This column isn't intended to be a series of commercial notices, but sometimes we just can't help letting some slip by.

Especially when our journeys about the town take us into constant contact with businessmen.

Take for instance, a recent conversation with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oakley at the Ranch House Restaurant.

The Oakleys purchased the business in December, and are quite surprised at the increase in volume of business.

Sunday dinner crowds are increasing every week, and catfish dinners are simply going wild.

In fact, Oakley reports that his purchases of fresh catfish has increased more than 214 times in the past few months.

The Oakleys, formerly of Wichita Falls, have moved to Burk, and are mighty happy with the town, and the acceptance of their catfish dinners with Burk and area diners.

Congratulations to Mrs. Wonda Young, on her election as president of the Wichita Falls Board of Trade. Mrs. Young is manager of Bunge Grain Elevators here. Another Bunge employee, Curley James, was named to the official weights committee.

Big John Mahaffey, a newcomer to the Burk business scene at Big John's Barbe-que Drive-In, reports business is good. He does want to apologize to his customers for lack of some items, especially Swedish Creme ice cream. He expects a new machine in soon, probably before you read this. John also has announced that he will be open for business seven days a week, due to popular demand.

Members of the First United Methodist Church in Burk are happy to tell you that their pastor, Rev. Don Youngblood, will be with them for another year. Don was kept in his present position during the annual re-alignment of Methodist pastor of the district.

A beautiful steeple has been erected at St. Jude's Catholic Church and a bell will be installed soon. We'll have the details for you as soon as available.

CLYDE VAMVORAS MOVES TO 3rd PLACE IN BRONC RIDING

Clyde Vamvoras, 27, of Burkburnett, won the bareback bronc riding event at a rodeo in Glade-water, Tex., June 11-14, according to the Rodeo Cowboys Association, which sanctioned the rodeo.

The association, based at Denver, Colo., said Vamvoras rode two horses for a total score of 144. He won $704, which pushed his winnings total in that event to more than $8,000 this year, and moved him into third place in the bareback bronc riding standings, the association said.

Vamvoras won the bareback bronc riding championship last year by winning a total of $25,832, the most money ever won in that event in a year, the association said.

Bicycle Safety School Scheduled Here For Saturday Morning

A bicycle inspection, to make bike riding safer for boys and girls, as well as a written examination, is slated to be held in Burkburnett Saturday morning at the First United Methodist Church parking lot.

Following the instruction under the supervision of Chief of Police Buck Abbott, the children will be shown a movie at the Texas Electric Company Reddy Room.

The movie, originally announced for the Town Hall, has

GARBAGE FEE IS RAISED

The cost of living will take another jump for residents of Burkburnett, effective July 1, but they will be breathing purer air as a result.

An increase of seventy-five cents per month for garbage collection was approved by the Burkburnett City Commission Monday night.

The increase was made necessary, city fathers reported, due to a new state law which prohibits burning of trash in municipal dumps for cities the size of Burkburnett.

Burkburnett, beginning July 1, will turn to the sanitary landfill operation, as required by state law.

The change required purchase of a front-end loader at the cost of $19,900.

Varied problems came under discussion by the council.

These included waiver of a performance bond by R. B. Swinner, low bidder, on a six-block paving project at the last commission meeting, and giving authority to City Manager Gary Bean for an engineering survey for improvements of drainage on County Road.

Calvary Baptist To Ordain Three

Sunday night, June 22nd Calvary Baptist Church will ordain three men to the office of deacon.

The three are William (Bill) Thomas, Claude Hearne and Thomas Bryan. These men have qualified and proved themselves through the years.

Visiting pastors and deacons will be there to help form the ordaining council and pastors Terry Don Cooper and Virgil Jones will bring the ordaining messages.

The public is welcomed to these services this coming Sunday night. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Happy Birthday Frank Simmons

There will be no cake, nor will there be a big party, but it's Happy Birthday today for Frank Simmons of 402 West Third.

His 80th, in fact. Simmons, who lives there with his wife, will have one of his three sons home for the event, at least.

A retired oil field worker, Simmons drifted into Burkburnett with the oil boom in 1919 after working in the Illinois fields.

The couple stayed here until 1926, tried working in Michigan and their native Indiana, then returned to Burk in 1932 — this time to stay.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Simmons are natives of Indiana, but found that Burk was the place to return to, and to stay.

Their activities have been slowed somewhat during the past years. Simmons managed to get around some with the help of a cane, and Mrs. Simmons admits she must rest frequently while cleaning the house.

But both believe they have had a happy and fruitful life. Member of the First Baptist Church, they regret not being able to take a more active part in church activities and services.

But they are proud that their children, two daughters and three sons, have remained active in their religious work. One son is a deacon, and a grandson plans to become a Baptist preacher as soon as his military service is over.

They have 12 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren to help them observe the birthday, though not all could make the trip to Burkburnett.

MARIHUANA AND THE LAW

It may be years before science determines the full physical effects on a person's health of smoking marihuana. In the meantime, there is another side to marihuana that should be remembered, particularly by young people. Marihuana smoking is a criminal offense. Persons with criminal records are handicapped all through life. In many states, a person with a police record must meet special conditions to obtain or renew a driver's license. Conviction can prevent a person from being able to enter a profession such as medicine, law or teaching. It can make it difficult for him to get a responsible position in business or industry. Special hearings are necessary before he can hold a government job.

In addition to the legal penalties of marihuana smoking, the health element is something for youthful pot smokers to keep in mind. Statements being reported by students that the use of marihuana is "medically safe" are not supported by scientific evidence. It is hoped that research now underway may add to the little currently known about the effects of the use of marihuana. Eventually, more will be known about marihuana and health. In the meantime, there is no mystery about marihuana and the law.

A CASE FOR THE SHERIFF

Taxpayers can kick about high taxes, but little good it will do them if they continue to measure the performance of their elected representatives solely by their ability to push through spending programs that benefit local constituents. A U. S. Representative George H. Mahon, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, declares, "Following the right course in national fiscal affairs is not alone the decision of government. The will to bend to the job of containing inflationary pressures must spring from all segments of the economy—from business, industry, labor, the people generally. Everybody has a stake in it. Everybody has an obligation to restraint and discipline. . . . Men have recognized from the beginning that one of the chief dangers to stability of popular government is that it will throw away or erode its self-restraint and discipline." A tax payer's revolt by people who want the "other fellow" to make the sacrifices is about like the spendthrift who thinks he can beat the bill collectors if he refuses to pay his bills. He soon becomes a case for the sheriff.

FACT AND OPINION

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reports that, as of December 31, 1968, the United States had 78 nuclear power plants under construction or in the planning stage—including reactors already ordered. Thirteen plants are in operation, and this total of 91 plants will have a generating capacity of 72,842,100 kilowatts.

Kitchen Counter That Cooks

CORNING'S Counter That Cooks (it literally does) promises to be one of the most exciting developments in electric cooking in decades. In the past, gas and electric rangetops have had one drawback—cleaning exposed coils or food accidentally spilled or cooked over. The introduction of a perfectly flat, easily cleaned cooking surface should bring sighs and smiles from all housewives.

Doodlers Improve Penmanship

SOMETIMES it's hard to tell a child's doodles from his handwriting, but Dri Mark Doodlers will inspire your child to new writing skills. In packages of six (at $1.00) and twelve (at $1.98) happy colors, these fine-tipped water-soluble markers glide easily over paper...make writing look doubly attractive. Kids will take new pride in their penmanship, will find them great for doodling, too.

Greek God Time

It's the time of year to leap around the tennis courts and run headlong into the waves. If you move around the courts like a large marshmallow and sit on the beach swaddled in terry towels, your Greek god image is poor.

There is something that can help you. It's a well balanced diet and lots of coffee. A diet full of lean meat, seafood, few carbohydrates and many cool, green, leafy things will give you energy and a body sound enough for your mind. Coffee is important because it contains not one calorie but much niacin. Five or six cups, say the scientists, supply about half the average daily requirement of niacin. Coffee is the up that doesn't bring you down.

It also goes well with another adult minimum requirement, milk. Since every adult needs at least a pint every day you can save calories and enjoy skimmed milk concocted into groovy beverages. Like this Cool 'n Creamy Lo: take two cups extra strength cold coffee, two tablespoons of sugar substitute, two tablespoons of powdered non-fat milk, one can of drained fruit cocktail, and one teaspoon of lemon rind. Place everything in a blender and whip it at high speed until it's foamy. Serve it over coffee ice cubes in tall glasses with a garnish and think about other non-fattening iced coffees and the glory that was Greece.

The No-Pest Buzz-Out

THAT persistent buzzing in your ears means the flies and mosquitoes are here. Head for the supermarket for NO-PEST® Strip Insecticide, the new, efficient way to get rid of small flying insect hordes indoors. Shell Chemical Company's amazing flying insect "controller" is a plastic strip containing an insecticide which you place in a decorative gold foil holder. Hang NO-PEST in an average room (8'x10'x12') and it gives protection—day and night—for up to 3 months. It's also sold in drug, variety, hardware stores and Shell service stations. Shell Chemical Company is a division of Shell Oil Company.

What to Do Until the Barbecue's Ready

The cookout season is in full swing and it's great fun eating out of doors, but sometimes it's hard to get your barbecue timing just right. The charcoal either refuses to catch or won't burn down to proper heat; the chicken or corn on the cob needs another half hour. Meanwhile, appetites sharpened by the wonderful aroma need quieting.

This is the time for a cool beverage and a light snack. Spiced Beef Broth Mist is a likely candidate. It's so easy to pour the condensed beef broth right from the can over crushed ice, add a dash of Worcestershire or "Tabasco" sauce and sip contentedly. Or, pre-chill and present in an insulated bucket. Serve with crisp vegetable nibbles, or a zesty avocado dip.

SPICED BEEF BROTH MIST

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
- Dash Worcestershire or Tabasco
- Crushed ice
- Cucumber slices, if desired

For each 2 servings, fill roomy glasses or mugs with crushed ice. Pour beef broth, right from the can, over ice. Add seasoning. Garnish with cucumber slices, if desired.

BEEF BROTH V-8 COCKTAIL

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
- 1 can (6 ounces) "V-8" Juice
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire
- Lemon wedges
- Shaved ice

Combine beef broth, "V-8" and Worcestershire. Fill roomy glasses with shaved ice. Garnish each serving with a lemon wedge. Makes about 4 servings.

TFB President Sidney Dean welcomed the secretaries at an opening banquet June 8. They also viewed a film on the history, philosophy and activities of Farm Bureau.

Girl Scouts Enter Float In Parade

There was a big "hub-bub" on the corner of Forest and Rosewood last Wednesday where approximately 50 Girl Scouts joined as one team to decorate a hay wagon loaned by Mr. Raymond Schroeder for the Boomtown Rodeo Parade.

They were divided into four teams and spent over two hours on the gala float. The girls were furnished with tape, poster paper, colored pens, tacks, tissue, wire, glue, and crepe paper.

Several troops made flowers and bouquets at their troop meetings. All the work and decorating was done by the girls except cutting out the large five-foot trefoil. Mr. Pete Martin generously used his saw and his time to cut out the Girl Scout emblem.

Mrs. Madge O'Leary, service unit director for Burkburnett, and Mrs. Louise Newton, Troop Consultant for Burkburnett, made the technical arrangements for the float. Mrs. Sandra Lucia, Cadette Leader, Mrs. Mamie Ward, Junior Troop 23 Leader, Mrs. Vera Oelschlager, Troop Organizer for Burkburnett and Junior Troop 45 Leader, and Mrs. Carolyn Hartwell, Junior Troop 59 Leader, were helpful leaders. Mr. Scott Newton, Mr. Bill O'Leary, and Mr. Don Lucia were helpful fathers. Mr. Charles Hofack kindly allowed the Girl Scouts to store the finished float in his station's garage overnight.

At parade approximately 65 girls rode the float including every type of Girl Scout uniform from every age level in the Scouting program. Mrs. Ward and Mrs. O'Leary wore the official camp uniform of shorts and socks with white blouse. Mrs. Newton wore the official new leaders dress. Mrs. Fern Bloodworth wore the official mariner blue camp uniform. Theresa Herring, senior mariner, wore the senior dress uniform of green.

Debbie Clendenon and Gwen Glazier stood with the trefoil and American flag and wore their cadette dress uniform. Laurel Herron stood with the trefoil and wore her camp uniform. Mrs. Sandra Lucia drove the car and was wearing her official adult camp uniform.

All the girls had a wonderful time waving to the appreciative crowd on the route and singing songs for their pleasure.

for a Better Tomorrow

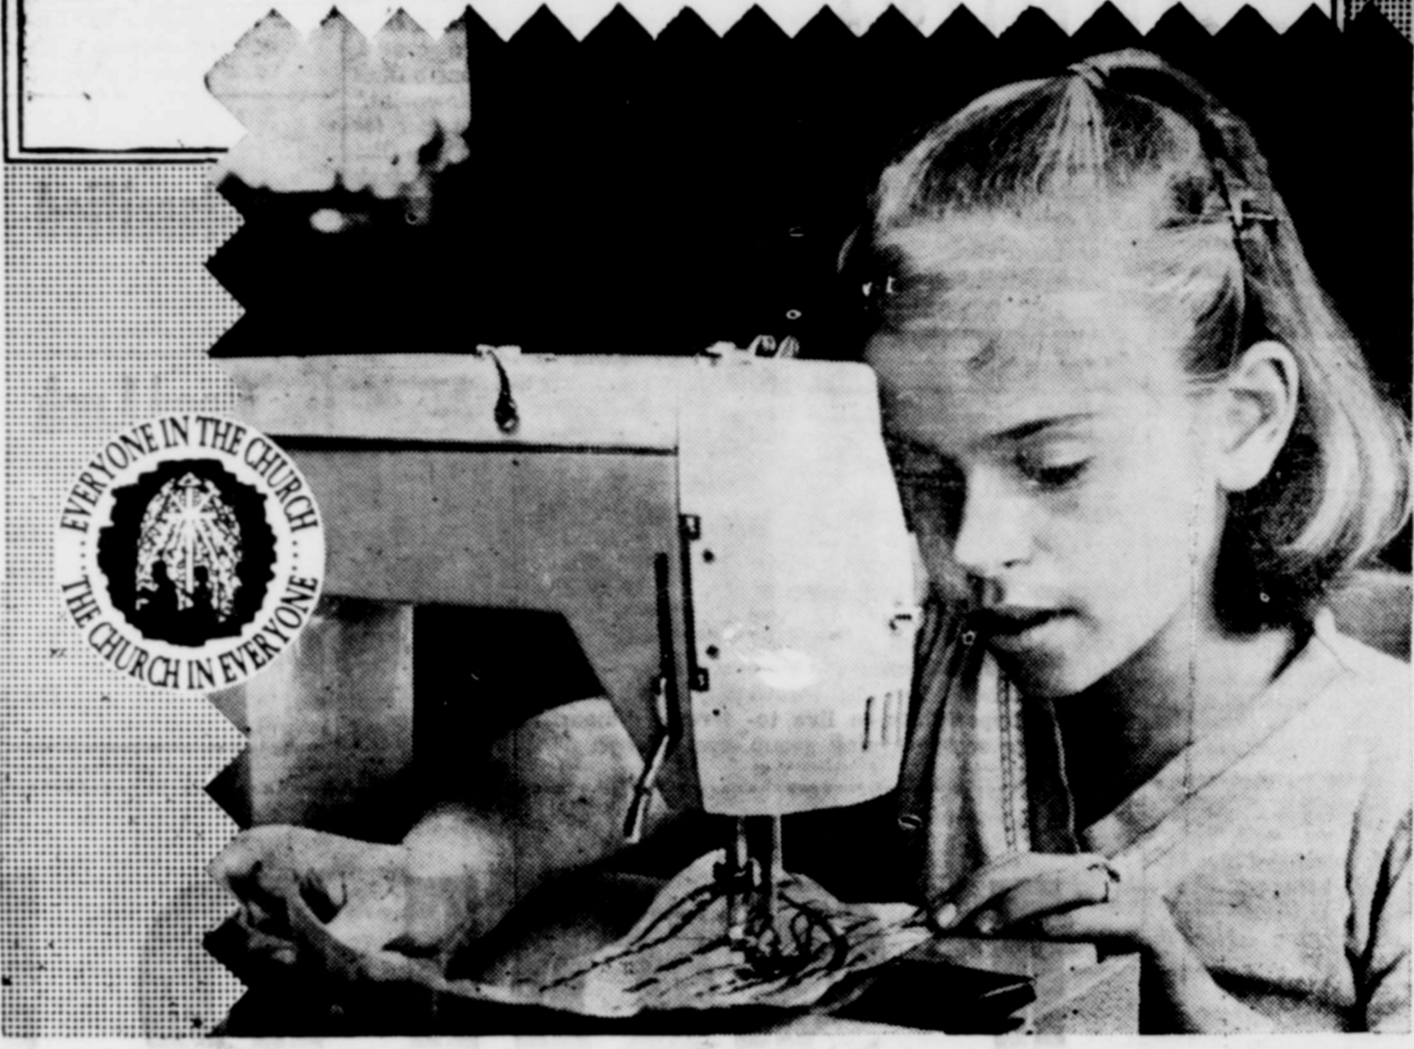

Working, learning to sew... Now, something simple is being prepared and soon her own dresses, and in the future, clothing for her own family. Training is important in the lives of our children.

Spiritual training is a must in the lives of our young ones.

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION AT FIRST SAVINGS TERMED SUCCESS; PRIZES CLAIMED

The Ninth Anniversary celebration now under way at the First Savings and Loan Association of Burkburnett is turning out to be a bigger success than hoped for.

Albert Dillard, president of the institution, said many of the prizes have already been claimed, and many more are awaiting for a lucky reader of the Burk Star.

One of the more interesting prizes will be the cash given for guessing the number of nickles on display in a glass bowl on the counter.

The person guessing the closest will receive $50, with prizes of $25 and $10 offered for the next two best guesses.

Persons making the 5th, 20th, 40th, 60th, 70th and 90th deposits during the month will also be rewarded. They will receive the greater of $10, or $5 for each year they have had an account with the association.

And, if the fire siren happens to blow while you are in the office, it will be worth $10 to that saver.

Not only that, but visitors are invited to register for a drawing to be held on June 30.

To be eligible, a registrant need not have an account with the First Savings and Loan.

Some of the prizes to be drawn for are:

Gasoline for your personal car for the entire month of July at the Burkburnett service station of your choice.

Fifty dollars toward the purchase of a new car at Wolfe Ford Company or Mathis Chevrolet during the month of July.

The electric bill at your residence during the month of July.

All the ice cream you can eat during July on the premises of the Corner Drug Store.

A cash prize of $25. Five cash prizes of $5 each. Or, 2,500 S&H Green Stamps.

The prizes are not transferable, but with a grand array like that, who would want to?

The drawing will be held June 30, and will be announced in the Burk Star.

Registrants need not be present to win.

Dillard, in a letter to the public, expressed his appreciation and satisfaction to the residents of the area who have made the growth of the First Savings and Loan possible.

He stated that since the opening of the institution in 1960, they have assisted in the purchase, upgrading, expansion and refinancing of resident, commercial, farm and ranch property to the extent of some $12,000,000.

Directors of the fast-growing firm are Dillard, president; Phillip Carpenter, William Clement and Jack Mathis.

As of December 31, 1968, savings at the First Savings and Loan reached $6,839,214.

The firm pays dividends of 5.25 per cent on time certificates of $1,000 and above, and dividends of 4.75 per cent on regular passbook accounts on any account.

In addition, during June and July, each new account of $250, or an addition of $250 will entitle a saver to a 16-piece set of stainless steel flatware, or 750 S&H Green Stamps. All savings in by the 10th earn from the first.

Road Runners Visit Burkburnett Ooohs and aaahs echoed through the city Friday as the Road Runners, of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce toured points of interest in Burkburnett.
They were greeted by civic leaders who conducted the tour, including the downtown area with its Heritage Week displays, Leer Manufacturing Company,
The Library, City Hall and CIBA
Products.
The tour started when the visitors were met at the First National Bank Community Room
by City Manager Gary Bean, Chamber of Commerce Manager
Gene Allen, Chamber president Bill Vincent, T. M. Cornelius, Chamber vice president, Dale Lewis, W. T. Zimmerman and Don Youngblood, among others.
The white-hatted visitors, more formally known as the Area Relations Committee of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, were impressed with the fine facilities of the Burkburnett Public Library, where they were guided and escorted by Mrs. John Strayhorn.
At Leer Manufacturing, manager Irv Smith showed how commercial ice makers are manufactured, and explained the firm's distribution facilities.
The manufacture of rodco equipment was displayed by Jim Houston at Jim Houston Rodco Equipment Company, and plastic pipe products for the oil industry were viewed at CIBA Products.

BLIND WORKERS
Proud to Pay Taxes
Difficult as it may be to believe, there are about 5,000 American "blue-collar" workers who actually looked forward with pleasure, not pain, to paying income taxes on April 15. They will have the same feeling next April 15. This "strange" group consists of blind men and women regularly employed in 78 industrial workshops in 35 states.
Nothing, paradoxically, makes a blind worker prouder than to be able to pay income taxes. This act of citizenship that makes most people grumble gives the blind a sense of dignity and worth. For most sightless persons resent charity and sympathy and to be a burden to family and community. What they want is to be self-sufficient, to "pay their own way."
Last year, the 5,000 blind people employed in workshops affiliated with National Industries for the Blind, a non-profit organization, earned almost $9 million in wages. Their average pay rose to a new high of $1.57 an hour, an increase of 40 per cent from $1.12 an hour seven years ago. They produced over 300 different products that grossed $50 million in sales. Of the $50 million, over $22 million represented U.S. Government purchases; commercial sales accounted for about $27 million, $2 million more than the previous year.
Therein lies a dramatic story.
Most of the $2 million increase was due to the growing success in sales of some 75 blind-made household products with the Skilcraft brand name. What makes this noteworthy is that Skilcraft items compete in supermarkets for the consumer's favor with articles made by sighted workers without calling attention to the fact that the products are blind-made.
The public has made this operation a success in a few short years by increasing their Skil-craft purchases of mops, brooms, brushes, aprons, oven mitts and other common household articles.
Experts are agreed that consumers are buying the items not out of sympathy but because they are of high quality and competitively priced.
Prompting the launching of Skilcraft in supermarkets by National Industries for the Blind was the need to carry out its primary mission: to provide more jobs and higher earnings for blind persons. There are some 400,000 legally-blind Americans. An increase of 14 per cent is expected in the next decade.
