No plans to prosecute HUD official

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has no current plans to prosecute a former HUD official criticized for awarding millions of dollars in subsidies to developers who had contributed to a charity he helped found, a congressman disclosed today.

"Should you come to obtain information not contained in your report implicating Mr. (Thomas) Demery or other HUD officials in possible criminal violations we would be happy to review that information," Gerald E. McDowell, chief of the department's public integrity section, said in a letter to agency officials.

Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass., released the letter as a House subcommittee resumed hearings into mismanagement and influence-peddling at HUD during the Reagan administration. He also charged that many witnesses during the hearings appeared to have committed perjury and that the Justice Department should conduct its own investigations instead of relying on Congress or HUD to refer cases for investigation.

Frank did not name the witnesses to whom he was referring.

In the letter, dated July 19, the Justice Department told HUD Inspector General Paul Adams it would not prosecute former HUD Assistant Secretary Thomas Demery in connection with an inspector general's report criticizing the selection process HUD used to award rent subsidies to developers who promised to renovate housing for low-income people.

In the inspector general's report, Adams and his investigators said many of the developers who received subsidies had been major contributors to FOOD for Africa, a Michigan-based charity that Demery helped establish.

Frank did not criticize the department's decision on Demery but complained Justice Department officials had indicated they would not conduct their own investigations into the emerging HUD scandals.

The first witness at today's hearing was William Taylor, a member of the Republican National Committee and former chairman of the Florida State Republican Party. Taylor was criticized by committee members but defended his use of his RNC stationery in letters to HUD officials lobbying for HUD projects.

Meanwhile, The New York Times reported today that federal housing officials approved more than $16 million in rent subsidies for a Denver housing project after Joseph Coors, the wealthy Colorado brewer and a friend of President Reagan, wrote a letter endorsing the project.

Rainfall forecast tonight

From Local, Wire Reports

Traces of rain were reported in Snyder and other areas of the county Sunday and early Monday, but no significant amounts were recorded in the city as of 11 a.m.

Cloudy skies were the rule, however, and the National Weather Service is predicting rain chances for the Snyder area Monday night at 60 percent.

Mostly cloudy skies with thunderstorms likely is the forecast for Tuesday also, with the chance for rain showers here predicted at 50 percent.

Below normal temperatures should accompany the cloudy and possibly wet conditions through Tuesday. For the period, the high reading is expected to be in the upper 80s.

All of West Texas is predicted to be partly to mostly cloudy with scattered thunderstorms in most sections through Tuesday.

The highs through Tuesday are forecast in the 80s, except in the Big Bend area, where readings in the upper 90s are expected.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms continued Monday morning across the Panhandle and had developed in the Hill Country and the middle Rio Grande Plains.

The National Weather Service reported heavy rains and some small hail Monday morning over the Panhandle, while thunderstorms also hugged the coast from Galveston to Corpus Christi.

TDC TOURS — The Price Daniel Unit open house Saturday attracted an estimated 6,200 visitors, individuals who toured the site from shortly after 9 a.m. until almost 5 p.m. A ribbon cutting was conducted Saturday morning by Texas Department of Corrections board members prior to the 15 buildings at the site being opened to the public. Prisoners are due to arrive during the first week in August. (SDN Staff Photo)

Damage exceeds $10,000...

Pair arrested for cemetery damages

Two Scurry County men ages 19 and 18 were arrested Saturday night and charged with four felonies and a misdemeanor in connection with extensive vandalism damage caused Friday night at the Hermleigh and Pyron cemeteries, a Friday night break-in at Hermleigh School and the theft two months ago of two tombstones from Hermleigh Cemetery.

Arrested by sheriff's deputies at 9 p.m. Saturday at the sheriff's office following a day-long investigation, the suspects were identified as Abelino Leon, 19, of Rt. 2, Hermleigh, and Abel Campos, 18, of 2911 Ave. J in Snyder.

Bonds totaling $61,000 each have been set.

A deputy said up to 55 gravestones had been either turned over or broken at Hermleigh Cemetery and the same thing had been done to more than 100, with a greater percentage broken, at Pyron Cemetery about five miles southeast of Hermleigh.

Total damage was estimated at $4,728 at Hermleigh Cemetery and $5,754 at Pyron Cemetery.

The two gravestones that were stolen two months ago, valued at $1,200, had been recovered, the investigator said, along with a cam-corder and a record player that were stolen from Hermleigh

School.

He said some minor vandalism had been done inside the school, with desks rifled and trophies taken out of a trophy case and scattered.

The cemetery vandalism was believed to have taken place Friday night and early Saturday, and a large number of beer cans were reportedly found scattered in the Hermleigh Cemetery.

Rodeo's last night provides winners

Leaders from Thursday and Friday were not safe as eighteen of the money winning spots were not decided until Saturday's final performance of the Scurry County Rodeo.

The bareback event was a good example as all three top rides were made Saturday. Kenny McClanahan paced the bareback riders with a score of 78. McClanahan, a resident of Canadian, was followed closely by Billy McNally of Monahans with a 75 and Snyder's Adam Brewster with a 74. All three top scores were posted Saturday.

The calf roping results were also nailed down on Saturday with Tommy Guy of Abilene posting a 7.68. Boyd Roland and Kyle Boyd, both of Sweetwater, took second and third with times of 8.12 and 8.19 respectively.

Only two winners were tabbed in the Steer wrestling as Snyder's Perry Echol's pounded out an impressive 5.06 time followed by Terry Graff's 9.75. Graff hails from Ainsworth, Nebraska.

The three money winners in the team roping were crowned during Saturday's slack events. Ken Small and Jeff Medlin roped in a 4.16 time to take first place. Second place belongs to the team of Trey Pope and Ricky Joe Lee with a 4.66. Lee was also a part of one of the third place teams as he and Ricky Melman wrapped up a time of 5.03 to tie with Bob Simmons and Zane Bowers. No home towns were listed for the team ropers.

Odessa is the home of first place bull rider, Tye Watkins. Watkins finished with a 78 to claim the top spot. Brian Harmon's 74 and Kevin Reed's 73 were good enough for second and third places. Big Spring is home to Harmon and Reed is from New Braunfels. Snyderites Kyle Ham and Van Hale finished fourth and fifth, Ham with a 71 and Hale with a 69.

Joy Bassinger from Southland had the fastest time in the barrel racing with a 17.557. Gail's Lisa Ogden ran the route in 17.677 seconds to claim second position and Carol Covey of San Antonio took third with a time of 17.711 seconds. Bassinger and Ogden, both riding Saturday, took the top spot from Covey, who had been leading since Thursday.

New Mexico residents took the top two places in the breakaway roping as Portales' Tamara Tivis and Capitan's Sherry Gowens finished the event with only .01 separating them. Abilene's Lari Dee Guy ended up in third with a quick 2.72 time. Leslie Ward of Snyder, leading the event since Thursday, saw her 3.62 slide to fourth position after Saturday.

The Mutton bustin' was won by Russell Walls with a Saturday score of 84.

This year's three-day show marked the 54th annual observance of the rodeo in Scurry County.

Stock was again provided by Smokey Davis and the Rafter D Rodeo Company of Del Rio.

The local event is planned and sponsored by the stockholders of the Scurry County Rodeo Association.

County denies club aid

Citing budgetary constraints, county commissioners Monday turned down a request from the Snyder Park Club for $3,900 to help expand the group's Winston Park headquarters building.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin opened the discussion by saying next year's budget is already tight because of planned right-of-way purchases on the landfill road east of town and indigent health care expenses.

Pct. 2 Commissioner Tommy Pate said the court in past years could often afford to go outside the budget to grant such requests, but "we're strung out about as far as we can string out right now."

Pct. 4 Commissioner Ted Billingsley then said he would regretfully move to deny the request — a motion that passed unanimously.

Goodwin explained that along with the landfill road right-of-way purchases, to clear the way for the state's paving of the two-mile road, this year's budget projected $65,000 in indigent health care costs, and expenditures have already reached $115,000.

Pate had said the Park Club project is "a worthy cause, but I just don't see how we can help them right now."

Ask Us

Q — Is it a state law that all wrecking yards on main highways or streets be enclosed behind privacy fences?

A — All wrecking yards opened in Texas since 1973 and which are located within 1,000 ft. of a highway system must be "screened," a category which can include either trees, shrubbery or fencing. Those in existence before this law was implemented do not come under the requirement. In Snyder, there is a city ordinance requiring such facilities within the city limits to have a "solid, 8 ft. high fence."

In Brief

Murder, suicide

HOUSTON (AP) — A real estate investor used a pistol he had bought about a hour before to kill his wife and then himself at their home, police said.

Homicide Detective Brian Foster said Billy Krumbin bought a five-shot Rossi revolver for $170 at a nearby sporting goods store about 3:45 p.m. Sunday and later shot his wife, Ila Jean Krumbin, 46.

Krumbin, 58, and his wife died a few minutes before 5 p.m. at their home in southwest Houston.

"We don't know how long he had been home when the shooting started, but it was only a few minutes," Foster said.

Krumbin confronted his wife and fired all five shots from the .38-caliber pistol at her, striking her in the chest, Foster said.

Kilroy bond

DESOTO (AP) — A woman who offered to paint a portrait of slain drug-cult victim Mark Kilroy for his parents later lost her own son to a rare form of hepatitis.

Since then, James and Helen Kilroy have become a source of support to Lovita Irvy, the artist.

"I haven't met the Kilroys yet, but they've been so nice to me," said Ms. Irvy, whose 21-year-old son, Brian, died two months after Mark Kilroy's death was discovered in mid-April.

Cemetery aid

Pct. 3 Commissioner Ted Billingsley has issued a request for help in an all-day Tuesday project to help restore the Pyron Cemetery, which was vandalized over the weekend.

Billingsley said his road and bridge crew will be working there, along with area citizens, and that helping to right more than 100 gravestones and other clean-up work will require all the volunteer labor that can be mustered.

City to meet

There will be a budget work session Monday for the Snyder city council beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Saturday, 94 degrees; low 62 degrees; trace of precipitation. High Sunday, 85 degrees; low, 62 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Monday, 67 degrees; precipitation, trace. Total precipitation for 1989 to date, 6.74 inches.

Area Forecast: Mostly cloudy with scattered thunderstorms. Chance of rain 50 percent. Low in the mid 60s and high Tuesday in the mid 80s. Southeast winds 5 to 15 mph.

Willy Nilly's first cousin, as he played today's deal. After the opening lead, Nate was already contemplating overtricks when he played low from dummy. But East was uncooperative. He won the king of spades and switched to the nine of diamonds. Declarer played low. West won the queen and played a spade to dummy's ace. Nate led a heart back to his ace, East splitting his trump honors. Declarer now did the best he could. He played K-A and ruffed a club, played a heart to dummy's king and a diamond back to his ace (he was sure East had not led the diamond nine at trick two from K-9-8), and then put East on lead with a third trump. Unfortunately for Nate, East still had a low diamond, and he could play it to his partner's king for the setting trick.

Nate should forget about overtricks at the start, since he has an absolutely sure play to make his contract. Let him go up with the ace of spades, play A-K of hearts, then K-A of clubs and ruff a club. He can now play a second spade, giving up the lead. East has nothing better to do than play nine of diamonds, but now West is employed after he wins the queen. If he plays a black card, declarer will ruff in dummy while throwing his jack of diamonds away. If West plays a diamond, it will be into declarer's A-J.

The easiest time to fall victim to the dread disease of declarer carelessness is when the idea of the contract failing seems incredibly far-fetched. That's what happened to Nate Nearsight.

Japanese premier to resign after loss

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Souseke Uno today announced that he would resign after his scandal-plagued party suffered a stinging electoral defeat — losing control of a house of parliament for the first time in its 34 years.

The long-governing Liberal Democrats had seen their popularity plummet over the Recruit influence-peddling scandal, a new 3 percent sales tax and the liberalization of agriculture and their, which farmers say hurts their livelihood.

Uno, who has been prime minister for less than two months, said his party's loss of control of parliament's upper house in Sunday's balloting was ultimately his responsibility.

"It was a very difficult election," he told a nationally televised news conference, speaking calmly.

Uno had been criticized by women's groups and others for his alleged extramarital affairs with women including a geisha who said he paid her to be his mistress for several months.

He said he hoped a successor could be found "promptly." Analysts said they expect the process to take at least several weeks.

Uno's resignation will result in the dissolution of the entire Cabinet and a restructuring of the governing party's leadership.

In Sunday's polls for half the 252 seats in parliament's upper house, the big winner was the opposition Japan Socialist Party, which is led by Takasaki Doi, the first woman head of a major Japanese political party.

Kyodo News Service projected that the Socialists had won 45 seats and the Liberal Democrats 36 — dropping the governing party's presence in the chamber from 142 to 109 seats. The Socialists' new seat total was projected at 66.

Rengo (Confederation), a new labor-based group, was projected to receive 11 seats and the centrist Komeito (Clean Government Party) 10, with the rest split among smaller parties. Final returns were expected this evening.

Mrs. Doi said her party would quickly call a meeting of opposition leaders to form a coalition against the Liberal Democrats, who still hold 293 of the 512 seats in parliament's more powerful lower house.

While most major opposition parties have called for an abolition of the unpopular new sales tax, they vary broadly on other issues such as defense policy, relations with the United States and nuclear power, and any opposition coalition is expected to be fragile.

With the loss of their majority in the upper house, however, the Liberal Democrats will face greater difficulties in passing legislation.

The upper chamber can vote down bills and can delay but not block the budget and treaties. Differences between bills passed by the two houses must be ironed out by a conference committee.

Ms. Doi said the Socialists' first priority would be to pass a bill in the upper house abolishing the unpopular sales tax. Such a bill is unlikely to be approved by the lower house, however, and a standstill over the issue could add to pressure for early elections for the lower chamber.

A loss in the lower house would threaten the governing party's 34-year hold on power since that chamber chooses the prime minister.

Uno became prime minister June 2 after former Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita resigned to take responsibility for a scandal in which the Recruit Co., a publishing conglomerate, allegedly distributed millions of dollars in underpriced stocks and political donations to obtain favors.

In four states...

Man arrested for slayings

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Authorities say they are pleased to have arrested a man wanted for questioning in connection with fatal shootings in four states, including Texas.

"I'm sure it's comforting to the families to know that he is in custody," Carter County Assistant District Attorney Gary Henry said Sunday.

Lawton police arrested Michael Frank Greene, 37, at the emergency room of Comanche County Memorial Hospital in Lawton on Sunday after he had gone there for treatment of an undisclosed back injury.

"We received a tip that he was there so we sent officers over there and yes, he was there," Lawton police officer Dan Borders told The Daily Oklahoman.

District Attorney Fred Collins said murder charges were filed against Greene late Sunday afternoon in Carter County District Court.

Collins said one count of first-degree murder, two counts of shooting with intent to kill and two counts of robbery with a firearm were filed against Greene.

The charges were filed in connection with the robbery of an Ardmore flower shop on Friday that left one woman dead and two others wounded.

Ardmore Assistant Police Chief David Willingham said that one of the survivors, Joann Bean, identified Greene, 37, as the man who shot her, Gwenn Miller and Mary Manning on Friday.

Ms. Bean, who was listed in good condition Sunday at an Oklahoma City hospital, made the identification Saturday night from her hospital bed, where she was shown photographs of Greene, he said.

Mrs. Miller died. Ms. Manning was in serious but stable condition Sunday at another Oklahoma City hospital. All three women were shot in the head as they lay on the flower shop floor.

Greene also was being sought for questioning in connection with recent killings in Kansas and Texas and two killings in Indiana in March, authorities said.

All four victims in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas were killed with a bullet in the back of the head, according to Les Weaver, a Texas highway patrol dispatcher.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 79-year-old father has a mild case of Parkinson's disease. He's currently on Sinemet. He has no sex drive and tires easily. Are these symptoms of the disease, old age, medication or diet?

DEAR READER: Maybe all four. Patients with Parkinson's disease may experience a loss of energy and sexual drive (libido), as will most people with a chronic affliction.

Aging people commonly feel less sexy. They have less libido and are less able to perform satisfactorily. Their energy levels may be depleted.

Sinemet, a drug commonly used to treat Parkinson's disease, can cause a faltering sex drive. Unfortunately, in some rare cases, it can cause hot flashes and permanent erections, too. Weakness and fatigue are side effects of the medicine.

Poor diet and malnutrition are also common causes of fatigue and loss of libido.

Although your father may be experiencing the consequences of his disease, his age, the medicine and his diet, he could be helped. His doctor can advise you about further testing to determine the cause of the problems; then he can consider therapy, such as the use of hormones or a change in the dose of Sinemet.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Several of us in the office are wondering how hormones should be taken. While I take one course, my friend takes a different quantity. The Physicians' Desk Reference is different still. We're very confused.

DEAR READER: By "hormones," I assume you mean the female hormones, estrogen and progesterin.

These substances are used to replace deficiencies that are common in women after menopause. Their purpose is to relieve symptoms of menopause (such as difficult intercourse, hot flashes and emotional lability), to retard calcium-loss from bones and (in some women) to protect against certain forms of cancer. Also, scientific studies suggest that hormones may protect some women against arteriosclerotic heart disease.

Hormones can be given by injection or in creams, patches and pills. The form of administration and the dose depend on many factors, including the reasons for hormone supplementation and the patient's and doctor's preferences. This is a personal decision and each case must be judged individually.

Don't be confused. Ask your doctor why you are taking a specific formulation and dose. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Menopause." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Search stepped up for DC-10 engine

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — Investigators stepped up a hunt for pieces of the rear engine from United's ill-fated DC-10, training infrared cameras on cornfields 60 miles from the crash site and asking farmers to search their land.

At Sioux Gateway Airport, officials on Sunday were painstakingly reassembling the tail section of Flight 232 in hopes of determining what caused the jet to lose hydraulic power and tumble out of control across the runway. In Denver, meanwhile, a United official told about 200 people at a service for survivors and victims that it was time for healing after Wednesday's crash.

"There is little to say to ease the sadness. We at United feel deeply your pain and loss. We have lost members of the United family. And we offer thanks for those who were spared," said Capt. William Traub, United's vice president of flight standards in Denver.

Authorities were beginning to return home the bodies of crash victims. A spokesman for Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad said more than 20 bodies had been sent home by Sunday.

According to a list compiled with information from United, relatives and employers, 105 people were confirmed dead and five were still listed as missing. Another 186 passengers survived the crash, United said.

Hospital officials said 40 people remained hospitalized.

Jim Burnett, a member of the National Transportation Safety Board, said farmers in a 16-square-mile section about 60 miles northeast of the crash site were being asked to look for parts, including the missing engine fan.

Poll reveals majority favor legal abortions

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans by nearly a 2-1 margin are inclined to oppose anti-abortion candidates for their state legislatures and to support legal abortion in their states, a national poll has found.

As lawmakers across the country prepare to take up new abortion laws, 38 percent of respondents to the Media General-Associated Press poll said they would be less likely to vote for a candidate who firmly opposes abortion.

The same number said abortion wouldn't matter much in their vote, while the smallest group — about two in 10 — said they would be more apt to vote for a candidate who took a strong anti-abortion position.

Moreover, 63 percent of the 1,163 adults polled said they would want abortion to be legal in their state if the U.S. Supreme Court reversed its 1973 ruling that made abortion a constitutional right and let each state make its own abortion laws.

That support for legal abortion was up slightly from 57 percent in an MG-AP poll in March. Similarly, support for the 1973 ruling in the Roe vs. Wade case was up to 59 percent, from 53 percent.

While those increases were within the poll's margin of error, similar movement in several questions indicated a slight rise in pro-choice opinion since the high court decision July 3 that permitted states to increase restrictions on abortion.

The new survey, conducted July 7-16, had a margin of error of plus or minus three percentage points.

While most respondents expressed general support for legal abortion, they were split on specific restrictions permitted in the recent Supreme Court ruling.

Among those findings: —Sixty-five percent said abortions at public hospitals should be legal, but that fell to 51 percent when respondents were asked specifically about abortions that are not required to save the mother's life. The Supreme Court said states can ban such abortions from public hospitals.

—Respondents split about evenly on whether it should be legal for public health employees to perform or assist in abortions. The court said that, too, can be barred by the states when the mother's life is not at risk.

—Respondents strongly supported mandatory pre-abortion tests to see if fetuses that are at least 20 weeks old can survive outside the womb, with 62 percent in favor. The high court said such tests can be required.

—By 54-38 percent, with 8 percent undecided, respondents said it should be legal to use public funds to counsel women about the availability of abortion. The court left that issue undecided.

U.S. diplomat under probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — With U.S. officials remaining tight-lipped about the investigation of a top diplomat suspected of passing information to the Soviets, the emerging picture is one of a frustrated bureaucrat who may have aroused intelligence doubts a decade ago.

Administration, legislative and law enforcement officials skirted questions Sunday about the probe of Felix S. Bloch, the former second-in-command at the U.S. Embassy in Austria for seven years.

Bloch is the target of an intelligence probe, making him the highest-ranking U.S. official ever implicated in an espionage investigation involving the Soviet Union.

Bloch, who has not been charged with any crime, reportedly was filmed by U.S. officials earlier this year passing a briefcase to a known Soviet KGB agent in a European capital.

The State Department and the FBI are "pursuing the inquiry thoroughly in order to identify the compromised security which has occurred and the appropriate steps," the State Department said. Bloch's building pass and security clearance have been lifted.

"My directions are really not to comment on this case," an FBI spokesman said Sunday. "You're talking about security matters."

Although reports remained sketchy, the picture was emerging of a 54-year-old career diplomat who was frustrated by his lack of advancement while serving in Vienna under two political appointees.

Vienna, because of geography, traditionally has been a hotbed for East-West spy activity.

Bloch's close friend, Austrian Foreign Minister Alois Mock, was quoted Sunday as saying he heard about the recent allegations of espionage through Austrian channels three weeks before the news broke in Washington on Friday.

Mock said in the Austrian tabloid Kurier there was "a certain suspicion on the U.S. side reaching back into the 1970s" about Bloch's activities.

Bloch also served in the newly opened U.S. Embassy in East Berlin in 1974 as economic counselor, having been transferred from West Berlin.

Bloch's neighbors in an upper-class neighborhood in Washington told reporters that Bloch, who had been under obvious surveillance by the FBI until news accounts of the spy probe aired late Friday, had not been seen since then.

ABC News reported Sunday night he was under the FBI's watch at a private home north of New York City with his wife and daughter.

By all accounts, Bloch, born in Austria, had access to sensitive intelligence material during his career, and officials expressed concern he could cause serious damage to U.S. interests if he shared his secrets with foreign powers.

But those who knew Bloch well ruled out spying for money or ideology. Mock said he was "deeply shaken and really shattered" by the allegations.

Sources told ABC that Bloch claimed he spied because he fell into a Soviet sex trap but that investigators have discounted the story.

Some sources pointed to Bloch's frustration over having been passed over for an ambassadorship after serving under political appointees in Austria and running the embassy in Vienna for a time.

One of the ambassadors Bloch served was Helene von Damm, an Austrian-born political appointee by former President Reagan who caused a scandal in Viennese society by marrying Peter Guertler, a hotel owner. She resigned in June 1985, citing speculation that her marriage constituted a conflict of interest with her diplomatic duties. Bloch ran the embassy after Von Damm resigned until Ronald S. Lauder arrived almost a year later.

Hunt brothers' tax suit begins for third week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson Bunker Hunt says he's trying to forget the spring of 1980, when his silver-buying binge crashed to an end and began unraveling one of the world's greatest fortunes.

He used to be in the oil business, in ranching and farming, he told U.S. Tax Court Judge Jules G. Korner III. "Lately, it's hiring lawyers and defending lawsuits."

The Hunt brothers' tax case begins its third week today and is expected to last about a month.

Bunker Hunt is contesting $155 million in 1982 taxes the Internal Revenue Service says are owed from the dissolution of a partnership set up to pay off the brothers' debts.

His brother William Herbert is contesting more than $158 million in 1982 taxes, while younger brother Lamar, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs football team, is contesting $505,377 in taxes.

Bunker testified Friday, "I don't go around trying to remember what happened in the spring of 1980. It caused me tremendous losses, it caused me tax problems."

Mother's Patience Grows Thin With Strangers' Cruel Stares

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, age 11, is seriously overweight. She is an adorable child who is bright, outgoing and has a terrific personality, and the people who know her think she's wonderful.

This child has suffered a lot from her peers, who at times can be very cruel, but adults are the cruelest of all. When we are out for the evening or shopping, adults actually stop and stare, point and whisper. Each time, I cringe, then I get angry. They look at me with such expressions of disgust on their faces, as though to say, "How could you have allowed this to happen to that child?"

Abby, strangers do not know that I have had my daughter to more doctors than I can count, including a year and a half of therapy. We joined Overeaters Anonymous and we still live the 12-step program in our daily lives. (I have always been overweight, too.) We go to the spa and either ride bikes or go for long walks several times a week, and watch what we eat, avoiding cholesterol, sugar and fats.

Our society is so obsessed with being thin that overweight people are abused even after death. One local headline read a few years ago: "The Naked Body of a 200-Pound Woman Found at the Bottom of a Mine Shaft!" Never have I read the weight of a thin victim in bold print. That poor woman was a victim in more ways than one — and so were her loved ones.

Abby, please tell your readers that overweight people have feelings, too. Most are just like thin people — loving, kind and caring.

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are speaking for many. Perhaps those cruel or simply thoughtless people who stare, point or make fun of overweight people will see this and change their ways. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to thank the person who sewed two pennies in the lining of a silk suit I purchased to wear to the funeral of my beloved mother. She passed away last January. We were very close, and talked on the phone or saw each other every day of our lives.

During the funeral services, my sorrow was beyond comprehension. When I jammed my hand into the pocket, I felt something in the lining. I finally worked out the two pennies someone had sewn in there to wish a stranger good luck.

It gave me such a wonderful feeling, I had to smile through my tears. May I use your column to thank that person?

LORETTA HILLIARD, MANSFIELD, OHIO

DEAR LORETTA: You just did. Please accept my condolences on the loss of your beloved mother, and add my 2 cents' worth of "good luck" to match those of the anonymous stranger.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I hear about a man who asks his wife to pack his suitcase for him, I'm reminded of the following story:

A man called his wife from his office and told her that he was going on a weekend fishing trip, so would she please pack his overnight case. Then he added, "And please don't forget to put in my nice new robe."

After he returned from the trip, he said to his wife, "I thought I asked you to pack my robe — I couldn't find it."

His wife replied, "I put it in your tackle box."

Texas hispanics voting democrat

AUSTIN (AP) — In next year's statewide elections, "Quiero su voto," meaning "I want your vote," may be the popular motto among candidates.

Every seventh Texas voter registered as a Democrat is Hispanic, and many of the various candidates have been taking crash courses in Spanish to attract those 1.2 million ballots.

For example, a year ago, Democratic state Sens. Chet Edwards of Duncanville and Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth traveled to Mexico for crash courses in Spanish, the Austin American-Statesman said Sunday.

Edwards, who is running for lieutenant governor, studied the language 12 hours per day — and spoke English for only 10 minutes during a two-week program in Mexico City.

Parmer, who is challenging U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, spent four weeks in Cuernavaca, taking classes while living with a Mexican family.

"Everyone can read the demographic tea leaves," said state Rep. Dan Morales, a San Antonio Democrat running for attorney general.

Bush winning better marks

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Bush, rebounding from negative reviews early in his presidency, is now winning good marks after two successful trips to Europe and a general sense of economic well-being at home.

The president is "a late bloomer," says one analyst.

At the 100-day point, Bush was criticized as being too cautious, unimaginative and unwilling to compete with Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

After six months in office, Bush basks in praise for winning sup-

Starr concert family affair

DALLAS (AP) — Yes, kids still scream when a Beatle performs. Only now, their parents are often screaming alongside them.

When Ringo Starr kicked off his first-ever solo concert tour on Sunday night, he was playing to a concert audience dominated by "Baby Boomers."

One woman who had brought her two young daughters said, "My kids don't even know who Ringo Starr is, but they will after tonight."

The concert's promoters made it a family occasion for many by giving free admission to children 12 and under who were accompanied by adults.

The 49-year-old Starr, the first Beatle to become a grandfather, was backed by what was billed as his "All-Starr Band." And those appearing on the star-studded stage set indeed were a celestial aggregation.

The rhythm section was especially strong, with Ringo taking over one of three drum sets after singing out front for the first three songs. Flanking Ringo were Jim Keltner, who had played along with John Lennon and George Harrison solo efforts, and Levon Helm, who was a drummer for the Band.

Handling keyboards were Billy Preston, who had an ongoing involvement for the Beatles, and Dr. John.

Saxman Clarence Clemons and guitarist-keyboardist Nils Lofgren, enjoying a respite from Bruce Springsteen's E-Street Band, also were in the band that Starr assembled four months ago.

Ex-Eagle Joe Walsh was also on guitar, and Starr sang his "Life's Been Good."

Starr probably shouldn't have wondered but he asked the crowd after the first song if they know who he was.

"Hello, Dallas, what's my name?" he shouted.

The yell "Ringo" roared out of the open amphitheater and across North Dallas.

The former Beatles drummer was wearing a star-trimmed jacket in his first public appearance since a 1986 guest role with the Beach Boys in Washington, D.C.

port at a NATO summit for a U.S. plan to reduce conventional arms in Europe, and for traveling to Poland and Hungary to encourage democratic reforms.

"He's actually done well after a halting beginning," said Thomas Cronin, a presidential scholar at Colorado College.

Cronin said Bush was "aided enormously by the fact that the Democrats in Congress were in disarray" as House Speaker Jim Wright of Texas and House Whip Tony Coelho of California struggled with ethical problems and their resignations. "There was no challenge to his leadership."

After losing a battle with Congress for confirmation of John Tower as secretary of defense, Bush came back with a decisive victory on his veto of a $1.20 increase in the minimum wage.

"He's obviously in a lot better shape than he was at 100 days," said Stephen Hess, a presidential scholar at the Brookings Institution. "He's had two awfully good trips abroad and when a president travels abroad, he gets an awful lot of attention."

Larry Sabato, the University of Virginia political scientist who called Bush a late bloomer, said, "It's as though there's a second honeymoon at the six-month point."

"It's tied to real successes, particularly in the foreign sphere, and things are going reasonably well abroad and at home," Sabato said. "The economy may be slow but it's not in recession. There's no war or threat of it, and things appear to be going in our direction."

At the White House, Bush's chief of staff, John Sununu, said, "It's nice to see the beginning of a response that everybody hoped there would be."

Polls show Bush has a positive rating of 66 to 73 percent, which puts him ahead of Ronald Reagan at this point in his presidency.

Public Notice

On July 17, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to add a new service offering for business customers, called Customer Billing Reports (Toll Summaries). The proposed effective date for this offering is September 11, 1989.

Four reports will be offered to provide toll detail based upon information from the customer's long distance usage billed by SWBT. These reports, which are entitled Usage Summaries, Billing Number Summary, Number Called Summary and International Call Detail, will include both intraLATA usage provided by SWBT and interLATA usage provided by Interexchange Carrier (IC) and billed by SWBT. These reports will be provided to customers for a charge and customers may order these reports on a monthly, quarterly, semiannually or annually basis.

CUSTOMER BILLING REPORTS (TOLL SUMMARIES) PROPOSED RATES
One Report	$25.00
Two Reports	$50.00
Three or Four Reports	$75.00

NOTE: All rates shown are per billing account number, per occurrence of report production.

Customer Billing Reports (Toll Summaries) have been forecasted to generate an increase in first year annual revenues of approximately $282,983.

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by September 1, 1989. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Your Birthday

July 25, 1989

A rewarding year could be in the offing where you should be able to express and put your innovative ideas to profitable uses. However, your successes won't be due to your efforts alone.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something you'll do today will provide you with a solid sense of achievement and pride, yet you might be a tad disappointed when the praise you expect from others doesn't come easily. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Although you'll be extremely popular with others today, you must still take care that you don't inadvertently say something that could hurt someone's feelings. Think before speaking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Shifts in conditions tend to work out for your ultimate benefit today, so don't be disturbed if changes not of your own making are foisted upon you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your quick wit and skills as a mediator will come into play today to avert an altercation between two friends. You'll have them chuckling over the matter in spite of their selves.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Even though your mind isn't likely to be totally focused on your assignments today, you'll still do a surprisingly effective job. With more dedication, however, you could do even better.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A day on the town with select, fun friends could be an excellent tonic for you today. However, take care you don't get involved in frivolous, extravagant activities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you keep your mind off yourself today, you'll be able to spot more opportunities in which you can be included. Self-centeredness inhibits your vision instead of enhancing it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll perform better today if you have to match your strides against a busy schedule. This is one of those times it's to your advantage to push yourself a bit.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions that affect your status and material well being are favorable today, provided you don't go out of your way to seek favors. Take advantage of that which is unsolicited.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Although your intentions might be otherwise, you are still apt to goad others into competing against you today. You're likely to enjoy the action, but they may not.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your head may be a bit in the clouds today and your thought processes might lack practicality. Things should work out OK, however, because others will be there to back you up.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The secret to your success today is to sincerely want the same things for others that you wish for yourself. Thinking in terms of "we" makes you a winner.

Rangers come from behind to defeat Yankees 4 straight

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Dallas Green had no more of a clue than anyone else how the New York Yankees managed to lose their sixth straight game when left-hander Chuck Cary was within one batter of a one-hit 4-0 shutout.

"If I could explain it, I would. But I can't. You watched it," the Yankees manager said.

Three straight hits, including a two-run homer by Ruben Sierra, tied the game at 4-4 in the bottom of the ninth, and a two-base throwing error by New York rightfielder Jesse Barfield in the 10th gave the Rangers a 5-4 victory Sunday night in the seventh of the four-game series.

Bobby Witt, 9-8, won for the fourth straight time, striking out 11 and allowing only four hits. He retired 12 of the first 13 batters he faced, then was rocked in the fifth inning for four runs on three hits, including Roberto Kelly's 3-run homer. After that, he settled down again, setting down 17 of the final 18 Yankees he faced, allowing a walk in the 10th inning. "You have to give the Rangers credit. They're the kind of team I'd like to have. We will, somewhere down the line," Green said.

Cary allowed just one hit over the first eight innings — a first-inning single by Scott Fletcher — and was looking for his first major-league complete game.

With one out in the ninth, he walked pinch-hitter Rick Leach, then got pinch-hitter Thad Bosley to hit a hard grounder that had the appearance of a game-ending double play. But first baseman Don Mattingly booted the ball and had to settle for an unassisted play on Bosley, as Leach moved to second.

When Fletcher doubled to the gap in left center, cutting New York's lead to 4-1, Green brought in reliever Dave Righetti for Cary.

Simultaneously, Rangers manager Bobby Valentine was motioning to Witt.

"He told me we were going to tie it up, that I was going back out," Witt said. "I was ready. I had more than enough left. The guys in the dugout were saying we did it against Minnesota from six down in the ninth, and we could do it here."

Julio Franco greeted Righetti with a single to left, and Sierra drove a pitch 410 feet into the left centerfield bleachers. It was Sierra's 16th homer, and the two RBIs gave him 70 for the season, tying him with Franco for the American League lead.

"When Julio got his hit, it gave me a chance to do something. I just wanted a chance to get a hit and keep it going," Sierra said.

"I was just looking for something over the plate. I'd been swinging at bad pitches all night. When I hit the ball, I said to myself, 'now we're going to win the game,'" Sierra said.

In the bottom of the 10th, Rafael Palmeiro drew a one-out walk from Righetti, 2-3, and advanced to second on Cecil Espy's ground single to right.

Palmeiro had rounded second and was headed back to the bag when Barfield's wild throw flew over third baseman Tom Brookens' head and skipped into the stands sending the Yankees to their sixth straight loss.

"I came up and charged the ball like I normally do and it just took off," said Barfield, who leads all major league outfielders with 16 assists. "I tried to hit the target and it just went over his head. I feel bad for the team when we lose like that. It's a brutal feeling."

Cary said Green "did the right thing" in replacing him with Righetti.

"If a guy can get a shutout, let him get it. When he loses it, bring in the stopper. If you bring him (Righetti) in 100 more times in that situation, it wouldn't happen again," Cary said.

"Everyone's going crazy and you think it (something bad) is going to happen, then it happens. I feel bad for not getting the win but I feel terrible for Rags (Righetti)," Cary said.

Dallas reports to first camp with new coach

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys begin their first workout in pads without Tom Landry today, when new coach Jimmy Johnson takes a look at what he's got in an afternoon workout in preparation for a Wednesday scrimmage against the Los Angeles Raiders.

Rookies and some veterans reported to the 30th Dallas Cowboys' training camp on Sunday but quarterback Steve Walsh, the number one pick in the NFL's supplemental draft was among the no-shows.

Johnson said Walsh, whom he coached in college at Miami, wouldn't be in camp until he had a contract. Walsh is asking a contract similar to the $11.037 million which top draft pick Troy Aikman received.

"I would hope that we would be close to signing Steve by the middle of the week," Johnson said. "One way or the other he won't be here until he signs."

Walsh said the Cowboys have received offers from four teams.

"There is still a chance of a trade and we prefer to do something now if something is going to happen," Johnson said. "I'd still say the percentages are leaning toward him being with the Dallas Cowboys."

Johnson added "We've had three offers and a fourth we didn't entertain. I have no idea what's going to happen but I do know the quality of Steve Walsh. We know what he's capable of doing."

The Cowboys picked Walsh after Atlanta, which had the selection ahead of Dallas, passed.

"I'm still in a fog why Atlanta didn't get him," Johnson said.

LeMond claims 2nd Tour De France win

PARIS (AP) — Greg LeMond tried to become just another American in Paris, taking in the Moulin Rouge, the famed French night club.

But he had a hard time going unnoticed. Less than six hours earlier on Sunday, he had won the Tour de France, the famed French cycling race, to complete a miraculous comeback.

And he won the 2,020-mile, 23-day race by the closest victory margin ever — eight seconds over Laurent Fignon of France. After 315,515 seconds of competition, LeMond, the only American to ever win the Tour de France, won his second.

So, it's no surprise he was greeted by applause at the Moulin Rouge. Or was recognized at a local McDonald's when he went for a quick snack.

In 1986 LeMond prevailed in cycling's most famous race in a French-dominated sport.

Then he went through misfortune. In April 1987 he was accidentally shot by his brother-in-law while hunting. Then he had an emergency appendectomy followed by shin surgery. All of which made him miss the Tour de France in 1987 and 1988.

He came back this year with low expectations.

"One month ago, I didn't think I would be in the top 10, top 20," LeMond said. "But through the race I got more confident." He kept performing well. He

Bench, Yaz induction into Hall set for today

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — It took Johnny Bench and Carl Yastrzemski no time to get used to the sound of being called Hall of Famers.

Not that they always expected it.

"I had no idea that the Hall of Fame was waiting for me," Bench said. "I don't think any-youngster ever dreams of that or ever thinks that's possible." On Sunday, however, it was all very real as Bench and Yastrzemski took their places in the Hall of Fame along with Veterans Committee selections Red Schoendienst and umpire Al Barlick.

A record crowd of more than 25,000 jammed tiny Cooperstown to see the new Hall of Famers and such returning stars as Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Bob Feller, Ernie Banks, Willie McCovey and Ralph Kiner.

"I've done a lot of reflecting on why I was elected," Yastrzemski, who played all 23 years for the Boston Red Sox, said. "I was not blessed with great God-given talents, so I had to work twice as hard every day. When I put that Red Sox uniform on, I gave 100 percent."

Bench and Yastrzemski are the 18th and 19th players elected in the first year of eligibility.

Bench, the leader of Cincinnati's Big Red Machine, and Yastrzemski, the only American Leaguer to have 3,000 hits and 400-plus homers, had big numbers and much more.

Bench received 431 votes from 447 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Yastrzemski got 423 votes.

In order to be elected to the Hall of Fame, a player must be named on 75 percent of the ballots cast. Of the record 447 ballots cast this year, a player needed 336 votes for election.

Bench got 96.4 percent and Yastrzemski 94.63. Only Ty Cobb, 98.2 percent, and Hank Aaron, 97.9, received higher percentages than Bench.

Yastrzemski's percentage was the seventh-highest ever after Honus Wagner (95.13), Babe Ruth (95.13) and Willie Mays (94.67).

Bench won the Gold Glove for 10 consecutive years and hit 389 homers, including a major league-record 327 as a catcher.

He was Rookie of the Year in 1969 and the National League's MVP in 1970 and 1972. And in 1975 and 1976, he helped the Reds win the World Series.

While Bench was ticketed for stardom, Yastrzemski had to replace Williams as Boston's left fielder.

Yaz, as he came to be known, finished with 452 homers, 1,844 RBIs and 3,419 hits.

Yastrzemski was the first player in the history of the game to get at least 100 hits every season for his first 20 seasons.

Yaz was named to 18 All-Star teams, won seven Gold Gloves, and captured the American League's MVP Award in 1967, when he won the Triple Crown and led Boston to the "Impossible Dream" pennant.

In 19 seasons as a slick-fielding second baseman, mostly for the Cardinals, Schoendienst hit .289. He also managed St. Louis to two pennants and the World Series championship in 1967.

Barlick, known for his booming voice behind the plate, worked 27 full seasons as an umpire and part of another in the National League after coming up at 25 in 1940.

Barlick called seven World Series and seven All-Star Games before retiring after the 1971 season.

Chicago Cubs broadcaster Harry Caray accepted the Ford C. Frick Award, and the J.G. Taylor Spink Award went to sportswriters Bob Hunter of the Los Angeles Daily News and the late Ray Kelly.

"In my mind, the fans are the upcoming heroes," Caray said. "The players come and go, but the game goes on."

Snyder also fell to the Abilene A's, 5-3, in other action. Snyder got 6 hits against the A's including doubles by John Wright and Lee Hamilton.

The Snyder senior teens will compete in the state tournament beginning Aug. 1 in Mt. Pleasant.

British Open winner is finally an American

TROON, Scotland (AP) — An American has won the British Open at last.

All that was missing was the apple pie.

The flag was there on Sunday, the Stars and Stripes hanging proudly beside the silver claret jug that goes to the winner of the oldest of all golf tournaments.

Motherhood was even in the of-fing, as new champion Mark Calcavecchia talked about his pregnant wife back in West Palm Beach, Fla.

"I called her right after the final hole and she was crying up a storm," the 29-year-old Calcavecchia said. "I was just about ready to ask, and she said, 'No, I haven't had the baby yet.' I thought, 'If I sent her into labor with this.' But it could happen any minute. It's time to get home."

The home hole of Royal Troon was where Calcavecchia added his name to the list of Open champions by beating Australians Greg Norman and Wayne Grady in a four-hole playoff after they had finished four rounds tied at 13-under-par 275.

With Norman picking up after hitting out of bounds to finish another near miss in a major, and Grady bogeying three of the playoff holes after leading the tournament for almost two rounds, Calcavecchia became the first American winner of the Open since Tom Watson in 1983.

He said he was proud to end the losing streak.

"I thought about it quite a bit," Calcavecchia said. "Practicing before the playoff started, I said to myself, 'Man, it's been a long time since an American won it.' I had to get an American name back on that trophy. I had to do it for our Tour."

"I know there are a lot of happy people back in the U.S."

Calcavecchia started the day three strokes behind Grady, with five players between him and the top of one of the most tightly bunched fields in recent Open history.

He birdied the par-5 16th, and then rapped in a 5-foot putt for a final birdie at the 18th. He was tied with Norman, who finished early with a course-record 64. But both were one shot behind Grady, for the time being.

"I went in to sign my scorecard and I heard the crowd groan," he said. Grady had just bogeyed the 17th, missing a par putt by inches.

"I went out and watched Wayne play 18, and I'm in the playoff," Calcavecchia said.

On the last playoff hole, Calcavecchia was tied for the lead.

Norman, one of the biggest hitters in golf, sent his drive screaming down the right side of the fairway. It hit on ground left hard by weeks of sun and little rain and rolled 30-40 yards into a steeply banked fairway bunker.

Then he hit the ball into another bunker.

A desperation shot sailed through the green and out of bounds. Add Troon '89 to Augusta '87, Winged Foot '84 and so many other sites where Norman has been close, but not close enough.

Grady bogeyed again, two-putting from four feet, and Calcavecchia, his approach shot resting six feet from the pin, was all but official.

One tap sent the ball home and Calcavecchia was the unexpected champion.

Tom Watson finished two strokes behind the playoff trio at 277, but an even-par 72 in the final round cost him any chance of a record-tying sixth Open victory.

Another American, Jodie Mudd, was next at 70-278, followed at 72-279 by Fred Couples and David Feherty of Northern Ireland, the top European in a tournament European golfers have dominated in recent years.

WTC to host golf tourney

Local and area golfers are invited to register for an individual player tournament, scheduled July 29-30 at Western Texas College.

Entry fee is $45. The event will be pre-flighted into six flights, depending upon the number of entries. All handicaps will be verified and tee times will be posted Friday, July 28.

Also planned is a Senior Flight for golfers age 60 and over.

The entry deadline is July 27. Prizes include 1989 Dawia Monodyn irons for first place; Advisor Medal woods for second place; Dawia Sunday Golf Bags for third place and a dozen balls and a shag bag for fourth place.

For reservations, write or call the WTC Golf Shop, Snyder, Tx. 79549, (915) 573-9291.

WTC boosters to meet tonight

Western Texas College Booster Club meets at Golden Corral tonight for a Dutch treat dinner. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend the 7 p.m. meeting.

All-Stars entertain Coleman

"We're going to get to go ahead and play tonight just like we scheduled." Those were the words of Snyder Little League president Monte West commenting early today on the chances of continuing the District 5 tournament.

A state district judge's ruling Friday put the continuation of the tourney in jeopardy but the Monday game will go on as planned.

Snyder's Little League All-Stars will take to the field this evening against Cisco. The game is slated to get under way at 8 p.m. at Logan field in Towle Park.

Abilene Dixie will face Coleman in Coleman, also on Monday, in other District 5 action. Winners in the series in Snyder and Coleman will face-off on July 27 for the district title.

Snyder is the only unbeaten squad in the double elimination tournament. With no losses on their record, Snyder would have to be beaten twice to be ousted from the tourney.

Coleman and Abilene Dixie have each suffered a loss, so each team's continuing depends on a Monday win.

Sweetwater hosts Buffs

The Snyder Buffs, champions of the local Junior Teenage League, begin district play tonight against Sweetwater in Sweetwater. The Buffs battle is set to start at 8:30 p.m.

The opening game of the tournament pits Colorado City against Tye. That contest is scheduled to commence at 5:30 p.m.

The two winners will play Tuesday at 2 p.m. and the losers will play Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. The 8:30 game on Tuesday will star the loser of the 2 p.m. game and the winner of the 5:30 game.

Wednesday will see the winners from the Tuesday 2 and 8:30 games collide for the crown.

Congress eyes summer recess

Obituaries

Thelma Fay Sims Miller Price

Services for Thelma Fay Sims, 84, are set for 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church Auditorium with Rev. Jerry Neill, of First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be at Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Cypert Seale Funeral Home.

A 63-year resident of Scurry County, Mrs. Sims died Saturday at 10 p.m. at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

She was born Feb. 5, 1905 in Oklahoma City, and she grew up in Haskell County.

She graduated from Baylor University in 1926.

She married Wraymond D. Sims on March 21, 1926 in Waco, and moved to Snyder the same year. He died in April of 1966.

Sims was a housewife and a member of First Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by one son, Bill Sims, in 1976.

Sims is survived by two daughters, Beth Brunson of Snyder and Ginny Griffith of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia; three sons, Robert Sims of Snyder, Darrell Sims of Corpus Christi, and Ben Sims of Ring Gold, La.; two sisters, Wanda Stinson of Dallas and Eula King of For-sythe, Mo.; 18 grandchildren; and 24 great-grandchildren.

Friends are contributing to the American Cancer Society or a favorite charity.

Services are set for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church Auditorium for Miller Price, 64, who died Saturday at his cabin on Lake Cisco.

Rev. Jerry Neill of First Baptist Church will officiate with Rev. John Fenton assisting.

Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Garden under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

Born in Ira on July 2, 1925, he married Dorothy Moore June 8, 1950 in Snyder. She survives.

Price served in the Coast Guard during World War II, and he retired in 1985 from Texas-New Mexico Pipeline Inc.

He lived in Midland for 19 years and then moved to San Angelo for eight years. He returned to Midland and lived there for another three years.

He was a member of First Baptist Church in Midland, a member of Midland Rose Society and a member of the Elks Lodge.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; two daughters, Debbie Woods of Midland and Rene Abraham of Lubbock; and six grandchildren, Shannon, Rachel, Lindsey, Alex, Ashley and Kyle.

Price is also survived by three sisters, Verna Foree, Wana Fisher and Mary McCown, all of Snyder; and a mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Moore, also of Snyder.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on Capitol Hill reaches a frenzied level this week as lawmakers seek to pass a flurry of money bills, grapple with how much to spend on the stealth bomber and clear other legislative tangles before going on summer vacation.

Leading the agenda in both the House and Senate is legislation laying out Pentagon spending priorities for the coming year. President Bush will be lobbying House members against an effort to either freeze production of the B-2 bomber, known as the stealth because of its radar-eluding capabilities, or cut the number to be built from eight per year to two.

Meanwhile, a House subcommittee is pushing ahead with its investigation of the scandal at the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The House Government Operations housing subcommittee summoned Lynda Murphy, a former career HUD employee, to testify today about dealings with her friend, Deborah Gore Dean, a former top HUD official.

The administration contends that the stealth bomber, built to penetrate Soviet airspace, is a key to future U.S. nuclear deterrence. But members of Congress wrestling with serious deficit problems are shocked at its cost — more than half a billion dollars each.

Also to be fought is the perennial debate over how much to devote to the administration's "Star Wars" Strategic Defense Initiative and how much money to give to rail-mobile MX missiles versus the single-warhead Midgetman.

At the same time, the House is seeking to complete work on the 13 basic spending bills needed to run the government in the next fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1. Congress also is pushing ahead on legislation from child care to clean air and budget cuts.

Ms. Dean was executive assistant to former HUD secretary Samuel Pierce, but numerous witnesses have described her as almost a surrogate Cabinet member who was heavily involved in funneling department money to well-placed Republicans.

"Miss Dean has chosen to take the Fifth Amendment, and we very much hope that she will change her mind," said subcommittee chairman Tom Lantos, D-Calif. "But we will need to get at her role, if she's unprepared to testify, through individuals who had close contact with her."

On Tuesday, the House Judiciary Committee plans to hold a drafting session to deal with responses to last month's Supreme Court's decision that burning the American flag is a protected form of political expression.

The panel's subcommittee on constitutional rights completed hearings last week on the issue. Congress is divided over whether to seek a constitutional amendment banning flag desecration or to address the matter through a simple change in the law.

The Senate Judiciary Committee could vote as early as Thursday on the nomination of William C. Lucas to be Bush's assistant attorney general for civil rights at the Justice Department.

The black former sheriff of Wayne County, Michigan, is opposed by many civil rights groups for lack of experience, but Bush contends he will be a tough enforcer of anti-discrimination laws.

Exxon quarterly profits dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Exxon Corp.'s second-quarter profit plunged by more than $1 billion,

Bush appeals for no cuts in defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush, defending the half-billion-dollar B-2 Stealth bomber, appealed today to senators to keep his defense budget intact.

The president, meeting with members of the Senate Armed Services Committee and other leading senators, also said an espionage investigation at the State Department doesn't help U.S.-Soviet relations.

Bush said the B-2 and the Strategic Defense Initiative, both of which are threatened with deep cuts on Capitol Hill, are essential to the U.S. defense and to arms talks with the Soviets.

The B-2, he added, "is a revolutionary plane with revolutionary technology. Again I would strongly urge your support for that." He also appealed for support for funds for the Midgetman missile and for making the MX missile mobile.

"We need the utmost flexibility in terms of arms control," said Bush.

Asked by reporters how he could justify the expense of the B-2, costing $70 billion for 132 planes, or $530 million apiece, Bush replied, "I justify it because I think the prime responsibility of the president is the national security of the United States."

Asked about the investigation of top State Department official Felix Bloch as a possible Soviet spy, Bush said it "is a very serious matter and it will be thoroughly investigated."

County denies club's request

A representative of the substance abuse-related organization said last week that $8,000 had already been raised privately toward the building expansion and that $3,900 was needed from the county to buy materials.

the company reported today, largely due to an $850 million provision for costs associated with the nation's worst oil spill.

Exxon, the biggest U.S. oil concern, said its net income fell 87 percent to $160 million, or 13 cents a share, from $1.2 billion, or 90 cents a share, in the comparable 1988 quarter.

Revenue for the oil giant rose 9 percent to $23.6 billion from $21.63 billion.

Exxon said the special second-quarter provision for expenses and legal claims stemming from the March 24 spill in Alaska's Prince William Sound reduced earnings by $850 million, or 67 cents a share. Before the provision, Exxon said its earnings would have been off 16 percent to $1 billion.

Exxon said the estimated provision includes amounts already paid out as well as estimated future outlays.

The oil spill from a grounded Exxon tanker fouled hundreds of miles of water and coastline.

"Clean-up of the Alaskan oil spill was Exxon's top priority in the quarter," stated Exxon Chairman Lawrence G. Rawl.

Weekend has DWI arrests

A 44-year-old man was among three people to be arrested for DWI over the weekend, being taken into custody at 8:31 p.m. Sunday in the 1500 Block of Ave. M.

A 48-year-old man was arrested for DWI at 12:57 a.m. Sunday at 23rd St. and Ave. E, and a 20-year-old man was arrested on the same charge at 1:10 a.m. Sunday in the 2800 Block of Ave. B but was released after passing an Intoxilizer test.

A 29-year-old woman was arrested for public intoxication at 1:10 a.m. Sunday in the 2800 Block of B.

Four juveniles were taken into custody inside the Towle Park swimming pool compound, which was closed, at 3:38 p.m. Sunday and were subsequently released into the custody of a relative.

An 18-year-old woman was arrested for shoplifting at 1:51 p.m. Saturday at Kmart, and a 39-year-old man was arrested for PI at 11:56 p.m. Saturday at 23rd St. and Ave. I.

Several thefts reported locally

Several theft incidents were reported to police during the weekend.

Glenn McCathern told officers at 10:07 a.m. Sunday that a television set had been stolen at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

James Northcott of 3606 Ave. B reported at 1:46 p.m. Sunday that some handtools had been stolen from his workshop, and a city patrolman at 4:47 a.m. Monday discovered a broken window on the south side of Stewart Surveying Co. at 2610 College Ave., although he said it "did not appear that entry had been gained" into the building.

Lake J.B. Thomas patrolman Doug Frey told the sheriff's office at 12:07 p.m. Saturday that someone had stolen a motor from a boat at the lake.

Frey said an attempt had been made to take three other boat motors but the thief or thieves had not been successful in those instances.

Justin Speer of 2434 Sunset Ave. told an officer at 9:30 a.m. Saturday that his bicycle had been stolen.

Police are investigating also the breakage of window and door glasses at City Automatic Laundry at 2703 Ave. Q.

Gary Bingham reported the incident at 7:59 a.m. Sunday.

The first call of the weekend was at 5:16 p.m. Saturday 15 miles east of Snyder on property owned by Mrs. Bishop Vineyard, where a vehicle had caught fire after a radiator hose had "blown," the spokesman said.

Firemen returned to the station at 6:15 p.m.

They were occupied with Sunday trash fire calls from 2:45 to 3:15 p.m. on property owned by Rickey Graham at 17th St. and Ave. Q and from 12:45 to 1:10 p.m. at 11th St. and Ave. D.

The cockroach has no natural enemies.

Three fire runs made locally

Firemen answered three fire calls Sunday and one Saturday, with the last one Sunday an incident in the 2200 Block of Ave. M that was being investigated as an attempted arson.

A department spokesman said someone had splashed a flammable liquid on the back wall of a 2201 Ave. M home owned by Johnny Villanueva and lit it, although it burned out without doing any serious damage.

The incident occupied firemen from 7:05 to 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Cockroaches unchanged

NEW YORK (AP) — Cockroaches have remained virtually unchanged from more than 300 million years ago when they were the most prevalent creatures on earth.

The cockroach has no natural enemies.

"OK! OK! You are not responsible for what you do. It's all SOCIETY'S FAULT."

"The magnitude of the required effort is huge and therefore costly."

But Rawl said Exxon's financial position remains strong.

"We are continuing to pursue our long-term business strategies and to implement planned capital programs," he said.

For the first half of 1989, Exxon's provision for the Alaska oil spill totaled $880 million, including $30 million charged in the first quarter. Including the provision, Exxon's earnings totaled $1.4 billion, or $1.12 a share, for the first six months, down 46 percent from $2.66 billion, or $1.96 a share, in the first half of 1988.

Without the provision, Exxon's first half earnings were $2.3 billion, or $1.81 a share, down 13 percent.

Revenue for the first half of 1989 rose to $45.86 billion from $43.63 billion a year earlier.

Infant found abandoned at Methodist church in Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — An abandoned infant boy, estimated to be about 2 weeks old, was found Sunday in the pastor's study of the Faith United Methodist Church, said the Rev. Floyd Vick.

A brown burlap bundle containing diapers was placed on the sofa next to the child, who was wrapped in a blanket, Vick said.

"We're grateful that they found the church," Vick said, "and glad he was brought here, instead of put in a dumpster."

"William" was the third baby abandoned in Austin in less than two weeks.

A note made from words cut out of various publications and glued to a sheet of paper accompanied the infant. It read: "Homeless and can't take care of William. Help find a family."

No food was left with the baby, "but one of the mothers rushed out to bring him some formula," Vick said.

The baby was taken by police to the Children's Hospital of Austin at Brackenridge, where he was admitted to receive additional nourishment, said Larry BeSaw, a hospital spokesman.

"He appeared a little thin and a little dehydrated, but otherwise in good shape," BeSaw said.

Authorities believe the child may have been abandoned by a couple driving a brown and beige Blue Bird motor home bearing New Mexico license plates, said Senior Patrolman Dan Forbes of the Austin Police Department's traffic division.

"We have reports (from congregation members) that the vehicle was seen circling the parking lot before leaving the child," Forbes said.

"We're not accusing anyone, but it's the only lead we've got," said Vick, 55, who reported he first saw the vehicle parked in the church parking lot late Saturday. He said the motor home also was parked on the church property before Sunday services began at 11:30 a.m.

Vick described the man in the van as a white male in his 20s, standing about 6 feet 2 inches, with long blond hair. He said the woman was slightly shorter and also in her 20s, but he could recall no more of the woman's features.

Vick said he was notified of the child's appearance about midway through his sermon.

"I was handed a note from an usher saying my son-in-law heard a baby crying in my office," said Vick. "He came back and got one of the mothers in the congregation to sit with the child until we closed services."

"The service wasn't interrupted," he said.

Coal fields...

Gorbachev tested by strike in major Soviet industry

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev told parliament today that the strikes that have swept the Soviet Union's major coal fields for nearly two weeks have been the "biggest test" of his four years in power.

He blamed coal ministry and local officials rather than the miners for the unrest — which halted work at mines in all the country's major coal fields — but warned that "deciding such questions by striking will ruin our tasks."

The Soviet president said that most striking miners had returned to work, including at least half the 300,000 miners in the country's biggest coal basin, the 121-mile Donbass in the Ukraine.

"We are coming out of a very serious crisis, the biggest test during the four years of perestroika," Gorbachev told the Supreme Soviet, referring to his program of restructuring economic and political life.

On Sunday, Gorbachev said in a rare one-on-one television interview that he was "inspired" by the workers' initiative although he disagreed with their tactics. He also said he understood why the miners mistrusted a government that long had ignored them.

The Donbass strikers were among the last holdouts from the nationwide coal strike that started in western Siberia July 11 and spread to the Arctic Circle and Central Asia.

The strikes began to ebb Friday as the Siberia strikers returned to work Friday after exacting promises of higher pay, better food, clothing and housing and greater control over their industry.

The government said those concessions would apply to striking miners nationwide.

Strikers in the Donbass have held out for legal guarantees from the Supreme Soviet that the government would keep the promises it made to miners in a settlement signed Saturday by strike leaders and government officials.

A lawmaker from the Pechora coal basin in the far north told the Supreme Soviet that miners around the city of Vorkuta also remained on strike, in part due to "disinformation" by the media.

Miner Vladimir P. Lushnikov said state-run media had reported erroneously that the Vorkuta strike had ended.

According to recent reports, miners remained on strike at 11 of the 13 mines in Vorkuta and at 12 mines in Chervonograd in the western Ukraine.

Deputies speaking at today's Supreme Soviet session, which was broadcast nationally with a slight tape delay, said the strikes showed that the country needed more effective trade unions.

Soviet trade unions act as adjuncts of the government, handling the distribution of various benefits rather than fighting for workers' rights.

Gorbachev proposed that instead of waiting for elections, all local councils around the country hold immediate meetings to "examine the concrete situations in all regions with the aim of activating the work of our councils everywhere."

Alexei Boiko from the Donbass appealed to Gorbachev and premier Nikolai I. Ryzhkov to meet with a delegation of his region's miners to hasten a resolution of its waning strikes.

The Donbass walkout began on July 15.

More than 5,000 strikers continued demonstrating Sunday on the central square in the region's city of Donetsk, 900 miles south of Moscow, and miners at each pit were deciding for themselves whether to resume work, a strike leader said in a telephone interview.

The settlement in the Donbass included earlier pension eligibility, pay hikes and longer vacations, with extra holidays for miners in especially difficult or dangerous conditions.

Gorbachev told the Supreme Soviet the strikes had dealt a serious blow to the economy, particularly the metallurgy industry. But he reassured his countrymen that "our perestroika will give results despite the tests we are undergoing."

The labor unrest is the country's worst in 60 years and would have been unthinkable before Gorbachev came to power in 1985 and loosened restrictions on civil liberties.

Gorbachev and Prime Minister Nikolai I. Ryzhkov assured strikers in a telegram Saturday that their demands "would be urgently reviewed."

Tuberculosis rate high in homeless

AUSTIN (AP) — Health officials are hoping to get better results from a tuberculosis testing program that begins this week by getting immediate treatment for homeless people who test positive.

The Austin-Travis County health department will set up a mobile chest X-ray at the downtown Salvation Army on Tuesday in a program to last 10 weeks. The X-rays, which can conclusively disclose active tuberculosis cases, are funded with a $34,500 grant from the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

"We're trying to identify these people on the spot and get them to (treatment) the next day," Ms. Tatum said.

"There's probably a lot of (tuberculosis sufferers) walking around who just don't go to a doctor. Hopefully, as soon as we get the chest X-rays, we can identify more of them," she said. Ms. Tatum said the health department cannot force the homeless to get chest X-rays.

Travis County recorded an increase in tuberculosis cases since 1987, when 40 active cases were treated in the county. In 1988, there were 49 cases and 51 cases have been reported this year.

Tuberculosis skin tests given in March to more than 100 homeless people showed 45 percent were exposed to the disease and were carrying the tuberculosis bacteria, said Eryn Tatum, tuberculosis coordinator for the Austin-Travis County Health Department.

As many as one-third of those could have active tuberculosis based on the sketchy results obtained from the March testing, the Austin American-Statesman reported Sunday.

For those tests, tuberculosis test skin patches were placed on 215 homeless people, but only 108 returned two days later to allow nurses to analyze the patches and record test results.

Forty-nine who returned — 45 percent — tested positive.

Shrimpers set for meet with officials

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — Shrimpers who ended their blockade of ship channels along the Texas coast Sunday said they were ready to move back into the trenches today if officials fail to answer concerns about costly new devices meant to protect sea turtles.

The shrimpers lifted anchors and yielded to traffic in the ship channels Sunday, but hundreds waited nearby today as their representatives prepared for a requested meeting with national fisheries officials.

Coast Guard Adm. William F. Merlin, commander of the 8th Coast Guard District in New Orleans, continued meeting with shrimpers' representatives Sunday and assured them he would try to arrange a meeting today with federal officials.

The Coast Guard said U.S. Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher agreed to a meeting Monday with Texas and Louisiana congressional leaders in Washington. However, a Commerce Department spokesman could not be reached and Texas congressmen could not confirm such a meeting.

"That had already been promised before, but he (Merlin) just reaffirmed it and he is really helping us and working to set up these meetings to try and satisfy the demands of the shrimpers," said Tee John Mialjevich, president of the Concerned Shrimpers of American.

About 200 shrimp boats on Saturday crowded the deep-water Houston ship channel, which passes between Galveston Island and Bolivar Peninsula, and about 300 shrimpers jammed Port Aransas, gateway to the Port of Corpus Christi.

Similar blockades in smaller Texas and Louisiana ports also ended Sunday. Two recreational boaters were hospitalized briefly for minor injuries after trying to run the blockade Saturday in Cameron, La.

Gunfire was reported in both states and four shrimpers were arrested in Texas. There were no injuries, officials said.

Shrimpers who clogged the ship channels Saturday were protesting new Commerce Department regulations requiring that they use devices intended to protect endangered Kemp's Ridley sea turtles.

The devices are designed to allow the turtles to escape shrimpers' nets, but the shrimpers complain that they cause them to lose shrimp, and are bulky, dangerous and expensive to operate.

Mialjevich, whose group argues that the devices don't really save endangered turtles, said he would propose that federal officials instead consider a requirement that shrimpers perform tows no longer than 90 minutes. He said that by checking nets more often, they could avoid killing turtles and save their valuable shrimp.

Many of the shrimpers who filled shipping channels Saturday with booms outstretched to widen their stance also went ashore for a symbolic burning of the turtle protection devices they vowed not to use despite potential fines of $8,000 to $25,000 and six months in jail.

Best method... Bryant's prefers steam extraction

Bryant's Carpet Cleaning has served Snyder over 11 years. They have used or seen every type of carpet cleaning. Even though they could use a cheaper method, they prefer steam extraction. This method extracts the dirt and stains, whereas other methods leave the dirt in the carpet. For a clean and safe carpet, steam extraction is by far the best method.

Some methods leave the carpet wet, but they leave it only damp so it will dry in only a few hours. This is because they have the latest truck mount unit with more power than smaller units. The unit stays in the van and only the cleaning head goes into the house, eliminating spills in the home.

Most carpets need to be cleaned within a year, depending on the traffic. Not only can they be dirty, but after walking on the carpet a while the carpet protector is worn off. They can clean the carpet and replace the carpet protector, which is similar to Scotch Guard.

In some cases they can clean the carpet as inexpensively as you can rent a machine. Many times when people try to do it themselves and the carpet won't come clean, they keep adding detergents to the machine. This results in the carpet becoming too wet. Also, the detergents leave a residue in the carpet and the carpet seems to get dirty quicker. Bryant's doesn't leave a residue in the carpet because they prespray with cleaners and when they go over the carpet with the cleaning head, they use only soft hot water.

Carpets are a big investment and the wise person will maintain them. So, trust your carpet to the professionals. They have cleaned thousands of carpets and can furnish recommendations.

Husband-wife tiff starts fight on airplane

BOSTON (AP) — A husband-wife tiff aboard an airliner escalated to a fight among several passengers and led to the arrest of six people from the Continental Airlines plane at Logan International Airport.

"They had a little brawl," state police Cpl. Joseph Howley said of the weekend incident aboard an MD-80 jet with 146 passengers aboard.

"It started out as a husband and wife that were sort of running around the plane and making demands on the crew and being a general nuisance and hollering," Howley said.

Officials available today were unable to say if blows were exchanged on the flight Saturday, but said the husband struggled with police who arrested him in the airport terminal.
