

Along The Waterfront

The extremely warm weather, which has brought some discomfort, has also been responsible for bringing some large fish into the bays. With excellent weather this week, most fishermen reported big catches.

Last Thursday Fred Christilles took out Wesley Nelius of Houston and they caught 48 large trout. Friday Henry Cohen and party of San Antonio, fished with Christilles and brought in 24 trout despite the wind.

Saturday Alvin Moody and Alvin Moody III caught 55 trout while fishing with Christilles. The little boy landed 35 fish by himself.

Sunday, Norris Lipscomb of Houston, brought in 227 trout after fishing with Christilles. Don Miedern of College Station landed 165 trout Monday.

Mr. Sleigman of San Antonio caught 104 trout Tuesday, and Wednesday Mr. Joyce of Houston, brought in 85 large trout.

Attention is called to the ruling of J. L. Lang, district engineer, concerning the speed limit of five miles per hour in the Rockport harbor in the area lying landward of the breakwater.

C. of C. Committee Landscape Grounds At High School

The beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce have supervised the planting of shrubs at the new Aransas County High School. The members of this committee are Mrs. Roy Hinton, chairman, Mrs. H. F. Elliot, Mrs. Jack Hagar, and Mrs. Harry Traylor.

The school trustees shopped around, and finding the prices for landscaping rather high, they requested the beautification committee to help them.

Mrs. Hinton said that the committee was pleased to do this as one of their projects in beautification for this area. The shrubs they planted are adapted to this area and will stay.

B. B. Bettel drew some plans for the committee and gave them an estimate on the grassing of the grounds. These estimates were an invaluable assistance in helping to cut down expenses.

The committee will be happy at any time to help in the beautification of any place.

20 Children Enroll In H. E. Play School

Twenty children have enrolled in the Play School sponsored by the Home Economics Department of the Aransas County High School, Mrs. James Crusier reports.

The girls who will receive one-half unit of Home Economics credit for this summer project are Sandra Court, Ruth Torres, Lydia Corpus, Ethel Rodriguez, Frances Steward, Mary Fay Clark, Mary Wright, Carole Simpson, Mary Evelyn Mundine, and Virginia Mundine.

Undeclared Lionettes Meet C. C. Tonight

This year's local women's softball team, "The Lionettes," are off to a flying start. They remain unbeaten after playing their first five games. The club opened the season by playing host to the Latter Day Saints Ball Club of Corpus Christi. The end of this game left the Lionettes winners by a score of 10 to 3.

On May 27 the Lionettes met and defeated the local Dickson Girls team by a score of 6-0. This was a well fought game by both teams. The losing pitcher was Margie Bateman and the winning pitcher, Lola Bonner.

On May 29 the Lionettes were guests of the Latter Day Saints. The game was played in Corpus Christi and again the Lionettes came home with a winner. During the game there were two rather lengthy discussions about the rules of the game. The final score was 17 to 6. The starting pitcher for the Lionettes was Rennie King; the winning pitcher, Opal Warden. Losing pitcher for the LDS club was Shirley Clifton.

June 1, the Lionettes played host to the Morgan Avenue Baptist Church team of Corpus Christi. This was a close ball game all the way into the bottom of the fifth inning, when Myrl Wright, Lionette's first baseman, came across home plate with the tie-breaking run. The score then stood at 5-3. The Morgan Avenue team remained scoreless in the sixth inning but the Lionette's third baseman, Shorty Price, came in with the sixth and last score, making the final score 6 to 3 in favor of the Lionettes. The winning pitcher was Opal Warden; the losing pitcher was Miss Borney.

The Lionettes were guests of the U. S. Naval Waves team of Kingsville on June 2. The game ended with the score of 17-5 in favor of the Lionettes. Winning pitcher was Opal Warden; losing pitcher, Lt. Hamilton.

The Lionettes have been fortunate to have Mr. Millard Owens as their coach this year. He is doing a grand job shaping the team into a steady, heads up group. Generally, you will find Coach Owens coaching third base during the games. He plays as hard a game for his team as any coach could. Mr. Owens is principal of the Fulton School and had a fine young boy's team last year. The Lionette's financial manager, Mrs. H. F. Elliot, is doing a fine job managing the team's finances; however, if you people of Rockport would turn out in greater numbers for the local softball games, I'm sure she would find her job much more satisfactory. 25 cents is a small price to pay for an evening of good entertainment. Come on out and support your home town team. Season tickets are still available and any member of the ball club will be glad to sell you one.

The team's players are: Rennie King, Opal Warden, Myrl Wright, Bessie Atwood, "Shorty" Price, Lola Bonner, Mary Wright, Ruth Ann Crawford, Willa Mae Elliot, Nell Richie, and Mrs. Millard Owens.

Thursday night, June 4, the Lionettes play host to the Lyndale Baptist Church team of Corpus Christi, so come on out and see some heads-up softball.

School Board Aids in Fixing Softball Field

Aransas County Taxpayers Saved $10,000

Through the co-operation of the bondholders and the Civil Aeronautics Administration the taxpayers of Aransas County were saved $10,000 this past week.

In 1943 a bond issued of $40,000 was voted to acquire a site for a C.A.A. airport to be used by the U. S. Navy during the war. Due to good management only $20,000 of the $40,000 bond issue was used to purchase the present site of the Aransas County Airport and the remaining $20,000 of the bond issue was cancelled.

As of last week there was remaining of the original bond issue $10,000 payable $1,000 per year for the next ten years. The bonds were held by the First National Bank, Rockport, and were not callable.

When oil activity came in the vicinity of the Aransas County Airport, the C.A.A. agreed to oil activities on the airport but stipulated that all revenue therefrom was to be used for the maintenance and operation of the airport.

At this time Aransas County has a nice surplus in the airport fund from bonuses on oil and gas leases and from royalties. So the net result is that the taxpayers of Aransas County have been saved the payment of $10,000 principal and interest which would have otherwise been paid off by a levy on ad valorem taxes. Negotiations were entered into and as a result the First National Bank agreed to allow the bonds to be paid off at this time and the C.A.A. approved the use of airport money to pay off the bonds.

Griffith, Mrs. Roy Hinton, Mrs. A. C. Glass, and Mrs. Erié Eller.

Aransas Pass Citizens Make Ready For Annual Shrimp-o-ree Celebration

Aransas Pass. — One of the most unusual annual fishing expeditions known to the Texas coast will take place here next week.

At a time still to be selected, the businessmen of Aransas Pass will leave their stores and offices, gather their fishing gear, and climb aboard deep-sea boats that will carry them to the "snapper banks" out in the Gulf.

And it will be no ordinary fishing trip.

Their job will be to catch 10,000 pounds—five tons, no less—of red snapper and other salt-water frying-pan favorites to be served to a crowd of 15,000 South Texans who are expected to attend the second annual Shrimp-o-ree, a three-day celebration to be held July 10-12 under the sponsorship of the Aransas Pass Chamber of Commerce.

A free fish dinner—served to everybody who attends—is one of the high spots of the Shrimp-o-ree. The fish dinner will be served at noon Saturday, July 11, following the annual Shrimp-o-ree parade through Aransas Pass' business district.

More than 100 bands, floats, and decorated cars representing various groups and organizations throughout South Texas are expected to participate.

Following the dinner, a beauty contest will be held to choose Miss Shrimp-o-ree of 1953 from among some 25 entrants in the senior girl division.

There also will be three other divisions in the beauty contest—for girls 2 to 4 years of age, for those 5 to 8, and those 9 to 12.

That night, the winner of the contest involving 11 Aransas Pass businessmen will be crowned King Shrimp-o-ree at a formal dance.

His wife will serve as queen of the celebration.

The celebration will start Friday, July 10, with a Cyclecade—a parade of children riding decorated bicycles, tricycles, wagons, buggies, and miniature autos. It will be followed by bicycle races, and, during the evening, by a street dance.

The highlight of the three-day program, however, is scheduled for the afternoon of Sunday, July 12.

At that time, the Most Rev. Mariano S. Garriga, bishop of Corpus Christi, will place his blessing on the shrimp fleets assembled in the Aransas Pass harbor.

Fleets from all Texas ports have been invited to attend.

The Sunday program will be started with a free shrimp dinner for all Shrimp-o-ree participants and spectators. The shrimp will be provided by the Aransas Pass shrimp fleet and cooked and served by the city's businessmen.

Following the blessing of the fleet, spectators will be invited to step aboard the shrimp boats for a marine parade in the Aransas Pass harbor area.

The boats will be decorated for the occasion.

Your Senator Speaks

By Lyndon B. Johnson

Many Texas ex-servicemen are writing me to protest the proposed cut in appropriations for the Veterans Administration. The President's budget calls for a reduction of over $275,000,000 in VA appropriations.

Veterans hospitals even now are having to let beds stand unused because of lack of funds. Congressman Olin Teague of College Station has compiled figures showing that the 38 VA hospitals in the country are financially unable to use 2,393 of their beds. And 24,834 veterans approved for admission to VA hospitals can't get in because no beds are available. The hospital at Houston has 252 unused beds, that at McKinney 26.

I do not see how anybody can justify neglect of our ex-servicemen.

Can we get more defense for less money? Will 120 air wings give us more defense than 143 wings? Secretary of Defense Wilson says so, in defending the proposed cut of over five billion dollars in Air Force appropriations.

Some of us are going to examine the reductions very carefully.

What's Ahead?

Proposals have been made to increase interest rates charged REA cooperatives on government loans.

Chances of extending excessive profits tax beyond June 30, as requested by the President, look slimmer every day.

Some of Texas' surplus wheat will be shipped to Pakistan if Congress approves the President's proposal to lend that country a million bushels, payment to be made later.

Expect the doctor's draft law to be extended, with some easing up on those who have had as much as 12 months of military service.

Waterways Projects

The new budget cut appropriations for Dallas Floodway from $2,900,000 to $750,000. House Appropriations Committee cut out the $750,000, leaving nothing at all for this flood control project. The committee cut money for the Texarkana Reservoir to $5,000,000 from $7,265,000 in revised budget, $8,565,000 in original budget. Garza-Little Elm was cut to $3,250,000 from $3,635,000 in revised budget, $4,935,000 in original. Belton Reservoir was cut to $750,000 from $900,000 in revised budget, $1,100,000 in original.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

COURT RULES ESSENTIAL TO JUSTICE

What about court rules — the procedural rules governing legal trials? Are they tools of delay or instruments of justice? Procedure is the lubricant which makes the machinery of uniform justice run smoothly. Far from being of concern only to lawyers and judges, rules of procedure are of real significance to all of us.

The law is composed of two parts — the substantive and the adjective law. The substantive law defines rights, duties and remedies; it enforces contracts and rights wrongs; it describes crimes and sets up penalties. Adjective law deals with legal procedure and describes the steps a person must take to invoke the substantive law.

Some of our most important rights are to be found in the body of procedural law. For example, as a people who want justice to prevail, we like to think that every man, rich or poor, shall have his day in court. This is an important right, for a day in court implies more than merely the right to have your say before a judge and jury.

Your day in court implies that you shall have the right to be properly represented, to have your case presented before an impartial jury and an unbiased judge, and to have a reasonable time to prepare for the trial. It holds that you shall have proper notice of the action against you; that the complaint or indictment shall state a clear cause of action. It means that you shall be confronted by your accusers; that you shall have the right to cross-examine them; that you shall be able to present evidence in your own behalf.

Finally, the law governing procedure tells you how you may appeal your case to higher courts when you feel that you have not had a fair trial or that a prejudicial error has been committed in the trial court.

Much of our procedural law comes down from centuries of

Young Prospective Fathers Urged to Inform Draft Board

Any young married man registered with a draft board had better be on the alert about any expected additions to his family. If his wife is expecting their first child, it is to his interest to tell the board about it immediately.

As long as he has only a wife to support, he's as eligible for a hitch in the Army as a single man. When he has a child in his family, or one has been conceived and not as yet born, the law provides for his deferment, provided he tells the board about it before he is ordered for induction.

Draft regulations require that a man with an unborn child be deferred if he files with his board, prior to the time his induction order is mailed, certificate of a licensed physician that a child has been conceived.

If he does not take this highly necessary step and the draft board experience in the courts of other lands. It was inevitable that through the centuries some of the procedure would become cumbersome, obsolete and difficult. For this reason the history of procedure has been characterized by great periods of reform. In America we have experienced many advantageous changes in our laws governing the procedure of courts and administrative agencies. There is a growing custom in the United States of giving the courts the power to revise their rules in certain fields.

Our Texas rules of civil procedure are made by our state Supreme Court, while the rules of criminal procedure are under the direct control of the Legislature. Both the court and the Legislature are constantly striving, with the recommendations of the practicing lawyer, to improve these rules. Their aim is to provide uniform and relatively simple rules for the dispensing of justice with a minimum of delay.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law).

sends him an order to report for induction, then the draft board has no authority to defer him on the basis of the unborn child, Brig. Gen. Paul F. Wakefield, state draft director, points out.

Neither does the state draft headquarters or the national draft headquarters have authority to interfere with his induction under such circumstances. Draft regulations would have to be amended to permit consideration of his deferment solely because of the unborn child.

Afterward, the law requires a man to report birth of children into his family, just as it requires him to provide the local board at all times with his latest change of address.

What Does the Bible Say?

"LORD, WHAT WILL YOU HAVE ME DO?"

In 1937 James Baird, now dean of Central Christian College, and I spent a month in Palestine. One of the most interesting experiences we had was a bus trip from Beirut to Damascus, a beautiful city set like a pearl in a green oasis. As we rode along our thoughts went back to the most famous event that ever took place on that road, the conversion of a man named Saul of Tarsus.

This story is so important it is told three times in the book of Acts, in chapters 9, 22, and 26. It is the account of an amazing change in a man who started to Damascus "breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord," who ended up "preaching Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God." Let us notice how this change took place.

Saul and his party were nearing Damascus. Suddenly a light shines around him and he hears a voice from heaven saying: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" He answered: "Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am

M. NORVEL YOUNG

Jesus whom thou persecutest." Then Saul said, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

We use this statement as the title for this article because it expresses the attitude every man should have toward Christ. Saul had been sincere in persecuting Christians. Many men are sincere who oppose Christ and His church or kingdom today. But when sincere men realize they are wrong they should immediately repent of their error and say, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" Is this your attitude toward the Lord as you study His Word?

Now notice what the Lord told him to do. "Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do." The Lord did not tell Saul directly the steps he needed to take to be forgiven of his sins, but sent him into Damascus where a disciple by the name of Ananias was instructed to tell him what to do. From the day of Pentecost on, God placed the gospel into human hands to be preached and we have no record of any man being told directly by God or Jesus what to do to be saved. (2 Cor. 4:7). When Anania, a devout man, came to him he told him that God had a great purpose for his life. Then he commanded him in these words: "And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." (Act 22:16).

Let us retrace our steps and see what Saul had done to become a Christian. First, he believed in Jesus Christ as the Son of God. Next, he was stricken with remorse at what he had done and demonstrated his penitence by refusing food and drink for three days. In this condition as a penitent believer he was told what to do by Ananias, to be baptized calling on the name of the Lord.

You and I do not need to expect such a miraculous vision as Saul saw. God had a special purpose for him to serve as the apostle to the Gentiles and one qualification for an apostle was to have seen Jesus. But we can hear the story of Jesus death for our sins and his resurrection. We can believe in Him, and repent of our sins and his resurrection. We can believe in Him, and repent of our sins and be baptized just as Saul was. Then straightway we too can preach Christ to all who will listen. May we say with Saul, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

Hear this man in person at the Rockport Church of Christ, north of the courthouse, June 15 through 21, 8 p. m., nightly.

BROTHER AND SISTER WIN TOP HONORS IN SENIOR CLASS

Winning the top scholastic honors at the Aransas County High School was a brother-sister act this year.

Valedictory honors went to Guy Lee Smyth, II, while his sister, Margaret Ruth, was the salutatorian of the class of 40 seniors who graduated last Friday night.

Margaret and G. L. became classmates eight years ago when they moved from Meridian to High Island. Their new school was just making the change over to the 12-grade system and each student was promoted one grade. Margaret, finding fifth grade arithmetic a bit difficult, chose to drop back into the fourth grade with G. L.

The honor students, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lee Smyth, came to Rockport from Roy Miller High School in Corpus Christi at mid-term of their junior year. In all, they have attended 12 schools since entering the first grade at Meridian. Their longest attendance was three years at Creole, La., before moving to Corpus Christi.

The reason for all this moving is that Mr. Smyth has been employed by the Prince Drilling Co. for the past ten years, moving where the company secures contracts to explore for oil. Years ago he told the children that if they couldn't keep their grades up to par moving from school to school, the family would just have to settle down in one location.

Margaret admits that there have been times when she fell far short of making the honor roll and found herself behind in classes after moving from an "easy" school to one of high standards.

Margaret, who plans to enter the Harris School of Nursing in Fort Worth this fall, was the vice president of the senior class and was football queen last fall. G. L. will enter Rice Institute for four years of pre-medical study prior to entering a medical school.

COASTAL FISH MAKE COMEBACK

The chief marine biologist of the Game and Fish Commission has reported new indications that Gulf Coast sports fishing is recovering from the devastating 1951 freeze.

He said the principal late evidence is the improved trout fishing particularly in the Laguna Madre which stretches from the lower end of Corpus Bay to Port Isabel. However, fishing seems to have been better all along the Gulf Coast.

Field returns from Marine Biologist Ernest Simmons to the commission's marine laboratory state that fishermen are using hook and line as well as trot line successfully. He reported that the luck has been especially good around Flour Bluff, 23 miles south of Corpus Christi.

Game Warden Herman Schliesing of Port Lavaca, who has been working out of the Corpus Christi office, observed that trout fishing results have been the best since the unseasonal freeze in February 1951-killed millions of pounds of fish. Trout and redbfish were extremely hard hit there.

Schliesing reported that many big trout were being caught in Laguna Madre, indicating that for some reason the fighting sport fish were moving in from other areas. He pointed out that the smaller trout would be those produced since the historic freeze.

Biologist Simmons reported that a series of northers had whipped fresh water into the more or less land-locked Laguna, thus reducing the salinity of the far-flung lagoon. Simmons reported that recurring northers or heavy rains would be necessary to prevent a possible late summer kill in the Laguna where the salt content of the water oftentimes creates a July and August hazard.

Another report on better coastal fishing came from Game Warden M. B. (Pug) Mullinax who patrols a large coastal area while working out of the local commission headquarters. He said that when the weather conditions permitted, trout are hitting "like the old days."

Local Draft Boards Decide Deferments

On a local draft board is placed the responsibility, under applicable laws and regulations, of deciding which men should be deferred because of their civilian activities.

The three categories of men considered are: (1) farmers or farm workers, (2) college or university students, and (3) men in industrial and all other civilian activity.

In the case of students, deferment until end of the school year is ordered by law, if the student is mailed an order to report for induction while he is in school satisfactorily taking a full-time course of instruction, provided he has never received such a statutory deferment before.

If the student has previously received such a deferment, then further deferment is up to the local board. The board can consider information outside the scholastic as well as scholastic information. The widely-publicized draft test for college students can be ignored by local boards under draft regulations if the board so desires. Score on the draft test and class standing of the student are provided as information for the board.

Here are three things the board considers when it is looking at a case of possible deferment for farming or other civilian activity: (1) Is the man engaged, except for a seasonal or temporary interruption, in the activity? (2) Can he be replaced by persons with his qualifications or skills? (3) Would his removal cause a material loss of effectiveness in the activity?

In the case of farmers or farm workers, the chief question asked is: Is he employed in the production for market of a substantial quantity of agricultural commodities necessary to maintenance of national health, safety or interest?

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Little Headwork Saves a Lot of Footwork

"I don't ever aim to give up fishing," Pappy Hayes said one day—"but the older I get the less I like hiking over to Pike's Creek. Guess I'll have to bring the fish nearer to me."

So Pappy got his nephew to bulldoze down about three acres of bottom land. Then he dammed up the little stream there.

He wrote the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in Washington, and got some "blue gills" and bass to stock it—free. Pappy's idea wound up giving him (and us) just about the best fishing pond in the county... right in his own back yard.

From where I sit, Pappy may be older than some of us but his mind is active—and open. He's ready to listen to anybody with an idea. That's why he and I can talk on any subject—sometimes about his preference for buttermilk and mine for beer. And though we disagree, we respect each other's opinion. That's neighborliness without a "catch" to it.

Ben Heney Once Refused Governorship of Arizona

An item appearing in the Tuscon Daily Citizen, Saturday, May 23, 1953 is reproduced as it concerns a former citizen of Rockport and should be of interest to many:

Today's Citizen
BEN HENEY REFUSED OFFER OF ARIZONA GOVERNORSHIP

One of the greatest Irishmen in Tuscon is a 91-year-old gentleman, spare and sprightly, who has never needed glasses and who has most of his own teeth.

He is George Benjamin Heney and has probably had more to do with the development and progress of Tuscon than any man his age and size.

He was just 20 years old when he came here (70-odd years ago) from San Francisco, where he was reared and schooled. (He was born in Lima, N. Y.)

One of his first jobs was in a bank, the Hudson & Co. firm next door to the post office when Albert Steinfeld was clerking for the Zeckendorf & Co. wholesale-retail establishment.

In politics, he is what he calls a "nominal Republican" and has held various city and county offices such as mayor, county treasurer and tax collector over a long period of years.

His brother, the late Francis Joseph Heney, was a nationally known lawyer and was U. S. attorney general under Teddy Roosevelt. Ben himself read for the law two years, but finally decided against following that profession.

He was already married (his wife, now 89, is still living and maintains the family home at 338 N. Granada) and raising a family.

"Frank," he said, "I'm not going after my lawyer's license. I am going to mine."

He was a young man growing up and had studied the future carefully. It seemed to him that three ventures offered the most opportunity; mining, ranching, or farming. He chose mining, after eight successful years of ranching.

It proved a wise choice. In all the subsequent years, he was interested in only three mines. "I sold the third one last October for $200,000." Although he didn't know anything about mining, he hired experts who did.

He employed the best geologists and today can say, "I wasn't an expert, but I hired experts and learned from them, and I guess now I'm an expert."

When he was well on his way toward becoming an important figure in this area, he was engaged in cutting timber near Ft. Huachuca, employing about 150 men. One evening, in care of the fort, he received a telegram in code, or what he calls a cipher dispatch.

It informed him that Teddy Roosevelt had decided to appoint him governor of the Territory of Arizona.

But he wouldn't accept. "The thought that I must live at the capital in Phoenix, should I accept, did not appeal to me. And what if I should make a rotten governor? I refused."

In later years, however, he did accept commissions to investigate the doings in high state offices (once the governor's office, itself) and made quite a name for himself as an honest, capable and fearless man.

In remarkable health for a man his years, Ben Heney has a simple formula:

1. Be straight.
2. Be honest.
3. Do the best you can.
4. Be a man.

As an indication of what this code has meant to him, only the other day he finished negotiations for an oil deal which netted him the congratulations of the oil company and a liberal money bonus for the privilege of drilling.

For a 91-year-old man, this is no minor accomplishment.

And what does he think of the future?

"There is no question that Tucson is growing and will continue to grow. Its climate is its best asset and we live in a remarkable valley. If I was a young fellow, I'd stick by Tucson and I'm proud of it today."

Today he lives quietly with his wife and two daughters in his spacious home furnished with a wealth of things reminiscent of an earlier generation.

He is still extremely interested in all things relative to Tucson and to its continued sound growth.

The many friends he has made over the year continue to wonder at his keen insight into modern affairs and at his startlingly active mind and good health.

He is no publicity seeker.

Twelve years ago, he was the subject of a radio program telling of his good works and the letter of appreciation he sent, in his copper-plate script, stands as a model today:

"I've never sought publicity for its own sake in my efforts to right official wrongs or to correct and punish law violators, but it's human, I reckon, to feel a measure of deep satisfaction from sincere, unbiased citizens in their voluntary commendations for such difficult labors.—Ben Heney."

—By Clifton Abbott.

Scout Executive Speaks At Covered Dish Supper

Bob Ridell, Boy Scout executive from Sinton, was the guest speaker at a "family night" covered dish supper for all the Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Explorer Scouts last Thursday night at the Scout Hut.

After the showing of a movie, "The Years Between," Mr. Ridell spoke to the group about scouting in general. He told a few ways the parents may be of help to the boys and to the Scout leaders.

It is the hope of this troop that a Mother's Club can be formed. This will enable the leaders to feel that they have some real help behind them and someone upon whom they may call at any time for assistance.

Sweeping The Carpets

Remember how mother used to sweep the carpets every week with a broom? Whew, what a dust! More than that, it was really hard work. Later, father surprised her with a new-fangled carpet sweeper which lightened her work. This sweeper, in turn, was replaced by a vacuum cleaner. Remember?

State Draft Quotas Continue to Decline

Austin, Texas. — State draft quotas continued to slide downward Tuesday with receipt of a July call for 1,268 men at state Selective Service headquarters.

The June quota, received about a month ago, is 1,749, as compared to a May quota of 2,823, now almost filled. The July figure is the smallest quota received in Texas since September, 1952.

Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state director of Selective Service, said local board quotas for July will be placed in the mail by June 1.

Less than 50 of the 137 local boards in Texas will receive physical examination calls in July, Colonel Schwartz said. Only 1,125 men are scheduled to be sent for physicals in July.

This figure compares with 3,803 scheduled for physical exams in June and 4,858 in May. The deputy state director said that local board quotas for July physicals were scheduled to be mailed May 27.

Instructions were received from Selective Service national headquarters to fill the July call with men 20 years old or older where possible. Boards are authorized, where necessary, to fill calls with men under 20.

Currently, one man out of every four being inducted in Texas is under 20 years old, but most of these are nearing their 20th birthday. Colonel Schwartz predicted that the number of 19-year-olds inducted in June and July will be reduced because of the lighter quotas.

No men born after March, 1934, can be inducted in July. Local boards getting a July physical call can dip down to men who have reached their 19th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Newson, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Herring and daughters, Lydia Ann and Barbara Lynn, of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. W. L. Patrick and son, Billie, of La Grange, spent the weekend in Rockport. They came to attend the graduation of their brother, Joe Herring.

HAT FULL—Filling her hat with sun-baked Miami Beach sand keeps pretty Barbara Drake busy. She admits using it for a sandpile at her home in Miami, Fla.

3 Local Citizens Honored At Writers Conference

The Southwest Writers Conference, which is sponsored by the Byliners of Corpus Christi, will convene in Corpus Christi June 6-9. Included among the special guests that will be honored are Mrs. Jack Hagar, J. D. Donaldson, and J. L. Baughman of this city.

The conference starts Saturday with the Bienvenida, followed by a luncheon on the deck of the White Plaza Hotel.

Among those planning to attend from Rockport are Mrs. S. F. Jackson, Mrs. Paul Reese, Mrs. Baughman, and Mrs. Donaldson.

Mrs. A. C. Davis is leaving Sunday for La Porte to take care of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Marion. Mrs. Davis reports that Sgt. Cyrus Davis has been made a ward master at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Jackson visited in San Antonio last weekend with Lt. and Mrs. Bruce Davis and children. Saturday Mrs. Jackson attended a class reunion luncheon at Trinity University.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan C. Wheeler of San Antonio visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson Tuesday.

Red Cross Authorized to Relay Death Messages to Overseas Servicemen

The American Red Cross has been authorized by the Departments of the Army and Air Force, to relay through their rapid communications, death messages involving immediate families of overseas servicemen of these two branches. Mrs. Seth H. Steele, home service chairman, Aransas County Capter, announced today.

Formerly, the Red Cross could send death messages to servicemen via these rapid facilities only if leave for the serviceman, which the family had requested, was denied.

Provision has also been made that all of these death notifications contain complete information as to the time and cause of death, welfare of the remaining family, whether leave is being requested, and any other relevant facts. Whenever possible, the message is given in person to the serviceman by the Red Cross field director at his base, to help him meet the shock of distressing news.

Since November, 1950, the Army and Air Force have allowed the transmittal of birth messages by rapid transit, but these messages do not have priority. The Navy makes its rapid communications system directly available to Navy, Marine, and Coast Guard families for sending emergency communications, as well as birth messages for its overseas personnel.

Reporting and communications service is a charter responsibility of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Steele says. The Red Cross provides the link between servicemen and their families when regular communication facilities fail, helping to reestablish direct contact, and to provide counsel whenever it is needed.

Mrs. Steele pointed out that one of the most misunderstood phases of Red Cross is its inability to grant emergency leave to servicemen. This prerogative rests solely with the military. When requested by a soldier's commanding officer to verify certain facts, the Red Cross can use its vast network of chapters and field directors to obtain necessary information, but the decision whether or not leave is to be granted must be made by the commanding officer.

Recent Army and Air Force rulings now allow emergency leave to a serviceman whose wife or minor child has died if the family requests leave. For deaths of other members of his family, however, it must be established that additional problems exist in the home which only his presence can alleviate.

As part of its Home Service program, the Red Cross can also help establish the facts when there is serious illness in a serviceman's family and an emergency exists requiring his presence at home. This reporting service also covers emergency family situations requiring the serviceman to be home for more than the normal 30-day leave period, when he is requesting reassignment and deferment from overseas service, or discharge for dependency or hardship. In these latter situations, however, the serviceman himself normally must first apply.

W. L. Mikeal and daughter, Ro Jean, left Monday on a trip to California.

Mrs. R. M. Hopkins of Henderson is visiting in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mancil Hopkins.
