Wreck Claims Two

Sunday afternoon, May 3, there was a two vehicle accident 6.7 miles east of Stratford on U.S. Hwy 54. It is reported by Texas DPS Trooper Steve Ward that the accident happened during or shortly after hail had been falling. A 1978 Chevrolet pickup pulling a horse trailer, driven by Thomas Wade Peterson, age 20 of Guymon, Okla. skidded into the eastbound lane causing the 1984 Chevrolet Station Wagon to hit the pickup broadside. The driver of the car, Patricia Elizabeth Munkeby, 63 and passenger, Ruth Audrey Jackson, 56, both of Cross Lake Minn. were pronounced dead at the scene by Judge Pierce. The driver of the pickup was transported to Dumas Memorial Hospital and listed in fair condition with lacerations and bruises. Tammy M. Gleason, age 20 from Kalvesta, Kans., passenger in the pickup was in serious condition with neck and

They continue to monitor the case until it is brought to a speedy and appropriate conclusion.

It's a bird; it's a plane; no, it's Riffe

[This was taken from the Abilene Reporter-News. We thought everyone would enjoy reading about a hometown girl.]

Sherman-The endurance competition in women's track is the two-day, seven event heptathlon. For McMurry's Diann Riffe, it's the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association outdoor track championship.

She competed in 13 of the 17 events at the TIAA meet two more than she entered a year ago. That's three more events than the men's most grueling event, the decathlon. It's not that Diann is a glutton for punishment. She does it to score as many points for her team as she can.

She entered the javelin, triple jump, shot put, long jump, discus, high jump, the 100, 200, 400 meter runs and the 100 meter hurdles, and she ran on the spring, mile and 800 medley relays. She accounted for 33 3/4 points in 11 events. She won four, was second in four and ran on three relay teams that placed.

Okay, so her performances were not of national stature, so what? She should have been given more than the outstanding track performer award she so deserved.

There are 8 members of the McMurry women's team and all go the extra mile at conference, competing in as many as eight events.

"Tarleton will bring 15 or so girls to the meet, so we have to stack 'em up (enter as many events as possible) because we have so few members." Diann said.

Obviously she works on some events for the first time when she competes. She "messed around" with the shot put one day, she finished sixth. Points are given to only the first four places.

Her first discus throw of the season came when she stepped in the ring Saturday morning. She at least qualified for the finals.

"I volunteered for the individual events, but I didn't have much choice for the relays. We wouldn't have had enough people to run them, she said".

"I haven't been over a hurdle this year, and I don't work that much on the 100 or 200."

She won the intermediates and was second in the 100 meter hurdles.

She hadn't practiced much on the high jump, yet she finished second, clearing 5 feet and losing on more misses.

The hardest part came late in the afternoon. When the 200 meters, 400 meter intermediate hurdles and mile relay were held back to back with 30 minutes between events. She won both individual races and ran on the third-place relay team.

In the other races, there were events in between that at least let her catch her breath.

One thing that helped her was no preliminaries were held one day in the relays. Still, besides the shot put, she won the javelin, was second in the triple jump and high jump, then ran a leg on the second-place 800 meter medley relay, running the second longest leg, the 200.

During the regular season, Diann will compete in four or five events. After all, there's no sense overdoing a good thing.

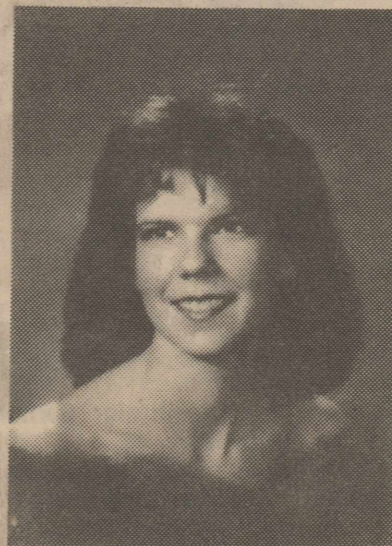

The 5 ft. 6 inch, 130 pounder, (before the conference meet, that is, competed in the sprints, hurdles, long jump and triple jump in high school at Stratford.

She's also a basketball player at McMurry and usually reports a little late to track. But that doesn't seem to bother her. Competing in 13 events will get one in shape in a hurry.

Abilene Christian women's track coach Wes Kitley is planning on holding a heptathlon meet in a couple of weeks and is hoping Diann will compete.

if she does, in a way, it'll be a breeze for her, compared to the TIAA meet.

May Is Electrical Safety Awareness Month

May is Electrical Safety Awareness Month and Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) is reminding its customers to be especially careful around outdoor power lines and electrical facilities.

"In the spring, people spend more time outdoors," says Bill Greaser, SPS safety manager. "They're trimming trees, putting antennas on roofs, and moving ladders around. Any of these activities could cause a serious injury or death if a person should happen to come in contact with a power line."

Installing an evaporative cooler—a common spring-time task—also is a potential hazard, Greaser says. "By the time you get your metal cooler up, you're usually standing in a puddle of water. But metal and water are both good conductors of electricity, so make sure your unit is grounded, like your washing machine is. And, don't plug the cooler in until everything is hooked up. If you have to make any last-minute adjustments, be sure to unplug the unit first."

Setting up summer irrigation systems can be hazardous as well, Greaser says.

"Metal irrigation pipe is an excellent conductor of electricity," Greaser says. "Moving a tall section or irrigation pipe or trying to dislodge an animal inside it could be fatal if there's a power line above you. That's why SPS urges farmers, ranchers, and anyone who works around electrical

by Timmie Brown

Greeting Sherman County Older Texans neighbors and friends! For the last 3 or 4 years we have shared our joys and love of life with you, our peers. Today we want to share some tragic moments with you. Saturday P.M. a traffic accident near Olathe, Kansas claimed the lives of six college students from Wichita, Kansas who were members of a Baptist Church group enroute to a young Peoples Rally. These youngsters were friends and peers of our grand-niece, Kelly Campbell. By the grace of God, Kelly was not with them having gone to Shawnee for commencement exercises. From experience you know how we hurt over our family members troubles. Carolee (Baskin) Campbell is Kelly's mother and daughter of the late Reuben Lee Baskin, our brother, Jim Gilcrest. One of the accident victims, was Kelly's special friend. Memorial and funeral service for the group will be Monday and Tuesday-past by the time you read this. Pray for Kelly and others of this group who are left to grieve, and question and face life. May this tragedy draw them closer to the Lord of life they are following. Our community is saddened by the passing of Hazel Preston, Morris T. Morrison of Dumas and Brenda Sue Smiley of Texhoma. Our Christian love and prayer support go out to each grieving family and person. Let all "be still and know that he is God" and does all things well. Amen. The Memory Tree at Scot Hall was progressing last week and we can see it completed soon. It is a wonderful tribute to Older Texans who took part in S.C.O.T. Activities. Since we have memberships now, we presume leaves on the tree will be limited to members. Membership dues are $12 per year and at last report we had 88 organization member ships.

The Birthday Party is on May 8th according to the outdated list we have our birthday people are Robbie's Yates, Wendell Flores, Basil Naugle, Lorraine Mehner, Bertha Oquin, Shirley Plunk, Virgil Plunk, Ora Reynolds, Betty Lee Brown, Jack Dettle. Let's be on hand to welcome them and enjoy fellowship.

Remember the Bake sale Saturday, May 9th. Your card tells you what to bring in for sale. This is a fund raiser for S.C.O.T. organization. We have expenses of Scot Hall to meet each month. Very little is ever said about this obligation but bills are facts to be paid!

The Marines use this slogan in advertising to try to get the best for their branch of the armed services. I believe that this is the cry today of the Lord Jesus Christ to all men. Never have we lived in a time in which there is a greater need for men to be godly. We need some Joseph's, David's, Samuel's and Daniel's in the 20th Century. Men who fear God and realize that they have been created in the image of God, thus understanding that they should represent God in their daily living at home and at work. If our nations, communities and homes have any hope, then men must not compromise godly convictions to make truces with their sins. Our homes [wives & children] are looking to the men to be responsible in giving godly instruction. When Daddy lives his life with godly convictions, then there will be strength once again in the family, which is the strength of any nation or community. Men, let's answer the call and be godly men.

Tips & Topics

Skipping meals in favor of eat-and-run snacks isn't necessarily a nutritional disaster. Many people assume that snacking is bad when, in fact, it can be good for you.

Snacking can provide you with all the nutrients you need—if you make wise choices. Your body needs the calories, vitamins, minerals and proteins from wholesome foods. Sugar-filled snacks lack these nutrients but have plenty of calories.

When you don't have time for a meal try some of these:
*Take a bran muffin and yogurt for breakfast at the office.

*Buy from the vending machine that stocks peanut butter crackers.

*Enjoy a pizza with mushrooms and green peppers.

*Keep nuts, crackers and dried fruits in your desk drawer, car or pantry.

If you crave a sweet snack, at least choose one that has some health value, such as carrot cake, oatmeal raisin cookies or granola bars. If you are not overweight, you may have room in your diet for some sweets.

Fifteen hundred calories of wholesome foods—in a snack or at meals—can provide the Recommended Daily Allowance of vitamins, minerals and protein that you need to maintain your health.

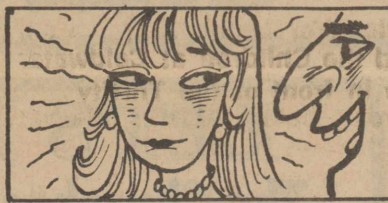

Some of the snack foods that contain these nutrients include:

*Peanuts, peanut butter crackers, and sunflower seeds provide protein, B-vitamins and fiber.

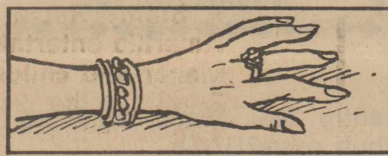

*Fruit juices, dried fruit and fresh fruit—especially raisins apricots, bananas and oranges—are high in vitamins A and C and iron.

*Bread sticks, whole grain crackers, granola bars, dry cereals, muffins, bagels, fruit breads and popcorn are excellent carbohydrate sources.

*Cheese, yogurt and pizza supply calcium, riboflavin and protein.

Human beings are the only animals that can blush. Mark Twain pointed out, we're the only animals that need to.

People wear wedding rings on the third finger of the left hand because an ancient belief held that a nerve runs directly from that finger to the heart.

HAPPY MOTHERS' DAY

Mother's love is a precious thing
That deepens through the years,
In memory of bright sunshine days,
Of laughter, love, and tears.

Cards of Thanks

The Junior Class of Stratford High School wishes to thank their parents and sponsors who generously gave their time and skill to make the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom such a great event. A special thank you to Shelley's Lumber for donating material used for decorations.

A bell isn't a bell till it's rung
A song isn't a song till it's sung
Love in your heart wasn't put there to stay
Love isn't love till you give it away
Thank you means nothing unless it's declared
Thank you for saying I'm one who cared.

Thank you Stratford

The last few weeks have been very special to me. Just being nominated for the 7 Who Care Award was an honor. Marilyn Albert and Sherri Butler, thank you for the nice letter of recommendation. You made me sound real good.

As we were going in to the banquet in Amarillo, I overheard someone on the Board of governors say "You always know when a Stratford person is involved because they really turn out to support one another".

I have thought about that a lot since then. He was exactly right and I want to thank all of you for the encouragement and kind words expressed to me and to B.A. What the speaker didn't know was how much love and support is passed around in this community daily.

You should all know that everyone of the projects attributed to me were community efforts. I was just one of many people who have worked hard and I even got the credit for some good ideas that were not mine.

Thanks to Rev. Perry-S.C.O.T.; Steve Haynes-Child Welfare Film; Gaynelle Riffe-Kindergarten Swimming; Pat Devin-Bunkhouse; Judge Sheehan and Paula Graham- C.A.S.A. 69 Inc. Thanks to these people for those good projects and for allowing me to share the fun of working on them.

Serving on the child welfare board in Sherman County has been an education for me. Thank you for this opportunity, it has allowed me to travel around the state and meet lots of new people, they all know where Stratford is now whether they wanted to know or not.

Thank you B.A., for all the understanding and patience it takes to live with a volunteer. Thank you to the rest of my family and good friends for your loving support.

Thank you Stratford. The people in this community are very special, you are there to relieve the hurt in bad times and to rejoice with smiles and words of approval in good times. Thank you all for being part of my life.

LeRayne

Evelyn and I want to thank those who came by and enjoyed celebrating our 50th Anniversary in Yates Drug and Robble's Gift Shoppe. We also thank you for the beautiful flowers they added much to our Special Day. It has been a great pleasure and joy in serving our friends and customers of Stratford and Sherman County. We have enjoyed living and being a part of Stratford. The reminiscing throughout the day brought back many happy memories. You are the greatest people and we love you.

Robbie and Evelyn

I would like to thank everyone who made my birthday so special.

Beulah Farris

Thank you for the memorials, the many lovely cards and all the kind words of sympathy extended to me and my family during the loss of my Dad. It means so much to know you care.

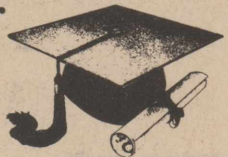

Thank You

John Deere Celebrates 150th Anniversary

One of the oldest companies in American industry also is one of the oldest companies in the relatively new business of manufacturing lawn and garden equipment. John Deere the company began when John Deere the man constructed one of the first self-scouring plows to make prairie farming practical. That was in 1837. Since then, John Deere has moved into many new fields, including the consumer products business. In 1962 the company produced a sprayer for homeowners and began work on a lawn and garden tractor that was introduced in 1963. Since then, the John Deere consumer products business has doubled every five years to become an industry leader with more than $700 million in sales.

"John Deere is the world's largest manufacturer of lawn and garden tractors," said E.R. Bell, owner of Sherman Implement, Hwy 54 East. "And it provides the widest range of equipment in the business. Just about everything a homeowner needs to keep up his property--from a chain saw and pruners to carpentry tools, there's a leaping deer logo on it."

In 1983 John Deere entered the commercial grounds care equipment market with a new front mower designed for professionals. Since then the company has expanded its line of front mowers and attachments, while adding the only U.S. made compact utility tractors and many more commercial machines.

"The AMT 600 utility vehicle introduced in January is a good example of Deere's innovative attitude," Bell said. "This five-wheel work unit can transport 600 pounds of material over all kinds of terrain. It can be used by commercial operators, contractors, farmers, and estate owners."

John Deere expects products like the AMT 600 and its line of compact utility tractors to keep the company moving aggressively into the 21st Century.

SPS Survey

5,253,976 Cattle Fed In Area

In 1986 more than 5.2 million cattle moved through the feedlots, and 5 million were slaughtered in the packing plants located in the SPS service area, he said, with an annual slaughter capability of 5,509,953.

We get requests for Southwestern's Fed Cattle Survey from all across the nation," Thomason said. "By providing this information, we hope to help stimulate further development in the agricultural sector. The area's feedlots and packing plants were extremely cooperative and helpful during this survey. We commend them for their help."

SPS serves a 52,000 square mile area in parts of the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas, eastern and Southeastern New Mexico, the Panhandle of Oklahoma, and southwestern Kansas. The feedlots in the territory fed 5,253,976 head last year, a 3.5% increase over 1985, but slightly below the record 5,259,779 fed during 1984.

The survey lists each feedlot in the SPS area, and the lot capacities and number of cattle fed, by counties. There are feedlots in thirty of the counties in the SPS service area. Charts of the number of feedlots surveyed, number of feedlots with 1,000-head capacity or above, growth of the feedlot industry, and one-time feedlot capacity are included in the report.

"This year is the third in a row that the number of cattle fed has exceeded five million," said Seth Thomason, SPS manager of agricultural and industrial power. "That's a good indication that the cattle-feeding business is here to stay."

Copies of the report and survey are available at Southwestern Public Service Company offices and from Thomason, at SPS headquarters, Tyler at Sixth Street, Amarillo, Texas 79170

Total one-time capacity of the feedlots surveyed in 1986 was 2,594,975 head, down from the total capacity of 2,619,775 head in 1985.

A reported 5,071,877 cattle were slaughtered at packing plants in the SPS service area last year, 293,039 more than were

Alternatives Available On Damaged Wheat Fields

by Jim Allison,
ABANDONING THE WHEAT FIELD OR REPLANTING

The recent hard freeze has caused widespread damage to the wheat crop of the South Plains and Panhandle. If the wheat has suffered extensive damage, the alternatives available are to 1. graze the field with livestock, 2. cut and bale the damaged fields, 3. take the loss and not incur additional expenses and 4. plow the wheat under and replant with another crop.

Abandoning damaged wheat fields may be the best alternative for many farmers. Haying or grazing will require additional costs, labor and time. Each of these alternatives carry a certain amount of risk which the farmers may not wish to take. Abandoned fields should be plowed under as soon as practical in order to conserve the moisture for alternative crops.

Farmers who choose to bale or abandon damaged wheat fields should consider replanting the wheat field with another crop. Planting farm program crops on permitted wheat acres is allowed without losing program benefits.

THE FARM PROGRAM AND IT'S IMPACT ON DAMAGED WHEAT

Farmers contemplating haying or grazing damaged wheat fields should document their losses with the local ASCS office. Haying or grazing of permitted acres destroyed by a natural disaster is allowed without losing farm program benefits

GRAZING DAMAGED WHEAT FIELDS

If fences and livestock are available, stocking wheat pastures with stocker cattle may be a favorable course of action. If the wheat has been heavily fertilized, nitrate poisoning could be a possible problem that should be investigated. If managed properly, the wheat could provide several weeks of grazing. The value from converting damaged wheat to beef may not come close to the value of the lost wheat, but will certainly help to reduce the losses.

Grazing the wheat with owned livestock or leasing the field would have the least out-of-pocket cash requirements and may involve the least amount of risk. In certain areas, farmers could lease their wheat fields to ranchers and the ranchers could save their pastures/range for later grazing.

Calf prices are high and farmers should not attempt a stocker enterprise before preparing a budget of the costs and benefits. The budget should include an estimate of death losses and the cost of borrowed money.

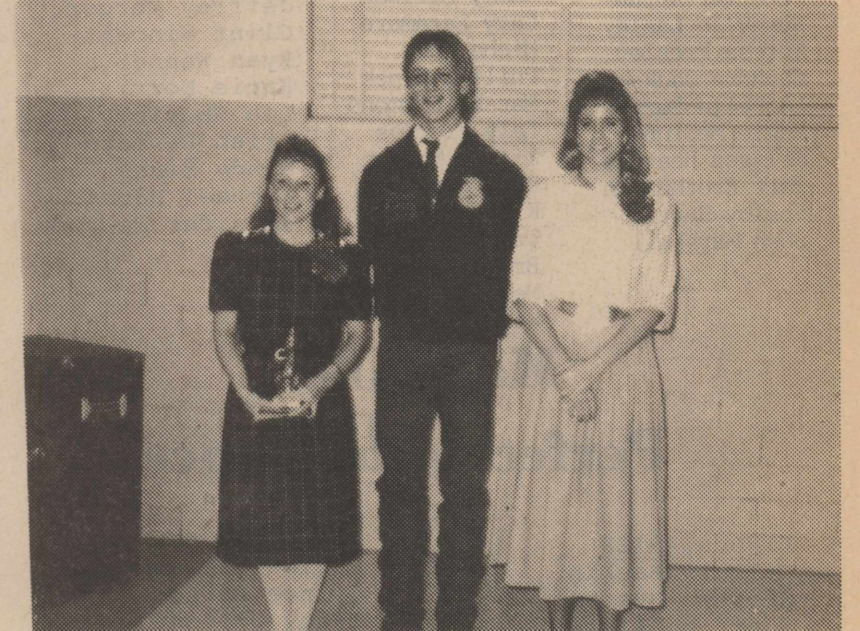

HAYING WHEAT FIELDS

Cutting and baling the damaged wheat fields, on the other hand, will introduce additional costs and risks unless farmers need the hay or are able to market the hay successfully. Cutting, baling, hauling and storing will cost $.75-$1.25 per 60 lb. square bale or about $20-$30 per 1200 lb. round bale. There is expected to be an abundant supply of hay in 1987. With hay selling for only $1.50/square bale ($50-$60/ton), the profit margin of harvesting the hay is very tight and may not offset the risk associated with storing and marketing the hay.

Farmers may want to consider harvesting the hay on a shares basis (no cash expenses) with someone familiar with the hay industry and who has the necessary equipment.

the grazing or haying potential of the damaged wheat. Spraying for either would not likely be economically feasible to protect the wheat for grazing or haying.

SUMMARY

The farmer with damaged wheat must quickly make a difficult decision. He has several alternatives and must compare the costs and benefits of each. He must first determine the extent of damage to his wheat, the remaining yield potential, and the remaining costs of production to salvage the wheat for grain. Remember that these additional costs through harvest may need to include chemical applications to control wheat leaf rust or Russian wheat aphids in addition to normal costs of irrigation and harvesting.
