

Bush halts U.S.-China military sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush today condemned the Chinese crackdown on pro-democracy demonstrators and said he was ordering an immediate suspension of government military sales and commercial export of weapons.

"We deplore the decision to use force," Bush told reporters in a hastily convened news conference. He called on Chinese authorities to "avoid violence and to return to their previous policy of restraint."

Bush said, "I do not want to see a total break in this relationship" with China. Nonetheless, in announcing sanctions that included a freeze in contacts between U.S. and Chinese military officials, he said:

"We cannot condone the violent attacks and cannot ignore the consequences for our relationship with China." After reading a statement from the White House briefing room he took questions and said he would not withdraw the U.S. ambassador from Beijing, as some have proposed.

He said he also would order U.S. officials to give a "sympathetic review" to any request by Chinese students for an extension of their stay in the United States and would offer assistance through the international Red Cross.

Bush said the demonstrators who were swept from China's Tiananmen Square by overwhelming military forces over the weekend were "advocating basic human rights, including freedom of expression, freedom of the press and freedom of association."

He added, "Throughout the world we stand with those who seek greater freedom and democracy."

Even so, he said he was attempting to forge a careful response to the situation in China, and said he had rejected advice from some who recommended the withdrawal of the U.S. ambassador. He said the ambassador had been active in monitoring events in Beijing and provided an important resource for the United States.

800 perish in Soviet Union train disaster

MOSCOW (AP) — As many as 800 people may have died when gas leaking from a pipeline filled a mountain valley, exploded and engulfed two passing trains in flames, a newspaper editor in the area said today.

In the first precise official report, Tass said its preliminary count showed 400 of the more than 1,200 people aboard the passenger trains, including many children bound for summer camp, were dead or missing after Sunday's explosion in the Ural Mountains along the Trans-Siberian Railroad.

"Military units are searching the adjacent forest and mountains in the hope that some of the passengers managed to escape the tornado of fire," the official news agency said.

The blast was equivalent to the explosion of 10,000 tons of TNT, Gen. Mikhail Moiseyev, the Soviet military chief of staff, told Tass.

President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, who visited the remote site Sunday, told the new Soviet parliament "a few hundred people" had been killed. He said incompetence and a lack of discipline might have contributed to the accident.

Gennady K. Dmitrin, editor of Evening Chelyabinsk, said his newspaper has a list of between 500 and 800 people dead. He said that list was preliminary.

Dmitrin said children under age 8 did not have train tickets and therefore were not included in the count Tass gave for the number of people aboard.

Asked about the death toll given by Dmitrin, Dr. Vladimir Ruchki, a local Health Ministry spokesman said: "It's about right." He said more than 600 people were hospitalized. Tass said more than 500 people were hospitalized and that 85 percent suffered severe burns.

Moiseyev told Tass the liquefied gas explosion "had the same yield as a 10,000-ton bomb and was so powerful that it felled all trees within 2.5 miles."

Building purchase is denied

Diamond M buy said too costly

Scurry County commissioners Monday morning held a closed session to discuss buying the Diamond M Museum of Fine Arts building at 909 25th St. and then convened in an open session to vote unanimously against the purchase.

Pct. 2 Commissioner Tommy Pate made the motion not to go forward with the transaction, noting that the county has insufficient funds to pursue it and would have to stage a bond election to finance it.

The proposed purchase price from the Diamond M board, which met last week with city and county officials to discuss the transaction, was not disclosed.

County Attorney Lealand "Pete" Greene met with the commissioners in the executive session, closed since it involved the possible purchase of real estate.

The county had considered purchasing the building to have office space to lease to the Texas Department of Human Services, See COURT, page 8

May construction adds near $493,000 to totals for 1989

Building projects initiated during May in Snyder were highlighted by the start of construction on phase II at Golden Terrace Village and the first two new residential construction permits issued by the city for 1989.

The month was by far the best one for the year-to-date with permits issued totaling almost $493,000.

This brought the year's total to in excess of $1.5 million, ahead of the same period in 1988 when the building estimate was figured at $1.1 million.

The largest project permitted during May was the housing area designed for senior citizens. It carries an estimated price tag of $364,480.

The work involves the construction of eight duplexes which will comprise 16 additional one-bedroom apartments at the site.

This will bring to 40 the number of housing units offered at Golden Terrace Village.

Contractor for the project is G.C. Bateman of Neches Homes of Lindale.

May's permits included also two single family residences of approximately 1,500 sq. ft. which will be built here by Bob Hutson. The houses will be built at 4002 and 4007 Midland Ave.

The combination of the two house projects added some $98,000 to the new construction total for 1989.

It marked the first new homes built in Snyder this year and only the third and fourth new homes built in the city for 1988-89.

The month included also one mobile home permit issued to Patricia Shields, 2311 26th St., and a permit for a combination mobile home-office, issued to Don McMillan, 204 Austin.

Other projects applied for included two residential additions, permits issued to Bill Baldwin, 3718 Dalton, and Wayne Jones, 294 21st St.; two carports, issued to Rafael Rios Jr. of 301 30th St. and A.A. Ervin of 3605 Jackshoro; construction of a

City sets animal law final read

A three item agenda is before Snyder city council members Monday to include the second and final reading of a new exotic animal ordinance here.

The regularly scheduled June meeting is to begin at 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

The council passed the animal ordinance on first reading May 8. It prohibits specific types of "wild" animals and outlines ways to document so-called "dangerous" animals for possible prosecution against their owners.

Other agenda items will include the annual appointment of a mayor pro-tem. Council member Ralph Williamson currently serves in this capacity.

The council is slated also to review the proposed map of areas of the city which will receive sealcoating this summer. City Engineer Don Osborn will offer the map as an information item.

The council was to have a noon work session to discuss the agenda Monday at The Shack.

Storms Saturday add general rain to Scurry County

General rainfall throughout Scurry County Saturday night added from .50 of-an-inch to 1.5 inches of moisture to the year's total.

The official rain tally for Snyder was .97 of-an-inch. When added to rain received here Thursday, this brought the total to some 1.7 inches reported here since storm systems moved into the area.

The outlook for additional rain Monday was listed at less than 20 percent, improving to a 20 percent chance for thunderstorms by Tuesday.

Winds accompanying the storm Saturday caused damage to trees throughout the county with many individuals reporting broken limbs.

A sampling of rain totals from the Saturday night storm included 1.5 inches at Loyd Mountain, 1.5 inches at Ira, 1 inch at Hermleigh and .50 of-an-inch at Fluvanna.

Lake J.B. Thomas is expected to receive some runoff from the weekend storm, although water added to the lake is projected to be minimal.

Officials with the Colorado River Municipal Water District now estimate the lake may receive some 1,000 acre feet of water from runoff.

This would raise the lake's elevation two-tenths of an inch. The lake level is expected to remain in the area of 2,229 ft. above sea level, which is 26 ft. below where the lake is considered full.

Rain amounts received at the lake Saturday included .70 of-an-inch at the dam and .80 of-an-inch further west.

In other parts of the state, a flash flood watch was in effect for the southeastern portion of North Texas Monday, while scattered showers and thunderstorms lingered over Northeast Texas.

Some thunderstorms were producing heavy rain, especially over the southeast sections of Northeast Texas.

Boy, parents arrive for cancer treatments

HOUSTON (AP) — A cancer-stricken 4-year-old boy begins medical evaluations today at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center following a legal battle that sent his mother to jail.

Accompanied by his smiling mother, the family's attorney and a New York caseworker, Darian Pagan arrived at Hobby Airport in Houston about 8:45 p.m. Sunday.

"I'm happy," said Migdalia Pagan, the boy's mother. "I can't wait to commence treatment."

Darian, who is suffering from leukemia, was admitted to the hospital at the University of Texas late Sunday, hospital spokeswoman Jane Brust said. The boy was to be evaluated today with treatment possibly beginning within 48 hours, hospital officials said.

Mrs. Pagan and her husband David Pagan wanted their son to obtain less painful medical treatment and told doctors at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York they were reluctant to continue their son's chemotherapy treatments there.

Although the hospital obtained a court order preventing the parents from taking the boy away after two years of treatments, he was removed illegally by his father May 28.

Brooklyn Family Court Judge Leon Deutsch ordered Mrs. Pagan jailed, though she insisted she did not know the whereabouts of her husband and son. Mrs. Pagan was freed after the father and boy appeared in court Thursday.

Dressed in shorts, a sports jersey and displaying a shy smile upon arriving in Houston, Darian appeared unaffected by the crush of reporters and curious airport bystanders who greeted him.

A woman in the crowd handed him a brightly wrapped package topped with a small stuffed dog.

David Pagan, 36, stayed in New York with the couple's 14-year-old son until the school year is finished. Then he plans to join his family here.

"We hope that by doing this we're showing the parents all around that they have choices to make and they have to make those choices and find out," David Pagan said at LaGuardia Airport in New York.

The Pagans are considering taking up permanent residence in Houston, said Mrs. Pagan.

While he was missing, the father notified relatives to tell them he had taken the child and was headed for Texas.

Woman Has Second Thoughts About a Second Time Around

By Abigail Van Buren

© Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a 25-year-old, self-supporting woman, divorced for three years. I was 18 when I married my childhood sweetheart, but as you have often said, "You can't change anybody but yourself," so I ended the marriage when I realized I couldn't change him. Fortunately we had no children.

I am now seeing a very special man. He's 29 and has never been married. Of course there's a problem or I wouldn't be writing to you. He wants to marry me, but before introducing me to his parents, he asked me not to mention the fact that I had been married.

Abby, I don't think divorce is anything to be ashamed of, but, of course, I respected his wishes. I feel very uncomfortable. I care a great deal for this man, but he has gone down in my estimation because of this request.

Am I wrong? And what should I do about it? Also, what is your opinion of him?

UNCOMFORTABLE

DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE: You are not wrong. I think you should tell him how you feel. Divorce is not a "crime." His asking you not to mention it to his parents should tell you that he is still an adolescent where his parents are concerned. And he's not entirely honest.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a Mohawk haircut on an 8-year-old boy? The parents stated that it was the boy's decision to which they agreed.

It is my feeling that these parents have done their son a grave injustice, as he is a very sensitive child and has been experiencing some problems at school because of this conspicuous haircut. I understand that the school counselor was critical of it and so informed the parents, who strongly resented his disappearance.

Having observed the negative reaction of both adults and youngsters, I can't imagine how parents would knowingly subject their child to this type of scorn.

You seem to have your head on straight, Abby. What is your opinion?

CURIOUS IN STOUGHTON, MASS.

DEAR CURIOUS: I assume that these parents love their son as much as I love mine, and you love yours — if you have one. They must have their reasons for allowing their son to have the kind of haircut he wanted, and since they did not ask me, I'm quite content to sit on the sidelines and observe without comment.

DEAR ABBY: My company is considering transferring me to another town. Therefore, I will have to sell my house and relocate. We have maintained our home in good condition, but our next-door neighbors have not. The front of their house has a couple of problems that give it an unsightly appearance. I'm afraid that the poor appearance of their house will hurt my chances for selling our house.

The appearance of their house could be improved significantly at the cost of $150 and a day's labor. I am willing to pay for the improvements and do the work. Is there any way to tactfully make the offer to do the work? To date we have gotten along fine, but I am concerned about insulting them. Any suggestions?

CONCERNED SOUTHERNER

DEAR SOUTHERNER: One of the few things I learned in Geometry I: "The shortest distance between two points is a straight line," so take the direct approach. Go straight to your neighbors and tell them exactly what you have told me. And don't worry about "insulting" anybody. They'll be getting an offer they can't refuse.

DEAR ABBY: We are studying about the ancient Greeks.

Socrates was a famous Greek teacher who went around giving people advice. They poisoned him. Please be careful.

Hall used cocaine, story in Post says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fawn Hall, Oliver North's former secretary, has told drug investigators she was a "weekend" cocaine user while she worked at the National Security Council and the Pentagon and had access to sensitive government documents, according to a published report.

The Washington Post reported in its Sunday editions that Hall told a Drug Enforcement Administration agent of her cocaine use during the agency's investigation of drug use and sales at exclusive nightclubs in the city's Georgetown area.

Hall, who testified at congressional hearings about her role in disposing of documents in the Iran-Contra affair, told the agent she used cocaine on weekends in 1985-87 and provided investigators with names of some alleged drug dealers, according to unnamed sources cited by the Post.

The former White House aide revealed her drug use to DEA agents during an interview in the Washington office of her attorney, Plato Cacheris, on Aug. 7, 1987, two months after her Iran-Contra testimony, the sources told the newspaper.

6 million AIDS cases expected by '90s' end

MONTREAL (AP) — The worldwide number of AIDS cases will double to more than 1 million by 1991 and climb to almost 6 million by the end of the 1990s, according to the director of the World Health Organization's AIDS program.

"We expect that the decade of the 1990s will be worse — and perhaps much worse — than the 1980s," Dr. Jonathan M. Mann said Sunday as the Fifth International Conference on AIDS opened.

He estimated that 500,000 people have contracted AIDS, and 5 million to 10 million are infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) that causes it.

"The pandemic has not peaked," he said.

The conference has drawn 11,000 researchers, making it the largest meeting on AIDS ever.

Its opening Sunday was delayed more than an hour when about 200 demonstrators commandeered the podium and read what they called "The Montreal Manifesto."

Written by AIDS patient groups in Toronto and New York, it demanded that governments devote more resources to fighting AIDS, and called for anti-discrimination legislation protecting the rights of people infected with HIV.

Many demonstrators carried signs saying "the world is sick," and "silence equals death."

Earlier, in a meeting devoted to the AIDS drug AZT, researchers said the drug can double or triple the chances that people with AIDS will survive at least two years.

"Two to three times more people are alive than would be expected" after about 30 months of treatment, said Dr. Margaret Fischl of the University of Miami.

In presentations sponsored by Burroughs-Wellcome, AZT's maker, she and others said it appears to slow the disease significantly.

In the latest research, Fischl studied 281 people with varying stages of disease. One-third of those with AIDS and pre-AIDS were still alive after 30 months, and "one sees continued survival benefits" of the drug among these long-term users, Fischl said.

Other studies showed similar results. But despite the apparent benefits, the doctors emphasized that patients continue to die while taking AZT.

Fischl said those on the drug often go downhill very rapidly in the last two months or so of life. The drug seems to shorten this final stage of the disease, she said.

The drug also has toxic side effects that can limit its use. Patients frequently suffer nausea, headaches and anemia that requires blood transfusions.

Dr. Marcus A. Conant of the University of California, San Francisco, said he has begun giving the drug to outwardly healthy, infected people whose blood tests show they are likely to get the disease.

Report: American to build maintenance base in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — American Airlines will build a new $250 million maintenance base at Fort Worth Alliance Airport, say Texas legislators who are confident the airline was pleased with new tax legislation. Speaking on condition of anonymity, legislators told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the airline is intending to construct the base at Alliance Airport instead of in Oklahoma City. But the airline denies the report, with officials saying no final decision has been made about where to put the new facility.

"We are appreciative of how interested and cooperative local and state officials have been, but, the bottom line is, we haven't made a decision," said Al Becker, an American spokesman. Bob Baker, American's senior vice president for operations, under whose supervision the maintenance base would fall, also said no promises were made by the airline in exchange for the legislation. In exchange for passage of critical tax legislation, American Chairman Robert Crandall assured Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and legislative leaders that American would build the base in Fort Worth, several lawmakers told the Star-Telegram in Sunday's editions.

Aggressive bidding drove South to the six-heart contract. He was justified in believing that North might hold more than just two-card support for hearts. Perhaps North should have jumped to two no-trump on the second round of bidding rather than to two spades, but the slam contract was reasonable. It did require a 3-2 split in the trump suit; after that, there were two ways of scoring 12 tricks.

Declarer had six tricks in side-aces and kings. If he could make six trump tricks, that would be enough for the contract. So he won the ace of spades and ruffed a spade. Then came A-K of hearts, king of spades (on which he threw a club) and another spade ruff. Next came A-K of clubs followed by a club ruff. When West failed to overruff declarer, it was apparent that East held the high trump. Declarer cashed ace and king of diamonds and led dummy's last club, which he ruffed with his remaining trump. It is true that on the fourth round of spades East had a discard to make, but it did not matter if he threw a diamond or a club, since he would not be able to prevent declarer from making all his trump tricks. If at any time he ruffed in with his trump queen, declarer would simply shed a minor-suit loser.

Another way of making the slam is for declarer to give up a trump trick to East. If East then returns a spade, a squeeze will develop since West must protect the spades and East must guard the clubs, so that eventually neither defender will be able to hold diamonds.

2 careers intersect in irony

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the Rotunda of the Capitol, two careers intertwined in irony.

Speaker Jim Wright, one day after his capitulation to a yearlong investigation into his personal ethics, stood before the open coffin of Rep. Claude Pepper and delivered a eulogy for the 88-year-old lawmaker.

In 1944, Wright, then a young Army second lieutenant, visited Congress and for the first time heard Pepper — then a United States senator — enunciate the themes that were the bedrock of his career — a hand for those most in need of a lift: the young, the poor, the old.

"I was entranced. I was inspired by the eloquence of his thoughts — and I became Claude Pepper's apostle," said Wright, his quiet cadence ringing off the soaring sandstone walls.

Forty-five years after that speech, Claude Pepper's career ended in the quiet triumph of accomplishments savored and acknowledged, his body carried to its place of honor by six members of the nation's armed services, their feet moving in muffled tread.

Today, his last full day as speaker, Wright's career also is over, ending not in triumph, but in despair and disgrace.

At the end he was buoyed by the thought that 78 percent of his Fort Worth constituents had registered their continuing support in an opinion poll.

They had told him, he said, "Stay in there. ... Don't let those crazy people talk you out of a job. ... Don't give an inch. ... You're right. ... You haven't done anything wrong. ... Just fight it out."

But his supporters hadn't understood, the speaker told reporters, the havoc, the damage that the onslaught against him was wreaking on the House of Representatives.

"They didn't understand the deadly distraction that this entire process had wrought within the congressional process," he said.

Astros dodge Los Angeles

Summer leagues

By The Associated Press
The Houston Astros brought their long weekend to a successful finish by borrowing a trick from Los Angeles manager Tom Lasorda.

When the Dodgers ran out of pitchers in Game 4 of last year's National League playoffs, Lasorda turned to ace starter Orel Hershiser, who retired the final batter of the 12-inning game to preserve the victory.

Houston faced a similar situation Sunday. The Astros and Dodgers had played 22 innings the night before, were tied 6-6 after 12 innings and were out of pitchers.

In came Mike Scott, the 13th pitcher used by Houston in two games and the winner on Friday night. Not only did he work a scoreless inning, he also drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly for a 7-6 victory, the Astros' 10th in a row.

"When you are losing, you find ways to lose games but we're finding ways to win," said Scott, 9-3. "When you come to the park, there's always a chance you're going to play. You've got to be ready."

The Dodgers pounded starter Bob Forsch for five runs in the first inning, and made it 6-0 in the third. Louie Meadows' grand slam keyed Houston's comeback.

"When they got ahead 6-0, we were on the bench saying 'there's no way these guys are going to beat us,'" Scott said. "We've got that feeling that we are going to figure out a way to win even when we're down 6-0."

Elsewhere, it was Chicago 11, St. Louis 3; New York 4, Pittsburgh 3; Montreal 7, Philadelphia 4; Atlanta 6, San Francisco 3, and Cincinnati 5, San Diego 3.

With the bases loaded and one in the 13th, Scott hit the second pitch from Alejandro Pena, 2-2, to center field, scoring Rafael Ramirez. The Astros' winning streak ties a club record.

Cubs 11, Cardinals 3
Chicago homered six times, twice each by Shawn Dunston and Ryne Sandberg, and one apiece by Mitch Webster and Vance Law, in a game marred by a brief bench-clearing brawl.

Chicago's Mark Grace charged the mound when brushed back by St. Louis reliever Frank DiPino in the top of the fifth inning and was ejected.

DiPino had relieved Cardinals starter Scott Terry, 4-5, following

Sanderson's second homer
Scott Sanderson, 6-3, allowed five hits, struck out six and walked two for his first complete game of the year in 10 starts.

Mets 4, Pirates 3
Pinch-hitter Mark Carreon led off the bottom of the seventh inning with a tie-breaking home run.

Carreon connected against reliever Bob Kipper, 0-2.

Don Aase, 1-1, pitched two scoreless innings for his first National League victory. Rick Aguilera worked 1 1/3 innings and Randy Myers got the last two outs for his eighth save.

Expos 7, Phillies 4

Otis Nixon had three RBIs and Mike Fitzgerald added two run-scoring doubles.

Dennis Martinez, 5-1, allowed 10 hits in 7 1/3 innings and Andy McGaffigan got the save.

Felix keys win over Boston; Mariners sink Rangers, 2-1

By The Associated Press
Junior Felix and his Toronto teammates would like to return to Fenway Park as soon as possible.

Felix hit a two-run homer with one out in the 12th inning Sunday as the Blue Jays rallied from a 10-0 deficit for a 13-11 victory over Boston, extending their winning streak over the Red Sox at Fenway Park to 12 games.

In the three weekend games at Boston, Felix was 8-for-16 with 11 RBIs. He also had an inside-the-park grand slam.

"Yes, I'd like to come back here," Felix said. "I don't know the name of the pitcher. I just ask what he throws and (Manager) Cito (Gaston) tells me."

The pitcher was Dennis Lamp, who wasn't surprised at all that the Blue Jays rallied.

"When you play for 12 years, you see a few of these," Lamp said. "When I was pitching in Wrigley Field, we had a lot of these."

Tom Lawless led off the 12th with a single off Lamp, 0-1, the fifth Boston pitcher. Nelson Liriano sacrificed, and Felix followed with his fourth homer.

"Unbelievable — that was some kind of game," Gaston said. "You never want to give up. In this park you can score a lot of runs quick. I'm telling you, they never quit."

Elsewhere in the American League it was Baltimore 7, Detroit 4; Chicago 2, Minnesota

1; New York 12, Milwaukee 9; California 5, Kansas City 1; Seattle 2; Texas 1; and Oakland 4, Cleveland 0.

The Red Sox scored five runs in the first and led 10-0 after six innings.

Mariners 2, Rangers 1
Ken Griffey Jr. hit a tie-breaking homer in the seventh inning and Randy Johnson combined with three relievers on a four-hitter.

Johnson, 2-0, allowed three hits and an unearned run in seven innings.

Mike Schooler allowed one hit in 1 1/3 innings for his 13th save.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Athletics 13, Cardinals 7
Lee Idom slammed three home runs and Lionel Aviles and Reagan Key added one each as the Athletics remained undefeated on the season with this win Saturday.

The A's, first-half Little League champs, are now 4-0 in the second half.

Key added a triple and Aviles nailed a double to help the A's, who also got a single each from Kyle Lewis and Marc Bullard.

Carl Strelecki slapped a double and Bryant Roberson knocked two singles for the Cardinals, 1-3. Marc Sparlin, Brett Kennedy and Eric Roberson hit one single apiece.

Giants 12, White Sox 2
Jeremy House plugged a home run and two singles to help lead the Giants to a come-from-behind win over the White Sox.

The Sox scored two first-inning runs and held a lead until the fourth. Trevor Kliendel rapped a double and a single for the Giants, 2-2, while Brett Kime powered two singles. Bryan Word and winning pitcher T.C. Taylor hit one single each.

Curt Rinehart popped a double and a single for the White Sox, also 2-2. Marlo Riggins cracked a double and Ronnie Myers added a single.

FARM LEAGUE

Athletics 12, Cardinals 11
Winning pitcher Jerry Cervantez slugged a double and a single and Eric Tovar and Jessie Guzman added a double each to lift the Athletics past the Cardinals over the weekend.

Gabriel Rios slapped two singles for the A's, 9-1-1 for the season, while Jamie Juarez, Dewayne Robertson, Joe Martinez, Johathan Sorrells, Michael Rios and Chris Guzman added one single apiece.

The loss spoiled a bases-loaded home run by the Cardinals' Russell Schlegel, who also rapped a double and a single. Chris Post nailed two doubles for the Cardinals, 4-7. Jared McArthur, Blandon Chisum, Tyson Shifflett and Cory Chesser added one single apiece.

White Sox 14, Giants 5
Like Russell Schlegel's grand slam in the Athletics-Cardinals ballgame on Saturday, Michael Navejar's bases-loaded home run also went for naught as the White Sox defeated the Giants over the weekend. Navejar also hit a double.

Matt Davidson rapped a triple for the Giants while Jeremy Jack, Greg Herrera and Oscar Aguilar offered one single apiece.

Chris Mackey could enjoy his power-hitting effort over the weekend. Mackey also plugged a grand-slam homer and also celebrated a victory as he helped the Sox past the Giants.

John Border aided the cause with two triples. Jimmy Murphy and Robert McWhorter rapped one triple each while Juan Robledo hit two singles and Daniel Holley added a double. Bryan Billings was the winning pitcher.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

Glado Devastators 14, Snyder National Bank Bears 12

Also hitting for the Devastators were Samantha Trevino, a double and a single; Kayla Drain, a double; and Kelly Farmer, Amy Choate and Jessica Rocha, one single apiece.

Trevino was the WP.
Lauri Allen and Kelly Kallemeyn each knocked one single for the Bears.

Snyder Cablevision Firebirds 19, Olney Savings Powder Puffs 18

Rena Bly put together a strong outing on Saturday. The Division I youngster rapped a home run, a double and a single - and was the winning pitcher - as the Firebirds smoked the Powder Puffs.

Audra Garcia hit three singles for the 'Birds while Amanda Hermsillo knocked two and LaKrisha Brown added a triple.

The Puffs got a triple from Veronica Hermsillo and one single apiece from Christina Dunham, Calley Parks and Cecilia Rodriguez.

Sonic Drive In Pink Panthers 14, McDonald's Rangers III

Tiffany Bly rapped a triple and a single and Yvette Ramos and Jeanie Wemken popped one single each as the Panthers pounced on the Rangers III over the weekend.

Angela Good was the winning pitcher.
Lisa Rodriguez rapped two singles and Annie Ragland and Angie Hammit added one each for the Rangers III.

San Jacinto lays claim to Juco championship

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) - When San Jacinto College won the National Junior College World Series, pitcher David Evans had to be carried off the field on a stretcher.

His performance was worthy of being triumphantly atop his teammates' shoulders. Evans won three games and appeared in a fourth before a line drive bruised his leg in the seventh inning of Saturday night's 22-4 championship victory over Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

The Gators have won a record four national titles in five years.

"This is what we worked for all season," Evans said. "We've been playing hard and it finally came true. We made the dream come true."

In 20 innings, Evans allowed just four earned runs, 11 hits, and struck out 26. Evans, 18-1, was named the tournament's most valuable player and outstanding pitcher.

San Jacinto, 61-10, led Northeastern Oklahoma 6-1 after three innings, 11-1 after six and 18-1 after seven, but tournament rules require that the championship game go the full nine innings.

Other games in the double-elimination tournament can end early if a blowout develops.

"It got out of hand," Northeastern Oklahoma Coach Bill Mayberry said. "You can't take anything away from San Jac. They came in ranked No. 1 and they proved it."

San Jacinto suffered a temporary setback earlier in the double-elimination tournament in losing 5-4 to Cochise of Arizona on Thursday night.

Northeastern Oklahoma, 65-20, edged Cochise 3-2 Friday night to earn the berth in the title game against San Jacinto.

However, the Norsemen were weakened for the title game by the flu, which affected five starters.

Shortstop George Day, who hit .529 in the tournament, had to leave the game in the fifth inning.

The Norsemen didn't help their own cause, either, when center-fielder Keith Guest was ejected for swearing at an umpire. The ensuing argument brought the ejections of Mayberry and Jamie Williams.

telling caddy, a relaxed Byrum shot a 3-under-par 68 Sunday to win by five strokes with a tournament-record 268.

Byrum, who entered the tournament winless in four years on the PGA Tour, began the final round with a two-shot lead. He had been close to that elusive first victory before. But in 1986 he blew a two-shot advantage in the Western Open, and last year he lost a four-stroke lead on the final day of the Pensacola Open.

Both losses were crushing, but helpful.

"It's amazing what you can do with a little experience. It really pays off to get beat a few times," he said. "Luckily, I remembered every lick that I took and it kept me going until the end."

If the experience he gained from those two losses didn't fully calm him, his caddy - known as "Irish Dave" - did.

"He's a joker, and maybe that's what I needed," Byrum said.

Byrum pulled away Sunday with three straight birdies on Nos. 4-6. That gave him a five-shot lead, and the margin never got lower than three the rest of the way.

Gingrich case will keep focus on U.S. House ethics troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ethics committee soon will begin reviewing a complaint against Republican Whip Newt Gingrich, an omen that the chamber's ethics problems are not a bad dream that will vanish with the departure of Speaker Jim Wright and Majority Whip Tony Coelho.

Ethics committee members could begin as early as Thursday, at their next meeting, to review a Democratic member's complaint that Gingrich, R-Ga., violated rules on outside income and receipt of gifts.

The allegations against Gingrich, revolving around a partnership formed to promote a book he co-authored, are not the only reasons an ethics cloud will hover over the House while Democrats try to divert attention from their leaders' conduct.

Still pending are Justice Department investigations of House members' personnel practices, Justice Department internal probes of leaks about those investigations, the conviction of a Republican lawmaker for having sex with a minor and more public hearings by a House task force considering changes in ethics rules.

But as Wright prepares to leave Congress rather than fight 69 charges of rules violations, and as Coelho, D-Calif., plans his exit to avoid repeated questions on a junk bond deal, many seething Democrats will pay close attention to the case against Gingrich. The Georgia Republican filed the original complaint against Wright, although the allegations he cited were later dropped.

Asked if he expected to be a victim of retribution, Gingrich said last week, "I may be," but added he would trust the judgment of the eight-member ethics panel that is equally divided politically.

Gingrich said he wouldn't be surprised if the committee — officially the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct — took up his case this week.

Eight Iranian mourners killed, hundreds injured in stampede

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Eight people died and at least 500 were injured today when millions of hysterical mourners flooded into a Tehran square where Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's shrouded body lay in a glass-covered bier.

The Islamic Republic News Agency said scores of other people were knocked unconscious in the stampede as temperatures soared to 100 degrees.

State television showed victims being carried out of the square in front of the Mosalla mosque as crowds scrambled to get closer to the air-conditioned cubical where Khomeini's body lay.

The revolutionary patriarch's characteristic black turban was on his chest.

The TV camera zoomed in on a bearded, young man spraying mourners with a water hose to cool them.

Khomeini, 86, died Saturday of a heart attack, 11 days after intestinal surgery, leaving the country gripped by its worst political crisis since the revolution that catapulted the Moslem cleric to power in 1979.

President Ali Khamenei, 49, was named Sunday to succeed Khomeini, apparently on temporary basis to avoid a leadership vacuum.

Khomeini's body was brought out of a Tehran mortuary and transported by ambulance to the air-conditioned Mosalla Mosque, where hundreds of thousands of his followers had been waiting all night. He was to be buried later today.

Wailing men, women and children screamed and pounded on the ambulance as it moved slowly through the crowd.

Beating on their breasts and heads in a traditional Shiite Moslem sign of mourning, they screamed "Sorrow, sorrow is this day ... Khomeini the idol smasher is with God today!"

The crowds waved life-size portraits of the stern-faced, white-bearded Khomeini decorated with black ribbons and red flowers.

Readings from the Koran, Islam's holy book, blared from the minaret of the mosque as state-run television and radio broadcast live coverage from the site. Announcers wept as they eulogized Khomeini.

"We have been orphaned! Our father is dead!" several women screamed. The government declared a 40-day mourning period.

The official Islamic Republic News Agency said the crowds blocked the streets leading to the mosque and President Khamenei had to be flown to it helicopter.

Under the constitution, Khomeini's leadership position was considered above the constitution and had no specified duties. He was considered the earthly representative of the prophet Mohammed and the recipient of divine guidance.

Iran's leadership met Sunday to study Khomeini's written political testament. It is believed to contain proposals for how the Islamic republic should be governed after his death.

The constitution requires that the leader be an ayatollah, but Khamenei is hojatolislam, a middle-ranking cleric, leading to the opinion that he was appointed as a caretaker leader.

Khamenei told the state-run television on Sunday: "We hope temporarily to be able to fill the leadership, because the new terms of the constitution are currently under review."

Considered opposed to fundamentalist radicalism, Khamenei has strong support among Iran's merchant class and moderates who favor restoring ties with the West. But he lacks a strong political power base.

It was not clear what, if any, effect Khomeini's death would have on 15 Western hostages held in Lebanon, most by pro-Iranian Shiite Moslem extremists. They include nine Americans.

It also was not clear to what extent Khomeini's testament would help defuse the crisis that has gripped Iran since he launched a resurgence of radical fundamentalism in February.

Khomeini then urged Moslems to kill British author Salman Rushdie for writing the novel "The Satanic Verses," which many Moslems consider blasphemous.

Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, the former president exiled in France, said Khamenei's appointment indicated "a total failure" by the government.

He said Khamenei will be part of a troika ruling Iran, along with Parliament Speaker Hashemi Rafsanjani and Ahmad Khomeini, the patriarch's only son. All three are middle-ranking Islamic clergymen.

which is considering moving out of the Senior Citizens Center, and the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, which is opening an office here.

Goodwin said the Department of Human Services now will apparently stay at the Senior Center for a while longer and that plans are for the Parole Board, as an alternative, to move into the four offices in the front of the county coliseum annex, either temporarily or permanently.

Other business in the 10 a.m. meeting included approval to advertise for bids to sell a surplus Allis-Chalmers loader in Pct. 3 and a denial of Pct. 3 Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr.'s proposal for a total cost bid to trade two roadgraders and two pickup trucks for a 1989 roadgrader.

Gray's motion for the total cost bid died for lack of a second.

The court approved granting a right-of-way easement to Snyder Cablevision to put a microwave tower on the Hermleigh water tower and tabled until 11 a.m.

Thursday a discussion of designating a third party administrator for health insurance for county and hospital employees.

Bicycle stolen

Valerio Torres of 903 14th St. at 12:30 p.m. Sunday reported the theft of a 20-inch chrome-plated boy's bicycle.

Fight incident causes arrests

Two 14-year-old boys were arrested for fighting at 8:48 p.m. Saturday in Towle Park.

A citizen had reported that "several juveniles" were fighting at 8:37 p.m., and the two youngsters, a Spanish male and a white male, were taken into custody on the disorderly conduct charges.

A 20-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 2:55 a.m. Sunday in the 100 Block of 35th St.

Four juvenile boys were arrested for being minors in possession of alcohol at 8:50 p.m. Sunday on the Colorado City Hwy. south of Snyder.

A citizen had warned the sheriff's office that a "suspicious vehicle," a Chevrolet pickup truck with chrome rollbars, was in that area.

After the 16-year-old driver and his three companions were stopped by a state highway patrolman, a sheriff's deputy took them to the sheriff's office, where they were later released into the custody of their parents.

Hundreds arrested in protest

SEABROOK, N.H. (AP) — After a peaceful demonstration that resulted in 67 arrests, anti-nuclear demonstrators promised more protests in their fight to block commercial operation of the Seabrook nuclear power plant.

Sunday's protest was the second largest, in terms of numbers of arrests, in 13 years of demonstrations that have made Seabrook a symbol of the nation's anti-nuclear movement. The largest was in May 1977, when 1,414 people were arrested.

"I think this truly marks the beginning of a new era of resistance to the Seabrook project. We will be back at this plant as they continue to attempt to license it," said Roy Morrison, speaking from inside a school bus on the plant site shortly after he was arrested on a criminal trespass charge.

Seabrook spokesman Ron Sher said the demonstrators and the 4,000 people who rallied Saturday at Hampton Beach State Park were a "vocal minority." Still, it was the largest anti-Seabrook gathering in 11 years.

"The majority of people in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and the rest of New England recognize that nuclear power is a viable energy alternative," Sher said. "We're safe, we're needed and we're ready to produce electricity."

Nearly three years after the $6 billion reactor was completed, it won its federal low-power testing license on May 26.

The weekend's demonstrations were organized by the Clamshell Alliance, which has been staging protests against Seabrook since plant construction began in 1976.

About 1,500 protesters converged on the plant site Sunday. Hundreds of them climbed over or crawled under boundary fences around the plant and sat down when they met police lines a short distance inside.

Survivors remember voyage

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jewish survivors of a wartime odyssey at sea marked the 50th anniversary of their failed escape from Nazi Germany by watching Adolf Hitler's yacht sink at the spot where America turned them away.

"We were close enough to see the palm trees and cars of Miami," Walter Karliner recalled on Sunday. "It's ironic in a way that Miami is such a haven now for political refugees, but we were turned away."

Karliner, 62, a gift shop owner from Old Saybrook, Conn., was among 27 survivors of the 1939 Voyage of the Damned who took part in the ceremony, along with other Holocaust survivors and religious leaders. Karliner's parents perished in the Nazi death camps.

The group watched from a small cruise ship as Hitler's yacht, the Ostwind, was scuttled three miles off Miami Beach to make an artificial reef.

"The idea was to sink the yacht for a marine habitat — to try to bring life from a symbol of death," said Miami Beach City Commissioner Abe Resnick, himself a Holocaust survivor.

At the same spot on June 4, 1939, the SS St. Louis was turned away from the Florida coast and headed back to Europe with more than 930 Jewish refugees. Many of the passengers were marooned in occupied Europe and eventually died in Nazi concentration camps.

"If only they let us in 50 years ago, it would have changed so many lives. It would have changed so many things," said voyage survivor Liane Reif-Lehrer.

The memorial service aboard the cruise ship, renamed SS St. Louis for the day, included prayers by Jewish, Roman Catholic and Lutheran clergy. Before the ship departed, a plane flew overhead carrying a sign reading, "Never again."

Resnick helped organize the memorial. The Ostwind, which had decayed for decades as various owners considered plans to restore it, was donated for the commemoration.

The journey that became known as the Voyage of the Damned, and was depicted in a 1975 movie of the same name, began on May 13, 1939, when the St. Louis departed Hamburg, Germany, for Havana.

Bryant's offers expert carpet care

Bryant's Carpet Cleaning has served Snyder over 11 years. They have used or seen every type of carpet cleaning. Even though they could use a cheaper method, they prefer steam extraction. This method extracts the dirt and stains, whereas other methods leave the dirt in the carpet. For a clean and safe carpet, steam extraction is by far the best method.

Some methods leave the carpet wet but they leave it only damp so it will dry in only a few hours. This is because they have the latest truck mount unit, with more power than smaller units. The unit stays in the van and only the cleaning head goes into the house, eliminating spills in the home.

Most carpets need to be cleaned within a year, depending on the traffic. Not only can they be dirty, but after walking on the carpet awhile the carpet protector is worn off. We can clean the carpet and replace the carpet protector (similar to Scotch

In some cases we can clean the carpet as cheap as you can rent a machine. Many times when people try to do it themselves the carpet won't come clean and they keep adding detergent to the machine. This results in the carpet becoming too wet, plus they leave a residue in the carpet and the carpet seems to get dirty quicker. Bryant's doesn't leave a residue in the carpet because they prespray with cleaners and when they go over the carpet with the cleaning head, they use only soft hot water.

Carpets are a big investment and the wise person will maintain them. So, trust your carpet to the professionals. They have cleaned thousands of carpets and can furnish recommendations.
