Chamber Of Commerce Joins In Fight Against Pornographic Mail

The Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce went on record Wednesday as vehemently opposing the distribution of pornographic materials through the United States mails.

The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors.

President Bill Vincent read a letter from the Marshall, Texas Chamber of Commerce, which stated that the group was organizing a campaign to curb unsolicited pornographic literature, and sought help from other organizations.

Petitions are to be circulated around Burk Burnett, and civic clubs, school classes, PTA's and other groups being asked to help.

The resolution reads, in part, "the members of this organization do not and will not support censorship of literature between consenting adults, but seek to protect the right of each free citizen to designate the type of literature which is to be excluded from his private home and place of business."

Persons who receive unsolicited pornographic material are requested to hold such matter. Three such mailings must be contained with a request to the post office department, in an effort to have their names removed from the mailing lists of firms distributing offensive mail.

Promoted

Mrs. Johnnie Herring of Burk Burnett has received word that her son, Charles Herring, was promoted to 3rd Class Petty Officer, USN, effective July 16, 1969. Charles, a 1966 graduate of Burk High School, entered the Navy, Sept., 1967 and has been stationed near Tokyo, Japan, for the past year.

Joe White Speaks At Monday's Chamber Of Commerce Luncheon

The importance of attracting industry was emphasized by Joe White, of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, when he spoke to the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce at noon Monday.

All residents of a city or town should join in the effort, the speaker said. These residents need not make personal contact with prospective industries, but merely by talking highly of their town, can do much to create a favorable impression.

Persons who criticize their community only criticize themselves, White said.

A community must go forward or backward, White said, and the North Texas area is definitely moving forward.

An industry seeking a new location looks for many things, he said. Among these are a location near their market, a good site and a suitable building, an ample labor market, and adequate transportation facilities.

Since many communities can offer these inducements, an industry takes a closer look at other features — such as good schools, churches, stores, and local government.

One of the prime reasons for attracting industry is to prevent our most important product, our children, from being forced to seek their opportunities elsewhere, White said.

Comparing the birth and death rates, White said that if no one moved into or out of a community, it would show a normal growth of 2½ per cent a year. But job opportunities must be present to retain that additional growth.

"We in this area have everything an industry needs, water, gas, electrical power, moderate temperatures and good people," the speaker concluded.

White was introduced by Roy Magers, program chairman.

Consumer Buying To Be Discussed

Miss Helen Banks, Home Economist for Lone Star Gas Company will be the featured speaker for the August Neighborhood meeting to be held Monday, August 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Burk Burnett Community Service Center.

Mrs. Carol Blankenship, center director, in announcing Monday's meeting stressed the importance of this meeting, in helping the housewife plan and prepare wholesome meals for their families on a limited budget.

All area residents are invited to Monday's meeting.

A VISION COME TRUE

Statistics are not always dry nor are they always tricky. Sometimes they can be downright interesting, especially when they have to do with the performance of a new household appliance, a new auto—or a new airplane. An oven that bakes biscuits in seconds or an auto that can reach 80 miles-an-hour from a standing start in the blink of an eye have nothing on the new Boeing 747 Jet.

Most questions asked about the new plane can be lumped into three general categories touching on safety, comfort and cost. The evidence is overwhelming that some new records will be set in personal security aloft and that passenger comfort will be unprecedented. A passenger in the 747 will in effect be in one of five flying "living rooms" almost 20 feet in width. The ceiling is 8 feet, 6 inches. There are numerous galleys, wall-to-wall carpeting, extra-wide aisles and overall will be an aura of personalized attention. As to costs, a top airline official has this to say, "... The American consumer deserves a few breaks in this world of high prices. An airplane seat... is just about the only place which costs less than it did 5 years ago—or 10 years ago, or 30 years ago. So if we can hold fares, while inflation is inflating everything else 5 to 10 per cent, we will be reducing fares rather substantially."

All in all, the second stage of the jet era promises to open new horizons to travel and business for countless millions of people all over the world. This is a fact that lends substance to the vision of dreamers who hope for a higher, worldwide civilization in the years to come.

BUSINESS CYCLES DATED?

One might ask what has happened to the planned economy. In more tranquil times, the simple goal of planning was to level off the peaks and valleys of business cycles. Federal deficit spending and a few wars have indeed made old-fashioned business cycles a thing of the past. Instead, after years of noncycle progress toward perpetual prosperity, we have arrived in an era of seemingly perpetual tension. The midnight oil is burning while everyone worries over problems that simply didn't exist a few years ago—problems that may prove far more insoluble than those associated with the boom-and-bust fears of old.

Present problems go to the root of government itself. They include such things as monetary stability, the rising threat of repressive controls, and how to slowdown the racing pulse of a country that has become addicted to the narcotic of inflation. How to preserve freedom under representative government has become the name of the game. It is little wonder that we live in an age of perpetual tension. The good old days of business cycles and dollars that were as good as gold had their disadvantages. But, they also had important compensations that were part of a simpler and slower paced world.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "The Fourth Amendment protects citizens from unreasonable searches and seizures. That's all it says, but over the last few years it has become so barnacled with Supreme Court interpretations, all to the advantage of accused criminals, that — in Justice Black's words — its 'original authors would be hard put to recognize their creation.'"

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Inflation is Dangerous

STRIKE settlements are skyrocketing. Until recently experts said that our economy would turn sour whenever wages increased faster than productivity. By means of increased efficiency, productivity can grow somewhat over two percent a year. Right now this sound guideline has been tossed aside by labor leaders. Six percent—not two percent—is the common strike settlement. This means inflation anyway you slice it.

And the worker gets hit the hardest by inflation. America is experiencing the consequences of nearly 36 years of inflationary escalation.

And the results of our long inflationary binge? A mountainous national debt, a dangerous balance of international payments problem, rising costs for everybody, sharply climbing taxes, a plethora of strikes and the depreciation of our currency. For the individual it means the loss of his savings and the erosion of values behind his bonds, insurance policies, annuities and social security benefits.

Let us look at the predicament of the man or woman who retired a few years ago expecting to live comfortably on the income from a pension, social security, savings and an annuity. The money from these sources arrives on the dot, to be sure, but tragically it continues to buy less and less as time goes on. During 1968, according to the Labor Department, the erosion of the dollar's buying power was 4.7%. The thrifty citizen is victimized by inflation.

Our government should aim not only to balance our budget, but to start paying off our national debt. There is scarcely anything that could strengthen the dollar so surely as to begin to cut down our colossal accumulation of indebtedness. In brief, the cure for inflation is to live within our income.

Highway Department Publication Lists State's Public Campgrounds

AUSTIN — Directions to some 350 public campgrounds in Texas are provided in a new publication released by the Texas Highway Department. The new Texas Public Campground Guide gives information about sites which range from primitive to elaborately modern. Directions are provided to undeveloped gulf beaches, and to sites with paved parking areas, electricity and running water. There are even directions to a site one can't get to — by car, that is. (It's a fisherman's camping area on a Gulf coast island.) The guide was published to serve the growing popularity of camping and recreational vehicles. It lists only those campgrounds which are operated by tax-supported agencies — federal, state, county, city and such organizations as river authorities. Private commercial facilities are not included, that information usually being available in commercial tour and camping directories.

The cooperation of many state, federal and local authorities was required to compile this first comprehensive guide to Texas public campgrounds. Cooperating agencies included the Extension Service to Texas A&M University, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, U.S. Corps of Engineers, National Park Service, National Forest Service, chambers of commerce, city and county officials, and others.

Free copies of the new Texas Public Campground Guide are available at Highway Department tourist bureaus and district offices, or by mail from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P.O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

NEW TALK EXPLAINS DRUNK LAW

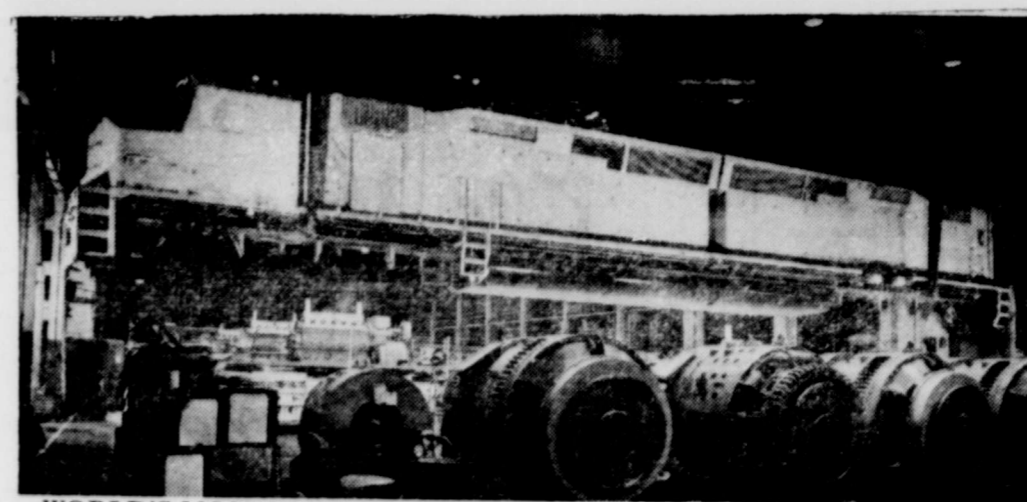

AUSTIN, July 29 — A free illustrated talk explaining the new Texas law which makes chemical breath tests mandatory for drunk driving suspects is now available from the Texas Safety Association.

Entitled "So, What Do We Do Now?", the talk points out that for the past ten years, 68 percent of persons killed in one-car accidents were drunk when they died, as were 43 percent of those killed in two-car accidents. It goes on to estimate that enforcement of the new law can lower those percentages considerably, saving as many as 500 lives a year.

Stating September 1, Texas drivers suspected of driving while intoxicated must take a test to determine the alcohol of their blood. If they refuse the test, they can lose their driver's license.

"So, What Do We Do Now?" describes each step in the administering of the test to a suspect. The talk is designed to give Texans a better understanding of the "breath test" law and procedures which will be followed in enforcing it.

Illustrated with 33 color slides, the talk is available at no charge to adult groups throughout the state. Civic and service organizations wishing to see the presentation are urged to contact the Texas Safety Association, 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704. Telephone Area Code 512, 444-6551.

HOUSEKEEPING A-Z

Summertime ... and the housekeeping should be easy. This summer American families will eat over 1 billion meals outdoors. This means lots of grills to clean. Here's a tip for quicker clean-up after the cook-out. Immerse grills into the laundry tub. Soak them in a high concentration of pine oil cleaner and water. Later on, sponge the grills clean and rinse them well for the next outdoor eating fest. Make a clean sweep of patio or porch this summer by dampening your broom with an all-purpose cleaner and water. This way you'll hold down the clouds of dust especially unwelcome in the summer. Another tip: departmentalize dirt and treat yourself to an indoor broom and an outdoor broom. Children's wading pools need frequent baths for health's sake. Change water in the pool often and keep the hose running to re-new water. For a weekly clean-up, mix a pine oil cleaner with warm water, then sponge the playpool with this solution. Rinse out pool by hosing with clear water. Before a dress-up summer party, be sure outdoor furniture and tables are fresh and clean. In tune with summertime, take little time for the job by using a cleaner and water. Rinse furniture by hosing it down, sun dry—and your guests will sit pretty. Satisfying your cabin fever this summer? If you are renting a cabin at seashore or mountaintop, don't let cleaning get in the way of fun. Keep it simple by assigning this hard-working quartet to all clean-up jobs: a supply of sponges, two or three good brushes, an all-purpose pine oil cleaner-disinfectant, and paper towels.

The Marvels of God's Creations

WHY DO FISH LIVE IN WATER? We can answer this question partially by saying: that their lungs were created to draw oxygen from the water. However, to know how and why, we must look to God's word.

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." . . . "And God said, let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life . . ."

Attend Church and worship the one who created these marvels.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Number One Flavor Maker: Lively Fresh Lemons

The dashing briskness of golden lemons creates an important shade of difference in cookery. Lemons exhilarate all sorts of foods, wending their animated ways into sauces and soups; dressings and desserts. More and more cooks keep in touch with lemons for flavor enhancement and vitamin C pick-up.

Citrus fruits have been cultivated from remote periods. Would you believe Mongolians invented lemonade as early as 1299? Presumed to be native of northern Burma and southern China. Arabs introduced lemons into Spain and north Africa about 1150 by way of Persia and Palestine. Columbus brought lemons to the New World.

Enjoy a cooling summer with Easy Lemon-Lime Ice Cream. It's a great frozen asset waiting to melt away on torrid days. Top it with billowy Lemon Whipped Cream.

As a prelude to the dessert, enjoy refreshing tuna salad garnished generously with fresh tomato wedges.

EASY LEMON-LIME ICE CREAM

Mix 1/4 cup each fresh lemon and lime juices with 2 teaspoons each grated lemon and lime rinds. Gradually add 2 cups sugar and 1 quart light cream. Add green food coloring, if desired. Pour into 2 refrigerator freezing trays. Freeze about 4 hours or until firm. Do not stir. Serve with Lemon Whipped Cream. Makes about 8 servings.

To make Lemon Whipped Cream, whip 1/2 cup heavy cream stiff. Fold in 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon fresh lemon juice and 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

ICE CREAM

Will any of us ever get enough ice cream? I doubt it. And even though it is available all year 'round, its sale does not slacken, and with good reason. Obviously, one can overeat anything. But I'm talking about whether we will ever tire of the taste of ice cream and I know I won't.

At our hospital I find ice cream is the perfect food for the sick patient. If he can't eat anything else, ice cream will please him and go down well. Children of course, love ice cream as do others of all ages. So it is good that in addition to being such a taste treat, it is a nourishing food as well.

Ice Cream's Main Nutrients
Ice cream makes a notable contribution in food nutrients. Proteins, calcium and riboflavin (a B-vitamin) are the main nutrients in ice cream. One half cup contains only 145 calories.

Every state in the U.S. as well as the Federal government has established laws that define ice cream and similarly frozen desserts. The laws have been set up in the interest of the consumer. You are guaranteed that what you buy is exactly what the label says it is.

All manufacturers must abide by the laws of the state where it is produced. If ice cream is to be shipped across state lines, then the manufacturer must also follow the Federal regulations. State laws are quite uniform but there are some variations. With all this regulation and the efforts of the manufacturers, you can be sure the ice cream you buy is of high quality.

Other Frozen Desserts

Other frozen dairy desserts that are popular include frozen custard, french ice cream, french custard ice cream, and ice milk. Soft-frozen dairy dessert in the name that describes products that are soft and ready to be eaten when drawn from the freezer. These are frequently sold at drive-in stands and actually are ice milks.

Fruit sherbet is tart-flavored from fruit and fruit acid. Sherbet is low fat and low milk in content. It has more sugar than ice cream. Water ices, on the other hand, are about 70 to 75 percent water and they are considered nondairy products because they contain no dairy ingredients. From 15 to 20 percent of their weight is fruit juice. They are high in sugar.

So all told, there are plenty of frozen desserts to choose from. And in hot weather, especially, they are a delight.

At first they offered only Funeral Service then later they realized a need and offered burial insurance, this of course made it possible for everyone to pay a small quarterly or monthly premium thereby making it possible to have a funeral paid for in advance of need.

THE STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT in 1965 granted permission to the Owens-Brumley Funeral Homes to sell Pre-Need or Pre-Arranged funeral plans. Regardless of age or health any one interested in a Pre-Need funeral we suggest that you contact our Funeral Home at 9th and Broad Streets, Phone 322-3181 or our Funeral Home at 101 South Avenue D in Burkburnett, Texas Phone 569-3361.

This plan will be explained to you in detail and you may make a selection of Casket and The Complete Funeral can be arranged according to your wishes. The amount of money which you invest will be placed in Trust until the time of need. You can pay the amount in full or you may pay down any amount that you wish and then make monthly payments until you have paid the amount of your selection.

The Potters are expecting a very important phone call.

In the years ahead, you'll be able to preset your telephone to transfer calls to the number where you're visiting.

Electronic switching — using a sophisticated computer system — will make this and many other new services possible.

For example, your phone will have a memory. By dialing just two digits of a frequently called number, you'll activate that memory, then the phone will dial the remaining digits automatically. Electronic switching is fact, not fiction. It's part of our program to plan today for tomorrow's communications needs.

We may be the only phone company in town, but we try not to act like it.

Hail! Mighty Mousse

When the weather is warm, "cool it" with quick, simple foods that please the palate, the eye and the hostess. From the Borden Kitchen comes this Salmon Party Mousse made in minutes with staples off the pantry shelf—gelatine, nonfat dry milk (skim milk with a farm fresh flavor) and canned salmon, flavored with mustard, capers and reconstituted lemon juice. Polish off the party menu in minutes with refrigerated rolls crested with sesame seeds and serve with nonfat dry milk as a beverage.

Salmon Party Mousse (Makes 8-10 servings)

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- 3 cups water
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 2 cups Borden Nonfat Dry Milk, dry form
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 2 (1-lb.) cans salmon, drained, boned and flaked
- 2 cups diced celery
- 2 tablespoons capers
- 1/4 cup reconstituted lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons dehydrated instant minced onion

In a medium-size saucepan sprinkle gelatine over 1/2 cup of the water. Let stand until softened. Add remaining water, vinegar, nonfat dry milk, salt and dry mustard. Place over low heat; stir constantly for about 5 minutes or until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat. Pour into deep mixing bowl. Place bowl over ice water. Stir gently until mixture is the consistency of unseasoned egg whites. In a medium-size mixing bowl combine salmon, celery, capers, lemon juice and onion. Fold into chilled gelatine mixture. Pour into lightly oiled 6-cup mold. Refrigerate about 4 hours or until set. Unmold on serving platter. Garnish with salad greens, lemon rind roses and radish roses. NOTE: To prepare 4-5 servings halve all ingredients; proceed as above using a 3-cup mold.

CHAP Program At Sheppard Aids Retarded

SHEPPARD AFB, Tex. — The CHAP (Children Have a Potential) program at Sheppard Air Force Base has expanded this year to include arts and crafts to physically, emotionally and mentally retarded children. The children meet in the hobby shop several times a week and cast and paint molds of many varieties. The CHAP program participants do all the work themselves with parents and volunteer workers serving only as advisors and assistants. The program is open to all child dependents of active or retired military personnel who wish to take part in the CHAP program. People interested in helping with the program are also invited to join.

The products made by the children vary in size and color. The items include ashtrays, birds, statues and many other similar pieces.

One comment from a lady supervisor partially answers the "why?" of the unique beauty and originality of the children's work — "One never knows what dwells in the minds of children."

The arts and crafts group meet on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon and the adults advisors meet on the last Monday of each month in the hospital chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bohenek attended funeral services for Truett Trammell in Breckenridge Tuesday afternoon.
