FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1934
CHEAPER THAN JAIL

Dr. Charles H. Judd, long prominent in American educational circles, speaking to the Cleveland Rotary Club and Rotarian schoolmasters in the city for a professional meeting, made a point which is appropriate to pass on, especially at this time when many are planning for observance of American Week, November 5th-11th. It is: "that the schools and business and municipal life are in partnership."

The truth of the assertion has the widest conceivable ramifications, but it has a direct bearing on the effort in all lands to reduce juvenile criminality. One need not resort to sentiment to make a case for schools when the fact is cited that it costs, in the United States again, only $90 of the taxpayers' money to keep a boy in school but $300 to keep a man in jail for a year.

Not all boys and girls who attend school turn out to be good citizens, but it can be said that a few turn to delinquency because they went to school. And a practical problem every community faces, if it fails to support its schools or to encourage its children to attend, is what to do with the idle boys and girls. It is unsocial, if not illegal to throw them into competition with adults for jobs and, on the other hand, sheer idleness promises no good for anyone.—Rotarian Magazine.

Miss Pat Thompson and the fourth grade wish to invite you to the fourth grade chapel program Thursday morning November 8. Part of the program will be by the outside talent from Burkburnett and Wichita. It is a musical and dance program. You music lovers will regret it if you miss this program.

Senior Snipes

Who said the Seniors couldn't sell things? From the amount of money the Seniors collected at the Hallowe'en Carnival it seems they are the prize salesmen. They collected $7.46. Now, "How they do it?"

Wonder Why

Milton stayed at home Wednesday night. "That News". Ruth laughed so much in the 5th period study hall and she was requested to laugh for Mr. Watkins. Virginia blushed Friday, why, no one knows. Elva is considered a dumbell, according to rules. Marion was disappointed Saturday night. K likes freshmen girls. Clarence wore a disappointed look Monday. (Blue Monday, Lucilee is gone.) Geneva prefers Wichita ghosts instead of Fairview ghosts. Oklaunion boys substituting Ada for Bitty, and Bitty for Ada. (Poor girls.) It is commonly known that Geo. T. is dumb but he is highly indignant at being told he was half-cracked.

Freshman Class

It is Strange That Rosalie likes our new Freshman boy or is she just spoofing us? That Dorothy Lane likes Harold Wright or Harold Bundy? That Carrie Ruth likes her boy friend in the Sophomore class. That Leroy indulges in drawing pictures? (What pass time.) That there are two in the Sophomore class, he's only two cents less than paper.

Clayton Owens likes to give parties. Is our two new Freshmen, Marie Cotton and Evelyn Phillips satisfied?

Basketball and Volley Ball

The Fairview basket ball boys and volley ball girls are still working hard. The following games are to be played this month: November 9—Valley View at Valley View, Nov. 16—Holliday at Holliday, Nov. 23—Cashan at Fairview. There is to be a game with Geraldine, the exact date has not been decided.

Junior News

The Junior class has selected their play that is to be given soon. The name of this play is "Oh Susan". It is a 4-act comedy. Everyone is invited to see this play.

'Humble Frosh' and Dignified Seniors

I do not think the accepted idea of "Humble Frosh" and dignified seniors is true. It may be reversed in some cases.

One senior girl said she thought the senior class this year acted more like freshmen and the freshmen class more like seniors should act. One high school teacher said she couldn't see much difference. Of course there may be cases of "humble frosh and dignified seniors, but I have never heard of very many. For an example of these supposed to be dignified seniors, one morning as I came up the stairs, one certain senior boy came sliding down the bannister. Was that very dignified? One senior girl says there are very few seniors who pay attention in any class. She says they are worse than any freshman ever could be. Well, I guess those seniors ears have burned enough, so I'll sign off.—Rosalie McCall

Freshman's Feelings First Day of School

The first day of school freshmen fell queer about how to act. They do not know what to say are how about doing things. They just stand around and gaze at other students, because they are afraid to say anything or do a thing without fear they are doing it wrong. The Freshmen have queer ideas in their heads. They think they should act like smaller children down in the lower grades. Before the bell rings the Freshmen run to their lockers to get their books, because they are afraid they will be late to class. The Freshmen think that they should walk on their toes and get permission from the teacher about every little thing they do.

After being in high school for about a month you will think different about a freshman's actions for they will be acting and doing the same thing the seniors do. —Thelda Seidlits

Names and Seniors

Nicknames are queer things. We acquire them with no trouble at all. For an example, here are the nicknames of the individuals of the Senior class.

Clarence Bridges is often called "Britches". The reason, I suppose, is that it is easier to say.

Harlem Boyd bears the name "Harlem" until he thinks that is his name. Harlem is easier for the lazy student to say. The more ambitious students call him "King Kong" because he does so well with the imitation.

Milton Winkles is holding the name "Tildon"—no one seems to know why, when or how.

Virginia Bogy does very well with the name "Phuebe". Virginia mispronounced "Phoebe" in English class, and has, since then, been burdened with the name "Phuebe."

Marian McClarney has been termed "Flirt" so many years it is no news to write it now but her nickname, however, is still "Flirt."

K Miles is known as Kayless—I can't imagine why.

Ruth Vogel very seldom hears the name Ruth, instead she hears "Biddy". Her mother thought she looked like a "chick" so she called her Biddy. Now she is sometimes called "Old Hen."

Geneva Seilets is labeled Seneva Geidlits, just for a change.

Ford Hearrell is doomed to hear the name "Fordina", because he is so silly.

Wessie Hearrell bears the name, "Weasel," gracefully. Her name was in the paper last year "Wee-gie," now they call her "Weasel" for short.

Simon Hanks is titled "Ears". You need not ask why.

Charles Morrison is known to the students as "Chucky Wucky".

His girl friend didn't like to call him "Charley Warley" so the name "Chucky Wucky" was substituted.

Bill Wells is holding the prize for having the most names: "Wobblin Willy", "Wide-minded Willy", John William, his real name, and "Johnny."

Elva Stimpson seems to hold the name "Snooks," because she had one lock of hair when she was young and seemed to remind her mother of "Snooks" in the funny paper.

Last is little George T. Roberts. George T. goes by the name of "Georgy Porgy" because he is so cute and clever. —Ada Marsh

WHAT GIRLS DISLIKE ABOUT BOYS

It has been said that the fairer sex could not live without an interesting male loitering in the distance, but the fairer sex insists that they could live quite contentedly without many of the characteristics of the forever hovering male.

The most annoying fault boys have to girls is their total lack of ability to understand and sympathize with the fragile ones. They are always much too anxious to tease and condemn rather than to encourage.

age and praise. The boy comes off the basket ball field defeated and a girl is the most anxious person to console him and encourage him to do better in the next game. The girl who is defeated leaves the volley ball court and the first thing that reaches her ears is the ridicule from the boy she has just boosted the game before.

Perhaps, it is due to the fact that girls mature sooner than boys that young boys cannot cope with the ambition and ideals of their female companions. Nevertheless, girls cannot help feelings injured when their ambitions and ideal that are so dear and precious to them are belittled and ridiculed.

There are but few boys who will be friends and pals with girls and with girls and still not be "sweet-hearts." Most boys think that when a girl is friendly and congenial toward them that she is trying to "vamp" him. This is far from being true, of course, and is only formulated by his own conceit. —Ruth Vogel

First Grade News

Quinton C. Roberts and Thelma Saylor who have been ill came back to school. Quinton C. brought a beautiful picture of a baby. The class made stories of the baby.

They also planted some bulbs in a bowl that looks like a swan and colored, cut out, and mounted some pilgrim boys with pumpkin pies and turkeys. They are about the best class in school.

Rotary Luncheon

The Rotary Club of Burkburnett was entertained with a luncheon at the Fairview Home Economics building Tuesday November 7. The luncheon menu was: meat loaf with creamed potatoes, creamed peas, green beans, slaw, hot rolls, coffee and pie with whipped cream.

Music during the luncheon was furnished by Miss Maudell Gentry.

The following program was furnished by the students of Fairview: The boys Glee Club sang "Broncho Boy" and "On the Road to Mandalay." A talking skit with K. Miles and Clarence Bridges and two tap dances by Troy Louise Northcott and Fay Morrison. All of the musical numbers were accompanied on the piano by Miss Maudell Gentry.

of understanding for the person who is not trained in music. Seemingly, the main thesis in musical appreciation is "creative listening," and it is surprising to find how many people who acclaim themselves lovers of music that do not know how to listen, but watch the singer or player instead. As we think of appreciating music, suppose we glance at the Fairview School and see if it appreciates its music clubs.

Simultaneously as the clubs begin to sing, "Squeaky"—wherever he is—turns to look at Rosalie with a look on his face that well expresses his feeling with Carlyle, "Music is well said the be the speech of Angels." Ruth listens and sings with such enthusiasm that one knows that she firmly believes that music is the fourth need of man. The Second Grade stops long enough to mention the singing. Several in the study hall raise their heads at different intervals, rather looking like widow Cagle as she listened, and one knows that they are listening to the quality messa di voce, and the legato of the girls voices. When the clubs have finished singing and school is out, one may hear many students humming or singing and then one knows that the melody of the songs are still lingering in their hearts.

Perhaps you have already concluded that the Fairview students appreciate their music clubs, so now let us think of what some of the faculty have said. Many have pressed their compliments, but Paschall has said things we remember. He is well pleased with the progress of all the classes and departments with the boys interest in them. Certainly Fairview does not lack that without the girls and boys clubs would be impossible. They think that much praise should be given to the director, Miss Maudell Gentry.

It is the hope of those who have the effect that the school fall more into a category of a progressive school.

Complete History Of American Legion Post Number 264

First Permanently Organized Burkburnett Oct. 13, 1925

During the years between 1919 and 1925 many attempts were made to organize an American Legion in Burkburnett and in fact many posts were organized for one reason or another the posts failed to function and soon dissolved. However, each Army Day all the ex-service men would get together, they would have a big celebration, they would close and the citizens would cooperate with the veterans to the extent that the day would be a success.

During these years Dr. W. P. Martin and several other ex-service men would make an effort to revive the spirit of the veterans and try to organize them but it was not until October 13th, 1925, that the Legion was permanently established in Burkburnett. On that date seventeen ex-service men met at the Chamber of Commerce office and from that meeting there emerged one of the best Legion Posts in the State of Texas, a Legion Post that up to this date has never been exceeded by any post and equalled by only a few in Legion activity, community service and legion membership. This meeting was presided over by Dr. W. P. Martin and the following men were elected temporary officers of the organization: Dr. W. P. Martin, commander; Captain Fred Boden, adjutant. Other officers elected were: R. D. Cunningham, W. D. Bent, D. J. Carey and C. R. Cowles. Other ex-service men who attended the meeting were Adge Johnson, S. E. Marchand, A. R. Waddell, C. E. Dace, H. R. Hayes, M. E. Edmonds, J. J. Jordan, J. H. Minter and Bern Alexander.

Committees were appointed to make arrangements for Armistice Day which was not far off and on Armistice Day one of the greatest celebrations up to that time was celebrated. The Burkburnett Elks Club threw their club room facilities open to the Legionnaires, the lady Elks served a free dinner to all ex-service men after the 11 o'clock exercises. Judge Dickey of Wichita Falls delivered the Armistice Day address. The veterans paraded prior to the exercises and in the afternoon a football game was played at Hardin Park. At nine p. m. the first annual ball of the local posts was held at the Elks Club and was an invitation affair, over 900 couples attending.

Charter Granted

At the business session of the post held during the day the post was duly organized and a charter was requested from the state organization. The following officers were elected: Dr. W. P. Martin, Commander; D. J. Carey, Adjutant; Geo. Kinter, First Vice Commander; Dr. J. T. Gill, Second Vice Commander; R. D. Cunningham, Third Vice Commander; Ed Williams, Finance Officer; C. R. Cowles, Service Officer; J. J. Jordan, Athletic Officer; H. R. Hayes, Employment Officer and W. D. Bent, Sergeant-at-Arms. The membership of the local post on Armistice Day was 49; D. J. Carey was appointed chairman of the membership committee and a drive was planned. During the time between Armistice Day and Memorial Day the post launched into a campaign of activity that covered legion work as well as community service.

The membership of the post, due to the efforts of the membership committee boasted a membership of 175. On Memorial Day legionnaires assembled and held their first annual Memorial Day series, Judge B. D. Sartin delivered the Memorial Day address, after the services the Legionnaires went to the cemetery where the graves of all deceased veterans were decorated. On July 4th the Legion held a big parade. Floats from business houses and city organizations were entered in the parade, the float entered by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion and the Elks Club won first and second prizes. During the year a "Military Frolic" put on by the soldiers from Fort Sill netted the local post a neat sum. Sherman Crissey was elected a delegate to the State Convention and on his return made a splendid report to the post.

Committees Appointed

A donation of $25 was made by the post to the local United Charities. The post was in charge of four military funerals and also sent an escort of legionnaires to an out of town funeral. A cemetery committee was appointed during the year to assist the local cemetery. The work of the Service Officers, C. R. Cowles during the year was outstanding. Insurance claims, compensation cases, disability claims were numerous and his work along these lines deserves particular mention. Another outstanding legionnaire during the year was D. J. Carey. He personally signed up over 120 ex-service men for the legion his effort along other lines of legion work did much toward the success of the post and he was awarded a life membership in the local post. Dr. W. P. Martin, post commander, was instrumental in keeping the post keyed up to a high pitch at all times he laid out the plans for an active post and conveyed to the citizens and legionnaires of Bur-burnett the real meaning of legionism. Other legionnaires in the establishment of the Oscar Frye Post as one of the best posts in Texas were Bern Alexander, W. D. Bent, C. F. Johnson, John Strange, Sherman Crissey, R. B. Saxe, Ed Williams, R. D. Cunningham, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, Mike King, Dr. J. T. Gill, C. E. Dace, J. H. Minter, J. A. Johnson, J. T. Wolfe, Morris Bookbinder, Steve Marchand, Geo. Kinter, C. E. Dace, H. A. Stanley, H. R. Hayes, Jack Jordan, A. R. Waddell, L. Hagerman, A. Pogue, C. E. Marshall and Sidney Strauss.

However, one of the main reasons for the success of the post was the hearty cooperation given the post by the citizens and merchants of the town, every legion endeavor was backed morally and financially by the citizens.

During the year the Ladies Auxiliary was formed and they cooperated with the legion in all their work. The legion purchased for their permanent home the building located on Avenue D, next to the Ward school, formerly the grade school.

The Legion This Year

The 1934 officers elected were as follows: C. F. Johnson, Post Commander; W. D. Bent, first vice commander; J. B. Wooten, second vice commander; J. T. Brady, third vice commander; E. L. Wright, sergeant-at-arms; W. K. Thurmond, Chaplain; J. O. Golden, adjutant; Mrs. Kate Wooten, child welfare; Steve Marchand, service officer; Fred Brookman, historian. The Armistice Day speaker for this year will be L. V. Abernathy of Wichita Falls. A rodeo will be held Saturday, Nov. 10, under the direction of Buster Morgan. The annual ball will be held at night at the Elks home and a large crowd of legionnaires and their wives are expected. Due to the falling off in business and the exodus of many veterans the membership has decreased from what it was several years ago, but the post quota set by the state department has been exceeded every year and this year the post has a contest with the Electra post in a membership drive, the losing post to entertain the winners. Burkburnett is making a consecrated drive for new members and expect to have enough to beat Electra by Saturday.

When men strike they "go out" but matches don't.

Big Rabbit Creek

The dry weather is still continuing on. A few evenings past it looked as tho this neck of the woods was going to get a down pour of rain, but it went around to the north west and it just did sprinkle at little. Just a little hail fell. The oats and wheat is in need of rain very bad. In some places the early sown oats are beginning to die and the blades are drying up.

The Owens family the past week has been cutting and tying by hand their fine lot of hegairi. They cut nearly 10 acres and averaged 340 bundles a day and tied it by hand.

Well it seems as tho the old farmers get it in the neck from all sides. The crows, by the thousands, has come in and they are trying their best to eat up the feed crop that has matured before it can be cut and hauled in. There are more crows this fall than there ever has been before.

J. B. Fletcher, his son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Britton Gibson and Mrs. Ed Owens were shopping over in Burkburnett Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Dave Jones was shopping and transacting business in Burkburnett Saturday.

Mr. Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails and her son, Charlie, were shopping in Burkburnett Saturday.

Every one over on this side of the pond is making preparations to attend the big free rodeo and the Legion entertainment that will be staged at Burkburnett next Saturday and Sunday. It is hoped by everyone that it will be nice weather the 10th and 11th for the big event. If so it will be almost impossible to get through the streets for the mass of people that will be in Burkburnett on those two days.

It's just surprising how the cotton bales are opening that have put on since the first big rain came. If the frost will hold off another 10 days, there will be lots of cotton to pulled and picked yet in half of the cotton fields over in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton and their daughters were shopping in Burkburnett Saturday afternoon.

Dr. R. J. Dice, Mr. D. of Randlett, was transacting business over in Burkburnett Saturday.

The Rabbit Creek Sunday School is progressing just fine. A very large assembly attended Sunday morning and all had good Sunday School lessons.

A few more slogans for our people in Burk:
Careless habits will ruin your life.

Play safe day after day and keep the doctor away.

Form the habit of safety instead of carelessness.

Little microbes grow into big infections.

BURKBURNETT VS CROWELL FRIDAY NIGHT Legion Celebration, Free Rodeo Saturday

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT CHURCHES SUNDAY MORNING 11 A.

Burkburnett merchants and the city as a whole welcomes the people of the surrounding towns to visit our city Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Friday night Burkburnett Bulldogs play the Crowell Wildcats (Mr. Todd) at Wester-Field. Crowell has not lost a game this season and Burkburnett has only lost one, and if Burkburnett can win this game tonight she will still have a chance to win the district championship. Saturday the Legion will hold their celebration and a free rodeo will be staged in the afternoon with a dance at the Elks Club at night. Sunday the pastors of the local churches will deliver a memorial address at their respective churches. It is not often that we have a chance to show our appreciation to the people who make up Burkburnett's trade territory and we are glad this opportunity of doing so now. We realize that "where one goes for pleasure, he goes for business," and we want you to be both while in Burkburnett. Hundreds will be here—make your plans to attend. Come and see what Burkburnett's hospitality is like.

90th Division To Meet In Ft. Worth November 10, 11, 12

Increasing interest is being mani-festated by veterans of the 90th Division from Texas and Oklahoma as well as other states in the coming Reunion to be held in Fort Worth on November 10, 11 and 12th. Many registrations and reservations are being received and present indications forecast the largest and most enthusiastic Reunion ever staged by the Division.

From the time registration starts early Saturday morning until the barbecue is over Monday afternoon, much entertainment has been arranged for the visiting Veterans and their families, yet sufficient time is left open for those individual and organization gatherings that are dear to the heart of every ex-serviceman. Buddies will meet Comrades in Fort Worth at the Reunion that they have not seen since the war.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. T. Waggoner and sons, Paul and Guy, one of the Races at Arlington Downs on Saturday, November 10th, will be known as the 90th Division Handicap and the winning jockey will be presented with a floral tribute by Miss Viola Gaston, the daughter of a 90th Division Veteran. On the same day will be run the famous Waggoner Handicap, one of the most colorful events of its kind in the nation, for an added purse of $10,000.

On Monday, November 5th, from 10:45 to 11:00 P. M. Station WBAP at Fort Worth will broadcast a program in honor of the coming Reunion. The speaker will be Capt. Buford Jester, of Corsicana, a former officer of the Division and a Past President of the 90th Division Association. On the program with Capt. Jester, who will tell about the coming Reunion, will be the Moslah Shrine Chanters, a well-known musical organization which will furnish an interesting vocal program.

Further detailed information regarding the Reunion to be held in Fort Worth on November 10, 11 and 12th can be obtained by addressing headquarters 90th Division Reunion, Suite 418, Blackstone Hotel, Fort Worth, Texas.

"Dough Boys"

When the American bankers came to Washington for their national convention they had "blood in their eye". They were going to tell Roosevelt—wow, wow; yes they would! But he appeared before their association and "talked turkey" and smiled the Presidential smile. After that the olive branch was extended by Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, as spokesman for the banking forces of the country.

Believe it or not, it looks as though the new union of government and bankers is a good match. For the sake of the public let us hope that the twain "may live happily ever afterwards."

Money Management

The National movement for the teaching of money management in the public schools of the country appears to be growing by leaps and bounds, and seems to be a healthy indication and a natural consequence of the recent world-wide depression.

Money management has been a successful part of the curriculum of the Brookline, Massachusetts, public schools for six years, and how the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers has gone on record in favor of teaching money management in the Minnesota public schools and Investors Syndicate, which sponsored "Living Protection" has aligned itself wholeheartedly behind the movement. Massachusetts, Minnesota and Investors Syndicate are to be heartily congratulated on this forward movement, which undoubtedly will continue to spread until it blankets the country. Now that the ice has been broken, indications are that the teaching of money management will be pushed by the National Parent-Teachers Association, and by many of the various state PTA's.

Reports from Brookline show that savings accounts in Brookline banks are larger and consistently growing, that financial obligations are regarded more seriously, and that there is less haphazard spending.

Listen to the World

It has been observed that the World's now literally in our own back yard. Advances in short-wave radio receiving technique makes it possible for us to listen in on the politics of Germany, Australia, and other storm centers with comparative ease. Now comes word from Dr. W. R. G. Baker, of the RCA Victor Company, that his company's laboratories have developed a "magic radio brain" which functions in the radio receiver very much like the human brain. Simply stated, this "Magic Brain", it is claimed, picks up weak, distant short-wave signals, and with almost human intelligence builds them up so that they can be easily heard, and at the same time eliminates most of the noise which has heretofore been associated with this type of reception.

Miami Starts Its Stride

Miami is reported to have started off its new season with close to 100,000 visitors when the ex-veterans gathered for the American Legion Convention. We notice that the popular young publicity artist, Hamilton M. Wright, Jr., is directing the news service for the City of Miami, which is fair warning that the Florida resort will boom this Winter.

The American Legion is determined to "never say die" on the subject of the bonus, and about $2,000,000,000 of "Roosevelt money" would soften up their wounds. Evidently the ex-veterans don't realize how they are wounding the politicians in asking for the bonus. It looks as though that question will be a live one in Congress this Winter.

All the football boys being able to have dates on Saturday and Sunday except Johnnie and Louis—They just can't get over the nite before Friday.
Lucille not being able to sleep at night, even after she goes to bed. (Say, kid, you'd better forget that boy).
Frances Clark turning off the ignition, putting her foot on the brake, pulling on the emergency brake, and putting the Ford in reverse and then it finally stopped.

The low 9-1 section has the highest percent of students on the honor roll of any home room in the whole school system. They have a membership of 29. Seventeen of these 29 were on the honor roll. This made 58.6 per cent on the honor roll.

Of the whole school enrollment only 13 per cent made the honor roll. That makes this home room 45 per cent better in grades than the average. In attendance 98 per cent has been maintained with less than one-half of one per cent tardies for the six weeks period. This is an enviable record. Mr. Reeves is very proud of the excellent record made by his home room section. This is far superior the average in any section in the whole system and much farther above that of the Wichita Schools.

High School Library

From a list compiled by the librarian who closely followed suggestions from the English department, a $300 order has been placed this week for new books for the High School Library. The new books which have been chosen from the four types for recreational reading prescribed by the English department, will be heartily welcomed, as they will supply the demand for outside reading material. There will be 218 books in all, 27 of which will be drama; 14, poetry; 88, fiction; and 89, prose. The books began to arrive Thursday, but it will be several days before they are ready for circulation. "Who's Who in America", which is one of the books included in the order, is a rather expensive book and will be especially useful because it contains biographical sketches of all of the more important living Americans.

Blame The Reporter

Monday morning dawned bright and cool, and about an hour and a half later Doris Cadson, reporter for the Freshman class at Windber High School, shook the last bit of sleep from her ambitious head. As she pulled on her socks she briefly outlined the day, "Le'see, I lack four sentences in my English, but I can get them in my home room period. Then I'll have plenty of time for my other lessons in study hall." From that time until she was within two yards of the school house door did Doris give anything related with her education another thought. But at that moment she reached for her locker key, only to find it missing. She turned in her tracks and darted back home, and after a frantic search discovered it behind the dresser.

She rushed breathlessly back to school only to be greeted by another worry from one of her classmates, who wanted to know if she was going to have a "Did You See" column in the Freshman's Corner of the Panther's Howl in the weekly Chronicle. No, she didn't think so, she would see about it later. After she had got her books and had gone to her home room class to get her English, three more inquisitive friends asked if she was going to write a poem to put in this week's paper and how many jokes she was going to have.

The rest of the day slipped by with Doris writing down a bright saying by one of the class nit-wits, reading and rejecting two jokes suggested by the brightest girl, and begging the rest of the pupils to tell her any news they chanced to learn. Tuesday morning Doris was more alarmed about her news. When she got to school she got permission to speak to Paul Manners, the class president, about a class meeting.

"Paul," she began, "we haven't had a class meeting since we organized two months ago, and we just must have one. Remember, if there is no news there's nothing like making it."

"What could we talk about when we do have a meeting," grinned Paul defiantly.

"Oh, we could plan a picnic, it's not too cold to have one yet, or do almost anything."

"O K, I'll see Miss Dodson in the morning about it."

"In the morning will be too late. See her now and have the meeting this afternoon after school," Doris protested.

"But I don't have the last two problems on my Algebra," was the discouraging reply.

Not to be daunted, Doris answered, "Oh, bother Algebra, you have two empty study halls between now and the time that paper is due."

Finally Doris won her point and Paul went reluctantly to the teacher's desk for advise.

"How nice," purred the teacher to her most brilliant pupil, "I never thought of a picnic, and picnics are so much easier to have than parties, less expensive, too."

"But when can we have a class meeting to plan it?" asked Doris who had come to argue her side of the question.

"Oh, I guess we can have it in the morning, there's a teacher's meeting this afternoon." As this statement was being finished Paul grinned at Doris with a victorious shake of the head. With a sigh Doris returned to her seat to send notes out over the room inquiring as to the current events. None of the notes being answered, she got out a clean sheet of paper and began to write bright sayings.

At the noon period Sandra Ponds, associate editor of the Howl asked Doris for her report and after flipping through her note book four times Doris finally found it. Sandra glanced at the one joke and asked coldly if nothing ever happened in the Freshman class.

Freshman Flashes

"What is the first thing you would do if you were stung by a wasp, Kate Kendall?" asked Mr. Forman after a lecture on the treatment of stings.

"Howl!", replied Kate solemnly.

Mr. Robison—Correct this sentence: "Before any damage could be done, the fire was put out by the volunteer fire department."

Patricia P.—The fire was put out before any damage could be done by the volunteer fire department.

We have two very promising yell leaders in our class. (Well, if they could yell they would be good.) At least they show much talent in writing yells, and they (the writers) are so good they even write the best of their works in Latin. This yell, their best, could be used for any kind of game, football, baseball, basketball, volley ball or any form of ball there is. In fact, this yell is so comprehensive it could even be used for the other side. For your approval Russel Cope and Bill Amyx present their yell.

"Yea, solii, pugnanti!
Yea, solii, pugnanti!
Pugnanti, pugnanti!
Pugnanti, pugnanti!"
