By ROGER CLINE Herald Staff Writer

A refrigerated 18-wheeler west on Interstate 20 caught fire at about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday near Mile Marker 186, near Uncle's Convenience Store in Sand Springs.

According to Howard County Volunteer Fire Department Chief Mitchell Hooper, the truck was carrying a load of frozen chicken. No injuries were reported in connection with the incident, which did block westbound traffic for a short time before emergency crews were able to open one lane allowing motorists to pass the truck.

Hooper said the fire was extinguished and fire crews departed the scene about 10 a.m.

The chief indicated that the cause of the fire appears to be the truck's brakes overheating, which set fire to its tires.

Hooper said he believes the truck was an owner-operator vehicle.

Council orders nuisance abatements

By ROGER CLINE Herald Staff Writer

At their meeting Tuesday evening, the Big Spring City Council issued 13 orders for Abatement of Public Nuisance against properties in the city.

According to City Attorney Andrew Hagen, by issuing a Public Nuisance Abatement order for a property, owners are given 30 days notice to take care of nuisances such as excessive trash, unsafe conditions, rodents and/ or insects, high weeds, etc., or city workers will be sent to alleviate the issue at the owners' expense. "These Preliminary Abatement Orders would only be in effect after 30 days, and that would give the person affected, the owner, the chance to appeal your decision to abate," Hagen told the

The council issued abatement orders against properties at:

• 802 Andree (Nicholas Loya, owner)

• 100 Brown (Bobby Ray Rawls, owner)

• 1612 Cardinal (George Luna, owner)

• 1615 Cardinal (estate of Francie Candice Smith, owner)

• 602 Circle (Joel Rodriguez, owner)

• 604 W. Third St. (David and Janet Higgins, owners)

• 101 Valley, (Joe and Isabel Flores, owners).

The council voted to table action on a 14th property, that at 710 E. 13th St. owned by Rosemary Knecht. During the council's deliberation on Knecht's property, Tori Baum approached the council, purporting to be Knecht's powerof-attorney holder (although Big Spring Police Chief Chad Williams confirmed that to be untrue), tenant, and representative in the issue, before unleashing a stream of loud profanity at the city leaders. Mayor Robert Moore ordered Baum ejected from the meeting; and Knecht approached lectern to speak on her own behalf.

on doing it. I've given them two verbal notices to get out of my house and move their stuff. Now I've got a written one that I've given them, and I've given them until the end of the year," Knecht told the council.

Mayor Robert Moore asked which people Knecht was referring to.

"Tori Baum and her boyfriend. They stay at my house. They're the ones who have the two campers in the backyard. The one that was just speaking. I've told them twice now that they have to move," Knecht said. "They have all kinds of people coming over to my house all into the night, and I just can't deal with that anymore."

Whistleblowers hit Southwest, FAA for lax safety practices

By DAVID KOENIG

AP Airlines Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Federal officials say that Southwest Airlines and the union representing its pilots have resisted cooperating with investigations into accidents and other incidents and pushed to close the matters quickly.

In one instance disclosed Wednesday, the Federal Aviation Administration cut short an investigation of a 2019 incident in Connecticut even though the agency determined that there was pilot error. Both wings of the Southwest jet were damaged as pilots battling wind tried to land at Bradley International Airport, outside of Hartford.

The FAA said Southwest and union officials resisted interviews with agency representatives in that and other cases. Sometimes the delaying tactics worked. An investigation into why pilots placed duct tape over sensors outside a plane before a flight fizzled when the FAA employee took another job.

Neither Southwest nor its pilots' union responded immediately to requests for comment.

The FAA investigation was disclosed Wednesday by the U.S. Office of Special Counsel, which represents federal whistleblowers. It reported another accident -aplane that went off the runway in Burbank, California — in which an FAA review was "fast-tracked" under pressure from Southwest. In a separate review of that incident, the National Transportation Review Board found that the co-pilot's conduct was "highly unprofessional."

The FAA said it agreed with some of the allegations raised by three whistleblowers and took corrective steps including more training and development of audits to ensure compliance with aviation-safety guidelines.

The special counsel's office investigated case, a brief recess in the meeting's proceedings was called, allowing Hagen and Chief Williams a chance to speak with Knecht before council business resumed. Williams noted that, as of noon Wednesday, Knecht had filed no legal action against her tenants.

Following the issuance of the abatement orders, City Manager Todd Darden gave his regular report. He noted that the recent Large Item Pickup for District 1 was a success, collecting 13.5 tons of large or bulky items. Darden also referenced the abatement orders discussed by the council at the meeting's onset, noting that Large Item Pickup could be of assistance to owners in cleaning up items too large or unwieldy for them to transport to the landfill on their own.

Darden also noted that the city's annual seal coating project would commence Aug. 1, citing issues acquiring material for the project as reason for the delay.

Darden said the city recently replaced about 20 non-working streetlight fixtures with LED lights.

"Our goal is to have all of our streetlights in the community eventually replaced," Darden said. "People asked why we don't do it all. We have almost 1,800 streetlights, and if we asked Oncor to do them all, it would break the bank."

Darden also noted that the city's Water Office will be moved to 410 E. Third Street, opening Monday, Aug. 1. To facilitate the move, the Water Office will close at noon Friday. During the meeting, Darden questioned whether anyone present knew what businesses had occupied the building in the past; Heritage Museum of Big Spring Director Tammy Schrecengost confirmed that the building was originally built as the site of Masters Electric Co. in the 1940s. It has since housed Southwestern Investment Co. starting in 1952, Tele-Comm starting in 1972, and Graham's Business Machines in 1980.

The council unanimously approved a six-item Consent Agenda, including: Approval of minutes from the council's July 12 meeting; final reading of an ordinance adopting a water conservation plan and establishing reasonable water conservation measures; final reading of an ordinance requiring the City Secretary or City Manager's designee to publish notice of possible quorum of City Council members for each meeting of a city board or committe, or the Big Spring Housing Authority, or the Big Spring Economic Development Corporation; final reading of an ordinance requiring pedestrians or drivers to obtain permission of the Airpark Director before walking or driving on runways or taxiways at the Airport; and final reading of an ordinance abolishing the Airpark Development Board and replacing it with a new Aviation Advisory Board.

Council members also unanimously approved vouchers for July 14 in the amount of $996,766.16 and for July 21 in the amount of $228,460.23; as well as manual checks and drafts in the amount of $900,074.70.

In New Business, the council acknowledged receipt of the Big Spring EDC board minutes for the May 17 and June 21 regular meetings.

The council unanimously approved posting a notice and seeking applicants to replace Municipal Court Judge Timothy Green, who is retiring effective Sept. 1.

The council acknowledged receipt of the City Investment report for the quarter ending June 30, as well as the Quarterly Investment Report from Finance Director Sandy Smith.

The council unanimously approved a grant application for a Texas Department of Transportation "22 ALBIGSP project" grant, which will be used to update the local Airport Layout Plan including a Height Hazard Ordinance and Property Map. The total project costs are estimated at $365,000 and Big Spring will be responsible for 10 percent, or $36,500.

The council unanimously approved an emergency reading of a resolution authorizing Mayor Robert H. Moore III and Finance Director Sandra Smith to apply for a secured business credit card account with Prosperity Bank in the amount of $200,000. Authorized administrators of the account will be Smith and Assistant Director of Finance Gary Givens.

The council unanimously approved creation of two disabled parking spots on the east side of the 300 block of Runnels Street, on the west side of Hotel Settles. Public Works Director Shane Bowles said the style of parking will shift, with the west side of Runnels Street becoming parallel parking, while the east side of Runnels (adjacent to the Hotel) will become angled parking to accomodate the handicapped spaces. Bowles noted that, although the spaces are intended to facilitate handicapped individuals' access to the Hotel, since the street is city property, parking there is not limited to Settles customers.

The council approved rezoning the former site of GEO's Interstate Unit at 1801 W. Interstate 20 from SF-2, Single-Family Dwelling District, to HI, Heavy Industrial District.

The council unanimously approved a release and settlement agreement with AT&T. The company will compensate the City $303,766.60 as a settlement in a dispute between the parties, and the city and AT&T will each release the other from further liability or claim regarding the dispute.

Council members approved the purchase of Bluebeam construction blueprint software, allowing the city engineer, fire marshal and building official to inspect and comment on building plans more efficiently.

The council voted to appoint retired Airpark Director Jim Little to the Aviation Advisory Board. Nominated by Councilwoman Gloria McDonald (District 4), Little's appointment was approved by a vote of 5-0. Councilman Nick Ornelas (District 1) abstained from the vote.

eight allegations raised by four whistleblowers. The office forwarded its findings to the White House and Congress.

In a response to the special counsel's office, the FAA said it found "mismanagement and lack of oversight" by the office monitoring Southwest that has persisted despite management and staff changes over the years. The FAA said new executives will provide "a fresh opportunity to evaluate" the oversight of Southwest.

Some of the whistleblower accusations have been leveled before, including Southwest's use of planes bought overseas without verifying their maintenance and inspection records. In more than half of those cases, the airline found that the planes had undergone repair work that wasn't documented or couldn't be verified

The FAA said some of the whistleblower allegations couldn't be proven, including a claim that Southwest routinely assigns too much work for mechanics to handle.

A separate allegation that the FAA improperly certified Southwest for long overwater flights — approval the airline needed to sell flights to Hawaii — was examined by the Transportation Department's inspector general, who could not verify the claim.

An FAA spokeswoman said the agency takes the special counsel's concerns seriously and has adopt its recommendations.

Dallas-based Southwest has faced questions about safety over the years and has paid millions to settle safety violations, however, it has a good record over its five-decade history.

No passenger had died in an accident involving a Southwest plane until 2018, when a woman was killed after an engine broke apart over Pennsylvania and debris shattered the window next to her seat. In 2005, a 6-year-old boy riding in a car was killed when a Southwest jet landing in Chicago skidded off the runway, crashed through a fence and hit the car.

SEATTLE (AP) — Cal Raleigh homered in the seventh inning, lined an RBI double in the ninth and scored the winning run on Carlos Santana's sacrifice fly, and the Seattle Mariners rallied for a 5-4 win over the Texas Rangers on Tuesday night.

J.P. Crawford led off the ninth with a single off Texas reliever Brett Martin and scored from first when Raleigh lined a shot to the wall in right-center field. Raleigh was sacrificed to third base and after Martin (0-6) issued intentional walks to Julio Rodríguez and Ty France to load the bases, Santana hit a fly ball to center field that was deep enough for Raleigh to score the winning run.

"(Raleigh's) having a lot of fun. And you see show up every day, in the clubhouse, on the field. He's helping us win games in different ways every night," Seattle manager Scott Servais said. "Some nights it's with the bat. Some nights it's calling the right pitches. Some nights it's because he throws a runner out. Some nights it's because his base running is pretty good."

Seattle won its seventh straight over the Rangers and its ninth consecutive game decided by one run. Since losing to Oakland on July 1, the Mariners are 16-3 with the only three losses coming last weekend to Houston.

Rodríguez led off the game with his 17th home run of the season in his first action since the All-Star Game last week. Rodríguez returned from Los Angeles complaining of a sore left wrist that was initially injured in the final game before the break in Texas.

Seattle was cautious but Rodríguez was clearly ready to return hitting the sixth pitch of the game out to left field.

"I'm not surprised at this point. It's amazing what that guy is doing. I just shake my head in amazement," Raleigh said.

Kyle Lewis added an RBI single in the first inning, and Raleigh's 14th homer in the seventh gave Seattle a 3-1 lead.

But Seattle's bullpen sputtered late and the Rangers pulled ahead. Adolis García's two-run double in the eighth inning took an awkward bounce inside first base and pulled the Rangers even at 3-3 after Paul Sewald had walked Corey Seager and Jonah Heim with two outs.

Leody Taveras led off the ninth inning with an opposite-field single off Erik Swanson (1-0) on a pitch well out of the strike zone, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt and scored when Ezequiel Duran's sinking line drive couldn't be caught on a diving attempt by right fielder Sam Haggerty.

But the Mariners put together a final rally and improved to 23-12 in one-run games, while Texas fell to 5-23.

"We had a tough one last night, even tougher one tonight," Rangers manager Chris Woodward said. "We're going to bounce back. We're going to learn, we're going to continue to grow from these things."

STARTING OFF

Seattle rookie George Kirby threw five shutout innings on just 51 pitches before being lifted. Kirby was on a limited pitch count after not throwing in the majors since July 8.

Texas starter Dane Dunning threw five innings and allowed four hits in his first start following a stint on the injured list due to an ankle issue. Dunning is now winless in his past 14 starts dating to early May.

ROSTER SHUFFLE

With Dunning coming off the injured list, the Rangers optioned LHP Taylor Hearn to Triple-A Round Rock. Hearn has started a career-high 13 games this season and made 16 total appearances. Manager Chris Woodward said the Rangers will go with a five-man rotation and he sees Hearn's best role as a length reliever out of the bullpen.

Seattle also made a roster move to bring back Kirby and optioned RHP Matt Brash to Triple-A Tacoma. But manager Scott Servais made it sound as if Brash will be back with the big league club sooner than later. Brash started the season in the rotation before being sent to the minors and working as a reliever. Brash has appeared in five games as a reliever after making five starts to begin the season.

Pinder slam lifts A's, trade target Montas over Astros 5-3

By MICHAEL WAGAMAN

Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Chad Pinder hit his second grand slam in two weeks, Frankie Montas pitched five innings in what could be his final outing with Oakland and the Athletics held off the Houston Astros 5-3 on Tuesday night.

Tony Kemp had an RBI double and Stephen Piscotty doubled twice for the A's. Oakland has won five of six.

Manager Mark Kotsay's club still has the worst record in the American League but the vibe around the team is noticeably different.

"In the clubhouse you can tell the energy's better," Pinder said. "The (All-Star) break was good for us, especially with such a young team. To see everybody turn the page, it's rewarding."

The A's were out-hit 7-6 and committed an error that led to an unearned run but beat the major leagues' best road team for the second night in a row before another small crowd of 5,130. He threw 78 pitches and struck out four in his second outing since missing time with inflammation in his pitching shoulder.

"I ain't going to lie, I've been thinking about it especially with the deadline coming up pretty soon," Montas said about the rumors. "It was a time today where I thought, 'Hey this might be my last start here' but I'm not trying to think about that. I'm here right now. Until whatever happens I'm still an Oakland A."

Montas hasn't received much run support this season and Oakland's offense was stifled against Houston until loading the bases in the third on an infield single and back-to-back, two-out walks by Luis García (8-6).

Pinder crushed a 1-2 pitch into the left field stands for a 4-0 lead. Pinder also hit a grand slam July 12 against the Rangers.

"Chad's been a big part of this organization. He's grown up here and I've grown up with him," Kotsay said. "He's got almost as many grand slams as I did homers in my career."

now," Pinder said. "Happy that we're winning, happy that things are kind of falling together for this team."

The A's bullpen made it hold up with four no-hit innings. Lou Trivino pitched the ninth for his 10th save.

Kyle Tucker hit his 19th home run for the Astros. Yordan Alvarez added two hits.

Houston got within 4-3 in the fifth on Alvarez's RBI double and a throwing error by third baseman Vimael Machín. The Astros had two on with two out later in the inning before Montas got Aledmys Díaz to fly out.

"Frankie's been through a little bit of personal off-the-field things that have kind of weighed on him a little bit," Kotsay said. "For him to go out and compete, perform, give us what all he had tonight ... he really pitched a great game and gave us a chance to win."

García had seven strikeouts in 5 2/3 innings but walked four and allowed four runs. Runner-up in AL Rookie of the Year voting a year ago, García had won his last five decisions dating to June 10. The A's added insurance in the eighth following back-to-back doubles by Piscotty and Kemp off Hector Neris.

Montas (4-9) allowed three runs, two earned, and worked around three walks to win for the first time since June 11. The A's right-hander has been the subject of trade rumors and his next scheduled start is on Aug. 2, the final day of the trade deadline.

Kotsay exaggerated just a bit. Pinder has four career grand slams compared to Kotsay's 127 home runs over a 17-year career.

Jackie Robinson Museum opens after 14 years of planning

By RONALD BLUM

AP Baseball Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Long dreamed about and in development for longer than the big league career of the man it honors, the Jackie Robinson Museum opened Tuesday in Manhattan with a gala ceremony attended by the widow of the barrier-breaking ballplayer and two of his children.

Rachel Robinson, who turned 100 on July 19, watched the half-hour outdoor celebration from a wheelchair in the 80-degree Fahrenheit (27-degree Celsius) heat, then cut a ribbon to cap a project launched in 2008.

Her 72-year-old daughter, Sharon, also looked on from a wheelchair and 70-year-old son David spoke to the crowd of about 200 sitting on folding chairs arrayed in a closed-off section of Varick Street, a major thoroughfare where the 19,380-square-foot museum is located. It opens to the public on Sept. 5

"The issues in baseball, the issues that Jackie Robinson challenged in 1947, they're still with us," David Robinson said. "The signs of white only have been taken down, but the complexity of equal opportunity still exists."

Rachel Robinson announced the museum on April 15, 2008, the 61st anniversary of Jackie breaking the big league color barrier with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Robinson became NL Rookie of the Year, the 1949 NL batting champion and MVP, a seven-time All-Star and a World Series champion in 1955. He hit .313 with 141 homers and 200 stolen bases in 11 seasons and was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1962.

Robinson, who died in 1972, had an impact beyond baseball, galvanizing a significant slice of American public opinion and boosting the civil rights movement.

"There's nowhere on the globe where dream is attached to our name — or our country's name," New York City Mayor Eric Adams said. "There's not a German dream. There's not a French dream. There's not a Polish dream. Darn it, there's an American dream. And this man and wife took that dream and forced America and baseball to say you're not going to be a dream on a piece of paper, you're going to be a dream in life. We are greater because of No. 42 and because he had amazing wife that understood that dream and vision."

A gala dinner was held Monday night to preview the museum, which contains 4,500 artifacts, including playing equipment and items such as Robinson's 1946 minor league contract for $600 a month and his 1947 rookie contract for a $5,000 salary. The museum also holds a collection of 40,000 images and 450 hours of footage.

A 15-piece band played at the ceremony, attended by former pitcher CC Sabathia, former NL president Len Coleman and former Mets owner Fred Wilpon, along with players' association head Tony Clark and Hall of Fame president Josh Rawitch.

"Without him, there would be no me," Sabathia said. "I wouldn't have been able to live out my dream of playing Major League Baseball."

Yankees general manager Brian Cashman, director Spike Lee (wearing a Brooklyn Dodgers cap) and former tennis star Billie Jean King also were on hand.

"It seems like we're more divided than ever," King said. "People like Jackie Robinson was a great reminder every single morning, every single evening that we have to do the right thing every day."

Original projections had a 2010 opening and $25 million cost. The Great Recession caused a delay.

Ground finally was broken on April 27, 2017, when the Jackie Robinson Foundation said it had raised $23.5 million of a planned $42 million and the museum was intended to open in 2019. The pandemic caused more delays, and the total raised has risen to $38 million, of which $2.6 million was contributed by New York City.

Tickets will cost $18 for adults and $15 for students, seniors and children. The second floor includes an education center, part of a plan envisioned by Rachel Robinson.

"She wanted a fixed tribute to her husband, where people could come and learn about him, but also be inspired," said foundation president Della Britton, who headed the project. "We want to be that place, as young people now say, a safe space, where people will talk about race and not worry about the initial backlash that happens when you say something on social media."

David Robinson said his father would have been proud.

"He was a man who used the word 'we," David said. "I think today Jackie Robinson would say I accept this honor, but I accept this honor on behalf of something far beyond my individual self, far beyond my family, far beyond even my race. Jackie Robinson would say don't think of you standing on my shoulders, I think of myself as standing on the shoulders of my mother, who was a sharecropper in Georgia, my grandmother, who was born a slave."

Partscore hands may not be as lramatic as game or slam hands, but they frequently provide opporunity for good play. For example, ake this deal from a team-of-four natch where the final contract at both tables was three spades.

At the first table, West cashed the A-K-Q of hearts and played a ourth round of hearts. Declarer ruffed high in dummy, led a low trump to the ten and returned the eight of clubs. West couldn't afford

₩K Declarer played his last trump and West had no escape. If he dis carded the jack of diamonds, South would score two diamond tricks; in he discarded the jack of clubs South would lead the king of clubs forcing West to win and lead from the king of diamonds. So declared made exactly three spades.

The play started the same way a the second table, with West leading the A-K-Q of hearts. But here Eas smartly ruffed the third round o hearts and returned a diamond after which declarer had to go down one, losing three hearts, diamond and a club. Sometimes it pays to trump you partner's trick.

Drama Tolerance Tester

Everyone has a certain tolerance for drama. While some will avoid overblown emotions, bad decisions and emotional complexities, others are like moths drawn to the spotlight. This is the moon that tests our preference for theatricality. The new moon in Leo is a chance to end the drama you don't want -- or start the drama you do want.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Groups get tedious if the same people are always involved, so include new people and different elements to get the fresh energy flowing through. Tonight highlights your gift for timing and wording.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Events of the day have a high potential to be misperceived. All misperceptions can be corrected. No need for a quick reaction, though. Settle in and assess matters. Let your strategic mind take over.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Your natural response is to be resilient in the face of adversity. When you were a baby trying to walk you often fell, recovered, and walked again. Remember your basic nature and continue on.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Work is cyclical. Periods of productivity are followed by fallow times. Then new things are produced and those eventually run their course too. Relax and ride out the part of the cycle you're in. Everything comes around.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). People aren't thinking before they speak to you today, and even if they are that doesn't guarantee they're right. The next decision is best deliberated with your own research and inner wisdom.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Today's situation is an Oompa Loompa's dilemma -- you handle the work while some eccentric megalomaniac takes the credit. An Oompa Loompa would dance off the stress, but you'd rather make a new deal instead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). An event may very well be in the past, but that doesn't mean it's over. You'll use it to fuel your next success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). One key to health is feeling in control of your daily life and the hundreds of small decisions you make in a day. In light of this, you're careful not to get in the way of your loved one's process even when you don't agree.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). If a person feels harmed, but wasn't ... was harm done? If a person doesn't feel harmed, but was... was harm done? A philosophical approach will help you sort the complexities of recent experience.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You are sensitive to another person's needs, though you also feel that your privacy is a precious right. Therefore, you will take measures to prevent a possible imposition.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You'll be nudged to solve problems and answer questions. Just because you're asked doesn't mean you owe a response. You could be doing someone a disservice by answering their question and robbing them of a mystery.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Red tape and bureaucracy are no fun, but usually there is no way around, only through. It would be quite a bigger ordeal to start your own country, so you'll resign yourself to check all the boxes and get through quite a lot of it.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (July 28). You most enjoy a privilege if you can share it. You love to see others reap benefits you can bestow, and nothing makes you happier than their smiles and success. This solar return sees you persevering with a long-term project and celebrating milestones. Keep track of what you know and figure out how to put that to good use. Libra and Virgo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 18, 4, 31 and 1.

CELEBRITY PROFILES:

Immortally glamorous Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis remains a subject of adoring fascination. Sun and Mercury in Leo suggest she was destined for the spotlight, and though ever-poised in its glare, Mars and Neptune in Virgo intimate it wasn't a comfortable place for her to be. Virgo energy is always striving for perfection -- Jackie O made it seem attainable.
