Attendance is up over one percent from last year at public schools

Snyder public schools reported an average daily attendance of 97.45 percent through October, an increase of over 1 percent from a year ago.

The average daily attendance during a period from Oct. 2 through Oct. 27 is submitted to the state and used by the Texas Education Agency in allocating funds.

Of a four-week average eligible enrollment of 3,331.7 throughout the local public school system, the average daily attendance was 3,246.6, or 97.45 percent.

Those figures compare to 96.34 percent for the same period in the 1988-89 school year. The average eligible enrollment that year was 3,312 and the average daily attendance was 3,190.75.

District-wide, Snyder experienced its best week during the second week of average daily attendance (ADA) this year. The district reported a 97.42 percent average attendance rate the first week, 97.77 percent the second, 97.34 percent the third and 97.26 percent last week.

The highest percent by any one school for any week was 98.64 percent, noted by Northeast Elementary during the final week of ADA. East Elementary experienced an ADA rate of 98.63 percent during the same week.

Highway 84 section set for project

A 13.7-mile section of U.S. Highway 84 from northwest of FM 1611 in Scurry County to the Garza County line has been chosen to be rehabilitated as part of a pilot project, the highway commission determined in its October meeting.

The highway has deteriorated because of excessive moisture under the roadbed. Rehabilitation will include installing vertical moisture barriers, a new technology that researchers hope will alleviate the problem.

Contracts for the work are expected to be awarded in March or April of 1990.

The barriers are trenches seven feet deep and one foot wide, dug along the edge of the roadbed. The trenches are lined with an impervious fabric, filled with gravel, and capped with a foot of cement. Sensitive instruments are installed to monitor moisture levels along and underneath the road surface.

Researchers from Texas Tech University, Texas A&M University and the University of Texas at El Paso chose the highway as part of a pilot project because of the presence of underground water and the area's climatological extremes.

"This project is especially important because it helps to keep Texas at the leading edge of design technology innovation. What we learn can result in safer and more cost-effective roadways," said Arnold Oliver, highway department engineer-director.

Estimated cost of the project is $3,763,000.

U.S. Highway 84 is part of the proposed Texas Highway Trunk System; a long-range plan to develop a rural network of four-lane or better divided roadways. The system will link urban areas in the state, as well as major ports and points of entry from surrounding states and Mexico.

A public meeting to discuss the proposed trunk system is being held today in San Angelo with Snyder City Manager John Gayle, Mayor Troy Williamson, and City Engineer Don Osborn in attendance.

The meeting to discuss the proposed trunk system is unrelated to the rehabilitation project, however, other than the fact that both involve U.S. 84.

In Scurry County...

Unemployment drops to 5.6%

Unemployment figures for Scurry County have dropped markedly, according to the Texas Employment Commission's estimates for August.

Much of the drop can be attributed to the fact that many students and unsuccessful summer jobseekers withdrew from the labor force and jobs were added as schools and the college began fall semesters.

Unemployment dropped from 7.6 percent in August to 5.6 percent in September.

Statewide, unemployment was listed at 6.3 percent, a noticeable increase from a year ago, when the TEC released a figure of 7.1 percent for September.

Unemployment across the United States was figured at 5.1 percent for September, the same as in August.

Scurry County's 5.6 percent is the lowest figure for the county so far in 1989. In March, the figure was 5.9 percent and in January it was at 8.9 percent - highest for the year.

The county's 5.6 percent rate is based on TEC estimates of 8,589 employed and 506 unemployed but seeking employment. Those figures combined equal a civilian labor force of 9,095, of which 506 is 5.6 percent.

Borden County had a September unemployment rate of 7.5 percent, down slightly from 7.6 in August. According to TEC estimates, there were 420 employed in the county out of a (see BORDEN, page 8)

Sides appear near agreement to hike minimum wage by '92

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and congressional leaders today appeared near agreement on a plan to raise the hourly minimum wage to $4.25 by 1992.

Such an agreement would end a lengthy political stalemate and bring the first boost in the base wage since 1981.

"This is not a done deal yet but in principle there is an agreement," said Rep. Vincent Penny, D-Minn. "There is a chance that things could fall apart. But given that there is agreement on the major items I would expect that the remaining issues would not stand in the way."

President Bush told a news conference the Democratic Congress "ought to move now.... We've told them what we want and I wish they'd get some action going. I think the American people are entitled to that."

Bush said he would "take a look at" changes proposed by the Democrats but if their proposal contained elements "that I can't take... I'll send it right back."

The movement came a day after Democrats and Republicans alike complained that the Bush administration was showing no willingness to compromise and that another veto-override battle was likely.

A Democratic minimum-wage bill was scheduled to be debated Wednesday and a Rules Committee session was scheduled this morning to set the ground rules (see WAGE, page 8)

Proposed Amendment No. 18

Below continues the series outlining the 21 proposed constitutional amendments which will be offered for voter ratification on the Nov. 7, 1989, general election ballot.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 44: would eliminate certain time limitations relating to the issuance of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds.

Additional Information In 1985, the legislature adopted a comprehensive state water plan. As part of the plan, an amendment was approved that authorized the legislature to authorize the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) to issue agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million. The legislature, by adopting S.B.

1117 during the 1989 regular session, authorized the TWDB to issue those bonds on or after Sept. 1, 1989, and established a program funded by the bonds through which the board can make water conservation loans to certain districts and other individuals to improve the efficiency of water delivery and application on existing irrigation systems, prepare irrigated land to be converted to dryland conditions and prepare dryland for more efficient use of natural precipitation.

Unless the amendment is adopted, the TWDB will have only two months in which to issue the $200 million of agricultural bonds.

FOR: The problem that prompted the passage of the Article in 1985 remains today. Water is a critical and limited resource and every means must be used to promote its conservation. The proposed amendment, by deleting the time limitation, would allow the program established by S.B. 1117 to be implemented in an efficient and timely manner (see AMENDMENT, page 8)

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Too often, a word to the wise is just enough to start an argument."

People who keep up with such stuff tell us that Batman is the most popular costume this Halloween. Batman has replaced Ronald Reagan, but the George Bush thing is still pretty popular.

A good costume is said to be worth almost any amount to get a message across. We heard about a mother who paid $100 for a child's trick-or-treat uniform to scare his friends.

The youngster asked his mother about taking off the price tag.

"No," said the mother. "Leave it on and we'll scare the heck out of your dad."

Several years ago we heard about a primary school teacher who asked her class what they wanted to be when they grew up. The teacher got the traditional answers from most of the pupils.

Some wanted to be a doctor, a nurse, a fireman, a police officer, a teacher or an astronaut.

One little boy sat quietly, giving no indication of his future plans. "What about you, Bubba?" the teacher asked. "What do you want to be when you grow up?"

The boy shrugged, "Gee, I don't even know what I want to be for Halloween yet."

It likely reveals a widening generation gap, but some of the current fashions—both in clothing and hairstyle—would be perfect for a Halloween costume just a few years ago.

It wasn't long ago that we observed some teens in a large city shopping mall. The clothing didn't fit, the colors didn't match, and the hair looked like the product of a fraternity initiation.

It was early afternoon, and we thought the youngsters had gotten ready early for a costume party. At least they'll be in perfect style for tonight's festivities.

In Brief

Dress code suit

COLORADO CITY — A hearing has been scheduled for 2 p.m. today in the 32nd Judicial District Court in reference to a sexual-discrimination suit filed against the Colorado Independent School District by a student who is on in-school suspension because of the length of his hair.

The suit has been filed by Colorado City High School senior Mike Lara and his father, Tanis, who contend the school dress code is biased against male students regarding the length of their hair. The suit contends the dress code violates the Texas Equal Rights Amendment.

Lara, 17, has been on in-school suspension since Oct. 13. The suit was filed Oct. 24.

Explosion victims...

22 Phillips workers mourned

PASADENA, Texas (AP) — Thousands of people gathered to mourn the 22 workers who died in fiery explosions at the Phillips Petroleum Co. plastics plant last week, as crews continued the search for five other bodies.

"Tragedies happen every day somewhere, someplace in our world. We read about it in our papers. We hear about it on our radios. We see them on our televisions and we are sad," S.R. "Buddy" Jones Jr., chairman emeritus of Bank One of Texas in Pasadena, told the 2,500 who attended the memorial service at the John Ray Harrison Convention Center Monday night.

"But this tragedy occurring in one of our finest industries and to our own dear friends and families such as you is a tragedy that strikes us in our very hearts."

Among those attending the 45-minute service Monday evening were 259 family members of those who died in the Oct. 23 accident.

The confirmed death toll from the explosions, which leveled a large portion of the plant, reached 17 Monday with the recovery of three more bodies.

Despite thunderstorms and heavy rain, work crews continued moving the tons of steel and concrete in hopes of recovering the last of the victims. Phillips officials said some of the rain actually aided in the search by washing dust from the rubble.

Much of the search has been concentrating on the plant's control and finishing rooms, where debris is stacked as high as 40 feet, officials said.

U.S. Rep. Mike Andrews, D-Texas, whose district includes the plant, toured the facility Monday and met with authorities to be briefed.

Andrews said he does not want a House Government Operations Subcommittee to move too quickly in hearings on the explosion. The committee has scheduled hearings for Nov. 6 in Washington.

"I think it's a good idea to let this investigation work its will and give the OSHA people who are experts the opportunity to sift through the facts and get the facts and then draw some conclusions," Andrews said.

"I have no reason to believe the hearings will not be responsible and not lead to productive recommendations, but it's awfully early right now for Congress to be in Pasadena talking about this."

The polyethylene plant produced almost 20 percent of the nation's production of plastic pellets used in the manufacture of milk jugs and grocery bags.

Phillips officials believe flammable hydrocarbon vapor from ethylene and isobutane gases escaped from a leaking chemical reactor, triggering the explosion. But company officials have said they don't know how the gases were ignited and won't concentrate on finding a cause until all the missing victims have been found.

Incident highlights states' dilemma in cases of abuse

PLYMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — A closed courtroom in rural New Hampshire has become a battleground for deciding when parental discipline becomes so harsh that the state must intervene.

The state has asserted a right to protect the children of Stephen and JoAnn DeCosta by filing felony assault charges against them and by taking their four children, ages 3 to 14, on grounds that the parents abused the two youngest in beatings administered with a stick and a paddle.

But the DeCostas and their supporters, many of them fellow parishioners at a fundamentalist church that advocates strict child-rearing, say the state has no business intruding into a matter as private as disciplining children.

"It comes down to this: Who owns the kids, the state or the parents?" asked Bill Taylor, a friend of the DeCostas.

Taylor and others have sat for many hours this fall outside Plymouth District Court as Judge Edwin Kelly hears testimony on whether the state Division for Children and Youth Services was justified in taking the children.

Character witnesses for the DeCostas have included friends such as former Gov. Meldrim Thomson and State Police Lt. David McCarthy, whose children attend a church-run school with the three oldest DeCosta children.

In Rumney, a small town in the southern White Mountains where the DeCostas live, rumors have circulated about the case for weeks, frustrating the family and supporters who say they want to talk but cannot because state law prohibits it. The law makes it a misdemeanor to discuss what goes on at a civil child abuse or neglect hearing.

No such restrictions apply to a criminal indictment issued Oct. 19 by a Grafton County grand jury. The indictment accused each parent of second-degree assault. Court papers do not say who brought the matter to police or indicate what prompted the DeCostas' actions.

Tiny town's house of drug horrors attracts 1,000 plus

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — More than 1,000 people have lined up for hours to see the fate of teen-age drug abusers in a "haunted crack house" in this rural town, where the police chief says no real cocaine dens exist.

Since this Eastern Shore village of 2,000 opened its Halloween attraction late last week, children and adults have mobbed the town square to enter the house of horrors in the former county jail.

On Monday evening, the line started forming 1½ hours before the first show. But tonight's final performances may bring even larger crowds, organizers say.

"They say it's real spooky. They say it's going to scare you to death. ... It's supposed to teach you a lesson," Randy Robinson, a high school student from nearby Grasonville, said as he waited to get in.

"Some of them go through two or three times. I don't think it's just that it's such a good scare. I think people just like what's going on in there," said Leon Dem-by, a volunteer who portrays "Mr. Cocaine" in one scene. "Some people think this should have been done a long time ago."

Visitors tour 11 stations starting with a courtroom starring a real-life judge and ending with a graveyard, where actors in black costumes and white makeup beg for help from their tombs.

The show was organized by and stars dozens of local government workers, members of civic groups and high school drama club members, who rallied around the idea proposed by Police Chief John Lechlitter.

"Every time you pick up a newspaper, what do you see? Crack, crack, crack," Lechlitter said. "This is a drug abuser's odyssey, if you will."

He supervised the planning of the program, which begins outside with a police helicopter zooming over the crowd to shine its spotlight on a young man selling drugs to a teen-age girl. Real police burst out of the bushes; the man pulls out a pistol and the officers fire shotguns loaded with blanks.

Groups of 12 are then led through the house by figures dressed as ghosts and ghouls to witness the pair's arraignment and scenes of children confessing their drug addictions to parents.

Diabetes Is Dangerous If It Remains Undetected

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please tell your readers about a disease that is fast approaching epidemic proportions. It is diabetes. Most Americans think this disease is controllable and not life-threatening. Unfortunately, in order to properly treat people with diabetes, they must first be diagnosed. Statistics reveal that an estimated 11.5 million Americans have diabetes, but only 6 million of them have been diagnosed and are being treated. The many other millions of Americans are walking around as virtual human time bombs. Diabetes, if left untreated, can cause blindness, stroke, heart disease and even death!

The incidence of diabetes is extremely high in minority groups such as Hispanics, blacks, Native Americans and Asian Americans. Also at risk are pregnant women and women who have given birth to babies of 9 pounds or more, people over 50, and those with a family history of diabetes.

To reach the millions of Americans with undiagnosed diabetes, the American Diabetes Association is launching a public education program called, "Diabetes. Take the Test. Know the Score."

The campaign is designed to urge all adult Americans to take a simple blood test that can determine diabetes quickly and early, when it can be treated easily. It's surprising that in the health-conscious United States, people are flocking to their doctors for high blood pressure and cholesterol tests, yet few understand the need to have their blood sugar level tested as well.

Through your column and our education program, we are hoping to eliminate unnecessary health problems and even deaths caused by untreated diabetes by encouraging your readers to see their doctors. Will you help us?

SHERMAN HOLVEY, M.D.,
PRESIDENT, AMERICAN
DIABETES ASSOCIATION

DEAR DR. HOLVEY: A resounding yes. Here's your letter. I hope it helps to alert the millions of Americans who have diabetes but are not aware of it. Readers: See your doctors. Take the test. Know the score.

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I have a friendly wager on the solution to this question: If John and Mary are first cousins, what is the relationship of John's children to Mary, and to each other?

I say that John's children are Mary's first cousins once removed, and their children are second cousins to each other.

My friend says that John's children are second cousins to Mary, and third cousins to Mary's children.

Who is right? A steak dinner is riding on your answer.

SUSIE AT A-1

DEAR SUSIE: According to the Los Angeles Family History Center, you are correct. Your friend owes you a steak dinner.

Club views demonstration

Vernell Leach of San Angelo gave a watercolor demonstration to the Snyder Palette Club at their last meeting.

Mrs. Leach is a well-known artist of the area, and taught art for many years. She did two paintings of Iris in the direct method painting. She started another picture of flowers, painting the positive and negative shapes. She explained that artists paint to make the shape of important things they want the viewer to admire, but can accomplish this by leaving unpainted the part they want to bring out.

Some 16 members were present for the meeting. Lucille Yandell, Emma Huffman, and Charlotte Etgen were hostesses for the day.

When there is a choice between playing a game contract in three no-trump or in four of a major with a 5-3 fit, how do you decide? Usually the 5-3 major is superior, particularly if at least one hand has shortness, but exceptions do exist. In today's deal, South made a two-diamond response; when opener North raised to three diamonds, South had to make a choice. Despite the strong possibility that North might have shortness in a black suit, South elected to bid three no-trump. He thought nine tricks might be easier than 10 with his completely balanced hand.

With a normal club lead, declarer would have a little work to do. He could make his contract in a variety of ways, but it would probably be best to just lead the jack of spades out of his hand and hope that the opponents would give him his ninth trick in clubs. The actual opening lead of the spade nine provided declarer with a real bonanza. It was covered with dummy's queen and East's king, and was taken by the ace. Declarer now boldly led a diamond to dummy's king. East won the ace and switched to a club. When West took the ace and returned the suit, declarer won East's jack with his king, led K-Q of hearts (overtaking with the ace in dummy), and played the eight of spades through East. When that suit behaved, declarer won 11 tricks for a top score.

Four hearts would have short shrift. A club would be won by West with the ace, and the queen of diamonds back would quickly give the defenders the first four tricks.

Better Homes and Gardens...

Cookbook revised for easier recipes

NEW YORK (AP) — The 10th edition of familiar red plaid Better Homes and Gardens Books "NEW COOK BOOK" is completely revised, to include more "fast" and "easy" recipes and new nutritional analysis charts.

Each of the recipes included in the new edition was revised, tested and retested "to reflect the way consumers cook today and will be cooking in the 1990s," said Linda Henry, a senior food writer and food editor for Better Homes and Gardens Books, in an interview here.

The recipes were tested by home economists in Better Homes and Gardens' test kitchens in Des Moines. The recipes were judged for practicality and reliability, as well as taste appeal.

Home products and hand mixers were used in developing the recipes to make sure the recipes and ingredients would not be "too exotic" for consumers, Henry said.

The new cookbook ($19.95) includes 1,400 recipes, including 200 microwave recipes, and 440 full-color photographs, including 194 "how-to" photos that show how to do important recipe steps.

Many of the recipes require only a handful of ingredients, either basics found in most pantries, or fresh from the market.

Since the first edition, "My Better Homes and Gardens Cook Book," was published in 1930, more than 26 million copies of the cookbook have been sold.

The latest edition reflects consumer interest in lighter and healthier foods and preparing "home-cooked food in take-out time," Henry said. Henry was one of the editors to write the cookbook's 10th edition.

Many of today's consumers are interested in preparing healthy, delicious recipes but lack the basic skills and time to do so. The "NEW COOK BOOK" no longer assumes that the cook knows how to fold, blend, chop, dice or saute. Nor is it taken for granted that cooks will recognize when a sauce is thickening and not curdling, or when a fish fillet is done but not overcooked.

While nutrition and convenience are emphasized, the new cookbook is not a "health" cookbook, Henry says. "We never sacrificed quality or flavor. A cookie is still a cookie, although ours are just a slightly healthier version." New logos identify "fast" and "easy" recipes. The "fast" recipes take 30 minutes or less to prepare a main dish or dessert; 20 minutes or less for a snack, beverage or side dish. The "easy" recipes feature simplified preparation techniques.

The cookbook also features Better Homes and Gardens' new one-bowl method of preparation for many cakes and cookies. "We are the first to develop a method of preparing cakes that are almost as easy as cake mixes — without sacrificing home-baked flavor," Henry said.

The levels of sugar and fat have been reduced in many of the recipes, and the salt has been taken out from almost every cookie recipe. "We found that salt was something Grandmother put in, but it really isn't necessary for the taste or the chemistry of most cookie recipes," Henry explained.

Among the other changes: many of the recipes are designed to serve two to four persons, instead of six to eight; more flavor variations have been added to basic recipes; many ethnic dishes are included.

The new nutritional analysis charts include cholesterol content.

Vote Yes To Proposition 8

Tuesday, Nov. 7

Texas State Constitutional Amendment Election

Snyder did not make the short list for current prison construction, but Proposition 8 on the ballot may still have a direct impact on Scurry County and efforts to locate additional Texas Criminal Justice Department facilities here. The proposition calls for the issuance of up to $400 million in general obligation bonds to finance projects for three state agencies—including the TDCJ.

This is the most economical method of financing for the state. Prisons will be built in Texas because of federal court orders. Scurry County citizens should again show their support for prisons by voting YES on Proposition 8.

Members of the Economic Development Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce believe that a big turnout of votes in favor of Proposition 8 will once again be a signal to TDCJ officials of local citizens' interest and support of the prison system.

AP top teams change little

The top-ranked teams in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll outscored their five opponents by a combined 153-9 and easily held onto their No. 1 rankings.

The top four teams in 5A remained unchanged from a week ago with Judson receiving 14 of the 24 votes cast by The AP's panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Odessa Permian, Houston Lamar and Houston Sterling remained 2-3-4 but No. 5 Huntsville and No. 6 Longview dropped out of the top 10 after losses.

The newcomers are No. 9 Plano East and No. 10 Sugar Land Willowridge, both returning to the top 10 after earlier losses.

West Orange-Stark blanked Port Arthur Lincoln 29-0 and received 18 first place votes to keep its lead over runnerup Jasper.

Southlake Carroll beat Sanger 45-0, Groveton beat Elkhart 30-2 and Munday defeated Paducah 21-7.

Southlake Carroll received 23 of the 24 first place votes with Cameron receiving the other.

Fourth ranked Bay City lost to El Campo 10-0 and dropped to No. 9. No. 10 Terrell dropped out of the rankings after a 26-22 loss to Corsicana and was replaced by No. 10 El Campo.

Denver City dropped from No. 2 in 3A to No. 9 after a 30-21 loss to Lamesa.

Tenth ranked Shiner was the only loser among the 2A ranked teams. It was replaced by No. 10 Manor.

In Class A, No. 3 Bartlett lost to No. 5 Thorndale 25-24 and dropped to No. 7 while Thorndale moved up to No. 3.

Rising Star, No. 10, was tied by Hico, 7-7 and dropped from the top 10. Era moved into the No. 10 spot.

Moore rites

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Former New England Patriots lineman Steve Moore was remembered as a "classic gentleman" during a funeral attended by many of his former professional teammates.

Moore, 29, was shot Wednesday night as he left a Memphis convenience store after making a purchase.

Tigers with seven points followed by Liz Greathouse with three and Jennifer Pate and Angie Brewster with two apiece.

"I thought we had some successes in pre-season when we finished in fourth at the Pecos Tournament and took consolation in Monahans," said head coach Patty Grimmert.

"We had some tough matches in district," she continued, "and we had some ups and downs, but we had a good season and we are looking forward to next year."

"We have seven graduating seniors," Grimmert reported, "and they'll be missed, but we also have four returning juniors that we can build on."

"I want to thank all the parents and boosters and fans," she said in conclusion, "for following us cross country and supporting us."

Carter High ruled ineligible for AAAA football playoffs

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Carter High School football players were shocked and disappointed to learn the District 11-5A executive committee had declared them ineligible for the Class 5A state playoffs and a chance to repeat as state champions.

"I knew it would be something, but I didn't expect it to be this harsh," said defensive back Clifton Abraham, a returning starter from Carter's 1989 Class 5A state championship team.

The District 11-5A executive committee voted, 3-1, to dis-

The committee also voted, 4-0, that Carter must forfeit its Oct. 13 victory over Grand Prairie because Carter used sophomore tackle Michael Fuller, who was academically ineligible.

Carter, which was 6-1 overall and 3-0 in district play, was forced to forfeit the victory over Grand Prairie, dropping the Cowboys to 5-2 and 2-1 in district.

Giants take 24-14 win...

Vikings fall to N.Y.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The New York Giants knew they weren't going to have tight end Mark Bavaro against the Minnesota Vikings. It wasn't too long before they learned that quarterback Phil Simms wouldn't be around, either.

Yet none of that mattered, because of what the Giants did have — that stellar defense of old. Linebacker Pepper Johnson returned an interception 39 yards for a touchdown and New York's special teams forced turnovers that led to two more touchdowns Monday night as the Giants, scoring all their points in the second half, beat the Vikings 24-14.

The victory kept the Giants (7-1) a game ahead of Philadelphia (6-2) in the NFC East and dropped Minnesota (5-3) into a first-place tie with Chicago in the NFC Central.

It also may have changed the prevailing feeling among NFL experts that the Vikings were destined for the Super Bowl with Herschel Walker in their backfield.

With Bavaro out and Simms sidelined early with an ankle injury, this was a game Minnesota figured to have in hand. The Vikings didn't, and their undoing came in the first half when they blew three scoring opportunities. The Vikings led only 7-0 at the half on an 8-yard scoring pass from Tommy Kramer to Walker.

"We definitely knew we needed more than seven points in the first half," Kramer said. "We had the golden opportunities and could not make the play to take advantage. You can't win with as many turnovers as we had."

The biggest turnover was the Johnson interception early in the third quarter. Until then, Jeff Hostetler had done little to move the Giants as Simms' replacement.

Facing third-and-8 at the Vikings' 34, Kramer went back to pass and was pressured by cornerback Mark Collins. Kramer rolled away to his left and tried to lob the ball to running back Alfred Anderson.

The ball fluttered over Anderson's head and hit Johnson in the stomach. He caught the ball in stride, got a block from Collins around the 10-yard line, and got into the end zone.

"He kind of put it up for grabs," Johnson said. "I dropped three or four in practice and got lucky on this one. I took it on the run and Mark Collins nudged me just enough near the goal line so I could dive in."

The play changed the complexion of the game. The defense held the Vikings on the next series and the offense drove 47 yards in 12 plays before settling for a 10-7 lead on a 39-yard field goal by Raul Allegre.

Things went from bad to worse for the Vikings. Anderson fumbled the next two kickoffs, each one giving the Giants a gift touchdown.

Lewis Tillman jarred the ball loose on the first kick and Dwayne Jiles recovered at the Minnesota 10. Three plays later, Hostetler hit Lionel Manuel with an 11-yard touchdown pass.

Cage league now forming

Persons interested in forming a new men's open basketball league should contact Dwane Mozingo at 573-5197 for information.

The group will feature players over 18 years of age.

Myron Guyton recovered the second Anderson fumble at the Vikings' 20. Four plays later, Otis Anderson scored from two yards out to give New York a 24-7 lead.

Rick Fenney's 1-yard run with 4:03 to play served merely to reduce the margin.

Walker, who was used extensively as a decoy, was limited to 68 yards in 12 rushes.

Simms sprained his right ankle on the Giants' first series as he was sacked by Al Noga. Simms had the ankle taped, but didn't return.

Mavs' Tarpley AWOL from team's workouts

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Mavericks forward Roy Tarpley told a teammate that he will test negative for drug use, according to a published report.

Tarpley, a two-time offender of the National Basketball Association's drug policy, disappeared for 24 hours last week, sparking speculation that he might have violated his after-care drug program and would be dealt a "third strike," banning him from the NBA for at least two years.

Tarpley returned to practice Saturday and apologized to teammates and Mavericks officials for missing practice and not notifying anyone.

He said he was upset over his performance at Thursday's practice, overslept and missed Friday's session and then went to his mother's house for the day.

The Dallas Morning News reported in Tuesday editions that Tarpley told a Mavericks teammate Sunday he will pass his next

Bush will hold unexpected summit with Soviet leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush announced today he would hold an unexpected, early summit with Soviet Leader Mikhail Gorbachev on Dec. 2 and 3 aboard American and Soviet naval vessels in the Mediterranean. An announcement was also under way in Moscow.

understanding." He said neither he nor Gorbachev expected "substantial decisions" to be made in the two days of talks.

"In this time of change, I didn't want to miss something," Bush said. "I don't want to have two gigantic ships pass in the night because of failed communications."

He spoke at a hastily arranged news conference at the White House. Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze was making a simultaneous announcement in Moscow.

Borden

Unemployment figures for other nearby counties were: NOLAN — 7.8 percent, based on a work force of 8,073 with 7,444 employed and 629 seeking employment. MITCHELL — 8.3 percent, based on a work force of 4,051 with 3,716 employed and 335 seeking employment. FISHER — 6.8 percent, based on a work force of 2,433 with 2,267 employed and 166 seeking employment. STONEWALL — 4.3 percent, based on a work force of 1,199 with 1,147 employed and 52 seeking employment. KENT — 1.7 percent, based on a work force of 527 with 518 employed and 9 seeking employment. GARZA — 7.2 percent, based on a work force of 1,968 with 1,827 employed and 141 seeking employment.

Moscow came at a time when Bush is under pressure from congressional Democrats to demonstrate more flexibility in responding to the dramatic changes in the Soviet Union and especially in other Eastern European countries, including Hungary and Poland.

Gorbachev is under pressure of a different sort at home — to demonstrate that his policies of perestroika, or economic restructuring, can improve the daily lives of millions of Soviet citizens.

"Now that the meeting has been announced, I expected there will be an awful many suggestions as to the subjects to be discussed," Bush said.

He said there was no formal agenda but that the two men would discuss a "wide array of subjects." The president stressed that the success of the summit should not be judged on whether decisions are reached.

Bush said he originally proposed the idea of the summit in July, and got a "very prompt" and favorable reply from Gorbachev.

Mrs. Smith, a lifetime resident of Scurry County, died at noon Sunday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

She was a member of First Baptist Church.

Born Aug. 23, 1909, in Scurry County, she married Rea Falls March 30, 1929, in Colorado City. He died July 15, 1971. She later married Rev. C.J. Smith on Feb. 27, 1977. He survives.

Other survivors include one daughter and son-in-law, Ann Falls Trotter and William Trotter of Ft. Worth; one son and daughter-in-law, Thomas Rea Falls and Mavis Falls of Waco; two sisters, Zada Taylor of Snyder, and Addie Moore of Amarillo; six grandchildren, Kim Falls of Dallas, Dr. Elliott Trotter, Eric Trotter and Elise Trotter, all of Ft. Worth, Kerry Young of Austin, and Ryan Falls of Harlingen.

Pallbearers were to be A.C. Alexander, Roy Carter, Lawton Taylor, Max Preston, Leon Sterling and Harold Holliday.

1926, in Anson. He died March 16, 1980.

She was a member of Highland Methodist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Robert L. Walker Jr., of Breckenridge, and Billy Carl Walker of San Antonio; two daughters, Sue Terrell of Odessa, and Nancy Daniel of Pecos; one sister, Emma Hughes of Baird; 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 46-year-old wife has chronic allergic rhinitis and is a borderline asthmatic. Her coughing spells have been severe. Finally, our doctor put her on Tussionex tablets, and a miracle occurred. The cough totally ceased. Now we find the drug has been removed from the market because of its addictive tendencies. Without the drug, her cough has returned to its original severe state. Can you tell me why they removed the drug from the market?

DEAR READER: Tussionex has not been removed from the market; it is listed in the 1989 Physicians' Desk Reference.

The medicine, in capsule or liquid, contains hydrocodone, a derivative of morphine; therefore, there is a potential for abuse or addiction. It is marketed as a cough preventative, not for asthma or rhinitis. The medicine should not be used for more than a few days.

If your wife's cough triggers an asthma attack, she might be helped by a decongestant, which is safer than Tussionex. Several of these compounds are available without prescription. In addition, several prescription drugs are available in spray form and can be used to prevent asthma attacks. She can check with her doctor about these treatments.

Let me remind you that coughing spells are often the only sign of low-grade asthma. Therefore, your wife may want to investigate the possibility that asthma, not cough, is her underlying problem.

Because her doctor appears not to have diagnosed her condition satisfactorily and suggested new treatment, I recommend you have her examined by an internist. Such a specialist should be able to prescribe appropriate therapy. Tussionex contains a narcotic, so your wife is better off without it. Equally effective treatment is available, without the hazards of Tussionex.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm concerned about the effects of asbestos to the human body. Can you enlighten me?

DEAR READER: Asbestos causes a major reaction in the body, often leading to lung disease.

When asbestos fibers are inhaled into the lungs, as can occur with people who work with it, they penetrate pulmonary tissue and cause low-grade inflammation. This eventually produces chronic lung scarring (fibrosis), leading to emphysema and, in severe cases, respiratory insufficiency.

In addition, asbestos fibers are associated with pulmonary cancers, such as carcinoma and the more unusual mesothelioma. Mesotheliomas from asbestos may also appear in areas outside the lungs, such as the peritoneum (abdominal lining).

Asbestos is particularly damaging because the fibers persist indefinitely in the lungs; they are not digested or broken down by the body. Therefore, they cause chronic irritation and disease.

Although it is a good insulator, asbestos is so hazardous to humans exposed to the fibers that recent federal law has put a virtual halt to its mining and commercial use.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Living With Chronic Lung Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker.
