BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1934.

NUMBER 13.

RITE FOR PIONEER BURKMAN HELD LAST WEDNESDAY

Close In Honor Of "Mother" Heine. Burial in Natchez, Miss.

Burkburnett citizens paid final tribute Wednesday afternoon to Mrs. Rosalie Heine when they gathered at the Thomas Home where the funeral rites were held.

Services were conducted by Mr. H. Samson of Burk Burnett, assisted by Rev. Miles B. Hays, pastor of the Baptist church. Following the funeral services the body was shipped home in Natchez, Miss.

Sid Heine, one of her companions, accompanied the body to Natchez, Miss.

Heine, as she was known to most of the people of Burk Burnett, died at her home here at 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Heine was born in Natchez, Miss., on her 81st birthday, and was a host of friends of this town. She was stricken with illness and remained ill until she died.

She was born in Natchez, Miss., and moved to Burk Burnett in 1910. She was a devoted wife and mother, and was active in all the social and church organizations here. The higher life, from her own experience, was the battle of Vicksburg which happened when she was 10 years old.

She was survived by two sons, Sid Heine, who has been in Burk Burnett since 1912. They are at the Heine Drug Store.

JUSTICE DAY SERVICES HELD

Funeral services at the churches in the city Sunday morning brought to a close the celebration of the first Armistice day in Burk Burnett. The observance of the holiday was the most elaborate that has been held in the city since the end of the war.

The Saturday jubilee was a speech by Louis Boyd, who is county attorney in Wichita Falls in which he reviewed the first Armistice day from front and emphasized the attention to citizenship by legionnaires. A large number of people heard Mr. Boyd's address.

The routine of flag-raising and decoration was carried out in the city, and the moment of silence was held at 11 o'clock. The parade included the citizens of the city, the local post, the pep squad, a Boy Scout unit, Wichita Falls, the Cow and all the performers.

The parade and street carnival was held in the afternoon and a ball in the evening. The auxiliary announced the poppies for the relief sale constitutes an all-time record for the local society.

The Maytag Company is a nationwide enterprise with dealers in every district throughout the U. S. Many thousands of men earn their living selling his product. The factory at Newton has built one half million power machines. Over six and one half million homes have had the Maytag machine demonstrated. Mr. Maytag has spent over ten million dollars in advertising. He loves to mingle and rub shoulders with his men. He spends most of his time traversing the United States going from one district to another meeting and fraternizing with his men. Mr. Maytag remarked at the banquet that he finds a greater pleasure in this than in his office at Newton. He has always said "I had rather make men than money". This he is doing and his reward is peace and happiness though he is 77 years old now.

Places included: Buck Jones, Wichita Falls; Anadarko, Okla.; Byers, Steer riding, Wichita Falls; Vic Lawton; Buck Jones, Bronco riding, Hoytt Wichita Falls; B. Lovell, L. Casper, Wyoming; Bob Rice, Ardmore; Archer City, and Bill Burk Burnett.

Archer City Workers Conference

300 Baptists at Wichita-Archer Baptist workers' conference at side church in Wichita Falls of the week. There were 21 representatives from Archer City, Seymour, Okla. Park, Holliday, City Dale, Electra, Burk Burnett, K. M. A., Cash, and the Wichita Falls first church, Highland Park, South Side, Lory Lamar received the award.

Bulldogs To Play Electra Thursday

Disappointed over their showing against Crowell last Friday night the Burk Bulldogs lost their chance to stay in the district race but they intend to show Electra that they can come back when they tangle with them next Thursday at Electra.

Burkburnett has one of the best in years and the citizens are glad them 100 percent. A large election will go with them to Electra.

Annual Red Cross Roll Call Drive Began In Burk Burnett Thursday Morning

300 Dollar Memberships Is Quota For Burk Burnett—Westerfield In Charge

The annual Red Cross Membership Roll Call drive got under way Thursday morning in Burk Burnett. Butler Westerfield is chairman of the local drive and his assistants are J. H. Brumley, B. F. Gilchrist, Oscar Kemp and Roy Magers.

According to Mr. Westerfield, Burk Burnett's quota is 300 members. A large portion of the town has been worked and the committee has met with a hearty response and they anticipate no trouble in securing their quota.

The need for funds by the Red Cross and other organizations will probably be very keenly felt this winter and the government is urging the various towns to assume a larger share in taking care of the unemployed than has been done in the past two years.

C of C To Hold Annual Banquet In January

The date for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet is January 18, 1934. Plans for program etc. are being made at the present time by R. J. Kelly, R. P. Reagan, Herman Brown and Oscar Kemp.

A nominating committee was also appointed to name candidates for the directors to be voted upon by the members. This ballot will take place before the banquet this year. After the committee reports its list of candidates to the board of directors the ballot will then be mailed or delivered to every member of the chamber of commerce to vote upon. A sealed box will be had to place the ballots in until the deadline for voting is reached.

The Chamber of Commerce voted to back up and aid the Vocational Agriculture Class and Jack D. Everhart, the director of the class, when the class hold a Poultry Show on December 14th and 15th. According to those who are working on the holding of the show the poultry show is confined to the immediate trade territory of Burk Burnett and that there is also an indication that a small dairy cattle and colt show will be held in connection with the poultry show.

Cain and Abel Days Are Here Again

These are not the days of old, but we are still reminded of Cain and Abel in Burk Burnett, without going to the Bible for a scripture reading about the two characters. Wednesday of this week H. Abel of Burk Burnett, carpenter by trade, built a porch on Red Cain's house. This being their first acquaintance.

Tex Willis Again Selling Chevy's

There must be something about Burk Burnett or in Burk Burnett they can't get away from. Tex Willis, former car salesman of this city left here a month ago for Gladewater to accept a position as car salesman. Monday he returned to Burk Burnett and has accepted a position with the Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co.

Jack Kelly Improving After Operation

Jack Kelly, manager of the Burk Burnett Gas Co., is improving after an appendix operation performed Thursday evening.

Mr. Kelly was stricken about 11:30 Thursday morning and was taken to the Burk Burnett Clinic. He was later removed to the Wichita Falls hospital where the operation was performed.

The law of supply and demand doesn't hold good. Think of all the reformers there are, and how little reform.

No Liquor For Relief Workers

Two communications from Adam R. Johnson, director of the Texas Relief Commission, was received by H. D. Smith, local administrator. Mr. Smith stated that he was going to see that the instructions were carried out to the letter.

The orders are: Several counties have asked for instruction concerning the manner in which to handle the relief family which allows a part of its relief grants to be expended for alcoholic liquors. The following policies, therefore, are announced as being the desire of the Texas Relief Commission on this point.

Each case must be handled on its own individual merits and then only upon personal investigation by the Case Supervisor or the Relief Administrator.

In instances where either the County Administrator or the Case Work Supervisor has first hand personal knowledge that the head of the relief family is expending his funds for alcoholic liquors, that family therefore should receive relief in kind only. Regardless of the fact that relief is being extended in kind only, it shall and must be work relief.

The same rules apply in respect to gambling and similar delinquencies on the part of relief clients. Conviction in police court or frequent arraignment before any local court immediately brings the client within the scope of these instructions.

If the head of the family steadfastly refuses to perform work when he is not paid in cash, your are instructed to confer with local public officials and prefer charges of vagrancy against the client. If public officials refuse to act, please notify this office.

Numerous inquiries and complaints concerning the manner in which certain counties are meeting the problem of the Relief Client who drives an automobile, have come to this office, and your attention therefore is directed to the following statements of policy which shall be observed hereafter.

No County Relief Administrator is to demand from the owner of an automobile, his license plate and or key as a condition to receiving relief.

You are advised, however, that it is the desire of the Texas Relief Commission that no relief funds be used for the purpose of operating passenger automobiles in a manner not strictly and entirely in conformance with the subsistence needs of the clients. It is recognized that many clients must use their cars to go to and from work relief employment. It is recognized also that in some instances cars are necessary for the clients to reach headquarters offices where they may secure relief grants.

It is not the desire of the Texas Relief Commission, however, that any County Administrator continue giving relief to any client when it is evident that the client is expending any appreciable amount of his relief funds for operating expenses of an automobile used for pleasure purposes.

It is within the discretion of the County Administrator, after considering each individual case on its own merits, to deny relief to any family which persists in expending relief grants on the operation of an automobile which is not essential to their welfare.

Mrs. Crissey Talks To Lions Club

Mrs. S. B. Crissey addressed the Lions Club Tuesday evening when the organization met for its regular weekly luncheon in the basement dining room of the Methodist Church. She has just recently returned from a trip to Mexico and spoke on Old Mexico. Since the Lions are having their next International Convention in Mexico they are interested in hearing more of Mexico from time to time.

Butler Westerfield illustrated how the average man reads his daily newspaper while eating and spoke on "Current Events".

Lee Hudson and John Bostic composed the program committee and presented Kathryn and Jack Exley in a piano duet.

Russell Cope was guest of the club and will be for six weeks as he made the highest grade in high school last semester.

BILL GARLAND, BURK CHIEF OF POLICE, CHARGED WITH MURDER

Garland Released On $1,000 Bond After Waiving Preliminary Hearing

The condition of Gordon Woolley, shot through the abdomen during an altercation with W. I. Garland, Chief of Police, Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, is somewhat improved, according to attending physicians of the Wichita Falls hospital. The special nurse was discharged last night and unless complications set in he has a fair chance to recover.

Turkey Crop Is Smaller This Year

The 1934 holiday crop of turkeys is way below par and the quality of the birds is off, according to the local produce dealers. However, the market is much better in Burk Burnett than it was last year. Burk Burnett has always been noted for paying the highest prices for all kinds of produce, cream, etc., and that accounts for the fact that the produce buyers of Burk Burnett have paid to turkey raisers in this section something over $5,000 since the market opened last Saturday.

No. 1 birds were bringing 14c and 15c; No. 2 birds, 8c; old toms, 9c. The continued warm weather and short feed crop has reacted against production of No. 1 birds as most of the birds are not matured and have lots of pin feathers.

Burkburnett is rapidly becoming the cream center of this part of the country. There has been over three times as much cream sold here this year as in previous years.

P.-T. A.-Star Contest First Period To Close Saturday, Nov. 24th

The end of the big votes in the Star-P-TA contest is rapidly drawing to a close. Every worker has turned in a good report this week and the one who works the hardest from now until Nov. 24th has the best chance to win the beautiful bedroom suite. If you haven't given one of the contestants your subscription to the Star, do so at once. And remember, the Parent-Teachers Association receives a goodly percent of each subscription turned in.

The money derived from these subscriptions will be used for the underprivileged boys and girls of school age. The standing Thursday night:

Mrs. James Thomas	140,000
Mrs. W. P. Sims	120,000
Mrs. Arthur Evert	118,000
Mrs. W. D. Bent	40,000
Mrs. Neal Hall	60,000

Mrs. Russell Speaks Before Rotarians

Mrs. I. D. Russell was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday noon. She spoke of her experience as a war nurse in France. Her talk was interesting and was enjoyed by the guests and members. Y. C. Paschall, superintendent of the Fairview school, gave an address on the advancement education has made in the past few years. His talk was well delivered and appreciated by his listeners.

Guests were: Linton Estes, Luther Hoffman, Paul Pond, all of Wichita Falls; Geo. Backus of Vernon, and A. C. McClellan. Geo. Tevis was a guest of Rotarian Bob Tevis.

FAMILY REUNION

Dr. and Mrs. Ruel Slaughter had as their guests last week Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Slaughter of Pottsboro, Texas, and his brother, Dr. C. A. Slaughter of Sugarland. The doctor wandered from his chosen profession and took his guests on a fishing trip—with the usual fisherman's luck. Dr. Slaughter, Sr. told his son that he had better stay with his chosen profession—as he could never expect to advance in the world as a fisherman unless he showed more results than he did on that trip.

Some of the most popular citizens in Burk Burnett became that way through knowing just when to keep their mouths shut.

READ THE STAR!

Mr. Woolley was employed as a mechanic at the Cooper-McCreary Motor Co. here at the time of the shooting. For several years he was associated with Mr. Cooper in the Cooper-Woolley Garage located on Ave. D. He was later a mechanic at the Staley air port. He returned to Burk Burnett about two months ago and accepted a position with the above named firm.

Bill Garland, police chief, was charged with murder in a complaint filed before Judge O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace in Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon. Garland perfected a $1,000 bond shortly after waiving a preliminary hearing.

Garland was charged in the pistol slaying of A. J. McCarty, 18-year-old saxophone player, during an argument at 1 o'clock Sunday morning on the streets of Burk Burnett in which Woolley was critically wounded.

The shooting brought a tragic climax to a military ball sponsored by the Burk Burnett American Legion as a feature attraction of Armistice week-end activities. The affray took place on Avenue B in Burk Burnett in front of the Elks club entrance just north of the Main street intersection.

He was taken to the Wichita hospital in a Thomas ambulance. An extended argument between Woolley and Garland precipitated the shooting.

According to witnesses Maxie Shumake's car was parked in the middle of the street when Woolley backed out from the curb and bumped into Shumake's car, knocking the bumper off. This difference was quickly settled and the cars apparently were starting toward Wichita Falls, when Garland ordered the group to clear the streets and get out of town, according to witnesses.

At that point Woolley spoke up, addressing Garland and said, "I know you." Then the officer told Woolley he was too drunk to drive the car. McCarty said, "I think I'll knock him out and take him home in our car," and grabbed Woolley, Mr. Gribble said.

McCarty then struck Woolley twice and placed him in Shumake's car. Woolley regained consciousness almost immediately, and thinking that Garland hit him, yelled "let me out." Garland said, "let him out."

Judge W. T. Vance, justice of the peace, held an inquest in the slaying Sunday morning at the funeral parlor and questioned several witnesses. He returned a verdict that "McCarty's death was due to an accidental shot at the hands of Bill Garland, police chief."

A short funeral service was held for McCarty from the Owens & Brumley Funeral home chapel at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The body was forwarded to Dublin, Texas, for burial services Monday.

Mrs. Woolley Not Ready To Make Statement

Mrs. Woolley who was with her husband and was a witness to the slaying and affray stated to a Star reporter Thursday noon that she was not ready to make a statement but in due time would tell her version of the affair.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to take this means of thanking our many friends for their kindness during the illness and for their words of sympathy and help and floral offering at the death of our mother, Mrs. Rosalie Heine.

Especially do we want to thank the doctors and nurses, and Bro. Hays, who left his work in Ardmore, to be present at the services, and Mr. H. Samson for the part he had in the services. We assure you that we will always have a soft spot in our hearts for all of you. We hope that when the Grim Reaper visits your home that we can, by word and deed, be of some service to you.

Signed: Sid and Gus Heine.

Bill Wells wants to be a taxidermist and an aviarist.
Ada Marsh is to be a "Torch Singer" with Ben Bernie's orchestra, ha cha, luck to you all.

Ball Games

The Fairview Polar Bears handed Valley View an astonishing defeat Friday night November 9th. The boys exhibited some beautiful playing although they did foul a few times. The score was 24 to 20. This is the first game the boys have won "Glory be".
The girls were defeated (hard luck girls) but are determined to show the boys that they are not quitters. The girls have won two games. Luck to both the girls and the boys in the future.

Sunrise Breakfast

The Home Economics club girls motored to the River Bridge for a sunrise breakfast Saturday morning. Although there were not many present everyone seemed to enjoy the breakfast by the way it disappeared. Those present were: Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Podberger, Virginia Bayne, Elva Stimpson, Marian McClarney, Naomi Banning, Anita Pharrries, Milbrey Lou Hoffman, Ruth Miller and a visitor Earlene Brooks.

Rosalie blushing when Ada asked her the date.

Senior Personalities

Gather 'round closely my children, by garsh,
And I'll tell you the story of Ada Marsh.
She is the kind of a gal we all like to see.
She's the kind of a gal we'd all like to be.
(Author in hiding)
Ada Marsh, that 108 pounds of 100 per cent personality, first gazed upon this old world on Thursday, July 21, 1916, at 11:00 o'clock p. m. (Wooooooo!) She began cruising about the old U. S. at the age of three, first to Rockyford, Colorado, then to St. Louis, Missouri, then Oklahoma, Arkansas, back to Oklahoma, and finally to good old Texas, and even now in school she gets the wandering fever ever now and then and patrols the halls, peering in windows on the way, etc.
It happens that Ada is the Senior Class official crooner. When any of the Seniors get down in the dumps (yes they do sometimes), want to learn the words to the latest song, or need an extra number on some program, why they get in line and when their turn comes, Ada fulfills their desire. And what's more, she loves it.
When a really intellectual gal like our Ada can take good A's and a few B's (when she studies nobody knows) and still try to help every body else do the same thing and not try to show up, why all we can say is that she is a swell kind of a classmate.
President of the Senior Class, prominent member of the girl's choral club, valuable member of the volley ball team, editor-in-chief of the paper, she is the kind of student any kind of school or class would be proud of.
Ada's favorites are: Actor, Robert Montgomery, actress, Joan Crawford, food, cheese sandwiches and pretzels; flower, gardenia; class, study hall; teacher, Mr. Paschall; sport, dancing; hobby, more dancing and crooning; radio program, Jimmy Greer and his orchestra (Pinkie Tomlin), Song, "The Object of My Affection", Crooner, Truman (Pinkie) Tomlin; Color, white, smell, gardenias.

Freshman Brag Abouts

Frank being told to sit down.
Carrie Ruth starting a job and not wanting to finish it.
Lois Edwards blushing everytime anyone speaks to her.
Jack Bryarly being so important that a certain teacher had to call him out of the class.
Dorothy Lane asking about Mary Francis.
Mary Stubbiefield blushing about the chapel program.
Carrie Ruth keeping her locker clean.
Rosalie calling anyone a pest.
Hazel quit drinking coffee for a certain teacher.
Leroy o'Guinn studying in the study hall.
Jack Mills calling anyone "hone".

19,000 Cans of Vegetables In Iowa Park Canning Plant

To date the Iowa Park Cannery which is under the supervision of Relief Administration, E. C. Knox and Mrs. C. C. Burrows, Plant Supervisor and assistant plant supervisor has canned approximately 19,000 cans of vegetables. The varieties are green, beets, peas, okra, corn, potatoes, swiss chard, spinach and turnips all grown in the relief gardens of Wichita Falls and Iowa Park. Total number of cans spoiled, 34. There are seventy-five people working 12 hours each per week. Besides receiving benefit from the cash received for work the canning plant is an educational feature for everyone working. There are 17 pressure cookers being used, 10 of which are 25 quart cookers and the other 7 are 18 quart cookers. As soon as all vegetables are canned the canning of meat on a tall basis will be started.

Burk P-TA to Have Interesting Program

Mrs. A. H. Lohofener will be leader at the meeting of the P-TA Tuesday, Nov. 20 in the grade school auditorium. Since Thanksgiving is National Good Book Week the program will be based on both events. Thanksgiving music will be given by the fourth grade under the direction of Miss Ethel Virginia Allen. Mrs. W. L. Walker will talk on "The Effects of Books upon Character". Good Book posters are to be displayed by Miss Bonnie Dell Wright. Parents desiring a book list for their children may copy them from the lists to be placed on a bulletin board. Miss Natalie McClure will talk on "Leisure Time Activities".

Visiting Day for parents who have children in school was set for Tuesday, Nov. 27 at the P-T executive board meeting Tuesday afternoon. Parents who plan to visit the school rooms on that date are requested to go in quietly and remain as long as they like.

Mrs. J. M. Thomas repeated splendid results on a check up of corrections made and sermons given since the spring clinic.

Plans were made for attending the December County Council meeting at Friberg Parent-Teacher members desiring a day of good fellowship and inspiration are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. Truman Garland Honored at Party

Mrs. Jimmie Collier, assisted by Mrs. Elbert Buckner, was hostess Friday afternoon at her home on Avenue D to a group of friends when the occasion was a lovely party complimentary of Mrs. Truman Garland on her birthday anniversary.

A green and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and appointments of the card tables for bridge games. The favors for scores were presented to the honor guest by Mrs. Wayne Goodlett for high score and Mrs. Curtis Matthews low score.

The guests present included Mesdames Wayne Goodlett, Curtis Matthews, Joe Caffee, Winnie Rose, Harold Preston, Carlos Baker, Grand Jarrel of Grandfield, H. A. Sutherland, Miss Guinn Brumley and the honoree, Mrs. Truman Garland.

Lenz Awarded Foundrymen's Gold Medal

Arnold Lenz, assistant manufacturing manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, was awarded the John Hill Whiting gold medal for notable contributions to the foundry industry at the recent annual meeting of the American Foundrymen's Association and the Fifth International Foundry Congress, in Philadelphia.

This latest honor to Mr. Lenz for noteworthy foundry developments, and especially for improvements in quantity production methods of automotive castings, follows only one year after his being awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering by the University of Aachen, Germany, for his achievements.

Mr. Lenz, who was born in Germany in 1888, was apprenticed at the age of 14 to a German foundry at Haagen. Since 1906, when he came to the United States, he has worked as molder, coremaker, melter, foreman, superintendent, and manager in the foundry industry. It was under his direction that the Chevrolet gray iron foundry at Signaw attained its position of leadership in the automotive industry, with a daily capacity of more than 2,000 tons.

In formally presenting the medal, Thomas S. Hammond, chairman of the A. F. A. Board of Awards, paid special tribute to Mr. Lenz for his leadership and ability "in the most difficult problem of management, that of handling the human element in the industry."

"In these days," said Mr. Hammond, "when we hear so much about doing away with rugged individuals and rugged individualism, it is a pleasure to pay our respects to a man who has made his way to the top in an industry which, from necessity, has developed many rugged individuals. It is a privilege to present the John Hill Whiting medal to a rugged individual of the type that has made industry in this country great."

High-Givens Nuptials Event of Week-End

Miss Mable Givens, daughter of Mrs. Ray Givens of Crowell, became the bride of William Mark High of Wichita Falls in an impressive simple ceremony read Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. A. L. High at 1717 Tenth street.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Miles B. Hays, pastor of the First Baptist church of Burkburnett in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives of the couple. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of yellow and white chrysanthemums and greenery.

The bride was attractively gowned in an afternoon costume of a deep rust color. Her accessories were of black. Miss Lola Kate Wimberly of Burkburnett was maid of honor and the only attendant. Her costume was of brown as was her matching accessories. Henry Van Cleave of Burkburnett acted as best man.

Mrs. High is a graduate of the Petrolia High school and has been a resident of Crowell for some time. At present she is employed at the Wichita Falls State hospital.

The groom is a former resident of Burkburnett where he was graduated from high school in 1925. He attended the Texas Technological college at Lubbock and is now an engineer at the Wichita Falls State hospital.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a small informal reception during which Misses Ramsey Gene High and Mary Moody served dainty refreshments to approximately 40 guests.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mrs. Ray Givens and daughters, Ray and Christine of Crowell; Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Aycock and children, Lena and Byron and Mrs. Wolverton of Lawton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wellman of Iowa Park; and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Griffin of Longview.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 1600 Britain street.

ON TEXAS FARM

By Minnie Fisher Cunningham Extensive Service Editor

A specially prepared bed in the use of native shrubs; a plan for landscaping the farm and the expenditure of $3 with some sure enough was given Mrs. B. F. Curry, home demonstration club member of gorda county a lovely yard.

When asked what he thought about the government cotton adjustment program, J. B. Adams operating a 1200 acre farm in Brookshire in Waller county, Tex., said, "I have 11 tenants on my farm and every one of them paid up in full this fall and in debt, and I give the cotton program credit for the improved conditions and financial assistance of the tenants on my farm as well as myself."

From ten cents worth of seed planted by Mrs. Will Martin, member of the Tarzan Home Demonstration Club in Martin county, Tex., 61 little pecans will be ready to surface tank at the tingley home, as shade for the trees that are in the tank. From the seed, from seed, are growing the pecans in the plant bed. The grape vines are already started cuttings this year.

WHEELER — Not only Bill Riley of the Briscoe 42 in Wheeler county plant a fall garden, but she also raised 211 quarts of five varieties of berries this year and set out 26 berry vines, and 300 grapes according to Miss Viola Jones, demonstration agent. Joy Moore sold 55 gallons of berries and made a profit of $11. "Club work has so much to me. I have learned to can, to sew, to cook, and to do other interesting things," Joy says.

BROWNSVILLE — A smooth carpet grass lawn in the place of a spotty one of Bermuda has been achieved by Mrs. Renus Snavely, Cameron county during the year, according to Miss DePorter, home demonstration agent. The Bermuda grass was a quality volunteer grass that she did not cover the area under the grass as was desired. Without removing the existing Bermuda, she laid carpet grass were laid and with about one inch of soil. The kept well watered for several times and was moved frequently. The front lawn is now completely grassed over.

HOUSTON — Twenty-seventy varieties of vegetables are growing in the fall garden of Miss Katie E. of the Aldine Home Demonstration Club in Harris County, according to Miss Helen Cowan, home demonstration agent. Miss Cowan never had a garden before. In March she fenced in a plot 100 feet, hauled 11 truck loads of soil, made a garden plan and planted her vegetables. During the summer Miss Komn harvested 800 pounds of vegetables valued at $40.55. The cost of the garden was $4.50.

KINGSVILLE — Terrace have been run on a 30 acre field on the King Ranch in berg county, according to Wilkinson, farm demonstration agent, and the terraces will be as soon as the grader and belonging to the ranch are available for that purpose. Robert J. Jr. found that a field of grass on the hill side was not so well because the slope was steep that the rains were washing the soil away from the roots. He decided that the field should be leveled to prevent this, to conserve the moisture, and to bring the fields a heavier soil and level slopes, so he secured the of the agent to run the terraces.

If neighbors would only buy eggs from each other when they are high it would be lots better than it is now.

Radio Dialogue On F. H. A. Program

Mr. Brown — I think I can assure you that I would take care that does not occur.

Mr. Howe — Judging from your past record, I am sure that you will meet your obligations promptly.

Mr. Brown — Well, having borrowed money before, I can assure you that the charges are most reasonable. In fact they are the lowest I have ever heard of involving installment payments, no matter how one may figure the interest.

Mr. Howe — The charges are the lowest ever offered in the United States. It is only made possible thru the insurance we receive on our loans from the Federal Housing Administration.

Mr. Brown — I see.

Mr. Howe — I would suggest, Mr. Brown, that it is wise not to assume too large an obligation or one that extends over too long a period for fear that some unexpected development may impair your capacity to pay.

Mr. Brown — Yes; that could happen to any of us.

Mr. Howe — I believe it would be better to borrow only a sufficient amount to take care of your most pressing repairs, pay that loan, then if you see your way clear, apply for another loan to do other jobs.

Mr. Brown — That sounds reasonable.

Mr. Howe — It's the better way.

Mr. Brown — Now, about this money—do I have to spend it all on repairs? The wife wants a mechanical refrigerator and other things.

Mr. Howe — Movable equipment, such as mechanical refrigerators, oil-burners, stoves and ranges, kitchen cabinets, etc., may not be purchased from the proceeds of the loans, and the property owner so agrees when applying for a loan.

Mr. Brown — I couldn't borrow money of this bank before the National Housing Act was passed and put in effect.

Mr. Howe — Perhaps not. The situation with banks has changed.

Mr. Brown — How changed?

Mr. Howe — The Government protects this bank against losses incurred on modernization loans made by us up to 20 percent of the aggregate of all our modernization loans.

Mr. Brown — I'll talk it over with my wife and if she's agreeable, we might fill out this application and credit statement, sign the note and apply for a loan.

Mr. Howe — I would advise you not to put it off too long, Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown — Isn't there plenty of time?

Mr. Howe — You want your son to have a regular job, don't you?

Mr. Brown — Sure; but what has my waiting awhile got to do with that?

Mr. Howe — A great deal.

Mr. Brown — I don't understand.

Mr. Howe — If you and a few million others would start at once to improve your property, it would mean a steady job for your son and many others formerly employed in the construction industry itself, or in allied or contributing industries.

Mr. Brown — Humph! I hadn't thought of that.

Mr. Howe — You as a home owner and I as a banker must cooperate with Uncle Sam to correct this condition.

Mr. Brown — That's a fact, Mr. Howe.

Mr. Howe — Such cooperation on our part will be to our mutual benefit.

Mr. Brown — In just what way will it benefit me, Mr. Howe?

Mr. Howe — I'll reply by asking you three questions. Does your neighborhood look as well as it did before the depression?

Mr. Brown — No. It looks a little rundown. Folks haven't had the money to keep up their homes as they used to.

Mr. Howe — Do you ever think of selling your home, Mr. Brown?

Mr. Brown — Yes; I have. Sometimes I'd like to sell and buy farther out in the country.

Mr. Howe — If all the homes in your locality were improved, modernized, don't you think your home would bring a higher price?

Mr. Brown — Why, I guess it would. Of course it would sell for more.

Mr. Howe — Then repair your home. Put a stop to the destruction of your property's value. You do it, others will do the same with theirs, property values will rise, there will be more construction started, building material manufacturers will employ more workers, transportation lines will receive their share of increased business.

Mr. Brown — That's so.

Mr. Howe — More workers, greater purchasing power, more money in circulation—that means an increased business for everybody, including the firm for which you work. And that means greater opportunity for you.

Mr. Brown — I'll have to tell that to the Mrs. Thanks, Mr. Howe. I'll be after that loan soon. Regards to you and Uncle Sam.

Any Burk Burnett motorist who has ever had a steering wheel to stop working knows how it feels when kids get old enough to be defiant.

You can't stir up a class revolution in a land where a $350 car can zip past a $7,000 one.

Mr. Brown — That's a new one on me.

Mr. Howe — If you own your home and there are no outstanding encumbrances against it, and if your record is that of a man who pays his bills, there is no reason why you should not have the money you need for repairs or improvements.

Mr. Brown — That sounds good to me, Mr. Howe. What do I do to get a loan?

Mr. Howe — Just fill out this brief application. It's simple enough to understand.

Mr. Brown — Easier than a lot of such things I've seen.

Mr. Howe — Here is a note. It will be necessary for Mrs. Brown to sign it with you.

Mr. Brown — I understand.

Mr. Howe — We also require a credit statement signed by yourself and also signed by your wife.

Mr. Brown — About this credit statement?

Mr. Howe — You have from time to time made purchases on credit, haven't you?

Mr. Brown — Yes; many times.

Mr. Howe — Have you always paid such obligations?

Mr. Brown — I have, I'm glad to say.

Mr. Howe — Then, when you have made out the note and credit statement, and if on checking your credit we find it is satisfactory and the statement complies with the simple requirements of the Federal Housing Administration, you can have your loan.

Mr. Brown — Easy as that?

Mr. Howe — Easy as that. However, there are one or two things to bear in mind.

Mr. Brown — What are they?

Mr. Howe — The first is that your yearly income must be five times the total yearly obligation of your loan. For instance, if the yearly payment on your loan amounts to $500, the joint income of your wife and yourself must total $2,500.

Mr. Brown — Do I have more than a year in which to pay the loan?

Mr. Howe — Yes, you can arrange a loan running as long as 3, or in an exceptional case as much as 5 years.

Mr. Brown — How much could I borrow?

Mr. Howe — Not more than $2,000 on any one piece of property. However, you could secure a loan not exceeding $2,000 on a separate property.

Mr. Brown — How do I pay this note?

Mr. Howe — In equal monthly installments, unless you are a farmer.

Mr. Brown — I am not a farmer, but how does the farmer pay off his loan?

Mr. Howe — If the income of the borrower is received at other than monthly periods in the form of proceeds from the sale of agricultural crops, or livestock, payments are provided at periods corresponding to the income dates on the borrower's statement.

Of course I have to pay interest?

Mr. Howe — Yes, according to the regulations I have received from the Federal Housing Administration, the maximum I am permitted to charge on a modernization loan is an amount equivalent to $5 per $100 of the face amount of a 1-year note, deductible in advance.

Mr. Brown — Is that interest alone, Mr. Howe, or are there any other charges?

Mr. Howe — No; there are no other charges, with the exception of a fee collected if you are late in meeting installments—a fee not to exceed 5 cents for every dollar for each payment in arrears.

Wholesome Reading High School Students

By Miss Dunaway
A book is a man's most faithful friend, a wholesome counsellor, a cheerful companion, or an effectual comforter. Things printed can never be stopped; they go on forever. Pictures don't last forever, but images of men's wits and knowledge do. Yet they are not images, for they grow and plant their seeds in minds of men.

Books might be compared to the ships that pass through the ages. Too, they may be compared to stones, as charcoal and the diamond are one, but they differ in form and effect. Just so we have good and bad books. From good books children get that polish, those choice words, and faultless rhetoric. They learn and gain a new spiritual force and personality. They should learn to seek the kingdom of truth first, and all shall be added.

Books are the voices of the distant and dead, and make us heirs of the spiritual life of past ages. Too, they give to us the society, the spiritual presence of the best and greatest of our race. It is through them that children learn of our historical characters. After reading a good book, the child should be able to ask himself the question, "What will I be? Will I pattern my life by his?" Wouldn't it be terrible to have a child who patterns his life by some of the characters in the trashy books that are read? In the homes there should be added to your library a shelf for every year of the child's life. Let him grow up with books.

Books are the ever burning lamps of accumulated wisdom, and when a child has completed the reading of one, he should be able to close it with profit for except a living man there is nothing more wonderful than a book.

The love for a good book gives the purest and most perfect pleasure a child can have. When he is reading a good book, he is spending his leisure time with his best friend and is developing his character in the right channels. A good book will last when all other pleasures fade and is a support when everything else fails. Too, it will last until your death and will make your hours pleasant as long as you live.

Parents choose their boys' and girls associates with care. They guard against untruthful associates, those of improper environment, and other undesirable influences, realizing that vices as well as virtues may be acquired from companions. In order to fight these undesirable influences, there must be an antidote, which is good books. Let boys and girls roam with characters in books who will not quarrel with them, bully them, or be the cause of unpleasant feelings, but from whom they will learn truthfulness, self-reliance and independence. Characters in books speak to us, arouse us, terrify us, teach us, comfort us, and open their hearts to us; therefore, we should be very careful that the child be aroused, spoken to, comforted, and taught by the right kind of characters.

At the high school age impressions are easily made and inelibly. Introduce the boys and girls to master writers through their simpler works, letting each approach them at the standard of his own intelligence, reading more and more as the years increase, developing a love of books that is a mark of every cultured man and woman. In this manner, permitting books to be our boys' and girls' ideal companions, their mode of travel about the world, their introduction to great men and heroes, even their best friends, we must strive to give them the best books.

Boys and girls look for action, excitement, and events that are in life in reading. If they have not been associated with good books, they cannot appreciate the gulf that lies between a noble book and a vile one, a cultured or refined and low one, or between the master writer and the 'penny-a-liner.' The untrained in book reading know what they want to read and turn to the nearest source-trash wrapped in a gaudy cover with glaring illustrations, and a price within their own reach. To eliminate this habit present at every opportunity those books that we consider worthy. This may be done in the home library, at school, and at clubs.

"A book may be a flower that blows, A road to a far town, a roof, a well, a tower,
A book may be a staff, a crook."
If all parents could give one gift to their boys and girls, they should choose the love of books.

Miss Estelle Hays, formerly a teacher of Home Economics in Burkburnett High School visited friends here this past week end. Miss Hays is now teaching Home Economics in Waxahachie High School.

Our Seniors

Olena Cash
Olena Cash was born in Wise County, Texas, December 24, 1916. She entered school in Burkburnett, Texas in 1924 at the age of eight.

Here are a few of her favorites: teacher, Miss Morgan; subject, English; gum, Spearmint; actor, William Powell; actress, Myrna Loy; drink, bottle Coca Cola, and according to Olena, the Corner Drug Store serves the best ones. Why is that Olena? Colors, orange and black, she's very patriotic, Doc. Her hobby is writing notes (to whom); he favorite music is that of Guy Lombardo and his orchestra. Her favorite flower is the rose.

She considers the best looking boy, Louis Sims (strange isn't it), and the best looking girl Frances Clark.

Olena says, "I'm just one more person who knows that the seniors are one swell class and the best yet".

Vinson Duvall
Vinson was born in Cleburn, on September 5, 1918. He started to school when he reached the ripe old age of six years.

His favorites are: Teacher, Jack Everhart; subject, Spanish; gum, any kind; food, chocolate pie; drink, milk shake (sissy).

Vinson thinks Doc Sims is the most popular boy (how's Doc doing), and Malene Baber the most popular girl. (And does he show good judgment?) He says the best looking boy is Eddie Young, and the best looking girl, Olena Cash.

His favorite sport is swimming; color, blue; actor, Wallace Berry and his favorite actress is none other than Mae West.

Seniors First to Join Red Cross

The Senior of Burk High, who are the first in everything, were first to become a member of the Red Cross. The hat was passed around and the Seniors pennies were dropped in rapidly. Before the roll was checked the seniors had their dollar collected and in the office ready to receive their Red Cross label.

Pep Squad News

The Pep Squad was, of course, disappointed because the Bulldogs were defeated in the game of last Friday night. However the girls are sure the football team did its very best.

The girls think the football team really played a game filled with sportsmanship and honesty. In spite of the fact that the club didn't win, the pep squad is very proud of how they played the game.

As for the announcer, Mr. Francis Felty, the pep squad wishes to say that if he would move to Crowell, it is sure that Dick Todd would give him a position as publicity agent. His good comments for the team and pep squad were appreciated.

LIFE

By Daisy Mathews
Isn't it strange that Princess' and kings
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings
And common folks like you and me
Are builders of eternity.

Each is given a bag of tools
A shapeless mass and a book of rules
And each must make, e're life has flown
A stepping block or a stumbling stone.

Quannah Parker to Visit School

Quannah Parker and his Indian group are to present a program in the high school auditorium Friday afternoon at three o'clock and again Friday evening at 7:30. The matinee Friday afternoon is especially for children. An admission of 10c per child will be charged. Pupils will be excused from their classes to attend this program.

Quannah Parker is a descendant of some of the famous Indians of this locality. He has given his program in all the schools in Wichita Falls. It is understood that he has a splendid program which will be good as entertainment and valuable educationally. The pupils are urged to see the program Friday afternoon. The advance ticket sales will be in charge of the pep squad.

Doctor Taylor, District Governor of the Rotary Club of Brownwood, will speak to the student body Tuesday morning, November 20th.

Crowell Crushes Bulldog Hopes

Smokey Shafer
The Bulldogs suffered their first real defeat of the season when the Wildcats of Crowell completely overran them for a score of 53 to 0. They were unable to cope with Todd, and Patten and Dunn stopped the Dogs offense cold.

Todd performed in his usual style and scored in every quarter of the game. Rose, Bulldog end made history when he stopped Todd on two consecutive plays throwing him for a loss on both. The star from Crowell handles the ball on most every offense play and is a mainstay in the defense. Todd is the fastest man who has performed in the local field this season and probably the fastest and headiest player in this district.

On the defense Crowell had two of the best men in this part of the country, Patten, who plays end on the offense and on the defense shifts to tackle with Dunn, who is also all-district material, giving the Wildcats a pair of tackles who stop things just before they start.

Burkburnett was outclassed and in their defeat also lost any chance they had at the district title. This race is between Crowell and Olney now with the Wildcats having quite an edge according to the Dope, which of course means nothing.

The Bulldogs have two more conference games and one with the class A Electra team. One of the conference games will probably not be played due to the fact that Archer City wants to forfeit, so we will play Chillicothe on Thanksgiving Day which will close the season.

Starting Next Week

In the next issue of the Star will be found the first of a series of Articles on the objectives and values of each department in our school system. Each of these articles will attempt to show the value of the department to the general educational program.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross was started in 1863 at an unofficial international conference held at Geneva, Switzerland. The next year fourteen countries had organized societies. In 1914 there were thirty-eight national Red Cross societies and within ten years twenty-two more were officially organized.

The purpose of the Red Cross, when organized, was solely to render aid to sick and wounded soldiers on battlefields and in military hospitals, in time of war. But nations are not usually in a state of war, and not many years after the Red Cross was organized, it found opportunity to exercise its humanitarian impulses in relieving distress due to great calamities, such as earthquakes, great fires, famines, and floods.

The American Red Cross was organized by Clara Barton in 1881. It was incorporated by the United States Congress in 1905. By that law the government assumed the right to control its operations. The president of the United States is the president of the American Red Cross, but detailed operations is in the hands of officers appointed by the president.

The societies in different countries are not officially connected, but they work in harmony through the International Red Cross Committee, which has its headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland. The Red Cross Society in each nation is supported either by government appropriations or by voluntary contributions, or both. The week immediately following Armistic Day has been set aside, in the United States, as Red Cross Week. During this week the general public is asked to make voluntary contributions to carry on the necessary work that is being done by the American Red Cross. If a little additional comment might be pardoned, certainly no better and worth while cause could be contributed to.

Assembly Program

A very interesting assembly program was presented to the student body Friday morning.

A piano solo by Jeanette Davis and a piano quartette by Jeanette Davis, Jeanell Gregory, Vera Mae Johnson, and Mary Louise Kelley was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Beaseley, rector of the Episcopal church of Wichita Falls, related his experiences of the war both on the battlefield and as a prisoner of the Germans.

Mr. Hill and Mr. Westerfield talked of the game with Crowell Friday night. Captain Bentley also gave the aims of the team.

Sophomores Join NRA

The Sophomore class has originated a pledge and an aim, every time a member is tardy or absent he has to repeat them when he comes to school.

The pledge:
"I pledge my support to my school and to my section and, as a loyal student, I will do my part to achieve these aims."

75 per cent on the honor roll.
99 per cent perfect attendance.
No failing grades in any subject.
The Soph's are doing their part too.

High School Library

Fifty-three of the 218 new books have arrived, and will be ready for circulation as soon as the librarian accessions and catalogs them. Among the interesting titles to be found among the new books are: Adam's "Log of a Cowboy," Aldrich's "Story of a Bad Boy," Bailey's "Blue Window," Boyd's "Drums," Ferber's "Cimmarron," London's "The Call of the Wild," Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," Westcott's "David Harum," Dobie's "Coronado's Children and On the Open Range," Fraser's "Heroes of the Air," Halliburton's "The Glorious Adventure," Lindbergh's "We", and many others.

A special effort is being made by the high school pupils to take the best of care of the rebound and the new books. A poster on display in the library pictures a little book man, and contains the following words in large black letters: "Once upon a time a library book was overheard speaking, and this was what it said—'Please don't handle me with dirty hands or leave me out in the rain, or make marks on me with your pen or pencil, or lean on me with your elbows (it hurts), or open me and lay me face down on the table. You wouldn't like to be treated so'. If students will heed what the book-man says, they will be better citizens as far as the library is concerned."

The sixteenth national Book Week (November 11-17) has been celebrated in the library by the display of posters and by an exhibit of book jackets from the new books.

Supplication
Oh mighty shiek, before thy throne creations weep
The blood of flocks doth stain thy feet,
Though the ragged child with naught to eat,
Doth roam the land and crowd the street,
Though wanton waste of bread and meat,
And cotton too, thy rath doth meet
While you distain both corn and wheat
Both cattle, hogs, so why not sheep?
Hath spilled their blood, thy will to meet
Oh mighty one to the we creep,
That we may get thy mark so sweet,
We pay thee tax both great and small,
To us left no say at all
We dare not sow, we dare not reap
But only hovel at thy feet,
Art thou the beast the scriptures name
With seven heads, oh dragon king,
For thus 'tis written word for word
So read it now, hath it occurred?
And he caused all both great and small
Rich and poor, free and bound
To receive a mark in their right hand,
Or in their forehead,
And that no man might buy or sell,
Save he hath the mark
Or the name of the beast,
Or the number of his name.

Henry Ford Begins Industrial Drive

Dearborn, Mich., Nov. 1—Henry Ford announced today the beginning soon of another of those titanic industrial drives which, from time to time throughout the last 30 years, have caused the world to wonder and, in the minds of millions, given him the stature of a modern giant.

Early in the day Mr. Ford announced plans to build, during the coming year, "1,000,000 cars or better". Later in the day, officers, engineers and statistics of the Ford Motor Company, asked for figures showing the magnitude of the movement in terms of goods and dollars, disclosed that commitments have been going out for several weeks on a buying and productive program that will run into a total cost of more than $415,000,000, to be spent during 1935 and 6,000 suppliers scattered all over the United States.

When large scale production is resumed—now planned for early in December—the Ford monthly payroll in the Detroit district alone will run to $6,861,000.

In discussing his industry Mr. Ford indicated that "so far as the Ford Motor Company is concerned the depression is over".

"Our experience during the last six months," he said, "and what we see in the future tells us a year of improved business is ahead."
"Do you think 1935 will end the depression?" he was asked.
"Why, the depression would be over for the whole country very soon," he answered, "if American industrialists would just forget these alphabet scheme and take hold of their industries and run them with good sound American business sense. They should take hold of their country, too, in the same way and run it with good, sound American common sense."

The new industrial drive will call for considerable additional employment but company officials stressed the fact that more than the company's labor requirements is already available in Detroit and its suburbs. For the last several months approximately 55,000 men have been employed in the Detroit area. At present, with the plants re-tooling this number has been greatly reduced.

When production is resumed all additional jobs will be given to former Ford workmen or other mechanics in the Detroit area.

It is estimated that when the drive to produce 1,000,000 cars is in full swing, 87,000 men will be employed.

The project calls for the spending of tremendous sums. For example, it is estimated that the bringing in of raw materials will require 164,000 cars and outbound products 160,000 cars, involving payment of freight bills, largely to the railroads, of $74,000,000.

The greatest single item listed in the 1935 Ford production budget is $100,000,000 for bodies. This huge sum will be spent almost entirely in purchases from the Detroit body building industry.

Almost as great is the total to be spent for steel, iron and non-ferrous metals which runs to $75,000,000. The bulk of this, $53,600,000, will go for steel, purchased in the open market, which will be in addition to steel made in the present Ford mills. A total of $6,618,000 will be spent for malleable castings and $2,683,000 for grey iron, exclusive of that produced by the greatest foundry in the world at the River Rouge Plant.

Requirements of non-ferrous metals are topped by aluminum, of which $6,000,000 is to be purchased. Other such requirements are—copper, $3,600,000, lead, $1,443,000, tin, $1,151,000, zinc $337,750.

The rubber industry will benefit tremendously from Ford expenditures. A total of $22,500,000 is scheduled to be spent for tires, and $6,000,000 for crude rubber.

Materials required for finish of Ford car bodies will require spending of another $32,000,000. Of this total $16,727,000 will go for upholstery cloth, carpet, leather and other body-trimming materials, $11,000,000 for glass, and $4,300,000 for paints and lacquers.

Lumber requirements, including that necessary for boxing, crating, and shipping braces will run to $3,000,000.

Of major importance is the large sum to be spent by Ford in extension of the present steel mills and in expansion of the present power plant to supply the added power required by the new strip mill. This will total $14,000,000. In addition Ford is spending $2,500,000 for machine tools and fixtures.

Additional sums including costs of fuel and unproductive labor—such as that required for moving machinery, cleaning, washing windows, etc.—brings the estimated total cost of 1935 operations to more than $415,000,000.

Depression Found In World War

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 8.—Voicing his belief "that the primary cause of the world depression is found in the World War and that primary economic necessity for the future is the prevention of war," Peter Molyneux, of Dallas, editor of The Texas Weekly and trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, addressed the Academy of Political Science at its annual dinner meeting in New York Wednesday night, November 7th. The dinner was presided over by Owen D. Young, president of the Academy, and the two speakers were Mr. Molyneux and Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War.

The subject shared by Mr. Molyneux and Mr. Baker was "The Outlook for World Peace, and Mr. Molyneux, Texas' best-known economist in the East, emphasized that a policy of economic cooperation between the United States and the world was necessary for international peace. "The immediate task in relation to the prevention of war," he declared, "is to check the process of disintegration which had its origin in the World War and to begin the work of world reconstruction through patient and persistent international cooperation".

The Texas editor warned that the tendency toward narrow economic nationalism in the United States and other countries were aggravating conditions of suspicion and unrest, and declared it was reasonable for the United States, as the richest nation, to assume leadership in guiding the world from beneath the menacing war clouds by pursuing policies to promote sympathetic understanding between nations through economic channels of trade.

Mr. Molyneux reminded, however, that these policies must spring from the American people themselves and that leaders in thought must educate the people to that end. "There will never be a dominant public opinion in the United States in support of a program of international cooperation until the American people become convinced that such a program is essential to their welfare," he told his large audience. "There must be a conviction that only through such a program can genuine recovery be attained in the United States and economic and social progress be resumed."

Cattle Must Have Health Certificate

According to Dr. L. L. Lucy, county health officer, all cattle coming into Wichita county must be accompanied by a health certificate, showing that they have been tested for T. B. within 60 days. Any cattle being brought into Wichita county without a health certificate the owner of same will be subject to a fine of from $25.00 to $100.00, according to the health officer.

Winter Proof Service Offered By Magnolia

"Every fall shows an increasing number of people preparing their cars for winter driving, according to information coming through our dealers and service stations," said E. P. Angus, Vice President in charge of sales of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

"These people," Mr. Angus explained, "know that much of the pleasure and economy of winter driving is lost with a car lubricated for summer driving." With the first chill morning comes hard starting. Motors warm up slowly. Batteries got their hardest use.

It was for the purpose of making cold weather driving more economical and more pleasant that Magnolia's Winter-Proof Service was first offered.

"This seven-point winter-proof service," Mr. Angus explained, "thoroughly prepares the car against the hazards of cold weather driving. The crankcase is flushed and filled with quick winter Mobiloil. The chassis is lubricated with Mobil-grease for winter performance. The differential and transmission are cleaned out and freshly lubricated with Mobilgear lubricants that do not harden in cold weather. The radiator is cleaned and flushed and if necessary the correct amount of anti-freeze put in. The battery is examined and refilled for the heavier load it must pull in cold weather. The tank is filled with winter grade Mobilgas. Autoists in the Southwest are rapidly being educated to Mobilize for Winter."

Historical Exhibits At Fairview

"The Different Periods of the United States History" has been the theme around which the civic, health and home department in the History Department of Fairview High School this week.

This department has had on display a historical exhibition from the museum in the Teacher's College, Denton, Texas. This museum is under the management of Dr. J. L. Kingsberry.

Dr. Kingsberry has one of the largest collections of colonial and historical articles of any museum in Texas.

Historical placards were used to depict the progress of our nation including an exact copy of an old spinning wheel, old fashioned bed warmer, and many other objects of interest.

The history classes were greatly benefited by this exhibit and through this means of study, the student can really see for himself just how people of olden times lived, the vast improvement and also see how our country is progressing in modern day work," says Mr. Brand of this department.

Among this collection was a miniature copy of the ship, Santa Maria, First New England Primer, Pot Hooks used on the England fireplaces, Flint-lock Blunderbus guns, tooth puller which is very crude, sythe, bleeding knife and quill sharpener. In the Indian collections the student studied the bow and arrows, mocassins, beads, medicine man's tom-tom, leather trousers, and a very interesting Indian calendar.

The classes expressed through intensive interest their appreciation and enjoyment of such an unusual interesting display. Through this museum exhibits there has been new interest created and a lot of new historical research work has begun by this department through the enthusiasm of this collection.

This exhibit will be used in the Burkburnett schools this week and from there it will be sent to Wichita Falls.

Oil Used To Construct Highways

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 7.—When Col. Edwin L. Drake struck oil at Titusville, Pa. seventy-five years ago on the first well drilled for oil in the United States, not only did he fail to visualize the use of this petroleum as fuel for modern transportation vehicles but little did he suspect that it would be used to build hard-surfaced highways over the country.

However, today more than five millions of gallons of oil, or an average of ten millions for each state, are used yearly in this country to construct asphalt or bituminous highways, made from petroleum, according to Wm. B. Way, general manager of the International Petroleum Exposition and chairman of the executive committee of the Fourth Annual National Road Oil Congress. Highway engineers, legislators, civic leaders and others interested in low-initial and maintenance cost, hard surfaced, dust-free, non-skid highways are invited to attend the congress in Tulsa, November 22nd and 23rd. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads experts will demonstrate the latest methods of laying these roads.

A Challenge To Young People

During the past forty years tens of thousands of young men and women of many nationalities and denominations have sought free training for Christian service at home or abroad offered by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. More than 2,000 students enrolled in its Day and Evening Schools last year. While for certain special courses a high school background is required, and college training desirable, yet grammar school training will admit to its General Course. English is taught in any deficient in its use.

The Bible ranks first in all Institute courses, but instruction is furnished in such subjects as Sunday School Administration, Daily Vacation Bible School, Gospel Music Public Speaking, Home Economics, Hygiene, and Manual Training. In special courses are offered Theology, Momiletics, Church History, Apologetics, Hebrew, Yiddish, Greek, and medical subjects for foreign mission work.

There are three terms a year, Fall Winter, and Summer, but students may enter at any time. An illustrated catalogue will be mailed on request. Address, 153 Institute Place, Chicago Avenue Station, Chicago, Ill.

C. P. TAYLOR LOSES SUIT

Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court Thursday rendered judgment for the defendants in the case of C. L. Taylor against G. E. Philpy and others, assessing costs of suit upon the plaintiff.

The plaintiff, an evangelist who has resided in Burkburnett during the past four years, sought $25,000 damages for alleged defamation of character. Elders of the church, he claimed, damaged him heavily by means of written charges brought against him and later withdrawn.

Charges brought against Taylor were untrue, and he was damaged to the extent of $1, according to the jury's findings. The jury held, however, that the elders were performing their duty as elders, and were acting without malice, in bringing such charges. Upon the basis of that verdict, Judge Montgomery held that the plaintiff could not recover damages.

Drouth Hurts Home

Five hundred homeless boys and girls are cared for and educated annually in the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa. This institution was founded fifty-two years ago, and is non-sectarian. It receives children from all part of the United States, and is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the midwest. It is supported entirely by the voluntary contributions of people from all sections of the country. It receives no appropriations of any kind, and employs no traveling agents, but depends upon the goodness and generosity of kindly-disposed people. It conducts its own school; its own well-equipped hospital, and also a department for dependent, aged women.

Because of the serious effects of the drouth throughout the midwest, the Home's receipts have been greatly effected, and the Home finds it necessary to appeal to the public for liberal Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings to enable it to properly provide for the little army of helpless children under its care. This work sorely needs prompt and liberal help in its commendable efforts in behalf of the children, and whatever amount you are able to send now will be the means of helping to keep the doors open, and of providing food and care for the greatly increased number of destitute children who constantly apply for help.

Please send all contributions to Christine Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the same will be duly acknowledged and credits in the official publication of the institution, in which all financial reports appear, a copy of which will be mailed to you.

Cotton producers throughout the entire South will be provided soon by the federal department of agriculture with pamphlets explaining the Bankhead law and the farmers' referendum which is to be taken sometime in December on the continuation of that law during the coming year.

This announcement was made Tuesday morning by G. C. McGown, county farm agent, for the agricultural adjustment administration. The exact date for the referendum has not yet been announced, but will depend largely upon the completion and distribution of ballots, printed information, and tally sheets.

ments in motor construction which produce superior power and speed have introduced new requirements for cold operation and protection.

It is especially engine lubrication requirements that the modern automobile differs from earlier models, both summer and winter. Chevrolet owners are being told that it would be better to use light winter oils all year than to use summer oils after cold weather arrives. In short, it is asserted, there is virtually no danger of a motorist's using too light an oil; the real danger is that many drivers will cause serious trouble by using oils not light enough.

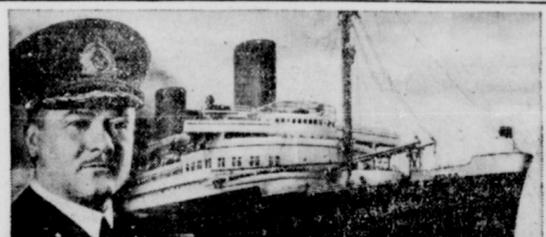

Grades of oil to meet the new conditions are known as 20-W and 10-W. Chevrolet recommends 20-W when the atmosphere runs between 75 degrees and 32 (freezing); 10-W for temperatures from freezing to 15 degrees below zero; and a mixture of 10-W and 10 per cent of kerosene for still lower temperatures.

The main change that makes advisable the use of lighter oils is the efficiency of crankcase ventilating systems, which prevent the thinning out of engine oil in use. Thinner oil, therefore, is required in the beginning to serve the modern high-speed engines, with their closer fitted bearings and heavier loads.

The modern theory is to use oil sufficiently light to flow immediately to all the bearings of a cold engine the moment it starts. The reason is that an engine is extremely liable to damage in the first few minutes of cold operation through lack of lubrication, if the oil is heavy and slow-flowing.

The use of light oils as recommended by car manufacturers will, besides giving better lubrication, end one of winter's chief annoyances, that is, difficult starting. In sub-freezing temperatures, when the starter fails to turn over the engine fast enough to start it, or can't turn it over at all its failure is because the engine oil in the bearings and cylinders has become so thick that it binds the parts. In cold weather, too, battery power is reduced; and light oil, therefore, is a great battery saver for, to start the engine, the battery need work but a short time and at a reduced output.

S. S. Bremen On Century Voyage

A NEW epoch in maritime history was begun when the North German Lloyd liner BREMEN arrived in New York harbor five years ago and immediately established, not merely a record for speed, but also a new standard for transatlantic travel. Curiously enough, this achievement became more than a "seven days wonder," and the BREMEN has not only retained her reputation in the maritime world, but has been a source of admiration by her consistent and noteworthy performance from that day until the present, piling up an enviable record of service and today, upon completing the first half of her one hundredth round-trip, she is pointed to as an outstanding example.

With her arrival at New York on November 8th, the BREMEN will have finished the first lap of her century voyage. This, in itself is no extraordinary achievement, were it not for the fact that she has maintained, during all these years, a schedule of arrivals and departures or clock-like regularity, in all weathers, through all seasons and under all conditions. This record is due in no small measure to the man on the BREMEN'S bridge, Commodore Leopold Ziegenbein, who brought her over on her maiden voyage.

By an odd coincidence, Commodore Ziegenbein celebrates not only the one hundredth voyage but also his sixtieth birthday which occurs on November 16th, the date of the BREMEN'S arrival in her home port, Bremerhaven, on the completion of this century voyage.

In these past five years, the BREMEN has run up a mileage of 735,000 miles; has transported 232,195 passengers, among whom were included the president of the United States, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who accompanied by his son, Elliot, crossed on her.

An analysis of the BREMEN'S performance involves figures running into many ciphers—whether referring to the number of passengers or the number of dollars spent on her in this country for her maintenance. A survey of expenditures incurred in New York from the time the BREMEN made her initial appearance on July 22, 1929, until now, discloses the startling fact that almost $11,000,000 has been disbursed. Of this enormous sum, an amount of $982,500 (the major portion of which represents actual payments of wages) was spent for miscellaneous items including pilotage, wharfage and stevedoring; overtime for customs' officers; policing; tug boat services; electric current, steam and telephone services; fresh water; $7,639,625 paid the fuel bill; while the amount of the world's finest foods purchased for the ship's larders cost many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In addition, appreciable outlays were made for office rent, advertising and agents' commissions.

Commodore Ziegenbein was born in Celia, Germany, November 16, 1874, he first went to sea in 1890 on the bark FURST BISMARCK, later on the bark NOMIA, entering the services of the North German Lloyd in 1900. Leopold Ziegenbein commanded the S.S. KONGBENG. He served as Second Officer on the KAISER WILHELM II, and the KRONPRINZESSIN CECILIE. In 1920 he became First Officer on the S.S. SEYDLITZ and in 1924 the S.S. COLUMBUS.

In 1927 he became master of the S.S. BERLIN. He supervised the building of the BREMEN. In December, 1932, he was appointed Commodore.

Robert Armstrong

Robert Armstrong is looking a new book of etiquette. It is that Emily Post's contribution to the art of proper social deportment offered no solution to a problem that has been troubling Bob since he and Ann Sothern made Columbia picture, "The Hell Cat" which shows at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight.

Here is the problem. Five minutes after Bob was introduced Miss Sothern by Director Al Rogell he had to slap her in the mouth. He didn't even know her first name. And, Bob always was taught to slap a lady in the mouth unless at least knew her first name.

"Miss Sothern, meet Mr. Armstrong," said Director Rogell.

"I'm pleased to know you," said Ann Sweetley.

"The pleasure is mine," said gallantly.

"Camera!" said Rogell, with authority.

"Socko!" went Ann's little right to Ann's pretty mouth.

"Cut!" said Rogell, "That's all. And Bob started his search for a new book of etiquette.

"The Hell Cat" is an amusing comedy-drama of a newspaper reporter and a spitfire society girl who are taming. It has laughs, tense situations and action. The cast includes, besides Armstrong and Sothern, Baker, J. Carrol Naish, Pratt and Irving Bacon.

"Last Gentleman"
Palace Sun.-Mon.

To George Arliss, life itself is a stage, from the endlessly changing scenes of which he draws the characters he in turn portrays.

From "Disraeli" down through Nathan Rothschild in "The House of Rothschild," the portraits he presents on celluloid are a composite of characters as they are known in historical record plus the characteristics of those he has known in the course of a long and observant life.

Even his fictional characters, admits, are taken from life. An ample of this is found in his role "The Last Gentleman," his last Joseph M. Schenck-Darryl F. Zanuck production for 20th Century Pictures, which is the current feature attraction at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.
