Palms Beautify C. of C. Grounds

The beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank the C. P. & L. Company and others for the six beautiful palms which were set out last week as a background for the chamber building.

The palms were removed from Mrs. C. O. Lowery's property by the C. P. & L. Company. The trees were so tall, that they were interfering with the power lines and the electric company replaced them with smaller trees and then gave the palm trees to the Chamber of Commerce, taking them up, moving them with their trucks and helped reset them on the chamber grounds.

Aransas County High School Band Wins Favorable Comment

Jerry Hoffm, band instructor, and the Aransas County High School band attended the Band Clinic at Van Vleck last Saturday and the band and both Mr. Hoffman received some very favorable compliments.

The band played "Russian Choral and Overture" and "Bombast March". The pieces received the following comments: The openings were carefully done, expression and dynamics carefully treated.

The horns had a little trouble with intonation, but a number of the students have only been playing a short time. They are doing excellent work, have excellent taste in style and tempo, play with dignity, authority and precision, with a professional touch and high quality.

The Aransas County Independent School District is indeed fortunate to have a conductor of Mr. Hoffman's type and experienced leadership. There is much improvement in the band over last year.

The band needs polar instruments, bass and alto clarinets and tympani.

The judges who made these comments were R. V. Leach, of Houston, associated with Land Band Instrument Company and Gene Stuchberry, Band Director of the Pasadena High School.

Students Meet to Organize C. A. P.

Last Friday night a meeting was held at the Aransas County Airport for the purpose of organizing a squadron of the Civil Air Patrol in Aransas County. Seventeen high school students were present. They were: Richard Kephart, Bill Jones, Billy Rice, Rudy Gwynn, Johnny Joe Atwood, Lee Ingersoll, Kane Lassiter, Wayne Frazier, J. D. Spencer, Sally Fields, Tanya McElwee, Joy Roe, Burke Cabisin, H. Any adult who is interested in this organization and will take the responsibility of being at the meetings to teach what is in the CAP manual, can be a senior member. The lack of senior members is all that is keeping these boys and girls from starting.

Household Workers Social Security Tax Explained

April 30th is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1953 are due at the office of your Collector of Internal Revenue.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect January 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions every one should know. Household workers covered by the law include maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handy men, valets, footmen, grooms chauffeurs of privately owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much money she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any one of the three month periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filed and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus tokens, clothing, room and board, or other noncash items furnished the employee. A domestic worker does not have to put in a full day to count on the 24 day rule—any portion of the day worked counts as a full day.

The rule is different for domestic workers on farms operated for profit. In such cases the domestic is considered a farm worker and is covered only if he or she meets the test for farm labor.

The tax in all amounts to 3% of the cash wages paid. You, as an employer, must deduct 1½% from your household worker's cash wages if the person meets the 24-day, fifty dollar test. You then include another 1½% which the employer's contribution. After the close of each specified three-month period you should send the tax, with a report of the wages paid, to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

These three-month periods, or quarters, end on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st. Reports and payments are due by the last day of the month following the close of each quarter. During any quarterly period that a household worker does not work 24 days or earn $50, the employer need not be concerned. You need not consider the work your employee performs for any other employer.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has a special household report form, printed on the back of a return envelope, which can be obtained from your Collector upon request. Just ask for Form 942.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Chamber of Commerce NEWS NOTES

Have you looked around you to see evidence of the Beautification Committee at work? The beautiful trees around the Chamber of Commerce building and the parkway adjoining the Bruhl property are two visible examples. We do hope the ones participating in the plant exchange last week have their plants set out and growing.

Other committees are just as active and evidence of their work will be showing before long. The Finance Committee are doing a wonderful job of raising the budget needed for our program this year.

We are happy to welcome more new members, C. L. Taylor Jr., Inc. the Magnolia Consignee, Robert R. Owens of the Navigation Board and Otto Boerner, a San Antonio business man with a home and an interest in our community.

If you are not a member of the Chamber of Commerce and are curious about this bragging we do, why not stop by the building and we will be glad to discuss this program we have planned with you. Once you are acquainted with it, we feel sure will want to join forces with us and become a member. We need your support and manpower.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—This is about the time when it seems that the Legislature is all bogged down in so many different bills that it will never get anywhere.

But the truth is that the lawmakers are making very good progress and may finish their business in the prescribed 120 days.

What clouds the picture is the variety of subjects before both houses. First and foremost, there's the appropriations bill. Then there are the subjects of four-year terms for county and district officials, water conservation, stream pollution, preferential primaries, modernization of colleges, and so on at great length.

Let's not forget taxes.

Maybe there won't be any new taxes.

It seems that economy forces are in control of both houses, and that they will keep the appropriations bill down to the amount of revenue the state can expect to receive during the next two years.

The House and Senate differed on the amount that should be appropriated. The House said $160 million, while the Senate put the figure at $166 million.

The bill approved by the senate would include pay raises for state employees and college teachers.

When House and Senate failed to agree, the appropriations bill went to a conference committee, composed of economy-minded members representing both houses.

Hope for a quick stack of blue chips faded when three pipeline companies appealed to the State Supreme Court their case against the gathering tax on natural gas.

The tax was passed by the last legislature and has been in the courts ever since. The Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled last month that the tax is valid.

If the supreme court rules against the pipeline companies, it is expected that they will carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Governor Allan Shivers and others had urged the companies to drop the suit and thereby permit the state to use the tax money already paid under protest, as well as the million dollars plus that is already collected monthly.

If the pipeline tax should be declared invalid, the Legislature will doubtless pass another one, inasmuch as it has already demonstrated its intention of levying this kind of tax.

Meanwhile, a "committee for a fair pipeline tax" has been organized with County Judge Jim Sewell of Corsicana as chairman.

Sewell said here that the members of his committee object to any shifting of the tax burden to the local communities.

Money is needed for many state purposes. For example, state employees are leaving their jobs because of low pay.

Ninety-seven engineers have left the highway department during the last two years. At Austin State Hospital, 477 of 528 new employees hired last year have resigned.

W. P. Watts, executive director of the Texas Public Employees Association, gave these and other figures to show that higher pay is needed to keep state workers on their jobs.

Requirements for highways, teachers, and water conservation have been frequently emphasized. It was hoped that the natural gas tax would stop the gap, or help to.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill providing for a presidential preferential primary in Texas.

The bill requires party delegates to cast their first ballot at the convention for the presidential and vice presidential candidates according to the choices expressed by the voters. On all ballots, the delegates would be bound to vote as a unit.

Senator Jimmy Phillips, author of the bill, said it is aimed at the elimination of boss rule and rump political conventions.

Senator Dorsey Hardeman opposed the bill, saying it would not achieve its purpose, but would only create confusion. He urged the senate to wait and see what Congress might do about preferential primaries.

Both houses shoved along toward final passage a bill that would give four-year terms to county and district officials, and the house added an amendment that would include state representatives.

Opponents said that only those officials who would benefit from the change are for it, and legislators are being browbeaten by county officials to favor it.

Backers of the bill said that county and district officials ordinarily serve two two-year terms anyway, and elections every two years cost money and interfere with the officials' work.

Recommended to the Legislature is a two-year study of state colleges.

The study, to cost $200,000, was urged by a committee of college officials, to whom an inquiry had been addressed by the Legislature on recommendation of Governor Shivers.

North Texas State College, replied for the committee. Suggested was a 41-member commission, which would complete the study in time to prepare a bill for the Legislature which convenes in 1955.

Along with his report, Dr. Matthews sent a bill which would appropriate the $200,000 and freeze the curricula at all state colleges.

The study would bring out ways of avoiding duplication of courses at the various colleges. Also given would be an evaluation of the number and location of present colleges and a plan for future expansion.

Austin engineers asked the Legislature to pass a law curbing stream pollution.

Unless that is done, the engineers said, expansion of industry will have to stop in some sections of the state, or a system of re-use of water must be installed.

The engineers gave as an example of their meaning the fact that Dallas badly needs the 25 million gallons of water that flows daily through the West Fork of the Trinity River, but the water is so polluted that it is useless unless it is purified.

Legislators took time out to give an official welcome to Colonel Royal N. Baker, jet ace from McKinney, who came from Korea after knocking 12 MIGs out of the sky.

"So long as there are Americans, the world will remain free," the colonel said in his talk at the capitol. The governor and the members of both houses stood and cheered.

SWALLOWS LOOT

Seaford, Del.—Called to a jewelry store, police found a 40-year-old woman detained by employees who said a wrist watch was missing. The woman submitted to search and then admitted she had swallowed the small watch, valued at $100. Taken to a hospital, she was put under -ray, which revealed not only the watch, but a finger ring in her stomach.

BEEES KILL MAN

Manila—A large swarm of bees attacked Hadji Somayan Daimbang and his wife at Sagunay, Mindanao Island, while the two were walking toward a coffee plantation. The husband fled toward a stream but was stung so severely that he died before reaching it. His wife, who fled in another direction, was seriously stung, but survived.

Medical Expense Should Be Part of Every Budget Plan

It takes foresight to plan a budget adequately covering medical expenses. First, you need to take stock of medical protections afforded by such things as payments on life insurance policies in case of total and permanent disability, provisions of Workmen's Compensation laws, or laws regarding liability for automobile accidents or accidents occurring in public places. Members of the Armed Forces, war veterans, university students, or those in public institutions may have part or all their medical care furnished; thus the problem of medical costs is automatically solved for them.

Suppose, though, after considering all these factors you decide you need further help. Hospital or health insurance might provide the answer and fit well into your budget. These two kinds of insurance work on the principle of other types: The policy-holder chooses the certainty of a periodic, small loss (the premium) in preference to the uncertainty of a big loss which he might have without insurance protection.

To choose a policy wisely, you can follow the recommendations of your doctor, your insurance agent, and perhaps your employer. There are many kinds of good policies with many reliable companies. Approval is granted a large number of plans by qualified groups such as the American Medical Association on the basis of financial soundness of the company, freedom of the patient to choose his doctor, preservation of the confidential doctor-patient relationship and other protections for the patient.

Hospital or health insurance may be sold by voluntary, non-profit hospital groups, private accident and health insurance companies, labor unions, fraternal organizations, or other agencies. Groups, families, or individuals may subscribe. Group insurance allows risks to be spread over a greater number of people, making premium rates more attractive. Premiums may be deducted from pay checks or paid directly to an agent, depending on the type of policy.

Benefits may be in the form of service, in which the company pays the hospital; in cash paid to the patient, who in turn pays the hospital; or in service and cash.

Rockport Lions Club Holds Ladies Night

The Rockport Lions Club held their regular Ladies Night meeting Monday night at the Methodist Church annex, with a very good attendance.

The program was presented by the ladies. Mrs. Mary Juergens was the principal speaker of the evening. She gave an impressive talk on Lionism.

The Lions will nominate officers at their regular meeting next Tuesday, April 7th and every Lion is urged to be present to defend himself.

In some policies, medical services performed outside the hospital may be included, or a separate policy may be required. An allowance to pay special nurses is included by some private companies.

The most popular types of coverage are (1) hospital, (2) surgical, and (3) medical (other than surgery.) In many plans, medical services outside the hospital are not provided because the insurance concern tries to keep premiums within the means of the average user.

Insurance companies are working in several areas to improve benefits and coverage. Most important is the field of catastrophic illness, that is, severe illness, perhaps unforeseen, which drains the family's finances to the point that debts must be paid over a long period or drastic measures like selling the automobile or mortgaging the home must be taken. Insurance concerns also hope eventually to accumulate enough statistics to make possible the enrollment of more individual subscribers, especially those in rural regions.

Insurance policy holders can get the most from their investment in several ways. First, they should not use them needlessly. Except for emergencies, they should rely on their doctor to tell them when to go to the hospital and when to leave. Before entering the institution they should know exactly what to expect from their policy: what services it will cover and which ones they must pay for, if any. They should make claims early and report fully and accurately on illness.

If hospital insurance is used wisely, the period of hospitalization can be shortened, preventing needless cost to the patient and the insurance company.

Justice of Peace Court Report For March

Justice of the Peace C. O. Bailey reports a crowded docket for the month of March. Of thirty-five cases tried and completed, twenty-seven were traffic violations. These included speeding, failure to dim headlights, negligent driving, disregarding stop signs, passing at intersections, failure to have valid operator's license and defective headlights. Seven cases of drunkenness and disturbing the peace and one for prowling were also tried and completed.

All cases brought before the court resulted in fines being levied against the offenders. Of these thirty-three were paid immediately and two defendants were remanded to custody of the sheriff until payment of fine was made.

In addition to misdemeanor complaints Justice Bailey held one inquest during the month and performed two marriage ceremonies. Six births and three death certificates were recorded by him. Justice Bailey would like to caution all motorists and motor vehicle operators to comply in full with both state and local traffic regulations. Traffic ordinances are imposed in the interest of safety for everyone, and violators of these rules mean tragedy for someone sooner or later. In addition, violators are almost certain to be caught and fined and in some cases imprisoned. Not only Aransas County's own law enforcement officers are on the alert for such offenses but the Texas Department of Public Safety patrolmen are constantly cruising the surrounding areas both night and day. These men are disciples of safety and rigidly enforce all traffic laws. Violation almost certainly means a summons and this in turn results in loss of time and money. Drive carefully.

Mrs. Alton Kinsel and Miss Verona Klaeser attended the funeral of V. G. Willis, of Sinton, last Sunday. Mr. Willis was an uncle of Mrs. Kinsel. His funeral was held in the Baptist Church at Taft.

Thomas Crossman, student at A. and I. College, will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crossman, during the Easter holidays. Thomas is the engineer at KINE broadcasting station at Kingsville and will have to work part of the holidays.

Ike Remains Silent As Own Party Splits

By STANLEY JAMES
Rockport Pilot
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Observers in Washington are wondering how long President Dwight D. Eisenhower is going to take major attacks on his administration, from fellow Republicans, lying down. The question was brought to a head by the severe attacks on the State Department and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The President has been ignoring these attacks, partially because he is a master of developing teamwork and partially because they are not against him personally. He had hoped that the new administration could get off to a smooth start without intra-party fights. The recent tiff between Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), Bridges (R-N.H.), and others and Secretary Dulles, however, got pretty bitter.

Lying in the background, in this struggle, is the fact that some of the Republican Senators are devoted MacArthur followers. They really do not approve of the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy ideas, would like to see General Mac put in a position to influence U. S. policies. But Ike isn't allowing that to happen. He doesn't share MacArthur's outlook.

In the recent fight between Dulles and the Senators, over the nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as Ambassador to Russia, one of the Senators remarked that if Ike knew all the facts he might reconsider. Later one went to see Ike. Presumably Ike was given the "facts," but stuck by Bohlen. Neither would the opposition budge.

The Senators, carried on their attack vigorously, stirred considerable doubt about Bohlen, some about the new State Department, maybe even some about Ike's judgment. Sooner or later Ike is going to hit back, either quietly or otherwise, if such attacks are continued on his new team. Reporters wonder when.

On the SCREEN

"The President's Lady"
Based on the novel by Irving Stone, this film records the story of the career of Andrew Jackson and of Rachel, his maligned wife. It is both a stirring love story and a page taken from the historic past, not smudged to the point where it is unrecognizable as such. Charlton Heston, in the role of Old Hickory, is excellent, but it is Susan Hayward, as Rachel, who has the spotlight turned on her. All of the others in the cast, too, respond to the excellent direction of Henry Levin.

"The Stars Are Singing"

Ever since Rosemary Clooney's overwhelming recording of "Come-On-A My House," which set all the disk jockeys and a large segment of the population swooning, it was inevitable that she would arrive in Hollywood. Paramount has provided the proper showcase for her in this film and it is hinted that she may be groomed to replace Betty Hutton, who resigned from that studio. In this one, she is introduced as a singer for radio and television commercials and has as her companions a new comer in the art of hoofing (Tom Morton) and an apprentice comedian (Bog Williams), whose partner is a wee-begone, lethargic spaniel, named Red Dust, who refuses to do anything but yawn when begged to perform a trick. They all live in an apartment house whose basement is occupied by Lauritz Melchior, as a paunchy, faded operatic star, who seems headed for Skid Row. In time, they are joined by Anna Maria Albergheiti, as a Polish refugee, who escaped from a liner, where she was a stowaway, by swimming half way across the New York harbor. The plot gets complicated, but it all turns out fine in the end, as you might expect.

Pioneering on Padre Island

(Contributed)

Betty and O. A. Carroll, Jr., two entrants in the 110-mile walkathon on Padre Island, went to the toll gate at 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Betty was dressed in white coveralls with an applied yellow moon, palm tree and Padre Island embroidered on the back.

They left the gate with plans to arrive at Port Isabel within 4 or 5 hours. But blowing sand slowed the party of twenty up. Night came, no supper, truck lights burned out and because of high tide were forced to drive farther up into the sand. Thus causing the truck to bog down, then, too, motor trouble forced the men to push the truck several times during the 19-hour long trip. By the time they reached the starting point even the palm tree on the coveralls looked as though it had been through a hurricane. All arrived in high spirits, a little bewildered due to the handicapping trip, nevertheless raring to go.

With only an hour in which to eat breakfast, and relax a bit before starting time Mr. and Mrs. Carroll were interviewed on the radio broadcast. At nine o'clock everyone on the truck 'Old Bertha' was in line ready to go. Rev. Holland led the group in a word of prayer before the cannon sounded. Betty was the first to drop out due to a groin cramp after a 7 1/2-mile walk in 1 1/2 hours. O. A. dropped out after 11 miles with blisters on his toes. Forty-one of the 67 hikers dropped out the first day.

The first day's hike was cut to 25 miles. The second day only 9 came in to camp. The third day had only 7 of the 9 to start again and all dropped out but three. The Carrolls were eliminated the first day, however, remained with the group and helped serve chow and doctor blistered feet. They got to explore the island between camps and Mr. Carroll found several old bottles, come from Mexico, Cuba, England and Scotland. Also some large shells were found.

Two of the women brought some of them home to clean up and use as individual salad servers.

Betty got to send a message to her mother in San Antonio over the ham radio operated by Henry Binz. The Carrolls took their own shelter, a pup tent and bedding. The sand was very soft and acted as a cushion. With protective clothing and Golden Peacock sun-wind lotion neither of them received a burned or blistered skin. The first place winner was Jess Shamblin, of McAllen, who made the 110 miles in 28 hours and 48 minutes. Second place went to Frank Jurecko, who made it in 31 hours and 14 minutes. Third place went to Charles Bolton, a 15-year-old Boy Scout, in 35 hours. Jurecko found a bottle that had washed ashore. It had been dispatched in Liverpool, England, "A Message From God" written in

Widows and Children Have Insurance Protection

Four out of five wives and children in this country are protected by the survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, according to H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Corpus Christi office of the Social Security Administration.

The original Social Security Act provided monthly benefits for older workers only, but the present law provides both retirement and family insurance, he pointed out. Now practically everyone who is dependent upon the earnings of a worker for support is protected by this insurance. The total value of the life insurance protection under the Social Security is approximately $275 billion, Cleveland stated.

Monthly payments ranging from $25 to 85 a month are provided for eligible workers who retire after they reach age 65. Payments are also made to the wife and children of a retired or a deceased worker.

Payments are made to the survivors of an insured worker who dies regardless of the worker's age at the time of his death. Cleveland says that in some cases the total benefits payable to a family amount to as much as $168.75 a month, which is the maximum under the law. In addition to the monthly benefits, lump-sum death payments ranging from $75 to $255.00, may also be paid when a worker dies.

19 different languages.

Cash Asher, the island director, was on the truck 'Old Bertha' and with his knowledge of the island they made the trip through safely and at the end of the 3-day event, he said, "That is the best bunch of people I've ever met in my life."

Everyone pitched in and helped, the contest was a clean and wonderful sport. The two who came in second and third place were among the bunch who had such a hard time getting to the other end of the line. Everyone had a wonderful time and all who participated said they would like to go again next year if the event is held. No fried chicken was served, but the food was really delicious and the island beautiful.

SACRED HEART EASTER

The people have an opportunity both to venerate the unveiled Cross and to be blessed by a relic of the True Cross.

This will close the services for the day.

There will be no services in the church on Holy Saturday until 10:30 p. m. Confessions for Easter will be heard at the usual hours, 4:30 to 6:00 and 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The Easter Vigil Service will begin at 10:30 p.m. St. Augustine speaks of the Vigil of Easter as the "mother of all holy vigils" and it consists of the lighting of the New Fire, and the blessing of the Easter water which is also blessed at this time and the Baptismal water which is used throughout the year for the solemn administration of baptisms is consecrated.

The second part of the Easter Vigil Service centers around the altar, which is Christi, for Christ is our sacrifice, the one gift with which our Father in heaven is well pleased. And Christ is our food and drink. We go to the table to nourish the life of God in us.

During the services of the vigil the people will solemnly renew their baptismal promises.

The Sacrifice of the Mass will begin at twelve o'clock midnight. Those wishing to receive Holy Communion may do so at this Mass. They must be fasting from food and drink from ten o'clock.

This night service of preparation for Easter is a restoration of the ancient practice of the Church and is intended to give greater opportunity for the people to participate in a ceremony which most people miss because of conflict with work.

The holy season of Lent officially ends at twelve o'clock noon on Holy Saturday.

Easter Sunday the Masses are as usual, low Mass at 7, and a high Mass at 9 o'clock. xxx

Seagulls Prove Movie Problem

A flock of seagulls proved a thorn in the side of Director George Sherman during the filming of important waterfront scenes for Universal-International's "The Raging Tide," showing at the Tarpon Drive In Theatre Saturday April 4.

Shelley Winters, Richard Conte, Stephen McNally, Charles Bickford and Alex Nicol are starred in "The Raging Tide," a modern suspense story with San Francisco's famous fishing fleet as a background.

The attraction for the birds was three tons of halibut, albacore and other ocean fish purchased by the studio in San Francisco and transported to Hollywood by refrigerator trucks as props for fishing boat scenes.

The invading seagulls flew through the open doors of the large sound stage and on several occasions created such a fuss and scramble for fish that it was necessary to halt filming.

"The Raging Tide," adapted for the screen from Ernest K. Gann's best-selling novel, "Fiddler's Green," was produced by Aaron Rosenberg.

HAPPY EASTER

Remember when all you had for Easter was a few of biddy's eggs, colored and hidden by mother, but the thrill was terrific! Even Junior's chocolate bunnies, live ducklings, and mechanical hen that lays candy eggs could never thrill anyone as those few colored eggs thrilled you. Remember?

Our complete service is not valued in terms of dollars but in the consolation we can give to those in sorrow.
