Denver City, Midland residents claimed in Thanksgiving wrecks

By ROGER CLINE
 Managing Editor

The Texas Department of Public Safety has issued reports on two fatal accidents which occurred on Thanksgiving Day.

According to the first report, at about 10 a.m. Thursday, Alfredo Guerrero Ariza, 27, of Denver City was driving his 2007 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck east on Interstate 20 near mile marker 353, about three miles east of Ranger, when he traveled out of the traffic lanes into the center median. Ariza attempted to steer back into the traffic lanes, causing the vehicle to go out of control and overturn.

While Ariza was treated for non-incapacitating injuries and released, his passenger, Guadalupe Ortega Ariza, 40, of Denver City was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by Justice of the Peace Jesse Speers.

According to the report, Guadalupe Ariza was wearing his safety belt at the time of the accident.

Weather conditions were rainy and the road was wet. The accident was investigated by DPS Trooper Bobbie M. Shields of Eastland, assisted by Troopers Robert McGrath and Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Trooper Brandon Smedley, both of Eastland.

According to another report issued by the TxDPS, at 8:34 p.m. Thursday, Zoila Aguirre Valles, 61, of Midland was at a stop sign facing north on County Road 1110 at the intersection with FM 307 in Midland County. The report states that Valles failed to yield the right of way at the stop sign, causing a 2019 Nissan Sentra driven by Sylvia Pulido Clavel, 43, of Midland to strike his 2018 Ford F-150.

While neither Valles nor his passenger, 83-year-old Isabel Valles of Midland, were injured in the wreck, Clavel was pronounced dead at the scene by Midland Fire and Emergency Medi-

Debate coach Jennifer Adams said she’s pleased with the results.

“I’m so excited about our prospects going into the state meet,” she said. “Of course, we always hope our seniors have learned the lessons necessary to be successful, but it is so rewarding to see our underclassmen succeeding.”

Unlike other competitions, the final round of the UIL State Congressional Debate competition takes place in the Texas Capitol Building. Duran, who returns to State this year, hopes to finish in the medals.

“To have the opportunity to debate bills and resolutions on the floor at the Texas capitol will be an amazing experience,” she stated “But I learned a lot at the National tournament in Congress, so my aim is to be in the top six.”

Water boil order issued for more than 2 million in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — More than 2 million people in the Houston area were under a boil order notice Monday after a power outage at a purification plant caused water pressure to drop, and the mayor of the nation's fourth-largest city ordered a full review of the system.

The notice tells customers to boil water before it's used for cooking, bathing or drinking. Multiple Houston area public and private schools, as well as some local colleges, were closed Monday as a result of the notice, while others made adjustments to provide affected campuses with bottled water and sanitizer.

The notice was issued Sunday, hours after two transformers failed, causing power outages at the water plant, Houston Mayor Sylvester Turner said at a press conference Monday. There was no indication the water system had been contaminated.

Water quality testing was underway, Turner said. He said he expects the notice to be lifted by early Tuesday at the latest, once the state's environmental agency gives an all-clear after analyzing test results.

According to Turner, the city issued a notice, which affects all of Houston and multiple adjacent areas, in an “abundance of caution” after the two transformers—a main one and its backup—“uniquely and coincidentally” failed. The problem affected the plant's ability to treat water and pump water into the transmission system, resulting in low water pressure.

The power system at the water plant undergoes regular maintenance, Turner said, but he did not give a timeline for how often.

The mayor said he has ordered a diagnostic review of the system to understand how this was possible and how it can be prevented. He said because the issue was within the plant's system, backup power generators would not have made a difference.

Hawaii's Mauna Loa erupts, officials warn people to prepare

By CALEB JONES

Associated Press

HONOLULU (AP) — The world's largest active volcano was erupting Monday and wasn't immediately threatening communities on Hawaii's Big Island, but officials warned residents to be ready for worse.

Many current residents weren't living there when Mauna Loa last erupted 38 years ago. The U.S. Geological Survey warned the roughly 200,000 people on the Big Island that an eruption “can be very dynamic, and the location and advance of lava flows can change rapidly.”

The eruption began late Sunday night following a series of fairly large earthquakes, said Ken Hon, the scientist-in-charge at the Hawaiian Volcano Observatory.

There's been a surge of development on the Big Island in recent decades — its population has more than doubled, from 92,000 in 1980.

Most of the people on the island live in the city of Kailua-Kona to the west of the volcano, which has about 23,000 people, and Hilo to the east, with about 45,000. Officials were most worried about several subdivisions about 30 miles to the south of the volcano, which are home to about 5,000 people.

A time-lapse video of the eruption from overnight showed lava lighting up one area, moving across it like waves on the ocean.

The U.S. Geological Survey said that the eruption had migrated to a rift zone — a place where the mountain rock is cracked and relatively weak — making it easier for magma to emerge.

An eruption from the zone could send lava toward the county seat of Hilo or other towns in East Hawaii but it could take the lava weeks or months to reach populated areas.

“We don't want to try and second-guess the volcano,” Hon said. “We have to let it actually show us what it's going to do and then we inform people of what is happening ASAP.”

Hawaii County Civil Defense announced that it had opened shelters because it had reports of people evacuating from along the coast on their own initiative.

The average Mauna Loa eruption is not typically prolonged, lasting a couple of weeks, Hon said.

“Typically, Mauna Loa eruptions start off with the heaviest volume first,” Hon said. “After a few days, it starts to calm down a little bit.”

The USGS warned residents at risk from Mauna Loa lava flows to review their eruption preparations. Scientists had been on alert because of a recent spike in earthquakes at the summit of the volcano, which last erupted in 1984.

Portions of the Big Island were under an ashfall advisory issued by the National Weather Service in Honolulu, which said up to a quarter-inch (0.6 centimeters) of ash could accumulate in some areas.

Mauna Loa is one of five volcanoes that together make up the Big Island of Hawaii, which is the southernmost island in the Hawaiian archipelago.

Mauna Loa, rising 13,679 feet

(4,169 meters) above sea level, is the much larger neighbor of Kilauea, which erupted in a residential neighborhood and destroyed 700 homes in 2018. Some of its slopes are much steeper than Kilauea's, so lava can flow much faster when it erupts.

During a 1950 eruption, the mountain's lava traveled 15 miles (24 kilometers) to the ocean in fewer than three hours.

Tourism is Hawaii's economic engine but Roth predicted few problems for those on vacation during the eruption.

“It will be spectacular where it is, but the chances of it really interrupting the visitor industry — very, very slim,” he said.

For some, the eruption might cut down on some travel time, even if there is more volcanic smog caused by higher sulfur-dioxide emissions.

“But the good thing is you don't have to drive from Kona over to Hawaii Volcanoes National Park to see an eruption anymore,” Roth said. “You can just look out your window at night and you'll be able to see Mauna Loa erupting.”

Julia Neal, owner of Pahala Plantation Cottages, said the eruption brings some relief after many preparedness meetings, and much wondering about what the volcano will do.

“It's exciting,” she said. “It's kind of a relief that it's happening and we're not waiting for it to happen.”

A few future guests from the U.S. mainland called Neal “asking me to make a prediction, which I can't,” she said. “So I said, just stand by.”

Texas Tech rallies for wild 51-48 OT victory over Oklahoma

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Trey Wolff made a 35-yard field goal in overtime after a tying kick in the final seconds of regulation, and Texas Tech erased an 18-point deficit in a 51-48 win over Oklahoma on Saturday night.

Dillon Gabriel threw for 449 yards and six touchdowns, but the OU quarterback was sidelined briefly in OT after a hard hit from safety Reggie Pearson Jr. on a catch on a throwback play.

The Sooners appeared out of sync on offense and had to settle for a 34-yard field goal try from Zach Schmit after Gabriel was sacked. The kick was wide right.

After Wolff's winner, Texas Tech fans stormed the field just as they did after an OT victory over Texas in September.

The Red Raiders ended a 10-game losing streak against OU and beat the Sooners and Longhorns in the same season for the first time in coach Joey McGuire's first season.

Texas Tech (7-5, 5-4 Big 12) secured a winning conference record for the first time since 2009.

The Sooners (6-6, 3-6) couldn't hold a 24-6 second-quarter lead, giving up 24 consecutive points from late in the second quarter to early in the third on the way to six lead changes in the second half and overtime.

Oklahoma finished the regular season without a winning record for the first time since 1998 in a disappointing debut for coach Brent Venables.

"I thought they did a great job of executing, finding the plays within a couple of those drives where they executed at the most critical moments," Venables said. "And we didn't."

Texas Tech's Tyler Shough threw for a career-high 436 yards with two scores, but he was intercepted by C.J. Cordon to set up Schmit's tiebreaking 43-yard field goal with four minutes remaining.

Shough put the Red Raiders in position for the tie in the final seconds. Wolff's first kick was blocked by Josh Ellison, but Venables had called a timeout. Wolff made the 43-yarder on the second try.

"One day, people might not need to ice him, because when you ice him, he's perfect," McGuire said. "What a huge kick. He's done it all year for us."

Oklahoma's Marvin Mims Jr. had a career-high 162 yards receiving and two touchdowns, and Brayden Willis also had two TD grabs. Eric Gray rushed for 161 yards.

Jerand Bradley also finished with a career best in receiving yards with 173 for Texas Tech, and he had a 44-yard tiebreaking TD catch in the fourth quarter.

Texas Tech's SaRodorick Thompson had two rushing TDs.

FIT TO BE TIED
There were three tying scores in the fourth quarter, starting with Gabriel's 5-yard pass to Willis for 38-38. After Bradley's 44-yarder, Jalil Farooq had a 1-yard catch for 45-45. Then there was the exchange of field goals.

The Red Raiders had to convert a fourth-and-7 to keep their drive to the tying field goal alive. Shough completed a 14-yard pass to Loic Fouonji.

Gabriel was 28 of 40 and Shough 31 of 50, with each throwing an interception.

"We knew it was going to be a dogfight," Shough said. "We started slow, not how we wanted to start, but I'm proud of how we fought."

THE TAKEAWAY
Texas Tech: First-year play-caller Zach Kittley dug deep into the bag of tricks with backup quarterback Donovan Smith scoring on a run and a pass and 310-pound defensive tackle Jaylon Hutchings rumbling in from the 1.

Achane runs for 215 yards, Texas A&M stuns No. 6 LSU 38-23

By KRISTIE RIEKEN
AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Riding a five-game winning streak and assured of playing in next week's Southeastern Conference title game, No. 6 LSU just had to take care of underperforming Texas A&M to keep its College Football Playoff hopes alive.

Instead, Devon Achane had a career-best 215 yards rushing with two touchdowns, and Texas A&M stunned LSU 38-23, all but certainly knocking the Tigers out of contention for the CFP.

"They have done some incredible things and I don't want this loss to at all take away from what they've accomplished this year," LSU coach Brian Kelly said. "This was not a step back. This was a bump in the road and they're going to learn from it."

Conner Weigman threw two TD passes for the Aggies (5-7, 2-6 SEC) and Demani Richardson returned a fumble for a score. The game was tied at 17-all in the third quarter before A&M scored 21 straight points.

"It shows the type of team we can be," Achane said. "Just showing that it wasn't the season we wanted but came out to beat a top-10 team."

LSU (9-3, 6-2, No. 5 CFP) had already won the SEC West and secured chance to play for the conference title against unbeaten No. 1 Georgia, and a win there could have put the Tigers in the playoff. But with three losses, even beating the Bulldogs likely won't be enough.

"We just weren't our best today," Kelly said. "I'd like to give you a reason why weren't our best but we just weren't and we needed to be better."

Kelly said he didn't think his team overlooked the Aggies.

"We just needed more juice, more fire and we just seemed to lack that today and that's on me," Kelly said.

The Aggies, who opened the season No. 6 but won't qualify for a bowl game for the first time since 2008, had a strong finish to their disappointing season. They won consecutive games for the first time since September after snapping a six-game skid with a victory over UMass last week.

"There's not a secret to this," Texas A&M coach Jimbo Fisher said. "Just go do your job. There's no magical formula."

Achane ran for 119 yards and a score before halftime to help A&M to a 17-10 lead.

"Their best players played to their level today," Kelly said. "We didn't match it. Our best players needed to make great plays and we fell short in that area."

LSU opened the second half with a nine-play, 71-yard drive, capped by a 19-yard run by John Emery Jr. to tie it at 17-17.

But Edgerrin Cooper hit Jayden Daniels and forced him to fumble on LSU's next drive. Richardson scooped it up and touched 37 yards for his second touchdown this season to put A&M on top 24-17 with about seven minutes left in the third quarter.

"I think there was some momentum swing there," Kelly said. "I don't know if we ever really recovered from it."

The Aggies extended the lead to 31-17 on the first play of the fourth quarter when Moose Muhammad reeled in a 21-yard TD catch with one hand.

A 10-yard run by Achane, who returned after missing two games with a foot injury, made it 38-17 with about eight minutes to go.

A rowdy crowd of more than 93,000 fans packed Kyle Field and some began to rush the field with about 17 seconds left, causing a delay. It was a stark difference from last week, when most of the crowd emptied out after halftime on a wet and cold day.

Those fans and several thousand more poured onto the field when time expired.

Daniels threw for 189 yards and ran for 84 more and Emery had three touchdowns for the Tigers, who lost their first game since they fell 40-13 at home to Tennessee on Oct. 8.

Emery cut the lead to 38-23 with a 3-yard run with about 6 1/2 minutes to go, but the 2-point conversion failed.

Daniels nearly connected with Jaray Jenkins in the end zone on fourth down on LSU's next possession, but Tyreek Chappell knocked the ball out of Jenkins' hands. The Aggies then ran out the clock.

THE TAKEAWAY
LSU: With their playoff chances all but nonexistent, Kelly's Tigers will have to put this one behind them quickly if they hope to compete with the Bulldogs.

Texas A&M: The Aggies showed they have plenty of talent to compete with teams at the top of the SEC. The question is why Fisher's team couldn't put it together earlier in the year. The Aggies hadn't won an SEC game since beating Arkansas on Sept. 24.

ACHANE'S FUTURE
Achane said after the game that he hasn't decided if he'll return for his senior season or declare for the NFL draft.

"It's going to be a very hard decision," he said. "I love the 12th Man, so it's going to be something to discuss with coach Fisher and my parents."

Lessons from a Mercury Opposition

The performance of affection is not affection. The same goes for every other emotion, the integrity of which will be easily read today. It is far better to (SET ITAL) be (END ITAL) up front than to try and (SET ITAL) put on (END ITAL) a good front. The Mercury opposition suggests that everyone can see past appearances, so you may as well focus on finding the best way to say the truth.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). The silliness of life will be apparent to you. You will feel that you are in your most natural state when you are playfully interacting with the inherently nonsensical aspects of daily life.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Even though you get an immediate feeling about your next move, you still take the time to think things through. Assumptions are the downfall of smooth operations. Instead of summing up the situation, ask questions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Things look different in the rearview mirror, which seems to give fickle favors. Some things look better back there and other things look worse. Just know that memory is a story we tell ourselves, and it doesn't always serve the facts.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Hunger is a powerful driver that can sharpen and power us to do things we wouldn't typically think to do under more satiated circumstances. You might be surprised at what you're hungry for today.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). You'll turn sadness into joy. It's not a pancake-flip move that happens all at once and then you're suddenly on the other side. This is the slow but sure cake bake. Give it time and all will rise, lighter and sweeter for the transformation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). While it would be convenient to give everyone the same automatic responses, it's almost impossible for you to do this. You care too much. You see people as individuals, each with a unique need deserving of personal attention.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Oscar Wilde said that nothing that is worth knowing can be taught. Surely, it depends on the lesson, the teacher and the student. Today, you'll be keenly aware of how learning styles, like values, vary widely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Offense will be forgiven, injury pardoned, wrongs made right. You don't have to agree on things to make them better. Silence is the perfect expression for a multitude of messages today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Make sure everyone has the same information. Let the doubters try and poke holes in the plan. The plan can only get stronger for having been put to the group mind. The best groups are as respectful as they are diverse.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). As you go about your duty, you leave room for life to take things in a different direction. Your spirit of openness changes the plot. There's no such thing as too many supporters. You'll pick them up everywhere you go.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The lovely things are made better through the people who can see them and celebrate them. Nothing is inherently beautiful, rather it's made that way in the mind of a person who experiences it as beautiful. You are such a person.

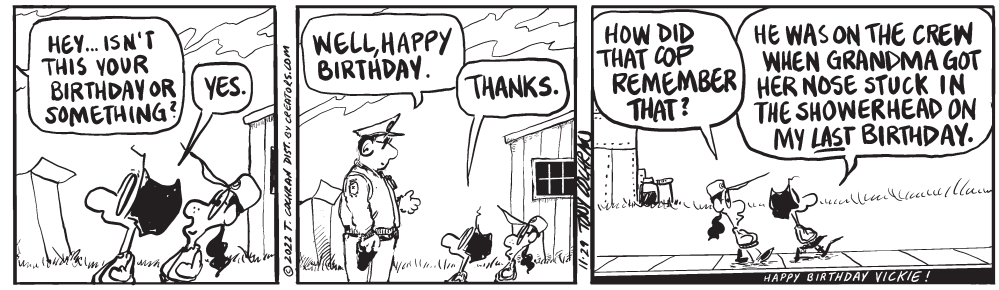

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). The people who happen to be around you now are there for a reason. Some of them are attracted to the same things, or could be responding to the pull of your energy. You're all in it together.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 29). You'll live a paradox. You'll have a good time because you don't expect to have a good time. Your attitude is what makes things beautiful for you. People plot to support and champion you. You will be raised up to greet what challenges the group. You'll be trusted and put in charge, and you'll manage your power well. Gemini and Pisces adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 6, 5, 19, 2 and 13.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Released within days of her solar return, Anna Faris stars in the new comedy "The Estate" in which sisters try to win the affection and get into the will of a wealthy dying aunt. Faris is a spirited Sagittarius born when the moon was in Pisces, an ideal placement for artists in spite of, or perhaps because of, the intense empathy and sensitivity of the astrological aspect. Saturn in Leo promises fun lessons in the entertainment business.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
