Senate repeals law limiting media

AUSTIN (AP) — Without debate, the Texas Senate today approved a bill to repeal the three-week-old law that allows police to withhold from the press and public the names of felony victims.

The 24-0 vote sent the bill to the House.

The law, which took effect June 14, has created a storm of protest among news media and freedom of information leaders.

The measure to repeal the law had been approved 11-0 on Wednesday by the Senate's State Affairs Committee, after Sen. John Leedom said the law had been "misapplied to such an extent that many law enforcement officers are not furnishing (information) — that was not the intent."

Leedom, R-Dallas, was the Senate sponsor of the law and also the bill to repeal it.

The law amended the Texas Open Records Act to allow authorities to withhold information that might identify victims of felony crimes, such as aggravated assault, robbery and capital murder. Police may withhold the victims' names as well as information that could lead to their identification, such as addresses.

As the uproar grew against the law, Gov. Bill Clements added the repeal measure to the agenda of the special legislative session.

The name of only one witness, George Irish, publisher of the San Antonio Light, was called Wednesday. The committee voted without asking any questions or taking his testimony, which was presented to the committee in writing.

In his written testimony, Irish said since the law had gone into effect, 100 calls have been recorded at the various offices of the coalition's member groups.

STENHOLM IN SNYDER — U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford spoke on various issues at the chamber of commerce Wednesday morning, saying, among other things, that the Jack Pointeau family's chances of avoiding deportation have apparently improved in recent months. He noted that the family has hired an attorney who specializes in immigration cases and that they have not received a new deportation order from the Immigration and Naturalization Service. (SDN Staff Photo)

Miss Snyder passed talent competition

Miss Snyder, Rhonda Jo Horn, performed in the talent competition for show judges Wednesday and is to compete in the swim suit contest Thursday and the evening gown competition Friday.

With 69 girls competing in the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant at the Fort Worth-Tarrant County Convention Center, contestants have been divided into three groups.

Miss Snyder's group competed in the talent area Wednesday, while the two other groups completed the swim suit and evening gown portions of the show.

In addition, Miss Snyder was scheduled to be among the candidates interviewed by judges Thursday afternoon.

For her talent event Wednesday, she sang "Your Cheat in Heart," a Hank Williams standard which she also performed at the local beauty contest.

The only preliminary winners announced Wednesday involved the talent competition and the swim suit for that respective night.

These winners were Lisa Tyree, Miss Greenville, in the swim suit event and Johnna Ogden, Miss Denison, in the talent contest.

The pageant's Top 10 finalists will be selected Friday.

On Saturday, at a regionally televised event, the new Miss Texas will be crowned.

Wreck driver critical

A 26-year-old Lubbock man was critically injured in a collision between a pickup truck and a tractor-trailer rig at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday 3.8 miles north of Snyder at FM 1611 and U.S. 84.

A 1987 Nissan Supercab driven by Shawn R. Wishert was northbound on 1611, ran a stop sign and hit the rear wheels of a 1980 Mack rig owned by Line & Line Oil Co. and driven by Louis Rodriguez, 36, of 606 34th St., the Department of Public Safety said.

A DPS trooper said the truck was coming down the service road on the south side of 84 when the collision took place, spinning Wishert's vehicle around, ejecting him and throwing him about 40 feet.

Wishert was treated at Cogdell Memorial Hospital until 9 p.m., when he was transferred by helicopter to St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock. He was listed in critical but stable condition with facial and head injuries Thursday.

Rodriguez was treated at the Snyder hospital for injuries to his right shoulder and right eye and was released.

Physician, dentist selected at prison

Longtime Snyder physician Dr. Carl Dillaha, who recently closed out his private medical practice here, will serve as the health authority at the Price Daniel Unit.

In addition, a Winters-based dentist, Dr. W.V. Clendenen, will be the unit's dental authority.

In his role as the health authority, Dillaha will provide medical care for the inmates at a daily sick call clinic.

This clinic will be open five days a week, Monday through Friday, and Dillaha said it will likely be scheduled throughout the morning and into the afternoon.

He will be assisted at the 24-hour prison clinic by a nursing staff which will include both RNs and LVNs.

In addition, Dillaha will remain on staff at Cogdell Memorial Hospital to care for TDC inmates admitted at Cogdell for "infirmary level" care. These will be housed in the newly renovated TDC wing at Cogdell.

When the patients require long term treatment, this responsibility will be transferred to other medical staff physicians either here or, in the case of severe illness, other TDC-affiliated hospitals.

Regarding the dental treatment at the Daniel Unit, Clendenen will commute here from his practice in Winters on Thursday and Fridays once prisoners begin arriving.

According to Clendenen, there will be a full-time office clerk, a part-time hygienist and a part-time dental assistant working with him.

He will continue his practice in Winters on Mondays and Tuesdays and in Coleman on Wednesdays.

Dillaha has practiced at his office in Snyder since Aug. 1, 1953. He closed his office June 16 of this year and is now in the process of moving his medical records. Ultimately, he expects to be offed out of his residence as well as the prison site.

He will continue to serve as a local physician for nursing home patients as well as his TDC responsibilities.

He was graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Medicine in 1951 and interned at a Navy hospital in Oakland, Calif.

He and his wife, Helen, have two sons, Steve and David, and are now raising their granddaughter, Maribeth.

Dr. Clendenen has lived on a

Fireworks linked to rash of blazes

Eight fires have now been linked to individuals setting off fireworks, to include a rash of four blazes reported Wednesday.

Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell said city police had confiscated enough fireworks "to start a small war" and warned that the perpetrator of an accidental blaze could still be charged with arson.

Noting that the discharge of fireworks is illegal inside the city limits, he said, "If they set somebody else's property on fire, that's arson whether there was an intent to do it or not."

Fireworks touched off a grass fire in a pasture owned by Forrest Wemken on the west side of the Colorado City Hwy. at Dunn, where firefighters were busy from 1:06 to 2:30 p.m.

A similar blaze was dealt with from 1:37 to 2:25 p.m. off West 30th St. on the east side of the county rodeo grounds.

The last two fireworks-related fires of the day were from 7:18 to 7:45 p.m. in the 1600 Block of 13th St. and from 8:58 to 9:30 p.m. in a vacant house at 905 29th St. where damages were said to be minor.

In an unrelated fire run made Wednesday, the engine compartment and cab of a 1979 Chevrolet pickup owned by L.D. "Buck" Logan were heavily damaged in a fire from 7:45 to 8:25 p.m. Wednesday in the 5400 Block of College Ave.

SO now investigating two burglary reports

Sheriff's deputies are investigating two burglaries and a theft that were reported Wednesday.

Kevin Hinkle of Rt. 2 reported at 8:10 a.m. that a home owned by a relative, Tommy McBroom, had been broken into in the Alamo Heights area south of Snyder off the Colorado City Hwy.

Hinkle said three firearms, a VCR and some coins had been stolen.

Susan Hunter of Hermleigh reported at 8:40 a.m. that her home at German and Pyron Sts. See BURGLARIES, Page 9

The feller on Deep Creek says, "If you expect your ship to come in, you may have to row out and meet it."

What's the best job in this country? Except for attending state funerals, some might guess that vice president of the United States.

Although it is a standing joke about being the country's official representative at last rites for heads of state, vice president Bush went almost four full years without attending a funeral service.

But to the original question, a former president has to be the best job around. If you can live through the four or eight years, the retirement benefits are terrific.

When Ronald Reagan headed west, the former president and Nancy are going to be pretty comfortable, with or without the controversial catastrophic health care.

The former president will draw $130,000 per year in state and federal pensions, and he'll get another $300,000 to cover his expenses, and also an advance of at least $2 million on his memoirs.

And for pocket change, everytime the former president makes a speech, he'll be able to ask $50,000. Ain't bad.

Speaking of work, the girls in Dr. Bid Cooper's office have a cartoon with the following caption: "A woman's place is in the home — just as soon as she gets off work."

That caused another Snyder mother to ask following one of her frequent trips to deliver kids to various activities, "If a woman's place is in the home, how come I'm always in the car?"

Speaking of doctors, did you hear about the little old lady who entered the doctor's office all hunched over, using a cane and having a difficult time walking.

After being in the office for just a couple of minutes, she came out, standing erect and walking with no limp.

Another patient who had seen her entrance said, "You look great, what did the doc do?" The woman replied, "He gave me a longer cane."

In Brief

Pardon calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush is facing renewed pressure to pardon Oliver North after a federal judge decided the former White House aide would serve no time in jail for his Iran-Contra convictions.

Fifty-eight members of the House composed a letter to Bush urging a pardon for North, arguing, "It is time to put an end to the political persecution of an honorable man who has served his country with distinction."

Asbestos ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is preparing to ban almost all uses of asbestos, ending a decade-long debate over the health risk posed by the cancer-causing substance in such items as brake linings and water pipes, according to sources.

Dear Abby

Woman Sorry She Answered Right Question at Wrong Time

By Abigail Van Buren

Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Last December, a man I had been dating for two years proposed to me, with ring in hand. I was not prepared for a marriage proposal at the time and didn't know what to say, so I told him I'd give him my answer in a week or so. Well, after a week or so, I told him that I wasn't ready for marriage.

He replied, "OK" — but I think he felt totally rejected and thought that I was not interested in him at all. At the time, I really wasn't sure about my feelings for him, but now I am definitely sure that I love him and want to marry him. So what should I do? Ask him to marry me? Or wait until he asks me again? I haven't spoken to him since last December. CAUTIOUS IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR CAUTIOUS: There appears to be a colossal communications gap between you two. If you can find him, ask him.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how I should introduce myself to single men at my sister's wedding now that I am in the process of getting a divorce. (Sis and I do not live in the same state.)

When my sister asked me to be in her wedding, four months ago, I was married and living with my husband, but all that has changed now. We separated last month and are living apart. I don't want to brag, but I am a very pretty woman, and people tell me I look like a teen-ager.

What should I say if a man shows an interest in me? I have three children all under 5 years old. When should I bring that into the conversation? I would not try to hide it, but I wouldn't want to scare off any man by mentioning it too soon. I would like to meet a nice man and start my life over, but I'm not sure how much I should tell about myself right off the bat. Please guide me.

STARTING OVER AT 25

DEAR STARTING OVER: Right off the bat, be absolutely honest. It's not necessary to say, "Hi, I'm 25 years old, have three children under 5 and I'm in the process of being divorced." But if someone shows an interest in you, those vital facts are very important, and should be disclosed early in the "getting-to-know-you" stage.

DEAR ABBY: With regard to "Spot Watcher," whose pet goldfish jumped out of the water at feeding time, I thought you might be interested in the story about my grandfather's pet goldfish named Rosa. Grandpa told me this story when I was a lad of 10, some 65 years ago. —It seems that Rosa learned not only to jump out of the bowl and right into Grandpa's hand at feeding time, she also learned to live out of the water for hours — yes, even days — at a time!

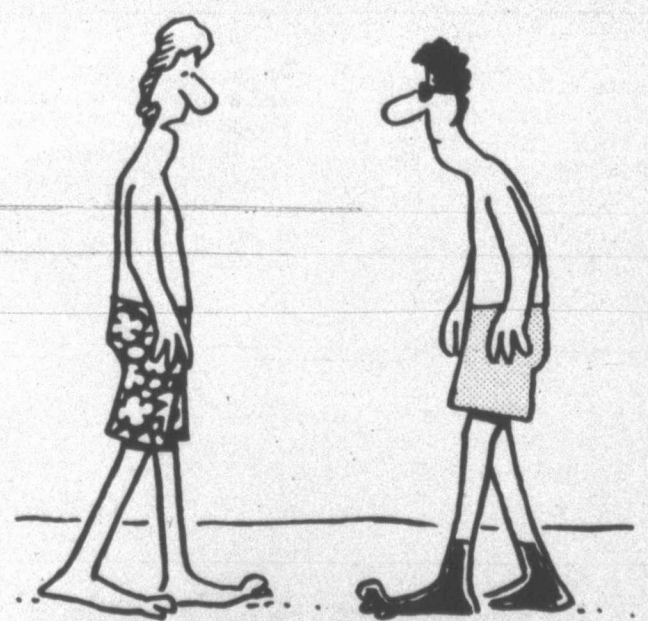

Rosa would just flip-flop, flip-flop, and follow Grandpa everywhere! Grandpa said it was quite a sight when he went with Rosa for a walk through the village. People would line up just to get a glimpse of Grandpa with Rosa the little goldfish flip-flopping along behind him! Even to this day, it brings tears to my eyes when I think of Rosa's tragic demise. One day when Grandpa and Rosa were walking on an old wooden bridge that crossed over a small creek, Rosa flip-flopped and fell through a crack in the bridge floor into the creek a few feet below ... and drowned!

BEAUTY BRIEFS

What is collagen?

Recently much-touted as a new "miracle" skin treatment, collagen is no such thing. It occurs in the dermis, the lower skin layers where sweat and oil glands, blood vessels and nerves are embedded. Dr. Frederic Haberman, dermatologist and author of a new book, "Your Skin," calls collagen "nature's nylon," as its fibers give shape and strength to the dermis. A refined bovine collagen is currently being used in some aspects of plastic surgery, but it can't affect the skin in cream form, Haberman notes.

Travel tips

Traveling more and enjoying it less? Try eating lighter foods for those hours of sitting and avoid alcoholic beverages. Carry a cosmetics case of skin-care items and tissues so you can cleanse and moisturize your face frequently, especially in the dehydrating atmosphere of airplane cabins. Keep makeup simple so you can easily renew it. Hair that is styled simply and permed a little will keep its shape better when traveling than overly casual styles.

Hair relaxing

Hair straightening has always meant risking damaged hair, scalp irritation or both. The necessary chemicals were responsible, although their damaging effects could be lessened by a skillful salon operator. Now relax-ers themselves have changed, says Blanca, hair expert at the New York salon of David Daines. She uses cream-base relaxers and a technique that never lets the chemicals touch the scalp. She also uses such refinements as spot application to smooth out uneven hair textures. She finishes with a special conditioner.

"Natural" soaps

Because people think of fruits and vegetables as being good for you, soaps based on fruits, vegetables and herbal extracts have become popular. However, such soaps may contain skin-drying alcohol and chemical preservatives to stabilize the extracts. An unstabilized "natural" soap would soon go bad, producing an unpleasant odor. Incidentally, that fruit, flower or herbal fragrance isn't natural. No natural scent could survive the manufacturing process, so the soap fragrance has to be chemical.

Shaping hair styles

Younger women like the look of casual styles with short sides and back and top wisp curls that look natural. A new group of items sold in beauty salons helps them keep the look at home. Called Shapings, the group includes "wet" and cream gels for different "finger" styles, a hair glosser and a spray. Note that with these casual styles the cut of the hair must do the initial shaping.

A few breaks and lots of care

The jump to four clubs was a special bid showing four-card heart support, enough high cards to jump to three or four hearts, and a singleton club. South showed his diamond support as a slam invitation, and a couple of cue-bids later found himself in slam. Nice enough bidding, but don't think that slam is an incredible bargain. If either diamonds or hearts split 4-1 in the defenders' hands, there would be trouble. And for a novice declarer, there might still be trouble, since the key to success in playing the slam is to not draw trumps too quickly. Fortunately declarer was our old friend Careful Charlie, who outgrew novice declarer mistakes shortly after he was weaned.

Charlie won the ace of spades and ruffed a spade. He played a diamond to the ace and ruffed another spade. He felt better when everyone followed to the next diamond. (Charlie knew the slam depended upon both red suits behaving.) He ruffed dummy's last spade with the queen of hearts, cashed the ace of hearts, then played ace and ruffed a club. Now came the king of hearts. Both defenders followed, and what's more, East had to play the jack. The 10 now picked up the heart in West's hand, and the diamonds were good for the rest of the tricks. Charlie was too much of a gentleman to tell the opponents they were lucky he and his partner had not bid the grand slam.

Scrubbing worsens acne

ORADELL, N.J. (AP) — Scrubbing and vigorous washing of the face will only make acne worse.

Just wash once or twice a day with a mild soap and choose powder for make-up, advises Contemporary Pediatrics magazine. Contrary to popular belief, eating sweets and fried foods won't do any more damage.

The best treatment for acne is four to six weeks of the proper medicine and patience to let it work. Teenagers may be relieved to know that some people in their 20s and 30s may still develop acne. The key is getting it under control, so the frequency of having to use medicines and antibiotics can be reduced.

Seniors consume more microwave food and drinks

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — According to a new national study, older Americans consume microwave foods and beverages at a rate 52 percent above the national norm.

"Seniors have learned to use microwaves and increasingly depend on the speed and convenience they provide," says Edmond Mozes of MRCA Information Services, a national marketing information firm. "Their tendency to prepare homemade hot dishes by microwaving stands apart.

"Microwaved frozen dinners are also a clear favorite. Noteworthy, too, is their consumption of microwaved breakfast items such as hot cereal and baked sweets, especially frozen."

The MRCA study examines microwave food and beverage trends during the past five years. Among the survey's findings:

— Microwaves can be found in 76 percent of U.S. households, up from 34 percent in 1983.

— The three most popular microwave food items are vegetables, coffee and potatoes.

— Dieters are more likely than non-dieters to use microwaves, and show preferences for small items such as popcorn, muffins and baked potatoes.

— Households with children and teens use the microwave frequently for hot dogs and pizza.

People choosing light cars

DETROIT (AP) — America's preoccupation with weight loss even extends to the automobiles it drives, reports a metalworking weekly journal.

The estimated weight of structural materials in a typical U.S.-built car in 1987 is 3,178 pounds, notes Metalworking News. This is 137 pounds lighter than the 3,665 figure of 10 years ago.

Increasing use of such lightweight materials as aluminum, plastics, composites and lightweight but high-strength steel and carbon steel account for the major differences, says the publication.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Angels lead American West after defeating Rangers, 2-1

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - The California Angels reached the top for the first time in 15 months Wednesday night. It was anything but a boring journey.

After being blanked on four hits for seven innings by Charlie Hough, the Angels broke out for two runs in the eighth inning and a 2-1 victory over the Texas Rangers.

The victory pushed California, 49-32, a half-game ahead of Oakland in the American League West. It is the first time the Angels have led the division since April 17, 1988.

"The bottom line is that our guy, battled their guy pitch-for-pitch and kept us in the game," California Manager Doug Rader said of the duel between two Charlies.

Chuck Finley (10-6) was virtually unhittable after letting the Rangers take a 1-0 lead in the second and was rewarded when the Angels cashed in an eighth-inning break.

After Lance Parrish led off the eighth by drawing only the second walk off Hough (5-9) and was forced on Jack Howell's grounder, Dick Schofield drove a catchable ball to right-center.

But centerfielder Cecil Espy and right-fielder Ruben Sierra appeared to shy away from each other, and the ball fell beyond them for a triple that scored Howell.

Johnny Ray then followed with the game-winning sacrifice fly off reliever Jeff Russell.

"Against a guy who comes in throwing so much harder, you just hope to be able to make good enough contact," said Ray, referring to the switch from Hough's knuckleballs to Russell's 90-mile fastball. "I was definitely concerned about getting a ball in the air for a sacrifice fly."

"It looked like one run was going to be enough," admitted Texas Manager Bobby Valentine, whose team lost a close one for the fifth time in six games. "Then that ball hung up there, nobody called for it and it dropped."

"Charlie can't pitch better than that. He's had some bad luck here."

In lowering his ERA to 2.24, second-best in the American League behind teammate Bert Blyleven's 2.16, Finley wound up with his eighth complete game in 17 starts.

The Rangers bunched three of their five hits for their run in the second, when Mike Stanley's single drove in Steve Buechele. Finley allowed his final hit on a Stanley single in the fourth, then retired 16 of the last 17 men he faced.

Franco makes all-stars

ARLINGTON (AP) - A final week's surge in Julio Franco's popularity has given the Texas Rangers their first All-Star game starter in 11 years.

Franco, who trailed all season in fan balloting for the July 11 All-Star game in Anaheim, Calif., surged past Steve Sax of the New York Yankees in the final week of

Owners expected to choose Finks as NFL commissioner

CHICAGO (AP) - Jim Finks has been a quarterback, coach, scout and a general manager who's rebuilt three sagging NFL franchises.

Now, unless something highly unexpected happens, he is about to cap his career by becoming the NFL's first new commissioner since 1960.

Representatives of the league's 28 teams were to meet today to choose a successor to Pete Rozelle, who shocked the owners in March by announcing he is stepping down after 29 years to pursue a life of leisure in San Diego.

And while anyone will have the right to make nominations, the owners are expected to follow the recommendation of a six-member committee and select Finks, currently president of the New Orleans Saints and the architect of Super Bowl teams in Minnesota and Chicago. According to several sources, Finks met Tuesday with the committee in New York to work out a contract.

"We were told to identify a guy and name him and that's what we're going to do," Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, the committee's co-chairman, said Wednesday.

While Mara would not confirm it, numerous other sources said the "one guy" is Finks, who in 1955 beat out future Hall of Famer Johnny Unitas for the job as quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"I threw 26 interceptions that season and retired," Finks said recently. "Johnny Unitas was never heard from again."

In three years with the Saints, Finks took a team that had never been over .500 in its 19-year existence and turned it into one that has been 12-3 and 10-6 the last two seasons.

He was one of the favorites for the commissioner's job from the time Rozelle announced his retirement. In fact, the only impediment seemed to be Finks' age - he will be 62 on Aug. 31, making him only a year younger than Rozelle, who said the job had worn him down.

The only other major contenders for the job were Jack Kemp, the one-time San Diego and Buffalo quarterback who is now secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and Paul Tagliabue, the NFL's Washington counsel.

However, Kemp informed the search committee he wanted to remain at HUD and Tagliabue, Rozelle's chief advisor the past few years, appeared to be a compromise candidate in the event of a deadlock between Kemp and Finks.

Wimbledon tennis tourney...

Graf eliminates Chris Evert

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Steffi Graf ruined what might have been Chris Evert's last Wimbledon appearance Thursday, demolishing the 34-year-old former champion for a spot in her third consecutive women's final.

The defending champion from West Germany saved six break points and boomed four aces in a 6-2, 6-1 victory that took just 68 minutes on a sweltering Centre

Wiggins shines in tourney again

Larry Wiggins has the Fourth of July Tennis Tournament in his back pocket again.

Wiggins, from San Antonio, is a perennial champion at the annual event and this year was no different. He won the men's singles title early in the week, then captured the men's 35 singles and the mixed doubles on Wednesday as the three-day event concluded.

Wiggins stopped Snyder's Gary Bingham 6-2, 6-4 in the open event and 6-4, 6-0 in the 35-over division for both men's singles titles. He then teamed with DeDe Wiggins to edge Snyderites Michael Rodriguez and Lori McFarland in mixed doubles, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

All other matches were concluded Tuesday and announced Wednesday.

The event was sponsored by the local chamber of commerce and directed by Snyder High School tennis coach Charlie Chrane.

Court. Graf will try to retain her title Saturday against the winner of the second semifinal between eight-time winner Martina Navratilova and unseeded Catarina Lindqvist of Sweden.

The men's semifinals are set for Friday, with Ivan Lendl playing Boris Becker and John McEnroe taking on defending champion Stefan Edberg. The men's championship will be decided Sunday.

McEnroe, aiming for his fourth Wimbledon singles title, pulled out of the men's doubles Thursday morning after suffering a slight muscle tear in his left shoulder.

He underwent treatment from the men's tour trainer and officials said the 30-year-old American would be able to play in the singles' semis.

Graf's run of Grand Slam tournament titles was stopped at five last month in Paris, as 17-year-old Arantxa Sanchez beat her for the championship of the French Open.

The opponent Thursday was twice as old, and the outcome was oh, so different.

Graf never gave Evert a chance. She broke the American in the very first game of the match and again for a 4-1 lead, then saved three break points for 5-1 and served out the first set with three consecutive winners.

As the temperature on Centre Court pushed above 100 degrees, Graf was not about to cool off.

Evert, playing her 17th semifinal in 18 Wimbledon appearances, held serve for the first game of the second set on a string of Graf errors, including two off her usually unbeatable forehand.

That was to be the final victory for Evert, who has hinted strongly that 1989 would be her last Wimbledon.

McEnroe reached the semifinals with an impressive victory over Mats Wilander. As the final point dropped, he turned to his wife, Tatum O'Neal, and gave a triumphant wave. She was off her chair in an instant, smiling and applauding wildly.

Instant rapport — and it made a point.

Just when he says he has his personal life together, McEnroe is in the semifinals at Wimbledon for the first time since 1984.

"It's a juggling act," the 30-year-old American said after

QB school set Monday for Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys will begin a one-week quarterback school for rookies and veterans Monday.

Players will attend practice and conditioning sessions, and a team meeting during the week.

"This quarterback school will give us a head start into training camp," Coach Jimmy Johnson said. "The players need to continue to learn the new offensive and defensive systems."

The voluntary sessions will run through July 14 at Cowboys Center in Irving. Johnson said the school will give the coaching staff a chance to evaluate players.

"The players won't be set into a starting lineup until we go to training camp," he said.

Rookies and selected veterans report to training camp in Thousand Oaks, Calif., July 23. Remaining veterans report July 27.

The Cowboys' roster is made up of 58 veterans and 30 rookies, including 74 under contract.

The Cowboys begin regular season play Sept. 10 in New Orleans.

There are four men in the Baseball Hall of Fame who were qualified to practice law. Their names: Branch Rickey, Miller Huggins, Hughie Jennings and Monte Ward.

Patricia Warren, Purchasing Agent

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 60-year-old female on medication for hypertension. My doctor currently has me on Dyazide and Tenormin and has instructed me to lose weight. What's the chance of eliminating part or all of my medication with the weight loss?

DEAR READER: Many studies have shown that obesity contributes to hypertension; once patients lose weight, their blood pressures return to normal. Therefore, I think the chances are good that a weight-loss program might enable you to eliminate or reduce your medicine.

However, not all patients respond in this manner. Even after achieving ideal weights, they must take drugs to control hypertension. Therefore, you should work with your doctor to discuss what combination of weight loss and medicine is right for you.

Remember that alcohol and nicotine can raise blood pressure, so if you smoke or drink, stop. Also, regular exercise can reduce blood pressure; consider committing yourself to an exercise program. This would help you to shed unwanted pounds, too.

Finally, some hypertensives are extremely sensitive to salt in their diets. When they reduce salt, their blood pressures fall. Ask your doctor about the additional benefits of a weight-reduction/low-salt diet, coupled with regular exercise. Let me know what happens.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 47-year-old male with gonorrhea and have been too ashamed to go to a doctor or tell my family. I've had the problem since 1966. Can I be cured now or have I waited too long? I've had a lot of pain in the kidney area and wonder if it can be transmitted to children from a mother's womb before birth.

DEAR READER: Gonorrhea, a sexually transmitted bacterial disease, is easily passed from one partner to another, as well as from the birth canal to babies during delivery. Because gonorrhea can cause chronic prostate infection in men and dangerous pelvic inflammation in women, it is a serious disease. Although you say you have had gonorrhea for 23 years, you still should be treated. Of course, the infection may be more difficult to eradicate now. Ideally, you should have sought professional help as soon as you knew you had the disease.

I am particularly concerned about your sexual contacts. Gonorrhea in women may not produce symptoms for years; therefore, any woman with whom you have had intercourse could certainly be infected and could have unknowingly passed that infection to her partners and her children. You can see, depending on your patterns of sexual behavior, that a real public-health problem may exist: Each of your contacts and each of their partners should be checked for gonorrhea and, if necessary, treated.

I believe you acted irresponsibly in 1966. However, it's not too late to undo some of the harm. Check with a doctor to make sure you have gonorrhea and not a look-alike disease. You should obtain treatment and enlist the aid of public-health authorities to identify and track the potential recipients of your disease. I do not believe the pain in your "kidney area" is due to gonorrhea.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

July 7, 1989

On more than one occasion in the year ahead, it looks like you will be in a position to bring two factions together for a profitable purpose. They will gain and you will also.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Some ideas about which you've been dubious should work out extremely well when you put them to the test today. If you have faith in your conceptions, others will too. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your financial projections look encouraging at this time, especially regarding involvements you have with people who have historically steered you toward profits in the past.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do not circumvent issues if you hope to be productive and effective today. Be as direct as circumstances permit and when you have a point to make, hammer it home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Things will be working for your benefit today in rather mysterious ways that aren't apt to be obvious to you or to others. Have faith in positive fulfillments and don't let your hopes waver.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't be reluctant to impose upon friends today in order to help advance a personal interest. Your pals want good things to happen for you and they'll be glad to assist.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An important objective you are eager to achieve can be accomplished today if you dedicate yourself to do so. Should you opt to delay, it will lessen your chances.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If at all possible today deal with the head honchos instead of going through subordinates. Intermediaries might mean well, but this could be a hindrance instead of a help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you hold firm as to what you expect from your commercial involvements today, you should be able to do rather well for yourself. Be fair, be smart and, above all, be patient.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You should be lucky on your own today, but it looks like your greatest benefits and advantages will come from partnership arrangements. Don't be a loner if you can unify for greater strength.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This should be both a profitable and productive day for you, because the seeds of something constructive you've sown rather recently are now ready to be harvested.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your managerial skills will be very pronounced today and you should be able to control most situations effectively. The one exception might be the management of your own resources.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you and your mate do not deliberately get in each other's way today, things in general should work out in a manner that will please both parties. Be supportive, not competitive.

Texas Tech University...

Researcher condemns break-in of lab

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech University officials say an underground animal rights group broke into a research lab, stole five cats and did an estimated $70,000 in damage.

The break-in was the first in Texas by the "underground liberationist" Animal Liberation Front, according to a group called People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals.

Five cats used in sleep research were taken from the lab of Dr. John Orem, a physiology professor, during the break-in Monday night. Documents were stolen and equipment was vandalized.

Texas Tech University Health Science Center researchers discovered the break-in Tuesday morning and found spray-painted messages on the walls that indicated ALF was responsible, according to a statement released Wednesday by university president Robert Lawless.

"We most sincerely urge conscientious behavior on the part of those responsible for this incident and we warn that the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center will not tolerate such incidents on our campus," Lawless said.

Ingrid Newkirk, national director of Washington-based PETA, said ALF developed in the early 1980s and believes it now has at least 100 members in the United States.

"They go into places where they suspect abuse and take the pictures and get the records and the information that researchers and those working on these projects try to hide," Ms. Newkirk said.

Orem has spent 12 years studying breathing in sleep, which helps him understand sleep apnea and Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. In both disorders, breathing fails in sleep.

The animal rights groups, in a statement issued by PETA, charged that Orem uses inhumane research methods, such as bolting the cats' heads into steel clamps.

"This is all sensational nonsense," Orem said. "The techniques we use are standard neurological procedures that are done under anesthesia. There is nothing gruesome, despicable, wasteful or barbaric about it."

"They've acted and it's all so senseless and ridiculous," Orem said the animals are placed in a non-traumatic restraint device that immobilizes the cat's head to keep electrodes in place as they sleep. Orem then studies the parts of the brain that control breathing.

"The cats are given great care," Orem said. "Obviously there cannot be pain or discomfort because the cats would never fall asleep."

ALF raids usually include property destruction, Ms. Newkirk said.

"They believe you have to hit people in the pocketbook. They believe you have to destroy the instruments of cruelty," she said.

"If you set the researchers back, financial decisions must then be made. Many of the projects do not go on once they're interrupted. If the experiments were so important, then (researchers) would be able to find the money somewhere."

Orem's research is funded by the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute, which monitors his research and committed $900,000 its completion. Texas Tech officials believe it will be several months before Orem will be able to continue research.

Crime spree ends with 4 teens arrested

IRVING, Texas (AP) - A 13-hour crime spree that included murder, kidnapping, sexual assault and the robbery of a family held hostage ended with the arrest of four teenagers, police say.

The teenagers were arrested Wednesday in this Dallas suburb after a Garland man and his girlfriend were abducted from an Irving motel, an area man was shot to death while following the car carrying the kidnap victims and their kidnapers, the kidnaped man's family was held hostage while the girlfriend was sexually assaulted and the family was robbed.

Robbery was believed to be the motive, authorities said.

Police said the four, all juveniles, were taken to Garland police headquarters for questioning. Officers said they planned to charge all four with juvenile delinquency relating to murder, aggravated sexual assault, aggravated robbery and aggravated kidnapping.

Police spokesman Larry Rollins in Garland said Kenneth Carroll, 30, of Sachse, was apparently following the kidnap victims' car and was warned once to stop following before he was killed with a single gunshot wound to the head after he stopped on a residential street to talk with the kidnapers.

Rollins said officers were attempting to determine exactly why Carroll was following the car.

"I don't know if he just saw something suspicious and started following them or what," Rollins said.
