense. This kind of check must be supported by other records, such as receipts, to be useful in proving any deductions you claim.

A check made out to a specific organization, a charity for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible contribution has been made.

Majority Of Texas Voters Didn't Vote For Winner

For the first time since 1924 the majority of Texas voters did not vote for the next president of the United States.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey got Texas' 25 electoral votes by a margin of about 40,000 votes, but Richard Nixon won the presidency.

Also, for the first time since 1931, when former Vice President John Nance Garber became speaker of the U. S. House, Texas will have no top legislative or executive official in Washington, after President Johnson leave office.

After Jan. 20, 1969, Texas' chief elected spokesman in the national capital will be Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, whose party won the general election but whose home state voted against the winner," a U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, whose home state was among the losers supporting the Democratic nominee.

Neither Texas Democrats nor Republicans can brag about the election. Third-party candidate George Wallace, who ran third in the nation and Texas, furnished much of the impetus that allowed Humphrey to win in Texas and Nixon in the nation.

Republicans have claimed for eight years that narrow Democratic wins in Texas and Illinois defeated Nixon in 1960.

In 1868, one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment.

In 1876, one vote changed France from a Monarchy to a Republic.

In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the Presidency of the United States.

In 1876, one vote gave Adolph Hitler leadership of Nazi Party.

Illinois swung this time, to Nixon, who gained a hairbreadth win without Texas. This revived an old argument that began at the National Democratic Convention, when some of Humphrey's closest advisors tried to convince him he did not need the Lone Star States as much as he needed the seven big urban centers on the East Coast, the Midwest, and the Pacific Coast. Humphrey got Texas but lost.

In many respects the 1968 voting compares to 1960 when John F. Kennedy carried Texas by 46,000 votes, close to the some margin posted by Humphrey this time.

The big difference is the vote received by Wallace.

Congressman Wendell Wyatt of Oregon said that he agrees with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that adequate force must be used by police to stop riots and civil disturbances.

Mr. And Mrs. J. Ory Wed November 17

Mrs. John Ray Ory

Mr. and Mrs. John Ray Ory are on a trip in the Bahama's, after their wedding Sunday, November 17, in the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Dallas. The Rev. Peter G. Bithos officiated.

Mrs. Ory, formerly Miss Maria Ann Brockles, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Brockles, Jr., of Dallas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory of Stanton. The bride chose a formal length gown fashioned of candlelight peau de soie, combined with an d'ange lace, designed with an Empire bodice, featuring a portrait neckline. The slim skirt flared softly in an "A" line from the Empire to sweep to the back in a full train. A myriad of tiny gath-ers released from a Doir bow at the back neckline created a full chapel train. A wide border of lace encircled the entire hemline of the gown and train.

Her veil of pure silk illusion fell the length of the train from a tiny coil of peau de soie roses and dainty lace leaves.

Both attended North Texas State University. He was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory, hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Tropicana.

Stanton High School News

By PUG DEAVENPORT

The Future Farmers of America of Stanton High School, made a fine showing at the El Rancho district contests held in Midland High School, on Monday, November 18. The group brought home three first, and three second place banners.

The remainder of the score went to the Owls, as they rolled up points to prove themselves as district champs. The Owls will beat Alpine in the bi-district contest, Friday in Alpine.

The pep rally, preceding the Big Lake game, was held in the auditorium. Speeches were presented by Coach Phil Stovall and Bryan Boyd. The cheerleaders presented three skits, and a pom-pom routine to "Here Come Da Buffs."

The Mighty Mites of Stanton High, caused the Owls a number of anxious moments during the contest, especially during the rompin' - stompin' first quarter. The Bisons wasted no time getting on the scoreboard. Senior QB David Jones hit end Benny Avery on a 50-yard aerial for the first six points. Jack Madison's kick rolled another point on the scoreboard. Jones added to the Owls' misery by carrying the pigskin into the end zone on an 8 - yard sprin to shoot the Bisons scores up to 13. The first saw one more Stanton TD, another Jones - Avery pass that was good for 35 yards.

While the Bisons were busy racking up points, the SHS defense was also making accomplishments. Three times the Owls were stopped with fourth downs and less than a yard to go.

The Big Lake squad made a strong come-back late in the first half, 24 points worth, to hold a lead at mid-game.

Both teams swapped touchdowns early in the third. Stanton's came on a 12 yard pass from Jones to Steve Stallings. Big Lake returned the ensuing kick-off, though, to get a 38-25 lead.

With the close of football season, a new sport begins getting attention. Basketball work - outs for both boys and girls are underway, and exciting games are in store for basketball enthusiasts. The first tip-off will be in Morton this Friday night for "A" and "B" boys games.

The girls make their initial games, Tuesday, November 26, when they meet Tahoka. Back your teams!

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-incher.

There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

Foods To Mail With Confidence

Cookies and cakes which are long-lived and can stand a few knocks can be mailed with confidence, regardless of distance, says Elizabeth Barnard, foods and nutrition specialist.

Soft drop cookies, chewy bar cookies, squared and filled cookies travel well, according to the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Applesauce, molasses, oatmeal and mincehead cookies are good packers. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age.

If cookies are too rich, they may crumble or turn rancid, warns Miss Barnard.

Cakes are different to ship successfully because they dry and break. Syrups substituted for part of the sugar help to prevent rapid drying. Fruit cakes and those made with applesauce remain moist for some time.

The extension specialist recommends sending cup cakes baked in fluted paper cups. Or, she says, cut a square cake and frost pieces on all sides, wrapping each piece individually.

To send pie, Miss Barnard suggests tart or individual pies. They pack better.

Adding all-barn to the pastry dough helps prevent the crust from breaking up, she says. Firm fillings are less apt to soak through the crust.

Miss Barnard recommends mincehead and fruit thickened with cornstarch. Custard fillings spoil too rapidly to be safe.

The extension foods specialist says products of these two recipes travel well.

Honey Hermits

Melt ½ cup shortening and add it to 1½ cups of strained honey. Then add 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 cup chopped raisins. Sift together 3½ cups flour, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, and 4 teaspoons of baking powder. Add the dry ingredients to the moist and mix well. Drop on greased cookie sheet and bake in 375-400 degree F. oven until done.

Applesauce Loaves

Cream together ¼ cup shortening and 1 cup sugar. Add 1 cup applesauce. Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 level teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, a pinch of salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Add dry to moist ingredients, then stir in 1 cup chopped raisins and currants. Mix and bake in individual small loaf pans, using 350-375 degree F. oven. Chopped citron or candied fruits can be substituted for a portion of the raisin - and - currant mixture, if desired.

Funeral Rites Conducted For Mrs. W. G. Mims

Mrs. W. G. (Mary Alice) Mims, 72, longtime Big Spring resident, died at 7:15 p.m. Sunday in a Big Spring hospital. She had been ill the past three years.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple Church, officiating. Burial was in the Masonic section of City Cemetery under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mims was born July 7, 1895 in Burnet County, Texas, and came to Big Spring in 1918 from Baird. She was married in Big Spring in 1925 to W. G. Mims, who died April 11, 1953.

She was a member of Baptist Temple Church, Ladies Society of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineman, and Grand International Auxiliary.

Survivors include one son, Dr. H. B. Mills, Midland; three granddaughters, Sue Mills, Midland, Linda Mills, Austin, and Bobbie Nell Mills, Denton; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Jones, and Mrs. Elsie Bowles, both of Baird; and two brothers, Elmer Johnson, Austin, and Ollie Johnson, Blackwell.

A dramatic 40 per cent increase in benefits to injured Texas workers is proposed in compromise legislation agreed by the labor, employers, and trial lawyers.

AFL - CIO, Texas Manufacturers Association, and Texas Trial Lawyer Association unveiled details of agreement on "workmen's compensation administrative reform bill" which will go to the Legislature in January.

Proposal would raise the maximum weekly benefits for on - the - job injuries from $35 to $49 during time lost from work. This will cost employers 18 per cent more in insurance rates - or about $36 million in additional annual premiums.

While employers apparently are satisfied with that, state and local governments' mental employees would also be brought under terms of the bill, and that will mean a cost to taxpayers estimated at two to three per cent of payroll.

Opposition is expected, particularly from city and county officials.

Highlights of the bill in addition to the benefit hike and coverage to all governmental workers include:

- Raising total and permanent disability recovery ceiling from $14,035 to $19,649 and death coverage from $12,600 to $17,640.
- Provisions for pre-hearing conferences by Industrial Accident Board examiners, to save time and money.
- Encouragement of employers to continue paying part of injured employees' wages until workmen's compensation benefits begin with reimbursement guaranteed for 10 week's maximum from insurance carriers.
- Granting Industrial Accident Board authority to require medical evidence.
- Establishment of uniform attorneys fees not to exceed 25 per cent of recovery regardless of whether court appearance is necessary. (Lawyers are now limited to 15 per cent for cases settled before the board, and 30 per cent if they go to court. Board and court will set fees.)
- Sponsors term the bill "fair to all."

He attended a 7:30 a.m. breakfast with the chamber of commerce board of directors and city councilmen; a noon luncheon with the Lions Club; and afternoon meetings with students from Midland and Robert E. Lee High Schools. He also appeared before the Permian Basin Petroleum Association.

He said he was hopeful to a solution in the Vietnam war. He promised Midlanders that a federal building should be included in the next federal budget. He advised that "Even if we maintain only those programs now established it's going to take more money than we're spending now."

He said the new Congress would be fairly independent because its members owed their victory to no particular group.

COURTS SPEAK - Reversing intermediate court, State Supreme Court held that an oil well serving company could not be sued for damages in an illegal slant - well case even though it knew the well was out of line.

In a pair of cases, the High Court overruled lower courts and upheld State Savings and Loan Commissioner James Gerst. Commissioner had refused application of Mission Savings and Loan Association for a Northeast San Antonio site, granted Richardson S&LA application and denied Guardian S&LA bid.

Some discount houses are starting to stay open both Saturdays and Sundays, in violation of blue laws, which are being tested in appellate courts after a Midland district judge ruled them unconstitutional.

Supreme Court refused to direct a Tarrant County judge to change his verdict that a Fort Worth man was insane before and after he was charged with rape of a young mother and drowning of her two children.

Court of Criminal Appeals called for a new trial in a Harrison County murder case because the state impeached its own witness.

FACULTY AID EXPLORED - Whatever the Coordinating Board decides, Texas obviously will need more teachers for institutions of higher education. To get those, and to keep the ones now teaching a senate committee headed by Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, will propose state payment of moving costs for new faculty members; group disability income insurance; free tuition for faculty members' families, and free parking space.

If just a few of the proposed changes in education come about, you can see new taxes will come about, and not the least of the tax - provoking proposals will be a public school teacher pay raise of $1,800 over the next two years.

MONEY SAVING IDEAS LAID OUT - Senate Committee on Economy in Government, chaired by Rep. Bill Patman of Ganado, is looking at ways to save taxpayer dollars. Texas Research League, a non - profit state helper, already has given the committee a few suggestions:

- (1) Centralize all janitorial, mail and messenger, office supply and duplicating services, instead of allowing each agency to budget them separately.
- (2) "Look at" state employee travel costs, and allow air travel when it would be cheaper than auto transportation.
- (3) Convert McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital near San Angelo, into a school for the mentally retarded, and allow other TB hospital to take indigents for illnesses other than tuberculosis;
- (4) Save $4 million a year in prison and welfare costs, by providing a more efficient system of parole;
- (5) Classify more "realistically" highway and road construction;
- (6) Save close to $93,000 a year by abolishing the Board of County, District Road Indebtedness and letting the treasury take care of that fu-

Mr. And Mrs. J. Ory Wed November 17

Mrs. John Ray Ory

Mr. and Mrs. John Ray Ory are on a trip in the Bahama's, after their wedding Sunday, November 17, in the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Dallas. The Rev. Peter G. Bithos officiated.

Mrs. Ory, formerly Miss Maria Ann Brockles, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Brockles, Jr., of Dallas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory of Stanton. The bride chose a formal length gown fashioned of candlelight peau de soie, combined with au d'ange lace, designed with an Empire bodice, featuring a portrait neckline. The slim skirt flared softly in an "A" line from the Empire to sweep to the back in a full train. A myriad of tiny gath-ers released from a Doir bow at the back neckline created a full chapel train. A wide border of lace encircled the entire hemline of the gown and train.

Her veil of pure silk illusion fell the length of the train from a tiny coil of peau de soie roses and dainty lace laves.

Miss Patricia Brockles, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Stella Janarearis, Barbara Brown, Linonia Eik-enberg, and Lauren Albright, were bridesmaids. Miss Rae Beth Polk, niece of the bride-groom, served as flower girl. Andrew A. Brockles, III, brother of the bride, was best man, Jerry Cobb and William Daniels of Dallas, along with David Bearden of Houston, and Sonny Oats of Lubbock, served as groomsmen. Ronnie Henson, nephew of the bride-groom, was a crown bearer. Carl Ray Simpson, also a nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Robert Barsdale and Don Faulkenberry, were ushers.

Both attended North Texas State University. He was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory, hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Tropicana.

Stanton High School News

By PUG DEAVENPORT

The Future Farmers of America of Stanton High School, made a fine showing at the El Rancho district contests held in Midland High School, on Monday, November 18. The group brought home three first, and three second place banners.

Football season drew to a close Friday night, as the Buffaloes met the district champion, Big Lake, at the Reagan County stadium. The final score, 64-25, was far from indicating the fine performance that Bisons put into the effort.

The Mighty Mites of Stanton High, caused the Owls a number of anxious moments during the contest, especially during the rompin' - stompin' first quarter. The Bisons wasted no time getting on the scoreboard. Senior QB David Jones hit end Benny Avery on a 50-yard aerial for the first six points. Jack Madison's kick rolled another point on the scoreboard. Jones added to the Owls' miseries by carrying the pigskin into the end zone on an 8 - yard sprint to shoot the Bisons scores up to 13. The first saw one more Stanton TD, another Jones - Avery pass that was good for 35 yards.

While the Bisons were busy racking up points, the SHS defense was also making accomplishments. Three times the Owls were stopped with fourth downs and less than a yard to go.

The Big Lake squad made a strong come-back late in the first half, 24 points worth, to hold a lead at mid-game.

Both teams swapped touch-downs early in the third. Stanton's came on a 12 yard pass from Jones to Steve Stallings. Big Lake returned the ensuing kick-off, though, to get a 38-25 lead.

The remainder of the score- ing went to the Owls, as they rolled up points to prove themselves as district champs. The Owls will beat Alpine in the bi-district contest, Friday, in Alpine.

The pep rally, preceding the Big Lake game, was held in the auditorium. Speeches were presented by Coach Phil Stovall and Bryan Boyd. The cheerleaders presented three skits, and a pom - pom routine to "Here Come Da Buffs."

Fifty members of the SHS Marching Band participated in Odessa last Saturday. The group is directed by George Walker.

The band and choir are currently working on their Christmas program. They hope to present this musical array to neighboring schools.

The Harlem Stars are currently making preparations for the event. The Harlem team will play a game Monday, December 8, 8:00 Admission will be $1.50 adults, $1. seventh to twelfth grades, and 50 cent for sixth grade and below.

With the close of football season, a new sport begins getting attention. Basketball work - outs for both boys and girls are underway, and exciting games are in store for both ketalball enthusiasts. The first tip-off will be in Morton this Friday night for "A" and "B" boys games.

The girls make their initial games, Tuesday, November 26, when they meet Tahoka. Back your teams!

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers. Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-inch.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

San Francisco State College has been closed after a week of violence and vandalism. The riot was triggered when Black Panther GEORGE MURRAY advised students to "bring guns to class and shoot off his head if President ROBERT D. SMITH did not accede to negro demands." Some deal. Nine out of ten of the blacks don't want a college education. They want to prevent other serious minded students from pursuing a peaceful college career. You can bet your last buck that NIXON-AGNEW will get a boat loaded for the war zones pretty fast with these birds after you put up. That goes double for TED AGNEW. He wouldn't put up with disruption of education in Maryland and he campaigned on a tough line of law and order. The JOHNSON-HUMPHREY clan has put up with these punks for political purposes and while they were low-towing to the rioting minorities the majority of taxpayers got full of the classroom disruptions up to their necks. Incidentally, GOV. RONALD REAGAN of California has ordered the college authorities to get rid of Panther Murray and reopen the university at once or he is going to move in before the new administration has a chance to deal with the situation.

The Supreme Court has done it again. In a unanimous decision the nine old men have knocked down Arkansas' law against the teaching of evolution in the public schools of that state. Thus another invasion of states rights. It is strange indeed that the present membership of the Supreme Court has found more wrong with the Constitution than all previous courts combined. SEN. EVERETT DIRKSON said the other day that in his opinion old EARL WARREN'S letter of resignation to "The President" could be accepted by RICHARD NIXON when he takes office. I certainly hope so. I would also like to see ABE FORTAS get the coat by resignation. He is going to be a sorehead about all future decisions because he was so soundly turned down by the U. S. Senate when LBJ tried to cram his appointment to the Chief Justice spot down the senator's throats.

U. S. SEN. RALPH YARBOROUGH is worried about a big name opponent in 1970. He must run for a new six-year term at that time if he is to remain in the U. S. Senate. Some talk about LYNDON JOHNSON opposing him has been put down because astute politicians do not think LBJ would want to take the political step-down. SEN. YARBOROUGH will undoubtedly draw through opposition if he runs again. His prestige as a U. S. Senator is due to diminish because he will lack the ability to participate in federal patronage for the next four years. With SENATOR JOHN TOWER representing the GOP in the Senate and with a GOP President, RALPH won't be passing out much patronage in the future. That fact, coupled with the resounding third time defeat PRESTON SMITH panted on another ultra-liberal YARBOROUGH — DON—in the Democratic run-off election in June of this year won't do RALPH much good.

NEAL'S NUGGET—Some folks seem never to have enemies . . . if they have no convictions.

County Insect Association Makes Appeal For Support

The following appeal for financial support for the newly organized Martin County Insect Control Association was requested through the columns of the county newspaper this week. The paper is passing the article along as an act of public service.

Box 61
Stanton, Texas 79782
November 11, 1968
Dear Mr. Cotton Producer:
The Martin County Insect Control Association has been organized and a set of by-laws are in process of being made, as well as a charter to be submitted to the Secretary of State for approval of our association as a non-profit farm organization.

In a series of county-wide meetings, it was determined that the boll weevil situation is serious in Martin County. Heaviest infestations are in the southeast and east portion, but some over entire county. This association was organized to promote a fight on the weevil. Two directors from each of the four communities, following A S C S community boundary line, A. B. C. and D, were elected. These men met and elected officers. They are listed below and designated community they represent. Community A, Owen Kelly and Newell Tate; Community B, Leroy Linney and Buster Haggard; Community C, Orville Seely and J. B. Shockey; Community D, Bruce Key and F. E. Snell.

Your board met with representatives of Plains Cotton Growers hoping to get Martin County included in the High Plains Weevil Program. We were informed that our first step would be to apply for membership in Plains Cotton Growers. At present petitions have been placed at each gin in the county for farmers' signature saying they will pay 15 cents per bale to Plains Cotton Grower and ginners pay 1 cent per bale ginned. If we are accepted, we would still have to be approved by Plains Cotton Grower Board to join the weevil program, which would cost an extra 25 cents per bale.

Since we have no assurance we will be accepted in Plains Cotton Growers program, your board feels it would be disastrous to place all our hopes on Plains Cotton Growers and do nothing on a local level to control the weevil. Plains Cotton Growers would be by far our cheapest route and already have a program organized; but if we are refused acceptance we must have funds ready to put forth an organized spraying program next September.

Your board is asking each farmer to pay $1.00 per bale on this year's crop toward financing expenses of the association and to spray the "hot spots" determined by a qualified entomologist and your board. Enclosed you will find a card to sign if you will participate. This will authorize your ginners to withhold this amount at the gin on all the 1968 crop. If you have completed your harvest would you mail a check at rate of $1.00 per bale, payable to Martin County Insect Control Association.

Conally got 1,877,793 votes in 1964, also against a token candidate. Johnson received 1,622,185 Texas votes in 1964 against Barry Goldwater. That was the biggest vote total he ever amassed in his home state. Barnes also led the ticket in the Democratic primary last spring. He got 1,221,050 votes, even though he had two opponents, and carried every county in that election also. No single factor — except possibly his youth — accounts for his success.

Barnes New Texas Champ Vote-Getter

At the age of 30, Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes has surpassed men like Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally to become the biggest vote-getter in Texas history. Barnes got 1,967,021 votes in the general election, 65,000 more than any man ever received in Texas before.

Barnes got 72 per cent of the vote, the biggest margin ever racked up by any Democrat who had an active Republican opponent. He carried every county in the state. He got 300,000 more votes than Gov.-elect Preston Smith and 500,000 more than Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The previous record holder was Waggoner Carr, who got 1,901,038 in 1964, while running for re-election as attorney general against a Republican who did not make a vigorous campaign.

Former Turner Home Converted To Museum

The Museum of the Southwest will open to the public in its new home — The Juliette and Fred Turner, Jr. Memorial Gallery — December 8. The opening exhibit will feature a collection of works by Southwestern artist Peter Hurd.
The museum's new home, one of Midland's residential landmarks, includes the entire 1700 block of West Missouri Street.
Two previews will be held prior to the opening, both of which will be attended by Hurd, a native of New Mexico. Invitations are in the mail for a gala opening which is scheduled for December 6 from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Los Manos, an auxiliary organization of the museum, is sponsoring a preview tea, December 7, from 3 to 5 p.m. Tickets for the tea may be purchased at the museum.
The Hurd exhibit will feature over 50 works including lithographs, watercolors, and tempera paintings by one of the Southwest's foremost artists. Peter Hurd has been described as one of America's most interesting painters, creator, and master of one of the few wholly original styles in our period of art. Sometimes called a "painter of people," Hurd possesses a meticulous technique which suits his reverence of reality, and his paintings reflect the clean air, cold shadows, and blazing sun of the Southwest.

Mahon Accepts Oil Portrait

"If I have two loaves of bread, I would sell one loaf and buy a flower for my soul." In these words praising the field of creative art U. S. Rep. George H. Mahon Sunday afternoon formally accepted an oil portrait of himself from the hands of the artist, Jean Richard of Lubbock, with the presentation remarks being made by Dr. E. Earl Green, director of the West Texas Museum.

Present in the art gallery of the Tech installation were Mrs. Mahon and a representative group of Tech faculty, civic personnel to view some 31 paintings done by the Lubbock artist in Europe, Mexico, South America, prior to his arrival in the United States and establishment of his residence in Lubbock.

"Amazed, Pleased" Mahon's comments in the acceptance, noted the fact that there was a time on the South Plains that a portrait would have been a rarity, indeed, and he cited the fact that during the years of maturity in Lubbock and the area the art has become a part and parcel of daily existence. "I see art," the congressman said, "in the banks, in the business places and I am both amazed and pleased that we home come to that place where art is accepted as a portion of our daily life."

Wryly, the congressman said that he had been on the verge of calling President Lyndon Johnson for his opinion on portraits in general, but that he was unable to make the connection. Rep Mahon, of course, was referring to the celebrated comments by the President about the now famous rejected portrait painted by New Mexico artist Peter Hurd. "The painting by Jean Richard will hang in our Washington office," Mahon said, "and in our Washington apartment. It will also be brought home to Lubbock to hang in our new apartment in our home city."

Cotton Estimate Hiked 50,000-Bale Increase Projected This Month

The Agriculture Department estimated the cotton crop Friday at 10,912,000 bales, 3,525,000 from Texas. The Texas estimate is 50,000 bales higher than the forecast made in October. Texas production per acre is at 405 pounds of lint.

The Census Bureau said 5,955,116 bales were ginner prior to Nov. 1. This compares with 3,289,047 bales a year earlier. Estimated yield an acre and production, respectively, of cotton by states for 1968 included Arkansas 492 and 1,050,000; Louisiana 603 and 515,000; Oklahoma 316 and 250,000; New Mexico 596 and 190,000; Arizona 1,123 and 690,000; and California 1,041 and 1,475,000.

Top Farm Bureau Leaders Renamed

Three officers of the Texas Farm Bureau were re-elected in Dallas at the conclusion of the annual convention held in that city last week. The officers were chosen by the Board of Directors because convention delegates failed to adopt a change in the election rules which would have allowed the membership to name the officers. The vote defeating the proposition to change the method of selecting officers was defeated by a vote of 504 to 414. The re-elected officers chosen for a year's term included: Sidney Dean, a Victoria cattleman and farmer, president; M. F. Frost, a farmer of McAllen, vice president; and Steve Lilly, a dairyman of Nacogdoches, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Louis K. Alpert Says One Million People Diabetic

Pointing out that more than 1,600,000 people in the United States have undetected diabetes, Dr. Louis K. Alpert of the American Diabetes Association, announced today that special facilities for testing will be available in hundreds of communities November 17-23.

"Diabetes sneaks up on many people. They may have it without showing any symptoms. And if the disorder is allowed to go undetected, possible complications may be coronary disease, hardening of the arteries, cerebral hemorrhage and kidney disease," he explained. The Washington, D. C., physician is chairman of the Association's Committee on Public Education and Detection.

He urged that everyone who has not been tested recently should have a blood or urine test during Diabetes Week. "You can call your physician, the local diabetes association or the medical society. In communities where there are organized programs during Diabetes Week, tests will be given free of charges," Dr. Alpert said.

Common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, easy tiring changes in vision, and slow healing of cuts and scratches. "But anyone may have diabetes without any of these symptoms."

The earlier the disorder is discovered, the more easily it can be controlled, Dr. Alpert explained, adding that with today's methods of treatment the diabetic can look forward to a full and productive life. "About one out of every twenty persons in the United States either has diabetes or will have it. There is a total of more than 4,000,000 Americans who already are diabetic, including those who are unaware of their condition. And another 5,600,000 persons are potential diabetics; they will develop the disorder during their lifetime."

In seven out of ten cases, diabetes starts after a person reaches the age of 45. It is most likely to develop in individuals who are overweight or slightly more women than men seem to be affected. But diabetes can strike anyone at any age, and it's important for everyone to have regular tests, Dr. Alpert stressed. Physicians and nurses, assisted by other volunteers, will conduct a special Diabetes Week testing program. Either blood or urine tests will be given, depending on the facilities available. In many areas a simple urine testing unit known as Dreyapak will be distributed by affiliate associations or medical societies.

Once diabetes is diagnosed, Dr. Alpert explained, treatment can be started to control the condition. In many cases, especially among individuals past forty, the disorder can be successfully managed by following a prescribed diet and getting the right amount of exercise. Other patients need insulin or one of the oral compounds used in treatment of diabetes.

But regardless of the type of treatment required, diabetes is not a barrier to an active life, the physician stressed. Among diabetics whose achievements are outstanding, he noted, are 21-year-old Coley O'Brien, Norte Dame backfield business executive and former States Senator Gale W. McGee of Wyoming.
