Bill would benefit secondary method of oil production

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements is considering whether to sign into law a bill that would give Texas oil producers a 50 percent state tax break on oil generated through enhanced recovery techniques.

Sen. Steve Carriker, D-Roby, sponsored the bill in the Senate, while Rep. Rick Perry, D-Haskell, carried the measure in the House.

The Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPO) said the bill would boost the state's economy by creating more jobs.

30 injured in Central Texas twister

By The Associated Press
A tornado struck the Central Texas town of Jarrell early today, killing a 42-year-old woman, injuring at least 30 others and causing extensive damage.

The damage in Jarrell and Williamson County was the most extensive in the massive front of storms that moved slowly through the state.

Georgetown, about 15 miles away. Their injuries ranged from "very minor to serious," said Ken Poteete, the hospital's administrator.

High winds later hit Double File Trail Elementary School near Round Rock, although no one was injured, said Carol VandeerMeer, a school district spokeswoman.

The Jarrell tornado touched down about 4 a.m. as severe thunderstorms spread across a vast area of Texas from the Rio Grande to the Red River.

Sales tax figures for month improve

Snyder sales tax returns got back onto the positive side for both the month and the year-to-date with the latest report from the state comptroller's office.

Across the state, the state comptroller returned $117.8 million to cities that impose the local sales tax. This was an increase of 11 percent over the previous year.

with $3.4 million returned to date compared to $3.2 million last year. The monthly return of $873,492 was a 2.6 percent decrease from last year.

8.1 percent improvement over last year. —Sweetwater: plus 2.1 percent with $324,606 returned to date compared to $317,815 last year.

30-year career set to end

A middle 1950s performance of the Texas Woman's University Modern Choir in Snyder led to Mary Lou Scott's 30-year career as a teacher at Northeast and West Elementary Schools.

MARY LOU SCOTT we stayed here," she said. She will retire after this year.

Nevertheless, the tradition of the graduation ceremony lives on. At Western Texas College, the practice of an out-of-town guest speaker was abandoned several years ago in favor of talks by top graduates.

for big names. At William and Mary in Virginia, actress Glenn Close will give the commencement address. After watching her in last year's suspense thriller, Fatal Attraction, we'd have difficulty keeping our mind on her message.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Life's trick for success is getting into the public's eye without irritating it."

Words of wisdom is what commencement addresses are about. Most of the time, graduates are too interested in post-ceremony activities to pay attention, and proud parents are more interested in getting a good snapshot for the family album.

Some speaking engagements must result in nice honorariums. A black New York minister has five dates. Lee Iacocca of Chrysler is also in big demand.

U.S. Senate move might force new talks on the FSX

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says new restrictions imposed by the Senate on President Bush's plan to coproduce the FSX jet fighter with Japan may force the renegotiation of parts of the agreement.

The Senate on Tuesday voted 52-47 to defeat a bid by Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., to scrap the FSX deal.

But it then adopted, 72-27, an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., to tighten the conditions under which codevelopment and coproduction of the new fighter would take place.

Deputy Secretary of State Lawrence S. Eagleburger made it known immediately before the vote that the administration regards the new directives as unnecessary and likely to trigger new and lengthy negotiations.

The votes came after two days of debate in which senators emotionally and angrily denounced Japan for allegedly unfair trade competition and sounded warnings that the deal could threaten U.S. dominance of the aerospace industry by transferring vital technology to Japanese industry.

"It would be foolhardy not to be vigilant in protecting our aircraft industry and the vital technologies associated with it," Byrd said. "This nation needs to get our economic relationship with Japan on a saner and sounder track."

The amendment was opposed by the administration and Senate Republican leader Bob Dole of Kansas dubbed it a "killer amendment" which would require the reopening of negotiations with the Japanese government.

Roman Popadiuk, a Bush administration spokesman, noted the White House had made the Senate aware of its objections to the Byrd amendment in advance of the vote and said there would be no further comment until its language was carefully considered.

Eight graves are unearthened

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — An archaeologist says eight graves discovered at the city's Botanical Gardens are believed to date back nearly 2,800 years and may have links to the ancient Mayans.

Herman Smith of the Corpus Christi Museum said the find, discovered last week, appears to have connections with a 13-grave burial site unearthened last February at the Botanical Gardens.

Both groups are believed to date back to 800 B.C., he said, and there are indications they had links to ancient Mexican and Mayan civilizations.

"What is most intriguing of all is that we have the suggestion that South Texas may have been the conduit for culture traits from southern Mexico into the Mississippi River Valley," Smith told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

The archaeologist said earlier theories about the migration from what is now Latin America to what is now the United States were that the people came by canoe across the Gulf of Mexico.

The eight graves found last week include three females, one of whom was about eight months pregnant and appears to have been killed by a spear point through her chest, Smith said.

17 WTC students are on President's List

Seventeen students have been named to the Western Texas College President's List for the 1989 spring semester just ended.

The President's List is compiled to give special recognition to students who make no grade lower than A (4.0 GPA) in at least 15 semester hours of courses.

Students on the President's List are Greg Parker of Albany; Tanya Whitaker of Baytown; Douglas Keith Watkins of Colorado City; Robyn Laele Mc-

Mains of Grants, N. M.; Donald Crenshaw of Post; Jody Mauldin of Roby, and Dawn Pack of Rotan.

Also Mary Beth Carlton, William Brian Gruben, Don Murray, Jr. Chester Simons, Jr. and Julie Strunk of Snyder.

Others are Judy Ann Ballenger, Marjorie Barnhill, Darrell Barnhill, Susan Lynn Cunningham and Mary A. Harris of Sweetwater.

53 WTC students make Dean's List

Fifty-three students have been named to the Western Texas College's Dean's List for the 1989 spring semester.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, students must have a grade point average of 3.5 or more on a 4.0 scale while enrolled for at least 15 semester hours of work.

Included on the Dean's List are Bobby Spear of Albuquerque, N. M.; Tina Lynette Whitehorn of Anson; Marla McCoy of Aspermont; Paul Green of Ballinger; Clyde Himes of Beulah, Colo.; Ny Vath of Brownwood; Cynthia Louise Ward and Gena Grammer of Colorado City; Robert Lloyd of Dalhart; Tim Howard of Davenport, Iowa; Gina Gayle Ford of Fort Stockton; Lance Luttrell and Monty Ashworth of Garland; Gary Schoen, Jr. of Hamilton, and Julie Ann Roewe and Patrick Perez of Haskell.

Others are Andrew Arnold, Deborah Bentley, Shirley Crawford, Vicki Lynn Dawson, Tonia Robinson, and Carolyn Kay Tidwell of Sweetwater.

Popular seed grass case a 'first'

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A West Texas businessman has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges he stole a popular grass seed from a military range in southern New Mexico.

Kenneth Chapman, 59, of Borger, Texas, was indicted last Friday by a federal grand jury in Albuquerque. The indictment charges Chapman with theft of U.S. property, entering a military reservation to commit a crime and aiding and abetting.

Specifically, the government contends Chapman was in possession of 107 sacks that contained blue grama grass seed. Chapman is accused of obtaining the seed by mowing blue grama grass growing on the McGregor Range, a large restricted military reservation south of Alamogordo.

Gary Olson, an investigator for the Bureau of Land Management, the agency responsible for resource management on the range, said the case was unique.

"We are not aware of a case like this ever being filed anywhere in the nation," he said. U.S. Attorney William Lutz said Chapman had a permit to graze cattle in the area of McGregor Range, but the permit did not allow him to cut any of the grass or harvest the seed.

Bill Fuller, a plant materials specialist with the Soil Conservation Service, said the value of blue grama grass seed has increased substantially since 1985, when the Conservation Reserve Program encouraged farmers to plant some of fields in grass instead of more traditional crops.

AT&T MultiQuest™ Service

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc., (AT&T) announces its intent to introduce within Texas on July 14, 1989, AT&T MultiQuest Service, a new interactive 900-type telephone service. Since February 19, 1989, this innovative service has been available to Texas businesses only on an interstate basis. With AT&T MultiQuest Service, Texas business customers (otherwise known as sponsors) may offer value-added information services to callers originating long distance calls from Texas or elsewhere in the United States over AT&T's public switched network. A Texas caller, accessing the service by dialing the sponsor's 1-900 plus seven-digit number, can obtain recorded and/or live information by communicating with attendants, voice messaging equipment and computer data bases. Flat-rate, time sensitive usage charges will be billed to the caller for the sponsor's service.

AT&T is offering AT&T MultiQuest Service within Texas in response to requests by its business customers for a service that offers intrastate as well as nationwide interactive voice & data transport capability. Potential sponsors include entrepreneurial companies entering into new ventures that are information intensive, local mass announcement sponsors who want statewide as well as national coverage coupled with interactive capability and other information service providers.

The Texas intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service will be tariffed as an "add-on" offering to a sponsor's existing interstate AT&T MultiQuest Service. The intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service costs will be recovered from sponsor usage charges set forth in AT&T's intrastate tariffs. The usage charges billed to the caller are determined by the sponsor as appropriate to the service being offered and are not tariffed charges.

For more information about AT&T MultiQuest Service please call your AT&T Account Executive or AT&T's business consultants toll free on 1 (800) 552-0212. They can answer your questions regarding this service and how it can be of benefit to you.

AT&T intends to file a tariff to offer this service with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on June 13, 1989, effective July 14, 1989. Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may contact the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf, or write to them at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757.

Intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service is projected to generate $1.1 million in the first year of its offering or .1% of AT&T's total gross service revenues in Texas.

Although the word "unnatural" may have negative connotations, an unnatural bridge play can sometimes be a winner.

When the 10 of clubs was led against four hearts, declarer could see that East would have an automatic spade shift after winning the club ace. That would not be to declarer's liking, so he made the unnatural play of allowing the club 10 to win the trick. West now switched to a spade. Declarer won the queen and played a diamond toward dummy. West grabbed the ace and continued with the spade king. South won the ace, played to the diamond queen and led the king of clubs. After ruffing the ace of clubs, declarer cashed the heart ace and then played the king of diamonds. If West ruffed with the heart king, a spade would be shed from dummy. If West ruffed with the 10, declarer would overruff in dummy and play good clubs while sluffing his spade loser.

What if West plays low when declarer plays toward the queen of diamonds? Declarer wins the queen, ruffs out the ace of clubs, cashes the ace of hearts and leads a low diamond. Once again the defense is helpless.

To defeat the contract, East must counter one unnatural play with another. Let East take the ace of clubs at trick one, even though dummy has not covered, and lead back a spade. The defense will now quickly take at least four tricks, and probably five when declarer puts in the spade queen to try and make the contract.

ATLANTA (AP) — A childbirth film and a little coaching from a 911 operator was all 7-year-old Amanda Lawrence needed to help her mother, who went into labor and gave birth at home minutes later.

"I think I did a great job, and it was a good idea I helped little Zachery be born," Amanda said after her baby brother's arrival. Amanda's mother, Teri Lawrence, and William Zachery Lawrence were doing very well Tuesday night at Northside Hospital, said spokeswoman Carol King.

Amanda was about to leave for school Tuesday morning when her mother went into labor. She helped her mother to a sofa and dialed the operator for help, said her father, Edwin.

The operator connected Amanda with 911 operators, who instructed the little girl how to help her mother while an ambulance was heading to their home in suburban Acworth.

The 6-pound, 9-ounce boy was born three minutes later.

"I was talking on the phone, and the water broke," Amanda said. "I could see the baby coming, but the operator kept talking to me and told me to wrap the baby up to keep it warm until the ambulance got there."

"I was shocked, but I knew what was going on, even though he came out a little purplish, purple-blue," she said. "I even got to hold him."

Rescue workers arrived at the home 15 minutes later and took the Lawrences to Northside Hospital.

"I'm just so proud of her," Lawrence said of his daughter. "Amanda was fine about it until her mother started carrying on a little from the pain, but the operator kept her calm."

Ms. King said the girl had to provide information that the mother couldn't give herself. "She had to give directions to the house, which was on streets that aren't marked, and get towels for her mom and unlock the doors for the ambulance," Ms. King said.

UT, Hogs, Cougs and Aggies vie in SWC baseball tourney

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Although the Southwest Conference Tournament that began today means an automatic NCAA tournament bid to the victor, at least three of the four teams entered are treating it like a tuneup for regionals next week.

An announcement from the NCAA regional selection committee Monday afternoon handing both Texas and Texas A&M hosting roles has taken some of the urgency out of the SWC tourney for those two teams.

Texas plays Arkansas at 1 p.m., while A&M takes on Houston at 7 p.m. in a tournament that features three of the top 10 teams in the nation.

In reality, the only benefactor if they happen to win it will be Houston, 44-14, who had to use a sweep of Texas Tech in the final weekend of the regular season to slide into the tourney as the fourth seed. The Cougars were 1-8 during the regular season against tournament competition, having beaten A&M.

Texas as well, may want to use the tournament to prove they still belong at the summit of SWC baseball after finishing third and snapping a 10-year hold on the crown.

"We might be a little more relaxed since we've got the regional already," said conference MVP and batting champion Scott Bryant. "But we still have a lot to prove. Getting A&M and Arkansas back means a lot to us."

The 10th ranked Longhorns, 46-15, were able to win only one game each against the Aggies and the Hogs.

Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson hopes to use the tournament as a stepping stone to get one of the top eight seeds in the regionals.

"We'll just try to get back in the groove," Gustafson said. "We could stand to gain a great deal from the tournament if we can stay in it long enough."

For A&M, 52-5 on the year, it's a matter of holding on to that precious No. 1 ranking which has been theirs for 10 weeks this season, eight of those in a row.

"We know that people will be coming in here shooting for us," said All-SWC A&M shortstop Chuck Knoblauch. "We do not want to lose that No. 1 ranking. It's something that we want to protect."

No. 6 Arkansas, 45-11, comes in with its first regular season title ever in tow, but must face Texas' Kirk Dressendorfer, 13-2 overall and 7-1 in conference, in the opener.

Matadors nip Andrews, 7-6

LUBBOCK -- Lubbock Estacado edged Andrews 7-6 here Tuesday to grab a one-game lead in their best-of-three Class 4A playoff series.

The series continues at 5 p.m. Friday with Game 2 at Angel Stadium in Midland. Game 3, if necessary, will follow at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Matadors are gearing up for the series with 1-4A champion Hereford. That game is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday at Snyder's Moffett Field.

Greg Ross slammed a two-run single to break a 4-4 tie between the Matadors and Mustangs at O'Banion Field here Tuesday. The ball got past outfielder Teddy Jennings, and Ross raced all the way around to score. Andrews later picked up two more runs, but could not catch the Matadors again.

Andrews, 19-8, battled well, but was unable to take advantage of seven errors and seven walks given up by Estacado, the District 1-4A runner-up this season. Estacado improved to 20-6 with the win.

Kevin Ruth, 8-1, took the win. Jessie Armendariz, 7-2, was the loser. The defeat broke an eight-game winning streak by the Mustangs.

LGA upcoming events

SHS sports banquet set

The Snyder High School Booster Club All-Sports Banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum.

A steak dinner will be catered by Reta's Cake Shop and Texas Barbecue.

Tickets are $6 per plate and may be purchased from booster club members, at Suits Us or the high school athletic department.

Photos will be taken at 6 p.m. and a dance for the students in attendance will start about 9:30 p.m.

Mueller wins top honors in roping

Mark Mueller roped top honors at the eighth annual Western Texas College Rodeo Booster Club Scurry County Roping, held recently at the old rodeo grounds.

Mueller had the best total time on three calves and three steers. He won a pair of bits made and donated by Ricky Trammel of Snyder.

Darryl Blackwell was the event's top calf roper. Charlie Henderson was second, followed by Mueller and Johnny Eickie.

Mueller and Kim Billingsley won the team roping. Second were Van Hale and Jeff Gilbert, followed by Mueller and Max Jones.

Also held was a five-events category, won by Leddy Lewis. Competitors battled the clock in tie-down calf roping, team roping - both heading and heeling - ribbon roping chute dogging.

Individual bests were by Lewis in the tie-down and heading, Luther Brewer in the ribbon roping and chute dogging and Jeff Gilbert in the heeling.

Buckle donors included West Texas State Bank, Snyder National Bank, American State Bank, Bar H Bar Western Wear, Kinney Hart, John Ward, Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply and Olney Savings and Loan. Meat for the barbecue was donated by Dr. Charles Church and the dinner was prepared by Butch Nachlinger, Jerry Baird and Lois Brewster.

Many of the ropers also donated the use of their stock for the event.

The Rodeo Booster Club expressed its appreciation to all who donated and helped with the roping, and to those who participated.

Secules seizes opportunity when Pelluer asks for trade

IRVING, Texas (AP) - We have seen the future of the Dallas Cowboys and that future is Troy Aikman, but fellow quarterback Scott Secules likes to think he's seen the present and that present is he.

Secules' vision materialized somewhat Sunday when last year's starting quarterback, five-year NFL veteran Steve Pelluer, asked for a trade.

Now it's in Secules' hands ... er, arm.

Secules, 24, did plenty of sitting and watching last season, never taking a snap. But he feels now is the time to begin showing he not only has the arm, but the footwork, the mind and the intangibles to be an NFL quarterback.

Without Pelluer, Secules has become symbolically wedged between the Cowboys quarterbacking past, in Danny White, and future, in Aikman, the league's top draft pick.

Pelluer's decision to sit out the team's three-day mini-camp this week because of a contract squabble gave Secules a better opportunity to catch the coaches' eyes.

Pelluer asked for the trade saying negotiations with the Cowboys resulted in an unacceptable offer.

"What (Pelluer's request) has done for me, basically, is get me more work," Secules says. "The more work I get, the more comfortable with the offense I feel. And it will allow me a chance to show what I can do. I feel I've done well enough to at least provide some competition for a job."

"The job could be a starting job. If they want to start Troy early, it could be a backup job. I think I can play. I'm happy here, and I wouldn't mind staying here. I would like to show them I can play - at some point, be able to contribute."

Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson and offensive coordinator David Shula say Secules is one of three candidates for the starting quarterback job this season.

HOUSTON (AP) - The Rose and Cotton bowls are among eight football bowls fined by an NCAA committee for using a professional athlete in promotions or reporting the National Football League, a television station reported.

The Rose Bowl fine of $11,892 was the highest, followed by the Cotton Bowl's penalty of $10,118. KRIV-TV in Houston reported Tuesday.

According to an NCAA memo dated April 24 and obtained by KRIV, both bowls were fined for using a professional athlete in promotions, and the Cotton Bowl also was cited for promoting the NFL.

New York upends Chicago; Suns finish off Golden State

NEW YORK (AP) - Patrick Ewing says the only thing that bothers him about playing poorly is that it sometimes causes the New York Knicks to lose games.

"It's not me; it's New York versus Chicago," Ewing said. "All I want to do is win and be known as a winner. I wasn't disturbed at the way I was playing; I was disturbed we were losing."

The Knicks and Ewing regained the winning touch Tuesday night, defeating Chicago 121-114 as he scored 32 points on 12-for-20 shooting, grabbed 11 rebounds and blocked four shots. The outcome left the Bulls with a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference semifinal series, with Game 6 at Chicago Stadium Friday night.

In Phoenix, Dan Majerle scored nine of his 24 points in a pivotal third period and Tom Chambers had 13 of his 24 in the final 10 minutes as the Phoenix Suns beat the Golden State Warriors 116-104 Tuesday night to win their Western Conference semifinal playoff series in five games.

"He's a man with great pride," Knicks coach Rick Pitino said of Ewing. "I called him on the phone and told him not to get down because he's been great for us all year. A couple of off games shouldn't take away from that."

While winning was Ewing's first priority, he knew he had to improve his numbers against former teammate Bill Cartwright if the Knicks were going to send the series back to Chicago.

Cartwright, who outscored Ewing 21-10 on Sunday, fouled out with 12 points in Game 5.

Ewing scored the Knicks' final nine points in the last 1:38, defusing a Chicago rally that cut a 96-77 lead to three. Michael Jordan keyed the rally by scoring 17 of his 38 points in the fourth period.

New York never trailed after taking a 33-28 at the end of one quarter. The Knicks extended the margin to 52-41 as Ewing scored eight points in the first 7:08 of the second period.

Suns 116, Warriors 104

Phoenix, winning the last three games to take the best-of-7 series 4-1, advanced to the conference finals against the two-time defending NBA champion Los Angeles Lakers. That best-of-7 series starts Saturday at Inglewood, Calif.

The Suns, who trailed by 11 points late in the second quarter and 50-49 at halftime after making 12 turnovers and only 41 percent of their field goals, took the lead to stay at 71-70 on Chambers' jumper with 3:34 left in the third period.

Majerle, known more for his defense, came off the bench and hit a slam-dunk with 1:26 remaining and a 3-point goal with 27 seconds to go for a 79-74 Phoenix lead after three quarters.

The Suns opened the fourth period with five consecutive points, capped by Majerle's three-point play, and stretched the lead to 96-83 on Tyrone Corbin's midcourt steal and stuff with 7:36 to play.

Golden State, getting two jumpers and a 3-point goal from Rookie of the Year Mitch Richmond, cut the gap to 103-98 with 2:54 left.

J.D. Ashley socked three doubles and a single and scored four times to help lift the Indians past the Mets on Tuesday.

Teammate Brad Roemisch slapped a double and three singles and Travis Paul uncorked a double and two singles and also scored four times. Also hitting for the Indians were Randall Price and Nathan Sorrells, a triple and a single each; Jason Bates and Brandon Hackfeld, a double and a single each; Blake Bell, a double; Jay Callaway, two singles; and Andy Smith, Brandon Williamson and Sam Bedell, one single apiece.

The loss spoiled some heavy hitting from Eric Gard and Jason Bawcum of the Mets. Gard ripped two home runs, a triple and a single and scored four times while Bawcum nailed a homer, two triples and a single. Also hitting for the Mets, 2-3, were Courtney Hobgood, a triple and two singles; Brett Gibson, three singles; Pete Olivarez, a double and a single; Brian Hall, a double; David Thames, James Wesley and Justin McNair, two singles apiece; and Kyle Callison, Thad Baldwin, Josh Hudgins and Ryan Hale, one single apiece.

GIRLS SOFTBALL - Key Brothers Angels 10, Grimmert Brothers Pink Flamigos 8

Melanie Kidd punched three singles and Veronica Ortegona added two as the Angels defeated the Flamigos this week.

Rebecca Fisk and winning pitcher Jamie Burleson added one single each for the Angels, 1-1.

Haley Brown smacked a double and a pair of singles for the Flamigos, who fell to 0-2.

Olney Savings Powder Puffs 15, American State Diamonds 14

Veronica Hermosillo cracked a home run and a double to help the Powder Puffs remain undefeated this season.

Also hitting for the Puffs were Christian Dunham, Cecilia Rodriguez and April Fletcher, one single apiece.

Getting hits for the Diamonds were Amber Lyle, a home run, a triple and a single; Rachel Garcia, a triple and a single; Erin McDonald, a home run; Erin Maytubby, a triple; and Misty Williams, a single.

The Diamonds are 1-1; the Puffs 2-0.

GOP cries foul over Demo changes in S&L proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic supporters of increased housing aid changed a key provision in the savings and loan bailout bill approved by the House Banking Committee and now Republican opponents are crying foul.

The nearly 600-page bill to provide an infusion of some $123 billion into the S&L insurance fund and institute widescale reforms was passed by the committee two weeks ago with instructions to the panel's chairman and staff to make necessary technical changes.

It was formally reported out of the panel on Tuesday, with what Chairman Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Texas, calls a technical change to "define the clear intent of the committee."

But Republicans called it a power grab that was done without a vote, and promised to fight it in the House Rules Committee and on the House floor.

"You can't change a bill that the committee passed just because you don't like the language that passed," said Rep. Steve Bartlett, R-Texas, a leader of the opposition to the housing provision in the bill.

"Gonzalez tried to make a round-peg fit into a square hole and now he's trying to make a triangle peg fit," Bartlett said.

The uproar is over a provision authored by Gonzalez and opposed unanimously by the committee's 20 Republicans to make S&Ls subsidize below-market mortgage rates for low-income home buyers by $75 million a year from 1990 to 1994 and by $150 million a year in 1995 and thereafter.

According to consumer groups, the measure could provide hundreds of thousands of low-income wage earners with home mortgages that are 2 percentage points below market rates.

"If we're going to save a savings and loan system that has any recognizable right to that name, then you have to do something about making housing affordable," said Gonzalez.

The dispute was reignited last week when congressional tax experts told the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee that the provision "looks like a tax" — setting off claims that the Banking Committee had exceeded its authority.

"It's a usurpation of this committee's jurisdiction by another committee," charged Rep. Bill Archer of Texas, the ranking Republican on Ways and Means.

However, Ways and Means Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., persuaded his committee to defer striking the provision, which has wide-scale support among Democrats, while he and Gonzalez attempted to work out a compromise.

Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass., said an accord retaining the provision but changing its language "in a small way" was reached through mediation by House Speaker Jim Wright's office and Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., chairman of the Ways and Means subcommittee on select revenue measures.

As Gonzalez' measure was written and approved by the committee, the 12 district Federal Home Loan Banks that borrow funds for and are owned by the industry would have to devote 5 percent of the "net earnings" or profits, or a minimum of $75 million a year until 1994 for the new low-income mortgages.

For 1994 the contribution was 6 percent of net earnings or a minimum $90 million and from 1995 on it was 10 percent of net earnings or a minimum $150 million a year.

In the version of the bill reported Tuesday, the required contributions are no longer based on net earnings but on the percentage of advances that the district banks make to member S&Ls from money they raise on tax-free notes sold in the private market.

The dollar minimums remained unchanged.

But the base on which percentage assessments for the subsidy program are made now reads 0.05 percent of money advanced annually by the district banks to S&Ls for home mortgage lending for the first four years.

That annual assessment rises to 0.06 percent in 1994 and 0.1 percent in 1995 and thereafter.

"All we did was perfect the language to carry out the intention of the banking committee and to make sure, that because of jurisdiction, we didn't define it as a tax," Gonzalez said. "In no way could it now be interpreted as a tax."

California college bids for former Bishop campus

DALLAS (AP) — The site of defunct Bishop College seems like a perfect place to start over, say officials of a private California religious college that lost its campus to an earthquake.

Antioch Christian College of Studio, Calif. last month sent a letter of intent to buy the site, offering a bid of $11 million.

The California school's officials have until today to submit a contract, said U.S. bankruptcy trustee Duke Salisbury.

Crop experts, farmers will testify at drought hearings

By The Associated Press

Agronomists, agriculture organization officials and farmers will testify Friday in Amarillo before congressional subcommittee members conducting the first of two hearings this week on drought conditions in the Farm Belt.

House Agriculture committee chairman Rep. Kiki del la Garza, D-Mission, and Rep. Bill Sarpalius, D-Amarillo, are scheduled to attend the hearing sponsored by the House subcommittee on wheat, soybeans and feed grains. Subcommittee chairman Rep. Dan Glickman, D-Kansas, also is expected to attend.

A second hearing will be held Saturday in Great Bend, Kan. "Congress responded quickly and effectively last year to drought conditions across the country," said Sarpalius, a member of the subcommittee. "This year we have a drought that could be worse. Some counties in (Sarpalius' district) already have three-quarters of their wheat crop severely damaged or lost and the problems are just as bad in the other states."

Officials said witnesses will testify about drought conditions affecting their crops and are expected to ask for federal drought assistance funds from Congress. Sarpalius said testimony will help Congress decide what action is needed.

Among those scheduled to testify are Texas Farm Bureau president S.M. True, Texas Farm Union president Joe Rankin and representatives of the Texas Corn Growers Association, Texas Wheat Producers Association, National Grain Sorghum Producers Association and National Sugar Beet Growers Association.

Federal officials last week estimated that winter wheat farmers will be harvesting their smallest crop in 11 years, estimated at 1.43 billion bushels. A lingering drought in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and other wheat-producing states is being blamed for a scant harvest estimated to be 8 percent less than last year's.

Texas' winter wheat production is forecast at only 60 million bushels, down from a 10-year average of 140 million bushels. Meanwhile, experts in Kansas estimate that 202.4 million bushels will be harvested there, less than two-thirds of the state's 1988 production.

Although consumer prices aren't expected to be affected, farmers and agriculture trade association representatives are requesting federal assistance similar to that offered in the wake of 1988's devastating drought.

Congress last year passed a $3.9 billion emergency aid package to farmers left high and dry by the withering drought. This year, although Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter has announced assistance under existing disaster authority for livestock and livestock feed, the Bush administration has not addressed damage done to row crops.

Three bills have been introduced in the House that would extend the drought relief.

One, introduced by Rep. Pat Roberts, R-Kansas, would extend the relief to wheat growers only, while legislation sponsored by Glickman includes all crops under federal price support programs.

Sarpalius introduced a broader bill that would grant drought assistance to all crops, including forestry operations, and includes aid for freeze damage.

Saturday's hearing comes three days before the subcommittee begins bill markup, officials said.

700,000 workers march for hunger strikers in China

BEIJING (AP) — At least 700,000 workers and other supporters of students on a hunger strike for democracy triumphantly marched through the streets of Beijing today in the biggest protest in Communist China's history.

The march kicked off the peal of firecrackers set off under the huge poster of Mao Tse-tung that stares over Tiananmen Square, the country's symbolic center of power.

A convoy of 50 taxis stuffed with flag-waving passengers led the procession from the square, which has been choked with protesters for four days.

"Chinese aren't stupid," said marching journalist Shen Yinghua. "You can suppress us for a long time, but when we blow, we spit fire."

Unlike previous marches during the month-long campaign for freedom and clean government, the demonstration today appeared dominated by workers instead of university students, who launched the movement.

Protest activities on the square have forced the government to reschedule or cancel several events during this week's visit of Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev to normalize relations after a 30-year chill.

Early today, the hunger strikers rejected a personal plea from Communist Party chief Zhao Ziyang to end their fast.

Zhao had promised concrete measures to enhance democracy and root out corruption but did not meet student demands for a dialogue with authorities that would be broadcast live.

Workers marched under the banners of several factories and at least 1,000 soldiers joined the protest, including some wearing camouflage fatigues. Their banners identified them as from the general staff office, logistics department and political department.

"We're just regular soldiers, we want democracy and freedom too," said a lieutenant.

Some postal workers declared themselves on strike and also marched. A group of 30 Christians walked beneath a 2-foot wooden cross.

The marchers sang and chanted slogans supporting the pro-democracy movement, which has drawn renewed strength from the rapidly weakening hunger strikers.

More than 3,000 university students began their fast on the stone tiles of Tiananmen on Saturday afternoon and their plight has transformed the campaign into a mass movement attracting teachers, doctors, reporters, government employees and ordinary workers.

While Gorbachev met with academicians inside the Great Hall of the People this morning, students on the adjacent square shouted, "Deng Xiaoping, your time is up!" in reference to China's 84-year-old leader.

In his message delivered to hunger strikers after midnight on behalf of the top Communist Party leadership, Zhao affirmed the students' patriotic spirit.

He promised that protesters would not face punishment and vowed to "work out concrete measures to enhance democracy and law (and) oppose corruption," according to a report by the official Xinhua News Agency.

However, he did not concede to their demands for a dialogue with officials, to be broadcast live, and for a rejection of the official position that the movement was "turmoil."

Cheng Zhen, an activist from Beijing Normal University, said student leaders rejected the appeal after meeting early today. "We are ready for a protracted struggle," she said. "We will not be moved."

Hundreds of doctors, nurses and medical students continued to administer first aid to the fasting students; more than 700 have required hospitalization. Doctors reported many students suffering from diarrhea and colds. Some fasters lay under sheets fashioned as tents that billowed in the brisk wind.

A demonstration by about 4,000 people in Shanghai in support of the hunger strikers continued for a second day, and about 70 people had started fasting themselves, according to an American witness.

The effect of the protest on China's political makeup is not yet clear. Some student leaders say a Communist Party official has warned that the strike could damage the position of the so-called liberal faction that supports market-oriented economic reform.

Parker says school finance budget will stop court action

AUSTIN (AP) — Some school districts won't like the $450 million that state lawmakers approved to begin equalizing public school funding, but the allotment will help prevent court intervention, one lawmaker says.

Middle-income school districts, which stand to gain the least under the funding changes, probably won't be happy with the action by House and Senate budget writers, said Sen. Carl Parker.

But they won't be "one-tenth as unhappy as they are likely to be if one judge sits down and designs a plan to extract wealth from all the districts and redistribute it," Parker, D-Port Arthur, said Tuesday.

Lawmakers, faced with possible court action on the state's school finance system, are trying to lessen the financial gap between poor and rich school districts during this legislative session.

A state district judge declared the school finance system unconstitutional, but the decision was overturned on appeal. The case is pending before the Texas Supreme Court.

Parker warned that failure to adequately fund equalization this session would be "a gold-plated, engraved invitation" to the court to intervene.

The budget committee, which is working on a $46 billion-plus 1990-91 spending plan, adopted a provision requiring passage of legislation on school funding before the extra $450 million can be spent.

With two weeks left in the regular session, the budget panel faces a $600 million shortage in funding for state agencies and programs. Lawmakers are trying to avoid increasing taxes, which Gov. Bill Clements has opposed.

Parker said it was necessary to cut a $76 million excellence-in-education program that Clements proposed.

"That's one of those real good programs that I'm heartbroken that we can't fund," Parker said. "The trouble with a budget this tight is every time you put a dollar somewhere, you have to take a dollar from somewhere else."

Clements' program would have financially rewarded school districts that raised their academic standings.

"We believe it's a very good program that deserves funding. We further believe that there are ample revenues there," said Clements' press secretary, Reggie Bashur.

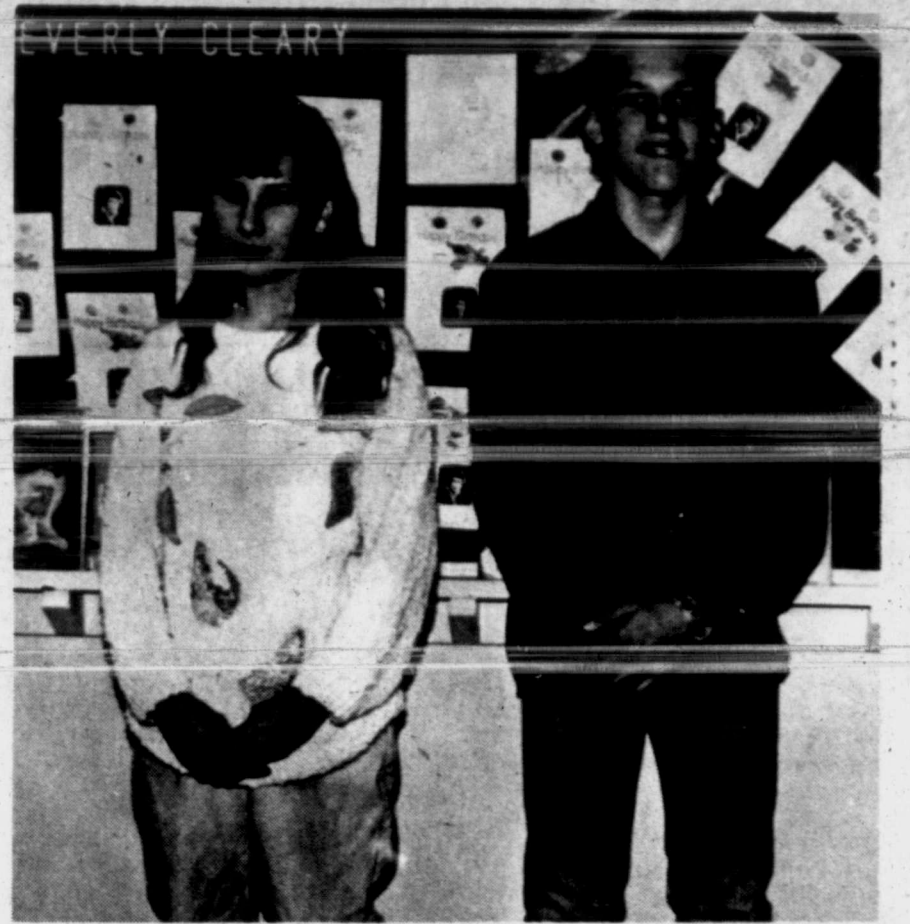

Lawmakers have said a 7-cent increase in the state cigarette tax, which also would generate federal matching funds, would solve budget problems, but Clements is against the tax.

In other action Tuesday, the budget panel put off deciding how to pay for a massive prison reform plan.

The House and Senate differ by $200 million on how much of the plan, which calls for at least 10,000 new prison beds, should be financed with bonds.

Sen. Bob McFarland, R-Arlington, budget panel member and sponsor of the Senate prison reform bill, said the budget negotiators are leaning toward the Senate bonding plan.

McFarland's prison bill, which was patterned after the corrections package passed by the House, was passed out of the Senate Criminal Justice Committee Tuesday for consideration by the full Senate.

Gorbachev advocates border of peace plan

BEIJING (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev today promised more troop reductions in the Far East, saying the Sino-Soviet frontier should become a "border of peace," and urged Washington to pull its troops out of South Korea.

The Soviet leader, in Beijing to normalize relations after a 30-year chill, was later forced to cancel a visit to the Forbidden City because pro-democracy demonstrators filled all the streets surrounding the former Imperial Palace.

Throughout Gorbachev's historic visit, Chinese officials have been forced to constantly adjust his schedule to divert him from the demonstrators, more than 1 million of whom today packed central Tiananmen Square and surrounding streets.

This afternoon, hundreds of students marched past the state guesthouse where Gorbachev was staying, turning their banners toward its gate.

Gorbachev gave an interview this afternoon to the state Chinese Central Television and Radio Beijing at the guesthouse, saying "seeds of (Sino-Soviet) friendship" had grown into a "deep-rooted tree," and that reforms in the two countries would now bring them closer.

The Soviet leader is scheduled to go to Shanghai on Thursday. But demonstrations and fasting for democracy were occurring there too, putting the status of the trip in jeopardy.

In a speech earlier today to academics in the Great Hall of the People, Gorbachev urged Asian nations to work together to solve regional security problems and called on Washington to withdraw its troops from South Korea.

He promised Soviet troop reductions in the Far East, urged that the tense Chinese-Soviet frontier be pacified, and called for a collective security network in Asia.

Cattle hit by RR train

The sheriff's office was notified late Tuesday that a Santa Fe Railway train had run over several cattle between Dermott and Snyder, and a deputy and state highway patrolman were dispatched to investigate.

A Santa Fe dispatcher in Amarillo said at 11:40 p.m. Tuesday three or four cattle had been killed and 10 to 15 were standing around the train.

The deputy and highway patrolman helped clear the animals away from the tracks.

The ownership of the cattle was not reported.

Grass fire run Tuesday

Firemen were at the scene of a grass fire for about an hour Tuesday night on Greene Estate property 10 miles northeast of Snyder.

The call came in at 9:39 p.m., and the firefighters returned to the station at 10:45 p.m.

A department spokesman said the fire could have been ignited by lightning, although the cause was not definitely known.

DWI charged

A 63-year-old man was arrested for DWI at 12:18 a.m. Wednesday in the 400 Block of 30th St.

A 21-year-old woman was taken into custody for shoplifting at 6:31 p.m. Tuesday at Kmart.

Backing pickup hit from behind

Five young Snyder men and two Denver City men escaped injury when two pickup trucks collided 6.8 miles west of Ira on County Road 3214.

The Department of Public Safety said a 1973 Ford F-150 driven by Don R. Constancio, 17, of 1600 27th St. was westbound, followed by a 1981 Chevrolet Scottsdale driven by Ramon E. Castillo, 41, of Denver City, when the accident happened at 7:40 p.m. Saturday.

A trooper said Constancio had stopped and was backing up to turn onto a road he had missed when the other vehicle struck him from behind.

A passenger in the Castillo truck, 25-year-old Jesus M. Medina of Denver City, was unhurt, as were Constancio truck passengers Gregorio Guerra, 19, of 307 N. Ave. Y, 19-year-old Oscar Garza and 17-year-old Randy Garza, both of 1903 Scott Ave., and 17-year-old Roy Garza of 2107 41st St.

Storms cause statewide damage

Forecasts called for the relentless onslaught of violent weather to continue across much of the state through today.

Flash-flooding slowed rush hour traffic in Dallas, Fort Worth and their suburbs, including Arlington. Low-lying areas throughout the cities were flooded as creeks and streams rushed out of their banks.

The storm forced the postponement or cancellation of school in several area districts.

"We've had a considerable amount of flooding around Johnson Creek and in other low-lying areas of the city," said Lt. Gary Pipes of the Arlington Fire Department. "We're in the process of evacuating people from some apartments."

"We've had numerous incidents of cars having driven into high water trying to cross and they've sunk," Pipes said. "People are on the tops of cars and we're rescuing them right now."

In Grand Prairie, where at least 5 1/2 inches of rain had fallen, at least 50 residents had been evacuated between 9 p.m. Tuesday and this morning, said Capt. David Harmon. "We've got one person missing. We're trying to make sure she made it to her destination," Harmon said.

Harmon said the fire department conducted 10 rescues of people from flooded cars, homes and apartment complexes. Water had risen six feet high in one complex, he said.

A tornado warning was issued for Anderson County in east Texas when radar indicated a possible tornado 10 miles southwest of Palestine. Coryell County in central Texas was also placed under a tornado warning, when the sheriff's department spotted a tornado on the ground. There were no immediate reports of damage in either county.

The storms also damaged parts of South and West Texas.

A funnel cloud was reported just west of Del Rio early today and a severe thunderstorm that contained at least one funnel cloud damaged homes, barns and outbuildings near Brackettville in Kinney County.

To the northwest, funnel clouds were sighted in Terry and Lynn Counties early today and a severe thunderstorm caused some wind damage in the Lubbock area.

One tornado struck in the Mitchell Bend area of Hood County, only a few miles from Comanche Peak nuclear plant.

Heavy rains sent water over the spillway at Squaw Creek Lake, the cooling reservoir for the plant, which is not yet loaded with nuclear fuel.

"There is high water flowing over the dam, but it is not causing failure of the dam," said TU Electric spokesman George Hedrick.

In West Texas, golf ball size hail fell in Midland and the wind gusts to 60 mph. But by 7:30 a.m., the weather service had canceled tornado watches in West Texas.

Some of the strongest thunderstorms roared across North Texas and Northeast Texas during the night with high winds or tornadoes causing damage in Hood and Johnson Counties, southwest of Fort Worth.

High winds ripped off the roof of a nursing home at Cleburne and some mobile homes were damaged at Granbury.

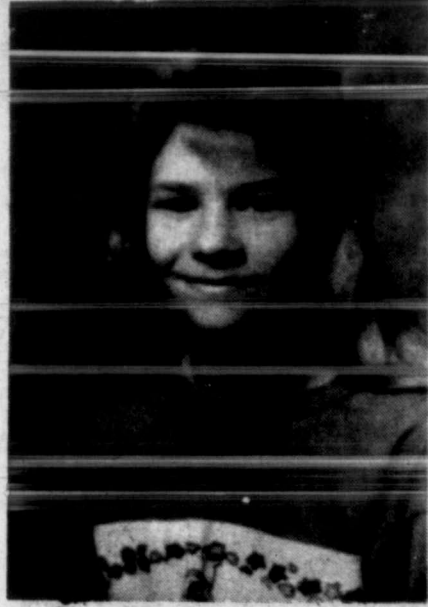

About 100 residents of a mobile home park in the Fort Worth suburb of Kennedale were evacuated during the night because of rising waters in Village Creek.

Many of the residents who had no place to go were placed in hotels by the American Red Cross.

At Cleburne, authorities said a woman was injured when wind blew out the glass door at a shopping mall and several residents of mobile homes suffered minor injuries, according to City Manager Lloyd Moss.

At least six tornadoes were reported in the North Texas area Tuesday night.

Some homes in the Johnson County town of Alvarado, about 10 miles from Cleburne, were damaged, but there were reports of injuries.

Grandma Playing Favorites Didn't Win This Girl's Heart

By Abigail Van Buren
© Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Your column about grandmothers who favor one grandchild over another reminded me of my own grandmother. I am 51 years old and will never forget my fourth birthday. My cousin and I shared the same birthday, and our mothers had planned a party for the two of us.

My grandmother gave my cousin a set of dominoes and a large doll with blond hair. It was the most beautiful doll I had ever seen.

I opened my gift and found a piece of green corduroy yardage. Grandma said, "Your mother can make a dress for you out of this." I still recall thinking at that moment, "Grandma doesn't like me." To this day I can't remember ever having shared a hug or a kiss with her.

My only vivid memory of this grandmother was the hurt I felt on my fourth birthday.

ROSE MARIE POWERS,
OLYMPIA, WASH.

DEAR ROSE MARIE: Your grandmother must have been a medical miracle. One wonders how she could have lived for so long without a heart.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to congratulate the students at Skeen Elementary School in Leesburg, Fla., for their "Litter Perfect" program, and to let your readers know about a national public awareness campaign called "Take Pride in America."

The U.S. Department of the Interior is the lead agency for the "Take Pride" initiative. Certainly, as "landlord" of more than 500 million acres of public land, I am familiar with the enormous problems associated with careless use and intentional abuse of America's precious natural and cultural resources. And, I believe it is our responsibility, our duty, to use these treasures prudently, and pass them unspoiled to our children and grandchildren. How we care for the land today will determine whether or not we will be able to enjoy its majesty and bounty in the future.

Demonstrators march against Medicare change

DALLAS (AP) — At least 100 elderly citizens, chanting slogans and carrying signs at City Hall Plaza, protested changes in the catastrophic illness provisions of Medicare.

Dodging rainfall, the protesters heard speakers decry the Medicare expansion that began Jan. 1, saying it costs more than its worth.

Tuesday's protest was sponsored by Seniors March Against Catastrophic Health Care Act, a Dallas-based group that wants the law repealed or frozen for a year until new legislation can be written.

"The Big Depression, The Big War, The Big Rip-Off — We've Seen It All," read a sign carried by a protester. But for many of those at the hour-long event, it was their first organized protest.

"We never protested anything before," said Florence Wetzig, 69, an organizer of the demonstration. "But the point is if there's something you don't like, it doesn't pay to complain to your neighbor or your brother-in-law, you tell the people who can advertising campaign. Equally important is a national awards program that recognizes annually the most outstanding stewardship activities occurring across the country. Anyone wishing more information about how to nominate deserving individuals and organizations for awards can write to: Take Pride in America, P.O. Box 1339-A, Jessup, Md. 20794.

Surely, these 12 young students at Skeen Elementary School are a bright and shining example of the "thousand points of light" upon which the American people, President Bush and his administration rely to contribute to the care of this great country.

Thank you, Abby, for helping us to spread this important message.

MANUEL LUJAN JR.,
SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question about my marital status. After my husband and I were divorced, I legally reclaimed my maiden name. Our daughter uses that name for her school records, medical treatments, etc.

A few years ago, my ex-husband died, so I now call myself "a single parent." However, since I now use my maiden name, what do I say when I go to a hospital and the admissions clerk asks me what my marital status is?

Am I widowed, divorced or single?
EENIE, MEENIE, MINEY

DEAR EENIE: Since your husband died after your divorce, you never were, and are not now, "widowed"; you are divorced. A single person is one who has never been married.

do something about it."

The Coalition for Affordable Health Care, a Washington-based group formed to lobby against the law, released on Monday a poll that suggests only about 60 percent of the 33 million Medicare beneficiaries covered by the program are familiar with it.

Of that 60 percent, the survey found, 53 percent said they are disenchanted with the new program signed into law last year by then-President Reagan after overwhelming congressional approval.

"We don't want to buy a pig in a poke," Ms. Wetzig said. "They said it's wonderful for you and it's not."

Snyder girl earns degree from Baylor University

Jessica Richardson, daughter of John and Betty Richardson, graduated from Baylor University on May 12. Graduation ceremonies were held at 9:30 a.m. in the Ferrell Special Events Center on Baylor's campus.

Richardson received a bachelor of business administration degree with a double major in accounting and insurance. She completed her insurance degree with a 4.0 grade point average.

University clubs and organizations in which Richardson participated include secretary/treasurer of the Baylor Insurance Society, senior class council representative for the Baylor Accounting Society, Baylor Pre-Law Society, and membership in the Baylor Sideline Club (a school spirit club).

Richardson, who hopes to follow in the footsteps of her grandfather, the late Bernard Longbotham Jr. who was an accountant and auditor, has accepted a position as an accountant for the Mobil Oil corp. in Dallas.

Astro-Graph

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

May 18, 1989

In the year ahead you are likely to be much more ambitious than you have been in the past. You're not likely to feel fully satisfied until you achieve success in two areas simultaneously.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your concentration level might not be up to par today and this could cause your work to suffer. Keep your mind focused on what you're doing at all times. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may have to be extra careful today in any matters that pertain to your personal resources. Think twice before taking gambles or speculating.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today you might find yourself all alone out front championing an unpopular cause. It may be wise to drop the matter temporarily until you have proper back-up.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A problem with which you may have to contend today might be of your own doing. It will only contribute to the complications if you try to pass the buck.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There are indications that you might be too extravagant and loose with your funds for your own good today. Your behavior could invite someone devious to take advantage of you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you submit to inclinations to scatter your forces thinner than you should today, nothing too productive is likely to result from your efforts. Keep your strengths intact.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't attempt to bluff your way through today by pretending you're knowledgeable about something you're not. Be smart and say as little as possible.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your curiosity could tempt you to poke your nose in something today that actually doesn't concern you. Be prepared to take the consequences if you decide to butt in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you are a rather independent individual who does things independently. Today, however, you're mode of operation is apt to be determined by outside factors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today you might have to deal with a heavier workload than usual and you will also have to be careful not to let your assignments pile up. If you fall behind, it'll be hard to catch up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not let your peers pressure you into doing something today that your better judgment tells you does not serve your best interests. You may later regret it if you do.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's best not to make any major domestic decisions today if your mate isn't present or, at the least, fully consulted as to what you have in mind.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 64 and have had back pain for 23 years. My physician gave me a cortisone shot and I was eventually told I had arthritis. Recently a neighbor suggested neuritis and I appear to have all the symptoms. Is there anything I can take to help?

DEAR READER: Neuritis means swelling and inflammation of a nerve. This can result from infection of the nerve or nerve-pinching from adjacent structures.

For example, spinal osteoarthritis is a common condition in patients over 60 and is marked by calcium deposits on the spinal bones (vertebrae). These deposits may cause pressure on certain nerves, with resultant pain, weakness and tingling. Technically, this is a type of neuritis — so, in fact, you may have neuritis from your arthritis.

In my experience, cortisone injections are rarely helpful in this situation because, although they may temporarily lessen pain and discomfort by reducing swelling, they do nothing to cure the basic problem, which is calcium deposits. Other treatment to improve symptoms would include special exercises, a back brace and anti-inflammatory drugs, such as ibuprofen. A course of physical therapy may reduce symptoms.

In severe cases, surgery (to remove the offending calcium deposits) may be necessary.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "An Informed Approach to Surgery." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 80-year-old brother is having a problem with his vision. His doctor says this is a retinal problem. Can surgery help? Will he go blind?

DEAR READER: Elderly people are affected by many visual problems that involve the retina, the thin layer of light-sensitive photoreceptors at the back of the eye.

Retinal degeneration is such an affliction; it is due to the age-related build-up of irritating waste products in the retina, leading to wrinkling, atrophy (shriveling) and malfunction of this light-sensitive tissue.

Retinal degeneration is usually associated with spotty overgrowth of tiny retinal blood vessels (neovascular proliferation), which further reduces vision. In some cases (but by no means all), laser surgery will retard this proliferation and aid vision.

Unfortunately, many patients are not helped by surgery. Individuals with retinal degeneration should be under the care of ophthalmologists.

Special lenses and careful attention to proper lighting may help such patients maintain independence during the time they are losing vision. Retinal degeneration rarely causes total blindness, but it frequently distorts central vision, the area of the retina that enables us to focus on objects directly in front of us, such as the word on a printed page or the detail of a picture.

Peripheral vision — the ability to see things "out of the corners" of our eyes — is usually spared.

Therefore, your brother may become legally blind, unless the doctors determine that he is a candidate for laser surgery.
