

Cable TV hookup linking Hermleigh is now considered

Snyder Cablevision is investigating the possibility of providing cable TV to the rural community of Hermleigh, company officials say.

Jim Gemmill, a general partner and vice president for the group which owns Landmark Cable, said his firm has completed an engineering study regarding the addition and is now attempting to gain permitting and licensing.

Recently, the Scurry County commissioners court granted permission for a microwave dish to be mounted on the Hermleigh water tower.

If implemented, the plan would be to transmit the television signal via microwave to Hermleigh. At that point service would be extended using in-place utility poles.

"I'd like to note that Commissioner Ted Billingsley and County Judge Bobby Goodwin have been especially helpful," Gemmill said.

He said his company began investigating the possibility of Hermleigh as an addition to the system after being petitioned by members of the community. Current estimates are that 150 customers could be gained.

If added, he noted the programming would be an exact duplication of that provided to cable

Search for Chinese students ordered

BEIJING (AP) — State-run television and radio today broadcast a wanted list of 21 top student leaders of the pro-democracy movement who have fled underground, and it urged the nation's citizens to turn them in to police.

By issuing the list, authorities admitted that the activists had escaped the security dragnet set after Communist authorities turned soldiers on unarmed civilian protesters in Beijing to crush the movement for a freer China.

Also today, the government put border guards on alert for prominent dissident Fang Lizhi and his wife, both of whom have taken refuge in the U.S. Embassy to avoid arrest.

The 21 students were pictured on nationwide television and their names were read on Beijing Radio.

At the top of the list were Wang Dan of Beijing University, and Wu'er Kaixi and Chai Ling of Beijing Normal University, the maior figures in the student-led movement.

"Wu'er Kaixi is one of the big heads of the organization. He spoke all over to fan the flames of the movement," the television broadcast said.

It showed video taken May 29 from a hidden camera of Wu'er Kaixi eating at a "certain high-class hotel" with his girlfriend. It also showed him speaking through a megaphone at pro-democracy rallies.

"From this we can clearly see the ugly face of the student union leaders," the announcer said. The broadcasts included details such as height, skin complexion and accent of the wanted students.

In the week since the military assault that crushed the pro-democracy movement, the government says it has arrested more than 1,000 people in a suppressing all dissent.

Several detainees among the "counterrevolutionaries" paraded before television viewers appear to have been beaten.

On Monday, authorities gave police and soldiers permission to shoot people who incite unrest and banned the independent student and worker groups that sprung up during seven weeks of heady political ferment.

In a propaganda blitz, the government has paraded "counterrevolutionaries" before television viewers and displayed on the small screen telephone numbers people can call to in-

Notices are mailed to inform owners of increased value

The Scurry County Appraisal District has mailed some 5,500 notices informing property owners of an increase in value of at least $1,000.

Those primarily involve situations where improvements were made or where the owner voluntarily rendered their property with the district.

The purpose of the 20-day notice is to set the time frame during which these new values may be questioned or, if this proves unsatisfactory, protested to the appraisal district board of review.

The review board is scheduled to be in session July 15.

Assistant Appraiser Larry

Crooks said Tuesday that the "great majority" of property owners' questions can likely be handled by the appraisal district staff.

Those with questions regarding their value are encouraged to call or come by the offices at 2612 College Ave.

Crooks characterized the 5,502 notices mailed last week as more than in recent years, noting in part this was due to a reappraisal of mobile homes.

Increases in taxable value were not the rule in Scurry County as a loss of 9.5 percent overall from the tax base is now predicted.

Rainfall chances rise to 60 percent locally

The Snyder area has a 60 percent chance for thunderstorms Tuesday evening, according to the National Weather Service.

A trace of rain was received here Monday night and the year-to-date total for Snyder has now reached 6.63 inches, still slightly below what is considered a normal average for this time of year.

Another rain in the 1 inch category could "catch" the city up, although more rainfall during June would still be needed to maintain the average.

By the end of May, Snyder traditionally receives just over 7 inches of rain and, by the end of June, this normally exceeds 9 1/2 inches.

The chances for rain remain in the local outlook through Wednesday, but are currently listed at only 20 percent.

Thunderstorms predicted for Tuesday could possibly be severe, the National Weather Service says.

Across West Texas, thunderstorms Tuesday are expected to be more numerous in the Permian Basin and Concho Valley. Heavy rainfall is said possible, also for the eastern region of the South Plains.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A good idea today is better than a good idea tomorrow."

Yesterday was the 65th birthday of the 41st president of the United States. A handbook from the inauguration provides us with some interesting trivia on the "Texan" in the oval office.

Bush is the fourth oldest president. Only Reagan, William Henry Harrison and James Buchanan were older.

Bush, who stands 6-2, is the fourth tallest president after Lincoln, Jefferson and Lyndon B. Johnson. Bush and six presidents before him were all born between 1908 and 1924, a little data that we fail to see the importance of.

Bush is 31st among college graduates who made it to the White House, 12th among Phi Beta Kappa guys, and second from Yale University.

He is the fourth left-handed president. The others were Ford, Truman and Garfield.

Married for 44 years, George and Barbara Bush bring the ninth longest marriage to the White House. John and Abigail Adams had been married 54 years and three days when he took office. Only William Henry Harrison was married longer when he became president.

Bush likes popcorn, pork rinds and jogging, and he dislikes turnips, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Bush says he also dislikes leaks from the White House to the press. He has urged his staff to be "on the record as much as possible. It's better for your profession and certainly better for mine."

Being president means living in a glass house. Still, happy birthday, Mr. President.

Ask Us

Q — At its last meeting, the Snyder school board voted by secret ballot? Is this legal?

A — Not according to the opinion's division of the Texas Attorney General's office. The AG's office cited Section 3B of the Texas Open Meeting Law which states that minutes must be kept to indicate "each vote, order, decision or other action taken by the governmental body." Superintendent Dalton Moseley noted he did not question the vote since the decision did not involve either school district policy or funds.

In Brief

6 shot at store

BRYAN, Texas (AP) — Six people were injured during a shooting incident early today at a gameroom, police say.

Details on the incident were sketchy, but police Sgt. Choya Walling said the shootings occurred at VDO Palace, across from an apartment complex on the city's west side.

Police are searching for three suspects, who they believe fired a shotgun and possibly another weapon.

Some of the victims suffered serious injuries and are hospitalized, Walling said.

The incident happened shortly after midnight. The suspects drove away, heading west on Highway 21, he said.

Lawyer fined

LAREDO, Texas (AP) — An attorney was fined $15,000 for killing an endangered whooping crane during a South Texas hunting trip, a prosecutor confirmed.

Mario Max Yzaguirre's fine by a federal magistrate in Laredo last week was part of an agreement in which the Houston attorney pleaded guilty to violating the Endangered Species Act, Assistant U.S. Attorney Jeff Babcock said Monday.

Yzaguirre could have been jailed for a year in jail and fined $100,000.

Pipeline okay

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. won federal approval of a plan to expand and replace 281 miles of natural gas pipeline linking gulf coast supplies to the Northeast, the company says.

The $456 million project will allow transportation of 780 million cubic feet per day after completion in two years, the company said Monday.

City gets okay to dig diversion canal

BROOMFIELD, Colo. (AP) — Officials welcomed a federal agency's decision allowing the city to resume digging a ditch around its reservoir to divert a stream allegedly contaminated at the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant.

"I'm elated," City Manager George DiCiero said after learning of the decision by the Environmental Protection Agency.

DiCiero said work on the ditch would resume today.

Meanwhile, Gov. Roy Romer said he won assurance in Washington, D.C., from James D. Watkins, head of the Department of Energy, that the federal government would give the state what it needs to conduct its own environmental testing at Rocky Flats.

"The purpose of the meeting was to deliver a message that they either have to clean it up or close it," Romer said of the plant, which processes plutonium for nuclear weapons. "The response I got from Adm. Watkins and his officials was absolute cooperation."

Romer said he also wants state workers to monitor the handling of the hazardous waste at Rocky Flats, rather than relying on the DOE.

"I intend to put in place the kind of monitoring where we don't need to rely on anybody else. We're going to have independent verification," Romer said.

Last Tuesday, 75 FBI agents and EPA investigators raided the plant as part of a U.S. Justice Department investigation into allegations of fraudulent disposal and burning of hazardous materials at the site.

An affidavit made public last week charged that hazardous chemicals were dumped illegally into creeks at Rocky Flats last November. The affidavit said the DOE, which owns the plant, and Rockwell International Corp., which operates it, tried to conceal the illegal disposal of wastes.

Following the allegations, Broomfield last week began digging a diversion ditch and building an earthen dam to divert Walnut Creek.

Walnut Creek flows out of Rocky Flats into Great Western Reservoir, which supplies half of Broomfield's drinking water. The creek provides about 5 percent of the water needs of this Denver suburb of 27,600 residents.

The EPA had halted the work over the weekend, saying the city needed federal permits. But EPA officials on Monday gave a go-ahead after meeting with city and federal officials and visiting the site.

"The flow in the river is an absolute trickle," said Max Dodson, director of water management for the EPA's Denver office. "The size of the stream and of the impacted area is not that significant."

Dodson said a letter of confirmation that the work could proceed would be sent to the city by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Chemical firm offers reward

AUSTIN (AP) — The maker of the herbicide used to poison the 600-year-old Treaty Oak is offering $10,000 for information leading to the arrest of those responsible, a company official said.

A Du Pont Corp. spokeswoman in Houston said the company regretted its product was used to harm the live oak, an Austin landmark since the city was founded in the 1800s.

"It was misused and we're outraged," said Pat Getter. "We're hoping the reward will help to flush out the vandals. A lot of people know about the tree, not just (those) in Austin. This is a state treasure."

Dear Abby

Father's Abusive Tickling Is Not a Laughing Matter

By Abigail Van Buren

Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that tickling by a father leads to future sexual abuse? This goes on constantly between a father and his 11-year-old daughter. The father is known to have sexually abused another family member when she was young.

Please answer soon because I am afraid that all this tickling can lead to something bad. The daughter starts out laughing, but she always ends up crying. This may not be any of my business, but I am worried.

CONCERNED AUNT

DEAR CONCERNED: Tickling can be a prelude to sexual abuse, but it is not necessarily always the case. If, however, the child ends up crying, she is expressing pain — not pleasure — and her father should not be permitted to play this abusive game. (Excessive tickling in ancient times was used as a form of torture, which is no laughing matter.)

I would be more concerned about the father's previous record of sexually abusing a child. You did not state whether the father had been through counseling after having sexually molested another family member. Both the father and his 11-year-old daughter should be spoken to by a professional from a child-protection agency.

It is the business of every adult to protect a child from any kind of abuse. And to look the other way, knowing this is going on, makes the adult a party to the crime.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, when my roommate and I moved out of the apartment we had occupied for two years, our landlord refused to return our security deposit. He claimed that we had done some damage, and the apartment was so filthy, he had to repaint it.

We couldn't prove otherwise, although we did absolutely no damage, and the apartment was cleaner when we moved out than it was when we moved in.

Abby, please advise your readers to take pictures of rental property before they move in and before they move out. Even take pictures of the inside of the oven and refrigerator!

I'm not saying that all landlords are crooks, but it's better to be safe than sorry.

CHEATED IN KEENE, N.H.

DEAR CHEATED: Good advice. According to a Chinese proverb, "One picture is worth more than 10,000 words." It can also be worth a security deposit when it's your word against your landlord's.

DEAR ABBY: We enjoy entertaining in our large country home, but one couple who visits us always brings their dog. "Toughie" is housebroken, but as you probably know, most male dogs are housebroken only for their own homes. Toughie "marks" (urinates) on a corner of every bed, every chair and sofa in the house. In doing so, he dribbles on the carpet as well. After they leave, I have to shampoo all the carpets and furniture. This is not an easy chore for me, as I am not young anymore.

We have never fed our pets at the table, but these people feed Toughie while they are eating with us in our dining room. Naturally, the dog "begs" and whines throughout the meal, which makes for a very upsetting dinner.

Abby, we are very fond of these people. Do I have the right to ask them to leave their dog home when they visit us?

DOG-TIRED IN PONTIAC, MICH.

DEAR DOG-TIRED: You not only have the "right" to ask them to leave their dog at home, you also have my permission, if that will help you.

DEAR ABBY: Your series of letters from people arguing over the statistics on which age group has the lowest income reminded me of this analogy I heard some time ago: Statistics are a lot like bikinis — what they reveal is fascinating, but what they conceal is vital!

Koonsman Ranch said recognized

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The American Hereford Association has given Koonsman Ranch, owned by John Billy and Peggy Koonsman of Snyder, special recognition honoring the firm's accomplishments during the 1988-89 show season. The Koonsman breeding program was among 130 Hereford breeders that exhibited 254 Herefords in 10 shows comprising the Southwest Region, one of seven show regions designated by the AHA. The top ten "Premier Breeders," and "Show Bulls of the Year" are recognized.

The Koonsman operation has earned recognition as owner of L1 Point 808 1ET, a bull named among the top ten "Show Bulls of the Year." The "Show Bull" is also owned by James L. Powell, Fort McKavett, Tx.

Points determining the Southwest Region "Premier Breeder" and "Show Bull and Heifer of the Year" was based on attendance at regional shows held in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, and show placings. Points with added importance were given at regional classic and national shows. The American Royal Livestock Show, North American Livestock Exposition, Western Nugget Hereford Show and national Western Stock Show, served as national competitions. Only Herefords having shown in at least one regional show were eligible for national show points.

Roll out nectarine pie for summer

By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens
Food Editor

Forget the story that nectarines are a cross between a peach and plum. Nectarines are a unique fruit that originally grew wild in Asia. The California supply is appearing at produce counters now and will peak in late June through August.

The lovely red blush on nectarine skins is related to variety, not ripeness. The fruit is picked mature but firm for packing and shipping. When you get nectarines home, place them in a loosely closed paper bag for several days to complete ripening. Don't refrigerate — this interrupts the ripening process. Even ripe nectarines are most flavorful at room temperature. One pound (3 medium nectarines) makes about 2 cups sliced.

FRESH NECTARINE PIE

- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup packed brown sugar

- 1/2 cup sliced almonds, toasted
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Few drops almond extract
- 7 cups sliced fresh nectarines (about 9 fruits)

Pastry for 9-inch double-crust pie

- 1 slightly beaten egg white
- 1 tablespoon sugar

In a large bowl stir together flour, 1-3rd cup sugar, brown sugar, almonds, nutmeg, lemon juice and almond extract. Gently toss with nectarines. Mound fruit into pastry-lined 9-inch pie plate; adjust top crust. Seal and flute edge. Brush pastry with egg white; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut slits to allow escape of steam. Cover edge of pie with foil. Bake in 375-degree F oven for 30 minutes; remove foil and bake 20 to 25 minutes more or until crust is golden. Cool on wire rack. Makes 8 servings.

Nutrition information per serving: 416 cal., 5 g pro., 62 g carb., 18 g fat, 0 mg chol., 221 mg sodium. U.S. RDA: 11 percent vit. A, 12 percent vit. C, 10 percent riboflavin, 11 percent niacin.

Handling a 4-3 fit

This was nice bidding by North-South. After South showed a strong hand by reversing into two hearts, North showed his five-card club suit, at the same time implying that his spade stopper was suspect. South raised clubs (it was possible that North held a decent club suit with even more length). North then suggested an alternative game contract in hearts. Although South knew he would be playing a 4-3 fit, he suppressed his misgivings and passed.

The deal did not exactly play itself, but South knew how to handle the problem. When the defenders led and continued spades, declarer did not bother ruffing. Instead, since he surely had two club losers anyway, he simply shed low clubs on the spades played at tricks two and three. Finally, with three tricks in, the defense switched to clubs. Declarer won the ace, cashed the king of hearts and dummy's queen of diamonds, played a diamond back to his ace and ruffed a diamond with dummy's heart ace. He next drew all the remaining trumps and took the balance with the good diamond suit.

Making three no-trump would require some doing. First, the defenders would have to block their spade suit. After that, declarer would have to guess to finesse against the jack of diamonds in the East hand — not the best percentage play. Far better to play and make four hearts. And rubber bridge players would even get 100 honors.

Western gets first points at CNFR

BOZEMAN, Mont. -- Ray Brown put Western Texas College in the points by winning second place in the first-go of the calf roping at the College National Finals Rodeo.

Brown, a sophomore from North Platte, Neb., is also leading the average in the event, but will have to sweat out waiting to see if he makes it back to Saturday's short-go, according to his coach.

"He's winning the average right now but this is one of those wait-and-see all week things. I'm not sure a 23.4 will make it back to the finals," said WTC Rodeo Coach Bob Doty.

Brown timed a 13.9 in the second-go. The time is currently in second place in the go, but is not expected to remain in the top four for points. In fact, said Doty, the total 23.4 could may not remain in the top 10 and thus qualify for Saturday's short-go.

Nonetheless, Brown's second place finish in the first-go netted 90 points for Western Texas College.

Brown's success highlighted Monday's action for WTC, though there was no discouraging news. Every WTC student who competed Monday either made a solid ride or a respectable time and thus is still in good shape heading into the second go-round.

Jim Blain Kenney and Bryan Davis placed ninth in the first-go of the team roping with a 7.9-second run. They clocked an 8.8 this morning in the second round, and their 16.7 on two-head is expected to hold up for the finals on Saturday.

Clyde Himes timed a 6.0 in the steer wrestling and an 18.2 in the calf roping while Brown had a 7.2 in the steer wrestling. Himes' 6.0 was 18th in the round and his calf roping time was off the charts.

Russell Merchant, a WTC student who advanced to the CNFR by placing second in the steer wrestling in the Southwest Region, clocked a 5.6 in his first effort. He finished 12th in the go.

"If we can get another good run from them, they've got a chance to make it back (to the finals)," said Doty of his bulldoggers.

In the only other news, Denny McLanahan is still holding down second place in the first-go of the bareback event with a 72 score. The go-round will conclude later in the week. The sophomore from Canadian is scheduled out in the bull riding for tonight's show - the first regular show of the week-long rodeo.

Also scheduled to compete this evening are bronc riders Kenney and Kenny Taton. Michael Gaffney was to compete in the bull riding this morning.

Johnson admits he knew he was taking steroids

TORONTO (AP) - Ben Johnson, admitting years of steroid use in his quest to be the world's fastest man, said he knew they were banned substances but never would have taken them if he'd known about their potential side effects.

"Nobody bothered to tell me what the side effects were because they were happy to be making all this money," he told the Canadian inquiry into drugs and athletics nearly nine months after a positive test for the anabolic steroid stanozolol stripped him of the 100-meter Olympic gold medal.

Johnson, whose only previous statement since the disgrace at Seoul had been that he never knowingly used illegal drugs, still must tell the inquiry what happened in the weeks leading up to the positive test last Sept. 24.

But Monday, under oath, Johnson started what could be several days of testimony by saying for the first time that he used steroids.

"Every shot that I got with an injection from (his coach and teammates), I had in my own mind that it was banned," he said.

Johnson said that his first use of steroids was in pill form in 1981 and 1982, the steroids Dianabol and stanozolol taken under direction of his only coach, Charlie Francis.

But by the time of the 1983 Pan American Games in Caracas, Venezuela, Johnson said he was aware that he was getting steroids, that they were banned and that he risked disqualification if they were found in his system.

He differed only from his coach and personal physician, Dr. Jamie Astaphan, on the issue of whether they informed him about potential for steroids damaging his health.

"If they told me what the side effects were at that time, I wouldn't have been part of the group at all," Johnson said.

The athlete forfeited his 9.79-second performance at Seoul because of the positive test, but still holds the world record of 9.83, set at Rome in 1987.

Pistons can wrap up crown with win over Lakers tonight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) - The NBA Finals can be reduced to this simple equation: three Pistons guards minus two Laker guards equals one Detroit championship.

Los Angeles coach Pat Riley is groping for a solution to Detroit's hot-shooting backcourt. He'd better find one soon.

"I hope they don't come up with a formula," said Isiah Thomas, one of those Detroit guards.

The Lakers haven't yet. Thomas, Joe Dumars and Vinnie Johnson have been unstoppable against the Lakers, who are expected to play again tonight without starting guards Magic Johnson and Byron Scott, who have hamstring injuries.

The Pistons lead the best-of-7 series 3-0 and can clinch their first NBA title and become the fifth team to sweep a final series. A Laker victory would force a fifth game here Thursday night but still leave them with their backs to the wall.

Dumars is the leading candidate for playoff most valuable player after scoring 33 and 31 points in the last two games. None of the trio has scored fewer than 17 points in any of the first three games. They've taken 60.3 percent of their team's shots and scored an average of 70.3 points of the team's average of 110.3 per game. Johnson has made 64.1

First, they must survive tonight's game. "We can't back up any more or we'll turn into the wall," said Michael Cooper, the main guard now that Johnson and Scott are hurt.

Just a few hours may be left in the Lakers' two-year reign as NBA champions. The team that has won five titles in the 1980s may lose its last four playoff games of the decade after going unbeaten in its first three series this year.

Thomas said he didn't see a minor earthquake that shook the Los Angeles area Monday as a metaphor for a crumbling of the Laker dynasty.

percent of his shots and Dumars 62.3.

"They're making us look bad," said Lakers' seldom-used forward Tony Campbell, who has been forced to play guard because of the injuries. "They're hitting open jumpers. They're hitting shots in your face. They're hitting layups. They're hitting running one-handers in the lane.

"What can you do?"

Jeffcoat hurls first complete game, 4-0

by The Associated Press
Mike Jeffcoat won't have any problem recalling when he pitched his first complete game and first shutout in the major leagues.

Both came Monday night, when the 29-year-old left-hander pitched a five-hitter to help Texas beat California 4-0.

"The complete game was the most important thing," said Jeffcoat, who made his 11th major-league start. "Shutouts are not that big a deal. I probably won't get a lot of shutouts, but getting complete games will help the club out and make a career for myself."

Jeffcoat's career has been spent for the most part in the minor leagues.

A 13th-round draft choice by Cleveland in 1980, Jeffcoat has played in Waterloo, Batavia and Chattanooga during his journey to the majors.

Jeffcoat, 2-0, made his third start for the Rangers since joining the club from Class AAA Oklahoma City on May 31. He struck out five and walked two in sending the Angels to their fifth straight loss.

Julio Franco drove in two runs and became the first Rangers second baseman to hit 10 home runs in a season with a solo homer in the sixth inning off Mike Witt, 3-7, to give Texas a 4-0 lead. The record of nine was held by Bump Wills and Toby Harrah. Franco's 56 RBIs are two more than he had all of last season with Cleveland.

Mills headed for Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Chris Mills, the center of attention of the investigation which led to Kentucky's probation, has decided to transfer to Arizona, where he hopes to play in the fall, he and his father said.

'The War' is a draw; Leonard retains title

LAS VEGAS (AP) - For 12 rounds, Sugar Ray Leonard and Thomas Hearns battled through the heat like valiant old warriors, trying somehow to find through sheer determination some of the skills that had long ago left them.

In a fight that had almost the same ebb and flow of their first bout eight years ago, the two aging fighters reached back to put on stirring displays of courage, with both hurt badly and both refusing to give in.

And when it was over Monday night, three ringside judges handed in their verdicts.

It was, of all things, a draw. A draw that, surprisingly, left both fighters happy.

"I'm proud of having a draw," said a jubilant Hearns, the weight of his first loss to Leonard seemingly off his shoulders at last. "It could have gone the other way, so I'm grateful I got a draw."

"We both displayed what champions are made of," Leonard said. "Like Tommy said, we'll leave it to the judges. I accept it."

The sellout crowd of 15,336 outdoors at Caesars Palace didn't accept it as well, however.

Most thought Hearns, who knocked Leonard down twice, the final time in the 11th round, had won the fight. They booed loudly when the decision was announced.

It took a huge Leonard rally the final two minutes of the 12th round, in fact, to gain the draw. Two of the ringside judges gave Leonard the round by a 10-9 score, but a third gave it to Leonard by 10-8, making his scorecard and the fight even.

Leonard's rally was all the more implausible coming after the 11th round, when Hearns knocked him to the canvas for the second time and appeared to be gaining final control of the fight.

Hearns also put Leonard down for a count of five in the third round, the only time in Leonard's career that he has been down twice in a fight.

Hearns was wobbled by a Leonard left hook in the fifth round and Leonard pressed the attack, landing punch after punch to Hearns' head as he tried desperately to cover up in Leonard's corner.

Leonard hurt Hearns again in the ninth round, again with a left hook, and used the same punch to regain the momentum early in the 12th round and nearly finish Hearns off.

School trustees to name new school for black educator

BRYAN, Texas (AP) - Bryan school trustees have drawn the line and rejected Alamo hero William Barret Travis as the namesake for a new elementary school after questions arose about Travis' morals and beliefs.

The trustees voted Monday night to name the new school after black educator Mary Branch, rejecting the Alamo commander after it was pointed out that he had abandoned his wife and child in Alabama and owned slaves.

Calvert and Carey Cauley, president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, both said Ms. Branch would be a better choice.

Ms. Branch, who was born in 1881 in Virginia, worked her way up from a job as a maid to give herself an education, eventually becoming the first woman college president in Texas, Walker said. She served as head of Austin's Huston-Tillotson College from 1930-44.

The current Travis Elementary School will be closed in 1990 and be replaced by the school named for Ms. Branch.

Cauley commented that no Bryan school has been named in honor of a black since Kemp, Carver and Neal during the 1960s.

He said he supported Branch "not because she's black, but because she made significant contributions" to education.

Bryan said he supported continuing the namesake because Travis "is Texas' greatest hero, in my opinion."

It was then that Costa asked Bryan, "What about Travis' life was exemplary, that we need to honor him?"

Bryan replied, "He was a commander of the Alamo. He was selected to die for Texas. He wrote the letter, he drew the line. He was the main man at the Alamo."

During the siege of the Alamo, Travis wrote a letter describing his plight and appealing for help. In addition, legend has it that, when the soldiers at the Alamo were surrounded by Mexican troops, Travis drew a line in the dirt and asked those willing to die for freedom to cross it with him.

"Other than dying at the Alamo, the rest of his life was not very exemplary," Costa said.

Quakes dramatize threat of faults beneath Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Twin earthquakes that shook Los Angeles did little harm, but they scared people and highlighted the danger from recently discovered faults concealed deep beneath the nation's second-largest city.

The temblors, however, suggest the danger may be more likely to come from a series of moderate quakes than from a much-feared "big one."

"Nothing that happened today makes us fear a larger earthquake any more than we did before," said U.S. Geological Survey seismologist Lucile Jones. "What happened today should make you feel a little more relieved."

The Monday morning quakes injured one person and caused scattered minor damage downtown and in suburbs to the east, including cracked plaster, fallen ceiling tiles and broken windows.

Scientists said the sharp jolts at 9:57 a.m. and 10:22 a.m. measured 4.5 and 4.3 on the Richter scale, respectively. They were centered on the Elysian Park Fault about 8½ miles beneath Montebello, a city about 10 miles southeast of downtown Los Angeles. At least five more small aftershocks followed.

The temblors sent high-rise construction workers and window washers sprinting into downtown Los Angeles streets and stranded some elevator passengers momentarily.

"It felt like a bomb struck the building," said Sheila Dickinson, a downtown worker.

Panicky callers overloaded telephone lines, making it impossible to get dial tones in many areas, said Michael Guerin of the California Office of Emergency Services.

Based on historical patterns, Southern California faces a 1 percent to 2 percent chance of a bigger earthquake within three days, said Jones.

The Elysian Park Fault cuts a 60-by-10-mile swath through the heart of the Los Angeles Basin, stretching from Corona northwest to Whittier, then west to downtown Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Santa Monica and Malibu.

It was discovered after causing the Oct. 1, 1987, Whittier Narrows quake, which, with its aftershocks, killed eight people, injured more than 200 and caused $358 million in damage.

That quake also spurred discovery of another fault, the 40-by-10-mile Torrance-Wilmington Fault, stretching from Newport Beach northwest through Long Beach, Los Angeles' Wilmington district, Torrance and Santa Monica.

Scientists don't know if the two faults relieve stress only by causing numerous mild-to-moderate quakes of magnitude-4 to 6, or also during infrequent major-to-great quakes of magnitude-7 to 8, said geologist Kerry Sieh of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

A major quake directly under downtown Los Angeles would be far worse than a "big one" on the more distant San Andreas Fault, about 50 miles to the north. Officials estimate a big San Andreas quake could kill up to 14,000 people, seriously injure up to 55,000 and cause $17 billion in damage.

President redefines clean air debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush has redefined the debate in Congress over clean air and taken a leap forward in convincing environmentalists that while he may not be one of them, he's not the enemy either.

To many environmentalists, the significance of Bush's three-pronged proposal Monday to clean up the nation's dirtiest air is that it came forcefully from the White House along with a clear acknowledgement by the president that air pollution is putting millions of Americans at risk.

This is in sharp contrast to the eight years President Reagan occupied the White House. Reagan did not acknowledge acid rain as being an environmental concern and viewed tougher laws to curb urban smog and toxic industrial chemicals as excessive government regulation.

With Republicans in Congress rallying around the Bush clean air package "the political chemistry is going to change dramatically" and the debate will center on finding a middle ground between the White House bill and more stringent Democratic versions, said Jay Hair, president of the Wildlife Federation.

"The Republicans are now going to be in the bidding game on environmental issues," agreed Fred Krupp, executive director of the Environmental Defense Fund. He said the Bush package will serve as "a vehicle that's going to drive this (issue) through Congress."

"We no longer need to debate what the goals will be," suggested Paul Pritchard, president of the National Parks and Conservation Association. David Gardiner, legislative director of the Sierra Club, said the Bush proposal "will definitely break the logjam."

That is not to say the power picture in Congress has not also changed significantly from the Reagan years and likely will be just as important.

Sen. George Mitchell, D-Maine,

sponsor of an acid rain bill last year, is now Senate majority leader. He succeeded Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W. Va., who for years has been a staunch opponent of any legislation that might harm the high-sulfur coal industry in his state.

Public opinion polls also have told Congress and the president that the voters are keenly interested in removing the yellowish smog from urban areas, want to be protected against the release of toxic industrial chemicals into the air, and approve of curbs on acid rain which is destroying lakes.

West Texas skies are predicted to be mostly cloudy Wednesday but shower and thunderstorm activity is expected to diminish.

The region is predicted to be mostly fair Thursday, then partly cloudy Friday and Saturday with widely scattered thunderstorms east of the mountains.

Slightly below seasonal normal temperatures are forecast into the weekend with highs locally reaching into the 90s.

Flash flood-producing thunderstorms, accompanied by hail, high winds and lightning, roared across the northern portion of Texas early Tuesday.

The thunderstorms produced flash flooding across a vast area of the state, including some street flooding in Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and San Angelo. Amarillo received more than two inches of rain before the storms began their eastward trek.

The latest thunderstorm activity came on the heels of storms that triggered at least one tornado and caused damage across a vast area of the state.

A tornado struck the Panhandle town of Howardick and high wind caused an estimated $2 million in damage to a blimp that was scheduled to appear July 11 at the Major League All-Star Game in Anaheim, Calif.

A man's body was recovered Monday from Lake Arrowhead where he drowned after jumping into the flood swollen lake to retrieve his hat.

Rescuers called off a search of Mary's Creek Monday night after being unable to find a teen whose raft that also carried four other youths capsized while going over a spillway. The four other youths made it to shore. One of the youths, Richard Henkins was in fair condition at Harris Hospital, a spokeswoman said. Officials said a second youth was transported to Harris, but the spokeswoman said he was not there.

The damaged blimp, owned by Airship International Ltd., had arrived in San Antonio Thursday for routine maintenance. It left its base in Kissimmee, Fla., April 1 and had been traveling about 30 miles a day.

The blimp was moored Sunday at an area airport when a severe thunderstorm packing winds as 80 mph passes through the area.

Chinese search for 'dissidents' form on their neighbors.

The official Beijing Daily reported today in a front-page article that some independent student and labor leaders had turned themselves in and confessed. It did not give any numbers or names. People who surrender will "be treated leniently according to the facts of their crimes," the report said.

Many activists are known to have gone underground.

Fang and his wife, Li Shuxian, fled to the embassy last week after troops fired on protesters in the city center, killing hundreds.

The move infuriated authorities, who over the weekend issued an arrest warrant for the couple, further straining U.S.-Chinese relations already shaken by the military crackdown.

Beijing Radio today read an order from the city's Public Security Bureau that "other provinces, other cities, all airports and all guards on the border should carry out the arrest warrant."

Fang, an astrophysicist, did not play an active role in the student-led demonstrations. But he has long been an outspoken human rights advocate, criticizing Marxism and Communist China's top leaders.

State-run television today intensified official media's vilification of the couple by accusing Li of manipulating student demonstrators from behind the scenes. It also claimed Fang was "supported by foreign elements."

"You've gone to hide in a foreign embassy, what the hell kind of hero are you?" said a letter purportedly written by an intellectual that appeared in the People's Daily, the Communist Party newspaper.

In Washington, the Bush administration indicated it will not allow the two to be arrested. International law forbids Chinese authorities from entering the embassy compound, which is regarded as American soil, without U.S. permission.

Security forces have made hundreds of new arrests, including several leaders of independent labor unions, bringing the number of people arrested to more than 1,000 across the country, according to Chinese media reports.

Several detainees shown on television appear to have been beaten.

On June 3, thousands of troops entered Beijing and marched on Tiananmen Square, with gunfire clearing it of thousands of students who had for three weeks occupied the 100-acre expanse that is China's symbolic center of power.

The government says nearly 300 people were killed, mostly soldiers. But Chinese witnesses and Western intelligence say the toll could be as high as 3,000, most of them civilians.

Some were crushed under armored personnel carriers.

In Ottawa, External Affairs Minister Joe Clark said Canada's ambassador in Beijing was being recalled temporarily to protest the killings.

Troops today maintained their positions throughout Beijing.

In Shanghai, authorities have effectively snuffed out the pro-democracy movement in China's largest city through a campaign of intimidation and arrests, protest supporters said Monday.

Criminal mischief incidents reported

Police Monday investigated two criminal mischief incidents involving damage to motor vehicles and said a Class A misdemeanor charge would be pursued in one of them.

Clifford Redman told officers at 11:08 p.m. that a 1983 Chevrolet pickup truck he had borrowed from John Compton had been damaged by a Snyder man in the Allsup's convenience store parking lot off College Ave.

The suspect had kicked a dent in the driver's side door of the vehicle, officers said.

An investigator said a 22-year-old white male had been identified as the suspect and that the case would be forwarded to the county attorney's office for prosecution.

A Class A misdemeanor is the most serious misdemeanor charge, ranking just under a third-degree felony and carrying maximum penalties of a one-year jail term and a $2,000 fine.

In the second case investigated Monday, Ivory Greer of 2912 Ave. L told police at 12:19 p.m. that a juvenile had hit his car with a rock, after which an officer went to the scene and reported that an agreement had been reached between Greer and the juvenile boy's father and no additional action would be necessary.

Notices mailed on tax values

Oil and gas values, tied to declining production and a price per barrel this year of $16.25, equaled a 12.5 percent decline while residential property values inside the city declined an estimated 5 percent overall.

It marked the third year in a row that total residential values were reappraised lower than the previous year.

The county tax base is estimated at almost $857 million for 1989. Oil and gas values account for some $536 million of this.

For the city, the tax base is estimated at $248 million. Real estate values countywide are calculated in excess of $321 million.

'Living' Bible...

SPECIAL VBS—The congregation at East Side Church of Christ decided to do something different this year for their Vacation Bible School Program. So, instead of having the usual daily sessions for a week, they decided to re-enact as many Bible stories as they could on one day only (Saturday) so that they might have more meaning for students. Members of the congregation picked characters from the Bible and each dressed accordingly. Children were all divided into groups representing the 12 tribes of Israel and taken on a tour of each Biblical scene. In addition to visiting each site they also listened while someone read or told them about a story from the Bible. In photo one, Terry Stephens portrays a slave brick builder and Bill Martin is the Roman task master. Photo two shows Robert Taylor as a metal worker, who was assisted by his wife, Audrey. In photo three, Sidney Burrow, left, king's counselor, and Tommy Doyle, pharaoh, practice reading scenes from the live drama "Baby Moses" which they and others performed Saturday. (SDN Staff Photos)

Kraft calls off game after everybody wins

CHICAGO (AP) — Kraft is apologizing, but consumers say it's pretty cheesy that the food maker called off a promotional contest in which thousands of consumers stood to win a new van.

The "Ready to Roll" contest required consumers to match the right half of game pieces carried in advertisements in Sunday newspapers with left-sided pieces inserted in packages of specially marked Kraft Singles cheese slices. The ads ran in the Chicago and Houston areas.

Kraft planned to give away one Dodge Caravan, valued at $17,000; 100 bicycles; 500 skateboards; and 8,000 packages of Kraft Singles.

According to the company, the odds of winning the van were 1 in 15.2 million.

But because of an error by the printer of the game pieces inside the cheese packages, it is likely that "thousands and thousands" would have won the van, said Kathy Knuth, spokeswoman for the foodmaker based in suburban Glenview. "Instead of only a limited number of winning game pieces," a company statement read, "essentially all of the game pieces appear to be winning ones."

Kraft declared the contest null and void and pulled packages of Singles from stores in Chicago and Houston.

"The company regrets any confusion this promotion may have caused," Knuth said.

Some consumers who "won" the Dodge think they're getting a dodge from Kraft.

"I'm not letting them get away with this baloney," said Sharon LaMont of suburban Skokie, who claims to be a van winner along with her sister and mother.

"I won a Dodge Caravan and four skateboards," said Karen Winslow of Des Plaines. "Now, when I send it in, I'll probably get a packet of coupons for Kraft cheese or something like that."

Walter Byrum

RANGER—Services for Walter Byrum, 67, former Snyder resident, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Bill Owens and the Rev. Jasper Masseur officiating. Burial will follow in Merriman Cemetery.

He was the brother of Ray Byrum of Snyder.

He died Monday at Ranger General Hospital. He was born in Frederick, Okla. and moved to Texas as a small child. He married Dorothy Loudermilk in 1947 in Henrietta, Tex. He was a veteran of World War II and retired in 1984 from the J. W. McCutchen Drilling Co. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Sandra Sites of Ranger; one son, David Byrum of Monrovia, Calif.; and a step-granddaughter, Elizabeth.

Presley auto museum opens

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — They've toured his house, marveled at the gold records and jeweled jumpsuits and checked out his lavish airplanes. And now, for the Elvis fans who thought they'd seen it all, there's more.

"It's Elvis and America and the automobile," says Todd Morgan, a spokesman for the Elvis Presley Automobile Museum, which opened Monday. "It's Elvis' love affair with cars and America's love affair with cars."

The museum has more than 20 vehicles once owned by the king of rock 'n' roll and is the newest attraction at the 46,000-square-foot souvenir shopping center at Graceland, Presley's former Memphis residence.

More than 650,000 tourists and fans visited Graceland last year. For a $15.95 see-it-all ticket, fans can tour the house, two of Presley's airplanes, his tour bus, a couple of small museums and the new square 13,000-square-foot automobile display. It costs $50 for the automobile museum, alone.

The $1.5 million automobile museum, which includes replicas of a drive-in movie and a 1950s filling station, features vehicles ranging from a go-cart to Presley's favorite Stutz Bearcat.

Many of the vehicles were kept until last year under a backyard carport at Graceland, and they had fallen into serious disrepair, said Brian Hughes of Classic Car Co. of Memphis.

Even the 1955 pink Cadillac that Presley gave his mother was in rough shape, said Hughes, whose company restored the vehicles for the museum. Like many of the display vehicles, the Caddy had to be stripped to its frame and rebuilt, he said.

However, much of the machinery inside the vehicles is still in mint condition. "If you raised the hood, the engine is just like the day Presley gave it to his mother," Hughes said.

The museum includes TV screens beside several of the vehicles showing home movies of Presley or his family.

A short film of Presley movie clips showing him with various vehicles is featured at the drive-in movie set at the center of the museum. For seating, the set has 38 front seats from 1957 Chevrolets.

Graceland is operated for the financial benefit of Presley's only child, Lisa Marie, 21, who will inherit the house and tourist complex at age 25. She has agreed to leave the operation with its current management at least until she is 30.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I know aspartame (NutraSweet) is not dangerous, but does it have any minor side effects, such as constipation?

DEAR READER: Recent studies have shown that aspartame produces no side effects. It is a white, crystalline powder that is about 180 times sweeter than sugar and contains no calories. People with phenylketonuria, or PKU, a congenital inability to metabolize certain amino acids, should avoid aspartame because it reacts badly in the body. Otherwise, the artificial sweetener is harmless and will not cause constipation.

DEAR DR. GOTT: On occasion I must manually remove fecal matter from my anus. I'm concerned that if I become too crippled in the future from my arthritis, rheumatism and bronchiectasis, that a nurse or attendant might have to do this for me. Is this procedure harmful? I'm too embarrassed to ask my own doctor this question.

DEAR READER: As people age, modify their diets and become less physically active, they tend to become constipated. The situation can readily progress to impaction, when a person is unable to expel a large mass of fecal matter that becomes trapped in the rectum. In this case, the feces must be broken up manually before they can be passed. The procedure is harmless but unpleasant. However, doctors, nurses and medical attendants are usually well-versed in ways to do this.

Prevention is the key. Speak to your doctor about ways to prevent impaction. Your options include: bran, stool softeners, mild laxatives — or in a pinch — enemas. You needn't feel embarrassed about sharing your concerns with your doctor. He or she is trained to respond to this kind of situation and relieve your apprehension by suggesting ways to solve your problems.

DEAR DR. GOTT: In 1988 I had a seizure my doctor described as idiopathic. Can you tell me exactly what this is and also tell me about my Tegretol prescription?

DEAR READER: Idiopathic simply means "of no known cause." Some seizures are caused by infection, tumors or toxic drugs. By labeling your seizures "idiopathic," the doctor has evidently dismissed these possibilities. You may have epilepsy, a condition in which periodic disruption of the brain's electrical rhythm produces uncontrollable muscle-movements, with or without unconsciousness.

Tegretol is an effective anti-convulsant and is appropriate treatment for epilepsy. Its use should be closely supervised by the doctor, because Tegretol sometimes causes side effects, including anemia, rash, fainting, pulse irregularities, liver inflammation and kidney disease. In order to monitor the drug's effect, your doctor will want to obtain periodic blood tests. Remember that Tegretol, like many other medicines, may cause problems when taken with other prescription drugs. While on Tegretol, check with your doctor before taking ANY other medicines. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Epilepsy — The 'Falling Sickness.'" Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

ASTRO-GRAPH BERNICE BEDE OSOL

Your Birthday

June 14, 1989

In the year ahead an extremely unusual opportunity might develop for you that could be most exciting and profitable. It may come through a friend who operates in off-beat areas.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your abilities as a planner are likely to be superior to your talents for execution today. The way you foresee things is admirable, but you could hit snags carrying them out. Gemini, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not attempt to impose your way of doing things on others today if they are not receptive. For best results, work out a format predicated upon a consensus of opinions.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be certain the plans you make today are compatible with those of your mate. You could cause unnecessary friction if your thinking is too self-centered.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Make allowances today for the frailties and foibles of your friends. Being too exacting or demanding will invite discord and cause pals to go on the defensive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Speculative ventures could be rather appealing to you today, but before you jump into anything it's best you get full knowledge of what's entailed. Let caution be your byword.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) People who are genuinely fond of you are likely to treat you in a generous fashion today, yet, uncharacteristically, you might not reciprocate in kind. Get back in character.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Timing is extremely important today so it's best not to attempt to pull off something important prematurely. Be patient and wait until you have all of your ducks in a row.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you might find yourself in an awkward position where more is expected of you than you'll feel inclined to give, yet you might still do so against your better judgment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It could prove unwise today if you try to manipulate friends or contacts in order to fulfill your ambitious objectives. You might achieve immediate gains, while jeopardizing relationships.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't be afraid to experiment with new methods or innovative techniques today. A failure to be imaginative could be self-defeating before you even begin.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your impulsiveness could cause you to make mistakes early in the day, so be careful. Later your ingenuity and resourcefulness will come into play and things should go much smoother for you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try to be even more tactful than usual in your important one-to-one relationships today. If you're pushy or abrasive, it will lessen your possibilities of receiving cooperation.
