To The Point

By BUDDY NORVILLE

"To restore confidence in our state government, we must accomplish political and structural reform, clean up the corruption and make the government more responsive by updating the Constitution." Dave Reagan, GOP Governor Candidate, went on to say, "Unless the system is changed, no one can do much about corruption in state government."

Reagan grew up in Waco and graduated from Waco High. He is assistant to the president of Austin College in Sherman. He holds a doctorate degree in government and a master's degree in government and international law. He is on leave to campaign.

Dave Reagan is our choice for governor of Texas. Not because he is a college professor. Not because he is a Republican, although we admit to be Republican-inclined. We support Reagan because he speaks out for everything we believe in, honesty, non-corruption, reform. He speaks out against things we would like to see abolished in state government, mainly the one-party system that has evolved into a corrupt, ineffective body.

It is time for Texas to make a change, to clean the halls at Austin and return respectability to state government. We have seen recently the weakness of our present system, our government can be only as strong as its constitution. Our present constitution is weak, therefore, we have a weak state government.

Clever individuals have exploited the system to the point that it no longer is effective. Put a man in the governor's office who knows about government, vote for Dave Reagan.

'New' School Board Eyes New Building

The "new" Stanton school board took a three-hour look at the old problem of what to do about the need for more and better school facilities here Thursday night in a special meeting. They apparently agreed that another school bond issue election is in order, they set a meeting for Tuesday night to interview architects.

Supt. Russell McMeans said the board indicated "it wants to take plenty of time to study the situation before coming up with new recommendations."

Fred Bowlin, one of the new appointed members of the board, resigned at the Thursday night meeting. He said he could not serve due to "personal reasons." The board appointed Richard Dogget to succeed him. Mr. Dogget was officially inducted onto the board at the Tuesday night meeting.

According to Mrs. McMeans, the board is in agreement that "something must be done about our building problems." "The question now is what and how much."

"The board wanted a full indoctrination on your building needs for the special session Thursday night," McMeans said.

Outlining space shortages problems of certain outmoded facilities were McMeans, high school principal J. R. Dillard, junior high principal Jimmy Conner and elementary principal J. M. Yater.

The board set another meeting for tonight to interview other architects.

James Cameron, who recently moved from Brownwood where he was head coach of the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets to San Angelo to take the reins of the Angelo State football team, will be the speaker of the evening.

Morning News All-Texas team his senior year.

Last year the team was ranked number three in the nation in small college polls and tied for the Lone Star Conference championship with Southwest Texas State University. Their record in 1971 included a 16-13 post-season win over Cameron State College. This was Howard Payne's first bowl game in the history of the college.

After the 1971 season Cameron was named the Lone Star Conference Coach of the Year as well as the NAIA District IV Coach of the Year.

What Is A City Cleanup

What is a city-wide clean-up? Do they really mean business?

These questions, and a few more, were heard this week around town.

A city-wide clean-up is the whole city working together to clean the city, from one end of town to the other. This takes in the down-town area as well as the public streets and residential areas.

They, the Stanton Jaycees and the City of Stanton, mean business. Along with the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. These organizations have nothing to gain by backing this worth-while project, except a clean town.

What can I do? You can begin by cleaning your house, yard, garage, etc. Many vacant lots in Stanton need clearing and cleaning. Many of these lots are owned by people who live out-of-town. Something needs to be done, however, to get them cleaned up. Some are fire hazards, a-side from being eyesores of our community. Perhaps you know someone who owns property like this. Maybe you can persuade them to chip in on this clean-up campaign.

Don't forget, Saturday, April 29 is the day that the Jaycees (and anyone who wants to help) will be picking up all the trash from the alleys of Stanton.

Let's all work together on this project and make Stanton a better, cleaner place to live. Do your share for your city.

Busing Referendum To Be on May 6 Ballot

By Bill Boykin
 Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas voters will get a chance to express themselves at the May 6 polls on the explosive issue of forced busing to achieve racial balance in public schools.
 Both Democratic and Republican executive committees decided to put a busing referendum on the ballot to encourage voter turnout and demonstrate Texas sentiments to federal authorities. Both ballot items ask Texans to state whether they want a federal constitutional amendment to outlaw forced busing.
 Neither party went along with Gov. Preston Smith's suggestion to submit to voters a presidential preference referendum. There isn't much choice for the Republicans, and Democrats dropped the presidential choice poll (which would have had no binding effect anyway) in a scrap over party rules.

 Republicans adopted their required new rules routinely, but reform regulations went down hard for the Democrats.

SDEC finally adopted rules largely identical with the moderate reform proposals of William R. Anderson Jr. of Corpus Christi. They are designed to assure a form of proportional representation of minorities, youth and women on convention delegates' choices of presidential candidates. Internal operating procedures for parties are also set out.

Loudest opposition to the compromise Democratic rules draft came from Young Democrats who wanted three seats on the senior party's executive committee. Instead, two seats went to SDEC's youth advisory council officers. Young Democrats vowed to keep trying for reconsideration on the point.
 The business referendum may have played a part in Alabama Gov. George Wallace's decision to live up to the conventions by openly seeking Democratic presidential delegates votes in Texas. The issue helped Wallace win in Florida.

VERDICT SHAKES POLITICOS — Conviction of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two aides on bribery conspiracy charges left many political figures wondering about effect of fallout on their own futures.

Sharpstown Bank stock-loan scandals already were a major issue in some campaigns. Convictions of Mutscher is expected to increase the chorus of I-told-you-so's, and some incumbent officials fear outcries may increase for removal of everybody who had anything to do with the Sharpstown Bank bills of 1969.

First direct political effect of the trial likely will be felt in the House of Representatives soon. Heading the order of business there — if Mutscher declines to yield his office voluntarily — will be choice of a replacement for the speaker.

Other speakership candidates except Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine appear ready to join in a move for election of an interim speaker (possibly veteran Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi) who will agree not to seek the job next year. Price, who claims a majority of House votes, wants the speakership himself at the first opportunity. He doesn't care to turn it over to somebody else for safekeeping.
 Meanwhile, the Sharpstown issue continues to figure prominently in at least four statewide races as well as legislative contests — governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and treasurer.

Mustang Soil Conservation News

An estimated 75% of the 107 million acres of Texas rangeland produces less than half its potential because of range deterioration resulting from poor grazing management in the past. Overgrazing and subsequent range deterioration are problems created by man. Areas of high precipitation having generalized storms developed deep, rich soils and were the first to be converted to farming operations. Areas of lower precipitation generally characterized by localized storms, such as Martin County, were left to grazing by wild animals and subsequently were utilized by domestic livestock.

Prior to man's confinement of domesticated grazing animals and the restriction of wild animal movement, the open range was utilized in a natural deferred-rotation system of use. Unrestricted animals were able to follow the rains and obtain fresh green forage. They were also free to leave drier areas and thus provide needed rest. This pattern could still be observed in certain areas of the Western United States prior to World War II and may still be observed in areas of South America and Africa.

In 1899 Jared Smith described the natural grazing system. "Less than thirty years ago 4,000,000 buffaloes and countless numbers of wild horses roamed unrestricted over the Southwest, gradually moving northward as the season advanced, returning south at the approach of winter. This natural movement of the stock permitted alteration of pasturing and rest for the land, resulting in the maintenance of the forage supply"

From this it is certain that defined-rotation grazing is not new. The native vegetation developed under alternate grazing and rest. This is the reason you produce more pounds of beef per acre in a deferred-rotation grazing system than under continuous grazing. The rancher uses fences to replace rainstorms as the tool for grazing some areas and resting others.

It would seem that deferred-rotation grazing systems might better be called "mother nature's system" because they continue a grazing pat-

JW Bible Seminar To Draw 1,000

A local delegation of Jehovah's Witnesses has announced it will be in attendance at a 3-day Bible seminar in Odessa, Texas, May 5-7. The delegation, headed by the presiding minister, C. L. Lunsford, will consist of virtually the entire congregation which meets at the Kingdom Hall, 500 E. Donley. Mr. Lunsford said he estimates about 55 Jehovah's Witnesses are making plans to attend as well as several other persons with whom they conduct free home Bible studies.

The keynote theme, "Conscious of Our Spiritual Need," has been selected for the convention program according to Lunsford. He noted, "Throughout Christendom the spiritual needs of the people are being neglected in favor of social and political issues. Jehovah's Witnesses feel there is real danger in this. This assembly will aid us in a practical way to look after the spiritual need and to fill that need with the Bible's hope."

Facilities for the conclave have been arranged for in the Odessa High School auditorium. Among the highlights of the assembly will be baptism of new Witnesses Saturday morning and the free public discourse on Sunday, May 7 at 2 p.m., "Are You Marked for Survival?" The featured speaker is John P. Sutherland, recently appointed District Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in Texas. Well over a thousand delegates are expected in Odessa from an area stretching from Pecos to Abilene, from Alpine to Brady.

SAN MARINO, CALIF., TRIBUNE: "The main cause of inflation over the years has been increased government spending. It may have sounded 'businesslike' to make each piece of mail pay its way, but the government seems to have forgotten that all of its mail including the military as well as the frank privilege of the politicians is carried without charge. Does it really want each piece to pay its own way, or is it trying to soak the rest of us for all the free-loading federal mail? The post office used to collect millions of dollars from magazines such as Look, but one after another they are dropping out of business. The government wanted to collect twice as much from Look. Instead it is going to get nothing. A lot of newspapers will be forced out of business unless government relents on its unprecedented postal hike."

Former Area Resident Married In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Wedding vows were exchanged here April 1 by Mrs. Brenda Martin, the former Brenda Clements of Garden City, Tex., and Eugene L. Long.

The single ring ceremony in the Trinity United Methodist Church was officiated by the Rev. Robert Windsor.
 Parents of the couple are Mrs. W. W. Clements of Garden City and the late W. W. Clements and Mrs. Roy L. Long of Colorado Springs and the late Roy L. Long.
 Mary Fenlon, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Bette Russell, vocalist.
 The bride, presented in marriage by Everett Allen, wore a sheath of lilac crepe overlaid with white cotton lace. Lace edged the high neckline and bracelet-length sleeves, and outlined the gown front, which was closed with pearl buttons. A pearl and crystal tiara held the veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a spray of pink rosebuds with pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Everett Allen was the matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of rose crepe with pearl trimmed Mandarin collar and slim slit skirt. She wore matching accessories and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and baby's breath with satin ribbon streamers.
 Patty Clements of Buffalo, Mo., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Jim Ladden, were bridesmaid and bridesmatron. They were dressed alike in full-length sleeveless gowns of lilac crepe with white lace and orchid ribbon trim. Each carried a nosegay of lilac carnations and baby's breath with pink satin ribbon streamers.
 Bob Gault was the best man.
