Scholarships go to 54 SHS seniors at commencement

Some 54 Snyder High School seniors, which represents almost one-third of the entire graduating class, were announced as scholarship recipients Tuesday at commencement-baccalaureate exercises in Scurry County Coliseum.

Speaker at the event was Dr. Wylie E. (Buff) Hearn, minister of First United Methodist Church here.

The top graduates for the Class of 1989 were Kevin Winter, valedictorian, and Jeff Franklin, salutatorian.

Diplomas were handed out by Billy Bob McMullan, school board president, and Luann Bursleson, school board member.

The announcement of scholarships was made by SHS counselor Janet Wesson. Seniors receiving scholarships were:

Michelle Anderson—$500 scholarship from District 2 and 2 Lions Clubs. $250 scholarship from Snyder Lions Club. Also, $500 Cunningham Scholarship from Western Texas College and $200 Music Scholarship from Vivace Jr. Music Club.

Donald Anderson III—$500 a semester for four years to Angelo State University, a Carr Air Force ROTC scholarship.

Brandi Bell—$250 Pam Fowler Memorial Scholarship awarded by Snyder Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to the college of her choice.

Staff consolidation could cause switch for ISD appraisals

Snyder school board members Tuesday directed school officials to consider combining two administrative-level positions—the district's testing coordinator and curriculum specialist—into one next school year, a switch which would require Snyder ISD to contract with an outside source for its "second appraisal" of teachers.

Currently, these second appraisals, which apply toward career ladder selection, are part of the responsibilities of both the district's testing coordinator, a post held by Bobbie Box, and the curriculum specialist, held by Janet Brown.

The announcement of retirement plans by Box prompted the board to consider its options related to the two posts.

During discussion, it was noted that the board felt Box's performance in the post definitely qualified it for "fulltime" status.

The switch to a "professional second evaluator" was viewed as a cost savings method for the district, however, since any expense related to these appraisals is expected to be far less than the annual salary for the staff position.

If the switch was made, the indication Tuesday was that Brown would be asked to assume the responsibilities of both jobs.

"If we did this, there's no way she could also do the second appraisals," Superintendent Dalton Moseley told the board.

These appraisals consist of an assessment during the fall term of all district teachers, one which serves as a backup for the "primary" teacher evaluation conducted by their respective campus principals.

During the spring term, a second appraisal is completed also of all district teachers who have not yet qualified for Level II status on career ladder.

Moseley said he was aware of only one school district of comparable size to Snyder, Vernon ISD, which had employed the professional appraiser method of teacher evaluations. He said the district used this method for one year before switching back to an in-house method of appraisal.

The service is one which has developed since the implementation of House Bill 72 mandates. Traditionally, he noted, retired school administrators are employed to perform the appraisals.

Snyder ISD would have the option of employing a professional firm or to contract with a local individual for the tasks.

"If we got someone, we'd want the best we could get," commented TRUSTEES, page 11

Coach outlines 'needed' changes

One year after his employment and a promise to "make Snyder competitive" once again in all athletic events, David Baugh, head coach and athletic director, profiled areas he feels the district needs to change in order to achieve this goal.

Baugh offered his comments and requests to the school board at a Tuesday afternoon work session. His suggestions ranged from track to tennis and ended with the sport Baugh was employed to coach, football.

Regarding high school football, he pointed out that Snyder currently has nine coaches involved with two freshmen teams, a junior varsity and the varsity team.

All other schools in the district have a minimum of 10 high school coaches and several have 11, he said.

"I've said from the beginning that Snyder has athletes as good as any. The fact is, other schools are just getting more coaching."

To remedy the situation, Baugh asked the board to consider filling one of the high school teaching vacancies for the coming school year with an individual also qualified to coach football.

If this occurred, he noted, the expense to the district would be an additional coaching supplement, quoted at $3,500 for a junior varsity position.

At the junior high, Baugh noted scheduling problems which too often leave boys coming out for the sport without coaching supervision in the off-season.

Regarding this, he asked administrative direction to free one of his existing junior high coaches from one period of classroom instruction to allow them to supervise an eighth grade athletic period.

Additional coaching supplemental payments were re-

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Skill is walking a tightrope across a canyon, but intelligence is not walking it."

In Europe, nobility may have class but no money. Some view Americans as having money, but no class. Now a guy is trying to get rich by bringing the two together.

A 23-year-old West German stockbroker is playing the role of title broker. He says he can fix it so an ordinary American can legally use a noble name in the social directory.

Going prices are $100,000 for the bargain-basement title of common count. If you want to be a prince or princess, the going rate may be a cool million.

The name broker says the U.S. is a great country, but lacks nobility. This way, a wealthy U.S. commoner can pick up a title while helping some great blueblood out of a financial bind.

The name broker says all his deals are strictly legitimate. With the help of a geneologist in Brussels and a well-connected Austrian baroness, he has put together a portfolio of more than 50 names that have opened castle doors in respected castles.

Title may have its charm, but we suspect that a guy with a million bucks in the bank, or maybe even the $100,000, can be regarded as a "king" in the West Texas oilpatch.

The latest census bureau statistics say men still get married—they just take longer to give in. America is said to have 27 million traditional bachelors. Among men 15 years and older, 30 percent have never been married. This is only two percentage points higher than 20 years ago.

Men rarely marry as teens, and this has remained unchanged in the past two decades. But today, 78 percent of men in the 20-24 age bracket are still single, up from 55 percent 20 years ago.

In the 25-29 age bracket, 43 percent have avoided wedding vows compared to only 19 percent in 1970.

Watch out fellas, June—the month for brides—starts tomorrow.

Summer youth camps set to begin at college

The first of a series of summer youth camps scheduled at Western Texas College is to get underway Monday, June 5.

Little Maverick camps are for children 6, 7 and 8 years old. Moving camps are for those 9, 10 and 11. Campers may choose morning or afternoon sessions, with morning hours from 8:30-12 noon and afternoon hours 1:30-5 p.m.

"These are fun camps," Mike Harrison, camps director, emphasizes. "We will have a variety of activities including T-ball, volleyball, basketball, tumbling, kickball, swimming and children's movies."

Each session will meet Monday through Thursday for two weeks, a total of 28 hours. Fees will be $100.00. The fee for the session scheduled July 3-13 will be reduced to $35.

Session dates are June 5-15, June 19-29, July 3-13 and July 17-27.

Parents wishing to enroll children for any session are to call the Continuing Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

In Brief

Hunger strike

PATTON VILLAGE, Texas (AP) — The town's police chief began a hunger strike in an attempt to convince the governor not to sign a bill he claims will starve his town and other "poor" cities in Texas.

David Broussard said his hunger strike was "the only thing left to do" to protest House Bill 243, which instructs cities with populations of less than 5,000 that revenues from traffic fines can fund no more than 30 percent of their overall budgets.

The bill, passed earlier this month by the Texas Legislature, has not yet been signed by the governor.

Pair arrested

HOUSTON (AP) — A couple accused of sending their 3-year-old daughter into moving traffic to panhandle money from passing motorists has been charged with endangering a child.

Carol Jean Drew, 33, and Mark C. Drew, 36, were charged Tuesday with the Class A misdemeanor and bond was set at $500 each, said police Sgt. William Stanley.

Police said the couple and their three children have been seen at several busy intersections in the city carrying signs seeking work, money and shelter.

Using children to solicit money is not, in itself, illegal, Stanley said.

Local

College count

Summer enrollment at Western Texas College surpassed 900 following the one-day signup Tuesday and officials are now looking toward a new record.

The previous high figure was in the summer of 1986, when 954 students enrolled. The cutoff for the summer term is at noon next Monday.

Scout meet

A Boy Scout district committee meeting is scheduled Monday at 5:30 p.m. at Snyder National Bank.

All members are urged to attend.

Airplane club

The Snyder area Model Airplane Club will meet at their field at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Suspects may be jailed

SHERMAN, Texas (AP) — Federal authorities will go before a U.S. District Court grand jury Thursday in Tyler to obtain formal indictments against two Oklahoma lawmen charged with conspiring to kidnap and torture a suspected drug dealer.

A U.S. magistrate ruled Tuesday that probable cause existed for Love County Sheriff Wesley Liddell Jr. and policeman Roger Ray Hilton to be held for trial. Liddell and Hilton have been held in the Grayson County Jail since their arrest by FBI agents May 18. The FBI accused the men of conspiracy to kidnap and interstate travel to commit a crime of violence.

FBI agents say they have more than seven hours of taped conversations in which Liddell and Hilton, his son-in-law, allegedly discussed a bizarre scheme to try to determine the sites of illegal drug labs in southern Oklahoma and northern Texas.

After Sanders' ruling was made in the examination hearing Tuesday, a group of about 90 Love County residents clapped and cheered for the two men as federal marshals rushed them from the courthouse.

STANFIELD PLAY—Linda Cozart's second grade class from Stanfield Elementary presented a play entitled "Texas" on May 23. Those participating were: Stephanie Alderete, Jason Almquist, Nicole Anthony, Dusty Ashby, Meredith Banta, Elizabeth Beckham, Brandon Benson, Jim-Britt Brown,

Avon says 'no' to Mary Kay

NEW YORK (AP) — Avon Products Inc. has told Texas-based Mary Kay Corp. that Avon isn't for sale and sees no potential benefit from combining the two cosmetics sellers.

James E. Preston, Avon's chairman and chief executive officer, stated in a letter Tuesday to John Rochon, Mary Kay vice chairman: "We strongly believe our opportunities will be better achieved by Avon continuing with our business plan."

In the letter, released by Avon, Preston indicated Mary Kay has had a longstanding interest in Avon.

"As I told you last January, we see no advantage to combining our operations through some form of leveraged buyout or other arrangement," Preston said.

The reference was to a Jan. 11 New York dinner meeting between Preston and Rochon, Avon spokesman John Cox said. The two had no other face-to-face contact and spoke by telephone only once, to set up the meeting.

During the meeting, attended only by the two executives, Rochon extolled the advantages of being a private company and asked Preston to take Avon private and unite with Mary Kay.

Rochon has been given much of the credit for the financial success of the the 1985 leveraged buyout of the Dallas-based door-to-door cosmetics company.

Rochon also told Preston an LBO could provide Preston with a financial windfall, allowing him to leave the company in a few years several million dollars richer, Cox said.

Preston replied that he wasn't interested and even if he were contemplating a leveraged buyout he wouldn't need Mary Kay to do it, according to the Avon spokesman.

Although the meeting occurred in January, Avon had been aware of Mary Kay's possible intentions earlier.

The first hint came two years ago when Joel Stern of the investment firm Stern Stewart & Co. approached Avon about the possibility of buying Mary Kay. He said he was working as a consultant for Mary Kay, according to Cox.

Avon's management evaluated the idea and decided the two direct sellers wouldn't make a good match, he said. Plus, Avon sales representatives probably would have reacted negatively because, in some areas of the country, the Mary Kay sales force is the main competition.

Several months later in 1987 word came to Avon that someone was preparing a hostile bid, Cox said. At about the same time, a public relations firm Avon had hired resigned the account on the grounds there might be a conflict with another client's business.

Dear Abby

Bridal Couple Calls the Shots For Their Wedding Festivities

By Abigail Van Buren
Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that needs urgent attention. I have been living with a man for 11 years. I am divorced; "Jim" is not, but he's legally separated. Jim's family knows about me. I have been invited to their homes many times, and they have been invited to ours.

Here's the problem. Jim's son is getting married, and Jim's estranged wife (I'll call her Judy) is having a dinner at her home for the bride and groom and has asked Jim to attend the dinner and act as the host.

Since Jim and I intend to have our own dinner for the bridal couple, I see no reason for Jim to attend Judy's dinner. He has given me all kinds of excuses why he should be there, so I finally agreed that he go, even though I would rather he didn't.

I also understand that the bride's parents plan to give a dinner. If they invite Jim and Judy as a couple, I definitely feel that Jim should not go because they plan on having another dinner to which Jim and I will be invited. I feel that Jim should refuse all invitations that include Judy since they are no longer a couple and are not living together.

Please advise me, Abby. What is the proper procedure?
UNSURE

DEAR UNSURE: The "proper procedure" is to do whatever pleases the bridal couple. It is quite clear that Jim's son wants his parents to appear at the bridal festivities as a "couple," so don't make it difficult for Jim or his wife. As unfair as it may seem, you should quietly defer to Jim where his family is concerned.

DEAR ABBY: I just gave birth to our second child and am still heavy and flabby. My husband desperately wants to go to Hawaii for our vacation.

My problem is that I am very self-conscious about my body. He tells me to exercise, but I don't think that in one month's time I will feel comfortable in a skimpy bathing suit.

I want him to have a wonderful time, but he won't if he senses that I am miserable. I do not want to ruin the wonderful vacation that he has planned for just the two of us, but I just can't stop feeling depressed about it.

Officer killed in line of duty honored on Tuesday

MUNDAY, Texas (AP) - Family members, friends and fellow law enforcement officers gathered to pay tribute to the only law enforcement officer in Knox County to die in the line of duty.

Perry Patton, 26, killed by a man he grew up with, received full police honors, including a 21-gun salute, during funeral and graveside services Tuesday. A standing-room only crowd attended the service at the First Baptist Church.

Patton, who was one of Munday's two full-time police officers for less than a year, was shot with his own gun early Monday while wrestling with a man he Should I go and try to fake a good time for his sake?

SELF-CONSCIOUS

DEAR SELF-CONSCIOUS: Buy some shorts and a halter top, or a pretty gauze "shift," and forget the skimpy bathing suits. Once you're on the beach, you will see all shapes and sizes — and discover you look better than most! Trust me. You won't have to "fake" a good time; you'll have one.

DEAR ABBY: A recent column contained a letter about a small child falling into a swimming pool and the CPR that saved him. Good. I'm glad the child is OK. But very young children should be taught some survival techniques.

A child of 2 months can be placed in an inch of water in the bathtub and taught to turn itself over, put its hands under its chest, and get its face out of the water so it can make a noise. By 2 years, my own children could all float on their backs!

When they were 3, I started teaching them to undress in the wading pool. Their sandals and summer shorts came off. Later, we used the same technique in deeper water.

As they grew older, the clothes became heavier and they learned to take off sneakers, shoes and winter boots. It was "fun," but when my 10-year-old son went through the ice in a swamp (a place he was forbidden to go!), I bought new boots and scolded him — but I had a living son!

Of course, children need to be carefully watched, but they also need to be taught how to take care of themselves in emergency situations — and they're never too young to learn.

I hope you think this is worth printing.
K.L. LENNOX, NEWARK, N.J.

DEAR K.L.: I do. And I did.

stopped to question about a robbery at Allsup's Convenience Store.

Gary Adams, 25, also of Munday, is being held in the Knox County Jail on capital murder and robbery charges.

Patton and Adams grew up together in the North Texas town of 1,700.

All of the stores in the town of 1,700 were closed Tuesday afternoon for the services.

"The town is in shock," Justice of the Peace Truman Cypert said. "It's a loss to all of us because we worked with him every day. In a big city, you might not get to know them, but everyone knows everyone here."

Cypert added that the fact that Patton grew up with the man charged with his murder made it "even more of a tragedy."

"You know it can happen, but you never really expect it to happen between two local men," Cypert said.

An estimated 150 law enforcement officers from across the state attended the funeral services and graveside services. One officer from Los Angeles, Calif., heard of the slaying while driving through Oklahoma and made a side trip to through Texas to stop at Munday City Hall and offer his condolences.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've recently married and have not been able to sleep a whole night with my husband

Davis defends hiring girlfriend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Davis says his hiring of his girlfriend for a $28,000 a year job on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee is ethically sound.

Davis, 56, R-Mich., acknowledged Tuesday he has been living with the 28-year-old staffer, Brook Ball, since earlier this year. Miss Ball was hired Jan. 1 on Davis' recommendation and he moved into her Virginia apartment in late January or early February, shortly after separating from his wife, Marty Davis.

"We checked with the ethics committee before we hired her to make sure there was nothing wrong with doing it," Davis said. "The answer was very clearly there is nothing wrong with it."

Disclosure of the relationship between Davis and Miss Ball prompted a flurry of accusations between the congressman and his wife of 12 years. The congressman has filed for divorce, and he and Mrs. Davis have been sparring in court over how much support he should be required to pay.

Davis accused his estranged wife of leaking the information to reporters in an effort to get more alimony in the divorce proceedings.

"She has threatened me on numerous occasions, ... saying, 'if I don't get what I want in the way of alimony, I'm going to go public with it.'"

Mrs. Davis, however, denied she was the source of the information and said she had never threatened the congressman or his staff.

"All I did was just warn them to try to keep him in check because he's going to hurt himself," she said. "I asked what can be done to stop this."

Davis presented the affair against the backdrop of a stormy marriage, with both party's dating while separated.

Mrs. Davis, however, said word of the affair caught her by surprise.

because of his snoring. I heard there is a new drug in the form of nose drops. Should he see an ear-nose-and-throat doctor or might the drops help?

DEAR READER: Snoring is a difficult problem to correct. In older adults, it is commonly caused by age-related relaxation of tissues at the back of the throat. The problem is often compounded by excessive use of sedatives or alcohol, allergies and nasal polyps (benign growths deep within the nose).

I suggest your husband be examined by an ear-nose-and-throat doctor in hopes that there is a correctable cause for his snoring. For example, surgery to remove polyps or sagging tissue can correct the problem. Sometimes the cure is as simple as cutting down on alcohol consumption, avoiding sleeping pills or using a decongestant medicine at bedtime. In any case, an otolaryngologist would be a good place to start.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have chronic swimmer's ear problems. Do you have any suggestions for a solution?

DEAR READER: Chronic otitis externa (swimmer's ear) is a recurring painful infection of the ear canal, usually caused by both yeasts and bacteria. Several topical medicines, such as Cortisporin and Otobiotic, are available to treat the infection. Two or three drops of the solution in the affected ear twice a day for a week will usually do the trick.

Prevention is a major consideration. The micro-organisms that cause otitis externa thrive in a dark, warm, moist environment. Because people who swim in fresh water usually get their ears wet, this water can remain in the ears overnight, providing an ideal situation for infection to develop. (Salt-water swimmers almost never get swimmer's ear.)

I've used an easy and inexpensive method to solve the problem. I instruct patients to pour about a third of a cupful of rubbing alcohol into each ear canal at night, wait a few moments and then allow the alcohol to drain out. The alcohol attracts water and then evaporates, leaving a dry canal. Also, the alcohol has antiseptic properties. By using this technique during the swimming season, many of my patients have been able to avoid swimmer's ear. If the alcohol method is ineffective, patients should be examined by an ear specialist.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Ear Infections and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Right spot, wrong approach

By James Jacoby

Willy Nilly had a tough bidding decision after his partner had responded with one no-trump. Eventually he jumped in his six-card spade suit. Since North had enough to bid game, he bid four spades. No doubt North is still hoping to see Willy play a hand well someday.

West led the club king. Willy took the ace and right away played three high diamonds, pitching his club loser. Next he played a spade back to his queen. West took the king and played a fourth diamond. East carefully played a low heart as declarer ruffed. Willy was just about to play the ace of spades when he suddenly realized that it was possible that East had all the remaining spades. If he could get to dummy, he could guard against that distribution by leading the 10 of spades and letting it ride. He tried a low heart to dummy's jack, but East won the ace and returned a club. Willy ruffed and now had no choice but to play out the spade ace. East got two more spade tricks, and the contract was down one. Even if declarer plays a high heart out of his hand, East should keep declarer out of dummy by ducking.

The correct play is for declarer to lay down the ace of spades at trick two. When the king drops, he can play diamonds as before, and then run the 10 of spades. He will lose one spade trick and the heart ace, making an overtrick. If no spade honor appears, he will still be able to play up to the queen of spades from dummy, losing the contract only when West began the hand with K-J-9-x in trumps.

Missing jewelry studied

HOUSTON (AP) — An investigation is under way by state and federal officials after 63 pieces of African gold jewelry were discovered missing from the Museum of Fines in Houston, officials say.

The 20th century pieces from the collection of Houston sportsman Alfred Glassell Jr. were discovered missing Tuesday, according to Museum Director Peter Marzio.

The value of the jewelry was not immediately determined, but the insurer, Lloyd's of London, has offered a $10,000 reward for information about the items, according to Harold Smith of Smith International Adjusters of New York, which is working with the insurance company.

Smith said Houston police and the FBI are working on the case.

Houston police and the FBI are investigating, said Harold Smith of Smith International Adjusters of New York, which is working with the insurance company.

The jewelry, which was to be put on public exhibit next month for the first time, was being kept in a cabinet in a museum gallery, Smith said. Investigators discovered no sign of forced entry at the museum, he added.

The museum was open to the public Sunday, but closed Monday.

Marzio said the items were stored under extensive security, including locks, an alarm system and museum guards.

Staff members informed him the items were missing about 4 p.m., he said. Police said they received the first call about the jewelry at 6:08 p.m.

Marzio said police told him to limit the details he released, and police would say little about the investigation.

Cockroaches for pets said new and different trend

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Now for something completely different: the pet cockroach.

Don't reach for the insecticide, said Gene Alford, a salesman at Critter Shop. This isn't the kind of roach you want to stomp.

The Madagascar Hissing Roach, 2½ to 3 inches long, hisses like an aerosol can and will frolic on an owner's arm or shoulder, said Alford, who's asking for $6 a bug.

"Most people that have exotic tastes want something clean, not too much cleanup, easy maintenance, and it is a conversation piece," Alford said. The homely pets have sold well since going on the market in January, he said. Some people think of them as trendy.

"It depends on the individual's taste," Alford said.

One customer watching Alford stroke one of the little arthropods was unwilling to join the trend.

"I've had enough of roaches," she said.

The exotic pet shop has sold six of the 12 roaches it bought from the Southeast Reptile Exchange Inc., a local wholesaler, Alford said.

The roaches are bred in zoos and generally used as food for reptiles.

U. S. discusses aid for guerrillas

NEW YORK (AP) — The Bush administration wants Congress to support a covert supply of weapons to non-communist guerrillas fighting Cambodia's Vietnam-backed government, The New York Times reported today.

The aid would be used to strengthen Prince Norodom Sihanouk's position in negotiations with the Phnom Penh government and with the communist Khmer Rouge forces. The newspaper attributed the report to unidentified Bush administration officials.

Pigs may one day be main source for needed organs

CHICAGO (AP) — Transplant doctors predict pigs will become a main source of donor organs for people once the many technical problems of cross-species transplantation are resolved.

While primates such as chimpanzees and baboons might be a better match, pigs are cheaper, more plentiful and easier to breed, says Dr. Hugh Auchincloss Jr., assistant professor of surgery at Harvard University.

"What could change, I suppose, is that we could become better at making artificial organs than we are now. Then we wouldn't need the animal organs. But I don't see that as coming first," Auchincloss said Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Society of Transplant Physicians.

Only 50 to 60 chimpanzees are available in any given year for all types of research, according to Auchincloss.

"It doesn't make any sense to use chimpanzees because you're going to make such a small impact in the well-being of humans. And you'll make people so mad, because it is where they focus from the point of view of animal rights, understandably so," he said.

"If you can eat the pig, I'm not sure you can't transplant the liver," said Arthur Caplan, director of the Center for Biomedical Ethics at the University of Minnesota.

But some animal-rights activists say they're opposed to using animals, whether it's chimpanzees, pigs or even rodents.

"Animals aren't here to be our spare parts," said Dr. Neal Barnard, a psychiatrist who serves as president of the Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine in Washington.

"They're putting all their energy into this high-tech, incredibly expensive use of the limited resources we have to put into health care ... and it has maybe a one-in-10 million chance of ever working out," said Susan Stewart, head of the research investigative committee for the Last Chance for Animals in Los Angeles.

About 30 animal-to-human organ transplants have been performed worldwide, most of them in the early 1960s, according to Auchincloss.

The longest survivor was a 27-year-old woman who lived nine months with a chimpanzee's kidney she received in 1964. The latest patient, a 12-day-old girl known as Baby Fae, died 20 days after receiving a baboon's heart in 1984 at California's Loma Linda University Medical Center.

"If you define success as one-year survival, we still haven't gotten one," Auchincloss said. "But we've come awfully close."

About 50 cases also are known in which doctors attached pigs' livers to coma patients on a temporary basis, mostly in the 1960s, Auchincloss said. The patients' blood was passed through the pigs' livers, but it was not clear whether the animal organs actually performed the same function as the patients' own intact livers.

Such drastic measures are necessary because of the critical shortage of donated organs, according to Dr. Keith Reemtsma, chairman of surgery at Columbia University. He performed the record-setting transplant in 1964 that involved the chimpanzee kidney.

Your

June 1, 1989

Substantial gains can be made in the year ahead through individuals with whom you'll share common interests. It looks like you may be successful in several arrangements.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There's a possibility you'll have a change of heart regarding an incident where you may at first feel imposed upon. It's best not to voice your initial thoughts. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. CANCER (June 21-July 22) There are indications that you might be a trifle jealous at this time of someone in your peer group and if you don't guard your actions today, you'll show. This situation may improve shortly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The person you're expecting to help you with something you're hoping to achieve today may not. However, someone else better equipped might step in and serve as a substitute.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you negatively judge situations in advance today it will be the same as placing obstacles on your own path. Keep an open mind and focus on what can be positively accomplished.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you've been delinquent in any obligations either materially or socially, see if you can't start to make amends today. You'll feel better when these burrs are removed from under your saddle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It looks like you might run into considerable opposition in an involvement that's important to you if you follow your present course of action again today. Start considering other alternatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There could be a hurdle to be cleared today where your work is concerned. For your own peace of mind make an effort to get it out of the way as early as possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's best to avoid getting too involved at this time with an acquaintance with whom you had a bit of trouble in the past. To be on the safe side, stick to pals with good track records.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be realistic today in your assessments of situations that have a direct bearing on your career or image. Don't jump into anything where you're overmatched.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone whose support you now need might be more easily approached today if a friend intercedes. Select the best representative possible.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A situation may develop at this time that could be potentially profitable for you, but it might not be in accord with the way you like to do business. Analyze it carefully.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If a misunderstanding arises today with a person who is usually your ally, do not let it go unresolved too long. The wound could deepen if left untreated.

Abbott gaining respect in AL

by The Associated Press
American League opponents are starting to talk more about Jim Abbott's left arm than this right hand. Abbott won his third straight start, limiting Milwaukee to two hits over seven innings in California's 3-2 victory Tuesday night. The only hits off the rookie, born with a deformed right hand, were singles by Rob Deer in the first and Charlie O'Brien in the second. "The only handicap I saw was us trying to hit the son-of-a-gun," Brewers manager Tom Trebelhorn said. "He shut us out. It speaks for itself. We had two hits and both of them were broken bats." Abbott, 5-3, has a 1.69 earned-run average in his last three outings. But he still must put up with constant questions about his handicap. "Maybe if I get through the league one time and prove that pitching is the reason I'm here, maybe the questions will stop,"

he said. Elsewhere in the American League, it was Seattle 3, New York 2; Baltimore 6, Texas 2; Oakland 4, Boston 2; Cleveland 6, Toronto 2; Detroit 10, Chicago 3, and Minnesota 7, Kansas City 1. Abbott was replaced by Greg Minton after walking the first two batters in the eighth. Minton gave up a two-run single to Robin Yount, but retired the next three Brewers to end the inning and Bob McLure pitched the ninth for his first save. Claudell Washington's sixth homer gave the Angels a 1-0 lead in the first off Bryan Clutterbuck, 2-2. Jack Howell's RBI double in the fourth and Johnny Ray's run-scoring single in the seventh made it 3-0. Orioles 6, Rangers 2. Phil Bradley drove in two runs with a seventh-inning single and the Orioles scored twice on Texas throwing errors for their sixth win in seven games. Reliever Mark Williamson, 2-2, pitched 3 1-3 shutout innings to pick up the victory. Gregg Olson struck out the final two batters for his fourth save. Texas starter Jamie Moyer, 3-5, gave up three runs on three hits before straining his left shoulder in the fourth inning and being replaced by Gary Mielke. Mariners 3, Yankees 2. Ken Griffey Jr. hit two home runs and Randy Johnson won his debut with Seattle. Griffey hit a solo homer in the second and a two-run shot in the sixth off Jimmy Jones, who also made his American League debut. Johnson, 1-0, was acquired along with pitchers Brian Holman and Greg Harris from Montreal last Thursday for left-hander Mark Langston. The 6-foot-10 Johnson, 0-4 with Montreal in six starts, allowed two runs and six hits in six innings. He struck out six and walked three.

Athletics 4, Red Sox 2. Dave Stewart became the American League's first nine-game winner and Dave Parker homered and drove in three runs for Oakland. Lance Blankenship had three hits and an RBI for Oakland, while Parker drove in runs with a homer, a sacrifice fly and a double. Boston starter Mike Smithson, 2-4, gave up 10 hits and three runs in 4 2-3 innings. Boston's Dwight Evans hit his seventh home run in the sixth.

College World Series profiles

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson says pitching will be important, although it may not be all its cracked up to be when the 43rd annual College World Series gets under way in Omaha Friday evening. "I don't think you can lay it all on pitching," said Gustafson, who will tie Southern Cal coaching legend Rod Dedeaux for most CWS coaching appearances with 15. "I think all of the teams coming in can hit, too." Gustafson admitted there are some of the nation's best college pitchers headed to Omaha, however. "I know Arkansas pretty well," he said. "They have some good pitchers. I understand LSU has great pitching. I know Miami pretty well and they have outstanding pitching. It seems the teams that have been noted for great hitting through the years haven't made it this year. Wichita State may be one of those, but they also have great pitchers." Gustafson, like any good baseball coach, knows pitchers still have to make good pitches, defenders have to play good defense and hitters need to come through with key hits to win ball games in Omaha.

The two-bracket, double-elimination tournament gets under way with a pair of first-round games Friday and two more Saturday. The CWS ends with a single championship game on June 10. Here is a thumbnail look at the CWS entrants: Arkansas (50-14). Coach Norm DeBriyn picked up his 700th career win in the regional final. Pitching leaders include Mark Swope, 7-0, and reliever Phil Stidham with 12 saves, including two in regionals. Mike Oquist also has nine wins for a team with an ERA of 3.34. Top hitters are Scott Posse .394, Bubba Carpenter .397 and Greg D'Alexander .393. The Razorbacks hit .308 as a team. Florida St. (52-16). Coach Mike Martin's Seminoles return to Omaha for the third time in four years with what Martin calls a team without a superstar. Clyde Keller, 12-0, has drawn all the tough pitching assignments, while Gar Finn-vold, 9-3, and reliever Ricky Kimball assist. Regional MVP Rob Bargas sparks the offense with an average around .320. Martin says bats have come to life in recent weeks, partly due to Rob Robin's arrival as leadoff man and Brad Parker's 13 homers.

Long Beach St. (50-13). Coach Dave Snow may have staged one of the most impressive turnarounds in any college program after a 14-45 season a year ago to bring Long Beach State to its first CWS. The first-year coach also becomes the fourth coach to have brought two teams to the CWS - he coached Loyola Marymount in 1986. Pitchers Andrew Croghan, 12-0, and Kevin Abbott, 15-2, helped the 49ers past top-seeded Arizona in a pair of regional wins in Tuscon, Ariz.

LSU (52-15). Pitching is the Bengal strength with All-American Ben McDonald and Curtis Leskanic both 14-2. Leskanic picked up three regional wins without an earned run in 12 innings. LSU's team earned run average is 3.50, while the team hits at a .302 clip. Wes Grisham is the hitting leader with a .371 average, 19 homers and 85 RBIs. Matt Gruver has a .339 average, five homers and 49 RBIs, while Craig Cala added 14 homers and 70 RBIs.

Miami (48-16). Coach Ron Fraser brings his ninth Hurricane team to Omaha in 11 years with freshman pitching ace Alex Fernandez, 15-1, and veteran Joe Grahe, 14-4, the class of the staff. F.P. Santangelo is the offensive leader with a .345

Astros 8, Cardinals 4

Ken Caminiti homered and drove in five runs as Houston continued to win away from the Astrodome. Caminiti hit a two-run homer, a two-run double and an RBI single. He set career highs for hits and RBI. Danny Darwin, 4-1, got the victory. Scott Terry, 4-4, took the loss. Caminiti's fourth home run broke a 2-all tie in the seventh. Tom Brunansky hit a two-run homer for St. Louis.

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. (AT&T) announces its intent to introduce within Texas on July 14, 1989, AT&T Multi-Quest Service, a new interactive 900-type telephone service. Since February 19, 1989, this innovative service has been available to Texas businesses only on an interstate basis. With AT&T Multi-Quest Service, Texas business customers (otherwise known as sponsors) may offer value-added information services to callers originating long distance calls from Texas or elsewhere in the United States over AT&T's public switched network. A Texas caller, accessing the service by dialing the sponsor's 1-900 plus seven-digit number, can obtain recorded and/or live information by communicating with attendants, voice messaging equipment and computer data bases. Flat-rate, time sensitive usage charges will be billed to the caller for the sponsor's service.

AT&T is offering AT&T Multi-Quest Service within Texas in response to requests by its business customers for a service that offers intrastate as well as nationwide interactive voice & data transport capability. Potential sponsors include entrepreneurial companies entering into new ventures that are information intensive, local mass announcement sponsors who want statewide as well as national coverage coupled with interactive capability and other information service providers.

The Texas intrastate AT&T Multi-Quest Service will be tariffed as an "add-on" offering to a sponsor's existing interstate AT&T Multi-Quest Service. The intrastate AT&T Multi-Quest Service costs will be recovered from sponsor usage charges set forth in AT&T's intrastate tariffs. The usage charges billed to the caller are determined by the sponsor as appropriate to the service being offered and are not tariffed charges.

For more information about AT&T Multi-Quest Service please call your AT&T Account Executive or AT&T's business consultants toll free on 1 (800) 552-0212. They can answer your questions regarding this service and how it can be of benefit to you.

Pitino resigns as Knicks coach

NEW YORK (AP) - Rick Pitino is going from pro basketball to probation.

Pitino resigned as coach of the NBA's New York Knicks on Tuesday and is expected to be named coach at the University of Kentucky later this week. The job at Kentucky, one of the most prestigious in college basketball, carries with it a three-year NCAA probation for recruiting violations under Coach Eddie Sutton, who resigned in March.

"I think right now, in the best interest of everyone, my job is to turn around the University of Kentucky," Pitino said Tuesday night after reaching agreement with the Knicks and being released from his contract. "That's my job right now. It's going to take quite a few years to do so."

the school. With only one .300 hitter, catcher Jesse Lewis at .351, Roberts says North Carolina counts on pitchers throwing strikes, good defense and clutch hitting. Top pitchers are John Thoden, 12-0, and Michael Hoog, 3-4 but hot of late. Center fielder Tommy Nevin also adds some offense with a .290 average.

Texas (51-17)

Required high school reading lists all stress Shakespeare

NEW YORK (AP) — High schools are requiring students to read almost exactly what they did 25 years ago: heavy on Shakespeare but light on works by female and minority authors, according to a survey.

Following "Romeo and Juliet," 81 percent of public high schools required "Macbeth," "Huckleberry Finn," the classic Mark Twain novel, was the third most assigned work, with 70 percent requiring it.

The rest of the top 10 were, in order, "Julius Caesar," by Shakespeare, "To Kill A Mockingbird," "The Scarlet Letter," by Nathaniel Hawthorne, "Of Mice and Men," by John Steinbeck, Shakespeare's "Hamlet," "The Great Gatsby," by F. Scott Fitzgerald, and "Lord of the Flies," by William Golding.

The most frequently assigned books by minority authors are Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin in the Sun," required in 19 percent of schools, and Richard Wright's "Black Boy," required by 7 percent, the survey found.

Applebee added, however, that commonly used high school literature anthologies frequently include works by minority and female authors.

The survey appeared to answer conservative critics who have lately accused schools of watering down curricula and retreating from the classics. Such charges gained currency in the recent best-sellers "The Closing of the American Mind" by Allan Bloom, and "Cultural Literacy," by E.D. Hirsch.

The study also showed, surprisingly, that public, private and Catholic high schools are assigning nearly identical books, said Applebee.

At the 80 Catholic schools surveyed, the top-10 list included the same books as public schools, but in different order. "Huckleberry Finn" ranked first, followed by "The Scarlet Letter" and "Macbeth."

"Macbeth" topped the list at 86 private schools surveyed. Unlike public and Catholic schools, that top-10 list included Homer's epic poem, "The Odyssey," but omitted "Of Mice and Men."

The report replicated a similar survey 25 years ago by the Educational Testing Service. Shakespeare dominated the list, as he does now.

The Center for the Learning and Teaching of Literature is a research center funded by the U.S. Department of Education and the National Endowment for the Arts.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Copies of the report are available from the center for $7, payable to the Research Foundation of SUNY, 1400 Washington Avenue, Albany, N.Y. 12222.

Anti-nuke report includes signs of better performances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report by an anti-nuclear group that spotlights the worst-run commercial reactors may inadvertently give the industry some solace.

Public Citizen's Critical Mass Energy Project, which advocates a phased shutdown of the nuclear industry, issued a "Nuclear Lemons" report Tuesday identifying what it called the 20 least safe and economic nuclear power reactors.

The report, based on government and industry documents mostly for 1987 and 1988 activity, said six of the 10 worst reactors were in Florida, Tennessee and Pennsylvania. It said these pose a public health risk and should be shut down permanently.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which licenses and monitors safety at all commercial reactors, declined comment on the report.

The Public Citizen report, while identifying the industry's weak performers, also contained information that points to some overall improvement in safety.

For example, it reported that Detroit Edison Co.'s Fermi-2 reactor, situated near Newport, Mich., ranked fifth-worst in the industry, based in part on the number of its emergency shutdowns over the past two years. The plant was forced to temporarily shut down seven times in 1987 and five times last year.

That is a substantial improvement, however, over its record as described in Public Citizen's 1988 "Nuclear Lemons" report that also rated Fermi-2 fifth-worst overall. That report said Fermi-2 had 30 emergency shutdowns in 1985 and eight the following year.

Also, this year's report said the 1987-88 industry average for emergency shutdowns was 3.5, compared with a 7.4 percent average for the previous two years.

Public Citizen said the No. 3 reactor at the Turkey Point nuclear station near Florida City, Fla., was the worst in the industry, based mainly on a low rating for plant management and a relatively high incidence of "forced outages," or unplanned shutdowns.

The No. 4 reactor at the same station was rated 10th worst.

Carl Pounds, a spokesman for Florida Power & Light Co., which owns the Turkey Point reactors, said the report masked a "vast improvement" in the plants' performance in 1988. He said, for example, that the number of Turkey Point regulatory violations fell to 29 last year from 37 the year before.

Pounds said Public Citizen used "a grab bag list of NRC reports" to reach its conclusions.

Public Citizen rated each nuclear reactor on 10 different indicators of economy and safety.

Included on Public Citizen's list is the problem-plagued Rancho Seco plant, near Sacramento, Calif., the object of more NRC inspections over the last three years than any of the nation's other 109 operating reactors.

Sacramento residents vote next week on whether to permanently shut Rancho Seco.

The report said six reactors ranked among the worst in six of the 10 categories. In addition to Turkey Point No. 3 and Rancho Seco, these were Oyster Creek No. 1, of Forked River, N.J.; the No. 2 and 3 units at Peach Bottom, in Pennsylvania, and the Fermi-2 plant near Newport, Mich.

Public Citizen said four reactors scored among the worst in five of its categories. These were Sequoyah units 1 and 2, near Daisy, Tenn.; the Pilgrim No. 1 reactor near Plymouth, Mass., and the Turkey Point No. 4 reactor.

Government sponsors are rallying in China, increase their tactics

BEIJING (AP) — In a new twist, thousands of farmers and workers today marched in support of Premier Li Peng's hardline policies at a government-sponsored rally opposing the pro-democratic student movement.

The first pro-government demonstration in China's six weeks of political upheaval occurred as Communist authorities pressed ahead with tactics aimed at intimidating and discrediting students occupying central Tiananmen Square.

Farmers and workers wearing straw hats marched to a stadium in Huangcun, a village southwest of the capital under banners saying "We support Li Peng" and "We oppose the small group causing turmoil."

Li is the main target of protesters, who demand he resign for imposing martial law in Beijing on May 20 and ordering a crackdown on tens of thousands of students and workers who have taken to the streets to demand a freer China.

The rallying farmers expressed support for the Communist Party's "four principles," which include allegiance to the dictatorship of the proletariat, socialism, party rule and to Marxist-Leninist-Maoist thought.

Sponsors said up to 10,000 people were taking part.

The Beijing Foreign Affairs Office informed foreign journalists of the march and several others in suburban sections of the capital. Under martial law regulations that have been widely ignored, foreign reporters are forbidden from covering student demonstrations.

On Tiananmen Square, China's symbolic center of political power, about 10,000 die-hard student protesters today entered the 18th day of a sit-in, resisting government demands that they disperse.

They planned a march to the Public Security Ministry tonight to protest the reported arrest Monday of three labor leaders sympathetic to the student cause. The three were involved in trying to establish an independent labor union, which is illegal in China's 40-year-old Communist system.

"We are now basically waiting for the government to take the initiative," student leader Mo Bin said. "Things are pretty calm with us. It's the government who's nervous."

More than a dozen military motorcycle convoys followed by jeeps sped down the main arteries of the capital, the latest warning that government tolerance for the student protests was nearing an end.

A military source said 200,000 troops surrounding Beijing under martial law orders have been told to "prepare for winter," meaning hardliners are digging in for a long battle with Communist Party moderates who sympathize with some of the goals of the students.

Trustees mull staffing change

mented school board member Mike Jordan.

Board president Billy Bob McMullan noted also, "If we didn't like it, we can always go back next year to the way it was. But, if we hire someone now, that's the way it will be from now on."

Moseley said he had already discussed the possibility of combining the two existing positions with Brown, who indicated a willingness to assume the expanded role.

In a second matter related to personnel, the board heard two campus principals voice the opinion that splitting physical education instruction between two elementary campuses—West and Stanfield—would not be a viable option.

The board asked for opinions regarding having one staffer provide this role for both campuses. The problems pointed to included class scheduling and requiring teachers in the lower grades to provide "essential element" instruction—a state mandate—for physical education as well as regular classroom work.

Addressing the board were principals Bob Travis of Stanfield and Gerri Parker at West.

Pepper remembered as fighter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of Rep. Claude Pepper will lie in state in the Capitol Rotunda as a tribute to a half-century political career in which he championed the elderly and the poor, his former colleagues promise.

Pepper's political odyssey, one of the longest in American history, ended Tuesday with his death at age 88. A Florida Democrat who served as a state representative before his election to the U.S. Senate in 1936, Pepper later served in the House after 12 years out of office and became its oldest member.

Athletic requests offered to board

requested also for the areas of track and tennis.

In track, he noted that there is currently no staffer available who can supervise the fall season of cross country track.

To remedy this, he indicated a teacher at the high school has expressed a willingness to perform this task in the afternoons after school.

Baugh asked for a $500 annual supplement for the staffer in exchange for the service.

In addition, he noted that high school tennis coach Charlie Chrane currently supervises both a fall and a spring season, yet is not paid a supplement equal to other "head coaches" with the district.

Baugh sought some increase for the supplement given Chrane plus the addition of an assistant tennis coach, again involving an added supplement to an existing staffer.

Regarding the need for an assistant, Baugh said Chrane currently has to supervise teams practicing at two different locations, the junior high and the high school courts. Particularly affected are the junior high students, he noted.

Capital equipment requests were submitted also related to the tennis programs. These included the addition of some type restroom facility at the junior high courts plus the resurfacing of the junior high courts.

Board members asked Baugh to prepare cost estimates and an official proposal and said they would consider his requests at a future board meeting.

"He was always a voice for the voiceless and a helping hand for the helpless," said House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas. Wright said the House will adopt a resolution today so that Pepper can lie in state Thursday.

The Senate was also expected to approve the resolution today, Wright said. Lying in state in the Rotunda is the highest final honor an American can receive. It has been accorded presidents, and more recently to the unknown soldier from the Vietnam war.

Pepper had been hospitalized since April 6 suffering from an undisclosed stomach ailment, which a spokesman in his office said Tuesday was cancer. He died at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where he returned a month ago after an interim stay at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Pepper's colleagues said he used his opportunities to the hilt, and to the service of his least powerful constituents.

"In the bosom of that small, gentle man beat the heart of a giant—a heart that felt the pain of a world where children go to sleep hungry and where the old die alone," Rep. Joe Moakley, D-Mass., said.

"He was not just a witness to the century, he helped shape the century," said Rep. David E. Bonior, D-Mich., the chief deputy whip of the House.

Pepper, born Sept. 8, 1900, on a farm near Dudleyville, Ala., rose from poverty to attend the University of Alabama and Harvard Law School. In Congress, he was an architect of some of the nation's most enduring "safety net" programs, including Social Security, the minimum wage, and medical assistance for the elderly and for handicapped children.

He was the first national legislator to push publicly for federal funding for the war against cancer, a disease that took his wife, Mildred in 1979, some 43 years after they were married. They had no children.
