The Snyder Pops cultural entertainment program begins tonight at Worsham Auditorium with a show performed by The Fifth of Schola.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. performance are $10 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens.

Members of the Fifth of Schola are Tom Rogers, Halden Conner, Rick Hill, Alan Davis and Kathy Powell.

An entertainment group known for its ability to appeal to a wide audience, The Fifth of Schola are singers with the Schola Cantorum of Texas. The group has performed world-wide via Voice of American radio, appeared on the Washington, D.C., talk show "Panorama," and on several Dallas-Fort Worth television shows as well.

The Fifth of Schola performs barbershop, gospel, western, pop, rock and even opera as well as seasonal music. They employ props and antics to liven the show.

Future Pops performances include Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians on Nov. 6, the Paragon Brass on Feb. 6, 1990, and a folkloric and mariachi group on April 7, 1990. Also included will be performances by the Western Texas College and Snyder High School drama departments.

Season tickets for Snyder Pops are $75 for individuals, $125 for family-of-two passes and $225 for family-of-four passes.

Local business woes, effort to obtain visas scatter French family

Jack Pointeau doesn't want to leave Snyder, but economic reasons force him to relocate to Abilene, where his business, Pack 'N' Mail, is thriving.

"So many people have worked so hard to help me. I don't want to leave, but my business in Snyder is down and my business in Abilene is going up. I don't have a choice. I have to face facts," said Pointeau, a native of France whose battles with the immigration service for the past two years have drawn national media attention.

Pointeau and his family came to the United States in 1981 and eventually settled in California after obtaining an investor's visa.

They moved to Snyder in March of 1983 and continued to have their visas renewed yearly by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. They invested in a Travelodge motel and in other local businesses. Their children, Isabelle, Christine, Francois, or "Frank," and Virginie were all honor students in the Snyder school system. Francoise, the mother, graduated from Western Texas College and received her bachelor's at Angelo State University with a 4.0 grade point average.

In 1988, however, their visas were denied and they were asked to leave the country by Sept. 30, 1988.

Through efforts of local citizens and with the help of U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, the Pointeaus were able to postpone the departure date.

Eventually, after legal involvement and "hundreds and hundreds of letters and telephone calls," the Pointeaus found that staying in the United States meant splitting up the family.

Francoise has found employment at a Baptist academy in San Marcos, where she is teaching French and Spanish. Virginie, the youngest girl, is living with her mother.

Isabelle Pointeau is also working as an instructor at Novice High School, teaching foreign language.

Both have received temporary visas to stay in the country.

The other daughter, Christine, is expected to obtain her visa soon and plans to work with an import-export company in Florida, where a French-speaking employee is needed.

The son, Frank, is applying for a student visa and is enrolled at Western Texas College. He plans to attend a four-year college (see POINTEAU, page 8)

Area mayor target of recall; he won't raise taxes enough

BIG SPRING, Texas (AP) — Mayor Max Green is the target of a recall petition because political opponents say he didn't raise taxes enough.

Green, who campaigned as "No Tax Max," supported a tax increase of 3 cents per $100 valuation, which means the city's revenues and expenditures of $16.5 million will remain almost unchanged because taxable property value decreased.

City Councilwoman Pat DeAnda wanted an 8-cent increase to upgrade the city's infrastructure and improve the police and fire departments. When Green voted against the 8-cent rate, Ms. DeAnda decided to seek the mayor's ouster.

"My basic reasoning is that the mayor is not being responsive ... to the citizens' requests for a tax increase," Ms. DeAnda said, adding that citizens asked for the larger increase at a recent public meeting.

She began circulating the recall petition Friday, and needs 894 signatures to force an election.

Green, who has been in office less than a year, seemed bewildered by it all.

"Certainly, I'm concerned about it," he said. "It is unusual simply because it really is based on the fact I did not go up on taxes."

Green voted for the 3-cent increase and broke a deadlock among council members split over whether to raise the rate 3 cents or 8 cents. The ad valorem rate is 71 cents this year, a 4.4 percent increase over last year's rate of 68 cents per $100 valuation.

The increase means the owner of an average home valued at $25,000 paid $170 in property taxes last year and will pay $177.50 this year. An 8-cent increase would have resulted in an average annual tax bill of $190, an 11.8 percent rise.

The drop in taxable property value comes mostly from companies that went out of business or whose inventories decreased, (see RECALL, page 8)

Firemen fight mobile home blaze two hours

Firemen battled a mobile home fire for two hours early today at the corner of 23rd St. and Ave. J and said later that it was apparently of "a suspicious origin."

A department spokesman said an investigation was just getting started at mid-morning.

The vacant home, in the 1000 Block of 23rd and owned by Billy W. Thompson of 1001 24th St., was reported on fire at 1:45 a.m. by a dispatcher at a local oilfield-related company who called the fire department to say one of her truckdrivers had noticed it.

Five regular firemen and 26 volunteers in four trucks finally returned to the station at 4 a.m. after containing the fire in the middle section of the home, its living and dining rooms, which they said was gutted.

The spokesman said he was not sure where the fire started, but that it must have been in one of those two rooms.

Asked if anyone was seen in the vicinity of the home prior to the fire, he said, "Nobody has come forward."

Perhaps the educational effort to warn young people about drugs is working.

Buck Hatfield, minister of the Faith Baptist Church, recently was conducting a revival out of town. While away, his wife Shirley decided to visit "kids" in Hobbs, N.M.

The real reason for the visit was to see five-year-old granddaughter, Jared, daughter of Sherri and Jim Patrick.

Buck says both he and his wife take a lot of vitamins, and the granddaughter had watched intently as the grandmother took her dose of vitamins before each meal.

Finally, young Jared couldn't resist, "Mawma, why don't you just say 'No.'"

Some people have wondered the importance of a necktie in dressing for business success.

Whether an executive chooses pin stripes or checks is a matter of personal style, but one dress-for-success rule is sacred—never go without your tie.

Sixty-nine percent of the personnel directors at 100 Fortune 1000 companies agree that it is never acceptable to be without a tie while at work.

By contrast, going without a jacket is sometimes okay. A researcher found that 35 agree no jacket is fine, and another 35 say shirt sleeves alone are okay unless meeting with visitors.

The research didn't mention if stained ties were better than sans tie.

In Brief

Bank action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japanese and West German central banks today intervened in currency markets for the second consecutive day, driving down the value of the dollar in an effort to reduce the U.S. trade deficit.

The intervention followed broader action on Monday when the United States, Great Britain, Canada and France joined the Bank of Japan and West German Bundesbank in concerted dollar selling.

Debate begins

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet today began a stormy debate on the future of small private businesses that President Mikhail Gorbachev says are facing an ultimatum from Soviet consumers upset about price gouging.

Gorbachev questioned why soap, for example, is sold by the businesses for as much as $9 when it should sell for $1.50 or less.

Three entries with only three misses each took the prize money in last week's SDN Football Contest.

Two of the entrants, Tony Hayley of Box 516, and Bobby Beard of 4514 Fredonia, even tied with their prediction of 38 points on the Dallas-Washington tie breaker. Our decision was to combine the first and second prize money and divide it between them, giving them $37.50 each.

Cy Willson of 2312 30th St. took the third place prize of $15. Willson predicted 52 points on the tie breaker score.

Another contest appears in today's issue.

No releases ordered...

Crowding unconstitutional

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge declared overcrowding at the Harris County Jail as unconstitutional and said reductions are in order, but fell short of releasing inmates from the facility.

In a 39-page ruling released Monday, U.S. District Judge James DeAnda described the crowding at the Houston jail as extreme, but asked that the situation be eased without orders from his court.

Instead, he asked U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice to meet with officials from Harris County and the Texas Department of Corrections to devise a solution.

DeAnda, chief judge of the Houston-based Southern District of Texas, said large reductions in the Harris County Jail population should be made.

Justice, whose court is based in Tyler, in a sweeping order earlier this decade ordered the Texas Department of Corrections, now known as the Institutional Division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, not to exceed 95 percent of its inmate capacity.

County officials contend that limit has forced convicts to back up in the county jails.

The jail was beset in recent weeks by a bacterial infection that killed two inmates and left dozens of others ill.

"Basically he's saying we're overcrowded but it's a direct result of TDC," Sheriff Johnny Klevenhagen said. "If they would get their prisoners out of jail, we wouldn't be crowded. We have no control over the state prisons."

The sheriff said the prison system's population cap "has had a very devastating effect on all 254 counties. We've got to have some relief at the state level."

Asked about the effect of DeAnda's ruling, Klevenhagen replied, "None. I see we're going to have to have another hearing before Justice's court."

Rossanna Saizar, press secretary for Gov. Bill Clements, said, "We are pleased that Judge DeAnda recognizes and specifically notes the governor's willingness to find a fair and constitutional solution to the overcrowding problem. We certainly accept and will be a part of the discussion that will occur as to finding a solution for Harris County's overcrowding."

Buyout plan is reported

NEW YORK (AP) — Japan's Sony Corp. has offered to buy Columbia Pictures Entertainment Inc. for more than $3 billion, according to reports published today.

Columbia Pictures, a movie and television company with current releases including "When Harry Met Sally ..." and "Ghostbusters II," declined to comment on the reports. Nor would Sony officials comment.

Coca-Cola Co., which owns 49 percent of Columbia's stock, said it was aware of the movie-and-television company in talks and that it would consider whatever recommendation may be made, but declined further comment.

Plant is destroyed by fire

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — It was a scene that would have brought tears to the eyes of coupon clippers. Huge stacks of discount coupons going up in smoke as fire roared through a coupon-processing plant in this Mexican border city.

The pre-dawn fire that raged for three hours in the early morning hours Monday destroyed an A.C. Nielsen coupon-processing plant, but officials said the coupons had been processed and were worthless.

"Those hundreds of boxes filled with coupons fed the flames like tinder in a brush fire," Juarez fire Capt. Hilario Flores said. "The building also went up like a matchbox. The roof and everything inside were made of wood. It had never been adapted to house all that flammable material."

Pearl Harbor Memorial Tablet Will Honor Those Who Died

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: The year 1991 marks the 50th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor, and the 11th Bombardment Group (H) Association Inc. (a non-profit organization formed in Ohio in 1961) is in the process of building a large bronze memorial tablet with the names of those men killed in action on Dec. 7, 1941, inscribed on it. The tablet will be installed on Hickam Field, which is adjacent to Pearl Harbor.

I have spent considerable time and effort visiting the different Air Force bases, checking their records for the names of those killed or missing on Hickam Field, Dec. 7, 1941. The names of all men killed on Hickam Field will be on this tablet, not just those of the men of the 11th Bombardment Group (H).

We do not want to overlook anyone whose name should be on this memorial tablet, so because your column is so widely read, we are appealing to you to help us locate any and all family members who had loved ones on Hickam Field that day who were killed, or listed as missing and not accounted for.

ROBERT E. MAY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, GROUP (H) ASSOCIATION INC.

DEAR MR. MAY: Glad to be of help.

Readers: If you have information about military personnel who were either killed or listed as missing in action, please write to: Group (H) Association Inc., P.O. Box 637, Seffner, Fla. 33584.

DEAR ABBY: Several times your readers have written to complain about television — the quality (or lack thereof) of the shows, the length, the number and the volume of commercials, the violence and offensive language, etc.

My solution to these problems is simple: Get rid of the tube! (People don't refer to it as "the idiot box" for nothing.) I do not own a television, and no one has been able to convince me that I'm missing much. Furthermore, I suspect that many folks who complain about never having the time to do anything spend more time than they realize parked in front of their TV sets.

Please pass this along to your readers, Abby. A suggestion: Tell 'em to get a good book and read it!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter just told us that she is planning to get married this winter. We gave her a good education, and now she is a high-salaried professional woman. She's 27 years old and has been on her own for four years.

Her fiancé is also highly successful. He's 35 years old. Our daughter and this fellow have been living together for more than a year, against our wishes, and now they want a church wedding, followed by a big dinner for all the relatives — paid for by us! ## Thief steals, crashes car

DALLAS (AP) — Police were looking today for a man who stole a car outside a South Dallas convenience store, taking an infant passenger on a terror-filled ride that ended in a fatal crash.

Carol Ann Butler, 35, was killed when the car she was driving was struck by the man, who was driving a car he had stolen moments before outside a grocery store.

Nine-month-old Rosalyn Franklin, who was in the stolen vehicle, suffered minor cuts and bruises in the crash.

The accident comes on the same day the Texas Department of Public Safety reported car theft is up 3.6 percent in Dallas in the first six months of 1989 compared to the same period of time last year.

Police said the incident began about 12:35 a.m., when a group of people pulled up to the store and went inside, leaving their car running. The baby and another passenger, 23-year-old Pamela Morgan, waited in the car's back seat.

"I guess the world's gone nuts when people are leaving their keys in the car with a baby in the back seat," said Detective Roy Hodgens of the Dallas Police Department.

Witnesses said a man who had been hanging around the store jumped in the car, a Chevrolet Caprice, and began to pull out of the parking lot.

Ms. Morgan jumped out of the car, but lost her grip on the baby.

The man drove a short distance before he ran a red light and struck Butler's car.

"I saw the car backing out (of the parking lot), and everybody ran out after it," Edward Johnson, manager of the Little World Grocery, told the Dallas Times Herald. "Then I heard the wreck. It wasn't even a block and a half before it happened. It happened so fast."

The driver fled the accident scene on foot.

Police said the man was black and wearing blue jeans and a tan jacket.

"That guy had a lot of nerve jumping in the car with two people sitting in it," Hodgens said. "But I guess that goes to show what can happen if someone leaves their car and leaves it running."

WHAT SITS OUT BACK, RUNS SUMMER AND WINTER, AND SAVES YOU MONEY?

A heat pump. And there are three good reasons you should get one.

A HEAT PUMP COOLS, HEATS AND SAVES.

Replace your old air conditioner with a new electric heat pump. It's a high efficiency air conditioner in summer. While, in the winter, it's the most energy efficient heating system you can own. On even the coldest days, a heat pump system operates efficiently and will provide all the warmth you need.

A HEAT PUMP CAN SAVE $130 A YEAR.

Compared to a gas furnace, a heat pump is more energy efficient. And TU Electric's low rates make heating and cooling your home with a heat pump an even better value. Tests have shown you can save $130 or more a year by installing a heat pump.*

Altrurian Daughters hold first meeting

Altrurian Daughters Club members held their fall luncheon meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club Sept. 13. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Frank Beaver, Mrs. Bert Dennis and Mrs. N.R. Clements. Some 18 members attended.

Tables were set with fall colors, centered with brass containers of silk flowers.

Plans for a travel event to the Fort Concho Festival in San Angelo during November were reviewed by Mrs. Borden Gray.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Dillard Teal was elected corresponding secretary. Club president Mrs. H.F. Clark presided over the meeting.

Following the meeting, the group adjourned to Mrs. Ophelia Blackard's home for the program. A glimpse of music history and discussion of personal pleasures of music preceded a piano program by Mrs. Blackard. One of her numbers, "Death is Only a Dream," by A.J. Buchanan, was from a collection of music she played in 1915.

Mrs. Blackard also told members of the important impact music can have on a happier and healthier life. She has been a member of the club since the early years of its existence, which began in 1930.

Brit cartoon figure typifies the English

LONDON (AP) — Just as Uncle Sam personifies the United States, the cartoon figure of John Bull has typified England and the British people for more than 250 years.

John Bull is a corpulent, bluff, irascible character who wears a low top hat, swallow-tailed coat, waistcoat bearing the British flag and breeches tucked into boots.

John Bull was described by John Arbuthnot in a series of pamphlets in 1712, and his picture was first drawn by Sir Frances C. Gould.

Getting a clear picture

By James Jacoby

Sitting South, you have reached an optimistic slam. Cover the East-West hands with your thumbs and plan your play. It would seem with a neutral lead of a trump or a club that you could draw trumps, pitch two hearts on the high clubs and hope for the queen of diamonds to be with West to make the slam. However, you get a favorable lead of the heart seven. East puts up the king. You win the ace, play two rounds of spades to pull trumps, then cash the heart queen and ruff your last heart. East shows out on the third heart, discarding a low diamond. There is nothing better to do than to play out the clubs, throwing two diamonds away. Later, when you lead up to the king of diamonds, you can hope that the diamonds will be situated so that you will lose only one trick.

However, when you play A-K-Q of clubs, throwing diamonds, and then lead the fourth club, something unusual happens. On the last club, East throws another diamond away. Does that tell you something? West is known to have started with six hearts and two spades. When East discards on the last club, that marks West with having started with five clubs. Those are his 13 cards, so he must be void in diamonds. So the right play is easy — simply throw another diamond on the last club. West must win the trick. With no diamond to lead, he has to play either a heart or a club. Either way, you can ruff in dummy and throw your last diamond away. Now wasn't that a nice reward for counting the cards?

Service platters make comeback

By BARBARA MAVER
AP Newsfeatures

Service plates are returning to the American dining table, but not in their traditional role.

These show plates, used to mark each place at formal banquets, were once whisked away as soon as the guests were all seated. But now, because of their large size — roughly 12 inches in diameter — they are making a comeback as buffet plates and as underliners for dinner and luncheon plates. In another break with tradition, they usually don't match the rest of the dinnerware.

Although many companies stopped making them years ago, several china companies recently began offering service plates again.

Lenox China, celebrating its 100th anniversary, has introduced four centennial patterns, each with a matching service plate. The Hutschenreuther Corp., at the recent wholesale tabletop market in New York, debuted a collection of service plates that coordinate with other patterns.

Villeroy & Boch says its most popular service plates imitate the look of marble and old paper and come in a variety of colors that coordinate with many patterns in their line.

The return of the service plate is symptomatic of the ebb and flow of table fashions, a subject Jane S. Spillman says has appealed to style-conscious Americans since the early days of the republic. Spillman's recent book, "White House Glassware: Two Centuries of Presidential Entertaining," is the companion to an exhibition on presidential dining at the Corning Museum of Glass in Corning, N.Y., through Oct. 15.

She says fancy table settings in the presidential mansion originated with George Washington, who brought the formal social tone he set would help garner respect from European diplomats sent to represent their countries in the new republic.

Although each first family had its own style, entertaining in the White House has usually been lavish. Ulysses S. Grant, for example, was known to serve a dinner of 29 courses.

Although such amplitude is a relic, the elaborate White House state dinner remains and is one reason why a standard place setting for the president's table has 19 pieces, according to Alice Kolator of Lenox.

Besides the normal complement of plates, cups and saucers and bowls, a typical White House service includes a fingerbowl plate, cream soup and bouillon bowls, ramekins, cocktail cups and demitasse service.

Lenox doesn't retail ramekins, fingerbowl plates or bouillon cups, but it does offer such pieces as the cream soup bowl and base plate, fruit bowl and demitasse service as additions to the standard five-piece place setting, she says.

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
