Station history patterned after change of times

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

The 40-year history of KSNY Radio evokes memories of big band music on the late-night "Stardust Show" and the time when disc jockeys lived in a row of houses on the north side of the station in northwestern Snyder.

The station is celebrating its 40th anniversary today, to include an open house from 3-5 p.m.

It was on Nov. 10, 1949, when the station was opened at its present location in a converted Army barracks building and three years later when the founding Blake-Formby Broadcasting Co. sold it to Wendell Mayes Sr., William Jamar Jr. and the late

J.T. Hughes, who formed the company that still operates it today, Snyder Broadcasting Co.

The station is now owned by president and bookkeeper Paula Gilbert, Wendell Mayes Jr. of Austin and Jamar, who lives in Denver, Colo.

"Our philosophy is to play enjoyable music for people, report the news as best we can and provide a medium for our advertisers to showcase their services and wares," said station manager Paul Gilbert.

"We are a small business. We get no grants, fees or funds from the government. We're supported by what we can go out and churn (see RADIO, page 8)

New Miss Snyder set to be named Saturday

A new Miss Snyder will be crowned here Saturday.

The current title holder, Rhonda Jo Horn, will relinquish her crown to one of six hopefuls during the Miss Snyder Pageant, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Worsham Auditorium on the high school campus.

The winner will represent Snyder in the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant, to be held the first week of July.

Tickets to Saturday's pageant are $4 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens.

The interview portion of the competition, which comprises 40 percent of a contestant's score, will be held in the afternoon at Willow Park Inn. Evening gown, swimsuit and talent competition will be held during the evening pageant. Talent comprises 40 percent of the score while evening gown and swimsuit are worth 15 percent each.

Special guests and performers at the pageant will be Horn and the current Miss Texas, Leah Kay Lyle.

Candidates for the title of Miss Snyder are twins Charemon and Rozlyn Peery, 19, from Abilene and students at Western Texas College; sisters Julie Brownnd, 20, and Jodie Brownnd, 17, from Monahans and students at Texas Tech University; Sarena Wright, 18, and a student at WTC; and Darcey Rushing, 17, and a dance instructor in Odessa.

Workshop involves variety of topics for school board

Snyder public schools board of trustees discussed topics from tennis court restrooms to parking and from homecoming to a 1988-89 annual performance report in its afternoon workshop session Thursday.

The board will convene for its regular monthly meeting at 6 p.m. Monday. The meeting will open in executive session.

Topping Thursday's lengthy agenda was a discussion concerning restrooms to be built to serve the tennis courts located south of the junior high school. The local soccer association would also be permitted use of the restrooms. Lawton Taylor, director of maintenance, gave a brief presentation as to location and layout of the proposed building, which had already been placed in the yearly budget. Board members will have to take formal action during Monday's meeting, but agreed informally that the restrooms should be located in the southeast corner, between the courts and the border that separates West Elementary from the soccer fields. The 16 foot by 20 foot facility would not be located near the street and its doors would open to the south.

The board is expected to accept the location and the building — roughly estimated to cost $12,424 — and to begin the process of seeking bids at the Monday meeting. Also discussed was the possibility of contacting the local soccer association concerning the upkeep of the facility.

Superintendent Dalton Moseley brought before the board a request from high school principal Rueben Gillespie concerning (see BOARD, page 8)

Legion post honors Veterans' Day here

The American Legion post in Snyder plans several activities for Saturday, Veterans' Day.

The day will begin with a breakfast from 6 until 9 a.m. for veterans and their families. A flag raising ceremony will be held at 9 a.m.

Evening festivities include a 6 p.m. barbecue dinner, followed by a dance.

American Legion auxiliary and junior auxiliary members also begin selling poppies on Thursday and will continue through Saturday.

Following tradition, the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here will be closed Saturday and will honor Veterans' Day at the American Legion. The VFW will be in charge of Memorial Day activities and on that day the American Legion post will be closed.

BCD supports area prison efforts

The Board of County Development Thursday passed a resolution supporting Lamesa and Dawson County in their effort to win a Texas Department of Criminal Justice unit.

Noting that the state "has in the past been heavily dependent on the taxes generated by the West Texas area," the board said it "would now encourage the State of Texas to serve this area of the state by the location of a TDCJ detention facility in Lamesa, Dawson County."

Chamber of Commerce executive director Bill Moss said the resolution will be sent to Lamesa chamber director Luke Nichols, who will forward it to the Dawson County Economic Development Committee.

Moss said the resolution is in response to a request from Lamesa and Dawson County, which was one of 19 South Plains counties to support Snyder and Scurry County in their 1987 application for a prison.

The board also passed a resolution congratulating KSNY Radio on its 40th anniversary today.

Moss said in making his monthly financial report for the BCD that the board will end this year with $2,000 left over from its calendar year budget to be returned to the county. The BCD's budget for this year is $57,400.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "An old-timer is one who can remember when street people were city sanitation workers."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Jimmy Carr, in the Vernon Daily Record, says writers who like to see words—the tools of the trade—used properly often get branded as eccentrics.

Former NBC newsman Edwin Newman is a classic example and he has written a couple of books noting that modern writers and broadcasters are murdering the mother tongue.

Another language buff, writing in a daily newspaper in Arkansas, said rather than needing a good 5-cent cigar, "what this country really needs is a good refresher course in pronoun-antecedent agreement."

The writer complained about a common error: "the state health department had announced their..." She wondered how "their" came to be the pronoun following state health department.

"Poor he, it, she, its, his, him, her and hers," the writer moaned. "Once such useful little words, these pronouns are now on the extinction list. The epitaph for the mass grave will say these eight words fell victim to the all-powerful trio of they, them and their."

"They" has another favorite use—particular folks who generally like to point a generic finger of blame.

The Wall Street Journal reports that comma cops are suggesting caution.

Fewer are probably better. Grammar Group, a Chicago firm which picks up where your third grade teacher left off, says the misplaced comma is the most common error in business writing.

For $5,000, the company offers a course on commas and other fine points of written communications.

We'd be afraid to ask the cost for a refresher course in dangling participles.

Q—If the United Way goal is not reached, which group will have its funds cut or will they all be cut?

A—There are eight agencies that depend on the local United Way effort. If the goal of $78,000 is not reached, allocation to each agency would be cut by an equal percent. The effort has raised about $64,000 to date.

In Brief

1 step down

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Communist Party leader Todor Zhivkov today stepped down after 34 years in power, longer than any Eastern European leader, in the latest upheaval to rock the East bloc.

Zhivkov also resigned from the ruling Politburo, and the party's policy-setting Central Committee proposed he be relieved of his post as state president, the official BTA news agency said.

BTA said Zhivkov, who molded Bulgaria into one of the Krenlin's most loyal modern allies, was replaced by Foreign Minister Petar Mladenov.

Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany began knocking huge holes in the Berlin Wall today after announcing that it was forever lifting all travel restrictions on its citizens, the West German foreign minister said.

Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher announced in Berlin that 18 new border crossings would be made in the wall so that East Germans can enjoy their new freedom of travel.

The announcement was the spectacular climax to a stunning three weeks of change in one of the world's most rigid Communist regimes.

Jet crashes

SMYRNA, Ga. (AP) — Searchers picked through the rubble of a suburban Atlanta apartment complex today, looking for a man missing and feared dead after a Navy jet fighter exploded and slammed into the buildings, setting off huge fires.

Four people were injured, including the pilot of the A-7E Corsair II who ejected just before the crash Thursday evening.

LULAC criticizes justice's handling of C-City probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hispanic rights advocates say the Justice Department appears "insensitive and uncaring" in its investigation of the death of a Hispanic man who was killed during a scuffle with a West Texas police officer.

"There was a violation of the civil rights of this individual. He was allegedly executed by this policeman and the feeling is a very uncaring attitude," says Jose Garcia De Lara, national president of the League of United Latin American Citizens.

De Lara said Thursday the Justice Department is treating the May 1988 death of Sammy Gomez, a rape suspect in Colorado City, as "a little case" and seems to want to drop the investigation.

Justice Department spokeswoman Deborah Burston-Wade said the agency's investigation is ongoing and that the agency generally does not file its own case until all local and state actions are exhausted. She would not comment on specific allegations made by LULAC officials.

Colorado City Police Chief Bobby Sparks, however, said he believes state and federal officials have conducted thorough investigations.

"I don't see any problem at all with the case. I have all the confidence in the world in the case," Sparks said.

Gomez, who had a history of arrests and of tangling with police in the community of 5,500, was shot three times by Officer Billy Ray Williamson after lunging at the officer with a knife, Sparks said.

Williamson was attempting to arrest Gomez on a warrant in the sexual assault of a woman who was taken from her apartment at knifepoint and raped repeatedly the night before, Sparks said.

The first shot grazed Gomez' chest, the second was to the left shoulder blade, and the third was to the back of the head, severing the spinal cord, said Ruben Sandoval, an attorney working for LULAC and the Gomez family.

Two autopsies conflict in their view of whether Gomez was lunging at the officer.

A grand jury convened a week after the shooting took no action in the case. Persistent urging by LULAC led to a second grand jury, which is considering the case this week.

Sparks said the first two shots knocked Gomez to the floor and the third was fired because Gomez was still trying to slash the officer with a knife.

Sparks said Gomez had "constant conflicts with law enforcement and other citizens in the community," including Williamson, who is now the city fire marshal.

Economists: recent layoffs do not presage recession

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A recent round of layoffs has been unsettling, especially for the communities and individuals involved, but it doesn't appear to signal a return to high unemployment, economists say.

Wang Laboratories Inc., Shearson Lehman Hutton Inc., Chrysler Corp., Unisys Corp. and Campbell Soup Co. are among companies that have announced major layoffs in recent days.

But most economists don't predict a surge in layoffs, at least for the next year.

Of 50 economists surveyed by Blue Chip Economic Indicators of Sedona, Ariz., only a third see a recession starting by the end of 1990. Another third see one in 1991 and the rest don't predict a recession until 1992 or beyond.

William D. Anderson, an economist at Pennsylvania State University's College of Business Administration, says job trends "indicate to me that the economy is in the midst of a slowdown. (But) I'm yet to be convinced that that slowdown is going to lead to a recession."

Historically, manufacturing is among the first sectors of the economy hit during a downturn, but the past few years have left the economy on a high plateau that can withstand some blows, Anderson says.

An organized-labor economist has a different view. "Purists would say you've got to wait for more numbers to come in, but I feel certain we're on the verge of a slowdown or recession," said Markley Roberts, assistant director of the AFL-CIO's Department of Economic Research in Washington.

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: At 22, I was diagnosed with an underactive thyroid. I've been taking 25 micrograms of Cytomel a day for the past 40 years. Also, about 15 years ago, I had a hysterectomy and have been taking 0.625 Ogen a day. Now I've read a report saying it is not necessary to take estrogen after age 60. In fact, it does no good whatever. What's your opinion?

DEAR READER: You seem to be receiving appropriate treatment (Cytomel) for your thyroid condition. The question of estrogen therapy (Ogen) is more complex.

If, at the time of your hysterectomy, your ovaries were removed, you would have experienced "surgical menopause," unless you were given supplemental hormone pills.

The ovaries are the main source of estrogen in women and menopause will occur at any age when they are removed. The symptoms are the same in women who reach the age when their ovaries stop producing estrogen. These symptoms are well-known and include: hot flashes, emotional ups and downs, osteoporosis and painful intercourse.

Therefore, estrogen medicine is helpful for the premenopausal woman who, for one reason or another, has had a complete hysterectomy. There is much debate about how long the estrogen treatment should be continued. Some specialists believe a woman should receive estrogen through her 40s and 50s, during the time she would be most bothered by natural menopause. Other specialists disagree, citing studies that claim estrogen therapy will produce continuing benefits after age 60.

For example, several medical reports have indicated that the use of estrogen/progestin combinations in postmenopausal women retards the development of heart disease and osteoporosis.

Until a clear consensus is reached, I believe a woman's gynecologist should resolve the issue, on an individual basis. You are, by my calculations, 62; you may be able to enjoy the benefits of estrogen therapy for many years. Follow your doctor's recommendation.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Menopause." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is it true that depletion of the ozone layer can lead to eye disease?

DEAR READER: Yes. The ozone barrier high above the Earth filters out a good deal of harmful radiation from the sun. Sunlight reaches us in a spectrum, part of which is visible, the remainder invisible. Ultraviolet radiation is part of the invisible spectrum and has been shown to cause cataracts, macular degeneration and retinal damage in unprotected eyes.

Experts predict that, as the ozone layer is depleted by industrial pollutants, more people will suffer eye diseases from the increase in UV light reaching the Earth. This damage results not only from direct UV sun-exposure, but also from scatter off sand, snow and water.

Ordinary eyeglasses absorb UV light (glass lenses 80 percent, plastic lenses 90 percent). However, many ophthalmologists urge people to use sunglasses, which absorb more than 90 percent of UV radiation; however, they must fit snugly enough to prevent unfiltered light from reaching the eyes around the edges of the frames.

According to Consumer Reports (August 1988), the National Standards Institute has issued criteria for the transmission of UV light by sunglasses; most standard models were found to admit less than 5 percent.

Gasoline vapors unhealthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consumer group is calling for tighter controls on toxic gasoline vapors, saying that motorists who pump their own gas are being exposed to unhealthy levels of cancer-causing benzene and other pollutants.

Citizen Action, a Washington-based organization that focuses on consumer and environmental issues, accused the oil companies Thursday of ignoring health concerns by increasing levels of benzene and other aromatic hydrocarbons in unleaded gasoline to boost its octane rating.

The American Petroleum Institute issued a statement that disputed the claims and accused

Citizen Action of raising "unwarranted fears about motorists' exposure to gasoline."

The Environmental Protection Agency acknowledged that toxic vapors from gasoline at the pump are a health concern, but an agency spokesman suggested the claims raised by Citizen Action on health impact may be exaggerated.

Nevertheless, said EPA spokesman David Ryan, the Bush administration proposal for tightening federal air quality laws calls for better vapor-capturing devices such as sleeves or hoods on gasoline pumps. It also would require oil companies to produce gasoline that releases less vapor pollutants.

Several localities already require vapor-control hoods on gasoline pumps, but the devices have been controversial because they have been found to be cumbersome and unpopular in many cases.

Benzene, which has been shown to cause leukemia, appears in petroleum products such as gasoline and its vapors. It also is generated during combustion and releases through motor vehicle tailpipes.

Nailing down the contract

By James Jacoby

Great Britain won the Women's World Team Championship in Brazil in 1985. Sally Horton's strong playing contributed a lot to that victory, and for the next three days we will see why as we look at some of Sally's successes. In today's deal Sally's partner made a slam try of four clubs, thinking it possible that Sally might hold as much as the heart ace and spade queen. Glad that she had five spades to the queen, South signed off at four spades.

Sally won West's jack of diamonds in dummy, cashed two high spades and then led a low club from dummy. East won the queen and returned a trump. This was won in dummy, followed by two more high diamonds (a club discarded) and a diamond ruff. A club was ruffed in dummy and the last diamond played. When East followed, declarer simply pitched her last club. East now had nothing left to play but hearts, and the contract was ensured regardless of which opponent held the heart ace.

Lesson: The four-club cue-bid by North may seem strange without first-round control of clubs, but that was the only way to invite slam without getting beyond game-level. If South held the ace of hearts instead of the jack, a four-heart cue-bid would then have gotten North-South to a good slam contract.

Fans hope to revive train

AUSTIN (AP) — After 33 years of idleness, Steam Locomotive No. 786, may be getting back on the tracks if a group of Austin train lovers is successful in putting the Southern Pacific locomotive in operation again.

The Austin Steam Train Association, a non-profit corporation formed last summer, hopes to bring the romance of a steam engine excursion train back to Central Texas using the old engine.

"The steam locomotive is one of the few machines that, even though it is machinery, comes to life when it's hot," says Joe Dale Morris, originator of the project and chairman of the steam train association.

"It's a fascinating piece of Americana that kids nowadays don't have the opportunity to experience. That's one of the reasons we want to do it, so that kids can experience firsthand the machine that built this country," says Morris, chief of the defense movements branch of the Texas Army National Guard.

No. 786, built by American Locomotive Co. in 1916, was given to the city in 1956 by Southern Pacific Lines. Shortly before, Southern Pacific completely overhauled the engine, a stroke of luck for project organizers who say No. 786 is "practically a brand-new locomotive."

But even with the engine's general good health, much must be done to make the steam locomotive rail safe.

78-70 defensive gem...

Dusters over Texans

"Defense, defense, defense! That's what won this game."

Those were the words of Lady Dusters head basketball coach Kelly Chadwick following WTC's 78-70 victory over conference foe South Plains College Thursday night.

The contest, which does not count as part of conference play, was part of the WTC Classic, which continues through Saturday.

"It was a really good defensive effort," said Chadwick.

"We played good team defense and what we call our run and jump defense."

"The ladies did a good job of getting around their offense," he added.

The Lady Dusters kept South Plains, picked second in the conference in a pre-season poll, off the scoreboard for almost six minutes in the second half.

Sheryl Swopes of SPC, who finished the game with 36 points, made a lay-up to set the score at 49-40 with 17:00 on the clock.

The Lady Texans were held scoreless by a tenacious WTC defensive unit until Swopes made an eight-footer at 11:10 to make the tally 57-42 in WTC's favor.

"Bobbie (Brown)'s shooting was really something tonight," Chadwick continued, "and our point guards, Carla Gladden and Vicky Jones, did some excellent work."

"Tami (Wilson) also made some key baskets down the stretch."

Brown led the scoring effort for the Lady Dusters with 26 points. She hit four three-point shots and was two of two from the free throw line.

Gladden and Wilson were also in double figures on the night.

Gladden gathered in 16 points, making eight of ten free throws and four field goals, while Wilson scored 13 on six hoops and a free shot.

Jill Forrest was the other Duster in doubles, adding ten points to the Dusters' cause.

Other WTC women scoring against the Lady Texans included Jeana Stockett with eight points, Jones with three and Tammy Williams with two.

The WTC squad will face Cisco Junior College in tournament action tonight at 8 p.m.

Cisco fell to Howard College, 60-55, in their opening Classic tilt. In other games today South Plains will battle Ranger Junior College at 2 p.m. as the men begin competition followed by the women's teams of Howard and South Plains facing off.

WTC and Cisco men take the floor at 6 p.m.

Saturday's games include back-to-back games between South Plains and Cisco. The men play at 2 p.m. followed by the women at 4 p.m.

The 6 p.m. game is a rematch of Tuesday's game between the men of Western Texas and Ranger.

WTC won that game 108-105, withstanding a last-minute rally to gain the win.

The Dusters tangle with Howard College in the tournament finale at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets for today's games are priced at $3 and the stub will be good for all games played today.

Saturday tickets will also be $3 and, again, be accepted at the door for all games played Saturday.

SHS to battle Steers

Tigers face offensive power Big Spring

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Snyder will face the toughest challenge all year as the Big Springs Steers come to Tiger Stadium for a football game tonight.

Big Spring, currently leading District 4-4A, boasts the most prolific offense in the loop averaging over 365 yards per game.

"They are an I-team," said coach David Baugh. "They will come at you from the pro-I, tandem-I, different variations of the I set."

The Steers' backfield consists partly of the leading passer in the district, Rance Thompson, and the second leading rusher and second leading receiver, Neal Mayfield.

Thompson, son of Big Spring head coach David Thompson, has tossed for 996 yards on the year, completing 67 of 123 passes for nine touchdowns.

Mayfield, a 212 pound running back, has gathered in 22 of Thompson's aeriels for 430 yards and five TD's.

He has rushed for 663 yards on just 58 attempts for a phenomenal 11.4 yard average and 10 six-pointers.

Mayfield is responsible for an average of 137 yards of offense per week for the Steers.

Otis Riffey, another Big Spring ball carrier, has gained 580 yards in 1989 for an average of 5.0 yards per rush.

The Steers rely a great deal on power football and they move the ball very well, according to Baugh.

Big Spring sits atop the district in points scored, 226, passing, 68 of 129 for nine scores and first downs with 154.

The BSHS defense is in third place behind Snyder and Sweetwater in District 4-4A.

They give up an average of 240 yards per game.

"Their strength on defense," said Baugh, "is the size of their defensive line."

"They've got one tackle (Pat Wilbert) who is 285 pounds and another (Charles Lagrand) who weighs 235 pounds, so they'll be tough on the line."

"Besides the size of the line they have some linebackers who are really quick to the ball, and a pretty good secondary, too."

"They run an even, four man, front. Sometimes they'll move around until it looks almost like our five man line," the coach said.

When asked about weaknesses, Baugh grinned and said, "We haven't found any yet."

Snyder is coming off a 12-10 loss to the pass-happy Pecos Eagles.

Snyder's offensive load was carried by fullback Dewayne Cato, who has earned a starting spot this week.

Cato rumbled and twisted for 109 yards on 20 carries against the Eagles, scoring the first touchdown of the game on a 38 yard jaunt in the first quarter giving the Tigers a 6-0 lead.

Tailback Paul Anderson added 67 yards of his own on 12 carries in the Pecos tilt.

Quarterback Toby Goodwin was stymied through the air as the Eagles didn't allow a single completion in six attempts.

Snyder's leading receiver, Jayson Presley, obviously, was shut down as a pass catcher but he did add 24 rushing yards on three carries versus the Eagles. Defensively, the Black and Gold gave up just 93 yards rushing to the Eagles.

They were victimized, however, by the PHS passing attack being popped for 187 yards, including a third period touchdown to Cruz Abila that covered 59 yards.

The district's leading receiver, Pecos' Dani Talamentez, padded his stats last week with a performance that included six catches for 96 yards.

Snyder, currently on top of the league in team defense, is giving up just 220 yards per game.

The defensive unit sits in first place in fumbles recovered with 16, second in points allowed with 121 and second in first downs allowed with 91.

The Tigers are a little banged up, defensively, going into the Big Spring tilt.

Linebacker Tommy Lane sprained his ankle two weeks ago against Sweetwater. He will play, but, according to Baugh, will be at less than 100 percent.

Defensive linemen Bill Hodges and Greg Kiker will not be at top speed either. Each received a knee injury in last Friday's contest with Pecos.

Terry Stephens, SHS punter, will be out for the remainder of the season as he, too, has an injured knee. Stephens injury will require surgery to correct.

The Tigers lost last year's meeting between the two squads, 14-6, even though they gained a whopping 459 yards of total offense against the Steers.

The contest will be broadcast, on a tape-delay basis, on Snyder Cablevision, channel 2, Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

WTC golfers in Midland

Western Texas College golfers will be in Midland today for their third Western Junior College Athletic Conference tournament this season.

The six man team, comprised of sophomores Jeff Baker and Jerry Whitten along with freshmen Tony Lara, Brandon Benedict, Jimmy Howe and Chris Mathis, will compete for WTC at Greentree Country Club.

Western Texas is currently fifth in conference standings behind Midland and Odessa with nine points each and New Mexico Military Institute and New Mexico Junior College with five apiece.

WTC has two points on the young season.

Five points are given for a first place finish, four for second and so on.

Eighth grade falls to Steers

Eighth grade football coach Roger Goodwin reported today that Snyder's young Tigers lost both contests against Big Spring Thursday.

The "A" squad fell to the Steers 32-0 and the "B" unit lost 20-0.

The eighth graders will face Greenwood in the last contest of the season next Thursday with the "B" game kicking-off at 5 p.m. and the "A" crew beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Both games will be played at Greenwood's home field.

up, like everybody else." The symphonic sounds and dulcet singers' tones of the big band era sustained KSNY in the early years, when the late Roy Meador was the silver-tongued host of "The Stardust Show" and disc jockeys who needed a place to stay lived in three houses near the station that have long since disappeared. Country and western music came into the format in a "mixed bag" of music in the mornings, and easy listening music was a staple through the early 1980s, when the present format of country on the AM channel and adult contemporary on FM was established.

There was also a nighttime rock show at one time. Gilbert said a recent Arbitron rating showed that KSNY has a 74-percent share of its market — a phenomenally high percentage in which a number of factors may be influential.

Scurry County is on the fringe listening area of stations that can be tuned in here from Abilene, Lubbock, Midland, Big Spring and other cities, and KSNY has by far the strongest and clearest signal that can be received here.

Gilbert also feels that the station's consistency and style have built loyalty among its listeners. Forty years of operating a radio station entails a lot of coming and going of talented people, and Gilbert is proud that a number of former KSNY disc jockeys have gone on to gain prominence with radio and television stations in bigger cities.

Snyderite Brad Maule, who plays Dr. Anthony Jones on "General Hospital," was one of the more talented who worked the disc jockey's "board" or control panel here, Gilbert recalls.

Current staff members include advertising manager Donna Fowler, operations manager Stan Paregion, program director Bob Clifton, traffic director Pauline Proctor, technical director Jeanette Greene, chief disc jockey Charlie Dee and disc jockeys Jay Burns, James Beauchamp, Mike Ezell, Becky Davilla, Joe Hernandez and Zurn Jenkins.

The computer that runs the FM channel was named "Gertrude" by the man who installed it, "so when you hear us say on the air that Gertrude has a headache, that means we have a problem with the computer," Gilbert said.

Quail cook-off set tomorrow

The second annual Fisher County Quail Cook-Off is scheduled for Saturday at the Cottonwood R.V. Park, south of Roby. The event begins at 7 a.m. with an All-You-Can-Eat breakfast catered by the Roby Lions Club; cost $3.50. All cooking teams will assemble at 9 a.m. in the activity center for orientation.

Entertainment will include music by local bands, a skeet shoot, and door prizes.

Quail cooking competition will be judged at 11:30 a.m. by out-of-town judges. Criteria include taste, appearance, and originality. Cash awards will also be given: $100, $75, $50, and $25 for the first four places. Awards will also be given for showmanship and people's choice. The cost of entering is $10 per team.

A special attraction will be a group of celebrities demonstrating their expertise in quail cookery. Participants include Senator Steve Carriker, Commissioners Jimmy Wright, Jay Hendon, Charlie Meek, and Billy Henderson.

Beth Dannheim and Richard Spencer, county extension agents, will accept entries up until the cooking contest begins at 9 a.m.

The event is sponsored by Fisher County Hunting Co-Op.

Freshmen at Millikin University in Decatur, Ill., begin their college lives by attending camp. The university rents a nearby 4-H camp for a two-day orientation program that precedes the beginning of classes.

Board

painting the east curb from Austin Ave. to 37th St. yellow and designating it a no parking area during school hours and to reduce the speed limit around the school to 20 mph. Some homeowners along Austin Ave. have complained about the parking and the speed of traffic, it was noted.

After discussion, the board determined it was a matter for city business, possibly requiring a public hearing, and decided not to place it on Monday's agenda. They advised complainants should be referred to the city.

Lee McNair, business manager, informed the board that a higher average daily attendance in October of this year as compared to last year should mean an increase of some $12,000 more in funding for the district next year. The average eligible enrollment for SISD during the four-week period this year was 3,331.7 and 97.34 percent, or an average daily attendance of 3,246.6, was attained.

A discussion of why homecoming festivities are celebrated only once every two years instead of annually in Snyder had no answer. Moseley said he did not know and added that he had "no problem" with a yearly homecoming, while noting that the event is a student council function. A decision to have homecoming annually would be made by the student council and Gillespie.

The board was also briefed on information pertaining to "effective school correlates," the program which the Texas Education Agency uses to evaluate schools, and Section 2 of the 1988-89 Annual Performance Report, which compares districts to comparable districts and to the state. The entire report will be presented to the board Monday.

Moseley also informed the board that he has been appointed to the Region 14 Advisory Committee for a three-year term, which will cause him to be out of town three to four days a year.

Among the items on Monday's agenda will be the board's vote for the Appraisal District Board of Directors.

Grand jury visits site

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — A grand jury visited the flooded caliche pit where 21 students lost their lives in the worst school bus accident in Texas history.

"They just went over to familiarize themselves with the area which they will be seeing in pictures and hearing about from witnesses," said District Attorney Rene Guerra.

Three arrested

Three men were arrested for public intoxication at 12:05 a.m. in the 37th St. Skinny's convenience store parking lot.

Police said they were 28, 35 and 38 years of age.

Wreck noted

A 1979 Oldsmobile Royale driven by Christopher R. Bilibrey of 2306 41st St. was in collision with a 1984 Ford Ranger driven by Coy W. Berryman of 3309 Houston Ave. at 4:20 p.m. Thursday in the 4000 Block of Austin Ave.

Fire at school is minor one

Firemen were called to the scene of a Friday afternoon fire in the Snyder High School parking lot that was first reported as a vehicle fire but turned out to be a pair of gloves burning behind a seat.

A department spokesman said the 1:55 p.m. call took about 20 minutes, with a pair of cotton gloves being found burning inside a 1984 Ford Ranger owned by SHS student Coy Berryman.

He said the incident was being investigated by city police.

Dear Abby

Old World Grandma Is Aghast At Student's New Way of Life

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a female graduate student at a large university. I share an apartment with a male law student. We are not sexually involved with each other; he has a girlfriend and I date a special fellow. Our apartment has two bedrooms, two baths and a spacious living room, dining room and kitchen. It's ideally located, and neither one of us could afford to pay the rent alone.

The problem is my grandmother. She thinks it's terrible that I am "living with" a man and she refuses to believe that we aren't sleeping together. I have told her there is nothing romantic going on between us, but she doesn't believe me. She's from the old country, and there's no changing her mind. Fortunately, my parents do not share her point of view.

Now, here's where you come in. "Granny" reads your column every day and thinks you have the wisdom of Solomon. She also credits you with helping her to read English. She says when she came to this country from Finland 21 years ago, she went to night school to learn English, and her teacher used your column as a teaching tool because it was easy to read and it also reflected the behavior of the American people.

So, Abby, maybe if Granny sees this letter in your column, she'll be more accepting of my lifestyle. Thank you.

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Here's your letter. I hope it helps.

DEAR ABBY: Last Friday night, my ex-wife informed our two daughters — ages 16 and 18 — that she needed to have her house to herself to do some entertaining, so they had to be out by 7:30 p.m.

The 18-year-old had to wait in a Buick King for an hour and a half before she could join a friend still at work to go on to a party.

The 16-year-old had two engagements that called for different types of clothing; finding the door locked at 9:30 p.m., she had to attend the second engagement inappropriately dressed and feeling very out of place. When she arrived home at midnight, she found doors still locked and had to climb in through a window!

I live 1,500 miles away, so I wasn't able to come to the rescue. I am hoping your comments on my ex-wife's behavior might persuade her to think twice before she pulls such a stunt again.

FRANK(LY) TICKED OFF IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR FRANK(LY): Don't depend on a few lines in my column to change your ex-wife's behavior. A mother who would lock her children out of the house because she wanted to do some "entertaining" may not be an unfit mother, but she certainly behaved like one in this instance.

Perhaps a few words from your attorney reminding your "ex" of her custodial responsibilities might be more effective than anything I could say. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: Right after I announced my engagement, the girls at the office gave me a shower, and someone gave me your book, "Dear Abby on Planning Your Wedding." I don't know what I would have done without it. It really helped me a lot. First, it encouraged me to have the kind of wedding I wanted — not the kind my mother or future mother-in-law thought I should have.

Surprise, surprise! When I told my future mother-in-law I wanted to get married in a suit, I thought she'd have a fit, but instead she said, "I wanted to get married in a suit, too, but my mother wouldn't let me!"

Thanks, Abby! — LOVE, HEIDI

Police, Border Patrol form 'bandit detail'

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A task force of undercover police officers and Border Patrol agents are patrolling a stretch of the Texas-Mexico border to curb rising violence by border bandits.

The task force has netted nine felony arrests ranging from burglary and auto theft to assault. At least six of those arrested have been undocumented aliens.

"The violence is definitely there," said Steve Mendoza, border patrol agent. "The bandits are getting braver."

Mendoza is in charge of the Border Patrol's part in the task force, which has been dubbed "the bandit detail."

The task force began Oct. 29 and patrols an area that includes the University of Texas at El Paso, a historic neighborhood and a railroad bridge on the Rio Grande levee.

On Monday, a Border Patrol agent shot a Juarez man twice after the man allegedly picked up a metal pipe and raised it toward the agent.

On Oct. 13, an agent was attacked and beaten by three Mexican teen-agers.

Along with protecting border patrol agents, the force also has proven to be a benefit for undocumented aliens who also are being preyed upon by the border bandits.

The bandits have been known to attack, rob and at times rape Mexican citizens trying to cross the Rio Grande, said Police Sgt. David Norman.

"I would say they are getting more brutal," Norman said.

During World War II, U.S. forces landed in Iceland in 1941 to forestall any Nazi invasion.

Prison...

Selection process defended

AUSTIN (AP) — Amid criticism from some losing cities, members of the Texas Board of Criminal Justice defended the process for choosing sites for six new state prisons.

On Thursday, board Chairman Charles Terrell said the selection has been "absolutely" fair. "I'm also satisfied that we've got 12 good finalists."

The board on Monday is scheduled to choose six sites from a list of 12 finalists for three 2,250-bed maximum security prisons and three 1,000-bed medium security units. The 12 finalists were announced Wednesday.

"I think, probably the process is being handled as well as it could be," said board member F.L. Stephens of San Angelo.

People involved with two communities' proposals passed over by the board said they weren't convinced the selection has been conducted fairly.

"It is my belief that it was all in place, said and done, before yesterday's (Wednesday's) meeting," said Ernestine Beicker, who helped organize the proposal from Karnes County.

Harry Stafford of Woodville, which already has been awarded one prison, was told in its contract for that unit that "we'd be given due consideration for an additional prison."

But Stafford said, "I don't think we were given due consideration. We were told about a week before that the fact that we had one (prison) was not in our favor."

Both Stafford and Ms. Beicker said their communities worked hard to prepare their site proposals.

"Then we started getting rumors that we weren't going to get one because we already had one. It was pretty apparent there the other day (Wednesday) that was a big problem," Stafford said.

"We've been through a long, hard struggle to get this, and then to not even be considered is quite a blow to the county," Ms. Beicker said.

Stafford and Ms. Beicker said they had heard rumors before the selection of finalists that an unofficial "short list" of sites might exist.

Stephens and board member Allan Polunsky of San Antonio said they knew nothing of a short list.

Another board member, Robert Mead of Waco, said, "You can hear anything you want to hear ... As far as I'm concerned they (all 12 sites) certainly do" have a chance.

Terrell said he thinks each board member probably has been narrowing down personal preferences. "I'm sure there is (a short list) in every member's mind. As you visit these towns, you get an opinion of where you think these prisons are needed," he said.

Asked if any of the 12 sites enjoys front-runner status, Terrell replied, "I'm not going to comment on any front-runners at this point. That would be presumptuous."

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Nov. 11, 1989

Your greatest successes in the year ahead are likely to be involvements that are unencumbered by partners. Enterprises you conduct on your own could be very rewarding.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In your one-to-one associations today don't attempt to have everything done your way. Bear in mind that the team you are on has two players. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are contracting for some type of special service or work today, be extremely watchful for hidden charges. If you fail to monitor everything carefully, some extra costs could slide past you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In order to enjoy yourself to the fullest today, you'll require freedom to do your own thing. Should you knuckle under to please another, it will spoil your day as well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Flashes of intuition you get today could turn out to be more accurate than information you'll get from persons who are trying to advise you. Keep this in mind if you have to make a major decision.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your first thoughts are likely to be your most practical and reliable ones today, so give them primary consideration. When your imagination starts working overtime, it may not be too dependable.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Financial conditions could be a trifle topsy-turvy for you today. There are indications you may do well in some ways, while experiencing setbacks in others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll be willing to be of assistance to others today, but you might pull back if you feel they try to restrict the methods you want to use or impose your procedures on you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Utilize your mental faculties instead of your physical prowess today. Resourcefulness and imagination can achieve things for you that brute strengths cannot.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The helpfulness friends extend to you today will have definite limitations. They won't be able to extricate you from serious complications, so it's best you watch your step at all times.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try to keep your ego out of the picture today if you get involved in something that has competitive elements. Too much pride is a handicap and it will give others the edge. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your plans and intentions may be only partially developed today and this could cause complications. Trouble may occur if you attempt to force square pegs into round holes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Speed could be an important factor today in your commercial dealings, so try to get in and out quickly. The longer you haggle, the less profit you're apt to realize.

Conservatives to oppose income tax

AUSTIN (AP) — Opposition to a state income tax will help push a new effort to expand the Texas conservative movement, a coalition of conservative groups says.

"One of the very key things is making the income tax ban a major issue," said Richard Ford, organizer of the coalition called the Texas Bandwagon. "I think it's a very potent issue."

Texas is one of only a handful of states with neither a corporate nor personal income tax.

But last week Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby became the first state leader to propose an income tax as a way to raise additional money to meet court-ordered reform of the public school finance system.

Ford said that signaled the need to make certain the Legislature knows how Texans feel about an income tax.

"With people like Lt. Gov. (Bill) Hobby advocating one, you're going to find a lot of people saying now's the time to wake up and alert their legislators that they don't want to have anything to do with one," he said.

The coalition is made up of numerous groups, including the anti-abortion Texans United for Life, the Free Market Foundation, the Christian Action Committee and the Livestock Marketing Association of Texas.

Ford said the coalition will be organizing in a number of smaller Texas cities, including Abilene, Sherman-Denison, Bryan-College Station, Waco, Amarillo, Harlingen, Tyler, Cleburne, Midland-Odessa, Beaumont and Corpus Christi.

"The conservative movement has for years been fairly well organized in the major cities and counties of Texas," Ford said. The smaller "metro" counties, he said, are "the most fertile ground for conservative growth and activity."

In other political developments Thursday:

— Lamar McCorkle, a Harris County District Judge, announced his candidacy as a Republican for the Texas Supreme Court seat being vacated by Democratic Justice C.L. Ray.

McCorkle, judge since 1986, said he was imposing a $5,000 limit on campaign contributions because on the state's highest court "there cannot exist the slightest hint of impropriety. This precludes the acceptance of excessively large political campaign contributions."

The 38-year-old judge said he believes he has "earned a solid reputation among Houston lawyers for fairness and high integrity."

— Bill Price, head of the 100,000-member Texans United for Life, said the victories by pro-choice candidates for governor in New Jersey and Virginia this week show the need for anti-abortion candidates to take firm stands.

"The pro-life candidate has got to go out there and be just as aggressive in attacking this issue as pro-abortion candidates. I think the lesson that was learned Tuesday was that candidates who waffle on this issue and who do not take a clear stand are going to lose," he said.

— Lou Zaeske, who wants to make English the official state language, said he would run as an independent for the state Senate seat being vacated by the retiring Kent Caperton, D-Bryan.

Zaeske, also of Bryan, initially planned to run as a Republican before state Rep. Richard Smith, R-Bryan, entered the race and won the support of U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm.
