5 arrested on drug charges; sweep could continue today

Five of the eight defendants against whom nine sealed indictments were issued by a county grand jury Monday were arrested on drug-related charges here Wednesday and today.

City police and county sheriff's deputies began the sweep Wednesday morning with the arrest of 38-year-old Johnny R. Nelms of 2300 Ave. I at his home on a warrant for delivery of marijuana.

Lois Burks, 35, of 2900 Ave. J was taken into custody on the same charge at 1:10 p.m. in the 1400 Block of 25th St., and Alvin L. Ollison, 29, of 1009 29th St. was arrested at his home by a city policeman at 2:19 p.m., also on a delivery of marijuana warrant.

Ernest R. Brandon, 31, of 3204 Ave. L was arrested on two marijuana delivery warrants at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at a local supermarket.

Sheriff's deputies took Robert Durst Jr., 38, of 3009 Ave. K into custody for delivery of cocaine at 8:45 a.m. today in the 3000 Block of Crockett Ave.

Officers said the arrests, with three defendants still to be apprehended, would continue today. Sheriff Keith Collier said the investigation had been in progress since the 1988 inception of the West Central Texas Interlocal (see ARRESTS, page 9)

Mizceles pleads guilty to Daniel unit escape

Price Daniel Unit inmate Sebastian N. Mizceles pleaded guilty to an escape charge in his early Sunday escape over a fence at the prison and received an additional five-year sentence in 132nd District Court proceedings Wednesday.

The 24-year-old inmate from El Paso was serving a 35-year sentence for burglary, and District Judge Gene Dulaney said the five-year term will be imposed when he discharges his original sentence.

Texas Department of Criminal Justice spokesman Charles Brown of Huntsville said Wednesday that Mizceles will probably be transferred to a maximum-security unit.

In the unit's first escape since it was opened in July, the inmate was discovered missing at 1 a.m. Sunday and was captured by a city policeman shortly before 5 a.m. in a construction company yard off College Ave. in northern Snyder.

Tucker joins race for commissioner

Don Tucker, who has operated San Andres Company here for 20 years, announced Wednesday that he will be a Democratic candidate in the race for precinct 2 county commissioner.

Opposing Tucker is incumbent Tommy Pate. Others having declared their intentions are incumbent Bobby Goodwin and Marlin Terrell for county judge; Jerry Gannaway for precinct 4 county commissioner, incumbent Frances Billingsley for county clerk; Elois Pruitt for district clerk; Wanda Rushing for peace justice, precinct 1; and incumbent Rita Staton for county treasurer.

All are Democrats. No one has yet filed for peace justice in precinct 2, held by R.C. Nixon of Hermleigh, or for the unexpired term of former county attorney Michael S. Line, which is held by Leland

"Pete" Greene. The final day to file in the March 13 primary election is Jan. 2.

CRIME WATCH — Police Lt. Steve Warren and Noah Project director Linda Scalf conducted the Park Village Apartment's third Neighborhood Crime Watch program last week since more than 30 residents of the 4400 Ave. U complex initiated the program in September. (SDN Staff Photo)

Anti-crime program...

Park Village joins 'watch'

Worsening crime problems at the Park Village Apartments area at 4400 Ave. U led the new manager and residents recently to contact city police and form Snyder's second Neighborhood Crime Watch program.

Sue Martini became the new manager of the 60-unit complex in September and was told by owner Charles Hill of Oakland, Calif., "to clean things up out here," she said.

Residents had become concerned after a stairwell fire, vehicle fires and other instances of vandalism last summer, but Martini said, "From what I understood, the past two years haven't been wonderful for crime problems.

"We've had real good results so far. We have been able to get a lot of things stopped without having to involve the authorities."

The first organizational meeting and slide show conducted by police detective Lt. Steve Warren in September drew 25 people, the second one a few weeks later more than 35 and one last week, in cold weather, about 20.

Noah Project director Linda Scalf also made a presentation in last Thursday night's meeting on her group's program to combat family violence.

People in eight duplex apartments near the southern end of the apartment complex have also become involved.

"I think it's a good, healthy program," Martini said. "It has made the residents more aware of each other, and they're watching out more for elderly people and children."

Officers of the Park Village Neighborhood Crime Watch are president Charles Lieb, vice president Ruben Pena and secretary Mary Horn.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Both gossips and vacuum cleaners pick up dirt, but one of 'em keeps it inside."

One Snyder mother noticed that her junior high son was looking at jewelry in one of those Christmas "wish books."

Thinking that he might be looking at something for a young lady, the mother inquired if he was looking for anything in particular.

"Not really," the kid answered. "But what would you think about me having one ear pierced?"

The mother thought for a minute then said, "I would be very hurt."

"What about dad?"

"You'd get hurt."

While on the subject of shopping, we heard about one of those government surveys on romantic habits of adults.

Shoppers were handed a questionnaire which asked female shoppers: "Is there anything better than sex with the man you love. If so, what might it be?"

Some of the answers revealed that the gals were really into their holiday shopping routine.

Among those who answered yes, the preferences included, "Double coupons," "a lifetime supply of gift certificates," and "shopping with the man you love's credit cards."

While on the subject of shopping, we heard about a guy who waited late in life to tie the matrimonial knot.

He had grown fat, ugly, bald and developed a nasty disposition. But then he lost 50 pounds and got married. He offered this moral: Women will buy anything that's been reduced.

District directors, in announcing the action, noted "no person has so poured out his life in dogged pursuit of the goal...that this reservoir came to reality as a source of renewable water supply for Central-West Texas."

The project, built and owned by the CRMWD, is due for completion in March of next year and will begin to impound the first of its 554,000 acre-foot capacity.

Senator says...

Mexico has no need to fear incursion due to drug war

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Mexico doesn't need to fear that the U.S. Army will cross the border in search of drug smugglers despite the establishment of a joint military task force headquartered at Fort Bliss, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm said.

Gramm, R-Tx, made the remark Wednesday after a briefing by U.S. Army officials concerning its new Task Force 6, a unit created to provide training and logistical support for civilian law enforcement agencies battling drug smugglers along the U.S.-Mexico border.

There was a brief outcry from Mexican officials after Defense Secretary Dick Cheney created the task force Nov. 13. Officials said they did not want U.S. troops chasing drug smugglers across the international boundary.

"This has called up memories of Pancho Villa," Gramm said in a statement after the briefing, referring to the leader of the Mexican Revolution who crossed the border and attacked the town of Columbus, N.M., in 1916. U.S. Gen. John Pershing then invaded Mexico from Fort Bliss in search of Villa.

The U.S. troops will be confined to this country, Gramm said.

"The object is to protect the U.S. border and to stop those who prey off the health, happiness and lives of our children by selling drugs," Gramm said.

The unit will operate to within 150 miles north of the entire 2,000-plus miles of border from Brownsville, Texas, and San Diego, Calif., Brig. Gen. Sherman Williford, commander of the task force, said.

Capt. Kenneth Murphy, a task force spokesman, said that military personnel who provide assistance, such as air surveillance or transportation of civilian narcotics agents, will be armed and may defend themselves and the civilians with whom they are working.

Inmate executed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) - Convicted killer Carlos DeLuna was executed early today for the 1983 robbery and fatal stabbing of a woman in Corpus Christi.

DeLuna, 27, whose criminal record escalated from car theft as a juvenile to attempted rape and then to murder, was pronounced dead at 12:24 a.m., 10 minutes after lethal drugs administered by Texas corrections officials began flowing into his arms.

"I want to say I hold no grudges, I hate nobody," he said while strapped to the death chamber gurney. "I want my family to know I love them. I want to tell everyone on death row to keep the faith up, to keep going. Everything will be all right."

He took three deep breaths and stopped moving.

DeLuna had insisted he was not responsible for the death of Wanda Jean Lopez, 24, whose final words of terror on Feb. 4, 1983 were captured on a police emergency dispatcher's tape recording.

The woman had called police for help after customers tipped her they saw a man with a knife outside the convenience store-gas station where she worked.

"The last thing she was saying was, 'I'll give the money.' But he just wanted to stick her with the knife," said Steve Schiwetz, the assistant district attorney who prosecuted DeLuna. "It's really a bad deal."

"On the tape, she's talking to the cops... And then you heard that scream."

Your Birthday
Dec. 8, 1989

Material conditions look hopeful for you in the year ahead. In fact, you might even develop extra sources of income. Be careful, however, when doing business with friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is not a good day for you to go window shopping at expensive stores in the mall. You might be tempted to buy something costly which you'll instinctively know is not a good deal. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're going to be very closely observed by others today, so be extra mindful of your behavior and manners. If you do anything anti-social, you'll be stuck with an unflattering label.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's important today that you don't evaluate problems or challenges from an emotional perspective. If your feelings rule your mind, you're not apt to be successful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't move too fast to try to develop a relationship between you and someone you recently met. Proceed slowly so that you'll be able to determine how much you have in common.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's going to take a concerted effort today if you hope to achieve what you feel is a vital objective at this time. If you fail to psyche yourself up properly, you might miss the boat.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your great-ally is your common sense, but today you might not use it as you should. It's important you strive to be realistic instead of rationalizing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There's a possibility that material considerations may come between you and a close friend today and create a disagreement. However, this can be avoided if you guard against it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today it may be easier for you to make promises and commitments than it will be for you to fulfill them. Sincerity is essential in what you agree to do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you have doubts today about a subordinate's ability to perform, it is best not to assign a task that requires special skills. Give this individual a minor role instead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A social situation might not live up to your expectations today, especially if it is a gathering that may contain one or two individuals who make you feel uncomfortable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You might have to deal with a person today who is extremely difficult to please. Do the best you can, but if it doesn't work, don't collect guilt from your efforts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) People you'll be involved with today will instinctively know whether or not your statements are sincere, so don't attempt to use flattery in order to achieve your purposes.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren
© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would find myself writing to you. Still, I just can't let the letter in today's paper from "In Love" pass without comment. She complained that her otherwise perfect husband embarrassed her with his bad grammar.

I graduated from college with majors in journalism and English literature, focusing on the Shakespearean tragedies. I am a free-lance writer and I delight in excellent grammar.

I am married to a general contractor who is in constant demand because he is a fine craftsman and an honest man, and his gentle personality is such that most of his clients become personal friends. I should add that he just barely graduated from high school.

"Ray" is the best person I have ever met, so generous and loving. He produces solid, spectacular work in this age of mediocrity. Sometimes I feel so fortunate he chose me I get tears in my eyes.

He also says, "I ain't got none" or, "I don't never want to do that again." But I have never been embarrassed by it in front of friends, family or anyone. If people can't look beyond this one triviality, it's their loss!

In the many years I have been with him, I never noticed anyone slighting him because of his grammar. It is part of his charm, and the idea of sending him off to an adult education program to "correct" a "lapse" in this magnificent man repels me. Perhaps "In Love" would be happier if she showed her love for the man she married, and not for the man she wants him to become. Sign me ...

AIN'T I LUCKY!

DEAR LUCKY: You are indeed lucky. And so is your husband, because you are able to accept him just the way he is. Good for you!

"In Love," however, said she never noticed her husband's bad grammar before they were married and now it's driving her crazy, and she can't see herself spending the rest of her life being embarrassed before her friends and family.

As I told her, if he is not willing to learn — for his sake or hers — then the marriage is doomed.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I have decided to do something this Christmas that we have never done before. Through some friends who work with the homeless and indigent, we found a family whose primary provider had been out of work for some time. We will provide Christmas dinner and gifts for the mom and dad and children in that family with the money we would have spent on gifts for each other.

I am looking forward to Christmas this year with a new kind of excitement, knowing that we will have made Christmas special for a family who has not been blessed with the same prosperity we enjoy now.

So if any of your readers are tired of the mad rush and spending frenzy we all make ourselves crazy with each Christmas, perhaps they may want to follow our lead. I'm sure there are plenty of needy families out there who would love to know that there are people who remembered what Christmas is supposed to be about — giving, not receiving. It's good to be reminded.

BLESSED IN BOSTON

DEAR BLESSED: Now that's a beautiful idea.

DEAR ABBY: As a real estate broker and accountant, I can tell you that there are a lot of horror stories these days concerning wills. Most of the stories concern people with enormous estates whose wills were prepared by lawyers who were not estate lawyers.

Asking a trial lawyer or real estate lawyer to draw up a will is like asking a podiatrist to do brain surgery. Drawing up a will is a specialty. Please tell your readers that they should not let a neighbor or a relative who happens to be a lawyer draw up their wills, even if they offer to do it for free or at a discount. You get what you pay for.

IRA IN YONKERS

A heads-up play

By James Jacoby

Here is a good illustration of the Jacoby transfer bid. North knows that he has enough to play game after partner opens one no-trump. If the final contract is to be four hearts, it will be better for South to be declarer so that the opening lead can come around to his high cards. So North's two-diamond bid demands that South bid two hearts. When that is done, North makes his appropriate bid, in this instance three no-trump. With only two hearts, South passes. With three hearts, South might decide to play in four hearts, knowing that North holds five hearts. With four hearts, South would definitely play in the major-suit contract.

Defending against three no-trump, West has to stay awake after leading a club. East will take the ace and queen of clubs, or will he? Yes, he wins the ace, but if he is allowed to hold the trick with the queen of clubs, declarer will be given the game on a platter. East has no third club to play. When declarer forces out West's heart ace, West will be able to cash only the club king, and three no-trump will make. So West has to overtake the club queen with the king, and then play the 10 or eight, forcing out the jack. If East has another small club, West will have cost his side a trick, but he has at least ensured the defeat of the contract.

Kansas salt mines work

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP) — There are working salt mines beneath the wheat fields of central Kansas.

In a series of rooms, 650 feet below the earth's surface, a company maintains more than a million cardboard boxes of records for 15,000 individuals and business firms. The rooms are in an abandoned mine.

Why store materials here? Geophysical computers are generating more data and more room is required to store it. One firm, Phillips Petroleum, has 144,000 seismic tapes in one mine and another 190,000 in Oklahoma, which together would make a stack more than five miles high.

Minor battle was fought in Florida

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — The southernmost land battle of the Civil War, a minor one, took place here in 1865.

Fort Myers was a federal army outpost, activated in 1864 to break up cattle drives supplying Confederate troops. The following year two Confederate companies of horsemen from Tampa Bay attempted a surprise attack on the fort on Feb. 20.

Defended by 250 men, the fort returned Confederate cannon fire accurately, "compelling the enemy to move his battery three times," according to reports. Skirmishing followed, but at nightfall the Southern troops pulled back and retreated northward.

The last Confederates in South Florida formally gave up two months after the surrender at Appomatox, Va., on April 19, 1865.

WTC roundballers set for Plainsmen

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

The Western Texas College basketball teams will face Frank Phillips College in conference cage action today beginning at 6 p.m. The Lady Dusters, 12-1 on the season, are fresh from a 62-43 whipping of Western Junior College Athletic Conference foe Clarendon College.

Tami Wilson scored 23 points in the WTC women's win over the Lady Bulldogs.

Wilson is ranked seventh in the WJCAC in field goal percentage making over 56 percent of her shots.

She is also listed second in rebounds with 13.3 per game and eighth in points at almost 16 per contest in 1989.

Duster Bobbie Brown, hitting half her three point attempts on the season, is rated second in the league in that category.

The Dusters as a team are number one in team defense allowing just over 47 points per outing.

The Lady Plainsmen are 12-1 in 1989, tied with WTC for the conference lead, and are coming off an impressive 90-54 win over New Mexico Junior College in their conference opener Monday.

WTC's men, the Westerners, are 11-3 in the current campaign and 1-1 in conference competition.

Their most recent outing was a 99-83 win over Clarendon Monday.

WTC was led by Dominick Byrd with 21 points and Jeff Shelley's 18 in the win over the Bulldogs.

Byrd is currently atop the WJCAC in rebounds averaging almost 13 per game.

WTC's Cedric Mason is near the top of the league in steals nabbing over four per outing.

The Westerners as a team are second to Howard College in team offense, scoring over 108 points a game.

Frank Phillips brings a large team including Brazilian forward Gerson Leyser to Snyder.

FPC returns just three sophomores from last year's 14-17 season in which the Plainsmen finished in seventh place.

Tonight's contests begin with the Dusters playing the Lady Plainsmen at 6 p.m. and the Westerners against the Frank Phillips men at 8 p.m.

Both games, which will be the final contests for each squad until after the Christmas break, will be played in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Colorado's first try for title to come on New Year's Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Growing up near Detroit in an Irish Catholic family, Bill McCartney was a big Notre Dame fan.

"I remember sitting in our new 1947 Plymouth listening to the Notre Dame-Southern Cal game on the radio," he said. "Every time they called a penalty on Notre Dame, my dad would yell, 'That's highway robbery! Who's refereeing this game, Jesse James?'"

On New Year's night, McCartney will try to steal a game from the Fighting Irish when his top-ranked Colorado Buffaloes play for the national championship in the Orange Bowl.

"Notre Dame is the class of college football," he said Wednesday during a promotional stop in New York. "To beat them is the ultimate conquest. It doesn't get any better than that."

Colorado, the only major undefeated team in the country, will be playing for its first national championship. Notre Dame has won eight titles, more than any other school.

McCartney knows the Fighting Irish have more than history on their side. As a Michigan assistant in 1980, he learned the hard way about the luck of the Irish.

That was the year Harry Oliver kicked a 51-yard field goal on the last play of the game to beat Michigan 29-27. A strong wind was blowing against Notre Dame on the last drive, but it died down seconds before Oliver's kick.

"The ball barely made it over the crossbar," McCartney said. "If the wind's blowing, there's no way he makes it."

The winds of change have been blowing in Boulder this season. Colorado won its first outright Big Eight championship since 1961 and completed its first perfect regular season in 52 years.

"This is a new experience for us," McCartney said. "It would be easy for us to say, 'We're going to the Orange Bowl,' and be

Oklahoma burglar changes his story

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Convicted burglar Otha Armstrong III, who claims the Oklahoma football program broke NCAA rules after being placed on probation last year, says he talked with NCAA investigators before he got into trouble with the law.

Armstrong, serving a five-year prison sentence for stealing 25 championship rings belonging to former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer, says he contacted the NCAA "before and after" he was arrested and jailed for breaking into Switzer's home in July.

"A lot of people (think) I gave this information after I had been convicted of this felony or I confessed to it," Armstrong told The Tulsa Tribune in Wednesday's editions. "That's not true at all."

Armstrong said he spoke to Charles Smrt, an NCAA enforcement director, and that an NCAA enforcement representative, William S. Saum, visited him.

"It is countless how many times I've talked to them on the telephone. I would say roughly once a week or once every two weeks, something like that," Armstrong said.

"Those are people who are on our staff, but we don't have any intention of commenting on any of that," David Berst, NCAA director of enforcement, said Wednesday.

On Tuesday, Armstrong was quoted in The Dallas Morning News as saying he was used as a middle man to pick up cash payments that a Tulsa booster wired to former Sooners quarterbacks Charles Thompson and Jamelle Holieway.

Armstrong also said freshman running back Dewell Brewer received illegal benefits and at least one unofficial paid visit to Norman before he signed a letter of intent with the university in February.

The Morning News quoted Armstrong, 24, as saying the payments occurred even after the football program was placed on probation last December. Armstrong later said he was misquoted and that all the payments he knew of occurred last year.

The Dallas paper said NCAA investigators are looking into Armstrong's allegations. Berst had no comment.

Big East, ACC even at 3 each

By The Associated Press
The Atlantic Coast Conference-Big East Challenge series is all even — just like the Syracuse-Duke game was until the final three seconds.

In a game between the second seeds of the two conferences that had all the excitement of a Final Four contest, David Johnson made two free throws with three seconds to play and Syracuse, ranked No. 1 nationally, edged No. 6 Duke 78-76.

The leagues are tied 3-3 with two games left tonight at East Rutherford, N.J., including the matchup of the top seeds, No. 3 Georgetown and 17th-ranked North Carolina.

"It was very intense out there," Syracuse's Billy Owens said. "This was the all-hyped-up Big East-ACC Challenge. I'll be rooting for Georgetown — the last time I ever root for Georgetown."

Clemson beat Providence 72-71 in Wednesday night's opener at Greensboro, N.C., between the No. 5 seeds.

Five other games involving Top 25 teams were blowouts — No. 2 Kansas 86, Southern Methodist 53; No. 4 Missouri 106, Hawaii Loa 48; No. 8 Michigan 100, Central Michigan 51; No. 11 Louisville 101, Vanderbilt 75 and No. 20 Arizona 84, Northern Arizona 37.

Duke opened the second half against Syracuse with a 10-2 run for its first lead of the game, 43-42 with 16:16 to play. The teams were never more than three points apart the rest of the way and the score was tied 12 times.

Cowboys move camp

'Pokes will train at St. Edward's College

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Jimmy got his wish.

Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson loves to work a team in hot weather and Austin in July will be his next summer.

"Most of the players are for it, except the fat guys, and they need to lose some weight anyway," Johnson said on Wednesday after the Cowboys announced they were moving from California to Texas.

New owner Jerry Jones ended 27 years of Cowboys tradition by announcing that the club will switch its training camp site from California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks to St. Edward's College in Austin.

Jones said the deal with the city of Austin and St. Edward's University is for 1990 but could last longer.

"We had to look at the expenses of going to California and we wanted to bring the preseason back to Texas," Jones said. "Our costs will be reduced without having to go a thousand miles away to Thousand Oaks."

The Cowboys had promised Cal Lutheran officials they would honor a contract and return to Thousand Oaks next summer but a lucrative offer from Austin changed their minds.

Dallas still has three years remaining on a contract with California Lutheran College and Jones said "we will honor it with some economic adjustments under the do-right rule. We'll be trying to get some other NFL teams to go out there."

Jones said a strong consideration for coming back to Texas was the heat.

Johnson felt the cool California climate was not conducive to getting into top playing shape.

"Without question, the Cowboys had great success training at Thousand Oaks but we believe we can have great success training in Austin getting warm weather the way I'm accustomed to it."

Johnson credited working out in the heat and humidity of Miami in shaping his players for their national championship at the University of Miami several years ago.

"We're going to have open practices for the fans," Johnson said of the training camp expected to begin on July 22. "I'm excited about Austin. We'll be far enough away from Dallas so our players can concentrate."

The Cowboys also wanted to stay away from Dallas so it would have a captive media audience.

"We still wanted the going away to camp atmosphere," Jones said.

The president of St. Edward's, Patricia A. Hayes, said the pro football camp will bring great attention to her school.

"For St. Edward's, it is an opportunity to let everyone in the state of Texas know that a quality, small university exists in Austin," she said.

The school has nearly 3,000 students and is located about three miles south of downtown Austin.

Austin Mayor Lee Cooke said the city will contribute up to $191,000 to prepare two practice fields to be used by the Cowboys.

"We're looking for a long-term partnership," he said. "When the Cowboys go to a Super Bowl someday, I'd like to be seen as a mayor of great vision. And I promised coach Johnson it will be hot in Austin in July. The Cowboys will be the best conditioned team in the fourth quarter."

Tex Schramm, former club president, found the training site where John Wayne once filmed the Sands of Iwo Jima after the expansion Cowboys of the early 1960s had tried other places, including Oregon, Minnesota, and Michigan.

"It was the perfect place to train," Schramm said. "The weather was cool enough where you could go all out in the workouts. The Texas heat is too debilitating. Also, it never rained at Thousand Oaks. We never missed a workout."

Former Dallas coach Tom Landry, who was fired by Jones, said "You could look the world over and not find a place more perfect to train than Thousand Oaks. July in Texas wears your players down."

Jones said: "There were some great memories and great traditions with Thousand Oaks but we'll have a new tradition. Our hope is that we will develop an identity with Austin that mirrors or surpasses the identity with Thousand Oaks."

Jones praised Tyler, which also bid to host future Cowboys training camps.

Patricia A. Hayes, president of St. Edward's University, also was at the training camp and said, "We have 3,000 excited students. I think this will be great for St. Edward's and the city of Austin."

Economy in Texas shows little growth

DALLAS (AP) — Despite an expanding service industry and some hopeful signs in other sectors, the economy in Texas and parts of two neighboring states is showing little growth, according to a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

"The services industry continues to grow strongly," the Dallas Fed said Wednesday in its summary of conditions in Texas, northern Louisiana and southern New Mexico.

"Service industry employment is growing significantly faster than overall employment. Business services firms, in particular, report strong sales growth. Of such firms, the highest rates of growth are being reported by computer and data processing services."

The survey was conducted prior to Nov. 28 in preparation for the Dec. 18 meeting of the Federal Open Market Committee, the Federal Reserve Bank's monetary policy-setting arm. The views are based on information from non-Fed sources and are not necessarily the conclusions of the Fed itself.

Nationally, the so-called Beige Book said, "economic activity (is) stable to, modestly expanding, though two (districts) note some recent softening."

The service sector is the only clearly bright spot in the bank's outlook.

"Sales patterns vary widely among district manufacturers, but on balance there has been a slight decline," the Fed says.

Demand for fabricated metals used in construction has dropped but energy-related demand has improved as the need for oilfield equipment improves.

The report also cautions that apparel manufacturer inventories have "crept up to undesired levels."

Retail sales were looking down until Christmas shopping kicked in after Thanksgiving and "some stores that concentrate in non-durables have reported that sales growth ... slightly exceeds national rates," the report says.

Car and truck sales also are down, "in large part as a backlash to September's heavy end-of-model year purchases."

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Last month, I had a cholesterol screening done after a 12-hour fast. It showed a level of 165. Today I participated in a screening at work and was shocked when the nurse told me it was 239. My doctor insists that the 239 reading was incorrect, because the test did not involve a period of fasting and was done using the finger stick method. Do you agree that the finger stick, non-fasting method is usually inaccurate?

DEAR READER: Yes. You will obtain a much more accurate serum cholesterol reading from blood taken from a vein after you have been fasting for at least eight hours. Sometimes, cholesterol is measured from a drop of blood obtained by a finger stick, but this test is not as accurate as the standard one.

When you eat, constituents of the food — such as sugar and fats — enter your bloodstream. Therefore, a blood analysis performed shortly after a meal will give a reading that unfairly reflects the components of the meal.

After a period of fasting, these components have been absorbed by tissues and the cholesterol value becomes a more reliable indicator of your "true" level. The 239 reading was probably a correct measurement of your cholesterol at that time but, for the purposes of comparison and valid analysis, you'll fare better having future determinations done after fasting.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Understanding Cholesterol." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 78-year-old grandmother concerned about a medication my 10-year-old grandson is taking for hyperactivity. He's on Ritalin twice daily. Is this safe for someone his age?

DEAR READER: Hyperactivity in children is now more properly termed Attention Deficit Disorder. It is a poorly understood condition marked by short attention span, emotional instability, distractibility and impulsive behavior.

Ritalin is a central nervous system stimulant. Its method of action is not clearly understood. In conjunction with ancillary therapy — such as counseling and special learning programs — it appears to help some children with ADD. The drug must be administered under close medical supervision because of its side effects: nervousness, insomnia, rash, loss of appetite, headache, abdominal pain and rapid pulse, among others.

Some authorities believe doctors are too willing to prescribe medicine for children with ADD because mild cases usually do not require drug therapy. However, Ritalin has produced documented improvement in severe cases. Your grandson's pediatrician is the best judge of whether the child is getting the appropriate dose.

Study shows higher risk without tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cervical cancer risks increase dramatically for women who fail to get Pap smear tests at least every two years, University of Washington scientists report in a study released today.

Women who get Pap smears only every three years run a risk that is 3.9 times greater that cervical cancer will go undetected than women who have the test annually, according to the study published in the professional journal Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The study said the risks increase as the between-test interval increases and that for women who have no Pap tests for 10 years or longer, the risk increases by 12.3 times.

"The study shows that women should get Pap smears more frequently than every three years," said Dr. Joseph Chu, one of five physicians who conducted the study at the University of Washington. "The risk of having advanced disease goes way down if the tests are conducted every two years or less."

Chu said that the more frequent Pap tests lower the cancer risk for all women, no matter what other risk factors, such as smoking or multiple sexual partners, they have in their life.

The Pap smear is used in gynecological screening to detect the presence of squamous cell cancer, the most common form of cervical cancer. It can also detect changes in cells that could lead to invasive cancer if not treated — thus the test can result in therapy that prevents the cancer from developing.

To perform a Pap test, doctors collect cells from the mucous membrane of the cervix during a pelvic examination. The cells are stained for laboratory analysis.

Is Communism on way out?

NEW YORK (AP) — Half of all Americans believe communism is dying, twice the number who thought so nine months ago, a Media General-Associated Press poll has found.

The survey found views of communism shifting radically as reform sweeps Eastern Europe, with far fewer Americans now seeing the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies as a threat.

But more Americans feel threatened by China, where authorities in June suppressed pro-democracy demonstrators. And the poll found no change in the relatively high level of concern about communism in Latin America.

The survey tracked opinion by repeating questions that first were asked in a Media General-Associated Press poll in March, a few months before the democratic reform movement gained full force in Eastern Europe.

The change in opinion was striking. Then, for example, only 19 percent said communism was on the decline around the world. In the new poll, 54 percent said communism was declining worldwide — a nearly threefold increase.

Similarly, 52 percent regarded communism in Eastern Europe as less of a threat to U.S. security now than in the past; in March, just 28 percent held that view. And 51 percent in the new poll saw Soviet communism as less of a threat to the United States, up from 38 percent nine months ago.

In one of their broadest measures, the surveys asked respondents: "In your view, is communism dying, or not?" In March, 25 percent said yes. In the new poll, 52 percent said yes.

The new survey was conducted Nov. 17-25, as many of the changes reshaping Eastern Europe were still evolving. The changes, some of which culminated after the poll was done, include establishment of a partially non-communist government in Poland and the fall of Communist leaderships in East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Optimism was the greatest for East Germany, where on Nov. 9 the Berlin Wall was opened after 28 years of division from the West. Sixty percent in the survey expected that within their lifetimes East Germans will enjoy the same freedoms Americans have now.

By contrast, only 26 percent expected American-style freedoms to come within their lifetimes to residents of the Soviet Union, where reforms are progressing more slowly and the Communist party retains supremacy.

One more enters precinct 2 race

Don Tucker Pct. 2 commissioner

Don Tucker, longtime Snyder resident and businessman, has announced that he will be a candidate for election to the office of precinct 2 county commissioner.

"I would like the opportunity to be your next commissioner in precinct 2," Tucker stated.

Tucker will run on the Democratic ticket, opposing incumbent Tommy Pate.

Tucker, 60, is a native west Texan and the son of the late Claude Tucker of Snyder.

For the past 20 years he has operated San Andres Company in Snyder.

After graduating from high school, Tucker attended Texas University.

Tucker has been active in civic, fraternal and youth organizations, and was a Boy Scout leader for 25 years. He is a Methodist.

He and his wife, Carol, have five grown children and two grandchildren.

Montreal, Canada...

Gunman fatally shoots 14 women

MONTREAL (AP) — A man who vowed to kill women for ruining his life stormed into the University of Montreal engineering school, singling out and fatally shooting 14 women in a macabre spree that ended with his suicide, police say.

Twelve people were wounded, several critically. Most of the dead and wounded were students.

The killer, dressed in hunting garb and brandishing a semi-automatic rifle, stalked three floors in the bustling, modern school building Wednesday and at one point ordered all the men out of a crowded classroom, witnesses said.

"You're all a bunch of feminists," he screamed before opening fire on a group of cowering young women.

The Montreal police department's public relations officer arrived on the scene and found the body of his daughter, a student, among the dead.

"I heard the gunman say: 'I want the women,'" said student Francois Bordeleau, who said she heard 20 to 30 shots fired during the spree.

Police identified the gunman, who appeared to be in his 20s, only as Marc. They said a three-page letter that spewed hatred for women was found on his body.

The handwritten letter blamed failures in the gunman's life on unidentified women and said he was going to kill some women in revenge, said Jacques Duscheneau, a senior police investigator.

Duscheneau said the gunman identified himself as a student, but did not specify a school. The weapon was a semi-automatic rifle and 35 to 37 shots were fired, he told reporters.

Police and witnesses said the man entered the school about 4:30 p.m. EST as the building was crowded with students on the last day of classes before exams.

The gunman walked into the first-floor cafeteria and fatally shot three women, Montreal Police director Claude St. Laurent said.

He then went up to the second floor and walked into a classroom containing 60 students, ordering the men into one corner and the women into another, police said.

He told the men to leave, then screamed in French before opening fire on the women: "You're all a bunch of feminists," St. Laurent said. Six women died in the classroom.

A woman in an administration office was killed on the same floor.

The gunman then climbed to the third floor, where he killed four more women in the corridor, police said. He continued up to the fourth and fifth floors, shooting and wounding men and women.

Police say he then returned to the third floor and turned the gun on himself.

Haskell's Perry in ag commissioner race

AUSTIN—Former State Rep. Rick Perry of Haskell Wednesday officially became a Republican candidate for the nomination of Texas agriculture commissioner.

Perry, a frequent visitor to Snyder, called incumbent Democrat Jim Hightower "a political animal of the extreme left with bizarre ideas."

Perry spoke in Snyder last year concerning needed reforms in Texas workers' compensation and he served as a member of the Select Committee on Workers' Compensation, appointed by House Speaker Gib Lewis.

Perry, a fifth generation farmer and rancher, recently switched to the Republican party.

"I am running because Texas farmers and ranchers deserve to have one of their own as agriculture commissioner and because the Texas Department of Agriculture is in turmoil, racked by scandal and abuse of the public trust," Perry said.

Perry said several weeks ago that he was considering a run for the ag commissioner's post, but waited until Texas Ranger pitcher Nolan Ryan declined to make the race.

Perry has two GOP opponents, Ken Boatright, a Hamilton County farmer, and Gene Duke of Brownfield.

Perry was first elected to the Texas House in 1984. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and the 39-year-old is a former Air Force pilot.

Warren helped establish the city's first Neighborhood Crime Watch, along Eastridge Dr. in southeastern Snyder, last May, and he said Wednesday that several more neighborhoods have indicated an interest.

He said the police department has numerous slides, videos and films and is capable of presenting programs on a variety of crime-related subjects.

A question the lieutenant is often asked is what a person should do if they are at home when an intruder breaks in — a question to which he said there are no pat answers.

A self-defense measure like using a firearm would generally be

Wreck victim escapes injury

A 26-year-old Colorado City man escaped serious injury when a truck he was driving sideswiped a Snyder woman's car and overturned in the ditch 4.6 miles south of here on the Colorado City Hwy. at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A Department of Public Safety trooper said a 1964 Chevrolet truck driven by Reynaldo Deloera and owned by Nobles Construction Co. of Colorado City was southbound behind a 1985 Cadillac driven by 58-year-old Lenora Boydston.

Boydston turned left into her residential driveway and the truck, attempting to pass, hit her vehicle on the left front with its right rear wheels, after which the truck went out of control and overturned in the ditch, the DPS trooper said.

Deloera declined medical attention. Boydston was uninjured, the officer said.

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated by city police Wednesday, the first at 1:13 p.m. in the post office parking lot downtown, where a parked 1985 Ford pickup owned by Charles Thornton of Rotan was hit by a vehicle and driver who had not been identified.

At 10:39 p.m. in the Sonic Drive In parking lot off College Ave., a 1984 Chevrolet Scottsdale pickup driven by Donald E. Jones of Poolville, near Weatherford in Parker County, was in collision with a 1987 Honda Accord driven by Donna L. Foree of Snyder.

Burglaries are cleared

Three burglaries dating back to April at a Snyder woman's 412 28th St. home were cleared Wednesday with the identification of two suspects, a city police detective reported.

Sally Perez had reported break-ins on April 22 and 26 and on Nov. 5 in which checks were stolen and later forged and passed.

The detective said the money "could not be recovered" and the cases have been referred to the district attorney's office for disposition.

The cases were reported cleared at 8:10 p.m. The ages of the defendants were not reported.

A credit card abuse case reported last Friday was cleared at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday with the payment of $13.55 that had been fraudulently charged at L&L service station at 3812 College Ave.

A detective said the company decided to drop the charge because the bill had been paid.

feasible only if the home were well enough secured that the resident heard the intruder breaking in, he said. If the resident is caught unawares, he said, the best course "is to cooperate and don't try to be a hero."

Warren said one of the primary strengths of the Neighborhood Watch program is the residents' increased familiarity with one another and their families, so that people who do not belong in the neighborhood are noticed.

He said the police department wants to be notified of the presence of such people and will contact them to ask what their business is.

Warren emphasized that Neighborhood Crime Watch "is not a vigilante group," adding that participants should get license plate numbers and physical descriptions of suspects but definitely "should not try to apprehend someone that they see committing a violation."

The police department put up seven Neighborhood Crime Watch signs around the apartment complex area in mid-October.

Crime Task Force in Abilene. "We had been trying to get them lined up where they could make buys," the sheriff said, adding that an undercover officer sent by the task force made the "buys" on which the charges are based.

He declined to say if the agent was a man or a woman. A woman was used in the task force's three-county "bust" of more than two dozen defendants, including a half-dozen in Snyder, early this fall.

Asked if the arrests will have a significant effect on the county's drug problems, Collier said, "Well, we caught a few more. You just keep on catching what you can."

Premier resigns

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Communist Premier Ladislav Adamec, who was trying to form a coalition government acceptable to the pro-democracy movement, resigned today, the head of an allied non-Communist party said.

Adamec quit after meeting with leaders of the allied parties to discuss changes in the government, according to Bohuslav Kucera, head of one of those allied parties, the Socialists.

Kucera said in an interview that Adamec wants a new and younger person to head the next coalition government and reach the compromises necessary to carry out the reforms being sought by the tumultuous pro-democracy movement.

He said that a new premier will be named within a few hours, but he refused to be more specific.

Adamec had threatened on national television Wednesday to resign if the opposition did not stop delivering him "ultimatums."

Earlier today, the opposition submitted Adamec with a list of seven names for consideration in the new government.

The opposition also rejected charges that it had intentionally put Adamec under pressure to change the Cabinet. Adamec was the only holdover from the previous Communist leadership that seemed willing to carry out reforms.

The Civic Forum opposition movement, and its Slovak counterpart, Public Against Violence, have threatened a nationwide general strike Dec. 11 if more non-Communists are not brought into Adamec's Cabinet by Sunday.

Former coach guilty

CONROE, Texas (AP) — A former Plainview tennis coach convicted of killing his ex-girlfriend's fiance could face the death penalty when he is sentenced for the capital murder conviction.

After deliberating for more than nine hours, jurors on Wednesday found Jon David Weathered, 31, guilty of the Dec. 12, 1988 robbery-slaying of William Ralph "Bill" Strawn in The Woodlands.

Testimony in the punishment phase of the trial will begin Monday at 9 a.m. A capital murder conviction carries a penalty of death or life in prison.

Strawn, 35, was engaged to marry Pamela Beene, 31, a teacher in Conroe who had dated Weathered when she lived in West Texas. His body was found in her home.
