HyFuels on agenda for BSISD board Thursday

By ROGER CLINE
 Managing Editor

When it meets Thursday, the Big Spring ISD school board will consider designating an area within the district the “HyFuels Reinvestment Zone” as an economic incentive to the company HyFuels Big Spring LLC to do business in the district.

The meeting will begin at 5:15 p.m. Thursday in the Board Room at Big Spring High School, 707 E. 11th Place. Members of the public are welcome to attend.

In May of this year, HyFuels Big Spring LLC submitted a Chapter 313 application to the district, requesting limitation on the appraised value of its property in the BSISD. Chapter 313 is a type of economic incentive districts can use in which they voluntarily require companies to pay less tax on property they own within the district, generally for a limited period of time.

According to the application document submitted by HyFuels, the company paid an application fee of $80,000 to BSISD for the right to apply for Chapter 313 incentives.

According to the application, HyFuels is requesting an appraised value limitation from the district for its local project: “...a proposed utility-scale facility in Howard County that would manufacture green hydrogen and its derivatives - namely, green ammonia, synthetic renewable natural gas (“SRNG”), and green methanol (collectively sometimes referred to as “eFuels”) - for use and distribution throughout Texas and the United States.”

According to the application, HyFuels estimates it will produce 400,000 tons of carbon-free hydrogen locally each year, or about 1,100 tons per day.

The proposed reinvestment zone is located along Interstate 20 west of Big Spring, south of Natural Dam Lake, close to the Martin County line. Construction is slated to begin in late 2026, with commercial operations beginning in December 2028.

According to documents provided along with the application, it appears that the agreement would limit the taxable value (for BSISD purposes) of the HyFuels property to $30 million during the first 10 years (2028-29 to 2037-38) of occupancy. After the 10 years ends, the value of the property is estimated in the Winifred Pittman graduated from high school in 1918 and then took a short business course. Her goal was to work as a clerk at the courthouse in Dublin. However, fate had a different path to follow. Winifred took a job as a typist for an abstract company in Stephenville Tx., not far from her hometown of Dublin.

In the spring of 1927, Winifred moved to Big Spring to accept a position as manager for Big Spring Abstract.

Three years later, she joined Elliott - Waldron Abstract and the three joined equal partnership in the purchase of Big Spring Abstract. Winifred was named as the Big Spring manager. She often put in 18 hour days especially during the oil boom.

Of the 81 abstract companies owned by Elliott-Waldron Abstract in 1930, Winifred was the only female in a manager position with the firm.

She loved the work and moved to buy a Garden City abstract office on her own.

When Washington Place was being developed, Winifred purchased a lot at 1111 Settles and built a home. Not an easy thing to do for a woman in 1930.

She married Amos Wood and the couple eventually sold the property and moved to another home in Big Spring.

Today, this home is up for sale once again. With a lot of work, it could be restored to its original glory.

Convicted 'fake heiress' released

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman whose exploits posing as a German heiress to scam individuals and financial institutions out of hundreds of thousands of dollars inspired a Netflix series is being released from immigration custody.

Anna Sorokin was scheduled to be released from ICE custody Friday evening, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement said.

The 31-year-old had been held by immigration authorities since March 2021 after she had served three years in prison for larceny and theft.

Immigration authorities claim she has overstayed her visa and must be returned to Germany.

This week, a judge had cleared the way for Sorokin to be released to home confinement while she fights deportation.

Under conditions imposed by Manhattan Immigration Judge Charles Conroy, she must post a $10,000 bond, provide a residential address where she'll stay for the duration of her immigration case and refrain from social media posting. Posing as Anna Delvey, Sorokin managed to ingratiate herself with New York's movers and shakers.

Prosecutors seek prison for attack on AP journalist

Associated Press

Federal prosecutors on Sunday recommended a prison sentence of approximately four years for a Pennsylvania man who pleaded guilty to assaulting an Associated Press photographer and using a stun gun against police officers during a mob's attack on the U.S. Capitol.

U.S. District Judge Randolph Moss is scheduled to sentence Alan Byerly on Oct. 21 for his attack on AP photographer John Minchillo and police during the Jan. 6, 2021, riot in Washington.

Sentencing guidelines recommend a prison term ranging from 37 to 46 months. Prosecutors are seeking a sentence of at least 46 months of imprisonment, followed by three years of supervised release. Byerly's attorney has until Friday to submit a sentencing recommendation.

The judge isn't bound by any of the sentencing recommendations.

Byerly was arrested in July 2021 and pleaded guilty a year later to assault charges.

Byerly purchased a stun gun before he traveled from his home in Fleetwood, Pennsylvania, to Washington for the "Stop the Steal" rally on Jan. 6. Leaving the rally before then-President Donald Trump finished speaking, Byerly went to the Capitol and joined other rioters in using a large metal Trump sign as a battering ram against barricades and police officers, prosecutors said.

After that, he went to the Capitol's Lower West Terrace, where he and other rioters attacked Minchillo, who was wearing a lanyard with AP lettering. Byerly is one of at least three people charged with assaulting Minchillo, whose assault was captured on video by a colleague.

Byerly then approached police officers behind bike racks and deployed his stun gun.

"After officers successfully removed the stun gun from Byerly's hands, Byerly continued to charge toward the officers, struck and pushed them, and grabbed an officer's baton," prosecutors wrote.

Byerly later told FBI agents that he did just "one stupid thing down there and that's all it was," according to prosecutors.

"This was a reference to how he handled the reporter and nothing more," they wrote.

Byerly treated Jan. 6 "as a normal, crime-free day, akin to the movie, 'The Purge,' when he could do whatever he wanted without judgment or legal consequence," prosecutors said.

"He was mistaken," they added.

More than 100 police officers were injured during the Capitol siege.

Approximately 900 people have been charged with federal crimes for their conduct on Jan. 6. More than 400 of them have pleaded guilty, mostly to misdemeanor offenses. Over 280 riot defendants have been sentenced, with roughly half sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from one week to 10 years.

White House garden tours fan favorite

By ELLEN KNICKMEYER

Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were the young women in fresh fall coats, a guy in a suit, hoodied parents with kids, all maneuvering for selfies with the White House south facade.

The plant fans and the history fans leaned in to admire the perennials and centuries-old trees on the lawns where Commander the dog lolls and Marine One the helicopter lands.

Again and again, Secret Service agents rose to the challenge of the White House fall garden tour over the weekend, open to all comers with a free ticket: "Off the grass!" one agent in black uniform shouted, squaring his shoulders, not for the first time, not for the last. A straying visitor hopped back on the path.

An estimated 30,000 people in all strolled through the White House's black metal gates on Saturday and Sunday, as the red-uniformed Marine Band, overlooking the South Lawn, played everyone through.

With some of the most formidable of temporary security fencing eased, the tours on a not-rainy weekend were a throwback to the White House's early days, when there were fewer restrictions on access to the People's House.

For a weekend, the tour sheared off some of the distance between the nation's executive and a curious, divided public. The annual fall and spring tours open the gates on gardens more than 200 years old — the oldest continually maintained landscape in the United States, says the National Park Service

"It's sort of a bucket list thing to check off," said Ryan Harrison, 29. He and wife Lindsey Harrison, 30, came hours early from their Washington home to be in line at 7:07 a.m. Saturday. They wanted to see the Rose Garden, and maybe more.

"There's a chance the president will walk out and say hello," she said. President Joe Biden, in fact, was at his home in Delaware.

There were limits to the hospitality: Grounds crews wheeled out evergreens in containers to block the path of a garden in the back, where the palm prints of grandkids and paw prints of pets offer a glimpse of the lives of the White House residents. The human occupants weren't on hand, but the bees in the beehives were, scouting out head-high orange marigolds in the flourishing, blooming patch that hosts the kitchen vegetable garden started by Michelle Obama and the cutting-flower garden started by Jill Biden.

John Adams is credited with preparing ground for the first White House vegetable garden, although a reelection loss meant he left before the 1801 spring planting season, historians say. He hired white and Black workers during his time as president, although the White House Historical Association notes that other presidents brought Black people they held in slavery to work as gardeners. The current head groundskeeper is Dale Haney, who was honored by the Bidens last week for his 50 years of service at the White House.

In the minutes when the tour areas were open to journalists on the weekend but not yet the public at large, one gardener hauled off a last cart of limbs and leaves. Another tidied up with what appeared to be a battery-powered leaf blower (an aha moment for gardeners in these days of controversy over gasoline-powered ones). Public access to the White House grounds may have hit its apogee in 1837, when Andrew Jackson celebrated George Washington's birthday by throwing open the White House doors to all — men and boys in frock coats and straw hats, women and girls in bonnets — who wanted a share of a donated 1,400-pound (635-kilogram) cheese. "For hours did a crowd of men, women and boys hack at the cheese, many taking large hunks of it away with them," a journalist from the time wrote. "Nothing else was talked about at Washington that day."

World War II, 9/11 and other security concerns steadily carved away at access for ordinary Americans.

When first lady Pat Nixon started the spring and fall garden tours in 1973, the White House itself still was open to visitors lining up for tours. These days, members of the public generally are asked to go through congressional offices for spots on White House tours. Families enter a lottery for a spot in the annual White House Easter egg roll. For the garden tour weekends, the line wraps around the metal gates surrounding about 18 acres (7 hectares). A VIP group that came in at the head of Saturday's garden tour was allowed close enough to peer in the windows, getting in the backdrop of people's photos of a serene Rose Garden brightened by yellow flowers, and raising questions about just who was getting first gnaw on the big cheese. Rashida Holman-Jones, an administrator at the Washington-area SEED School, came through the gates with her 7-year-old twin girls, a 17-year-old student, Simona Weimer, and others. Weimer was great with the compost and pitching in overall at the school's garden, Holman-Jones said. Holman-Jones got involved with school gardening as a direct outgrowth of Michelle Obama's gardening-friendly drive for better nutrition for kids. At the time, "I wasn't into gardening," she said. "But I was really, really into Michelle Obama." In the White House gardens this past weekend, well-pruned boxwood-like plantings kept all the red, green, yellow, purple and orange, pollinator-friendly fall blooms in line. Topiary was big. Photos and plaques marked trees planted by past presidents, with Queen Elizabeth II, Hillary Clinton and others also part of the planting pedigrees. The oldest trees are identified as two southern magnolias, planted by Jackson. On Saturday, a man in a suit edged close to the White House exterior. A Secret Service agent looming alongside hip-high shrubbery told him to get back. Holman-Jones, a friend, and their beaming little girls pressed in for their photo.

2,560-pound pumpkin wins California contest; sets record

HALF MOON BAY, Calif. (AP) — A horticulture teacher from Minnesota set a new U.S. record Monday for the heaviest pumpkin after raising a giant gourd weighing 2,560 pounds.

Travis Gienger, of Anoka, Minnesota set the new record and won an annual pumpkin-weighing contest in Northern California.

Gienger drove the gargantuan gourd for 35 hours to see his hard work pay off at the 49th World Championship Pumpkin Weigh-Off in Half Moon Bay, south of San Francisco.

Gienger, who also won the same contest in Northern California in 2020, broke a record set last week in New York where a grower raised a massive pumpkin weighing 2,554 pounds.

A grower in Italy holds the world record for the heaviest pumpkin. He grew a 2,702-pound squash in 2021, according to Guinness World Records.

Howard Co. Area Football Roundup Week 7: Coahoma and Forsan start district 1-0 with huge wins at home Big Spring falls to tough Brownwood team 41-10 to start district play 0-1

By PATRICK GONZALES

Herald Sports Writer

A new season started this past Friday for all three Howard County teams where the win loss records reset. Not literally but well you know what I mean. Teams with the best win record in their respective districts get a spot to in the high school playoffs come mid-November and all three area teams have their eyes set on claiming one of those spots.

Big Spring, Coahoma, and Forsan all began district play this Friday. Coahoma and Forsan opened up district play at home Friday night while Big Spring made the long trip southeast to Brownwood. Both Coahoma and Forsan started the season off right by earning wins in their games as the Bulldogs took down 17th ranked Littlefield 35-28 and the Buffaloes trampled Reagan County 40-7.

Things did not go so well for Big Spring in their matchup against Brownwood Friday night. The Lions simply dominated on both sides of the ball for the majority of the game as they beat the Steers 41-10 to open up district play.

BIG SPRING STEERS 10 BROWNWOOD LIONS 41

Coming off of a huge loss the week before to Seminole, the Big Spring Steers were looking to bounce back and come away with an upset win over Brownwood to start District 2-4A play. That task proved to be too much for the Steers as the Lions came away with a huge win over the Steers Friday night in Gordon Wood Stadium winning 41-10.

Big Spring had a rough game from start to finish against Brownwood. The Lions simply dominated on both sides of the ball enroute to a 41-10 win over the Steers. With the loss the Steers start district with an 0-1 record and 4-3 record overall. Brownwood improves to 5-2 overall and starts district 1-0.

The Lions wasted little time getting on the board early in the game as they scored their first touchdown in the opening minutes of the game. Brownwood would go on to hold a 21-3 lead heading into halftime. The Lions continued their offensive dominance into the second scoring an additional three more touchdowns to make it 41-10 to end the game.

The Steers only touchdown came in the fourth quarter thanks to Steer quarterback Gavin Padron completing a 16 yard touchdown pass to Kavien Ford. Padron would finish the game completing 35 of 53 passes for 338 yards, one touchdown pass and four interceptions. Big Spring's Eli Cobos led the Steers receivers as he finished the night with 10 catches for 141 yards and one fumble.

Big Spring running back Kavein Ford led the Steers in rushing with 12 carries for 55 yards and also contributed 6 catches for 49 yards and 1 touchdown.

Big Spring will have a bye this coming week. The Steers will take the time off to regroup as they will get ready to host San Angelo Lake View on Oct. 21. at Memorial Stadium in Big Spring

COAHOMA BULLDOGS 35 LITTLEFIELD WILDCATS 28

The Coahoma Bulldogs are on a roll as they picked up their fifth straight win Friday to open District 4-3A play. The Bulldogs got huge with over the Littlefield Wildcats, Friday night at Bill Easterling Memorial Coliseum in Coahoma beating the Wildcats 35-28.

The Bulldogs, who are coming off of a bye week, continued its offensive dominance throughout the entire game. Coahoma had a well-balanced offensive effort through out the entire game as the running and passing game was too much for Littlefield.

Coahoma quarterback Boyd Cox had a great game completing 11 out of 21 passes for 286 yards and three touchdown passes. The Bulldogs running game was led by sophomore running back Jaidyn Vineyard who rushed for 146 yards on 23 carries and a touchdown.

The Bulldogs receiving corp was on display Friday night as they finished the night with 286 total receiving yards. Leading the way for Coahoma was Tristan Guerrero who finished the night three catches for 149 yards and two touchdowns.

Coahoma's Billy Bailey followed up behind Guerrero with five receptions for 82 yards and a touchdown. Bailey would also contribute 58 yards of rushing on 2 carries and another touchdown as well.

The Bulldogs came out on fire as they jumped out to a 14-7 lead in the first quarter and increased that lead to 21-14 in the second. With three minutes left in the first half Coahoma's Billy Bailey scored on a 53-yard run to give the Bulldogs a 28-14 lead and the momentum before halftime.

The Bulldogs simply outplayed the Wildcats on offense as Coahoma finished the night with 495 yards of total offense compared to Littlefield's 228 yards of offense.

With the win the Bulldogs improved their overall record to 5-1 but more importantly start district 1-0. Coahoma will look to keep its winning momentum going as they get ready for a big district game against Idalou this Friday night. The Bulldogs will travel north to take on the Wildcats Taylor-Reddell Field Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

FORSAN BUFFALOES 40 REAGAN COUNTY OWLS 7

The Forsan Buffaloes also found themselves on the winning side Friday night as they started their district play off with a huge win over the Reagan County Owls 40-7.

Coming off a tough loss to Kermit before their bye week last week, the Forsan Buffaloes got back in the winning ways with a one sided victory over the Owls in the District 3-2A opener at Buffalo Stadium on Friday night.

With the win the Buffaloes improve to 5-1 overall and 1-0 in their district. The Buffaloes utilized its tough and dominate rushing attack to impose its will over the Owls as the Buffaloes rushed for a total of 234 yards on the ground.

Leading the way for Forsan was Cade Wallis, who rushed for 102 yards on 10 carries and had two touchdowns. Behind Wallis was Kevin Kligora who added 71 yards rushing on 4 carries and also contributed a touchdown. Kligora also had 1 catch for 62 yards that resulted in a touchdown thanks to a pass from Brooks Wright.

Forsan's defense was also relentless holding the Owls to just one touchdown on the night. Forsan's Nolan Park set the tone for the Buffaloes defense as he returned a fumble 70 yards for a touchdown. Following after Park, Forsan's Grant Roman had an interception that was returned 38 yards for another Buffalo touchdown.

Forsan will look to improve to 2-0 in district play as they get ready to make the long trip west to take on the Anthony Wildcats Friday at Tommy Sanchez Memorial Stadium. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Jalen Milroe, No. 1 Alabama escape Texas A&M, 24-20

By JOHN ZENOR

AP Sports Writer

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Alabama was plagued by turnovers and other mistakes and once again was pushed to the brink by Texas A&M, this time with Bryce Young watching from the sideline.

Things turned out differently this time.

Jalen Milroe threw for three touchdowns in his first start and No. 1 Alabama made a final goal-line stand to escape with a 24-20 victory over Texas A&M on Saturday night in a battle of backup quarterbacks.

Playing without the injured Heisman Trophy winner Young, the Crimson Tide (6-0, 3-0 Southeastern Conference) needed two late stops from Will Anderson Jr. and the defense.

They got them, just barely, to survive four turnovers and two missed field goals against a team that beat the Tide 41-38 last season.

"That was not our best football out there tonight," Alabama coach Nick Saban said.

"When you don't have your quarterback out there and the second-teamer has to play, everybody's got to play better."

But the Aggies were in a similar boat, albeit with a more experienced quarterback sub.

Haynes King, subbing for injured starter Max Johnson (throwing hand), drove the Aggies (3-2, 1-2) 69 yards in the final 1:50 with big passes to Evan Stewart and Moose Muhammad III.

Jordan Battle appeared to end the threat with an interception in the end zone, but Brian Branch was flagged for pass interference.

That set up one final shot from the 2 with three seconds left, but King's pass to Stewart fell incomplete.

Milroe passed for 111 yards and ran for 183, but also threw an interception and lost two fumbles. Jahmyr Gibbs ran for 159 yards after gaining most of his 206 after Young's shoulder injury early against Arkansas.

The big question now is if Young will play against No. 8 Tennessee.

"Jalen did some good things but obviously a couple of turnovers," Saban said.

"He's going to live and learn and we're going to live and learn with him. We'll just see what progress Bryce makes."

King completed 25 of 46 passes for 253 yards and a pair of touchdowns with an interception but faced constant pressure.

The Tide had three sacks and Anderson was credited with eight quarterback hurries.

Texas A&M coach Jimbo Fisher wasn't buying any narrative that the Aggies kept it close because Alabama was without its star quarterback and made a number of mistakes.

"We're playing the backup, quarterback too," Fisher said. "Two good teams locked up and battled and went at it and we showed what we're capable of."

Ultimately, Alabama got a double measure of revenge against the Aggies and Fisher.

Another unranked Texas A&M team handed Alabama its only regular-season loss last year, then Fisher went no-holds barred in response to Saban's comments that the Aggies bought their top recruiting class with NIL money.

Once again, the Aggies hung ever so close with the top team, a 23 1/2-point favorite.

"We also remember that feeling and all (through) preparation we're just saying we don't ever want to feel that feeling again," Anderson said.

Texas A&M cut it to 24-20 on Randy Bond's 46-yard field goal with 3:32 left.

The Aggies settled for the kick after twice getting flagged for false starts trying to go for it on fourth-and-long.

The defense then forced Alabama into a three-and-out, setting up one more shot for King and the Aggies.

"We went toe to toe with them," Fisher said.

He went toe to toe with Saban in the offseason but they went through the customary pregame and postgame exchanges.

"I told him he had a good team and wished him good luck the rest of the year and he said the same to me," Fisher said.

THE TAKEAWAY

Texas A&M: It was another blow for an Aggies season that started with a No. 6 ranking and hopes of SEC and national contention.

But the offense showed late signs of life in a gutty performance that fell just short.

Alabama: The dynamic passing game with Young wasn't evident, but the grind-it-out run game was effective but for the array of mistakes.

Linebacker Jaylen Moody missed the game with a bruised kidney.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

Alabama swapped spots with Georgia after the Bulldogs had a near-miss against Missouri.

It will be interesting to see how voters view the Tide's own close call.

STARTING QBs

Young came out for warmups with the team and took snaps alongside the other quarterbacks, but didn't throw passes.

Johnson watched from the sidelines in warmups. Milroe said he found out he was starting before the game and "I was ready to go."

He said Young helped him "stay calm, cool and collected."

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

way to take the two-way finesse against the jack.

You may therefore feel that the outcome depends largely on whether or not this is your lucky day. But if you consider the matter more carefully, you realize that making the contract is an absolute certainty, and that it does not matter where the key missing honor cards are actually located.

So you win the heart lead with the ace, cash the K-A of trump and play a heart from dummy. East wins with the jack and presumably returns a low diamond.

Now, though it might go against your natural instincts, you go up with the ace, deliberately rejecting the opportunity to finesse the queen. You do this because by doing so you guarantee the contract 100%. Next, you ruff your last heart in dummy and then exit with a diamond.

At this point, it does not matter which opponent wins the diamond. The next play is bound to be either a club, which automatically eliminates one of your two potential club losers, or a diamond or heart, which allows you to ruff in dummy as you discard a club from your hand. Either way, you're home free and clear with only one club loser.

Today in History:
October 11, Anita Hill accuses Thomas

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 11, the 284th day of 2022. There are 81 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Oct. 11, 1986, President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev opened two days of talks in Reykjavik, Iceland, concerning arms control and human rights.

On this date:

In 1614, the New Netherland Co. was formed by a group of merchants from Amsterdam and Hoorn to set up fur trading in North America.

In 1809, just over three years after the famous Lewis and Clark expedition ended, Meriwether Lewis was found dead in a Tennessee inn, an apparent suicide; he was 35.

In 1884, American first lady Eleanor Roosevelt was born in New York City.

In 1906, the San Francisco Board of Education ordered the city's Asian students segregated in a purely "Oriental" school. (The order was later rescinded at the behest of President Theodore Roosevelt, who promised to curb future Japanese immigration to the United States.)

In 1968, Apollo 7, the first manned Apollo mission, was launched with astronauts Wally Schirra (shih-RAH'), Donn Fulton Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham aboard. The government of Panama was overthrown in a military coup.

In 1984, Challenger astronaut Kathryn D. Sullivan became the first American woman to walk in space as she and fellow Mission Specialist David C. Leestma spent 3 1/2 hours outside the shuttle.

In 1991, testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee, Anita Hill accused Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas of sexually harassing her; Thomas re-appeared before the panel to denounce the proceedings as a "high-tech lynching."

In 2002, former President Jimmy Carter was named the recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize.

In 2005, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said it had finished pumping out the New Orleans metropolitan area, which was flooded by Hurricane Katrina six weeks earlier and then was swamped again by Hurricane Rita.

In 2006, the charge of treason was used for the first time in the U.S. war on terrorism, filed against Adam Yehiye Gadahn (ah-DAHM' YEH'-heh-yuh guh-DAHNN'), also known as "Azzam the American," who'd appeared in propaganda videos for al-Qaida. (Gadahn was killed by a U.S. drone strike in Pakistan in Jan. 2015.)

In 2014, customs and health officials began taking the temperatures of passengers arriving at New York's Kennedy International Airport from three West African countries in a stepped-up screening effort meant to prevent the spread of the Ebola virus.

In 2020, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Miami Heat 106-93 in six games; LeBron James scored 28 points as the NBA wrapped up a season that sent players to a "bubble" at Walt Disney World in Florida for three months because of the pandemic.

Ten years ago: Vice President Joe Biden and Republican opponent Paul Ryan squared off in their only debate of the 2012 campaign; the two repeatedly interrupted each other as they sparred over topics including the economy, taxes and Medicare.

Five years ago: The Boy Scouts of America announced that it would admit girls into the Cub Scouts starting in 2018 and establish a new program for older girls based on the Boy Scout curriculum, allowing them to aspire to the Eagle Scout rank. Strong winds fueled wildfires burning through California wine country; the confirmed death toll climbed to 23 as authorities ordered new evacuations. An American woman, Caitlan Coleman, her Canadian husband Joshua Boyle, and their children were freed, five years after they were seized by a terrorist network in the mountains of Afghanistan; officials said the couple and their three children - who'd been born in captivity - were rescued in a dramatic raid orchestrated by the U.S. and Pakistani governments.

One year ago: Jon Gruden resigned as coach of the Las Vegas

Raiders following reports about messages he wrote years earlier that used offensive terms to refer to Blacks, gays and women. U.S.-based economist David Card won the Nobel Prize in economics for pioneering research demonstrating that an increase in the minimum wage doesn't hinder hiring, and immigrants don't lower pay for native-born workers. Benson Kipruto and Diana Kipyogei completed a Kenyan sweep in the Boston Marathon, which took place after a 30-month absence; the race was moved from its traditional spring date for the first time in its 125-year history because of the coronavirus outbreak.

Today's Birthdays:
Former U.S. Defense Secretary William Perry is 95. Actor Amitabh Bachchan is 80. Country singer Gene Watson is 79. Singer Daryl Hall (Hall and Oates) is 76. Sen. Patty Murray, D-Wash., is 72. ### Precarious Planetary Square

Given the precarious square of Mars (the warrior) in social Gemini and Neptune (king of imagining) poised presumptively in Pisces, it will help to fashion your approach after the saying, "A wise old owl lived in an oak; the more he saw the less he spoke; the less he spoke the more he heard: Why can't we all be like that bird?" -- Edward Hersey Richards

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Doing one thing well will be satisfying, whereas splitting attention between many tasks will feel entirely unproductive. Tonight highlights your optimism, which is as good for your health as it is for your social life.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Since people value things that they put effort into, you're better off asking for help and contribution than you would be serving up everything yourself. Tonight, be the strong leader with a vision.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Identities evolve, and you like knowing that you can change when you want to. Just because the evolution is uncomfortable doesn't mean it's not going well.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). At some level, everyone who lives among people is involved in politics. You'll do a diplomatic balancing act today as you navigate between those who might have trouble getting along without the comfortable buffer you provide.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your opinion is valued. Others will want to know how you think and feel. You'll be asked to vote, take a survey or otherwise weigh in. If you're not sure, resist pressure to commit. Gather more information instead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Good fortune comes in many forms. Sometimes it's the luck of the draw, and other times it's the luck of elbow grease and sweat -- or, in today's case, the luck of striking up a conversation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). A degree of flexibility is required for relationships to have staying power. Just as friendships built in fair weather are tested by the storms of life, bonds that were built in difficult times will be tested when the good times roll.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). It is rarer to be wise than it is to be smart. Intelligent people do dumb things all the time. But wisdom disallows a person a purposeless focus. You may be among the wise minority now as you focus on what's truly important.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The basic needs of life are often taken for granted. Not by you. Your life is good because you don't wait for a loss to appreciate the miracle of such things as breath, water, food and a safe place to enjoy them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). The person who likes and dislikes all the same things as you is not your soulmate. Beware of imitators who copy you out of deference. You're better off experiencing differences than redundancy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Serenity is a simple matter of letting go of the picture in your mind and taking in the one before your eyes. Take the pressure off with a simple song: "Whatever will be will be."

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). To the untrained eye, you're simply having a good time. But in reality, you're working the room. You'll be admired for talents of practicality and problem-solving, as well as for your strategy in business or games.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 11). When you look back at 2022, you'll be able to say the rare, impressive thing few can claim: "I made things better." You'll move thoughtfully; you'll move impulsively -- either way with keen instinct for lasting improvement. But what you'll be most proud of is the care you gave and received in special relationships. Cancer and Taurus adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 7, 10, 23, 11 and 17.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Joan Cusack follows her Pisces moon intuition across genre lines from the classic comedy "Sixteen Candles" to Jessie in the "Toy Story" franchise to her work in the mysterious thriller "Homecoming." The high level of Libran artistry she brings to her work has made her a Hollywood favorite for decades. Mercury in Libra indicates harmony on all fronts, including social, political and musical.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
