To The Point

By
BUDDY NORVILLE

It's that time again when goodies begin to appear in the kitchen and on the coffee table.
And, of course, it is that time again when my waist line begins to stretch even larger than it already is.

I don't wait until Christmas to eat, however, I eat all the time. I used to say, "I've got to keep my weight up to play football!" But since I don't play football anymore, I don't have that excuse. The truth is, I just love to eat.

Todd is taking after his daddy in that respect, the littie tad can't get enough to eat. And he won't let us eat if we take him to the table with us. But Scotty, well he's going through a stage of non-eating. He won't slow down long enough to eat.

Brenda has been trying to get Scotty to eat greens, like spinach, for a long time. He won't eat them. I won't eat them. Brenda maintains that the reason Scotty won't eat greens is because I won't eat greens. The other day I told her that this might have been right in the beginning, but now he knows for himself what he likes, or what he doesn't like. His own taste buds tell him what they like, etc.

Scotty, of course, is taking all this in. Part of it anyway.
I don't think he heard me correctly, because he asked me this question, "What do taste buds look like daddy?"

A GIFT FOR THE WORLD (A Message From CARE)

At a time when so many problems confront our nation there is danger of retreating into old adage: charity begins at home. But there is an even older precept of goodwill to all mankind. Most Americans know we cannot close our eyes and hearts to those who suffer hunger and hardship, wherever they may be.

It is in this spirit that the current CARE Food Crusade appeal seeks to help feed 28-350,000 people, primarily children, during the coming year. To complete the plan, in 35 countries or areas whose resources are far less than our own, will require $7,500-000. Host governments give operating support and the U.
S. donates farm abundance to cover the remaining costs.

Combined with CARE health and self-help programs, the food is a tool to build future self-sufficiency. From Latin America to Africa and Asia, our gifts will nourish 24,900-000 children fed daily at primary schools, preschool and nutrition centers. Help will also go to disaster victims, to Pakistani refugees, to improvised villagers in food-for-work development projects.

Every contribution, at a dollar per food package or unit, does a multitude of good. For example: $5 can give 1,500 children a nourishing bowl of porridge; $10 serves school lunches to 10 students for 3 months. Yes, charity begins at home—but it cannot end there. You can make the world better for people by mailing a check to: CARE Food Crusade, 660 First Ave., New York, N.
Y. 10016.

School Board News

The Stanton Independent School District Board of Trustees met Monday night in a regular monthly meeting.

The Board approved the Textbook Committee for the 1971-72 school year. Russell McMeans will chair the committee that will adopt new text books for the coming year.

The Board voted to raise the amount of credit required to graduate from Stanton High School from 20 to 22. No more courses will be required, the change of policy will give one credit for each year of PE. The required four years of PE has not changed, only the credit.
Last year only two credits were given for four years of PE. A student could take PE and band and get credit for each, whereas now it will be possible for a student to obtain eight credits for taking PE and band.

This change will not affect the jrs. and srs. now in High School, but will affect the freshmen and sophomores.

A representative from the West Texas Education Center, John Martinez, met with the board and explained that there are funds available to set up an enrichment program for migrant children. The state will pay the school district so much for each migrant child enrolled in the school.

The Board extended the contract of Mrs. Corene Manning, tax assessor and collector and business manager.
Mrs. Manning had one year to go on her present contract, the board voted to extend it two years, giving her a three year contract.

Lions Informed on Highway News

Mr. Jim Whitson, Assistant District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department and Bob Bourn who works in
guests of the Lions Club Tuesday morning, December 14. Mr. Whitson gave an informative talk on the highways of Texas and the cost of such roads.

Mr. Whitson stated that highways are costing more than ever to build, and taking longer than ever to build. Part of the increased cost of the highways is added safety precautions being introduced.
One such safety feature is the break-away sign. These signs, when installed, cost the Texas Taxpayers approximately $1-800 each.

Today, Mr. Whitson, said, it takes about 6 1/2 years to get a road underway, to cut through all the red tape and get the money. A few years ago it only took 36 months.

18, in the Jones Hardware building. The sale will begin at 9:00 a.m.

The sale is held yearly and features items that are handmade by the Students of the Special Education classes. The students have been busy making Christmas gift items, ornaments, decorations, wreathes, and many other items.
The sale is non-profit, the proceeds used to pay for the material used in preparing the items.

Come on out and see these clever hand-made decorations. Saturday morning, 9:00 a.m. in the building formerly occupied by the James Jones Hardware store.

Sheriff's Office Receives Grant, Night Dispatcher

Sheriff Dan Saunders announced that his office had received a grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Council at Austin to employ a night dispatcher - teletype operator in the Sheriff's Department. Wayne Steele, a trainee, went to work on the 6th of December. His hours will be from 5 p.m. until 1 a.m. Monday through Friday nights and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The Sheriff said this service to the people had long been designed but that the county just lacked the funds to do it.
It was his hopes that with a night dispatcher they could be of more service to the people of the county. The Sheriff's Dept. phone number is 756-3336 and after the dispatcher leaves at night the same number rings at the Sheriff's residence.

Also approved for the Sheriff's Dept. is a teletype machine which will be delivered the first of February. Martin and Glasscock are the only two counties in the 22 county Permian basin that does not have teletype service at this time. With this added service the office will be in contact with other Departments and be able to send and receive messages to and from Austin and Washington within minutes. Sanders said he hopes to make other changes in his office the first of February to try to "keep up with times."

Santa Came to Visit

MOMMY, TELL HIM WHAT I WANT — Kyle Yater wasn't sure he wanted to look Santa in the eye, so he let his mother, Bonnie do the talking. Maybe it was Santa's glasses that caused Kyle to shy away — he had never seen a Santa with glasses before. Kyle wasn't the only anxious lad to come out and see Santa, there were others who braved the cold weather to see their favorite bearded man. Santa will be coming back this Saturday to visit the downtown stores.

WHAT IS A NEWSPAPER?

By JAN McELREATH
What is a newspaper?
If asked this question, what would be your reply?

A white piece of paper with black print. A paper divided into columns with head lines and captions. Or, a summary of the past week's news. In a sense, it is all this and more.

A newspaper is not only several sheets of paper that contains people's happiness, sadness, and interests in their community and the surrounding communities. It is where to look for wants, needs and general information. It is about the activities of the community — where, what, when, and how.

A newspaper is not only a source of information but is for enjoyment too.

The newspaper may not always get the approval of the people, but as one newspaper

Retailers Must Post Price List

DALLAS — Retailers may not increase prices until they meet the base price posting requirements of Section 300.013 (b) of the Price Commission's Regulations. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas stated that this requirement is mandatory for all retailers until they post their base price lists. Every retailer must post his base price list by January 1, 1972 whether he does or does not increase prices.

The retailer is required to prominently display his base price list at the place of sale. The posting requirement applies to all food products except those specifically exempt. It also applies to those 40 items other than food in each department which have the highest dollar sales volume or those items which account for 50 per cent of the total dollar sales in each department, whichever is less.

Until the base price list is posted and thereafter, each retailer must display on each floor of the establishment at least one sign which reads, "Information regarding the lawful base price for any item sold by this store not posted may be obtained by filling in a Base Price Information Request Form available at (specific location) and by handing it to (fill in). You will receive a speedy answer by mail." The sign should be a minimum of 22 inches by 28 inches.

Mr. Campbell reemphasized that the base price list must be posted before any price increases can be made.

Give A Living Plant For Gift

COLLEGE STATION — Having trouble with your Christmas shopping? Why not give a living plant that can be enjoyed throughout 1972 and that will increase in value and beauty as time rolls on, suggests Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

Select good quality trees, shrubs or house plants from your local florist, nursery or garden center as gifts for your gardening friends.

Evergreen plants or potted house plants make very attractive gift items, especially if the base is wrapped with Christmas paper and tied with a colorful ribbon, says Janne.

Some of the ornamental plants that will make attractive gifts include: Yaupon, Possumhaw, Burford Holly, American Holly, Juniper, Deodar Cedar, Pyracantha, Pittosporum, Nandina and Japanese Yew.

For plants to be used in the home, Janne suggests the following: Poinsettia, Azalea, Camellia, Jerusalem Cherry, Christmas Pepper and Chrysanthemum, as well as the multitude of foliage plants that are available.

Be sure to select a plant that is adapted to the area in which it will be grown, he adds. In case of inclement weather, the recipient of the plant should know to keep it in a cool place when the oil ball or container will not become too dry until it can be placed in its permanent location.

For that distant relative or friend that is interested in gardening, how about a useful gardening tool or a copy of a good gardening book for a Christmas gift, proposes Janne. There is something available for every gardening interest.

While you are selecting gift items, why not a plant for your own home? A living Christmas tree can provide enjoyment the entire year, assures the horticulturist.

Let me tell you about...

By GLORIA BRYAND

Four words that would best describe Lyn Herzog would be: talented, dedicated, energetic, and fun-loving.

Lyn is the seventeen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Herzog. A Senior at Stanton she plans to take Pre-Med courses at St Mary's College in San Antonio.

Lyn is talented in the fact that this has been her third year to make All-Region Bank in the cornet section. She has also made a 1st Division Rating in U.I.L. Solos her freshman, sophomore, and junior years. Lyn was chosen as Band Sweetheart when she was a sophomore. She enjoys Band more than any other subject. She says "I can't imagine my life without Band."

During her junior and senior years Lyn has been named to the Merit Who's Who among High Schools and has been recognized by the Society of Outstanding American Students.

A member of the National Honor Society for three years, she is vice president of the Math Club and President of the Science Club. She is organist and vice president of the Catholic Youth Choir. The past two summers Lyn has worked in the lab of the Martin County Hospital.

Although she looks forward to her college years, Lyn said she would be sorry to leave Stanton High School. "I've been really lucky because I know I've come in contact with some of the finest and best qualified teachers that there are any where," but she added, "I've been disappointed because of schedule conflicts that don't allow me to take subjects I want to."

For a girl that is talented, dedicated, energetic and fun-loving, the world holds challenges, promises and expectations.

Before another year passes an estimated 34,300 Americans will become blind.

Tom Deavenport Is 'Charley Hustle'

Tommy Deavenport has been chosen by his coaches as the first recipient of the 'Charley Hustle' award. To quote Coach Jacky Burns, "Tommy is five feet seven inches of hustling desire."

Tommy was picked because of his outstanding play in the O'Donnell and Iraan games. Coach Burns especially lauded Tommy's work in the press. "The smallest man on the floor has to pick up the charging fouls," Coach Burns said.

Tommy has been playing all-around good defense this season. He has lots of desire, this makes him a taller boy.

Eighth Grade Drops One To Sands, Bounces Back To Defeat Coahoma

The Stanton 8th grade team was outclassed Thursday night by the taller Sands team, 52-26. Coach Richard Granado said, "We lost to a very good team. I do think though that we could have done better if we could have hit the basket."

High point man for this game was Terry Kelly with 9 points. Elvin Brown had 8, Randy Conner 6, and Ronnie Nose 3. Frosty Floyd had 10 for Sands.

In Monday night action Stanton rebounded from the defeat and trounced Coahoma, 47-29 in a district game. The Buffs have not been beaten in district play. Randy Conner pumped in 17 points to pace all scorers. Santo Berrera had 8, Ronnie Nose 6, Elvin Brown 4, Terry Kelly 5, John Yater 5, and Ronnie Mims 2. Ricky Patterson got 11 for Coahoma.

Coach Granado thought his team played one of their better games in whipping Coahoma. He said this game marked the halfway point of the district schedule and from now on most of the games will be away.

He reminded us of the Jr. High tournament here this week end.

Follow The Buffaloes As They Pop the Nets for Points

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, Dec. 10, 1971 — It seems the saying "wait 'til next year" is getting almost as popular in agriculture on the High Plains as it is in football circles at Texas A&M and other selected schools. This year's cotton crop on the Plains is poor in every respect, excepting market prices. Quality and per acre yields, both of seed and lint, are headed for the lowest average in recent history. Only the price of lint presents a bright spot from the record book as a total cotton disaster.

"But the High Plains is still cotton country," says PGC Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "and barring unforeseen events there should be more acres devoted to production of the fiber crop on the Plains in 1972 than in 1971. We have excellent underground moisture conditions throughout the area, 1972 prices look good, and with a return to more normal weather next year we can reasonably expect a return to previous high standards of production and quality."

Johnson points out, however, that two things need to be done this year if next year's cotton income is to achieve what appears to be above average potential.

First, he says, cotton producers should begin now to seek an adequate supply of quality planting seed. O short supply of vigorous high germination planting seed for next year is almost a foregone conclusion in view of the unprecedented low-grade seed being received at oil mills from this year's crop. And every research report since the very beginning has proved a direct relationship between yields and planting seed quality.

"With such favorable moisture conditions farmers cannot afford to jeopardize yield by planting inferior seed," Johnson states, "and as yet there is no reason to believe cotton production in 1972 will reach a volume high enough to significantly depress prices.

So every pound produced should be well worth the effort."

Second, and also of prime importance according to Johnson, is the matter of protecting the per-acre yields on which cotton program payments are made. Most acreage on the Plains is expected to fall well below the yields on which payments were made this year. But the effects of low production on future payments can be greatly mitigated if every producer will request a "weather adjustment" from his county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

This year's actual yields, for purpose of figuring payment yields in 1972, 1973 and beyond, can be adjusted upward to 90.0.0 of the 1971 payment yield — if farmers request such an adjustment. (And there's still some possibility that the adjustment could be 100.0.0 instead of 90.0.0.)

Requests for weather adjustments must be made to the ASCS office in time for office personnel to inspect each field before stalks are cut. The ASCS must determine that the crop was farmed in a "workmanlike manner," which requires inspection before post-harvest operations begin.

ASCS officials are also reminding farmers that if a farm's total production this year equals or exceeds the pounds on which payment was made there will be no reduction at all in the 1972 payment yield. If this is a possibility, they say, it might be worthwhile gathering a crop which wouldn't even pay harvesting costs. Otherwise, whether a crop is harvested will have no effect on future payment yields since a weather adjustment can be made in either case.

On the brighter side of the cotton world is the rise in mill production of cotton denims and corduroys last season.

During 1970-71, mill use of all kinds of cotton gained, modestly, for the first time since 1965. At season's end on July 31, U. S. mills had consumed 8.1 million bales of cotton, up from about 8 million the previous year.

Cotton milling accelerated despite continuing cutbacks in military demand. Shipments of cotton — content goods to the military forces last season shrank the equivalent of about 75,000 raw bales. But a strong demand for other end uses, primarily denim and corduroy, more than offset this drop.

Denim production during 1970-71 jumped about 50 per cent. Corduroy output rose a third. Together the two fabrics absorbed an estimated additional 175,000 bales of raw cotton, turning what would have otherwise been a losing season into a slight gain for cotton consumption.

Reduced cotton textile imports and moderating competition from foreign and domestically produced man-made fibers are also said to have been contributing factors in the year's cotton milling growth.

Young Deer Hunter Lost For 24 Hours

Editor's Note: This story was clipped from The Alpine Avalanche.

Kelly Graham, 16-year-old Alpine High School sophomore has been invited to deer hunt in the Terlingua area this weekend.

But he's undecided about accepting the invitation.

Kelly was on a hunting trip with four other persons last week end, became lost during foggy weather and spent a cold 24 hours in the rugged country of Southern Brewster County before being rescued.

Kelly was last seen about 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 5, and was found safe at 10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 6.

He was in a hunting party which included Dr. Sam Little of the Sul Ross State University faculty, Jimmy Little, Johnny Fitzgerald and a Sul Ross student. They were hunting on a lease in the Terlingua - Lajitas area and although it was not on Great Western property, the development firm coordinated the search for Kelly.

Steamboat Steele of Great Western helped direct the land company's search party and later this week invited Kelly to return to the area and hunt as a guest of Great Western.

Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. June Graham of Alpine, who also participated in the search with many friends.

Kelly and his companions began their deer hunt about 8 a.m. Sunday and became separated. About 10 a.m. Kelly met Glen Pepper, operator of the old mine resort, who gave him directions back to camp.

The weather was very foggy, however, and Kelly took the wrong turn. He wandered around in the rocky hills and canyons the rest of the day, then crouched behind a rock at nightfall. His matches were wet and he couldn't start a fire.

When Kelly failed to report back in camp late Sunday, his companions sought help and Son Stillwell and others of Great Western began an all night search.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham were notified about 7 p. m. Sunday.

The search resumed Monday morning, and planes piloted by Keith Morrow of Alpine and Border Patrolmen began an aerial survey.

Stillwell and his crew heard Kelly yelling, directed the planes to that area where he was spotted and a Border Patrol Jeep picked up the lost hunter about 10:30 a.m. The ride back to camp took about 2 hours.

Others participating in the search were Kelly's 2 brothers, Keith, a twin, and Clay; Joe Lane, Doug Connor, Jeff Williams, Mo Morrow, Clay Lane, members of the Brewster County Rescue Squad, Sul Ross students, 14 employees of Great Western and residents of the area.

Radio and telephone facilities of Great Western were utilized in the search, according to Jack North of the Terlingua Ranch.

Do-It-Yourself Christmas Decorations

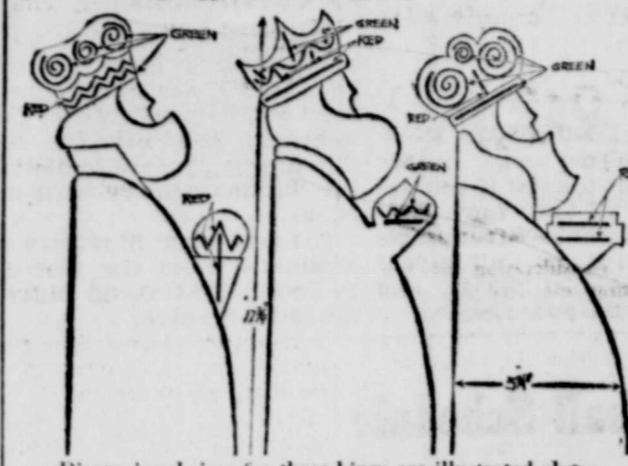

A handsome silver wall plaque of the three Kings of the Orient and candle holders spelling out the season in gay letters will add great style and beauty to your home during the Christmas season.

It takes no special skills to create these beautiful seasonal decorations and they are inexpensive to make. The essential material needed is just that handy kitchen helper, Reynolds Wrap and a few other things you are sure to have around the home.

All Christmas-minded family members are sure to enjoy and have fun making these decorations. Here are the directions:

The Three Kings: Use a ruler and pencil and draw outline of each of the kings on cardboard, following diagram. Use a razor blade or sharp knife and cut out each one. Tear sheets of Heavy Duty Wrap large enough to cover each king. Spread one side of each cardboard king with rubber cement or white glue, then apply the dull side of the foil to the cardboard. Smooth out and turn edges under. Trim away excess and secure neatly using tape. Use a dull pencil and outline the designs on the headpieces of kings and their gifts, following suggestions on diagram. Glue colored pipe cleaners or yarn to outlines for the gay trim.

To mount the three kings and give them an appropriate background, create simulated mountain peaks. Cut cardboard large enough so kings may be arranged on it. Cut top edge in two sharp peaks. Cover this cardboard with blue, red, or any desired colored foil wrapping paper. Cut small squares of sponge or styrofoam and glue to background, then glue each king to squares having them proceed in stately procession up the mountain.

Candle Holders: From a large 2" thick piece of styrofoam, cut rectangles, making two of each size.

4" x 3" x 2"
3 1/2" x 2 1/2" x 2"
3" x 2" x 3"
2 1/2" x 1 1/2" x 1 1/2"

Cover each rectangle with Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap, smoothing the foil and sealing edges with tape, package fashion. Glue rectangles together in a stack with largest forming the base. Let dry until firm. With dull pencil, lightly trace letters NOEL on to rectangles as in illustration. Use variety store sequins and outline each letter with sequins using pins through center to hold them in place. Pierce center of top rectangle carefully with sharp knife to make hole and force candle into it.

SHOP WISELY FOR YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE

COLLEGE STATION, Nov 23 — Christmas trees will soon be on the market, and you will want to make your selection wisely.

A few simple procedures can assure you of selecting and keeping that perfect tree this season, says Bill Smith, Extension forester at Texas A&M University.

First determine where the tree is to be displayed in your home. With this in mind you will be able to determine the most suitable size and shape. Trees generally appear smaller than they really are. Buying the tree early will enable you to be selective in your choice of a fresh tree. Smith suggests checking for signs of needle shedding and brittleness to indicate excessive drying.

Tree limbs should be strong enough to hold ornaments and strings of electric lights. The tree should have a strong fragrance and good green color for the species.

Texas imports over three million trees annually with some coming from as far away as western Canada, points out Smith. The most popular trees in Texas are the Scotch pine and Douglas fir. Trees are stored in box-cars and undergo warm temperature changes during their journey southward. "Those undergoing warm temperatures for a period of several weeks may already have dried out by the time they're on Texas markets," Smith says.

Once you purchase your tree, store it outdoors in the shade until you are ready to use it. Spray it frequently with water. When moving the tree indoors, cut the butt end at a diagonal about one inch from the bottom and place it in water. This opens the tree's pores and aids in the absorption of water. Keep the butt end of the tree in water during the entire time it is in the home, advises Smith.

For aid in selecting your Christmas tree, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has prepared a pamphlet, "How To Buy A Christmas Tree," G-187. For a free copy write the Office of Information, USDA, Washington, D.C., 20250.

COTTON GINNERS' REPORT

The U.S. Congress has passed, and the President signed, a bill entitled "Cotton Ginner's Reporting Date, Public Law 92-143" dated October 15, 1971.

This amendment reads as follows: "Every cotton ginner shall keep a record of the county or parish in which each bale of cotton ginned by him is grown and report at the completion of the ginning season, but not later than the March canvass, of each year a segregation of the total number of bales ginned by a county or parish in which grown."

Nixon's Program Draws Interest

Statistics issued by the Internal Revenue Service reflect great public interest in the wage regulations of the President's Economic Stabilization Program. Ellis Campbell, J., District Director for North Texas, said that 3000 inquiries regarding economic control regulations were received by the IRS information centers for the opening week of the second phase. The public showed the most interest in wage controls, directing 57 per cent of their questions toward wages. Prices were second with 32 per cent, followed by rents, with 11 per cent.

Mr. Campbell attributed the increase in public interest to the new rulings by the Pay Board and Price Commission, which have been receiving extensive coverage by the nation's news media.

At your service: Enough electricity for today... and tomorrow.

Planning and building ahead to provide our customers with enough reliable electric power to meet all their needs is the challenging responsibility being met by Texas Electric Service Company. It's what we mean by being "at your service."

To be sure plenty of electricity always will be on hand at the flip of a switch, we will nearly double our generating capability within the next five years. Additional strength and dependability throughout our system comes from our high-voltage transmission interconnections with other power sources. We must continue to plan and build ahead because we serve a growing area of the nation, and because our customers continue to use more electricity. For example, 25 years ago the average residential customer served by Texas Electric used around 1,000 kilowatt-hours a year. Today, the average residential customer is using about 8,500 kilowatt-hours a year. During this same period, the average selling price per kilowatt-hour has decreased about 43 percent, in spite of continuing inflation.

To us, "at your service" is not only a responsibility and a challenge. It's our commitment to you, our customers.
