Injured list released from B-52 fire

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A B-52 bomber that caught fire at Kelly Air Force Base, killing one person and injuring 11 others, was undergoing routine maintenance and scheduled to be returned to its home base by week's end, officials said.

The accident late Monday night occurred as the plane was being refueled on the ground, Lt. Col. Ed Cooke said. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

Jesus Pedraza, 38, was killed, said First Lt. Dave Ebner, Kelly spokesman. Pedraza and those injured were civilian employees of the Directorate of Maintenance Aircraft Division, production branch.

The injured included Herman Morris, who was in serious condition at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio. The others were:

Juan Garcia, Adam Najera and Wayne Holland, in fair condition at Wilford Hall Air Force Medical Center. Robert Chassaigne, Frank Castaneda, Albert Gonzalez, Sally Marchini, Richard Bemriach, Louis Lara and William Shoemaker were treated for minor injuries and discharged, Ebner said.

"I heard four to five large explosions about 11 p.m. and saw flames leaping 15 to 20 feet in the air," Jim Fisher, a San Antonio school teacher who lives near the base, told the San Antonio Express-News.

Flames could be seen from up to one mile away, witnesses said. Cooke said the B-52, built in 1958, was undergoing "depot-level maintenance," a 3½- to 4-month process in which the plane is virtually stripped and reassembled. He added that planes are scheduled for the maintenance "every couple of years."

Cooke said the fact it was being refueled indicated the plane probably was being prepared for a test flight, one of the final stages in the repair process.

Kelly is one of five bases in the nation that performs the service.

The plane was scheduled to be returned Friday to its home base at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport, La., although Cooke said it was not immediately known if maintenance was proceeding on schedule.

The B-52 was "very heavily damaged," Cooke said, but estimates were not immediately available. There were no immediate reports of damage to any of the base's facilities.

The fire was put out in less than one hour, Cooke said.

Q. — Does the State of Texas have what is called a death tax?

A. — The closest thing in Texas is its inheritance tax which is similar to the U.S. Government's estate tax. It is assessed on a graduated scale if the deceased's estate is valued above a certain level. In general, individuals with estates valued below $600,000 are not taxed.

In Brief

Officers shot

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — At least two Wichita Falls police officers were shot by a man armed with a rifle this morning.

The gunman fled the scene after the shooting, shortly before 11 a.m. in a residential neighborhood on the city's northeast side.

Two officers were taken to Bethania Regional Hospital, said Rene Kaiser, an EMS dispatcher. She would not comment on their condition.

The Texas Department of Safety was keeping traffic away from the scene of the shooting. Trooper Mike Cox said the DPS may send a helicopter from Lubbock to help search for the gunman. The man had a 30-30 rifle, Cox said.

Railey suit

DALLAS (AP) — A state district judge today ordered the release of court records on a custody agreement between former Methodist minister Walker Railey and longtime family friends, who have been caring for his children.

KDFW-TV in Dallas filed a lawsuit seeking access to the records that detail the agreement between Railey and Diane and John Yarrington, who have been caring for Railey's two children since 1987.

The children's mother, Margaret "Peggy" Railey, was attacked in her home and choked nearly to death. She is in a vegetative state in a Tyler nursing home.

Local

Health tests

A cholesterol and blood pressure clinic is set Thursday at the senior center from 7:30 until 9 a.m. A fee of $6 is asked.

Persons should refrain from eating or drinking liquids after midnight prior to the test. Cogdell Memorial Hospital staffers will administer the cholesterol test and home health agency personnel will be giving blood pressure checks.

The program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the home economics committee. For more information, call 573-5423.

Softball meet

Church League Softball officers and directors will meet Monday at 6 p.m. at North Park to update rules and regulations for the just started season.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Monday, 89 degrees; low, 62 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Tuesday, 65 degrees; trace of rain; total precipitation for 1989 to date, 6.74 inches.

Area Forecast: 40 percent chance of late afternoon thunderstorms. High in the middle 80s and low in the mid 60s. Southeast winds 5 to 10 mph. High Wednesday in the mid 80s.

TDC reception also honors new couple

Last Friday's barbecue and reception served a double purpose for newly arrived Texas Department of Corrections staffers assigned to the Price Daniel Unit. It was also a wedding reception.

The newly married bride was the former Brenda Cox, prison mailroom supervisor, and her husband is a future correctional officer at the Daniel Unit, Doug Wilkinson. They were married Friday at 3:30 p.m. at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

The Wilkinsons met through friends while she was assigned to the Coffield Unit in Anderson County. Her future husband worked at the Michael Unit only 2½ miles away, says Brenda.

The new Mrs. Wilkinson presently lives in Snyder with her two children, Erica and Brandon. Doug plans to transfer here within the next few weeks.

Plans are to begin looking for a home to accommodate the larger, new family. The couple is hoping to honeymoon sometime in early September.

Doug was to return to his assignment at the Michael Unit by Tuesday, but the couple got to spend their first weekend of married life in their newly adopted county of Scurry.

Council majority favors '2-2' plan for staff salary

A majority of Snyder city council members agreed Monday night that municipal employees should get a 2 percent pay increase with the new budget, along with a 2 percent merit raise for the 17 employees who have been recommended.

The city administration had suggested a 5 percent across-the-board pay raise and a 3 percent merit raise.

Toward the end of a five-hour budget work session, council members took turns expressing opinions about what the raises for the 78 city workers should be, with Ralph Williamson saying he supported a 1 percent pay hike and 1 percent for merit.

Mike Thornton said he would forgo merit raises but give a 5 percent general pay hike.

Then Paul Zeck, Joe Coronado and Jack Greene Jr. declared unanimity on the "2-plus-2" proposal, which Ralph Williamson said he could also support.

Thornton protested that a 2 percent pay plan increase would only amount to "50 cents a day" for employees who are not in line for merit raises, and Vernest Tipens did not voice an opinion.

The council voted a 4 percent increase last year after cutting city employee's pay by 4 percent the previous year. The city has not given merit raises since 1985.

Other items discussed included, at the outset of the session, whether the police department should affiliate with the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies of Fairfax, Va., and pay an $8,000 fee to begin going through an accreditation process involving more than 900 standards.

Police Chief William (Bill) Stone attended the meeting and described the training and accreditation that his men already undergo, primarily through the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards in Austin.

Stone said that although he had no objections to getting involved with the national commission, he said he believes the department needs the extra patrol car that City Manager John Gayle proposed to delete to help pay for the extra training.

The budget originally called for the purchase of four cars, and Gayle had trimmed the request to three.

Noting that two patrol cars have been demolished and one has been extensively repaired because of accidents this year, Thornton said that "with the number of vehicles and the mileage, we don't seem to be very long on police cars right now."

Councilman Jack Greene added that the national accreditation program "would be a pretty ambitious project for a city our size," and his motion to forgo the program was unanimously passed.

The council reviewed the list of the city's 36 cars, pickups and trucks, and Zeck said he wanted the city administration to consider "if this is our fighting weight, or are we vehicle-fat?"

Another budgetary work session was set for 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Scout contingent heads for Jamboree

Seven Boy Scouts and an assistant Scout master from Snyder's Troop 27 will leave Wednesday for the National Scout Jamboree slated Aug. 2-8 in Fort A.P. Hill, Va. The locals will also spend several days touring Washington, D.C.

Those Jamboree-bound from Snyder include Scouts Jason Cooper, senior patrol leader, Brian Earles, Patrick Earles, Robert Patterson, Robert Kimmel, Shane Terry, Dane Farley and Leon Earles, assistant Scout master for Troop 27.

The local contingent will be called Jamboree Troop 1633 for the duration of this event which is only held every four years.

Some 72 Scouts and eight adult leaders in all will represent the Buffalo Trails Council of which Snyder's Troop 27 is a part. The other Jamboree-bound group from the Buffalo Trails Council has been designated as Troop 1632.

One of the highlights of the stop over in Washington D.C. will include a trip to Arlington National Cemetery next Saturday where Jason Cooper will lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier on behalf of the local troop.

Chamber of Commerce representatives have given the local contingent plenty of White Buffalo emblems for distribution at the Jamboree.

The event will begin on Aug. 2 and will conclude on Aug. 8. Some 35,000-45,000 Scouts are expected to attend.

Each troop has been assigned a separate campsite and each was charged with designing and building their own gateway to their camp. Two buffalo figures highlight Troop 1633's efforts.

All those planning to attend the Jamboree as Troop 1633 had a hand in designing and building the structure with assistance from Jack McDonald, Scout master, Joel Hamlett, district committee member, and Max Snider.

In addition to the myriad of activities offered during the Jamboree, two special events are planned for the nights of Aug. 2 and 5.

Noted movie director Steven Spielberg will introduce a special merit badge in cinematography during one evening event and a big arena show is planned for the other night.

The local Boy Scouts started raising funds a year ago to attend the Jamboree. Some $1,200 were needed for each person attending.

Numerous fundraisers have been held throughout this past year and materials such as scrap metal were donated also. The Scouts and their supporters did a little of everything from selling aluminum cans, to having candy sales, garage sales, sausage sales, chili suppers and concession stands at all local celebrations such as the Scurry County Fair and White Buffalo Days. With assistance from the Scurry County Vietnam Veterans Association, they also staged a pancake supper.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "People who make the most of their time seldom complain about not having enough of it."

Trying to give proper credit to everybody responsible for the successful celebration of the TDC open house is almost impossible. If you want a complete list, just grab the Snyder telephone directory.

Our visitors and our new citizens were impressed with the genuine West Texas hospitality. One visitor from Amarillo seriously suggested that chamber officials go to that Panhandle city and put on a seminar.

But special thanks must go to the chamber of commerce, the BCD, county and city officials, Western Texas College, the public schools and area law enforcement officials.

During the past 3½ years, some folks have made substantial sacrifices of time and resources. Economic development committee members have almost worn out welcomes of folks who own airplanes.

Over the years, Snyder National Bank, M.L.

Duke and Cloyce Talbott have graciously donated use of their airplanes for various trips. With two of the planes in the shop, Talbott's aircraft got a workout Friday and Saturday getting board members into Snyder. A last-minute delay saw the use of another local aircraft belonging to Rodger Blackard. To these folks, the community owes a special thanks.

One fellow who toured the new facility said he had read news accounts about how prisons are becoming country clubs. But after the tour he remarked, "That's a jail."

One Snyder teen had three observations about the unit: "It's close quarters, there's no privacy and those benches for watching TV don't recline."

While touring the industrial warehouse, TDC chairman Charles Terrell inquired what was in the boxes. The answer: 400 lawnmowers.

He was also told that the mowers weren't all for the Snyder unit.

Rain chance remains in local area outlook

A 60 percent rain prediction for the Snyder area Monday night failed to materialize, but the National Weather Service says the possibility of rain remains in the local outlook, at least through Wednesday.

Partly cloudy skies with a 40 percent chance of thunderstorms is forecast for Tuesday. Wednesday is expected to be mostly cloudy with a 50 percent chance of thunderstorms here.

Temperatures for the period are expected to remain cooler than normal with high readings daily in the upper 80s.

The extended outlook for all of West Texas is for partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thunderstorms into Thursday.

Friday and Saturday are expected to be mostly sunny for West Texas with isolated late afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

By the weekend, afternoon high temperatures should return to the middle to upper 90s.

The National Weather Service is forecasting some locally heavy rain across Southeast Texas Tuesday night and Wednesday.

The rest of the state will have partly cloudy skies and scattered thunderstorms.

It was cloudy over eastern and western sections of the state early Tuesday with clear skies in central portions.

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in the pre-dawn hours in western sections of the Panhandle and in East Texas and Southeast Texas from Lufkin to Galveston and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley near Brownsville.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our early 60s. About a year ago, I found out my husband was seeing a younger woman. He said there was nothing serious between them and he promised he wouldn't see her again, so I forgave him.

Since then, I learned that he had never stopped seeing her. In fact, he loaned her a large amount of money. He still insists that he loves me and this woman means nothing to him.

Should I confront the woman and tell her I am aware of what is going on between them and demand that she stay out of our lives?

We've been married for 40 years, have wonderful children and grandchildren, and I really love him, but I can't go on this way. I am considering filing for divorce. Please help me.

HURTING IN N.C.

DEAR HURTING: Do not confront the woman and demand that she stay out of your lives. If your husband didn't want her in his life, she wouldn't be in it.

Loving him as you do, don't talk divorce unless you really mean it. Many a woman has threatened an unfaithful spouse with divorce, hoping it would bring him back in line, and before she realized it, a divorce she never really wanted became a reality.

Please get family counseling. If your husband refuses to go with you, go without him. A 40-year marriage is usually worth saving. I wish you well.

DEAR ABBY: A 14-year-old girl asked: "Can a girl get pregnant when she 'does it' with a guy for the first time?"

You correctly replied, "Yes," but you should have added: "She can also get syphilis, gonorrhea, herpes, and a host of other sexually transmitted diseases."

DEAR PHYSICIAN: Thank

Church missing video equipment

A Sunday theft report from Colonial Hill Baptist Church was amended Monday to say that a video camera and related equipment valued at $8,000, not a television set as was originally you for an important addition.

DEAR ABBY: Now that it costs 25 cents to mail a letter, my husband and I have received many hand-delivered invitations and thank-you notes from people trying to save a little money on postage. We live in a small town, so it's easy to drive or walk over. I have always thought this was in rather poor taste, but at least the person who did the inviting and thanking did the delivering.

My husband and I received a wedding invitation in the mail. We bought an expensive gift and attended the wedding. (I had also attended a bridal shower — to which I brought a very nice gift.)

Yesterday, I went into a store owned by the bride's mother to buy a few things. I was handed one thank-you note for my wedding and bridal gift combined. She had an alphabetical file box with thank-you notes for everyone who had given her daughter a gift, and she handed them out whenever one of the guests came into the store.

The last straw was when she gave me a thank-you note to a friend of mine — and asked me to deliver it if I should happen to run into her! I felt that if either the bride or groom could not have handed out the notes themselves, they should have mailed them.

What do you think?

DISGUSTED IN TEXAS

DEAR DISGUSTED: I agree with you. And if you accepted the thank-you note to deliver to your friend, then deliver it — if you should happen to run into her.

Foreign debt...

Mexico outlines repayment

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican officials outlined the agreement under which the nation will pay its foreign debt while gradually resuming economic growth, and Mexico's top debt negotiator said the country will not become indebted again.

"Never again will we let the country fall into debt," said Finance Secretary Pedro Aspe on Monday to a luncheon gathering of 500 of Mexico's most influential people.

Aspe said the agreement would allow Mexico to decrease to 2.7 percent of its gross national product what it pays the banks instead of the average 6.3 percent of recent years. He asserted that paying as much as has Mexico for its debt service is "incompatible" with economic growth.

He flew back to Mexico with other top members of the negotiating team after the debt reduction agreement with commercial banks was signed Sunday night in Washington.

Under the agreement, banks have three options: a 35 percent reduction in principle, a reduction to 6.25 percent in interest or providing new loans equal to 25 percent of Mexico's existing debt with the bank.

Aspe said he expected about 80 percent of the approximately 500 banks involved to adopt one of the first two choices, although some analysts said they thought more banks would prefer the third and most conventional option.

The agreement applies to about $53 billion of Mexico's $107 billion foreign debt, second highest among developing nations after Brazil.

Aspe said Mexico had achieved all its main goals: a real reduction in its debt, a reduction in the transfer of assets abroad to pay the debt, a long-term agreement to avoid constant renegotiation and breathing room for the nation to renew economic growth.

President Carlos Salinas de Gortari also spoke at the luncheon, organized quickly in a courtyard of the National Palace and attended by Mexico's most powerful business, industry, media, labor and farm leaders.

Representatives of all sectors expressed support for Salinas and his policies.

In his remarks, Salinas said the agreement "is precisely what we need to recover the dynamism of growth with price stability."

Aspe said the agreement will permit a gradual economic recovery, but there can be no return to the erratic policies and financial indiscipline of the past.

"The agreement will let the economy grow and will gradually raise our standard of living. It doesn't permit dreams. Without dreaming, but with work, we can return to sustained growth," he said.

It was negotiated by a committee of 15 banks and details remain to be refined. Its reception by the other banks is also uncertain, analysts have said.

Aspe said many banks would have preferred debt-for-equity swaps, in which banks write off debt in return for equity in various companies. He said Mexico had fought that idea because of its inflationary effect.

Team investigates how passengers walked away from airline crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special investigators are trying to determine how so many people walked away from last week's DC-10 crash in Iowa, hoping to find ways for more people to survive airline crashes.

"We want to know how injuries occurred, how people got out. We'll try to get people to remember everything they can," Ted Lopatkiewicz of the National Transportation Safety Board said Monday.

Members of the group, led by NTSB investigators, are interviewing hospitalized passengers in Sioux City and will send questionnaires to other survivors, Lopatkiewicz said.

Officials say 185 passengers and crew members survived when United Airlines Flight 232, en route from Denver to Philadelphia via Chicago, crashed Wednesday while making an emergency landing in Sioux City. The NTSB has not determined the cause of the crash, but reports say an engine explosion apparently knocked out flight steering mechanisms.

Among issues to be studied by investigators is the fact that several infants were traveling at no charge in their parents' arms, a common practice on domestic flights, and whether child-restraint seats should be required. United said at least one infant was among the 111 dead.

The team, Lopatkiewicz said, will try to determine what precautions were most effective in preventing injury and death when the disabled jetliner burst into flames during the emergency landing, flipped over, landed on its back and split apart in a cornfield near the airport. The survival investigation also will cover crash and fire preparations on the ground, Lopatkiewicz said.

Investigators doubt IRS policing ability

WASHINGTON (AP) — A yearlong probe of alleged misconduct by senior officials of the Internal Revenue Service raises serious questions about the agency's ability to correct wrongdoing by its own leaders, House investigators say.

"Is it possible for the IRS to police itself internally at the senior official level? That's an area that really needs to be looked at," investigator Len Bernard, of the House Government Operations subcommittee on consumer affairs, said in advance of his testimony before the panel today.

Bernard noted that one of eight misconduct cases he and other subcommittee aides have been probing involved senior officials up to the level of deputy assistant commissioner.

Most attention has been focused on allegations that a former boss of the criminal investigation division in Los Angeles was offered a bribe by Guess Inc., a jeans manufacturer, to get an investigation of a rival, Jordache Enterprises. The IRS cleared that official, Ronald Saranow, last year.

Subcommittee investigators have checked several cases in which IRS employees who called attention to misconduct inside the agency were subsequently demoted or forced out.

The subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Doug Barnard, D-Ga., called for three days of testimony from the IRS, present and former IRS employees and the General Accounting Office.

The IRS has declined comment on the allegations, citing laws that prohibit disclosure of information about individual tax cases or about employees under investigation.

Soviets show interest in spy investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are showing extraordinary interest in the spy investigation against State Department official Felix S. Bloch — even tailing him and the FBI to New York — despite a U.S. warning not to interfere.

The unusual Soviet surveillance shows "they have a lot invested in this," said a government source familiar with the case.

The United States cautioned the Soviet Union against trying to smuggle Bloch out of the country, it was learned Monday evening. The warning came weeks before news organizations reported that the 30-year career diplomat was suspected of spying. Still, Bloch and a caravan of FBI agents were followed by Soviet Embassy personnel on Saturday from Washington to a New York City suburb, the government source said.

Formerly the No. 2 official in the U.S. Embassy in Vienna, the 54-year-old diplomat was placed on leave with pay on June 22. He has surrendered his diplomatic passport and his State Department credentials, but has not been charged with any crime nor has his travel been restricted.

Nevertheless, President Bush on Monday called the allegations "a very serious matter."

DR. GOTT

PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have osteoarthritis and was placed on Voltaren. Because this is a new drug, I feel I am being used as a guinea pig. What can you tell me about this medication?

DEAR READER: Voltaren is a new anti-arthritis medicine that was extensively tested abroad before being marketed in the United States. It appears to be safe but can react badly with other medicines, including aspirin, anti-coagulants, digoxin, lithium, diuretics and anti-diabetes medication. The major side effects of Voltaren are: indigestion, peptic ulcer, headache, dizziness, rash, fluid retention and ringing in the ears. The usual dose is 50 milligrams three times a day, with meals. It is available only by prescription.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a 51-year-old female and have had an IUD for 17 years. My doctor says that because of my age and shrinking of the womb, it could be growing into the tissue and should be removed. Do I leave well enough alone, have it out, X-ray the area or what? My cycles are beginning to become erratic, and I am confused.

DEAR READER: Intrauterine devices can, with time, migrate out of position to lacerate or perforate the uterus. You are fortunate to have been problem-free for 17 years. I agree with your doctor that your IUD should be removed. You should use an alternative type of contraception until your menopause is complete and you have not had a menstrual period for a year. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Contraception: An Update." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter has tag warts under her arm. Her doctor says they could be connected with colon cancer and should be checked periodically. She's only 27. Do you agree?

DEAR READER: Some types of skin growths act as "markers" for the development of colon cancers in susceptible individuals. Although colonic tumors would be exceedingly unusual in a woman of 27, your daughter would probably be wise to follow her doctor's advice. The only "checking" she might need would be annual tests for hidden blood in the stool. These are simple and inexpensive. Later, the doctor may recommend a sigmoidoscopic examination or barium enema to investigate the colon; you can cross this bridge later.

White chocolate new trend

PURCHASE, N.Y. (AP)—The confection Europeans call "white chocolate" has come full circle in the United States. At one time considered a rare delicacy, it can now be found in the candy aisles, baking shelves and ice cream sections of local supermarkets.

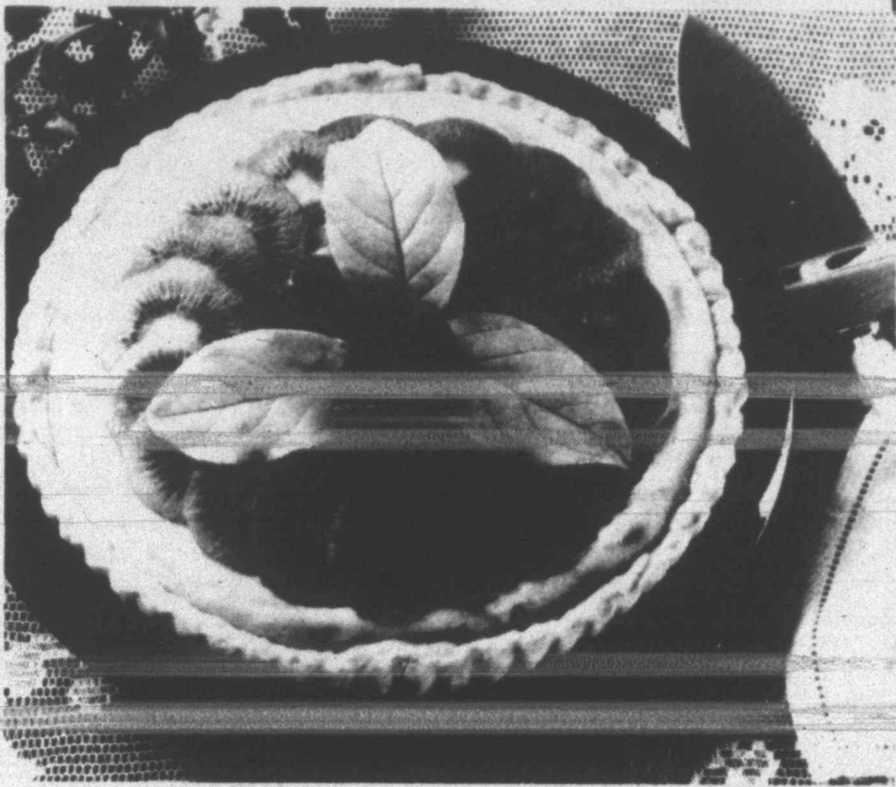

Marty Friedman, editor of New Product News, says white chocolate will be the "hot" chocolate of the 1990s. He lists white chocolate as one of the top 15 new food trends.

The world's first white chocolate, Nestle Galak, was launched in Switzerland over 65 years ago. It is now sold in 33 countries.

White chocolate was not manufactured and distributed in the United States until 1984. That year, Nestle introduced its Nestle Superior Quality Alpine White with Almonds bar. Alpine White is now second in company sales.

The basic ingredients in white chocolate are cocoa butter, milk, sugar and vanilla flavoring. Because there is no chocolate liquor in white chocolate, it is technically not considered chocolate in the United States. The Food and Drug Administration says that for a product to be called chocolate, it must contain at least 10 percent chocolate liquor.

The fibrous, non-fat portion of chocolate liquor (cocoa solids) gives dark or milk chocolate its color and particular taste. White chocolate does not contain this element. It is cocoa butter, which comes from the cocoa bean, that gives white chocolate its distinct chocolate flavor, texture and ivory color.

Chris Klaiiss, Nestle's Master Confectioner, says superior white chocolate has the following characteristics: an ivory color; a smooth, glossy surface; a decisive "snap" when it is broken; a clean, milky aroma; a creamy, smooth melt-in-your-mouth texture; a delicate combination of mild chocolate and fresh milk taste.

White chocolate can be used in mousse, truffles, cheesecake and fillings. It complements desserts that are spicy or slightly citrus in flavor.

The following recipe for Alpine Fruit Tart is provided by Nestle, maker of Nestle Superior Quality Alpine White with Almonds bar, Premier White Toll House Treatures and Premier White Baking Bars.

ALPINE WHITE FRUIT TART
Pastry for 9-inch pie shell
1-3rd cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1 cup milk

3 egg yolks
One 6-ounce package Nestle Premier White baking bars, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/4 cup apricot jam
2 kiwifruit, peeled and sliced
1 cup raspberries
Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. Line a 9-inch tart pan with pastry, trim edges. With fork, prick pastry in several places to prevent pastry from puffing. Bake 10-12 minutes, until crust is lightly browned. Cool on wire rack.

In medium saucepan, combine sugar, flour and milk. Gradually stir in egg yolks. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Reduce heat and cook, constantly whisking for 3 minutes, until mixture is thickened and smooth.

Remove from heat; add baking bars and vanilla; stir until smooth. Transfer to medium bowl, press plastic wrap directly on surface and refrigerate until chilled, about 30 minutes. Remove tart shell from pan.

In small saucepan heat apricot jam. Brush jam over bottom of tart shell; let stand 5 minutes. Spread baking bar mixture in tart shell. Arrange fruit on top. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Makes 6-8 servings.

Rising star's aunt remembers

by Jana Harrington
SDN Staff Writer

Being closely related to a star is a rare commodity in these parts, but Laura Jones, office manager at the Scurry County Coliseum, has a rising star in her family.

Jones is the aunt of Edie Brickell who in the last year, according to this month's edition of Texas Monthly, has become a musical legend with her release of "What I Am."

Her band's only album, "Shooting Rubberbands at the Stars," includes this song and is headed for double-platinum status.

Edie has just completed a tour of Europe opening for Bob Dylan with her group of "New Bohemians." She is now at home in the Fort Worth area where she grew up.

Her next tour will begin Aug. 8 and the group will be opening for Don Henley, former Eagles band member, says Jones.

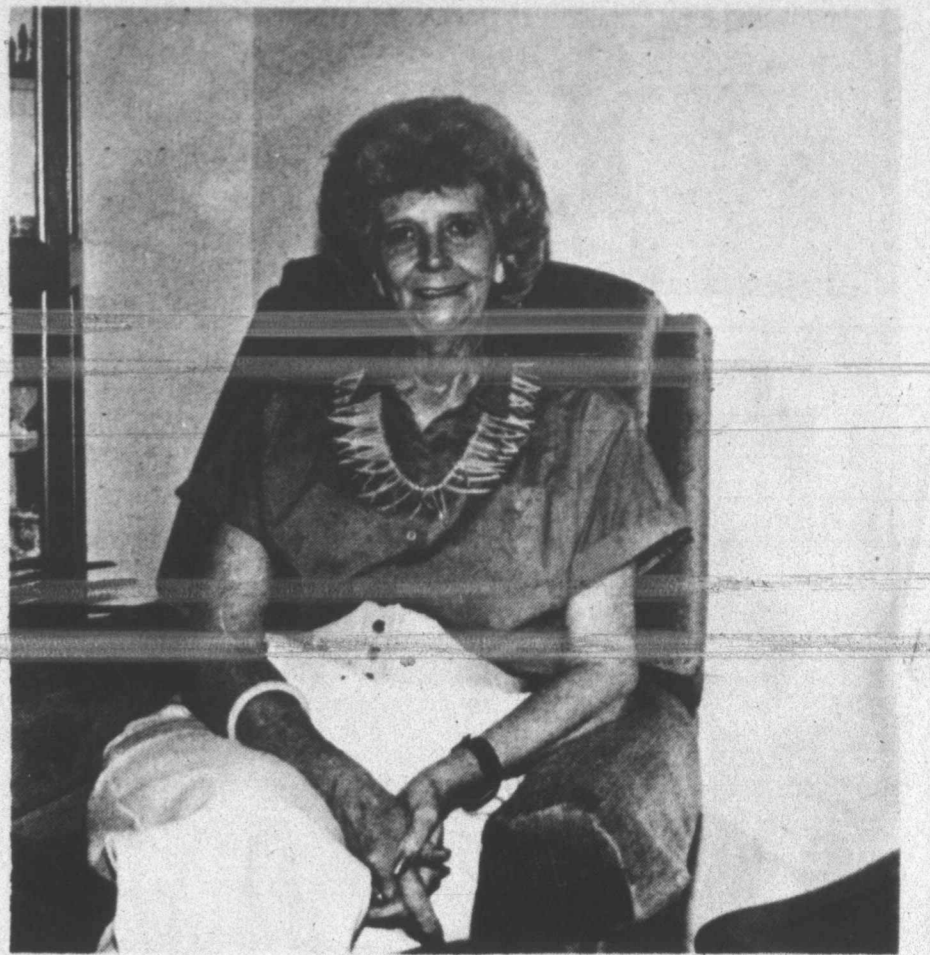

Jones hopes to see her niece when Edie and the Bohemians play at Reunion Arena in Dallas in September. She was not able to make it to the family reunion in Fort Worth that Edie attended last weekend.

Jones reminisced Edie's visits to West Texas as a child. "She was always setting up the porch for a show and having my late husband and me watch her perform," she says.

Edie was a fan of the country and fresh garden vegetables that she was not accustomed to in the big city, Jones adds. To this day she considers herself "just a country girl."

One Christmas, someone gave Edie a little guitar and all she played for days was "Little Drummer Boy" over and over again, says Jones.

Jones remembers once when Edie was about four and on a visit to her home in Cross Plains, a woman at the church asked Edie if she would like to be in a children's musical program during her visit. Edie answered saying she knew a church song and started singing "I churched the world over and thought I found true love..."

Edie has become more shy with age and fame and now gets embarrassed when asked to perform for her family.

Jones and one of her brothers, Edie's uncle, went into the heart of Deep Ellum to see one of her bands "gigs" when Edie was just getting started. Deep Ellum is a warehouse district in Dallas gone club scene. The area is no stranger to skinheads after dark, according to Texas Monthly. Jones said the trip into the area was an adventure and she enjoyed hearing her niece perform, but she couldn't hear much of her "after mid-night voice," as Texas Monthly describes it, over the loud, booming amplifiers.

According to her aunt, Edie's entire family is enthusiastic and supportive of her new-found fame.

Jones has been a resident of Snyder for the past 18 years. She is a member of First Baptist Church where she sings in the choir.

She has two children, Diana Owens of Lufkin and Rick Jones of Pauls Valley, Okla. She also has seven grandchildren.

A wasted second chance

Declarer knew he was off the ace of hearts but hoped he would avoid the loss of a trump trick. There would be no story if the opening lead by West had been a heart, but he led the queen of spades. South cashed A-K of spades, and East signaled enthusiastically with the heart 10 that he held the ace. It seems harsh to now blame South for playing A-Q of diamonds, since his obvious intent was to throw one heart away on dummy's third diamond, and then, he hoped, get rid of the other on a high club. Nevertheless, it was a mistake to play diamonds rather than clubs.

Look at it this way. For the contract to make, West will have to follow to two clubs. That being the case, it costs nothing to play A-K of clubs first. Yes, if both defenders follow to clubs, declarer will then play A-Q of diamonds with his original intent. But here, when East shows out on the second club, declarer is suddenly presented with a sure-fire alternative. He can play another high club, discarding a heart, and then ruff a club (West must follow). The low clubs remaining in dummy are now winners, and declarer can simply play queen of diamonds, overtake with the king, and play one of the good clubs, throwing away his heart king. Certainly it was quite rare for the defenders' diamonds to divide 1-7, but declarer did not need to take even that minuscule risk.

'Winston Man' favors ad limits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A model who for six years was Winston's answer to the macho "Marlboro man" is urging Congress to take the glamour out of tobacco advertisements, saying teen-agers are the target of the ads.

"I have had children tell me that they smoked Winston's so that they could be just like me," David Goerlitz said in testimony prepared for today's hearing before a House Energy and Commerce subcommittee. "For that I shall always feel guilty."

Goerlitz described himself as a 25-year, three-pack-a-day smoker who kicked the habit in November. He has worked for private groups that fight smoking-related illnesses and his testimony was intended to bolster legislation sponsored by Rep. Thomas Luken, D-Ohio.

Luken, on a self-described crusade "to reduce cigarette smoking to zero," wants to ban all tobacco ads that might be seen by youths.

"When I modeled for Winston, I was told very clearly that young people were the market we were after," Goerlitz said. "The other models and I were depicted as young and daring buddies, and that's what young people relate to at 14 or 15 years old."
The ads showed cigarette-smoking members of a search-and-rescue squad, dangling from helicopters and hanging from cliffs to rescue stricken climbers. "At the Winston ad shoots we were told that we should try to epitomize the robust and virile man," Goerlitz said.

Snyder All-Stars defeat Cisco 28-0; advance to title game

Snyder's Little League All-Stars advance to the District 5 finals following a 28-0 thumping of Cisco Monday on the strength of a Curt Rinehart no-hitter.

Rinehart fanned 13 opposing hitters and walked only five.

Undeclared Snyder opened the contest with a 10 run first inning that saw 14 hitters go to the plate. The locals punched out eight hits and chased Cisco pitcher Quincy Crawford after just one third of an inning.

Lead-off hitter Marc Sparlin started the attack by reaching on an error in the first. Reagan Key added a single and was followed by Chris Mitchell's two-RBI base hit.

The opening-inning onslaught continued as Jeremy Wells was issued a free pass, followed by Aviles' double that scored Mitchell who had advanced to third on a passed ball.

With the score 4-0, Rinehart singled up the middle to score Wells. Joey Sanchez added a double to score a pair and Jeremy House drove in a run on a single. Sparlin singled in his second at bat in the inning, followed by a drive to the fence by Key. An error put Key on second base. He was allowed in on another Cisco error on Chris Mitchell's grounder to the shortstop.

Rinehart struck out the first two batters he faced, John Gacta and Kevin Hearne, and Gabe Anaya flied out to end the inning.

Snyder added another two runs in the second on hits by Greg McAden, House, Sparlin and Key. McAden's was an extra-base hit double.

Seven more scores were added in the third stanza as Kyle Lewis rapped the only hit, a single, in an inning that saw Mitchell, Aviles, Damien Medrano and Shae Sissons advance to the base paths via walks.

Snyder got one more run in the fourth and eight in the fifth to finish up the scoring.

Sissons had a homer in the final inning. Key had three hits for the game and Lionel Aviles two.

Snyder will be in the District 5 title game against Abilene Dixie in Coleman, Thursday at 7:30. Abilene Dixie advances by virtue of a 5-1 win over Coleman County in semi-final action on Monday.

Judge allows LL clubs to go on with playoffs

HOUSTON (AP) - A judge has lifted his order halting all Little League playoff games because of a suit filed over an ineligible Houston-area player, saying the playoffs can continue while the case continues in court.

State District Judge Arthur Leshar lifted the freeze Monday after lawyers agreed that the statewide ban could be canceled while the case proceeds without affecting the playoff picture.

Leshar has scheduled a Thursday morning hearing to consider a temporary injunction.

The next game for North

Houston National, the disputed champion of District 25 Little League, is a Thursday night bi-district contest.

Little League Inc. officials said the order did not throw off the state playoffs, because Sunday games are rare and a minimal number of Saturday games were canceled.

"We were lucky it hit on a weekend," said Mike Witherwax, Texas director for Little League. "Obviously it had a little effect, but we're in good shape and on track right now."

Lawyer Blaise Heaney, who filed the suit, says he will not seek to invalidate games played in other areas while the order was pending because those games would not affect his case.

"The games Friday and Saturday will stand," Heaney said. "We're not trying to hold the others in contempt."

The controversy began after North Houston's 8-5 playoff win over the Northside National Little League All-Stars on Wednesday.

Northside filed a protest over the participation of North Houston player David Lezcano, who lives outside the team's eligibility area.

Little League officials in South Williamsport, Pa., agreed the boy was ineligible, disqualifying him from further play, but they determined that Lezcano's play did not affect the outcome.

It was then that James R. King Jr., father of Northside's Jason King, filed the suit, claims that Lezcano, 12, a center fielder, caught three fly balls, had two hits and scored two runs.

King said the suit will teach the boys the importance of playing by the rules.

North Houston went on to defeat Denver Harbor and win their district Friday night without Lezcano, before the restraining order was delivered.

The suit asks that North Houston be disqualified from the playoffs or that Wednesday's game be replayed without Lezcano.

Bowhunters set shoot for Sunday

The Snyder Bowhunters Association's first club shoot will be held Sunday afternoon, July 30 at 2 p.m. at the club's range.

Plans are being made for shooting two rounds of 15 3-D and silhouette targets. Entry fee is $3 per archer and only members may enter. Non-members will be allowed to join by paying dues and entry fees the day of the shoot.

Several prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the event. Proceeds will be used to purchase 3-D targets.

Interested bowhunters may contact Brent Smith at 573-1453 or Eddie Rollins at 573-1288.

Snyder Classic set for July 29

The Snyder Classic softball tournament is scheduled to get under way Saturday and last through Sunday.

The double elimination event will be played according to USSSA rules and will feature fifteen man rosters.

The entry fee of $100 must be paid prior to the first game. All games will be played at Winston Park.

For more information contact Frank Ortegon at 573-0269 or 573-1492, George Alderte at 573-2356 or Herman Martinez at 573-0390.

Rozier faced with ultimatum

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers have issued an ultimatum to contract holdout Mike Rozier, telling the team's top running back that a contract offer will be withdrawn if he does not accept the deal and report to training camp Friday.

Rozier, the team's top running back and a two-time Pro Bowler, reportedly has been offered a deal worth $5.45 million that would make him one of the six highest-paid running backs in the NFL with an $850,000 salary for the 1989 season.

Sources said the contract calls for a $600,000 base salary and a $250,000 advance for the first year, with increases each year of the five-year salary to a high of $1.4 million in 1993.

Alvarez chased in first as Texas loses to Jays

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Toronto Blue Jays had a nervous 19-year-old rookie just where they wanted him and they weren't about to let him off the hook.

The Blue Jays hit a season-high four homers and shelled Wilson Alvarez in his Major League debut Monday night with a three-run first, snapping the Texas Rangers' four-game winning streak, 6-3.

"We've been struggling all year so anytime we can jump on somebody, we'll take it," said Toronto's Fred McGriff, who hit his 26th homer of the season in the third. "He (Alvarez) was probably a little nervous."

Tony Fernandez and Kelly Gruber homered in the first off Alvarez, 0-1, and McGriff and Manny Lee added round-trippers in the third off reliever Cecilio Guante to back the four-hit pitching of Todd Stottlemyre, 2-4.

The first five Toronto batters reached base against Alvarez, the youngest player currently in the majors and the youngest pitcher to make his first big-league start since 18-year-old Jose Rijo debuted for the New York Yankees in 1984.

Alvarez was obviously nervous in his debut. After the game he remained in an area off-limits to the media and at first refused to come out to answer reporters' questions.

Later, he spoke in Spanish to a reporter for The Associated Press.

"I was very afraid at first because this was my first game," Alvarez said. "But next time I won't be so scared. I'll do good."

Last Saturday when the Venezuelan native was called up from Class AA Tulsa to replace Charlie Hough in the Rangers rotation, he said, "I'm not ready, not for the big leagues."

Alvarez started out throwing strikes to the first three hitters, then walked George Bell and McGriff.

That was enough for Rangers manager Bobby Valentine, who called Guante from the bullpen.

"It appeared to me that he was rushing his fastball, then slowing down on his off-speed pitch. So you could tell what was coming," Rangers catcher Jim Sundberg said.

"He was throwing his fastball over the plate," Valentine said.

Win, 15-4 Buffs beat Sweetwater

The Snyder Buffs, Teenage League champions, defeated a Sweetwater team with a reputation for toughness by a tally of 15-4 in Sweetwater Monday night.

John Conger was the winning pitcher and Sweetwater's James Moore took the loss.

The Sweetwater Cards could scratch out only one hit in the top of the first. Terry Clemmer singled and was stranded at second following a stolen base.

Richard Morris became the first Snyder base runner as he was issued a walk. Raymond Ware rapped a single to put runners on first and second and Conger loaded the bases after being hit by a pitch.

Raymond House pounded a two-RBI double followed by walks to David Patrick and Brian Crawford. Jason McAden reached on an error that netted the Buffs another pair of runs.

Conger allowed another hit, a single by Trey Carrillo, while striking out three in the top of the second.

All was fairly quiet until the Snyder half of the third when the Buffs exploded for seven runs on hits by Ware, House and Patrick, and three Sweetwater errors.

Sweetwater scored a single run in the fourth and fifth innings and a pair on a two-run homer by Toby Stephens in the sixth to round out the Cards' scoring.

Snyder added two in the sixth also, as Conger singled followed by an error to Crawford and a triple by McAden.

The Buffs were to play Tye at 2 p.m. in Sweetwater in second round action. Tye was a winner Monday, defeating Colorado City, 6-1.

Lathon injured

HOUSTON (AP) - University of Houston linebacker Lamar Lathon, considered by some scouts as one of the nation's top players, suffered serious injuries in an automobile accident near the campus and will miss the scheduled Aug. 14 start of fall practice, officials said.

Lathon, a senior from Wharton, suffered a fractured and displaced sternum when a car driven by his date was involved in a two-car collision Saturday morning.

Investigators awaiting ballistics test

RATON, N.M. (AP) — Investigators from four states awaited results of ballistics tests today on a gun found in a car stopped at a roadblock after fatal shootings in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Greg Francis Braun, 28, of Garden City, Kan., was arraigned here Monday on an open charge of murder and was held at the Colfax County Jail in lieu of $1 million bond set by Magistrate Archie Valdez.

Deputy District Attorney Leslie Skinner said New Mexico reserves the right to seek the death penalty.

Braun was arrested at a roadblock near Cimarron on Sunday evening, about 40 minutes after a holdup at a mini-mart in Springer, 20 miles southeast of Cimarron, left clerk Geraldine Valdez, 48, dead of two gunshot wounds to the head.

"Someone called and gave us a description of a vehicle," Colfax County Sheriff Jim Maldonado said Monday.

He said the driver surrendered peacefully, and the car was searched Monday.

A weapon found during the search was to undergo ballistics testing today at the state Crime Lab in Santa Fe, he said.

Paul Renfrow, an Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation spokesman in Oklahoma City, said earlier ballistics tests linked one weapon to slayings in Ardmore, Okla., Garden City, Kan., and Pampa, Texas.

Ms. Skinner said there was no information Monday linking Braun to those killings.

Carter County District Attorney Fred Collins of Ardmore, who had filed a first-degree murder charge Sunday against Michael Frank Greene, 37, of Inola, Okla., said Monday he didn't want to discuss that charge until he had studied findings from New Mexico.

"This is the most ridiculous headache. It is not simple," Collins said.

"Right now we're not ruling anybody out," Capt. Stan Wojdylak of the Garden City Police Department said after sending detectives to New Mexico.

"I was asked last night if he (Greene) was a strong suspect. I said, 'Yes, he was.' But now you're looking at a different set of circumstances. We just have to see what happens when we talk to the person in New Mexico. These are probably our two best leads," Wojdylak said.

Pampa police have charged

Greene with capital murder in the shooting of a Pampa photo processing business owner, but Pampa Deputy Police Chief Kenneth Hall said: "Just because we made an arrest doesn't mean we're not going to continue ... following up on each and every lead we can."

Greene, whose father said he was not a violent person and didn't like weapons, appeared before Special District Judge Bebe Bridges in Ardmore on Monday. The judge denied bond for Greene and set a preliminary hearing for Sept. 28.

Meanwhile, Braun, wearing red jail coveralls, stood mute at his arraignment Monday in Raton. He was represented by Public Defender Ray Floersheim, who argued that $1 million bail was excessive.

Magistrate Valdez, no relation to the Springer victim, ruled against Floersheim and said a preliminary hearing would be held within 10 days.

Authorities have said the Ardmore, Pampa and Garden City victims all were shot in the head with a .25-caliber pistol.

The killings began early Wednesday in Garden City, when Barbara Kochendorfer, 27, and Mary Rains, 28, were abducted from convenience stores on opposite sides of the southwestern Kansas city. Their bodies were found hours later.

On Thursday, Edley Perry Spurrier was found dead in the photo processing shop he ran in Pampa, in the Texas Panhandle.

In Ardmore, Gwen Miller was killed Friday, and two other women were wounded.

Ardmore Assistant Police Chief David Willingham said one of the survivors of the Oklahoma shootings, Joann Bean, had identified Greene from photographs as the man who shot her, Mrs. Miller and Mary Manning.

Ms. Bean was listed in good condition Monday at an Oklahoma City hospital. Ms. Manning was in another Oklahoma City hospital, which declined to disclose her condition.

Meanwhile, in Merrillville, Ind., police said the March slayings of two motel clerks may be related.

In an interview Sunday with The Daily Oklahoman, Greene's father, Hank, said of his son: "He would give you the shirt off his back. He's never even had a weapon in his house. He's never liked them. He was always afraid the kids would get hold of them. He's never done no physical harm to anyone."

"At 37, if he was that type of person it would have shown up by now," his father said.

A woman who answered the phone at Hank Greene's house late Monday said the Greens felt "fine" about the new arrest, but she declined further comment, saying: "You're going to have to talk to the FBI."

The woman said, and witnesses later confirmed, that men attending a cock fight would not come to the woman's aid while she was being assaulted by the men on the hood of an automobile in the parking area at the cock fight.

Assistant District Attorney Rudy Gutierrez said his office expects the woman to testify at the trials although his office has not had any contact with the victim since May, when the last pretrial hearing was held in the case.

More or less, we know how to get hold of her, Gutierrez said, referring to his office's working with the woman through Crisis Services, a counseling program that has figured heavily in the woman's efforts to cope with the gang rape.

Defense lawyer Jose Luis Ramos, who represents Perez, says the outcome of previous trials showed the need for moving the trials out of Duval County.

The first two defendants, Orlando Garza and Felipe Chew, were given 20- and 30-year sentences, respectively, after Duval County juries recommended stiff penalties. The third defendant, Roberto Perez, was tried in Hidalgo County and given a two-year suspended sentence and five years' probation.

Ramos said he believes the Duval County juries were compelled to return stiff sentences to offset the battering that San Diego's image has taken during the national news media's coverage of the incident and the trials.

"Can you imagine what would have been said if they had been found not guilty? That's why we're moving," Ramos said.

"The (Duval County jurors) made up their minds prior to going to trial. We just want a jury that hasn't made up their minds."

Trial for gang rapes moved from Duval Co.

SAN DIEGO, Texas (AP) — Prosecutors and defense lawyers have agreed to move the trials of three defendants in the March 1988 gang rape of a Duval County woman to Zapata and Jim Hogg counties.

Officials said Monday the trial of Roberto Andres Garcia will be moved to Zapata County and the trials of Isidro Soliz and Coronado Perez Jr. will be moved to Jim Hogg County.

Garcia and Perez are accused of aggravated kidnapping and sexual assault and Garza is accused of aggravated kidnapping.

Duval County authorities charged 10 men and juvenile in connection with an incident in which a San Diego woman claimed that she was kidnapped from a street near her home and taken to a rural area where she was sexually assaulted by as many as 20

Rains makes it official, enters race for governor

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Texas Secretary of State Jack Rains today formally announced he's a candidate for governor of Texas.

"As governor of Texas, I will lead the battle to make education a cornerstone of our state's strategy for the 21st century. The lack of quality education is at the root of our crime, drug and social welfare problems. It also adversely impacts the Texas economic recovery," Rains said in announcing his bid at the Spring Branch Junior High School auditorium.

Rains, 51, also called for the elevation of respect for teachers and said he wants to give them more time and tools in the classroom.

"Classroom teachers are professionals and must be treated and compensated as professionals. We must eliminate the bureaucratic paper shuffling and free our teachers so they can teach our children," he said from the auditorium's stage.

"I will provide leadership to bring civic and business leaders in to the process and to focus our energy and resources on solving the problem, but this is a problem that will take the involvement of every Texan to solve."

O.A. "Bum" Phillips, the former coach of the Houston Oilers, received among the biggest ovations when he was introduced to the crowd as treasurer of the Rains campaign.

"I don't think he's a politician," Phillips said. "I think he's a Texan. And that's why I'm in it and pulling for him." "We are announcing a great crusade," Rains said. "At the Star Wars budget cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic-controlled House today cut President Bush's request for Star Wars spending in next year's defense budget by nearly $2 billion.

By a vote of 249-175, the House approved an amendment that cut $700 million from the program in addition to the $1.1 billion the House Armed Services Committee had cut last month.

Bush had proposed spending $4.9 billion for the program in the fiscal year starting Oct. 1, and made a personal plea on behalf of the program at a White House meeting on Monday. The House recommended spending of $3.1 billion.

The action came in a series of roll call votes as the House worked its way through the annual defense blueprint. The Senate was debating its own version.

The House rejected one proposal for a deeper cut and a second amendment that would have restored all but $300 million to the administration's request.

"If we value America's security, ban Star Wars," Rep. Les AuCoin, D-Ore., said earlier in the debate.

Rep. Jon L. Kyl, R-Ariz., lost 299-117 in his effort to set spending for the program at $4.1 billion — $300 million below Bush's request. "It is much better to build shields than to build swords," Kyl argued.

An amendment that would have limited spending on Star Wars, formally known as the Strategic Defense Initiative, to $1.3 billion failed by a vote of 286-137.

Neighborhood director is shot

HOUSTON (AP) — A neighborhood watch patrol director was fatally shot after approaching two burglar suspects — a violation of the program's rule not to confront criminals.

Clarence Evans, 35, died early Monday at a local hospital after being shot twice, officials said. He had headed the watch group for three years.

Evans was roused at about 2 a.m. by a woman caller reporting two men attempting to enter her home a few blocks away. He drove to the site and saw a vehicle pulling away from the woman's home and into another driveway, sheriff's Sgt. John Gessner said.

But instead of taking down the vehicle's license number and calling authorities, Gessner said, Evans put on his blinking hazard lights, got out and approached the vehicle.

base of all the problems ... is our educational system.

"Children are not being prepared today. You know it. I know it."

Rains' Houston appearance was the first of several campaign kickoffs scheduled for today in Texas and the start of a 23-city tour of the state. Other stops today were planned for Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and San Antonio.

"We're going to have a full debate," he said. "We're not going to hide behind television cameras."

"I'm a businessman, not a politician. Today we begin a renaissance in education. We're going to move from mediocrity to the top."

During a brief question-and-answer session with reporters, Rains described himself as "pro-life" on the abortion issue but acknowledged there are times when an abortion is necessary. He also said he would comply with financial disclosure regulations although he would not reveal personal income arrangements if they involved other people.

Farris died Monday at a Big Spring nursing home.

She was born Dec. 5, 1900 in Bell County and married William T. Farris on Dec. 16, 1917 in Union in Jones County.

She lived in Anson from 1921 to 1949 and moved from Abilene to Big Spring in 1985. Farris lived at Canterbury until 1988.

She was a member of College Baptist Church.

She is survived by one son and daughter-in-law, W.T. "Tom" and Mary Farris of Snyder; one daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Earl Stovall of Big Spring; five grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Myrtle Greene services set

Services are set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home Chapel for Myrtle "Pete" Greene, 84, of 2106 KSNY Drive who died at 3:45 p.m. Friday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Officiating will be Rick Cunningham, minister of the Clyde Church of Christ, and burial will follow in the Snyder Cemetery.

She was born in Bowie, Tex., on July 4, 1905. She married W.K. "Bill" Greene on July 2, 1921, in Snyder. He died Dec. 3, 1981.

Mrs. Greene was a retired nurse. She worked for more than 40 years in Snyder at Battenfield-Jones and at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

She was a member of the 37th Street Church of Christ.

She was preceded in death by one daughter, Virginia Johnston, who died Oct. 12, 1974; four sisters; and one brother.

She is survived by one son, Jack K. Greene of Snyder; and two sisters, Geneva Williamson of Snyder and Opal Daugherty of Tularosa, N.M.; and six grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Jackie Greene, Larry Greene, Jerry Don Greene and Jeff Turner.

Road obstacle damages auto

A Lubbock family's vehicle was damaged when it hit a small log on U.S. 84 1/2 of a mile east of Snyder at 2:15 a.m. Sunday.

The Department of Public Safety said a 1984 Pontiac Parisienne driven by Randy T. Caudle was westbound when it hit some wood that had apparently fallen from another vehicle.

Caudle's wife, 11-year-old son and 13-year-old daughter were also in the car, a DPS trooper said.

Traffic offenses cause arrest here

A 29-year-old man was arrested on numerous traffic-related charges at 8:21 p.m. Monday in the 1700 Block of Ave. H.

A police sergeant took the man into custody for driving with his license suspended, not having liability insurance, not having a valid motor vehicle registration or inspection sticker and unsafe backing.

3 fire runs made Monday

Firemen responded to three fire calls Monday, the last a grass fire in a pasture two miles south of Snyder off the Colorado City Hwy. that occupied them from 3:57 to 5:20 p.m.

The other calls were smoke scares that were reported at 9:14 a.m. at 2501 28th St. and at 3:10 p.m. in the 2100 Block of 26th St.

Japan seeks to minimize foreign impact

TOKYO (AP) — The government today sought to minimize the impact of its political troubles on foreign relations with assurances that planned diplomatic contacts will go ahead, including the defense chief's visit to Washington.

But some analysts warned of trouble in foreign economic affairs and said the growing influence of opposition parties could make Japan's trade policy more protectionist.

The governing Liberal Democrats' hard loss in parliamentary elections, followed by Prime Minister Souseke Uno decision to resign after less than two months in office, could seriously erode the party's ability to set policy.

Uno's decision Monday means his Cabinet also will resign, but not until the Liberal Democrats find a new leader, which is expected to take several weeks as no obvious candidate was in sight.

At a Cabinet meeting this morning, Uno said Japan holds an important position in global affairs and "continuity should be maintained to the maximum extent," a Foreign Ministry official said.

Foreign Minister Hiroshi Mitsuoka will travel to Paris this weekend for international talks on the Cambodia issue, and Defense Agency chief Taku Yamasaki will go ahead with a scheduled trip to Washington in early August, said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Sunday's election cost the Liberal Democrats their majority in parliament's upper house — the first time in the party's 34 years that it lost control of a legislative chamber — and gave a strong boost to the opposition Socialist Party.

The Socialists are more protectionist on trade issues than the Liberal Democrats and oppose the security treaty under which some 64,000 U.S. troops are based in Japan.

Yamasaki said the Liberal Democrats' "security policy will be unshakable" and he warned that the opposition would change defense policy if it came to power. "In that respect, we will maintain political power with a sense of great responsibility," Yamasaki told reporters after the Cabinet meeting.

The Defense Agency chief leaves for Washington Aug. 7 for a weeklong visit that includes talks with Defense Secretary Dick Cheney on such matters as the two countries' joint development of a new jet fighter for Japan called the FSX.

New foreign secretary ...

Thatcher hints at her successor

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has catapulted the most junior member of her Cabinet, John Major, into the prestigious office of foreign secretary, making him a prime contender to succeed her.

The appointment Monday of Major, the 46-year-old son of a trapeze artist, was the boldest move in Mrs. Thatcher's biggest government shake-up since she took office in 1979.

Worried about her Conservative Party government's sliding popularity, Mrs. Thatcher named new appointees to more than half the 22 Cabinet posts, including defense.

"The object of this shuffle was to improve the cutting edge of government," said Kenneth Baker, who was moved from education secretary to become chairman of the Conservative Party.

The previous chairman, Peter Brooke, who presided over the party's drubbing by socialists in elections for the European Parliament last month, was appointed to the Cabinet as Northern Ireland secretary.

The job in the strife-torn province is largely removed from party politics on mainland Britain.

Mrs. Thatcher fired two key ministers: Transport Secretary Paul Channon, accused of bungling bomb warnings in the aftermath of the Pan Am air disaster over Scotland last Dec. 21 and of a mediocre performance during current transportation strikes, and Social Security Secretary John Moore.

Channon, an heir to the vast Guinness family brewing fortune and reputedly the richest man in the Cabinet, is also accused by critics of a lackluster performance during current strikes on British Rail and the London subway.

Two other Cabinet members, Defense Secretary George Younger and Trade and Industry Secretary Lord Young, said they were resigning to resume business careers.

Young was succeeded by Northern Ireland Secretary Tom King.

nothing improper about her hiring Ms. Dean. She also defended her action in reading a draft copy of a HUD document that affected a client Ms. Murphy was representing before the agency.

Ms. Murphy said Ms. Dean asked a subordinate to show her the document — a letter being prepared for Pierce's signature.

New report urges more oversight

AUSTIN (AP) — Tighter controls are needed to prevent unscrupulous private, for-profit trade schools from abusing the guaranteed student loan program, a new report says.

"These schools offer a questionable quality of training which leads the unsuspecting students into large student loan debts ... and not to the high-paying jobs the schools advertise," says the report authored by Joe L. McCormick, executive director of the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corp.

The report — entitled "School or Scandal?" — says that while many for-profit schools offer valuable services to their students, the bad ones must be exposed and expelled from the loan program.

"Despite our efforts, we are discouraged by opportunistic schools that promise much and deliver little, ravaging the very people they are supposed to help," the report said.

The report recommended a number of state and federal actions to correct the problems.

"Additional steps, in the form of more thorough oversight, tightened regulatory guidelines, reduction of existing program loopholes, must be taken now by the state of Texas," the report said. Congress, too, should enact legislation to address fraud and abuse in student loan programs, it added.

Among problems, the reported cited:

- A school in Houston sent buses and recruiters to homeless shelters in Dallas, San Antonio and New Orleans, where they provided the residents with loan and enrollment applications.

New students returned to the school on the buses, assured they would receive free housing and an adequate monthly living allowance. Upon enrollment, the students discovered that classrooms lacked equipment and instructors lacked training.

"Within a few weeks, the living allowance money has run out. State officials discovered the problem when a local food bank called to complain about the influx of students from the school coming for the daily noon meal."

— Some for-profit schools expand the number of course hours required for a certain subject in order to qualify for government loans.

The Houston Community College offers a two-week course to qualify for a private investigator's license, meeting the state requirement of 40 hours of instruction. But a for-profit school offered the same course with 300 hours of instruction, the minimum needed to qualify for a loan.

— The private schools charge "significantly higher tuition and fees than two-year public colleges offering similar courses."

— Training programs at many private trade and technical schools often are less than six months long. Loan periods are shorter, forcing students to begin repaying the same year they receive the loans, increasing the default rates.

Conflicts are confined to cells after brawl

MIDWAY, Texas (AP) — A Texas Department of Corrections spokesman says a disturbance that left one inmate dead and 12 injured at the Ferguson Unit was racially motivated between Hispanic and black convicts.

TDC spokesman David Nunnelee said one person was stabbed to death and 12 others were injured Sunday night when rioting convicts broke windows and furniture before 25 guards, three of whom fired tear gas in the prisoners' midst, could quell the disturbance.

All prisoners involved in the incident remained confined to their cells today, Nunnelee said.

Nunnelee identified the dead convict as Donovan Fitzgerald Ingram, a Houston man serving a 10-year sentence for aggravated robbery. He was pronounced dead about 7:10 p.m. Sunday at Huntsville Memorial Hospital.

Ingram, 24, had been stabbed twice in the chest, once with a piece of glass from the broken windows, Nunnelee said. He said he didn't know the genesis of the second stab wound. Ingram, a black who had been in prison since December 1987, was first taken to the infirmary and then at 6:24 p.m. was transported to the Huntsville Hospital.

Authorities don't know what started the fight, but Nunnelee said, "It was a racial thing between Hispanics and blacks."

The rioting began about 4:50 p.m. in a recreation room that was destroyed when the rampaging prisoners broke out windows and broke up tables and benches, Nunnelee said.

The 120 inmates in the recreation room used the glass shards and broken furniture as weapons, he said. Guards also found five prison-made knives made of sharpened metal and several padlocks attached to belts that inmates also used as weapons.

All 12 of the injured were treated at the prison infirmary. No guards were injured, Nunnelee said.

The Ferguson Unit, located in Madison County, handles first offenders. The disturbance involved inmates in only one section of the unit.

A pre-detention hearing will be held for the two inmates accused in Ingram's slaying. They were identified as a prisoners serving terms from Hidalgo County and Tarrant County.

Ingram's death marks the first fatal stabbing in the prison system this year, Nunnelee said. The last occurred July 17, 1988, when William Horton, a 24-year-old inmate from Harris County who had been in prison only 2½ weeks, was stabbed to death with a screwdriver in an unprovoked attack at the Goree Unit in Huntsville.

Flight 232...

Search intensifies for missing parts

SIoux City, Iowa (AP) — Investigators ordered another aerial search for key parts of United Flight 232's rear engine and planned to visit the General Electric Co. plant where the engine was made.

The team from the National Transportation Safety Board said they expected to wrap-up their work this week at the Sioux Gateway Airport, where the DC-10 crashed-landed last Wednesday after its rear engine blew apart.

Meanwhile, United Capt. Al Haynes, the pilot credited with keeping the jetliner aloft after most control had been lost, was scheduled to be released from the hospital and meet with reporters for the first time today.

The death toll from the crash rose to 111 on Monday. Of the 296 people on board, 185 survived, including 10 of the 11 crew members. More than 30 people remain hospitalized.

The investigation into the accident has been hampered because the rear engine, one of three on the DC-10, flew apart over farms in northwest Iowa.

On Monday, teams searched a 16-square-mile section of corn and soybean fields about 60 miles away from the crash site in hopes of finding missing pieces of the engine.

While some debris was recovered, key sections have yet to be found including a 400-pound disk from the engine, NTSB investigator Robert MacIntosh said Monday night. Officials ordered another round of aerial photography.

Midland asks Bush to give spirit award

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — City officials hope a White House ceremony in October will mark the first award to a city showing the type of volunteer spirit Midland exhibited in the rescue of Jessica McClure.

The city will ask President Bush, a former Midland resident, to present the first Midland Community Spirit Award in a White House rose garden ceremony Oct. 15, the Midland Reporter-Telegram reported.

International attention was focused on Midland after 18-month-old Jessica McClure fell down an abandoned water well and was stuck there for more than two days in October 1987.

The townspeople rallied to the rescue, and their endeavor was chronicled in a made-for-television movie this year.

The city is taking nominations for the award based on similar heroic acts by communities throughout the nation. The deadline is Sept. 15.

The local Sears, Roebuck & Co. store and its manager Don Byerly have donated up to $20,000 for the awards program.

The winning community will receive a 12-by-18-inch plaque saying, "Nothing the heart gives away is gone. It is kept in the hearts of others."

Former HUD official denies friendship gave her favors in office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House panel investigating the federal housing scandal says he doesn't believe a former housing employee who contends her friendship with a top agency official brought her no favors.

Washington attorney Lynda Murphy testified Monday that she was not given special treatment by Deborah Gore Dean, a friend who was the top aide to Samuel Pierce, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development during the Reagan administration.

Rep. Thomas Lantos, D-Calif., asked whether he believed her testimony on that question, said, "Of course not."

Ms. Murphy was one of two witnesses appearing as Lantos' subcommittee on employment and housing investigated allegations of mismanagement, fraud and influence-peddling at HUD during Pierce's eight years as secretary.

The other witness on Monday, Republican National Committeeman William Taylor of Florida, defended his use of national party stationery for letters in which he lobbied HUD officials for clients.

Ms. Murphy is a Washington attorney who since leaving HUD in 1982 has had extensive dealings with the agency. She was criticized for hiring Ms. Dean as a consultant after Ms. Dean left the agency.

"I'm beginning to feel there is a quid pro quo," said Rep. Christopher Shays, R-Conn.

But asked whether it would be fair to say her close friendship with Ms. Dean helped her receive access to internal HUD information, Ms. Murphy angrily replied: "I don't think that's a fair characterization."

Ms. Murphy said she found

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do your best to eradicate grudges instead of trying to nurture them today. Reopening old wounds won't resolve unresolved issues, but it could contribute to inflaming your ulcer.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Friends should not be imposed upon for special favors today. They may reluctantly concur with your wishes, but inwardly they could resent being forced to do so.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It looks like you will be more effective today if you are able to operate independently of others, especially in matters that pertain to your career.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Keep your focus on your work today, especially if you have a difficult assignment with which to contend. If you let your mind wander, there is a good chance you may make a serious mistake.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Subdue inclinations today to take speculative financial risks, particularly if it has to do with something where someone has more control than you do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Do not let a forceful personality coerce you today into agreeing to something that does not serve your best interests. If you fail to speak up, you could regret it later.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make every effort not to fall behind your list of things you hope to accomplish today. Once you begin to run late or let things overlap, you're likely to do a poor job.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Fun diversions are likely to take precedence over your more serious obligations today and when you later tally the books, you could show losses in both time and money.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When you zoom out of the starting blocks today, you could be a few strides ahead of the rest of the field. However, you might peak early and end up a poor finisher.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Usually you're the type of individual who grasps situations quickly and then tries to proceed in a logical fashion, but today your impulsiveness could cloud your thinking.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Strive to be more mindful than usual of your personal possessions today. Don't leave anything of value in your car with the doors unlocked, even if you're going to be gone only a few minutes.
